

Tests Popularity In Three States

WASHINGTON UPI—President Johnson, the big drawing card of the 1964 campaign, tests his popularity today in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York where a total of 89 electoral votes are at stake.

The President, now returned early Tuesday from a 10,000-mile, 14-state tour of the Midwest and West, was scheduled to leave Andrews Air Force Base, Md., this morning for Terre Haute, Ind.

His first speech was set at the Bergen Mall Shopping Center in Paramus, N. J., in traditionally Republican Bergen County.

From New Jersey, Johnson planned to fly to the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Airport for a Democratic rally at noon.

Begin By Giving Away
Tricks You Must Lose

By Alfred Sheinwold

When you're in a difficult no-trump contract, give the opponents the tricks they're sure to get but postpone giving them doubtful tricks. If you must eventually give up those tricks, you can choose the best time.

Opening lead — ♠ 4

Dummy won the first trick with the eight of spades, and declarer immediately (and foolishly) cashed the top hearts and led a third heart. West took two hearts and then led the king of spades, holding the trick.

When West then shifted to diamonds, East was sure to get the king of diamonds and the ace of clubs, defeating the contract.

South should begin with clubs and diamonds since he is sure to lose the ace of clubs and can hardly avoid the diamond finesse. The hearts can wait.

Declarer should lead dummy's queen of clubs at the second trick. East takes the ace of clubs and returns a spade to the queen. South wins the next spade trick and tries the diamond finesse, losing to the king. East returns a club to the king.

SEVERAL WAYS

There are now several ways to make the contract. South is sure of two tricks in each suit and can win a ninth trick if clubs of diamonds break well.

South can afford to cash the jack of diamonds, and West must discard a heart. This interesting discard encourages South to lead his last diamond to dummy's ace. West must discard the thirteenth spade, since any other discard would be fatal.

By this time it should be clear to declarer that West started with a singleton diamond and three 4-card suits. South can lead but three rounds of hearts, forcing West to lead from the 10-8 of clubs to the J-9. This fine finesse gives declarer game and rubber.

Club Met With Mrs. Clodfelter

The Clinton-Madison Friendly Club held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Olma Clodfelter. There were eight members present. A delicious pitch-in dinner was served at the noon hour after Mrs. Maude O'Haver returned thanks.

In the afternoon the business meeting was opened by the president, Maude O'Haver. All joined in singing "Love's Old Sweet Song." The flag salutes were repeated in unison, also the club collect, led by Emma Wichman. The secretary-treasurer's report was read and approved.

In keeping with Indian Summer, roll call was to name an Indian tribe and each one had something interesting to tell about the Indians. Mrs. Maude O'Haver read a very interesting story about France Slocum, a white girl who was raised by Indians. She lived with them for 59 years.

Since it is election year Mrs. O'Haver had a contest on national and state government which was very much enjoyed by all.

All left at a late hour thanking Mrs. Clodfelter for a lovely day.

Next meeting will be Nov. 12 at the home of Ethel Frazier.

Club Celebrates 50th Anniversary

The Fincastle Country Club held its Fiftieth Anniversary observance at the Fairway Restaurant near Greencastle on Wednesday, September 30th, with all former members invited as guests.

Ruth Brothers, the only charter-member who had retained her membership during the fifty-year span was presented with a lovely corsage. Mrs. Brothers and Ethel Eggers, represented the only two charter members able to attend the Anniversary luncheon.

The following brief history of the organization and purpose of the Club was compiled by Pauline Bridges, a present member of the Club:

"We have gathered here today in celebration of the 50th Anniversary of this Club. To all knowledge, this is the first occasion that past and present members have been invited to assemble. Since our facts concerning the early years are limited, we shall devote a little thought to: What is a Club? And, Why do people join them?

The encyclopedia tells us that, "A club is a group of persons organized for some particular purpose. One of the basic reasons is social enjoyment and entertainment."

"According to early recollections, sewing and needlework were brought to meetings by choice possibly for accomplishment as well as recreation during the social hour. The procedure of conducting the business meeting is familiar to all, perhaps today is conducted more informally than in earlier times, but much the same.

"The fifty years of this club has spanned three major wars. Our mode of travel thru the years in meeting together has changed from the horse and buggy to modern cars, and clothing fashions have seen many changes.

"And so the years have slipped by, bringing these inevitable changes — the passing of old friends; new ones joining the group, some dropping out by choice or necessity. The new babies come along and are welcomed into the fold and grow up incredibly fast, it seems — a gentle reminder that each day, each year brings its never-ending changes.

"In closing, we wish many, many more years to the Country Club and may we always meet in fellowship as the constitution states, "To promote the social and domestic interest of the community."

Mrs. Ralph Major
Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Ralph Major entertained the New Maysville Club in the home of Mrs. Jack Major near Bainbridge, Ind., on Oct. 9th.

The president, Mrs. Nona Grantham, opened the meeting by reading the thought of the month.

All repeated the collect.

Mrs. Wm. McMullen had the opening exercise. The roll call was a written recipe exchange.

Mrs. Zola Johnson from Plainfield returned to meet with us.

After old and new business was disposed of the chairman of the social hour, Mrs. Fred Lasley, introduced Mrs. Jo Sutherlin of Groveland, who told us of her visit in Italy. She spent ten days there in October of 1962.

She also showed slides of the many beautiful buildings and churches. We all enjoyed them very much. Lovely refreshments were served to ten members and four guests. Mrs. Lucile

Wilson, Mrs. Helen Bennington,

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Major and the speaker, Mrs. Sutherlin.

Then Mrs. Major took us for a tour of the home.

At 7:30 the President called the meeting to order by singing

the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Roll call was responded to by eleven members.

The secretary's report was read; Riley Cheer Guild leader

read a letter and we decided to purchase tickets for the card party. It was voted to donate

$10 to the Putnam County Day
