Army Sets Interview For Student Nurses At DPU

INDIANAPOLIS — A financial assistance plan for qualified male and female student nurses is being offered by the Department of the Army. Major Marjorie Scheerer, Army Nurse Corps counselor for Indiana, will be at DePauw University in the Union Building, Room 208, from 4:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m., October 19, to explain the program.

To reduce the Army's shortage of nurses, the Department of the Army has initiated this financial assistance program which will enlist, in the U. S. Army Reserve or Army National Guard, in the grade of Private First Class, E-3, selected college juniors. The program provides that these student nurses be placed on active duty at their school of nursing until graduation.

Participants will receive the pay and allowances of Private First Class, which is approximately $254.00 per month. Tuition, books and incidental fees will be paid by the Army from the first full term following entry into the program until graduation. In addition, explains Major Scheerer, there is free medical and dental care, shopping privileges at military exchanges and commissaries, and paid vacation time of thirty days per year. The participants are not required to attend military meetings or to wear the military uniform while in school.

Six months prior to graduation, the participants will be discharged from enlisted status and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps with pay at approximately $437.08 per month.

After graduation and the successful completion of the State Board Examination, the nurses will be assigned to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for an orientation course, and then assignment to an Army hospital.

Under this financial assistance program, nurses agree to remain as commissioned officers in the Army Nurse Corps for at least three years if the program in which they participated was for twelve to twenty-four months and for at least two years if the program was twelve months or less. The obligated period of active duty commences on the day of arrival at Fort Sam Houston for the orientation course, states Major Scheerer.

Ralph Fry Is Rotary Speaker

At the Rotary luncheon held in the Union Building Wednesday, Norm Donelson, Program Chairman, introduced Ralph Fry as guest speaker.

Discussing the 4-H program, Fry, who is a successful farmer and 4-H leader from Roachdale, stated that the 4-H emblem stands for Head, Heart, Health, and Hands. "The benefits a youngster gains from 4-H work are many," continues Fry, "it is educational, teaches responsibility, teaches youngsters to work together and the meaning of cooperation."

Presently there are 2,225,000 members in the United States and 98,000 in Indiana. Another important function is that 4-H work keeps the youngsters busy and lessens the chance of getting into trouble.

Clubs were organized over 60 years ago and presently cover a wide variety of projects. Youngsters can learn about beef and dairy farming, forestry, electricity, cooking, sewing, and many other worthwhile activities that may be the start toward a career.

Fry commented that the projects that students work with are the key to the success of 4-H. Approximately 78 per cent of the members are rural youth, but children in towns also participate, and federal, state, county, and private contributions support 4-H work.

Seven other countries of the world now also have similar 4-H programs and visitors from other nations come to the United States to study the organization of our successful programs.

District Governor Herman Messing of West Lafayette, plans to meet with officers and the committee chairmen on Tuesday, October 11, in the Union Building and the Governor will attend the regular meeting on October 12.

Curb Fails

PLOMODERN, France UPI — The town council admitted it was doing a poor job as Pied Piper. To curb a plague of rodents, the council offered a free movie seat to any child who produced a rat's tail at the town hall.

The rats increased instead after the children started breeding them to keep up the supply, a town spokesman said.

Thursday Was Busy Day For Putnam Judge

Thursday was another busy day in the Putnam Circuit Court this week for Judge Francis N. Hamilton with action being taken in the cases of six defendants.

James E. Cooper, 31, Cannelton, pleaded guilty when arraigned to escaping from the State Farm.

He was sentenced 1-5 years in the State Prison at Michigan City.

Judge Hamilton recommended that he serve only the minimum sentence and join Alcoholics Anon.

Ralph John Anderson, 23, Evansville, also pleaded guilty to escaping from the State Farm.

His sentence is 1-5 years in the State Reformatory at Pendleton.

The court also recommended he serve only the minimum sentence providing he attends the reformatory's school as he has only an eighth grade education.

Charles Albright, 48, city, pleaded guilty to drunken driving. He was to return to court today for sentencing.

Mrs. Glendon Anderson, 41, Edinburg, was sentenced to serve one year in the Indiana Women's Prison for the deception issuance of a check.

The sentence was suspended providing restitution is made within 10 days.

Steven Cartwright, 16, Fort Wayne, and James Edward Shultz, 17, South Bend, charged with vehicle taking, were each sentenced to serve nine months at the Indiana State Farm under a minor statute. The boys were escapees from the new Youth Center at Plainfield.

End Air Raids Says North Viet

UNITED NATIONS UPI — India has informed the United States that North Viet Nam flatly refuses even to discuss peace negotiations until U. S. bombing raids against it are called off, diplomatic sources said today.

India, which has excellent diplomatic contacts in Southeast Asia in addition to being chairman of the International Control Commission IOC set up under the 1954 Geneva convention, gave that report to Secretary of State Dean Rusk last Wednesday, the sources said.

The information was relayed by Indian Foreign Minister Sardar Swaran Singh.

Lion For Sale

DALLAS UPI — Wilson Brown says his pet lion Simba is "gentle as a kitten." But the City Council nevertheless ordered him to remove the 18-month old animal from within city limits. Brown has put the animal up for sale, but will sell only to someone who promises not to keep Simba "cooped up all the time like a wild animal."

Plan Two Conferences On Law Enforcement

Gooch Heads Kiwanis Club

Darrell Gooch was elected President of the local Kiwanis Club Thursday at the noon luncheon held in the Union Building. Other officers elected for the year 1967 were Thomas Slaughter, vice-president, and Granville Thompson, treasurer. Keith Monnett, Sam Hanna, Walter Frye, and John See were elected to the Board of Directors. These officers will assume their duties January 1, 1967.

Sam Hanna introduced the speaker, Arthur Shoemaker, who gave a very entertaining address of the literary heritage of Indiana. This program was the second of a series of programs commemorating the Indiana Sesquicentennial celebration. Kiwanian Shoemaker's informative address established our state as second only to New York in literary achievement.

Richard Peeler, Dr. Jack Shonkwiler, and William Boyd were the guests of Charles Erdman, Dr. James Johnson, and John Boyd respectively.

The Board of Directors will meet Tuesday evening, October 11.

Homecoming At Fillmore Sunday

The Fillmore Methodist Church will observe its annual Homecoming Day on Sunday, October 9th. Church school will begin at 9:30 a.m., with classes for all ages. Worship Services will follow at 10:30 a.m., with the local minister, Rev. John McFarland, delivering the sermon, and with both the Junior and Senior choirs providing special music.

There will be a basket dinner at 12 o'clock, followed by an hour of fellowship. A hymn sing and program of sacred music will begin at 1:30 p.m. Guest organist for the afternoon will be Dorothy Crosby of Roachdale, and guest soloist will be Nancy McFarland of Greencastle.

All members, former members and friends are urged to attend all, or any, of the day's program.

James T. Neagle, Special Agent in Charge of the Indianapolis Office of the FBI, announced that "the law enforcement image" will be the subject of special law enforcement conferences to be sponsored by the FBI at Evansville on October 11, and at Indianapolis on October 13. Many of the serious problems confronting the law enforcement profession at the present time as well as the urgent need for better police-community relations will be among the subjects at these conferences.

According to Mr. Neagle, the conferences will be attended by representatives of the FBI and law enforcement agencies in the Evansville and Indianapolis areas. These are part of a series of similar meetings being held throughout the nation between now and October 31, 1966.

FBI Director John Edgar Hoover, stated that if law enforcement is to succeed in its relentless war on crime it must have greater public support. Mr. Hoover noted that the scheduled conferences will stress this need as well as the ever increasing necessity for close cooperation between law enforcement agencies on all levels in matters of mutual interest.

The latest technical advances that are available to the law enforcement profession will also be studied.

In this regard, those in attendance will be afforded a thorough briefing on the National Crime Information Center which the FBI plans to have operational early next year. The Crime Laboratory as an increasingly valuable weapon against the criminal will also be discussed in detail.

Johnson Warns Of Higher Taxes

WASHINGTON UPI — President Johnson's warning that higher federal spending means higher taxes was sharpened today with reports of military spending rates soaring $4 billion above budget estimates.

Under present trends, the original estimates may be exceeded by about $7 billion by the time this fiscal year ends next June 30.

After three months of this fiscal year, the annual defense spending rate has climbed to $62 billion. The estimate given to Congress last January was for $58.3 billion.

Unless ways not immediately visible are found to cut spending, computations show the spending figure for the fiscal year could reach $65 billion.

Johnson's warning Thursday went to Congress which almost immediately ignored it and passed school aid bills, both of which exceeded presidential requests for funds.

Blasts Officials

WOLOMIN, Poland UPI — Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski Thursday accused school officials here of keeping children in after classes to prevent them from attending church-sponsored religious ceremonies.

The outspoken primate also said the authorities organized a sports meeting to coincide with a church celebration of the 1000th anniversary of Polish Christianity.

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The biennial cry for property tax relief is shaping up into a dominant issue of the 1967 Legislature in Indiana, thanks to a general fund surplus which may hit $122 million.

The moans of homeowners over the almost total dependence on property for local tax revenues have sounded with regularity during each legislative session and to some extent contributed to adoption of a new state tax system in 1963.

That system, using a 2 per cent sales tax, a 2 per cent adjusted gross income tax, and a corporation tax, managed to pull state revenues up to record levels, and the state general fund surplus blossomed.

It was $90 million as of June 30, this year, and a conservative guess by Commissioner John Hatchett of the Indiana Department of Administration is for $122 million by the end of the biennium, June 30, 1967.

Governor Branigan staved off demands for an immediate special session which came from both Democrats and Republicans by a tacit promise to cooperate in getting property tax relief legislation shortly after it convenes Jan. 5. The State Board of Tax Commissioners delayed setting tax rates for 1966, payable in 1967, until after the legislature can consider such a bill.

In Indiana, 99 per cent of the total local tax revenue comes from property taxes, according to a study by the State Commission on Tax and Financing Policy. This is because cities, towns and townships and counties have no authority to levy any general tax except on real and personal property and must count on this money, plus what they get in state and federal funds and various fees, to operate.

State funds distributed to local government were increased by the 1965 Legislature, but did not result in actual tax reduction in most cases. The average county tax rate went up to $7.10 this year, with one county — Lake going past the $10 per $100 of taxable property mark.

Even with bigger federal and state distributions, property taxes are bearing more than half of all local governmental costs.

Ruth Mack Dies In Hong Kong

A cablegram has brought word to E. C. McCullough of the death of his daughter, Ruth McCullough Mack. She died Wednesday, Oct. 5, in Hong Kong.

Born in Greencastle in 1908, Mrs. Mack graduated from Greencastle High School and DePauw University and received her Master's degree from Radcliffe College in 1931.

She spent most of her adult life in the Orient as teacher and missionary. On graduating from Radcliffe she accepted a position as English teacher at Lignam University in Canton, China. Almost from the first day of her arrival in China her home became the refuge for the needy, fostering children and families, sponsoring college students who would have been unable to complete their education without her aid.

The disruptive years in China found Dr. and Mrs. Mack teaching at the University of Manila and when she was forced to leave the Philippines as the Japanese invaded at the beginning of World War II she returned to Greencastle with her two small children, Lorna and Melling. Teaching in the English Department at DePauw University she continued her missionary efforts by lecturing and fund raising for the refugee Chinese children. At the close of the war Ruth returned to Lignam U. for a short time only, to be forced to flee her home again as the Communists took over the Chinese mainland. She and her husband became refugees themselves in the Crown Colony of Hong Kong. Chung Chi College, meaning "Honor Christ" was at length established by the joint effort of several American churches to meet the desperate need for higher education among the refugees. Mrs. Mack was soon back at her job as English professor and her husband, trained as a doctor in veterinary science filled a great need as biology teacher.

Carrying a full teaching schedule, co-authoring several English text books which are being used extensively in the Philippines and in Hong Kong she continued as a dynamic church teacher in the Knowlton Union Church, her class room filled with young Chinese Christians, British service men and government workers stationed in Hong Kong.

Ruth Mack is survived by her husband, Dr. K. C. Mack of Hong Kong; two daughters, Mrs. Max Cordor of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Mrs. Brian Holm of Oxford, Ohio; two grandchildren; her father, E. C. McCullough of Greencastle; four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Charles Vandersluis of Bemidji, Minn., Mrs. Robert Gould of Greencastle, Mrs. Luther Dillon, South Bend, Mrs. Robert Krieger, Whittier, Calif., and John McCullough of Greencastle. She was preceded in death by her mother, Edna McCullough, and a brother, Wilbur Lee.

In Memory

In memory of Marvin Powers, who passed away Oct. 7, 1965.

Memories are all that we have left,
And no one can take them away.
We will live them over and over
And new ones were made every day.

A blonde headed fellow on the street,
Or someone's laugh or smile
Can bring a sudden remembrance
Of the one we had for awhile.
Things around us change daily
But memories are all from the past,
So, although our sorrows have dimmed,
Great memories will always last.
Gone is our good old buddy,
Gone is a very dear friend.
We'll go on living in memories
Until we meet again.

In Memory

In loving memory of my son, Marvin Lee Powers, who passed away 1 year ago today, Oct. 7, 1965.

Beyond life's sunset

In the land of God's tomorrow
Marvin awaits us there.
His life is a beautiful memory,
His absence is a silent grief,
He walks in God's beautiful garden
In sun shine of perfect peace.

Sadly missed by your mother

West opened the six of spades, East covered the queen with the king, and South held off. East continued with the jack of spades and then with a third spade to South's ace.

South quite properly led the deuce of clubs to try a finesse with dummy's jack. He then continued with dummy's ace of clubs.

West was ready with an ancient wheeze: he dropped the queen of clubs on dummy's ace. This cost nothing since the queen and ten were now of equal value. Moreover, the play told South nothing new since declarer already knew the location of the queen of clubs.

CHOICE OF PLAYS

South wondered whether to try the diamond finesse, play the king of clubs or try a finesse with the nine of clubs. After much stalling South led a club from dummy and tried a finesse with the nine.

West took the ten of clubs and two more spades, defeating the contract.

You would never fall for this, but there are forty-million bridge players in the United States alone who go wrong every day of the week for just such monkeyshines. You might play against one of them some day.

Notice that South cannot possibly go wrong if West drops the ten of clubs on dummy's ace. Even one chance in a hundred of hornswoggling an opponent is better than no chance at all.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S-A 9 3; H-K J 9; D-A Q 3; C-K 9 7 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid 6 NT. Since you hold 17 points, the combined count is 33 to 35 points, enough for a small slam but not quite enough for a grand slam. When you are sure of the final contract, bid it without delay. If you start a complicated auction your partner may become confused and drop you in the wrong spot.

Yucatan Hit By Hurricane

MEXICO CITY UPI —Hurricane Inez raked lush tropical resort islands today and burst into Mexico's defenseless Yucatan Peninsula with 110-mile-an-hour winds.

Army troops shepherded thousands of terrified refugees inland as the storm pounded coastal areas. Officials feared Inez, which claimed more than 300 lives in its erratic maraudings in the Caribbean, could cause severe flooding in the flat peninsula.

The most recent advisory placed the storm near latitude 21.9 north and longitude 87.9 west or just off the coast of the peninsula about 125 miles northeast of Merida, the capital of Yucatan State.

Inez was moving southwest to west-southwest at about 10 m.p.h. and its center was expected to move inland today just west of the tiny port of Rio Lagartos.

The Yucatan Peninsula juts north from the southern tip of Mexico. In the northern part is populous Yucatan state on the Gulf of Mexico. To the east is the sparsely settled state of Quintana Roo and the resort islands in the Caribbean.

Highest winds were estimated at 110 m.p.h. near the center with hurricane force winds over 74 m.p.h. within 50 miles of the center and gales extending about 200 miles to the northwest and 125 miles to the southeast.

Hurricane winds were expected to rake much of the jungled peninsula—including the populous western bulge—during the day. Officials said Inez would weaken slowly after moving inland.

Foul Forecasts

FELIXSTOE, England UPI —Atourist committee here was told that "perverse sadists" in the Meteorological Office like to forecast bad weather for seaside resorts.

The group adopted a motion urging weathermen "to look on the brighter side" when there were doubts about coastal weather.

Little Left

LONDON UPI — Robert Walton, 27, awoke to find that his apartment had been burglarized during the night. Among the stolen goods was his only pair of trousers.

"I've only got my shirt left," said Walton as he arrived at police headquarters in borrowed trousers.

Europe Topic Of LBJ Speech

WASHINGTON UPI —President Johnson, preparing to embark on a 25,000-mile Asian odyssey unmatched in White House annals, turned aside for a time today to address himself to the problems of Europe.

The Chief Executive, who announced detailed plans for his six-nation Far Eastern tour at a Thursday news conference, planned to fly to New York today for a major foreign policy speech on Europe before the National Conference of Editorial Writers.

The scheduling of the European policy speech less than 24 hours after announcement of the Asian and Pacific trip seemed to be a deliberate effort on Johnson's part to head off persistent criticism that he is preoccupied with Asia and the war to the exclusion of Europe.

Meantime, White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, Deputy Undersecretary of State William J. Crockett and a group of White House and State Department experts were flying across the Pacific to work out the complex logistics of the trip.

Reds Trapped By Ring Of Steel

SAIGON UPI —U.S. and Allied troops tightened a ring of steel around a trapped Communist force on the central coast today and killed 91 more in fresh fighting. The broken and demoralized enemy was reported surrendering in droves.

Reports from the seaside battle-ground around Nuoc Ngot Bay 290 miles northeast of Saigon said U.S. 1st Air Cavalrymen put the torch to a Viet Cong hamlet and then chopped up a Communist force whose ammunition had gone up in the flames, killing about 40.

A U.S. helicopter sweeping in at tree-top level spotted another enemy force in a mangrove swamp nearby. Its chattering machineguns killed 20 and 37 others threw down their weapons and turned themselves in to South Vietnamese troops in the second mass surrender in as many days.

Sixty-six Viet Cong surrendered en masse the day before and unconfirmed reports said an additional 38 also gave up the fight, walking in with "safe conduct passes" in their hands.

In the war's other hot battle-ground just south of the demilitarized zone (DMZ), U.S. jets and naval guns helped South Vietnamese troops beat off an attack Thursday by an estimated three North Vietnamese battalions — from 1,000 to 1,200 men.

The Hanoi regulars sneaked down through the DMZ for the raid. When they broke off and went back, they left 200 comrades dead on the battlefield. Government officials said their losses were moderate.

COP-CAP News

Marvin Jones Director of COP-CAP presided at a meeting of persons interested in the Community Action Program Tuesday night at Grace Baptist Church. Those present selected Mrs. Louise Thomas to represent them on the COP-CAP Executive Board. Mrs. Lucy Duncan was elected Chairman of the group and Robert Jarvis Vice-Chairman. They will work with Mrs. Lillian Taylor the County Field Representative to plan future meeting and develop programs. Mrs. Robert Jarvis and Mrs. LaVonne Strange volunteered to serve on the Headstart and Tutoring committees.

Parents of children who were in Headstart commented on the benefits their children had received from the preschool experience.

Announcement was made of a three county COP-CAP dinner to be held the evening of October 20, at the Bethel AME Church for all interested persons.

End Walkout

PARIS UPI — Thousands of foot-sore Parisians were off the streets and on the subways again today after Paris metro workers ended their 24 hour walkout for higher wages and short work weeks.

The strike, however, was not a total success. Disunity among the 20-odd trade union organizations representing subway workers and the relatively free flow of heavier-than-usual surface traffic marred the walkout's overall effect.

Hoosier Killed

MARSHALL, Mich. UPI — Lloyd Burton, 46, Hammond, Ind., was killed Thursday when his truck rammed the rear of another truck near here.

Driven To Suicide

MOSCOW UPI — A 14-year-old Russian boy was driven to suicide by oppressive collective farm officials who were punishing him for making too much hay for private use, a Soviet newspaper said Thursday. The paper said that the farm officials should be punished.

Tiger Gridders Will Host Evansville Aces Sat.

Exhilarated by its upset win over Valparaiso, DePauw opens its homecoming gates Saturday to let in Evansville College for a 2 p. m. shoot out in Blackstock stadium.

The 21st match between the two schools weds a pair of teams definitely on the rebound after being classified by ICC coaches as "bottom of the rungers" in a pre-season poll.

Evansville leads the series 8-11. One game was a tie.

The Aces, with tank-like lines averaging nearly 240 (defensive) and 230 (offensive), move into Saturday's scramble fresh from a 21-21 tie with unbeaten Ball State.

Its second victory in three games eluded Evansville when Ball State scored on a 53-yard pass play and two-point conversion after time ran-out. That leaves the Aces with a glossy 7-6 win over Bradley, a 21-0 loss to Southeast Missouri and a highly honorable tie with the ICC champs.

At the other end of the state DePauw was shaking off two poor showings by handling Valparaiso 31-15. With bumps and bruises suffered only by tackles Ray Arvey and Rock Klein and halfback John Butler, the Tigers escaped virtually unscathed.

"Other than these injuries we came out of the Valpo game in good shape, and I believe we came out with a whole of a lot of confidence in ourselves," Coach Tom Mont observed.

There were three big reasons for that upstate success, according to Mont. He chalked the improvement up to a vastly better kicking game by Eric Lortz, the ability to get the big third down play when it was needed, and the success of the pass-run option.

With one exception—the last play of the game, Mont said his backs made the right decision on the run-pass alternative and got good yardage.

Their successes last Saturday should be sobering to both clubs here Saturday. DePauw, as a matter of fact, never has been overly profitable with the consistently big Evansville entry, even though last year's score was just 3-0 up until the last 189 seconds. The Aces won it with a final flurry, 17-0.

"Our big problem with Evansville," Mont said at mid-week, "has been taking control of the game. We've never been able to control the ball on them, and our offense has always seemed pretty piecemeal." DePauw has scored only one TD against Evansville in the last two games. The Tigers last won, 19-7 in 1963.

The size of Evansville's line promises little hope for grinding ball control this trip. The Aces' defensive line stood off almost even with Ball State's powerhouse, and its offensive unit helped the Ace backfield jam the ball down Ball State's throat better than anyone else has done in four years.

Big gainers for first year coach Jim Byers are 215-pound fullback Ken Mills and 175 pound halfback Don Crane. Crane averaged seven yards in 14 carries, Mills 3.5 in 22.

Only a few personnel changes are contemplated by Mont in the Tigers' third ICC tilt. All of them involve sophomores. If Arvey's knee fails to respond his spot on the defensive line will be taken by either Bill Pope or Don Ward. Both are sophomores.

In the offensive backfield Mont plans to give John Sacramento more opportunity to show his wares. The Waukegan, Ill., sophomore had two carries last week, but he was used mainly on defense. One thrust was a 28-yard broken field TD gallop.

Local Freshmen Whip Rockville

With Tony Harmless running wild, the Greencastle Freshman football team defeated the Rockville Frosh, 20 to 0, Wednesday night.

Harmless ran 60 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter. He then ran all the way for touchdowns in the second and third periods.

Greencastle's defense kept the Rock offensive on the ground. The next game for the local freshmen will be played at Brazil on October 18.

Leads Scoring

NEW YORK UPI—Charlie Williams of Arkansas A & M has taken over the scoring leadership among the nation's small college NCAA football teams.

Williams scored three touchdowns last week to boost his point total to 56, two ahead of Carl Garrett of New Mexico Highlands, who slipped to second place with 54 points. Charlie Marsh of Eastern third with 30 points.

Don Horn of San Diego State also moved from second into the top spot in total offense with 759 yards in 100 plays. Last week's leader, Julian Miller of Panhandle, was side and his total of 650 yards is now 10th.

Three other leaders, Don Hass of Montana State in rushing, Al Charnish of Platteville in passing and Terry Fredenberg of UW Milwaukee, remained on top.

Hass has rushed for 694 yards in four games while second-place Jim Jefferson of Luther has run up a total of 472 yards in three games.

Although Charnish is still on top in passing, he has to share his laurels with Dick Gluge of UW Milwaukee. Both have completed 61 passes. Charnish has hit on a percentage of .521 for 687 yards while Kluge has completed a .517 percentage for 780 yards.

Fredenberg has also been tied as he and Manley Sarnowsky of Drake have both caught 29 passes. Fredenberg has gained 469 yards while Sarnowsky has picked up 382 yards.

Baldwin Wallace has the top offense in the nation with a total of 570 yards a game while Morgan St. Maryland allowed just nine yards in its only game for a nine-yard average.

PULLED UP SHORT—Dodger shortstop Maury Wills is ready to play a game of "tag" with Luis Aparicio as the Baltimore shortstop starts his slide into second in the first inning of game number two of the 1966 World Series in Los Angeles. Sandy Koufax had caught Aparicio off first base and Wes Parker fired to Wills.

Rookie Jim Palmer Blanks Dodgers, 6-0

LOS ANGELES — Willie Davis lost two fly balls in the sun and made three errors in a record breaking fifth inning Thursday while 20-year-old Jim Palmer made it two straight World Series victories for the Baltimore Orioles by beating the mighty Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-0.

The Dodgers' defense collapsed in a six-error farce, the likes of which has not been seen since the 1917 Chicago White Sox also made six goofs in a Series game.

The handsome Palmer, with four pancakes under his belt and three pieces of bubble gum as a good luck charm in his hip pocket, became the youngest pitcher ever to throw a Series shutout as he spun his four-hit magic over the sick Dodger bats.

In two losing games, the Dodgers, who had been 8-5 favorites, have made only seven hits while committing six errors.

Palmer, who won't be 21 until Oct. 15, must have wondered if these were the same slick Dodgers he had read about—the canny veterans who get by on slick fielding, speed and shut-out pitching.

While the Dodgers staggered around under fly balls in the bright sunshine and threw the ball against the stands and into the dugout, young Palmer was knocking Waite Hoyt out of the record book.

Hoyt, as a New York Yankee in 1921, had been the youngest at 22 years and one month to pitch a Series shutout when he blanked the New York Giants.

Once Over Lightly

By Don Whitehead

October is probably the top sports month of the year. The World Series is the top attraction for the first week and the IHSAA cross country sectionals are slated for the third week in this month.

Reading the Lions International magazine, I came across probably the most unusual sporting event ever held in this country. (If you could call it sport.)

Starting at exactly 3:46 p.m. on March 4, 1928, 199 men, ranging in age from 16 to 63, from a dozen countries, started a 3,442 mile walk from Ascot racetrack in Los Angeles to Madison Square Garden in New York City.

The course was broken into eighty-four laps, varying from twenty miles to 70 miles in length. Each contestant was required to start off at the same time each morning and check in each night before midnight. The participant with the shortest elapsed time between Los Angeles and New York City would win the top prize of $25,000 cash.

All 199 starters successfully completed the first twenty mile stint, but after the eighth day, the ranks had dwindled to 120.

On May 26, only fifty-five of the original starters limped into Madison Square Garden to start the 20 mile stint around the board track to qualify for the total prize money of $48,500. The hardy survivors had battled every kind of weather from rain and wind to snow and hail to reach their destination.

Andy Payne, an Oklahoma Indian youth, won first prize in a walking time of 573 hours, four minutes and thirty-four seconds and his life expectancy shortened by 10 years by the wear and tear of the race.

Michigan State, Michigan Game Tops Big 10 Action

CHICAGO UPI — Michigan State, ranked No. 1 nationally and favored to win the Big Ten football crown for the second straight year, faces a strong traditional foe in a highlight Midwest game Saturday. The Spartans remained a solid 12-point favorite to whip Michigan.

Michigan State, with wins over two non-conference rivals, also has one Big Ten victory, over Illinois, and thus will be risking both its top national rating as well as a place at the top of the conference title chase.

Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty rated Michigan a rugged rival despite the Wolverines' upset loss to North Carolina last Saturday, and cited Michigan's passing, running and defense as dangerous.

Three other conference games were on the Saturday slate as the league moves into a seven-week stretch in which almost every game will be for the title and a possible Rose Bowl shot.

Indiana, sharing the top rung

Names Driver

MODENA, Italy UPI—Tecnico of Bologna, a new racing car company, announced Thursday that it has signed Britain's Bolly Pittard to a contract as a race and test driver. Tecnico, which plans to enter formula two and formula three racing next year, said it also has signed Switzerland's Andre Regazzoni and Italians Carlo Baggetti and Carlo Facetti.

Captain Selected

NEW YORK UPI — Bill Steinkraus of Noroton, Conn., was named Thursday as the team captain for the United States' defending team in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden Oct. 25-Nov. 1. Other members named to the squad are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapot and Kathy Kusner.

Tennis Winner

TEL AVIV, Israel UPI—Bill Hogg of Los Angeles downed local favorite Elazar Davidman Thursday to win the Israel International Tennis Championship, 7-5 and 6-4. Hogg and South American Jackie Saul won the doubles event, beating Thailand's Nestor Grammatica and Australian Geoff Sara, 6-3, and 11-9.

Holding Back On A Job Proves To Be 'Old Hat'

By ROBERTA ROESCH

If you hold back your best work for the right vocational occasion, your best may be like Aunt Mary's hat — which she never had a chance to use.

In fact, I always think of her hat whenever jobholders tell me that they're holding their best talent in reserve till they find the best time to exploit it. When I hear them say this, I'm constantly reminded of that hat that was finally so useless it was ready for the discard file.

Carefully Printed

The box in which this hat was kept was as white as the hat was black, and printed on it in meticulous letters was "Aunt Mary's Special Occasion Hat."

As a child, I would beg her to wear it whenever we went out. Always she would tell me with emphasis that her second-best was good enough for the occasion.

"You'll see me wear it some day," she said, "when the right opportunity comes."

Through my childhood, graduations and wedding day, I waited to see the "best" hat.

But each time she kept it in its box for a better occasion.

House Cleaning

When she passed away and we cleaned out her house, my mother and I found the hat, unused and outdated in the well-cared-for box.

"How can we throw it away," mother asked, "when she saved it all this time? Since I have some room in my attic, I had better take it home."

Ten years later, when Mother died, we had to clear out her house, so once again I was faced with a box saying "Aunt Mary's Special Occasion Hat."

Because I am as harried by sentiment as my mother was, I too, felt I couldn't discard a hat that was still waiting to be used. As a result, I saved it and put it in my attic to keep.

A few months later, while I was writing, my daughter and a neighborhood friend interrupted my train of thought to ask for some "dress-up" clothes. "Go up in the attic," I told them, "and see what you can find."

While they made the trek to the third floor, I worked on at my desk. I stopped with a start when my daughter's tiny pixie

Her Nieces Asked Her To Wear The "Special Occasion" Hat friend passed by on her way to a "fancy ball" in "Aunt Mary's Special Occasion Hat."

Despite myself I said "Oh, no!" until the realization came that there would never be a time any more special than that for a hat that was now so useless.

In our jobs, the same thing can happen if we hold back the best we can give. So if you are saving your talent for the right vocational occasion, make today the special occasion when you put it to use.

For all you know, it could be the only chance you'll get!

Thompson Is Envoy To Moscow

WASHINGTON UPI — President Johnson's return of the government's top Russian expert to Moscow appeared today as another sign of U.S. determination for good relations with the Soviets, despite the strain of the Viet Nam war.

Johnson named Llewellyn Thompson to the ambassador's post Thursday, a job Thompson held from 1957-62. He has served nine years in Russia in one capacity or another.

The President said he was asking Thompson to go back to Moscow because "of the importance of our relations with the Soviet Union at this time."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., praised the Thompson appointment. He said the tall, Colorado-born diplomat was "one of the four men who contributed most during the time of the Cuban Missile Crisis."

Kennedy said Thompson's advice during the crisis and the efforts to remove Soviet missiles from Cuba was "invaluable and his courage most impressive."

Record Grain Crop For Russ

MOSCOW UPI — Soviet farmers will harvest the biggest grain crop in their history this year, it was announced today.

The record harvest was expected to provide all the grain this nation needs for food, livestock feed and export obligations.

The announcement was good news for the Kremlin, which has initiated a costly crash program to solve Russia's perennial farm woes. In recent years, the Soviet government has spent millions of dollars in badly-needed exchange currency to buy wheat abroad.

Ivan Khoroshilov, an Agriculture Ministry official, said this year's grain crop would be about 160 to 165 million tons, well above the 152.1-million-ton record crop harvested in 1964.

Western agricultural experts said Khoroshilov's announcement indicated the Soviet Union is moving closer to its elusive goal of self-sufficiency in food production.

But they said only later years will tell whether this nation's farmers have solved the problem of ruinous cycles that have sent grain harvests soaring one year, then tumbling to crop failures the next.

Mobutu Accuses Western Nations

KINSHASA, Congo UPI — Congolese President Joseph Mobutu accused Western nations of having "woven a network of subversion" in the Congo.

This was the reason he had ordered all consulates outside the capital closed, Mobutu said in an interview with the official Congolese press agency.

Mobutu also said the 6,000 Portuguese nationals living in the Congo should have no fears for their security because of his diplomatic break with Lisbon. He said Eastern countries were often accused of subversion, "but it is Western countries, in the name of Christian civilization and under cover of technical assistance which had woven a network of subversion," in the Congo.

He did not specify which Western nations he meant. The United States, Belgium, France and several other countries maintain consulates in such provincial capitals as Lubumbashi and Kisangani.

Mobutu agreed with a suggestion that consulates helped the Congo by distributing food but said "freedom and independence are worth more than a sack of flour or corn."

He blamed consulate officials for fomenting a rebellion in July at Kisangani which his army put down after bloody fighting two weeks ago. He said similar rebellions were being organized at Wubumbashi, Alleville and Bukavu.

Names Noland For U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON UPI — President Johnson today nominated James E. Noland, Indianapolis attorney and secretary of the Indiana Democratic State Committee, for a new federal judge in the Southern Indiana District Court.

Noland's selection for the nomination was made public weeks ago, and all that remained were the official nomination by the President and confirmation by the Senate.

Noland will become the fourth federal judge in the Southern District with headquarters at Indianapolis and courts at Evansville, New Albany and Terre Haute.

Noland is formerly from Bloomington, Ind. His father, Dr. O. A. Noland, a dentist, unsuccessfully for Congress several times and the younger Noland was elected to the House from the 7th District while a resident of the university city.

He later set up law practice in the Indiana capital.

Until recently Noland was the Democratic member of the Indiana State Election Board. He resigned in advance of his appointment to the bench and was succeeded by Thurman DeMoss of Franklin upon appointment by Governor Branigin.

Greencastle Methodist Church

Greencastle Methodism started as a Methodist Society in 1822. By 1826 a log church was built at the corner of Franklin Street and Spring Avenue. The first circuit rider, who preached at irregular intervals in this building, was William Cravens.

In 1836 a one-story brick was built at the corner of Poplar and Indiana Streets. The Methodist church became a station in 1837; no longer on a circuit, with its own minister, the eloquent James L. Thompson.

The most imposing church in town, Roberts Chapel, was built in 1847. It was named for Indiana's first bishop, Robert R. Roberts, buried on the DePauw campus. Largely responsible for the erection of this building were David Southard and Peter Albaugh. Because a flood washed away the last available sawmill in Greencastle, they rode horseback to Cincinnati and brought back machinery required for producing lumber. The original walnut pulpit, seven feet high, was removed later. The Presbyterians bought, and still use, this building at the corner of Poplar Street and College Avenue.

A second Methodist congregation built Simpson Chapel in 1850, on the northeast corner of Seminary and College Avenue. Its name honored Matthew Simpson, first president of Indiana Asbury (now DePauw) University. This congregation merged with that of Roberts Chapel in 1872. Yet another Methodist congregation built Locust Street Church in 1876.

Roberts Chapel became crowded for worshippers and in 1879 the corner stone of the College Avenue church was laid. This building is owned and presently used as a Little Theater by the University.

Dr. John E. Porter was minister of College Avenue church and Dr. H. C. Clippenger, minister of Locust Street church when the congregations merged in 1924. Dr. C. Howard Taylor was the minister to carry out the terms of the merger which included building a new church. The new building, erected in 1929, with financial aid of the University, was named in honor of another of DePauw's grand men, Dr. Hillary A. Gobin.

Dr. Robert W. Gingery was the minister when Gobin's educational unit, Charterhouse, was built in 1961. The name was selected because Charterhouse in London, was the school John Wesley attended as a youth. The building of the Methodist Student Foundation was completed in the fall of 1965.

Dr. Jameson Jones and the Reverend Mr. Sam Kirk, ministers of Gobin, are following in the train of men who have served well Methodism and the community.
