

Supreme Court Action Assailed By Roudebush

"Implementation of the U. S. Supreme Court reapportionment edict will mean that two counties will rule Indiana, and neither of them is in the 6th Congressional District," Representative Richard L. Roudebush (R-Ind.), declared here yesterday.

Speaking at a series of five afternoon and evening "coffee" in rural Putnam County, Congressman Roudebush stated "the Supreme Court ruling that both Houses of State Legislatures must be reapportioned on a population basis only is as wrong as wrong can be."

"It would mean for Indiana that Marion County (Indianapolis), and Lake County could control the entire state. The voice of rural and small town Indiana would be dead in our legislative halls."

"This is the reason that Congress must renew its battle to correct this judicial blunder next January when the 89th Congress convenes," Roudebush stated.

"This nation was founded as a Republic, and the people of our rural and small town areas are entitled to equal representation in at least one of the legislative houses."

"But, if the Supreme Court has its way, the needs of rural Indiana will be ignored, and all legislative power will be in the grasp of the big city political machines and bosses."

WWI Ladies Visit State Soldiers Home

The Auxiliary of World War I Barracks 1994, Cloverdale, made their semi-annual visit to the State Soldiers' Hospital near Lafayette Wednesday.

The plans were made and carried out by the following hospital committee: Mrs. Belle Lasley, who served during the absence of the president, Mrs. Mary Logan; Elma Lewis, Hospital Chairman; Goldie Richardson, County Chairman; Glee Carter, Nina Gaston, Nellie Lanham, Mary Bailey and Francis Towell.

The committee met at the home of the chairman to make plans for hospital work. Following the business discussion, the remainder of the afternoon was spent making pillows, from feathers donated by Mrs. Lewis, for the hospital. Mrs. Gaston also donated delicious red and yellow apples for the hospital patients. Other gifts for the patients were, bananas, white grapes, candy bars, diabetic candy and chewing gum was furnished by the Auxiliary. Good used clothing, items for the supply shelves, and an abundance of odds and ends, including jewelry, ribbon, nylon net, satin, crochet thread, empty spools, etc., for the Recreation Room and Work Shop were donated by many members.

The entire time at the home was spent visiting with each of the one hundred and forty hospital patients. This is the total number of patients at the present time. Each patient was given fruit and a candy bar. The "Thank You's" and the beaming expressions of sincere appreciation on their faces, filled each visitor's cup to overflowing, realizing the abundance of cheer brought those helpless souls, by giving only a few hours of our time in exchange for the "Greatest Blessing" that God could possibly give us — the "Health" to permit us to visit.

New Russian Leaders In Public Appearance

MOSCOW UPI — The Soviet Union's new leaders today made their first public appearance since Nikita S. Khrushchev's ouster last week. They welcomed Russia's latest astronauts with hugs and kisses.

Khrushchev was nowhere to be seen in the official greeting party for the spacemen. Last Monday, before his dismissal, he had promised them a Moscow welcome "greater than the force of gravity."

Taking Khrushchev's usual place were four leaders — party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Anastag Mikoyan, and party ideologist Mikhail A. Suslov.

All four men hugged and kissed the spacemen, Col. Vladimir M. Komarov, Konstantin P. Feoktistov, and Boris P. Yegorov, who were the first to orbit the earth in a multi-manned capsule.

It was a Khrushchev-style welcome. But Khrushchev was not there.

Reliable sources said he was in seclusion at a country home some distance from Moscow, perhaps watching the ceremony on television.

GOP Reception At Terre Haute

Women of Putnam County will have an opportunity to meet the hard-campaigning wives of Richard Ristine, candidate for Governor, and Russell Bontrager, Indiana's candidate for the U. S. Senate, at a reception to be held in the Prairie Room of the Terre Haute House, Terre Haute, on Wednesday afternoon from 2:00 until 4:00 p. m.

Sheinwold On Bridge

It Takes Courage To Give Up An Ace
By Alfred Sheinwold

National Men's Team Champion

We usually laugh at a player who loses an ace, and accuse him of taking it to bed with him, but the play is sometimes correct. It may have been Sir Walter Scott who wrote the storied line: "Breathes there the man with soul so dead, who never has taken an ace to bed," and so on. Sir Walter had just witnessed the hand shown today.

West opened the deuce of hearts, an obvious singleton, but East decided not to play his ace. He knew he would be laughed at, but East was a canny Scot and was willing to take the tricks and let the credit go.

Declarer was somewhat surprised to win the first trick in dummy with the king of hearts but recovered in time to continue with the queen of hearts. Once more East played a low heart.

South discarded a low diamond, and West ruffed. West returned a trump, fearing that it might cost a trick to lead away from either of his kings. South won the king of spades and let a spade to dummy's ace to finish the job of drawing trumps.

Declarer then led another heart from dummy. This time East played his ace. South ruffed, and everybody laughed. Everybody, that is, except Sir Walter Scott (and the readers of this column).

LOSES FOUR TRICKS

South had already lost one trick to West's low trump, and South still had a losing diamond and two losing clubs. He eventually gave up these tricks and was down one.

The reason Sir Walter didn't laugh is that South could have made his contract if East had taken his ace of hearts at the first trick.

If East takes the ace of hearts and returns a heart, South discards a diamond. West ruffs, and the defense is off to a good start. West returns a diamond (as good a play as any), and South takes the ace.

South now draws with the king and dummy's ace, after which he can safely cash dummy's two good hearts. He thus wins six trumps, two hearts, and two side aces for a total of ten tricks. East's actual defense limited dummy to one heart trick, so that South won only nine tricks in all.

Sewing projects this year go to Africa and South America. There is great emphasis on the literary program, and there is great need for school bags. The instructions are as follows:

You can make school bags. One yard of yard-wide sturdy material will make three bags by cutting the material crosswise, making three pieces 12"x18". Sew selvage sides together. Make French seam across bottom. Around top, make a 1 1/2" hem with opening at each side on the inside of the hem. Place two one-yard draw cords in the hem. Cords pulled from each side serve as loops for carrying the school bag.

In each bag place four pencils, notebook, pads of paper, eraser, scissors, ruler, crayons or colored pencils, modeling clay and tube of paste. Add soap, comb, toothbrush or handkerchief, if possible, to help the children develop good health habits.

If a person cannot make a bag, any or all of the contents mentioned above will be greatly appreciated. All church women are urged to attend World Community Day at Charterhouse Nov. 6 at 2:00 p.m.

British Buses To Red China

LONDON Britain, which is selling buses to Cuba in defiance of the American blockade, is now pushing a similar deal with Red China.

Moves are under way for a big bus contract with Peking, to match the 25 million dollar Cuban deal.

Samples will be shown at the British Industrial Fair to be staged in Peking next month when other exhibits of British industry also will be displayed to whet the appetite of Red China's machine-starved economy.

The move is part of a determined British campaign for more trade with the Communist nations behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

British Conservatives and Laborites are at one in advocating more East-West trade which incidentally they also consider as an incentive for progressive easing of the cold war.

Britain has rejected American objections to her private industry supplying buses to Fidel Castro's Cuba.

She recognizes the Cuban government and holds there is no justification under diplomatic protocol to halt trade. The same goes for Red China. But Britain does not sell arms or war materials to either of them and has undertaken to bar the export of products to Cuba and Red China that are likely to enhance their war potentials.

The Travelers Insurance Companies

Question: We're thinking of buying a working ranch and going into business for ourselves. One hitch to the idea is having to give up the automatic pension plan where my husband works. Is there any way that self-employed persons can provide for their own pension in the same manner that corporations can provide it for their employees? If we get the ranch, we may be a little low on cash for the first few years.

Answer: The recently enacted Keogh Act can help you retire pension worries. Aimed to give self-employed persons the tax benefits allowed on pensions for those who work for others, the Keogh Act now allows you to deduct up to $1250 a year from your taxable income in order to finance your retirement.

Question: You mean that if we clear $5000 the first year, we can sink $1250 of it into a pension plan—tax free?

Answer: No—it's a little more complicated. Under the terms of the bill only 10 per cent of your earned income can go into an insured pension plan—in that case $500—and only half this amount would be tax deductible. But if you have employees you can deduct 100 per cent of your contributions in their behalf—after they have been with you for three or more years.

Question: I'm only dreaming, but suppose we found oil or something on our land and earned a whopping $50,000 a year. How much of this could go into a pension plan for our golden years?

Answer: Any amount you like, of course. But if you are planning to take advantage of the Keogh Act tax benefits, the ceiling expenditure on pensions is $2500 a year—and half this amount would be tax deductible.

Question: Would we also pay taxes on the plan's accumulated earnings?

Answer: No. Only on benefits you actually receive during your retirement. During that time your income tax bracket will probably be considerably less than it is today.

Some Facts On Varicose Veins

Q: WHAT are varicose veins? A: The veins of the legs lie just below the surface of the skin and deep in the muscles. These veins return the circulating blood to the heart. Because of man's upright position or weakness of the walls of the veins, they frequently become enlarged, dilated and enlarged in a snake-like fashion.

Q: What causes them? A: Excessive weight, pregnancy, fibroids of the uterus and many general illnesses of the body that affect the circulation can produce varicose veins in the superficial and deep veins of the legs.

Q: What symptoms are caused by varicose veins? A: Persistent fatigue of the muscles of the legs, tenderness and soreness of the muscles, and swelling of the ankles can occur with uncomplicated varicose veins.

Q: How can the presence of the deep veins in the legs be detected? A: There are excellent tests to determine the presence or absence of both superficial and deep varicose veins.

Q: What is the most effective treatment for varicose veins? A: A tourniquet test reveals the filling and the emptying of the veins of the legs and indicates to the physician how well the tiny valves of the veins are functioning.

Q: What is the most effective treatment for varicose veins? A: Another test, called the Perthes Test, is important in the determination of the circulation of the deep veins of the legs.

Q: What is the most effective treatment for varicose veins? A: The choice of treatment depends on a full evaluation of the total circulatory system, including the heart and kidneys.

Q: What is the most effective treatment for varicose veins? A: Exercise, compression bandages and elastic stockings can, under supervision, bring comfort and relief of symptoms of varicose veins.

Q: What is the most effective treatment for varicose veins? A: Sometimes the superficial veins of the legs, particularly if they are small, can be injected with a "sclerosing solution" which forms a clot and closes off these tiny, unsightly veins.

Q: What is the most effective treatment for varicose veins? A: Remarkable advances in the surgical treatment of varicose veins have made vein ligation and stripping operations safe and rewarding, bringing gratifying relief of the annoying symptoms.

SALMON WAFFLES

Quick luncheon idea adds flaked canned salmon to a basic recipe for plain waffle. (Use a mix if desired.) It's a delicious flavor combination.

If you've never tasted salmon waffles, you don't know what you're missing, especially when they are served with a delicious sour cream sauce flavored with dill.

Adding salmon to a basic waffle mixture transforms this popular breakfast dish to more substantial fare, suitable for lunch or supper. Served with a tossed green salad, the waffles and sauce make a quick, economical and nutritious meal—pretty too. It's the salmon, of course, that adds not only flavor and color, but protein to the otherwise bland waffle. Try it, and you'll have another family favorite to count on when time is limited.

SALMON WAFFLES

2 eggs, separated
A 1-pound can salmon
1½ cups milk
½ cup melted butter
2 cups all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Drain liquid from can of salmon into a mixing bowl. Add egg yolks, milk and butter and beat until well blended. Combine flour, salt and baking powder. Add to egg yolk mixture and beat until well blended. Flake and stir in salmon. Fold in beaten egg whites.

Preheat waffle baker to medium. Pour about 1 cup of the batter evenly over the grids. Bake until light goes out and waffle stops steaming. Carefully remove waffle, and continue to bake remaining batter. Makes four 4-section waffles, or 16 sections.

SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Combine 1 cup commercial sour cream and 1 teaspoon dry dill weed, or 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill. Heat over simmering water.

24 - Yard Field Goal Defeats Tiger Football Team 10 To 7

Bob Kolbrenner's 24-yard field goal provided the margin of victory for Washington University's once-beaten Bears over DePauw Saturday in Blackstock Stadium, 10-7.

Kolbrenner's perfect kick with 12:38 left to play in the game erased a 7-7 score that had stood since DePauw had tied the count late in the second quarter.

The defeat, DePauw's fifth straight, was also the Tigers' third consecutive loss by a three-point margin. Oddly, the Bears administered the narrow verdict over DePauw while the losers were sticking even with a band of predominately second line set of backs.

Bill Alcott, who had 43 yards in eight first half carries, was injured on the fourth play of the second half and picked up only six yards the rest of the afternoon.

His departure from active duty shifted the Tigers from a ground game to the air with Bruce Mackey spinning 20 last half passes. He hit on 10 of these including one string of seven out of eight.

Even with Mackey connecting on every other last half toss, the Tigers worked well into Washington territory only once in the half dozen chances they had in the final 30 minutes.

On the series following Kolbrenner's field goal, which capped a stalled 67-yard drive on the DPU three, Mackey engineered the Tigers to midfield. On a first down pass, Mackey threw towards the left sideline, but the enemy's Gordon Ankey stepped in on his own 33 for an interception.

Just under six minutes remained when Mackey booted a punt to the Washington eight on the next DePauw series. The Bears eventually returned the favor with Greencastle's Mike Burns returning the punt to the Bear 48. Mackey missed on a pair of passes then hit second string halfback Jeff Lortz for nine yards to the Bears 39. With an important fourth and one situation at hand, reserve fullback Tod Eberle hit the line for three yards and a first down. The Tigers were detected for illegal procedure on the play, however, moving the ball back to a fourth and six count on the Bear 44. Mackey's desperation pass failed on the next down.

DePauw got one more chance with 76 seconds left on the clock. Starting from his own 31, Mackey hit halfback Chuck Byrum for 12, ran for eight himself, then on a third-down bomb with two seconds to play, threw into the hands again of Ankey for a game-ending interception.

Washington drew first in the game, going 67-yards in 12 plays the first time it got the ball. The payoff came with 8:33 to play in the first period when Jim Powers ran in from the 2. Kolbrenner kicked the P.A.T. DePauw reciprocated moments before the half ended. Frustrated after moving to the Bear two-yard line on a 59-yard drive set up by Dave Spidel's interception, the Tigers came back down the field after forcing Washington to punt to its own 45 on the next series.

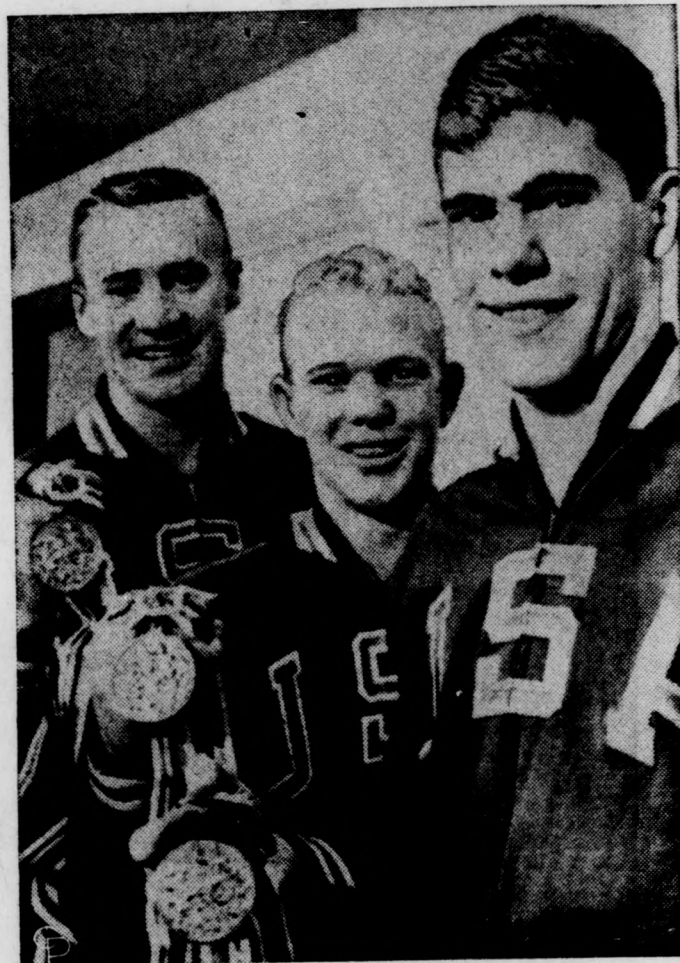

The scoring maneuver with 2:35 remaining in the half was a 25-yard Mackey strike to senior end Earl Liebich in the left corner of the end zone. Bill Schulz' kick knotted the score, 7-7.

Washington's early success running against DePauw held up the rest of the afternoon as it wound up with 182-97 rushing edge. The Tigers had the advantage in passing 115-20, first downs 15-13, total offense 212-202, and total plays, 71-58.

Alcott, though idle most of the second half, still led DePauw rushers with 49 yards in 10 carries. Eberle and Lortz, the latter out of action since Sept. 19, gained 20 and 14, respectively. Regular halfbacks Bronson Davis and Tom Bollinger didn't dress.

Next Saturday DePauw hosts St. Joseph's College at 1:30 p.m. in a Methodist Youth Day battle.

Notre Dame, Evansville Boast Perfect Records

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Notre Dame and Evansville were the only perfect college football clubs left in the state today and the long due day of reckoning has finally arrived for Indiana's Hoosiers.

Notre Dame's irrepressible Irish rambled past UCLA Saturday, 24-0, as their tough defensive set up three touchdowns with a pass interception and two fumble recoveries.

The Irish seek their fifth win in a row at home against Stanford this week while four-game winner Evansville, the Indiana Collegiate Conference leader, hosts Western Kentucky.

Evansville made it four in a row in the ICC Saturday by outclassing Valparaiso, 48-0. Kim DeVault hurling two touchdown passes and scoring another.

Indiana broke a five-game losing streak, three this season, with a thrill packed 27-20 win over Michigan State, its first Big Ten triumph at home in 13 games.

Rich Bader also passed for two tallies and scored another as the Hoosiers put on a sparkling second-half power display to dump the Spartans into the conference cellar.

"The big thing was we came out for the second half and played ball the way we're capable of," said IU coach Phil Dickens.

Indiana, after four consecutive league games, goes to Miami, Fla., for a Friday night engagement.

Purdue, meanwhile, moved into a first place tie with Ohio State in the Big Ten by upending Michigan, 21-20, and travels to Iowa Saturday. Purdue's alert defenders recovered two Michigan fumbles in the final period and stopped a Wolverine two-point conversion play to preserve their hard-fought victory.

Purdue quarterback Bob Griese pitched two touchdown passes and booted three extra points for the winning margin.

The Warriors, hampered by four pass interceptions and five fumbles, scoring their lone touchdown in the second period on a 45-yard pass from quarterback Ron DiGravio to end John Land.

After that, it was Canton's ball game, with former Warrior Willie Simpson plunging 1-yard for a score, a 19-yard run by quarterback Bob Brodhead and a 65-yard pass interception return by defensive back Sherman Ros. George Potts added all three of the Canton extra-points.

Bowling with the Stars

For the beginner bowler and those who have been bowling only a short time, I recommend that you use the straight ball. While it is not as effective as other type balls, it is the easiest to control and one best to acquire accuracy in your game. Once the straight ball has been mastered, a bowler will have attained an average which is gratifying with the experience in the game. Many beginners who start to bowl without using the straight ball, find that they bowl badly week after week. There isn't any future with higher scores if you do not have a progressive plan for improvement.

The straight ball is delivered by angling the ball from the right side of the lane in a straight diagonal toward the 1-3 pocket. The reason for the angle from the side of the lane is to insure that when the ball hits the pocket it will continue to drive through the pins with more deflection or "action."

You should move slightly right of center on the approach and form a diagonal between the 1-3 pocket and your right shoulder. However, make sure that you keep the shoulders parallel to the foul line. Then place your hand underneath the ball with the thumb pointing to a position of twelve o'clock. You release the ball in this fashion, keeping in mind that the thumb comes out before the fingers. Naturally, the ball will roll directly over the thumb and finger holes as it goes down the lane.

HOW MUCH IMPACT
HAVE OPINION POLLS?

DO THEY ACTUALLY
INFLUENCE VOTERS?

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Students of the American political scene have been concerned for some time over the impact of public opinion polls on voter patterns. Do polls show the way people intend to vote or do they actually influence voters to the extent of affecting the outcome?

There is some evidence to support either side of this argument. An American trait of long standing has been the natural sympathy stirred up for the underdog. Contradicting this is another long standing belief among politicians that an undetermined percentage of voters like to be on the winning side of an election.

This ambivalence has long been recognized, but because of its very inconsistency it has defied quantitative measurement from one election to another. In 1948, it was obvious that the "underdog" theory had tremendous appeal for many voters while they disregarded any impulse they might have had for voting with the "winner," unanimously predicted to have been Thomas E. Dewey.

In 1952, however, fore-knowledge that Adlai Stevenson was trailing far behind Dwight D. Eisenhower had no effect in appealing to the "underdog" sympathies of the voters.

● EROSION OF COMMUNIST BASE—A favorite theory among the double-domed thinkers in Washington who devote their efforts to watching the course of international Communism is that time and the increasing demands of the Communist-controlled masses will force their governments toward capitalism.

Radio Free Europe has detected two straws in the wind which tend to bolster this theory. RFE found that Czechoslovakia tacitly admits that the profit motive has increased the efficiency of operations of many of its one-man businesses, such as tailoring, shoemaking, hair dressing, carpentry and the like. The privately-supported U. S. propaganda agency notes that government-owned small service businesses has been one of the weak spots of the Czech economy all along.

RFE also notes that while Communist theory has long held that interest and carrying charges are not proper in a Communist society, the practice of selling consumer goods of all kinds in Russia is on the rise. Along with such sales, there must be interest and carrying charges. Started five years ago as a grudging concession to helping meet the consumer needs of its people, Russia now lauds buying on time as "a progressive form of trade."

● JOHNSON FIRST—If he wins election to a four-year White House term, Lyndon Johnson intends to provide an official residence for his vice president. Most presidents want to leave their mark on Washington and this is one of the little touches that Johnson has in mind.

One proposal under consideration is to convert the official guest house across the street from the White House for permanent use by Hubert Humphrey Johnson and all future vice presidents. Another, of course, would be to purchase or build a suitable residence in a close-in section of the capital—For V. P. maybe even on Capitol Hill near the Senate where the vice president presides.

A basic factor behind Johnson's thinking is that as the importance of the vice presidency grows an individual occupying that office must do a lot of official entertaining. This requirement should not be left to be filled well or poorly depending on the personal financial resources of whomover happens to be elected to that position.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Alcoholism Is A Disease

"ONCE an alcoholic, always an alcoholic" is a shocking and disturbing truth.

Alcoholism is a chronic, cunning and baffling disease that does not disappear, even with complete and total abstinence from alcohol.

Alcoholism is an actual physical illness that must be studied from the point of view of prevention, diagnosis and control.

Alcoholism insidiously alters and even destroys the lives of five million men and women in the United States alone.

Alcoholism affects the happiness of families whose worlds center around this malignant illness.

A Pathetic Illness

Alcoholism is a pathetic illness which must not be mistaken for a mental disorder. It is baffling because it still resists the concentrated efforts of doctors, scientists, sociologists and psychologists who ceaselessly try to find its cause and cure.

Is it a drug allergy, for alcohol is a drug? Is it a chemical imbalance? Is it a hormone deficiency? Is it a hereditary or environmental consequence?

These questions remain unanswered, even though no one departs from the emphasis that alcoholism is a chronic, cunning, baffling physical illness that can be controlled.

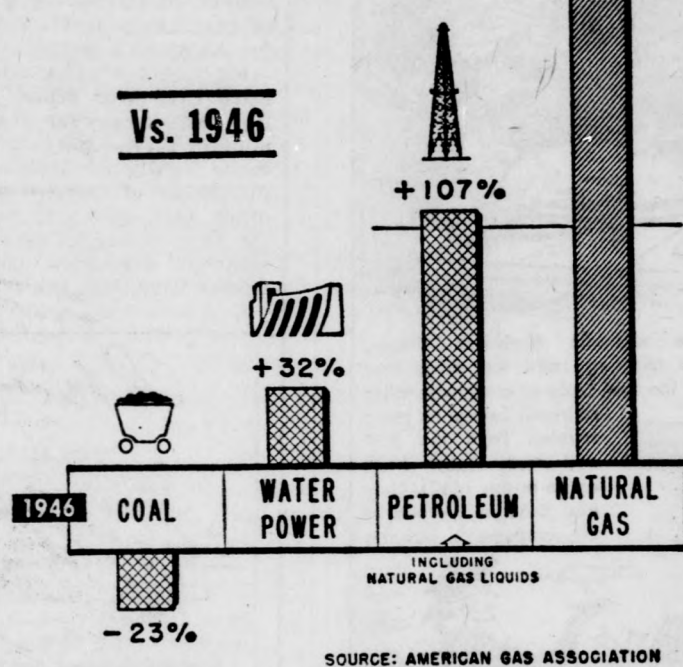

Threat To Teenagers

The ounce of prevention is that ounce of wine, beer and whiskey which must be removed from those teenagers who are potential candidates and who may graduate too quickly from the social drinker to the alcoholic.

Educators, religious advisors and parents must coordinate their energies in warning the adolescent that chronic alcoholism is a lurking threat to the alcoholic.

1963 U.S. ENERGY CONSUMPTION

Consumption of natural gas in the United States has risen 258 per cent since 1946. Last year alone gas consumption increased 4.3 per cent to a record 14.7 quadrillion Btu's. Gas also accounted for 29.7 per cent of the nation's total energy consumed in 1963, not including liquids extracted from natural gas. Annual consumption of gas has more than tripled since World War II.

GOING SOUTH—This is just a part of one of the largest flights of migratory birds seen in years along the Mississippi River "flyway" as it lifts aloft to continue southward near Dubuque, Iowa. They number thousands in their trek south.

"It wasn't a sour note from my singing that broke the goblet," claims C. M. Norris, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store. "It was probably the volume from our loudest non-electric guitar in the world." The rugged, handsome fibreglass guitar now available in the store, produces a new sound with the crisp tones folk music requires. A special resonator and tone chamber make this instrument perfect for hootennannies on the beach, campus or backyard where volume is needed but electric amplifiers cannot be used.

Way Out West

IT'S CHRISTMAS

Our western pioneers had no Christmas turkeys. Buffalo meat was more likely, or a little fresh pork to break the monotony of salt pork. Eggs were scarce, and sorghum molasses was eaten so much that the settlers were called "sorghum loppers."

The make-do Christmas dinner, the round-up, and the drive over the trail became a memory after railroads began to bring supplies from the East and carry cattle back again in the 1860s. They also brought the end of the cattlemen's frontier.

Modern westerners, like TV's flying cowboy Sky King and his niece Penny, celebrate Christmas in fine style. No dried-up salt pork for them. Christmas, of course, is as likely to be packed with skyborne adventures as any other day of Sky King's year.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 468 Part of the inscription on a gravestone in Stroudsburg, Pa., is: John Summerfield Staples. "A private of Co. C, 156 Reg. P. I. Also a member of the 2 Reg. D. C. Vol's, as a Substitute for Abraham Lincoln."

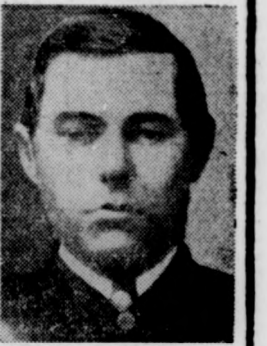

He wasn't a substitute for Lincoln in the usual Civil War sense. Earlier, a peculiar law made it easy for wealthy men to escape military service which poorer men could not evade legally for lack of funds. Countless individuals of military age and in fit condition paid others to take their places in the Army or handed over $300 to the government for exemption. One who did so was Grover Cleveland, the future president.

Lincoln was exempted by his position from the draft. But in 1864, he joined other individuals in inducing men who had already served in the Army to rejoin. Staples was a civilian guard at a government building when he happened to be offered the opportunity to serve in Lincoln's name. His acceptance won him a meeting with Lincoln at the White House and a payment by Lincoln of about $650.

Staples, who entered the Pennsylvania Infantry in 1862 at 16, had been discharged in 1863 for medical reasons. Years after the war, in broken health, he applied for a Civil War pension, and it was denied him!

Susie Smith and Dolores Sparks had a busy day Saturday when they participated in the H.H.H. and L.B.J. Mainstreet USA campaign. The two girls are members of the Putnam County Teen Dems and passed out bubble gum to passersby. In the top photo, the girls are handing gum to Helen and Paul Sutherlin of Greencastle. In the bottom photo, little Timmy Davis doesn't quite know what it's all about but is interested in the bubble gum anyway. Timmy didn't comment to the girls whether or not his vote was swayed by the campaign. Photos by Martin Kruse

Hell Re-affirmed By Catholics

VATICAN CITY UPI - The Ecumenical Council today approved a document which was amended to re-affirm the reality of hell as the place for the eternal punishment of sin.

But liberal council fathers rejected a statement on priests as being too negative for further discussion until revised. The statement included propositions warning priests against vanity in dress and urged them to holiness in daily life, among other things. It was voted down by 1,199 to 930.

Make Your Own Draperies

There are over 50 million sewing machines in America today, and most of them are owned by women who consider sewing a creative outlet as well as just plain fun. If you're one of these women, why not try sewing some new draperies or curtains?

The easiest fabrics with which to make draperies are of Fiberglas. They won't shrink, stretch or sag. This makes accurate measuring possible. No allowances are necessary.

Here are a few simple rules for machine-sewing Fiberglas fabrics.

The Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation suggests, first of all, experiment with a sample of the fabric, just to get the feel of it in the machine. Now you're ready to go. Set your machine for a long stitch (approx. 8 stitches an inch), with a loose tension for top and bottom threads. Use a good quality fine cotton mercerized thread, and a sharp needle. With a light pressure, just guide your fabric through the machine.

You'll soon approach the home stretch with your draperies, and, as you do, here's a few more ideas to give your draperies that "finished" look.

It's not necessary to cut off the selvage. The selvage on Fiberglas fabrics is finished in the same manner as the body of the fabric.

Because Fiberglas will not stretch or shrink and is highly resistant to fading, there is no need to line your draperies. If you do choose to line your draperies with a fabric other than Fiberglas, hang it on a separate rod as the second fabric may shrink when laundered.

When making your heading, be sure that any fabric stitched to the Fiberglas is pre-shrunk. Weights won't be necessary to the appearance of your draperies, but if you do decide to use them, light weight beading and seam weights are recommended. They can be bought in most trimming or department stores.

When your last stitch is in, you can hang your new curtains or draperies right on your windows—no ironing is necessary.

It's no wonder that, with a machine, a little time, and the right fabric, sewing has become such an adventure for American women.

LEADERS OF INDUSTRY

William G. Riley, President, Riley Management Corp., Bellwood, Ill.
A millionaire at 38, William G. Riley is well on his way to becoming "the nation's landlord" by realizing that people are seeking not only a place to live, but also how to live.

In his King Arthur apartments, now rising throughout the midwest and scheduled for other parts of the nation, Riley includes resort recreational facilities and ample space for leisure living for tenants.

Riley's business acumen has had great appeal to "armchair investors" who leave the worries of management to Riley and cash in on the real estate profits in today's market. Investors purchase multi-unit buildings designed to fit the Riley plan and retain him as manager.

NEW SERVICE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Icelandic Airlines will start full jet-prop service from New York Nov. 1, it was announced by John J. Loughery, U.S. sales manager. The airline currently operates both Roils-Royce 400 jet-prop and DC-6B prop flights from Kennedy International Airport to Iceland and eight other European countries.

The changeover to full jet-prop service will not affect Iceland's long-standing low fare policy, Loughery said. Rates aboard the jet-props will be the same as on current DC-6B flights, offering savings to Europe ranging from $59.60 to $137.40, he said.
