Trial Proceeds In Local Court

A Putnam Circuit Court jury trial of a Van Buren school teacher moved into the second stage Tuesday afternoon when the defense attorney began producing witnesses in an attempt to substantiate the testimony of the defendant who is charged with trespass.

Ronald D. Fosnight, a vocational agricultural teacher from Van Buren High School, was charged with trespassing on the Francis Lane farm December 30, 1964. Mr. Lane charged that Fosnight walked on his premises while he was absent and photographed various phases of his vast hog operation. Lane further contended that the defendant had no permission of any kind when the offense occurred.

Fosnight, however, alleges that his permission stemmed from several years ago when he was a feed salesman in this area. At that time, he testified Lane had given him permission to come onto his farm and photograph the hog raising operation. Fosnight, in his job as agricultural teacher, visits several large farms a week, takes photographs of various portions of the farming operation and uses the photographs in his classroom work.

Lane contended that he does not remember giving the permission.

Members of the jury are Robert Lewis, Carl Nichols, Garland Soards, Bob Albright, Charles Boller, Alfred Mercer, Forest Dickey, Ennis (John) Masten, Charles Mitchell, Clarence Lee, Maurice Rader and Arvil Norton.

Rabies Shots Needed Unless Dog Is Found

Unless a certain dog is located, a DePauw University student will have to start taking a series of rabies shots within a very few days. Grover Vaughn, DePauw Security Officer reported to The Daily Banner today.

Brian Raymond Campbell, a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity, was bitten on the left ear last Sunday afternoon by a dog.

Vaughn said the young man was walking on the old O. & I. Stone Quarry Road, just south of West Walnut Street.

Campbell saw the dog caught in the top strands of wire in a fence. He went to the animal's assistance and it was during the time that he was freeing the dog that it bit him.

Vaughn said Campbell described the dog as fairly slick haired, brown in color with a short stubby tail. It had a little white on its throat and stood about 18 inches tall.

The dog wore no collar and it was feared that it might be a stray canine.

If anyone does know of, or

Currently, Congress is considering making permanent the five billion dollar excise tax on 75 goods and services even though they originally were imposed to help defray World War II costs.

The letter pointed out that the excise tax is a World War II measure designed to raise revenue for the Federal Treasury and had a secondary effect of restricting non-essential use of telephones when facilities were needed for the war effort.

At the time of its enactment, it was intended that the excise tax would be eliminated entirely at the end of the war," the letter said. It has been continued on a "temporary" basis for the 20 years since.

"It is a discriminatory tax," the letter stated, "since it is levied on telephone service and not on any other essential utility — gas, electricity, or water."

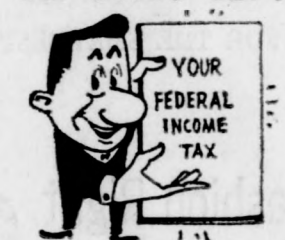

In discussing the impact of the present excise tax on telephone service, Mr. Barran explained that it is a luxury tax and conflicts with the fact that telephone service today is a necessity of American life; and, he emphasized, President Johnson has declared the Federal Tax program must be updated to maintain the country's high degree of economic development.

The elimination of the telephone excise tax could help fulfill this objective by increasing the gross income of every telephone user by the amount of the telephone excise tax he now is paying.

A recent editorial in the Toledo Blade, discussed the ten per cent levy on every telephone bill, he said: "This form of 'temporary' tax has become so

Sheinwold On Bridge

Some bridge authorities have taken advantage of the recent bad weather to spread the rumor that it's impolite to criticize your partner. There should be a law against misleading the public like that. The truth is that you should always sympathize with your partner when you point out his shortcomings.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

Play the East cards in today's hand. You win the first trick with the ace of clubs and return a diamond. Maybe your partner will have the good taste to ruff.

No Such luck. Declarer wins and leads a trump to force out the ace. Your partner returns a diamond, foolishly hoping that you will ruff.

Declarer draws the last trump and runs the diamonds, discarding two hearts. You hold your breath, but you still get the ace of hearts. There no overtricks, but South does make his game contract.

It would be impossible to say anything about the diamonds. Tell your partner off, but give him sympathy first. For example, start this way: "It was really unlucky that you didn't notice how many clubs you had."

WAY IS PAVED

The way is now paved for your criticism. You continue: "With so many clubs in your hand you should have opened a heart. I would take the ace and return a heart, and we'd develop a second heart trick as well as our three aces."

The sympathy will stop your partner from analyzing the hand. West won't point out that the opening lead did no harm. East should return a low heart at the second trick. West's jack forces out the queen, and West gets in with the ace of trumps in time to lead another heart. Then East gets the ten of hearts as well as the ace, defeating the contract.

If your partner gets restless, admit that you are not perfect. In a case of this kind, admit: "I used to make the wrong opening lead now and then. Don't take it to heart." Kind treatment will make your partners love you.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT, and the next player passes. You hold: Spade J 10 8 7 3 2, Heart A 9 4, Club K. What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades. You have 8 points in high cards and therefore know that the combined count is 24 to 26 points. You will probably have a reasonable play for game at spades, and have no interest in any other contract. In such situations, bid the game at once and avoid misunderstandings.

March Planned On Rural School

SELMA, Ala. UPI — Negro leaders said about 200 persons would march on a rural Alabama school today to protest the refusal of the principal to allow students to participate in civil rights demonstrations.

The protest was to be staged at Camden in Wilcox County, one of the black soil belt counties where Negroes are conducting voter registration campaigns. Camden is 35 miles from Selma.

A spokesman for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said the school involved was Camden Academy, a Negro institution.

Several weeks ago, a Negro youth was struck by a deputy who went to the school to chase away two civil rights workers trying to get students to join in a demonstration.

At Selma, the Rev. James T. Bevel told a mass meeting Tuesday night "the greatest boycott ever is in store for Alabama." He urged Negroes to "go without that Sunday frock, or go barefoot if you have to before you spend a penny."

He also urged continuation of the bus boycott in Selma and announced boycott leaflets would be passed out and picketing would start downtown.

"There's going to be boycotting in Alabama until we get our rights," he said. "We've got a new slogan: 'We ain't buying in Alabama' until we can vote in Alabama."

The city of Selma and the local bus line have filed a damage suit against Bevel and other civil rights leaders for launching the bus boycott.

About 400 civil rights demonstrators marched on the Capitol in Montgomery Tuesday to protest the slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, a white civil rights worker, on an Alabama highway last Tuesday night. The demonstrators carried 10 empty caskets memorializing the number of persons killed in Alabama during the civil rights movement.

Woman's Death "Not In Vain"

DETROIT UPI — Civil rights leaders today found new dedication to their cause from the death of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo.

Mrs. Liuzzo, 39, was shot to death on an Alabama highway after last week's Selma-to-Montgomery protest march. She was buried Tuesday in the solemn rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Her grieving husband and five children were told that her death would not be in vain.

Fr. James Sheehan, the priest who delivered the eulogy, said Mrs. Liuzzo's death was "a great blessing at the expense of her family."

"Today America hurts," he said. "All of us who have pride in what our country stands for are in anguish over the death of Viola Liuzzo."

More Room

WASHINGTON UPI — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., contends the House needs a fourth office building. He says the three now available aren't enough to staff aides he believes each lawmaker needs.

Patman's suggestion, made Tuesday when he filed his bill for two more aides, was not expected to win universal acclaim among his colleagues. They have been taking considerable abuse lately about their latest office building, the vast new $86.4 million Rayburn Building.

Says March Was A 'Big Circus'

EVANSVILLE UPI — Elmo Holder, Jr., who is spending a year with the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee in Alabama civil rights work, charged Tuesday that the Selma - to - Montgomery march was a "big circus" which hurt the campaign for Negro voter registration.

Holder, 28, of San Francisco, son of State Sen. Elmo Holder, Sr., of Evansville, said while visiting here that the march was "organized for the benefit of the press and Northern liberal ministers who came to see it."

He said he participated in the march as a volunteer for Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference. But he said he was "very critical of the leadership" of the organization.

"This type of march was out of place. It was pointless and nothing was accomplished," he said. "If the purpose was to draw attention of the nation to the Negro's problem, it failed."

"There's no doubt about it. The march hurt the push for voter registration. It just wasn't worth the energy, the cost and the disturbance in the Ku Klux Klan."

Holder is a former Indiana University student who has a master's degree in philosophy.

He said he has been in Alabama for three weeks and will return to complete the year of service he pledged.

Contract Awarded

WASHINGTON UPI — The Army Engineers District in Chicago has awarded a $362,200 contract to P & H Construction Co., Evansville, Ind., for alterations to two buildings at Fort Benjamin Harrison near Indianapolis to accommodate a new defense information school.

The Conductress escorted the installing matron, Jo Ford, to the East.

Mrs. Ford introduced the other installing officers: Marjorie Gilliland installing marshal; Mildred Fitzsimons, installing organist; Ellen Purcell, installing chaplain; Robert Jones, installing soloist.

Officers installed were: Worthy Matron, Mary Holland; Worthy Patron, John Burdette; Associate Matron, Esther Evans; Associate Patron, Walter Taylor; Secretary, Betty Ford; Treasurer, Ruby Everman; Conductress, Helen Bennington; Associate Conductress, Betty Wendling; Chaplain, Madonna Barker; Marshal, Betty Burdette; Organist, Alta McCammon; Adah, Alberta Kopp; Ruth, Mildred Fitzsimons; Esther, Jean Taylor; Martha, Donna Craver; Electa, Leann Long; Warder, Goldie Perkins; Sentinel, Bill Long; Soloist, Robert Jones; Prompter, Marjorie Gilliland.

The Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron were given an escort by DeMolays and Job's Daughters. The Worthy Matron was escorted to the East by her daughter, Pamalla, and Worthy Patron was escorted by his son and daughter, Kim and Darla. The soloist sang "How Great Thou Art" and "Whispering Hope" in their honor.

The Worthy Matron thanked her installing officers, introduced her family and introduced one of the members, Grand Representative of Quebec, Sister Ruby Everman.

The Past Worthy Matron and Past Worthy Patron were escorted to the altar to receive their gifts from the chapter and signed their names in the Bible.

Installation was closed with the Mizpah Benediction and prayer by Rev. Schmidt.

Refreshments were served to about 70 guests by the following committee: Mary Noland, Bernice Wilson, Elizabeth Crosby and Lucille Corbin.

Dixie Leaders Rap Voting Bill

WASHINGTON UPI — Southerners from three states Tuesday attacked President Johnson's voting rights bill at congressional hearings. One charged it was part of a Communist conspiracy.

Atty. Gen. Daniel R. McLeod of South Carolina and Rep. Armistead Selden, D-Ala., told a House judiciary subcommittee that the bill proposed to amend the U. S. Constitution without submitting the question to the states.

Leander H. Perez, longtime political boss of Louisiana's Plaquemines Parish, testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee that the bill was "hand-in-glove" part of a Communist conspiracy to control the Deep South.

Meanwhile, a civil rights-labor union coalition worked to broaden the impact of the proposed bill. Joseph L. Rauh Jr., counsel for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, planned to distribute a series of proposed amendments to House and Senate members.

The proposals were approved

Monday at a workshop conference of leading Negro organizations and labor groups. They are aimed principally at penalizing anyone who intimidates Negroes seeking to vote.

Chou, Ben Bella To Hold Talks

ALGIERS UPI — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai, determined to keep Russia from taking part in the forthcoming Afro-Asian meeting, arrived today for talks with President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria.

Chou flew here from Tirana, Albania, Red China's only ally among the Communist countries of Europe. Earlier, he had gone to Budapest for the fuson an optimistic report on the status of his Great Society legislation.

At his regular weekly meeting with the leaders, Johnson was told that his Medicare program likely would reach the House floor next week and his education bill might get to the Senate floor by Tuesday.

Optimistic Report

WASHINGTON UPI—Democratic congressional leaders yesterday gave President Johnson an optimistic report on the status of his Great Society legislation.

At his regular weekly meeting with the leaders, Johnson was told that his Medicare program likely would reach the House floor next week and his education bill might get to the Senate floor by Tuesday.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told newsmen after the meeting that he joined with Johnson in congratulating House leaders "on the magnificent job they did" in passing the $1.3 billion elementary and secondary education bill.

Distribution Late In June

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The first distribution of a 1963-created property tax relief fund aimed at reducing school debts will amount to approximately $7.1 million and will be made the latter part of June. Estimates are the distribution will amount to about $7 per pupil in average daily attendance.

This information was compiled from statements made separately by spokesmen in the State Revenue Department, Department of Public Instruction and the state auditor's office.

The 1963 legislators had estimated $10 million for the biennium as the top probable collection from the corporate net income tax they create for the purpose of helping to relieve school property taxes.

The law provides that the distribution be first made on the basis of the tax collected as of April 1, 1965.

State Treasurer William L. Fortune said this apparently will be $7.1 million. The first distribution covers taxes received in a 21-month period rather than a 24-month period.

Assistant state school superintendent Eldon Crawford said he has not received all the information needed to certify the average daily attendance figures on which the fund is to be distributed but believes the total will be a little more than a million pupils.

Deputy State Auditor Alex Ingram said his office is prepared to make the distribution to local school corporations "the latter part of June."

The 1963 law specifies that the money received from the fund by local schools is to be used for debts first and cannot be used for operating expenses until after the debt service has been paid.

Guatemala Is Enjoying Boom

Foreign News Commentary
By Phil Newsum
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Almost unnoticed by the outside world, the small central American republic of Guatemala has for the last two years been enjoying an unprecedented economic boom.

Part of the credit is given the interim government headed by Col. Enrique Peralta Azurdia. Colonel Peralta, a former defense minister, led a bloodless revolt which in March 1963, overthrew the government of Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes.

Much of the credit also is given to another little-publicized force which is called the Central American Common Market composed of the five central American republics, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

This, in much the same manner as its better known counterpart, the European Common Market, seeks to abolish tariffs among the five and to coordinate efforts to develop agriculture and industry.

In Guatemala its progress may be noted in well-stocked super markets which stock canned and packaged goods labeled "made in Central America."

As in most other Latin American nations, agriculture has not kept pace with developing industry. But in Guatemala, for instance, efforts are being made to get away from a coffee economy. In 1963, coffee accounted for 55 per cent of total exports as opposed to 62.5 per cent in 1962.

And within the Central American Common Market, Guatemala from mid-1963 to mid-1964 sold the equivalent of $24 million while importing just over $14 million. In 1959, exports to central American nations totaled just over $500,000 and imports something less than $2 million.

Since 1950 Guatemala has been of special interest to the United States and a capsule of problems common to most Latin American lands.

Many have the problem of a one-product economy, whether it be coffee, tin or copper.

In Guatemala's mountains, Communist-supported guerrillas seek the overthrow of the government and finance themselves from the proceeds of robbery and kidnapping.

And to the United States it has presented a problem also encountered in other Latin American nations—whether to insist upon the development of democratic institutions or to settle temporarily for a stability brought about by a military coup at the expense of democratic processes.

By the latter route Col. Peralta came to power. The United States recognized him on the basis of tentative promises that national elections would be held in 1965.

A constituent assembly now is working on a new constitution for Guatemala and Colonel Peralta says general elections may be held this year.

Selma Citizens Holding Breath

SELMA, Ala. UPI — Selma waits with trepidation today to learn what more can happen in this spring of discontent.

Will it be a return to normalcy, or more violence?

A state of physical and mental tiredness hangs heavy over the town. It can be sensed among Negroes and whites alike.

Even the weather seems to have gone awry, turning the skies black Monday and bringing tornadoic winds, going from cold to damp to humid during the first week of spring.

Aside from a few scattered marches — on the sidewalks instead of the streets—and an occasional slight flurry of activity, the town is quiet for the first time in 10 weeks.

To some observers, Selma has reached the breaking point when a return to more racial violence could end the role that moderates have played in this town to keep violence at a minimum.

A state of exhaustion can be felt here among the moderates, the strong segregationists, the demonstrators — among all who have marched, walked, prayed, sang, fought, bled, or shrunk from the turmoil.

On one thing almost everyone is agreed: Selma will not be the same again.

Out of the unrest and the violence has emerged a proposed voting rights bill now pending before Congress.

One move by Negro leaders, who have mentioned it as a possibility, could push the town headlong into turmoil again. That would be a march to the quiet tree-lined streets of a white residential area.

"When they start marching on your home, don't call the sheriff, call the coroner," one official said grimly.

Authorities report that gun permits "by the hundreds" have been filled out since the violence began — for whites and some Negroes. The plans of "the movement" — the name given to the civil rights drive by the demonstrators — now have become mostly vague. Where demonstrators once clapped, shouted and sang songs in Brown's Chapel AME Church, gathering place for the demonstrators, little children now sit in a ring of chairs studying their kindergarten lessons.

The Alabama Journal of Montgomery made this point in an editorial:

"We have waved the flag at the bull again and been trampled. Time after time, Alabama has played the fool's game with the predictable consequences. But we seem to love it in some strange, masochistic way." Meanwhile, Selma waits.

Group Calls On Gov. Wallace

MONTGOMERY, Ala. UPI — George C. Wallace, the segregationist governor of Alabama, yesterday "cordially and courteously" received an interracial civil rights delegation which asked him to end police brutality against Negroes.

It was the first meeting the governor has granted such a group.

The 16 civil rights leaders, all but one a Negro, also asked Wallace for a more liberal policy of registering Negro voters removal of the poll tax.

Wallace, who met with the group in his office at the Capitol, did not comment immediately on the meeting with the delegation he had previously refused to see.

A spokesman said the group asked Wallace to "use his great power of leadership to bring peace to our state."

Staggering Debt Seen By GOP

WASHINGTON UPI — GOP members of the House Ways & Means Committee charged today that President Johnson's medical care program could cripple the Social Security system by loading it with a staggering debt.

They also claimed the insurance program was inadequate because it did not cover all prescribed drugs or provide for financing long illnesses.

The legislation, approved by the committee last week, proposes a compulsory hospital insurance program under Social Security for persons 65 or over. This would be financed by raising payroll taxes.

It also included an optional insurance plan, which could be purchased for $13 a month, to cover doctor bills for the elderly. The government would match this contribution.

The eight Republicans who voted against the program in committee aimed their biggest blasts at the Social Security-financed portion of the program.

They claimed that a GOP alternative proposal — a voluntary plan to provide hospital and medical insurance for the elderly — would do a better job at less cost.

Their minority report said the plan would impose on today's workers a $35 billion liability for hospitalization benefits for persons now over 65.

"This shifting of $35 billion liability from those presently retired to the active work force cannot be reconciled on the basis of 'ability to pay,'" the GOP report said.

Grants To I.U.

WASHINGTON UPI — Three

grants to Indiana University for comprehensive planning programs were announced Tuesday by the Housing Home Finance Agency and Urban Renewal.

One is $17,390 covering two-thirds of the cost of work in Miami and Warren Counties. Others are $5,920 covering three-fourths of the cost of work in Linton and $4,938 for three-fourths of the cost of work in Corydon.

Man Killed In Flaming Crash

MARTINSVILLE UPI — One man was killed and another critically injured Tuesday when a collision on Indiana 37 about four miles south of here caused a gasoline tank truck to explode.

Police identified the victim as Oliver E. McGuire, 54, Bedford, the driver of the truck. He was trapped in the cab and was burned to death.

Writer Recalls Day Near Seoul

By United Press International

Along the side of the road south of Seoul on that bitterly cold day in January, 1951, the bodies of Korean civilians dead lay in what seemed row on endless row.

Never to be forgotten by this correspondent was the body of a child, beautiful even in death. She lay still strapped to her mother's back in her cootume of soft blues, pink and red silk. The repose of her expression suggested she never felt the bullets when they hit.

This was part of the sickness of that war — the thousands of refugees swept helplessly along on a death-dealing tide, frequently unwitting shields of Communist infiltrators awaiting only the proper moment to whip a submachine gun from beneath their quilted jackets to ambush an unwary Turk, Greek, Briton, American or another Korean.

A bullet was no selectivity and so the innocent fell along with the guilty, the transgressor and the transgressed.

In South Viet Nam also, the innocent fall along with the guilty.

And, to quote from a news conference conducted by Secretary of State Dean Rusk:

"On one occasion the Viet Cong had seized a village, was holding the villagers in hostage and was firing through these villagers at mixed crowds outside the village.

"The decision was made to employ tear gas . . . in order to avoid the problem of whether to use artillery or aerial bombs that would inflict great damage upon innocent people."

Tear gas is not designed to spread cheer among its victims. Nonetheless, even they must say that a few moments of discomfort are preferable to the eternity that comes with a bullet.

So between the two there can be no argument about which is the most humane.

But there were other unfortunate aspects.

Among a large section of the American people and among allies of the United States there was dismay that gas in any form should be used in the escalating war in Viet Nam.

There was dismay that the tear gas had been used without prior knowledge in Washington. And there was a fear that the use of gas in any form also could escalate.

Coalition Works On Voting Bill

WASHINGTON UPI — A civil rights - labor union coalition worked to broaden the impact of President Johnson's proposed voting rights bill.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., counsel for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, planned to distribute to members of the House and Senate a series of proposed amendments to the measure. These were aimed principally at penalizing anyone intimidating Negroes seeking to vote.

The proposals were approved Monday at a workshop conference of leading Negro organizations and labor groups, sponsored by the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

A house judiciary subcommittee continued hearings on the bipartisan administration measure today with South Carolina Att. Gen. Daniel R. McLeod scheduled to testify. The Senate Judiciary Committee also scheduled hearings with southern witnesses on tap.

Southerners testified against the bill at hearings Monday. They criticized particularly the section which assumes discrimination against potential Negro voters in any state where less than 50 per cent of the state's eligible population registered or voted last November.

LBJ Supporters Due For Shock

By United Press International

Big business and industrial supporters of the Johnson-Humphrey administration are due for a shock next week when they learn what LBJ's left wing sponsors are planning for the Great Society.

Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) meets in Washington next week in annual convention. ADA comprises the administration left wing, a powerful ally on whom LBJ placed most of his blue chips last August when he tagged Hubert H. Humphrey to run for vice president. HHH was a founding father of ADA. Johnson's final choice between Humphrey and Sen. Eugene L. McCarthy also of Minnesota, another ADA star. Johnson's presidential campaign of necessity was to appease ADA. He remains stuck with that necessity.

ADA is neither Communist nor classically socialist. Welfareism under a wholly centralized national government is ADA's political religion. This is a high-cost, cradle to grave, federal welfareism with ever increasing centralization of power, planning and control in Washington and, more specifically, in the office of the president. Socialism and this centralized ADA welfareism are not identical but they could live together.

This is the ADA with which the 1964 "Business for Johnson-Humphrey" are now teamed in double harness, although the businessmen scarcely are aware of the situation so far. They will begin to be aware when the harness sores begin to gall.

ADA's enormous influence in government comes of its triumphant infiltration of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. ADA also helps to make law in the judiciary and to make policy in the Congress. But the executive department is ADA's special field. ADA entered the Kennedy and Johnson administrations as water enters a sponge.

Drag Lakes For Missing Woman

COLUMBUS UPI — Police were scheduled to begin dragging operations at two nearby lakes today in the search for a 69-year-old retired school teacher reported missing since early Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Richard of Columbus was reported missing to local police early Tuesday by a nephew, Dr. Richard O'Bryan, who said his wife had tried unsuccessfully to locate her since early Monday morning.

Investigation revealed she had taken a cab Monday morning to Harrison Lakes, leaving the cab at a bridge between the two lakes and telling driver Harold Garland she was "going to visit a friend" in the area. She has not been seen since.

On The U. S. Farm Front

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department said today that domestic food donations by the government totaled more than a billion pounds during the first half of fiscal 1965. This was 10 per cent more than the same period a year before.

The donated food July - December, 1964, period were used to help feed school children, needy families, and needy persons in charitable institutions.

The Daily Banner, Greencastle Indiana
Wednesday, March 31, 1965

Cost of the donated foods was $249.2 million, a gain of nearly 39 per cent from the same months of 1963. The department said this increase was accounted for largely by the distribution in fiscal 1964 of more than $48 million worth of frozen ground beef and roasts to schools and about $39 million worth of canned beef in natural juices to needy families. These products were not available for the same period a year earlier.

Schools received 348.6 million pounds of donated foods during July-December, the department said. This excluded foods purchased by the department for schools participating in national school lunch programs. Donations to schools were 22 per cent greater than in the comparable period a year earlier.

More than half the donated foods — 560.8 million pounds — went to needy families during the first half of the fiscal year. This was an increase of about 4 per cent from the same months the year before.

At that time, the conservation department was asking the highway department to spend $465,000. But the new statement for presentation Thursday with Mitchell's required signature calls for spending $620,000. Mitchell added $140,000 for a Monroe Reservoir parking lot, $14,500 for new construction at Shades State Park, and an extra $30,000 for maintenance. The commission also will have before it at the meeting a request to spend $6.5 million on a bituminous resurfacing program in 52 counties. The report showed $3 million on hand but in order to carry out the program the additional $3.5 million would have to come from unappropriated surplus. The commission agenda also includes a proposal to locate a sub-district headquarters in Gary, under supervision of the LaPorte district. A resolution offered by chief F. S. Hill of the division of maintenance said the sub-district is necessary because "the Valparaiso and Renaissance sub-districts cannot adequately or effectively serve the requirements in this metropolitan area."
