U. S. Economy Is Healthy Says Commerce Secretary

WASHINGTON UPI — Commerce Secretary John T. Connor said Monday after a meeting with President Johnson that the economy is healthy and will continue that way despite some inflationary pressures.

Connor also said that he does not believe that the steel price increase will seriously harm the economy.

In answer to a question, the Cabinet member added that Johnson agrees with this evaluation.

"I think that anything that adds to inflation can be harmful but I think it will have a minimal effect," Connor said. He said he thought that the selective price boost was "within bounds" and was needed by the steel industry because of wage increases, low profits and because competition from foreign steel importers.

He said he felt that the price hike "will help the profits situation and will help provide capital for plant expansion needed in view of the competition." The White House was asked about a statement by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey that the administration was reviewing the "whole project" of wage-price guidelines and economic developments to see whether "additional fiscal restraints may be necessary, such as a tax increase."

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers replied that "this kind of thing is done consistently."

Book Memorial To Mrs. Nall

A new book recently received at the Greencastle - Putnam County Library is, "Papa Hemingway", by A. E. Hotchner, presented to the library in memory of Elizabeth Nall, by Mrs. Edward Proctor, of Green River, Wyoming.

Mr. Hotchner was a friend of Ernest Hemingway for the last fourteen years of his life. They went fishing together, travelled far and wide from New York to Paris, to Spain and other places. They went hunting together in Ketchum, Idaho, where Hemingway had a home and enjoyed many other exciting experiences together.

During these years, the author who had been a magazine writer, took notes on the events and conversations of each day. Out of the close association together during these fourteen years, Hotchner came to know Hemingway quite well, and with the aid of his notes has been able to portray some of the warmth and personality of this great writer.

Ernest Hemingway was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1954 and the Pulitzer Prize in 1953 for fiction. He was a colorful individual who seemed to enjoy the rugged life and these memoirs provide fascinating reading.

One hundred years ago Annie Sullivan was born. How this opinionated Irish girl was able to teach the wild, unruly deaf-mute Helen Keller to communicate and thus become a part of her surroundings, is dramatically told in "The Miracle Worker" by William Gibson.

Dr. James Elrod, director, announces the following cast for the Putnam County Playhouse production August 26, 27 and September 2, 3. Dual cast as the determined Annie are Sue Nickerson Williams of Bloomington and Treva Raymann of Bainbridge. Kathy Madison is accepting the challenge of portraying Helen. Captain and Mrs. Keller, played by Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland, find life very frustrating and strive to cope with other problems too as does son James, David Robbins. Aunt Ev, Mary Frances Strain; Viney, Ellen Reed; playmates, J. F. Strain and Martha Madison; Doctor, William Alspaugh; and Anagnos, Albert E. Williams all contribute to the development of Helen as a human being.

Cast as Blind Girls are Kathy and Carolyn Dean, Annie and Jenny Walton, Sally Ricketts, Peggy Eppelheimer, Rusa Rooker Angela McFarland, and Melodie Strain. Off stage voices are those of Danny Cantone, Katharine Benner, Edna Poor, Marie Porter, James Martin-dale, Jack Morrill and John Anderson.

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were triggered by the influx of cool air and rain was reported in almost every state from the Rockies to the Atlantic. Scattered drizzle fell also along the Washington state coastline.

Skies were clear over much of the Far West today except for the usual fog and low cloudiness along the Pacific Coast. Warm weather continued in most sections of the country —excepting the Midwest.

Boy, 18, Before Judge Hamilton

An Indianapolis teenager admitted Monday in the Putnam Circuit Court of being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages at Lieber State Park Friday night.

The youth was fined $50 and costs but a 30-day State Farm sentence was suspended.

Judge Hamilton ordered his driver's license revoked and recommended that he not obtain another license for a period of two years.

He is also prohibited from visiting any state park in Indiana and his mother promised to sell his automobile.

Nuclear Blast

UPSALA, Sweden UPI — The Soviet Union apparently detonated an underground nuclear device in Central Asia Friday, the Seismological Institute here reported Monday.

WASHINGTON UPI — An Agriculture Department official placed the major blame for rising bread prices Monday on the middleman rather than the farmer.

Undersecretary John A. Schnittker, leadoff witness at a House subcommittee hearing, said the bakers and distributors had contributed more to the price rise than the cost of wheat which goes to the grower.

Schnittker conceded that wheat prices have risen in the average cost of a loaf of bread in the past three months. Farmers received $1.74 per bushel in mid-July, compared to $1.44 in May and $1.32 in July, 1965, he said.

But he said it was clear that only a minor part of the recently reported 2 to 3 cent increase in the average cost of a loaf of bread can be attributed to the higher wheat prices.

The farmer's share of the average retail price of bread in 1965 was only 13 per cent, the lowest share of any important food product, Schnittker said. Last month, the farmer received 3.2 cents for the wheat going into a loaf of bread, he said.

"It takes a price change in wheat of almost 70 cents per bushel to make a difference of 1 cent in the cost of wheat in a one-pound loaf of bread," the government official told the House group.

And while the average price of bread has risen every year except 1964, increasing more than 70 per cent since 1947-49, he said, farmers now receive about the same price for wheat. Schnittker echoed the statements of Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman who insists that the farmer is not at fault for the climbing food costs.

WARNING — Violators will be prosecuted. This is the information The Banner received from Sheriff Kenneth Knauer Monday after he caught two boys swimming in the old Mid-West Stone Quarry pond across the street from the City Swimming Pool.

The depth of the water in the quarry pond varies from 40 to 90 feet. So it isn't hard to visualize the risk involved when boys sneak over the fence and succumb to the temptation for a swim in the clear blue, but COLD water.

The maximum penalty under Indiana law for trespassing is a 50 dollar fine and six months in jail. And after publication of this article, anyone caught trespassing will be arrested. No one yet has drowned in the Quarry pond and everyone concerned would like to keep the record intact.

Tough Controls On Minor Drugs

GENEVA UPI — Moves began here today to place such minor league drugs as pop pills, tranquilizers and LSD under the same tough control as big-time narcotics like heroin.

Experts from 10 nations and officials from international groups opened a five-day meeting on how best to combat the growing misuse of barbiturates, amphetamines and tranquilizers.

The conference is also examining the dangers of hallucinogenic drugs, of which the best known is LSD.

Talks are being held in the framework of the "committee on substances not under international control," established by the United Nations Commission on Narcotic Drugs together with the World Health Organization, WHO.

Decrease Noted In Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1966 cotton crop at 10,820,000 bales, down 28 percent from last year's harvest.

The first official cotton production estimate of the year compares with a production of 14,966,000 bales last year and the five-year average output of 14,785,000 bales.

There is no danger of a cotton shortage in the United States. The carryover into the 1966-67 marketing year was a record 16.8 million bales. This amount, 3 million bales over the previous record set in 1956, plus today's estimated crop will provide enough cotton to meet foreign and domestic requirements and leave a large surplus.

The department estimated cotton yields this year will average a record 530 pounds of lint per acre on the 9,798,000 acres for harvest. Last year yields averaged 526 pounds per acre. The five-year average yields were 475 pounds.

Artificial Heart Surgery In Texas

HOUSTON UPI — A 37-year-old Mexican woman was reported "progressing satisfactorily" today with the aid of an artificial heart device installed by Dr. Michael DeBakey.

Mrs. Esperanza del Valle Vasquez underwent four-hour surgery Monday to become the third person in which one of DeBakey's artificial heart devices were implanted. The other patients died within days of their operation.

DeBakey's device allows a tired human heart to rest and to heal itself while a "left ventricular bypass" pumps blood. Hospital officials tried to keep an air of secrecy about the surgery. Although they refused to identify the patient, doctors disclosed her name. Her address in Mexico was not disclosed.

Hospital administrator Ted Bowen would only say the operation was performed by "the same cardiovascular team."

Publicity about such surgery was sharply curtailed after segments of the medical profession criticized DeBakey following the operation on Marcel E. De Rudder, 65, of Westville, Ill., last spring.

Bowen said Mrs. Del Valle Vasquez had been seriously ill for many years, suffering from progressive heart failure resulting from rheumatic fever.

Anderson Rejects Offer By F.O.P.

ANDERSON UPI — An offer of $100,000 by the Anderson Chapter of the Fraternal Order of Police for a $500 per year raise for all policemen and a paid insurance program was rejected Monday by the Anderson City Administration due to a ruling by the State Board of Accounts.

The ruling said that insurance programs must be paid for "all city employees or none" according to the chairman of the Anderson Safety Council, C. D. Rotruck.

The Anderson city budget now calls for $250 a year raise for the policemen.

Hobart Chandler, president of the FOP, said the $100,000 is part of the police pension fund which police pay into through salary deductions and which is supplemented by rewards, gifts, and the like which officers may not accept on a personal basis.

Mayor Frank Allis said that he did not feel that the city could pay an insurance program for all city employees to enable the administration to accept the $100,000.

Collie Dog Gets Hero's Award

CHICAGO UPI — Hero really is a hero according to the gold medal he was awarded Monday.

Hero, a Blue Merle Collie owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Jolley, Priest River, Idaho, was named America's dog hero of the year by a dog food manufacturer.

He won the award after embedding his teeth in the nose of an enraged horse which was trying to trample Shawn Jolley, 3. The child's life was saved, but Hero sustained crushed forefeet, four broken ribs and five broken teeth in the encounter.

Persistence, a mongrel owned by Karen Holder, 15, Rosemoyn, Ohio, was named second-place hero of the year.

Persistence, after persistent attempts, was able to awaken Karen's mother when gas fumes overcame the rest of the family. All were saved.

Tippy, a Collie owned by Alvie Tyre, 77, Walton, Ind., placed third after warding off a 600-pound hog which had attacked Tyre and severely injured him.

Nelson Grills Raps Statement

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Sen. Nelson G. Grills, D-Indianapolis, Monday openly contested the statement of Robert H. Wyatt, executive secretary of the Indiana State Teachers' Association, that the next General Assembly must either dip into the state's $80 million surplus or increase taxes to meet costs of public schools.

Grills, in a letter to Wyatt suggested that teachers be employed in recreation projects and thereby earn an additional $750 in the summertime.

He said that "The minimum teachers' salary of $4,500 is comparable to the beginning salary of other persons with four years of college."

Grills also assailed the construction of expensive school buildings of a luxurious nature. "There is no need for property tax relief for the industries of our state . . . providing a suitable homestead exemption and an increase in the old age exemptions raising the permitted income to qualify to provide sufficient relief to homeowners and wage earners."

Luci And Pat In Seclusion

NASSAU, Bahamas UPI — Luci and Pat continued their honeymoon here today. Or did they?

Although it was presumed the celebrated newlyweds began their third day of married life at their oceanside villa today, it was a fact based only on what everyone was willing to take for granted.

The Nugents, guarded by a phalanx of close-mouthed men with a no-nonsense air about them, have not been seen since shortly after their arrival here Sunday.

Armed with cameras, tape recorders, sun hats and other tools of their trade, newsmen stalked the honeymooners all day Monday from a sun-baked road near their six-acre, palm-surrounded villa.

At one point Monday, one of the mysterious young men, suitably attired in a striped sports shirt and orange shorts, appeared before the sweltering throng and informed them coolly they were trespassing.

Then there was the case of the Nassau Tribune photographer who jumped on a delivery truck and, posing as a delivery boy, got as far as the kitchen before being summarily evicted. All he got to see were some more of the closed-mouth young men—and the kitchen help.

Divers Locate Plane Wreckage

KAILUA, Kona, Hawaii UPI — Divers Monday located the wreckage of a light plane which crashed into the ocean off the Kona coast Saturday night, but no trace has been found of three persons aboard when the plane disappeared.

Aboard were Mrs. Hulda Caplain, Bluffton, Ind., Kalani Aldridge, Honolulu, and the pilot, Dan Gardner.

Jonah Jackson, manager of the Kona Village, said the wreckage was found in 50 feet of water and strewn over a large area.

The plane, Jackson said, apparently hit while under full throttle and disintegrated. The motor and seats were torn off but no bodies were found.

The three had taken off from Kailua, Kona, on the island of Hawaii for the short flight to the Kona coast resort of Kona Village.

Pilot Gardner made one pass at the strip and zoomed out over the sea and then crashed.

Mrs. Captain was the leader of a tour group which checked into the Kona Inn Friday. She was employed as an office worker in a Bluffton industrial concern.

Criminal Detected After Bridge Hand

By Alfred Sheinwold
"I'm going to catch the culprit tonight," Sherlock Holmes remarked to Dr. Watson as they entered the bridge club. "One of the players is counterfeiting Confederate money." The great detective caught the criminal after watching this hand.

East won the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned the queen. West ruffed the king of hearts and returned a diamond. Declarer won with dummy's ace of diamonds and drew trumps.

South eventually lost two club tricks, going down one. Sherlock Holmes then produced a pair of handcuffs and took the criminal off to jail.

Who was the criminal, and how did Sherlock Holmes know that he was the counterfeiter? Decide for yourself before you read on.

WOEFUL MISPLAY

South misplayed the hand woefully. He should play a low heart on East's queen at the second trick, thus allowing East to win.

If East leads a third heart, South must play low from his hand and ruff in the dummy. The idea is to save the king of hearts so that South can eventually win a trick with it.

Declarer then draws trumps and leads the king of hearts to discard a club from the dummy. This limits the club loss to one trick. South loses only one club and two hearts, making game and rubber.

Sherlock Holmes put the handcuffs on East because he noticed that East's pockets were full of counterfeit Confederate money. Holmes was too wise a bird to think that South was a criminal just because he played bad bridge. If we put all the bad bridge players behind bars the rest of us would die of loneliness.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold: S1A Q J 10 4; H-K 7 5 3; D-7; C-8 3 2. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. The hand is not quite worth an opening bid. If South's hearts were headed by the ace or by the king-jack instead of by the king, the hand would be worth an opening bid. Likewise, South would bid one spade if the queen of spades were changed to the king. The difference is only one point, but there must be a dividing line somewhere between a biddable and an unbiddable hand.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON

United Press International
American citizens are being suckered for a hocus pocus daily delivery of free lunch for which they actually pay twice the value and for which the price steadily goes up.

A businessman who managed his affairs as the politicians manage the Treasury of the United States would go bankrupt. A banker, a broker or a trustee of some orphan's funds would be jailed for the kind of funny business in which the pols indulge themselves at the expense of the citizens. The pols are tapping every individual's bank account, his wallet, his insurance policy, his kid's piggy bank in a larcenous conspiracy to maintain themselves in office at public expense.

Power to protect themselves lies with the American voters of whom it must be reported that they lack both the courage and the wisdom to act. What the larcenous politicians are inflicting on the voters is currency inflation. This inflation shrinks the dollars in your pocket, in your bank account, in your insurance policy. The disease is deadly if slow, like arsenic. The National Industrial Conference Board calculated a few weeks ago that a man with wife and two children would need an income of $13,234 this year to be able to buy the amount of goods he could buy with $5,000 in 1939.

The U. S. dollar is now worth only 43 cents in purchasing power compared with the dollar's purchasing power just before World War II. Big time spending by all presidents beginning with FDR has been the greatest factor in shrinking dollar value. Living costs creep steadily upward. Bread jumps two cents a loaf in one area. Milk prices hike in another. Bacon, beans and baby shoes cost more today than a year ago.

American citizens seem not to understand that it is their dollars that are being shrunk by the politicians. Neither do they comprehend that the politicians will not change their ways. The good life for politicians with re-election purchased with federal funds has become a permanent way of life. This was predictable. In fact, it was predicted, as follows:

"A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can only exist until the voters discover that they can vote themselves largess out of the public treasury with the result that democracy always collapses over a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship and then a monarchy."

That was written about 200 years ago when the 13 colonies still were British. The author was Professor Alexander Fraser Tyler. He was not writing, of course, of the United States. Tyler was writing of the decline and fall of the Athenian republic which had taken place about 2000 years earlier.

Time has not repealed the penalty for loose fiscal policy. Neither has time modified the spendthrift exuberance of public men aiming for high office. For such it is common practice to offer billions here, billions there to this or that category of citizens in the hope that the populace will vote for them on election day.

A promising young Democratic senator generally regarded as shooting for the White House in 1972 came up the other day with a big plan to hike Social Security payments. Ted Knap reported in the Washington Daily News that this generous policy would be costing the Treasury upward of $27 billion a year by 1976. The generous senator proposed merely to hike Social Security payments without covering the cost with an increase of Social Security taxes. To the added voters of the American credit card economy that will probably look like free lunch. The voters don't know much.

WASHINGTON — Presidential adviser Gardner Ackley has called the recent flat steel price rise and the stalemate in the airline machinists' strike "stunning defeats" for President Johnson's inflation campaign. Ackley didn't forecast what the President will do about it but he left the distinct impression that the White House will take steps quickly.

Give Rundown On U.S. Action

SAIGON UPI — Military spokesmen today gave a rundown on three U.S. operations ended during the past week, including one multibattalion operation that was the first of its size to suffer moderate casualties in the war.

Spokesmen said Operation Hastings, a joint U. S. Marine and South Vietnamese operation against elements of a North Vietnamese army division near the demilitarized zone received moderate casualties from its beginning July 7 until it ended Aug. 3.

U. S. and government forces killed 802 Communist by body count during the operation and captured 15, the spokesmen said.

Also announced in the weekly review of operations were summaries for operation Paul Revere I, a 25th Infantry Division action in the Central Highlands, and the 1st Infantry Division's operation Springfield II U.S. and South Vietnamese casualties were light in both multibattalion operations.

Spokesmen said 546 Communists were killed between May 10 and July 31 in Paul Revere I and 68 Communists captured. A total of 10 Communists were killed in Springfield II between July 28 and Aug. 1.

Cicero Target Of Rights Group

CHICAGO UPI — Leaders of Dr. Martin Luther King's open housing drive turned their sights to new targets today and vowed to march into the streets of all-white suburban Cicero, scene of a bitter anti-Negro riot 15 years ago.

"They can buy tanks and they can arm every child, but they can't stop us from going into Cicero," the Rev. James Bevel, a top King aide, said after a church meeting Monday night.

Another top adviser to the Nobel Peace Prize winner, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, told the cheering church crowd rights marchers would dare the streets of Cicero this week.

The exact timing of a Cicero march—a major departure from the movement's past forays into all-white Chicago neighborhoods—was still to be determined.

The next planned demonstration was set for Wednesday afternoon. No destination was announced, but there were indications it would be either Cicero or the all-white Bogan area of Chicago's southwest side.

One movement leadership source said he believed Wednesday's march would be somewhere within the city.

Job Report Is Issued By I.U.

BLOOMINGTON, UPI — Graduates of the Indiana University School of Business last June had 187 job opportunities from which to choose at starting salaries ranging from $5,000 to $12,000 a year.

J. Douglas Snider, director of the school's placement bureau, said a dark cloud in the increasingly bright pictures of employers beating a path to the campus to interview grads was the step-up of military activity in Viet Nam and the drafting of childless husbands.

Snider said only 42.25 percent of this year's grads accepted offers from business firms. He said the placement office last year scheduled 7,969 interviews for 897 graduates.

TOO MANY THREATS OVER U.S. PRISONERS

UNCLE SAM NOW DECIDES TO SHOW MORE RESTRAINT

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—After a round of outraged denunciation of Hanoi's first decision to put 19 U.S. Air Force prisoners on trial as "war criminals," U.S. government officials obviously are having serious second thoughts about the best way to prevent their execution.

Obviously, official threats to "punish" North Viet Nam can serve only to increase the determination of that regime to carry out its announced plans. This thought has occurred to Washington officials. There is an apparent effort on the part of the State Department and other agencies involved to soft pedal further threatening remarks.

Congress itself seems to have taken the implied advice that it, too, should tone down its indignation and let the matter revert to where it should have been all along—the quiet, unpublicized negotiation by experienced diplomats.

The government's best hope to save the lives of the captured airmen seems to rest in the belief that, after trial and conviction, sentences imposed will not be carried out—that the unfortunate men will be retained as prisoners of war, in fact, if not in title.

Meanwhile, efforts are being pushed to arrange some sort of prisoner exchange between Hanoi and Washington. For Hanoi to accept such a proposal would appear to involve an admission on their part that the airmen are prisoners of war and not war criminals. On the surface, this would appear to be a difficult reversal of Hanoi's stand. But actually, it would be possible for Hanoi to agree to the exchange without in any way receding from its stand.

Such an agreement probably could be worked out only after a "war criminals" trial is concluded. The U.S. course indicated is one of patience and restraint until the Hanoi show trials have been held.

AGRICULTURAL INCIDENT—Rep. Eligio De La Garza, D-Tex., likes to tell the following story, which incidentally makes the point that he has been a backyard dirt farmer.

He says he was digging in his garden when his glasses fogged up. He took them off and continued with his work of planting an apple tree. A little later when he wanted to use his glasses he couldn't find them.

After looking everywhere he finally, in desperation, dug up the tree, and there were his glasses right where he had buried them. He concludes his story by saying:

"And that's how close I came to having a tree that would produce apples wearing horn-rimmed glasses."

TRUTHFUL LABELS—Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., has had some second thoughts following passage of the truth-in-packaging bill, which would require honest labeling of contents of retail store merchandise.

Norris says that, if he had it to do over again, he would offer an amendment to the bill to require truth in the labeling of U.S. currency. "Why wouldn't the dollar have been a good place to start?" he asks.

Actually, Norris is having some regrets about a political opportunity he missed. He surely could have had a lot of fun proposing that the Treasury would be required to print across a dollar bill that "This is worth 52 cents in the purchasing power of the 1946 dollar."

TV In Review

NEW YORK UPI—Joan Bennett was a star in the great days of Hollywood when the journey to the studio was a leisurely limousine ride from a mansion to a dressing room the size of a luxury hotel suite.

There were flowers from the producer, the support of a small army of aides from secretaries to dialogue coaches and, if one cared for that sort of thing, a caviar and champagne lunch with such co-stars as John Barrymore, Spencer Tracy, Ronald Coleman and Gregory Peck.

That was the Hollywood one would not blame Miss Bennett for recalling wistfully as she toils away the long hours in a studio on a dingy street in Manhattan in ABC-TV's daytime serial, "Dark Shadows." She is one of its most important featured players. The economics of the world of the daytime serial permit of no cossetting. It is hard work. And Miss Bennett, still slim and elegant (was discovered in a tiny dressing room just off the ingenious set of what ABC calls "the first television program styled in the tradition of the gothic novel."

"Let's find some place that's air-conditioned," she said. Later, in one of the booth's in which sponsor's watch the programs, she talked with considerable good humor about her involvement in "Dark Shadows" and the tough schedule which, being a good trouper, she is learning to live with.

"It was frantic at first," she said, with a smile that smoothed the years. "I was really desperate the first few weeks. I thought I'd die. I was fighting with my agent for getting me into all this. But now it's simmered down."

In "Dark Shadows" Miss Bennett the eighth generation of one of our most famous acting families plays Elizabeth Stoddard Collins, mistress of the great stone mansion at the center of music of the mystery and menace of the program.

"One day's work in this 'role' is about the equal of three days' work in Hollywood," she said. "Listen to this schedule: We arrive at 8:30 a.m. And we go to lunch, mind you—at 10:30 a.m.! Mine is usually a container of soup from a vending machine. We report back at the set at 11:30 a.m."

"Then we start taping the show. And as soon as we finish the taping we start rehearsing for the next day's episode! In order to keep the whole week from being frantic I have to study the script three hours on Saturday and three hours on Sunday. That leaves no time for a social life and I'm lucky if I can squeeze in a play or a movie or a dinner date."

Miss Bennett said she had seen herself only twice in the show and thought she looked "ghastly" because the overhead television lighting made her appear as though she had no mouth. The lighting has since been adjusted. She finds it hard to accustom herself to the constant repetition of daytime scripts.

"But you have to say the same thing over and over again," she explained, "because you have to take into consideration new viewers trying to catch up with the story."

Miss Bennett spent a silent moment looking back over her long and distinguished career to see if there was anything she wanted mentioned.

"I could kick myself," she said, with feeling, "for not buying real estate in Hollywood all those year ago."

Ron Clarke May End Track Career

KINGSTON, Jamaica UPI — Ron Clarke, one of the fabled names in track, is considering quitting because of two consecutive defeats within a 48-hour span.

Kipchoge Keino of Kenya beat the Australian Monday night in the three-mile event of the British and Empire Commonwealth Games while on Saturday unheralded Kenyan Naftali Temu defeated Clarke in the six-mile event.

"I'm toying with the idea of quitting athletics," Clarke said after Keino had beaten him by 10 yards with a time of 12:57.4. "The only other alternative is to go home and get stuck into some good solid training and come back and beat Keino."

Three world swimming records were set during Monday's events. Australians set two world marks and England one.

The British 440-yard women's relay team of Linda Ludgrove, Diana Harris, Judy Gegan and Pauline Sillett broke the standard with a time of 4:40.6. Aussie Peter Reynolds set a record in the 440-yard individual medley with a clocking of 4:50.8 and Kathy Wainwright won her 440-yard freestyle trial heat in the world record time of 4:39.6.

Menke Finds Playing Baseball Is Easier

By JEFF MEYERS
UPI Sports Writer

Playing baseball is easier than making big speeches for Denis Menke, so he lets his bat do the talking in front of important people — like pennant contenders.

Menke saves his most eloquent addresses for the league leaders and has been delivering it in the final inning to win the game for Atlanta.

The Braves' second baseman, a four-year National League veteran who signed a reported $120,000 bonus contract in 1958, personally knocked San Francisco out of first place two weeks ago with clutch hits.

Against the Giants on July 29, Menke rifled a two-out run-scoring single in the ninth inning to give the Braves a 7-6 triumph and followed that performance a day later with an 11th-inning run-producing single to provide Atlanta with a 6-5 victory over San Francisco.

Continuing his assault on the No. 1 team, Menke bounced Los Angeles off their one-day perch atop the standings by singling home pinch runner Gary Geiger with two out in the ninth Monday night to snap a 9-9 tie and send the Braves to a 10-9 victory over the Dodgers.

"The big leagues are tough," Menke once said. "But having to make important talks is tougher."

Menke only lacks confidence in the speech department. As a major leaguer, he is sure he has arrived and will stay for a long, long time.

"I think I'll play up here for ten or 15 years," the 26-year-old Iowan said. "I think I belong here. Someday I'm going to win the batting title."

Elsewhere, San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 7-5 after losing the first game of a doubleheader 10-6.

In the American League, Detroit shaded Washington 5-3 in 12 innings, Kansas City stopped Minnesota 6-1 and Boston beat Cleveland 3-1.

The Dodgers' loss enabled Pittsburgh to regain first place by four percentage points over both San Francisco and Los Angeles. Although the Dodgers and Giants have the same percentage, .578, Los Angeles trails the Pirates by one-half game.

The Braves and Dodgers were tied 6-6 going into the ninth. But Los Angeles erupted for three runs and had its top reliever — Phil Regan — in to protect the lead.

Pinch hitter Ty Cline ignited the rally with a single, went to third on an error by leftfielder Lou Johnson and scored on Mack Jones' single. Consecutive singles by Felipe Alou, Joe Torre and Rico Carty tied the game and Menke followed by his game-winning blow.

Ron Fairly slammed two homers and Jim Lefebvre one for the Dodgers, while Jones connected for the Braves.

Willie McCovey collected four hits in the nightcap including his 23rd home run of the season for the Giants. McCovey's clout

McDaniel gained the victory, his seventh against four losses.

In the opener, the Reds scored five runs in the fifth inning, three coming home on Leo Cardenas' 14th homer of the campaign. Tony Perez drove in three Cincinnati runs with a homer collected three hits.

Willie Mays, McCovey, Len Gabrielson and Jim Ray Hart homered for the Giants and Tommy Helms also connected for Cincinnati. Jim Maloney, working the first five innings, raised his record to 12-4.

Policeman On Trial Job At Stake In Civil Case

ATLANTA UPI — The city board of aldermen will decide tonight whether to fire a traffic policeman accused of cursing and waving a pistol at Mrs. Henry Aaron, wife of the Atlanta Braves' star center fielder.

Negro state Sen. Leroy Johnson, acting as attorney for Mrs. Aaron, said Monday he will ask the board's police committee to dismiss patrolman L. W. Bedgood for "behavior unbecoming an officer."

A Braves' spokesman said five witnesses told him the officer waved a pistol at Mrs. Aaron during a traffic jam at Atlanta Stadium and said "I'll blow your brains out, nigger."

The incident allegedly occurred July 30, when Mrs. Aaron said the officer insisted she move her car when the road was blocked.

Bedgood said Mrs. Aaron cursed him and refused to answer when he questioned her.

A coalition of 22 Negro civic clubs, led by the Atlanta Grass Roots Council, supported the demand that Bedgood be fired.

"We refuse to sit by and see our Negro women, or any women for that matter, so brazenly insulted and tormented by such flagrant abuse of the law," said Benny T. Smith, president of the council.

"Many incidents of pistol waving by gun happy police have gone unnoticed and unreported like this one," Smith added.

Junior Tourney Gets Underway

GREENSBORO, N. C. UPI — The nation's top young golfers and entries from Puerto Rico, Panama and Canada teed off today in the first round of the 21st annual Jaycees National Junior golf tournament.

A total of 199 young golfers, all under 18 years old as of Aug. 1, were competing for the title in the 72-hole tournament on the par-71 Sedgefield Country Club championship course, site of the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament.

Only Maine and Alaska failed to enter the tournament. The participants were selected in Jaycee tournaments across the nation last month.

After the 36 holes, the championship flight in the medal play tournament will be reduced to the low half of the field.

The high scorers will play a consolation tournament at a nearby course.

The new Jaycees champion will be invited to the Bing Crosby pro-am and the Greater Greensboro Open next year.

Eddie Perace, 14, Temple Terrace, Fla., is believed to be the youngest of the golfers.

Masters champion Jack Nicklaus was a visitor to the course Monday when he conducted a clinic for the youthful golfers.

The host Greensboro Jaycees budgeted $12,000 for the tournament. The funds were taken from profits the Jaycees made on the Greensboro Open last spring.

32 Finalists Vie For Title

BLOOMINGTON UPI — Qualifying rounds began today in the Western Junior Golf Championship, with match play among the 32 finalists scheduled to begin Thursday and end Saturday.

John Richart, Ann Arbor, Mich., will be defending his title won last year at the University of Iowa.

Richart, 19, barely made the age limit this year in his bid for a second straight championship, a feat accomplished only three times previously in the 49 tournaments.

Richart, who is exempt from qualifications, is one of 15 finalists last year who will be back in the field of 238 swingers this year.

The only players to win consecutive Western Junior titles were Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans, 1934-35; Ben Downing, Monroe, La., 1940-41, and Dean Lind, Rockford, Ill., 1949-50.

Richart is the first defending champion in the field since 1960 when Steve Spray of Indianapolis, Iowa, failed in his bid for a second straight crown.

Players will fire 18-hole qualifying rounds today and Wednesday over the Indiana University and nearby Cascades golf courses.

Match play will be on the IU course when the field is pared to 32.

In addition to Richart, the field will include last year's runnerup, Jim Herring, of Amarillo, Tex., and semifinalist Greg Pitzer, Westwood Village, Calif.

Other entrants include Tommy McGinnis, Memphis, Tenn., and Tom Kabbfleisch, Louisville, who finished 1-2 in the International Jaycee tournament last year, and Terry Dear of Albuquerque, N. M., who won the men's Southwestern Amateur crown at the age of 17.

By Roberta Roesch

Dear Roberta Roesch:
Will automation eliminate as many white collar jobs as it will blue collar jobs?

Mrs. T. S.

Dear Mrs. T. S.:

According to authorities on this subject, blue collar jobs are expected to decrease in much greater proportion than white collar jobs.

To some extent automation will reduce job opportunities for record keepers and file clerks whose work can be done by machine.

Categories in Demand

But secretaries and stenographers, white collar workers who are trained to work as programmers, tape librarians, and business machine operators, and men and women who can deal with the public will continue to be in demand. The same holds true for professional and scientific personnel.

Predictions indicate that opportunities will lessen for farmers and farm laborers. They are also likely to decrease for semi-skilled workers. In the so-called blue collar category, many of the jobs in the future will require more technical training and skill than in the past.

Franchise Venture

Dear Roberta Roesch:
My husband and I would like to operate a franchise business as a part-time venture, but we want to be sure we involve ourselves with the right firm.

What is the recommended way to check to see if the company we have in mind is a reputable one?

A. D.

Dear A. D.:

Your bank should be able to check on the financial standing of any franchise company you are considering. The bank may also be able to give you information on the people who head the company. Your nearest branch of the Better Business Bureau will be another source of information.

In addition to checking on the firm with the bank and the BBB, you should visit and talk to other franchise operators who work with the firm you are considering.

Finally, have your lawyer go over any and all contracts before you sign up for your franchise.

A Woman's View

By Gay Pauley

NEW YORK UPI — The great debate goes on: Why Johnny can't read and whether he would be better able to if he were taught reading the basic abc's way.

To Watson Washburn, a New York attorney and president of the Reading Reform Foundation, the answer to Johnny's problem is simple as abc—start the children learning the alphabet first and start them early—“some children can learn to read at three and four,” he said.

Washburn, state representative of the foundation, educators and others dealing with literacy and school dropout problems met Thursday in New York for the fifth annual conference of the foundation. Main objective—to plan new battle courses against what Washburn called the “look and guess” method of reading.

This method, in its simplest form, shows a child a picture and a word. He's to recognize the word henceforth from picture association—a “cat” to go with a picture of same.

To Washburn, the introduction 40 years ago of the “whole word shape” teaching method, instead of phonetics, is the “greatest blow to civilization since the dark ages.”

In an interview before the conference, Washburn blamed it for what he called an all time high rate, in 1964, of draft rejections because of illiteracy; for a role in the massive school dropout numbers which worry parents, educators and the U.S. government alike; and for much of the nation's juvenile delinquency and older criminal element.

“Reading ability in our country probably is at its worst right now,” Washburn contends, “although the tide in the last few years has begun to turn. I would estimate about 25 per cent of elementary schools have returned to phonics. Once their results are seen, there will be pressure on other schools.”

“A few more years and this horrible catastrophe will end,” said Washburn. “I'm encouraged. The job then will be to pick up and teach the illiterate adults.”

Washburn charged that in 1964, 29.9 per cent of men eligible for draft were rejected because of poor reading ability — “It had been about 25 per cent for the preceding 25 years.”

“Of course,” he said, “we have to consider these figures in light of men in college and draft exempt. But think of it... the millions who can't read newspapers.”

As for dropouts, Washburn observed, “if you can't read, you might as well quit school. But if you can't read, you can't get a job either, so often the turn is to crime. Young criminals, many of the older ones, are frequently illiterate.”

WALL STREET CHATTER

NEW YORK UPI — Wright Investors' Services says it is unlikely that the final months of 1966 will see a conclusion as improbable as the present decline in the face of rising earnings: A sharp and vigorous recovery and a declining short interest as earnings gains slow to a halt.

Kenneth B. Smilen and Kenneth Safian of Purcell, Graham, & Co. say the basic trend of stock prices appears to be down. The analysts say there may be some minor rallies and temporary resting periods from time to time but all signs point to continuation of the steady and orderly distribution of stocks of the past several months.

Bache & Co. says it would continue to advise an investment strategy centered on quality stocks at the low end of their historic multiple range, issues that consistently tend to outperform the overall market.

Hoosier Held In Fatal Shooting

GLASGOW, Ky. UPI — An Indianapolis man faced charges today in the fatal shooting Sunday of a Kentuckian near Rock Hill in Barren County.

Authorities said Sherman Rhodes, 19, Indianapolis, one of four persons wounded in a shooting, melee, would be charged today in connection with the death of Scott Britt, 53, Bowling Green, Ky.

Police said the shooting spree apparently was the result of an argument over a crap game the men started after leaving a church social.

Prison Paper Editor Escapes

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Robin Smith, 24, assistant editor of the Indiana Reformatory's convict-published newspaper, sneaked away to freedom Sunday night after losing in a chess tournament.

Smith and three other prisoners participated in the two-day tourney sponsored by the Indianapolis Chess Club Saturday and Sunday, in company of Ronald Parr, 24, an Anderson College teacher who serves as reformatory counselor in summer months.

Shortly after he was eliminated from the tourney, Smith was found to have disappeared while the other inmates and Parr were engrossed in other tourney games.

Smith was serving a 10-25 year term for armed robbery. He was sentenced from Elkhart about 18 months ago and was considered “one of the intelligentists of the institution” with a good conduct record since his arrival, Supt. Jerome Henry said.

TV In Review

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD UPI — Can four television stars with nine series behind them find happiness and high ratings by pooling their talents?

They'll find out this fall when “It's About Time” hits the air.

The stars are Imogene Coca, Joe E. Ross, Frank Aletter and Jack Mullaney.

It works this way. Aletter and Mullaney are astronauts who go so far into orbit they lounge up there in time and return to earth about one million B.C. When their space capsule lands they find themselves surrounded by cave people.

Joe E. Ross starred in “Sergeant Bilko” and “Car 54, Where Are You?”

Aletter co-starred in “The Cara Williams Show” and “Bringing Up Buddy,” while Mullaney co-starred in “Ensign O'Toole,” “The Ann Sothern Show” and “My Living Doll.”

The cast, clearly, is experienced at situation comedy.

But can they bring off this astronaut-cave man series? Imogene hopes so.

“I would guess the critics will hate the show because it isn't intellectual,” she said. “But I think the public will like it because it seems very funny to me.”

Imogene and Ross are man and wife in the new series and live in a tract cave, a strictly prehistoric pair who try to help the astronauts.

But it's not a “live” version of the successful cartoon series, “The Flintstones.” These are primitive characters who run around in bear skins and carry clubs.

Anthropologists will be stunned to learn that cave men spoke passable English, at least as the television scientists have envisioned Neanderthal man. They grunt and ugh now and then, but basically they speak as good English as, say, a University of Southern California graduate.

Bill Affects Camp Atterbury

WASHINGTON UPI - A bill that would permit local authorities to assume jurisdiction in Camp Atterbury, Ind., was approved by the House Armed Services Subcommittee Monday.

The bill, requested by the administration, would authorize the secretary of the Army to delegate all or part of legal jurisdiction to local officials.

The bill would allow local police to enforce traffic laws on public roads that go through the federal reservation.

Though Camp Atterbury belongs to the Army, most of it is now devoted to civilian uses such as the newly created job corps facility.

Students Hit Marriages Of Yanks, Viet Girls

SAIGON UPI — A group of Saigon university students Monday called for an end to the "escalation" of marriages between American servicemen and Vietnamese girls. They also demanded segregation of all foreign troops and a deadline for their withdrawal from South Viet Nam.

The demands came in a statement issued after a meeting of the students which also called for an end to the war and solution of the economic, political and social problems it has caused.

In the statement, the students criticized the increasing number of Vietnamese women who are taking part in "the escalation of the marrying of U.S. men."

"Viet Nam has a good tradition and high morals," the statement said. "No woman is proud when marrying an American... what will U.S. married women think?"

The students blamed what they regarded as the moral decline on social and economic problems resulting from the war and said it was the responsibility of the government to take immediate corrective measures.

They demanded a written guarantee for the removal of foreign troops from South Viet Nam by an unspecified date, charging that other nations were using the country as "playing round for private plans of foreign pressure."

They said the government should require American and other foreign troops to be quartered in "some separated areas" until their withdrawal.

Puts Ban On Beatles' Records

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa UPI — The South African Broadcasting Corp. (SABC) announced today it is banning the playing of all records by the Beatles pending clarification of John Lennon's widely publicized comments on their popularity compared to that of Jesus Christ.

The ban was announced on a news program which said no records by the group would be played until a full report of Lennon's comments had been given to SABC board of governors.

Lennon's remarks, which stirred a furor in America and elsewhere, were included in an interview about eight weeks ago in a London newspaper.

Hold Talks On Economic Aid

JAKARTA UPI — U.S. Ambassador Marshall Green conferred with Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik Monday on possible resumption of U.S. economic aid to the financially troubled country.

The two met for 35 minutes at the foreign ministry. Malik told newsmen afterward that the "U.S. government was very careful not to make any promises," but he declined to give details of the discussions.

The conference came as Australian External Affairs Minister Paul Hasluck arrived here for a meeting with members of Indonesia's new cabinet.

He also made no promises about economic aid. "I did not come here as Father Christmas," Hasluck told newsmen at the airport.

"It is not the purpose of my visit to sign anything. I came here to get to understand Indonesia and to help Indonesia understand Australia."

But the conferences pointed up the efforts of Indonesia's new government to achieve better relations with Western nations.

Unemployment Dips Slightly

WASHINGTON UPI — Unemployment in the nation dipped slightly to 3.9 percent last month as the nation's work force hit a new all-time high, the Labor Department reported Monday.

At the same time, however, average earnings for factory workers and the average factory work week both dropped for the third consecutive month.

Arthur Ross, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the 3.9 per cent unemployment figure represented no significant change from the 4 per cent monthly average for the first half of 1966.

Total non-farm payroll employment last month was 63.8 million, up 3.1 million from a year ago. Payroll employment, which usually drops in July, was down 250,000 from last month. Ross said the reduction was 150,000 less than seasonally expected for the period.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, Ross said, manufacturing employment was practically unchanged. He said June-to-July gains in machinery, primary metals, fabricated metals, and electrical equipment were offset by a decline in the transportation equipment industry which he attributed to early model changeovers in the auto industry.

Ross said that production work employment was 14.1 million last month, up nearly 800,000 from a year ago. He said production employment gains were the most significant.

The nation's total labor force last month was 82,771,000 compared to 82,700,000 in June. The increase continued a steady monthly rise in the total work force since March when the labor force totaled 79,315,000.

Ross said weekly factory earnings dropped $1.50 to $111.25 and the average factory work week was reduced by four-tenths of an hour to 41.2 hours in July.

Youth, 17, Wins Speech Contest

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — G. Rhea Bucy, 17, Paris, Tenn., won the national public speaking contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias at the lodge's national convention here Sunday.

Bucy received a $2,000 college scholarship for his victory over Jere Burrus, 18, Abilene, Tex., the second-place winner of a $1,000 scholarship.

A national traffic safety poster contest was won by Ross Andrews, Signal Mountain, Tenn., with Nancy Pechin, St. Petersburg, Fla., second, and Adrian Decklar, New Orleans, La., third.

Prisoner Dies, Death Probed

PENDLETON UPI — Floyd Mitchell Philpot, 27, a convicted burglar, died Sunday enroute to an Indianapolis hospital and an investigation was under way today at the Indiana Reformatory to determine if he was a victim of a poisonous homemade intoxicant.

Supt. Jerome Henry said Philpot became ill and was sent to Robert Long Hospital but died on the way. He was sentenced in April, 1964, from Hancock County to Greenfield to a 2-5 year term on second-degree burglary charges. His family lives at Louisville.

Authorities suspected Philpot might have become ill from drinking applejack or some other contraband intoxicant.

U.S. Steps Up Viet Bombings

SAIGON UPI — American pilots intensified their offensive against North Viet Nam Monday, flying a record total of 139 bombing missions against supply depots and communication lines in the Communist North, U.S. military spokesmen reported today. Three planes were lost.

Ground action also picked up in the South where an outnumbered U.S. Marine reconnaissance party held off an attacking Communist force for 12 hours until reinforcements arrived to help chase the Reds back into the jungle.

The spokesmen said that U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine planes struck 153 targets up and down North Viet Nam to surpass a two-month old record of 121 missions in one day. A mission is one or more attacks by an undisclosed number of planes.

Intense Communist anti-aircraft fire brought down three Air Force F105 Thunderchief jet bombers during the attacks, they said.

Air Force long-distance helicopters picked up one of the three pilots and — adding more drama to the record day — rescued an American pilot downed 26 hours previously in North Viet Nam about 25 miles south of the Communist Chinese border and 100 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The pilot had parachuted when his Air Force RF101 Voodoo photo reconnaissance plane was shot down during raids over North Viet Nam Sunday. A record seven U.S. planes were downed during those raids.

Today's air losses brought to 329 the number of U.S. planes shot down by North Vietnamese during the two-year-old air war against the north.

Body Exhumed

MARTINSVILLE UPI — Coroner James Summers of Morgan County has ordered the exhumation of the body of Freeman Hamilton, whose body was found in a closet in his burned home July 31.

Death was tentatively given as from smoke inhalation, but Summers said further evidence since Hamilton was buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery at Hall warranted additional investigation of the case.

HAPPY NEWLYWEDS CUT WEDDING CAKE — The White House was the scene of the traditional cutting of the wedding cake by the young newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nugent, following their wedding in Washington, D.C. Looking on are the proud parents of the bride, the President and Mrs. Johnson.

Luci's Wedding Very Expensive

NEW YORK UPI — Women's Wear Daily reported today that Luci Johnson Nugent's wedding may cost the President as much as $75,000.

The garment industry publication, which incurred White House displeasure by publishing advance descriptions of the wedding fashions, said it arrived at this figure based on the cost of flowers, 400 policemen on Saturday overtime, the salaries of press secretary Liz Carpenter and her staff of six working full time for weeks, the troupe, three portables first aid stations, three calligraphers to write the invitations, food and champagne for 700, a 110-man choir, organist, carillonneur, U. S. Marine Band and Peter Duchin's orchestra.

Judge Rules On University Case

VINCENNES UPI — Special Judge Lester Nixon ruled in Knox Circuit Court today that Vincennes University has the right to exercise an option to purchase 185 acres of land in Illinois from Mr. and Mrs. John Newton of Vincennes.

The school filed suit against the Newtons when they refused to sell the land on which the institution had taken an option. The Newtons maintained that the school had failed to exercise the option within the specified time.

School officials say the land, to be purchased for $40,000, will be used for recreational and educational purposes.

The Newtons indicated they would appeal Nixon's ruling.

MR. AND MRS. PATRICK J. NUGENT—Leaving the church following their wedding are the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nugent. A photographer yelled "Hey, Mr. and Mrs. Nugent" and the young couple responded with their very best smiles.
