Yanks shoot steel darts to repel waves of Red guerrillas

SAIGON UPI — U.S. troops killed 348 attacking Communists with almost point blank barrages of tiny steel darts today in a Cambodian border battle that closed out the bloodiest truce of the Vietnam war, military spokesmen said. Moments after the pause ended, American jets resumed bombing North Vietnam.

UPI correspondent Robert Kaylor reported from Dau Tieng, 60 miles northwest of Saigon, that about 1,500 Viet Cong smashed into a U.S. Army 25th Infantry Division artillery fortress before dawn in the final hours of a 36-hour New Year's Eve truce.

Fighting against being overrun, the Americans lowered their artillery barrels and boomed round after round of "beehive" shells into the human waves of guerrillas. Each "beehive" shell exploded into hundreds of half-inch darts that shredded the Viet Cong ranks, Kaylor said.

The defense of Dau Tieng cost the Americans 23 men killed and 153 wounded, U.S. spokesmen said. During the New Year's truce 27 Americans were killed and 205 wounded in all, they said. South Vietnamese troops suffered 44 men killed and 132 wounded.

The Communists lost 546 men killed and nine captured as they violated the peace 177 times, Allied spokesmen said. They said never before had so many Communists been killed in so many violations in a short truce.

In the air, American spokesmen reported "normal" strikes under way once more against North Vietnam. "Toothless" scouting flights during the truce showed the Communists using the pause, as expected, to flood their supply lines with war materiel before the American planes came again, the spokesmen said.

When the truce ended, U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine jets went promptly to work on the railroads, bridges, roads, supply dumps and water traffic of North Vietnam, the spokesmen said.

The resumption of bombing squelched speculation the United States would prolong the pause in hopes the North Vietnamese would respond with a willingness to talk peace.

During the truce in South Vietnam, the Communists spoke only out of the ends of their guns. The greatest fight roared for 10 hours as legions of the Viet Cong's 271st and 272nd regiments — units battered by U.S. forces the past two months on the Cambodian border — stormed out of the jungle seven miles south of Cambodia.

They used mortars and recoilless rifles in hopes of destroying the 25th Division artillery base that threatened their long-time guerrilla stronghold area. The guerrillas then launched the human wave assaults.

Two flee State Farm

State police reported Saturday morning that two inmates of the Indiana State Farm escaped from the Putnamville institution Friday night.

The escapees were identified as David Lee Tarpey, 30, Columbus, and James Woody Garland, 25, also of Columbus.

Tarpey was serving a term for theft and Garland for second degree burglary. They were first reported missing at 9:30 Friday night.

Famed surgeon performs second heart transplant

CAPE TOWN, South Africa UPI — Heart doctor, Christiaan Barnard, today attempted his second cardiac transplant, fellow surgeons said.

It was the third such operation ever performed, the second by Barnard, and the first between persons of different races.

The 30-member medical team headed by Barnard worked to place the heart of a young colored man in the chest of a 58-year-old white dentist, Groote Schuur Hospital sources said.

Barnard's first transplant operation Dec. 3 took seven hours and the heart functioned until 18 days later when grocer Louis Washkansky died of pneumonia. A heart transplant operation in New York to save a baby failed six hours after surgery last month.

The patient today was stocky Philip Blaiberg, reported critically ill with a deteriorating heart condition.

The transplant organ came from the body of Clive Haupt, 24. Sources close to his family said he died of a brain hemorrhage. Earlier reports said Haupt was a traffic accident victim.

They said Haupt collapsed while swimming at a beach Monday and was taken to a hospital where doctors diagnosed a brain hemorrhage.

Hospital sources said tests on Haupt were begun immediately and showed his blood and body tissues would match well with those of Blaiberg. The tests took seven hours and were conducted before Haupt died, they said.

Pleads not guilty

Mrs. Phyllis Stodgell, 31, Indianapolis, pleaded not guilty when arraigned Friday in the Putnam Circuit Court to conspiracy to commit a felony.

She is charged with attempting to send a large package of cannabis, a narcotics drug, to her husband, Mike Stodgell, a prisoner at the State Farm.

Judge Francis N. Hamilton set her trial for February 5 and fixed her bond at $2,000.

New officers installed by local Masonic orders

York Rite Masons in the Greencastle community installed officers for 1968 at a joint meeting Friday evening, Dec. 29, at the Masonic Temple here.

Deep concern expressed by Pope over Viet war

VATICAN CITY UPI — Pope Paul VI has expressed concern that the Vietnam war will spill into Cambodia, Thailand and Laos and wreck progress toward peace, Vatican sources said today.

The sources said the Pope referred to the possibility of war in Vietnam's neighboring countries when he said in a New Year's address that "terrible obstacles arise to complicate" the search for peace.

Three fire alarms

City firemen were called to the E. O. King home, 1147 Avenue E, at 9:30 Sunday night.

They reported an overheated oil stove but no damage.

At 8:35 Monday morning, they made a run to the Lulu Johnson residence, 103 Olive Street.

There was no fire but vapor from steam resulted in the firemen being called.

A third holiday run was made at 11 p.m. Monday to the Paul Bickford home, 815 Stadium Drive.

An overheated fireplace caused $100 damage, according to the report.

Not long after the papal address a leading Roman Catholic cardinal said in Bologna, Italy, that the church must ignore criticism and demand that the United States stop bombing North Vietnam.

In Paris, President Charles de Gaulle praised Pope Paul as an "apostle of peace in a universe stained with blood and scandalized by absurd conflicts."

The 70-year-old pontiff said Monday he felt the way was still open for a negotiated peace in Vietnam but he added there was a feeling of frustration over "difficulties which oppose the securing of peace."

He added that he "would wish to ward off the tremendous disaster of a spreading war, an endless war . . ."

He did not mention Cambodia, Thailand or Laos by name but sources said he had them in mind and there were indications papal diplomats in Southeast Asia were working to keep the war from spreading.

Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro, the archbishop of Bologna who has been considered a candidate for the papacy in the past, said in a Monday sermon that the church must insist on an end to the bombing of North Vietnam "even though this may displease some people."

Dunreith burns after freight trains collide

DUNREITH, Ind. UPI—A giant fire triggered by the collision of two freight trains burned out of control early today on a cargo of gasoline, crude oil and deadly chemicals, forcing the 236 residents of Dunreith to flee their homes into near zero temperatures.

The threat of additional explosions and the danger of deadly chemical fumes left firemen helpless in the face of the holocaust, which destroyed nearly half of the town. They could do nothing but withdraw and watch the town burn.

"We are just letting it burn now," said State Police Sgt. James Klieman.

Officials ordered firefighters and police out of the town when it became apparent there was danger that two 12,000-gallon ammonia tanks would rupture, releasing their contents into an atmosphere already heavy with highly flammable chemicals.

Railroad officials said of the chemicals being carried in seven other cars the most deadly was acetone cyanhydride, which would kill immediately upon inhalation. The others were methyn methacrylate, ethelyn oxide, and vinyl chloride.

Miraculously there were few injuries and most of them were minor. An explosion when the trains collided Monday night was spectacular but caused no loss of life. The residents of Dunreith fled to safety. The explosion and ball of flame that "lit up the whole town like daylight" was seen or felt as far away as Indianapolis, 40 miles to the west.

The fire burned half of the buildings in the town, including its only industry, a canning factory and fertilizer complex. Firemen said it would be only a matter of time before the rest of the town was gone.

Residents in the rural area north of Dunreith were warned to be ready for immediate evacuation if it became apparent they were in danger of being swept by lethal clouds of smoke.

The residents were told by state police to watch for smoke. They were told that "any time a mass of smoke gathers, get out—quick." Many residents immediately packed up and left the danger area to stay with relatives or friends further away.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Railroad said the two freights were passing each other at about 9 p.m., EST Monday when one of the trains bumped into the other. He said one Pennsylvania freight had been made up in Columbus and was headed for Indianapolis. The second was from Indianapolis bound for New York.

The freights, passing within inches of each other, slammed together and the tank cars exploded. At least 28 cars were derailed, spilling over and across U.S. 40, a main transcontinental highway which runs through the center of Dunreith. The railroad said the derailment apparently stemmed from a broken rail.

12 below zero here

It was bitter cold in Greencastle and Putnam County Monday in the first sub-zero wave to hit the community so far this winter.

The Daily Banner thermometer registered a low of 12 degrees below zero at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Residents in rural areas reported that their thermometers registered as low as 16 below.

The mercury began rising later in the morning and recorded a maximum of a chilly 16 above at 4 p.m.

This morning's low was 12 above.

Police report five arrests; four of group are jailed

As result of a traffic accident at 1014 South College Avenue at 5:50 p.m. Saturday, Anthony Baynard, 18, city, was arrested by Officer Larry Rogers for failure to have an operator's license.

Police said Baynard was driving a 1956 Ford owned by Raymond Churchill and hit a parked 1967 Chevrolet belonging to James D. Hilburn, Moore's Court.

Damage was estimated at $350 to Hilburn's auto and $200 to the Churchill car.

Also arrested Saturday at 8:25 p.m. was Jackie L. Eiler, 25, Greencastle, Route.

Eiler was booked at the Putnam County Jail by Officer John Pursell for driving while under the influence of intoxicants and public intoxication.

The arrest was made at the Bloomington and Washington Street intersection.

Two local men were arrested at 12:07 Monday morning and jailed by State Trooper Gary Hood.

William H. Irwin, 39, was charged with drunken driving and public intoxication.

Floyd Sears, 39, was slated for public intoxication.

The fifth arrest during the long holiday weekend was at 7:05 Monday evening when Gerald E. Miethe, 27, Roachdale, was jailed by Joe Rollings, Roachdale Town Marshal.

Miethe was booked for driving while under the influence of intoxicants and public intoxication.

Reelsville Social Service Club Christmas party held

The Reelsville Social Service Club held their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Grace Thomas Dec. 20.

A delicious turkey dinner was served to 18 members and five guests, with Mrs. Mary Skelton returning thanks.

The meeting opened at 1:30 by the president, Mrs. Helen Jarrell. Devotions were given by Mrs. Bette Killion. Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Flower fund was also reported. Mrs. Mary Skelton gave a report on the Christmas fund.

Mrs. Blanche Reel reported on the visit to the County Home. On Dec. 10 members and guests of the Reelsville Social Service Club and Rev. Dallas Rissler and several members of the Manhattan Christian Church and the Rev. George Bradley visited the County Home at Greencastle and presented a Christmas program to the guests and managers, Mr. and Mrs. Gentry.

They also presented each member who lives at the home a gift and Christmas stockings filled with fruit, candy, nuts and small gifts. After the program the club served refreshments of an assortment of Christmas cookies, candies and coffee to everyone present.

The program consisted of Christmas carols by the group led by Mrs. Peggy Gorton of the Reelsville club and accompanied by Mrs. Helen Jarrell on the piano. A quartet composed of Mrs. Harriet Agnew, Carol Rolf, Betty Bratten of the Manhattan Church and Peggy Gorton of the Reelsville club, sang two beautiful Christmas songs.

John Reel played a piano solo and Miss Reel sang a solo. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reel of Greencastle and grandchildren of Mrs. Blanche Reel.

Wabash College to hold forum on Vietnam war

CRAWFORDSVILLE — The moral, military and political aspects of the war in Vietnam will be discussed at a Vietnam Forum at Wabash College Saturday, January 6. The public is invited. A registration fee will be charged.

Three nationally-prominent speakers will be on the Wabash campus for the public forum which is being sponsored by the Commission on Christian Social Concerns, Northwest Indiana Conference of the Methodist Church, in cooperation with the Political Science Department of Wabash College.

On the speaking agenda are the Rev. Richard T. McSorley, Professor of Social Justice at Georgetown University; Brigadier-General Samuel L. A. Marshall, retired from the U.S. Army and now a syndicated columnist for the Washington Post and the Los Angeles Times, and Dr. Wesley Fishel, Professor of Political Science at Michigan State University.

Registration for the afternoon and evening forum will begin at 1:15 p.m. in the lobby of Baker Hall with the formal presentation by the three speakers to begin at 2:15 p.m. in the Chapel. Group discussions will be conducted from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. and the program will conclude with a two-hour evening session beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"What I Believe Should Be Done To End The War In Vietnam" will be the topic for the final session at which each of the speakers will participate in a panel discussion. A question and answer period will follow.

by HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

I just hope no one got Christmas trees sap or holly berry stains on their rugs or upholstery this year.

But if you did, here's some expert information from the National Institute of Dry Cleaning on how to remove the stains. "The men in the Analysis Department stained some fabrics with the sap from spruce and pine boughs and the red berries from holly. This is what they found:

"The sap of the boughs is called 'pitch.' If you apply detergent and water to the stain, you CANNOT remove it. The stain IS removable by a dry-cleaning solvent. So the home-maker should use an approved cleaning fluid that can be purchased at a drug or department store. In an emergency, she could use the fluid she uses to fill her cigarette lighter.

"The juice from the holly berry is a stubborn stain that looks like ink, but lacks the intensity of ink. To remove it, make a detergent and water solution. Use a clean cheesecloth or a clean toothbrush and work the solution into the fabric. Absorb the moisture with a turkish towel. Then apply clear water in the same manner, absorbing the excess with a towel.

"This is as far as a home-maker should proceed. A professional rug cleaner or upholstery cleaner (or in case of wearing apparel, a drycleaner) should be consulted.

"The reason we recommend this is because of the many fibers and dye combinations possible in fabrics today. The agents used to reduce the color of the stain will vary for different dyes and fibers. The misuse of chemicals by the home-maker at this stage could result in permanent damage."

And thanks to the NIDC for this advice.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have my sewing machine set up in the bedroom. To make more work space, I have a large piece of fiberboard that I put on the bed.

Then pinning, measuring, marking and cutting are all done easily.

The sewing board may be pushed under the bed or stood up against the wall behind the bed when not in use.

Mary Tuttle

Dear Heloise:

I had a marvelous idea for inexpensive wooden curtain rods:

I used old broom and mop handles and covered them with adhesive-backed paper.

There's no limit to the ways in which you can decorate the rods in this way, making them plain or fancy. They wipe clean with just a swish!

I discovered this idea when I needed heavy-duty rods for some drapes I made from velvet and couldn't afford to buy the large wooden ones.

Pat Brooks

Dear Heloise:

There may still be some housewives who don't know that you can use a regular devil's food cake mix to make brownies.

I only use one egg, one-fourth cup of water and add some nuts to the cake mix. Then I stir—it will be VERY thick—and press the batter into a greased 9x14-inch pan.

Now bake at 350 degrees just 20-25 minutes for a chewy type brownie—slightly longer for the cake type. You will find this method less expensive than the brownie mix and every bit as good.

Wanda

We bought it, we tried it and we liked it. Made three pans from three brands and all were delicious and easy.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Though I was ever so careful with my laundry, my teenage daughter's knit blouse shrunk.

I got the idea of rewetting the blouse and slipping it over my husband's pants stretcher and stretching it back to the proper size again.

After the blouse was dry, it

Lewis-Simmerman Vows exchanged at Indianapolis

The marriage of Miss Judith Gayle Simmerman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Simmerman, Indianapolis, and William Wayne Lewis son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis, Greencastle was solemnized Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. December 27 in Old Bethel Methodist Church 7995 East 21st street, Indianapolis.

The Reverend Holmes officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with palms and lighted by candelabra. The bridal selections were sung by Steve Grimes, friend of the groom.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a lovely floor length gown of ivory pearly and alencon lace featuring the princess line skimmer with bateau neckline, 3/4 length victorian sleeves edged with a wide border of alencon lace touched with seed pearls. The full A-line skirt highlighted with a wide scalloped lace hemline border with a court train which swept to chapel length. Her hair was enhanced with a matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white mums, white roses with gold trim.

Mrs. Carol Simmerman sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Carol Bruce friend of the bride, Sandra Nees niece of the groom and Lois Cash sister of the groom. All wore matching full length gowns of gold brocade and carried bouquets of yellow mums surrounding two gold bells with matching ribbon.

Teresa Campbell, niece of the groom, wore a mint green brocade floor length gown and carried a basket with yellow petals. Best man was Gene Lewis brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Forrest Simmerman, Larry Simmerman, Danny Simmerman all brothers of the bride. The ushers were Scott Reynolds, Ronnie Ikamire friends of the groom and Everett Lewis nephew of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose a green brocade dress with brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a red velvet dress with red and silver accessories. Their corsages were bronze roses.

The wedding guests were registered by Sherry Lewis niece of the groom.

The reception was held in the church basement. Virginia Campbell sister of the groom and Gwen Simmerman, sister-in-law of the bride assisted with the gifts.

New Providence Church News

Christmas parties started early in the month as the "Christian Workers" Sunday School Class went out to an Italian dinner at Mecca. After dinner, the group returned to the parsonage, where carols were sung, devotions were given, games were played and a grab bag was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by the host and hostess, Art and Odetta Bowser.

Those attending were: Alva and Martha Cash; Gerald and Lou Anne Fields; Joe and Joanne Neumeister; Don and Shirley Spencer; Guy and Norma Gaston; Ed and Jeanne Hammond and guests, Emmett and Mary Shumaker.

On December 11, the "Come Join Us" Sunday School Class met for a pitch-in supper at the parsonage. The group enjoyed singing old time Christmas songs, games and a gift exchange. Those attending were: Alton and Elizabeth Hurst; Armetta and Herman Essex; Emmett and Mary Shumaker; Tom and Chris Hendricks; Kathy Booker and the host and hostess, Rev. and Mrs. Bowser and sons, Gary and Rodney.

On December 13, Joe and Joanne Neumeister (sponsors of the Jr. BYF) entertained their group to a party in the church basement. The party opened with prayer and "The real Meaning of Christmas" given by the sponsors. Games were played and a gift exchange with all having a real good time. Refreshments of Christmas cookies and pop were served. The Neumeisters presented each child with candy and also a Bible marker for memorizing the books of the New Testament. A circle prayer closed the party. Those attending were: Jeff and Susan Spencer; Linda Bruner; Larry and Caroline Minor; Cindy Wells; Reta and Janetta Beams; Janet Patterson; Peggy Hammond; Polly O'Neal; Dawn Gaston and the host and hostess.

December 14, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Cash opened their home to a large group attending the annual Missionary Christmas party. The home was decorated beautifully in keeping with the Christmas season. A bountiful pitch-in supper was enjoyed by all. Carols were sung and devotions were given by Pastor Arthur Bowser. Secret Sister gifts were exchanged and names revealed. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fields and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Shumaker; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hammond and family; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keller; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gaston, Sr.; Mrs. Waneta Cottingham; Mrs. Joanne Neumeister and children; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowser and sons; Janice Hurst; Sue Mundy; Steve Flint; Allen Booker; Mr. and Mrs. Alva Cash and sons.

December 17, the church was the scene of a very impressive Christmas pageant. The program was in charge of Ruth Foutz and Jeanne Hammond. The Christmas story was given in song and acted out by various people of the church. Following the program, approximately 50 teenagers and adults went caroling in the community. The evening closed with the group returning to the church for sandwiches and hot chocolate, prepared by Martha Cash and Guy and Nina Gaston.

As our Christmas season closes, may we wish everyone a very Happy New Year and God's Blessings in the year of 1968. We would also welcome you to our services at the New Providence Baptist Church. Our church has undergone an extensive remodeling program and many changes have been made so that we might have more room. Come and visit us and bring a friend with you. Our church is located three miles south of Mt. Meridian. We would remind you of our New Year's Eve party, Sunday night, Dec. 31, starting at 9 and running through midnight. The public is invited.

Southern Cal whips Hoosiers; LSU beats Cowboys

College football's longest television day drew a multi-million national audience and featured a generous helping of USC's "Orange Juice" Simpson romping past Indiana in the Rose Bowl. LSU finally lassoing the Wyoming Cowboys, Texas A&M upsetting Alabama and Oklahoma nipping Tennessee.

A New Year's Day crowd of 102,946 turned out at Pasadena, Calif., to watch Simpson score twice from within the 10-yard line as Southern California defeated Indiana 14-3 in the Rose Bowl. There was a live audience of 78,963 at the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans watching LSU surprise unbeaten Wyoming 20-13.

At Dallas, an estimated 75,000 saw an aroused Aggie defense catch Alabama out of its usual Southeastern Conference surroundings and beat the Crimson Tide 20-16, and 77,993 fans were thrilled by a 1st period Oklahoma pass interception that carried the Sooners past second-ranked Tennessee 26-24 in a night game at the Orange Bowl in Miami.

The football bowl weekend was kicked off on Saturday when the East topped the West 16-14 despite All-America Gary Beban's two touchdowns for the losers in the Shrine Game at San Francisco; Florida tied Penn State 17-17 in the Gator Bowl by rallying for all its points in the second half; Dick Anderson of Colorado scored on punt returns of 69 and 62 yards in the Blue's 22-16 victory over the Gray, and University of Texas El Paso upset Mississippi State 14-7 in the Sun Bowl on touchdowns by Billy Stevens and Larry McHenry.

Simpson was the workhorse of the Trojan attack, carrying the ball 25 times for 128 yards against Indiana, making its first Rose Bowl appearance. O. J. rammed over from the yard line in the first period and bulldozed across from eight yards out in the third quarter. The Hoosiers, predominantly a sophomore team, got on the scoreboard when Dave Kornow kicked a 27-yard field goal.

Wyoming was leading LSU 13-0 in mud-splattered Tulane Stadium when Glenn Smith, a third string tailback, came off the Tiger bench to lead a second half winning drive.

Smith accounted for 74 yards on 16 carries. He caught a 39-yard pass from Nelson Stokley to set up his one-yard touchdown plunge and figured in LSU's other two touchdowns. Stokley found end Tommy Morel with scoring strikes of eight and 14 yards in the fourth quarter to finally penetrate a Wyoming defense that yielded only 38 yards in the first half.

Jim Kille scored the Cowboys' only TD on a two-yard end sweep. Kicking specialist Jerry DePoyster booted field goals of 24 and 49 yards.

Wendell Kousley shook loose on a 20-yard scoring jaunt in the third quarter for Texas A&M's narrow victory over Alabama in the Cotton Classic. The Aggies, making their first Cotton appearance since 1942, allowed the Tide a 10-7 lead in the second period and then ripped back on a seven-yard scoring pass from Edd Hargett to Tommy Maxwell and Housley's touchdown romp in which he succeeded in breaking a last-ditch tackle to tally. Hargett also found Larry Stagent in the end zone with a 13-yard pass in the opening period.

Quarterback Kenny Stabler

tallied both Alabama TDs on runs of three and seven yards. Steve Davis drilled a 36-yard field goal for the Tide.

Bob Stephenson, a defensive halfback, ran back an intercepted pass 26 yards for a fourth quarter touchdown that turned out to be Oklahoma's winning margin. All would have gone for nil, however, if Karl Kremser had been able to connect on a 33-yard field goal attempt for

The Sooners raced to a 19-0 halftime lead on Bob Warnack's 107-yard run, his 20-yard scoring pass to Eddie Hinton and Steve Owens' one-yard plunge.

Tennessee rallied on Jimmy Glover's 36-yard TD return of a Warmack interception, a five-yard scoring slash by Charlie Fulton, Dewey Warren's one-yard keeper and Kremser's 26-yard field goal.

Tigers win 2 during holiday event

DePauw University's basketball Tigers came out with the unofficial championship of their own two-day holiday doubleheader here Friday and Saturday nights.

The McCall men spanked once-beaten Ohio Wesleyan 88-75 then came back 24 hours later to knock off one of the Ohio Conference's pre-season favorites, (4-2), Denison, 89-71. The Tigers led both games all the way.

These two victories, coupled with Wabash's thrilling comeback win over Ohio Wesleyan Saturday 76-69 gave the two Hoosier club a 3-1 record in the Ohio-Indiana showdown. Wabash lost to Denison Friday night 77-71 after dropping a 35-29 halftime lead.

Thursday night at Terre

Haute DePauw plunges back into ICC action, tackling the nation's number four ranked small college club, Indiana State University. Two nights later the scene shifts to Ball State in Muncie. Both games will be broadcast locally.

Three Tigers made the all-doubleheader team picked by GHS Coach Dave McCracken. Banner sports editor Frank Puckett, and WXTA sports announcer Bill Eckardt. They were forwards Jim Jackson and Tom McCormick and guard Dave Browning.

Jackson scored 19 and 20 points in his most consistent performances of the season and pulled off 40 rebounds, 23 of them against Denison. He also hit a fluffy .500 from the floor on 16 of 32. McCormick didn't get rolling until the Denison game. He had 23 points in the finale after picking up only three in the opener. Browning, gaining more poise and accuracy with each game, finished with 31 points, 17 and 14.

Players making the all-10 team from the three visiting schools were Charles Claggett and Jon Williamson from Denison, Terry Smith and Dave Moore from Wabash, and Tom Carnes, Dave McDaniell and Chip Rosser from Wesleyan.

Claggett, the finest hook shooting artist to hit Bowman in many a year, was named the meet's most valuable player. He scored 31 against Wabash and had 33 against the Tigers. Moore was named the winner of the event's Mental Attitude Award for team leadership.

Not before in the Tigers' now 5-3 season has their height had such an advantageous effect. DePauw outrebounded a respectably tall Wesleyan team, 59-37, and an even slightly bigger Denison squad, 64-61.

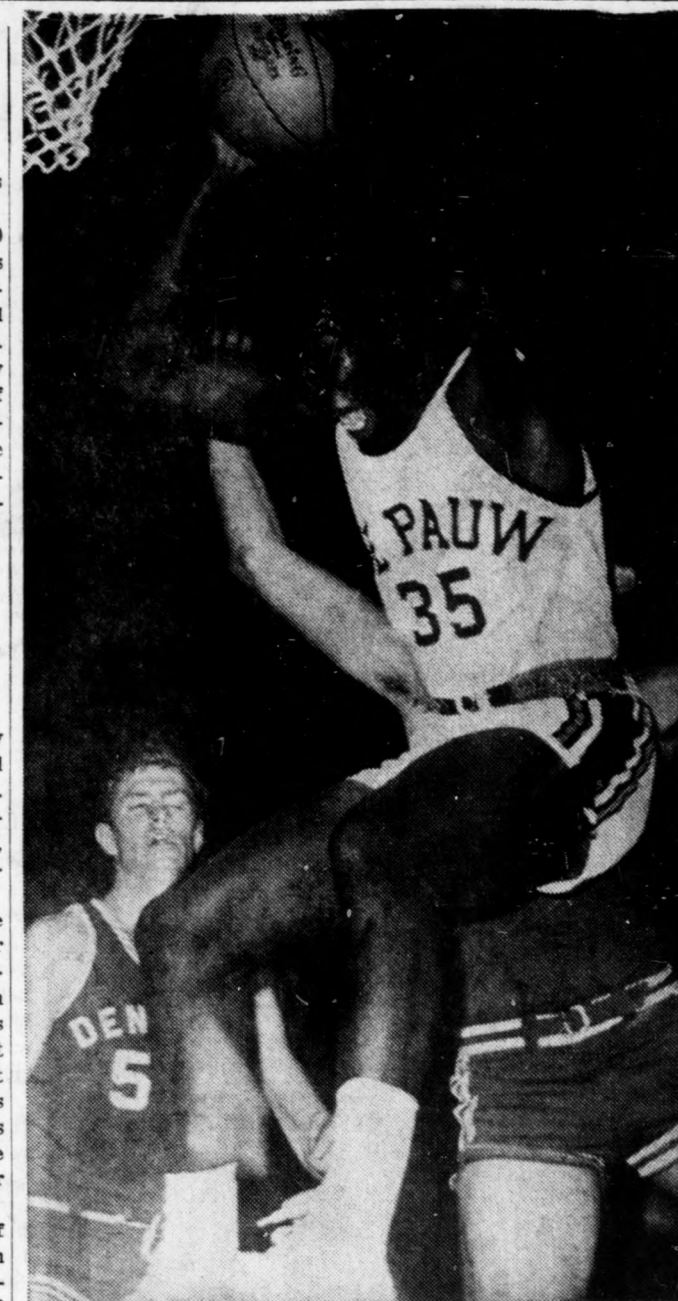

DePauw's shooting gave the hosts some unexpected cheer too during the two days of holiday firing. The club hit .523 in socking Wesleyan for the year's best shooting on 34 of 65. It trailed off some to .418 against Denison, but even this mark was among the four best averages the erratic shooting Tigers have put together so far in their campaign.

DePauw jumped out ahead of both Ohio ball clubs early in the two games. Against Wesleyan the Tigers were up 8-0 in the first four minutes before the Buckeyes got on the board. This edge subsequently jumped to 17-4 and rode on into a 40-20 margin before Wesleyan cut it to 48-35 at halftime. Four of those first half baskets came on some uncanny shooting by sophomore reserve Mickey Schramm of DePauw. He rattled the Wesleyan zone after entering the fray with only 8:30 left in the first half.

Wesleyan, who had a bad night relatively speaking after carrying a .515 average into the DePauw meet, shot .392 for the game. It did manage to get to within 10 at 65-55 before DePauw spurred for a 78-60 margin that tied the affair.

It best shooting flurry of the season—eight out of a dozen shots—propelled DePauw to another big breakaway lead in the Denison game Saturday. All five of the starters had buckets in this binge that put DePauw up 17-3 in just 3:30 over Denison's zone. The visitors, with Claggett getting 11 of the 15

Third successive NFL title for Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. UPI—The Green Bay Packers, hardened pros, usually observe victory with quiet smiles, a few jokes and little fanfare.

But Sunday's 21-17 victory over Dallas hardly was ordinary. Achieved with a last minute touchdown in wearying cold, the victory earned them an unprecedented third successive National Football League title and a berth in the Jan. 14 Super Bowl.

What followed was emotional bedlam seldom seen here. Players cheered and pummeled each other. There were a few tears. There was prayer.

Vince Lombardi, the steel-toe coach, darted from player to happy player in the noisy locker room, a huge grin on his face nearly frozen by 13 below zero cold.

Lombardi's warmest congratulations went to quarterback Bart Starr, who scored the winning touchdown on a one-yard sneak with 13 seconds left and guard Jerry Kramer, whose perfect block sprung Starr.

Kramer, a 10-year veteran of five title teams, threw a devastating block into Dallas tackle Jethro Pugh, who had spent most of the afternoon riding herd on Starr.

The climax was strikingly like last year's game, when the Packers won 34-27 after stopping the Cowboys with first down on the Green Bay two yard line in the waning minutes.

This time the Cowboys had to mount a goal line stand.

They did, but Starr and Kramer cracked it on third down.

Just like last year, the Packers broke to a 14-0 lead, this time on touchdown passes by Starr to Boyd Dowler.

But two Green Bay fumbles handed the Coyboys 10 points before halftime, and Dallas kept the momentum with a go-ahead touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter—a 50-yard halfback option pass from Dan Reeves to Lance Rentzel.

Defense prevailed from that point until the Packers started their winning drive on their own 32 with 4:54 left. Five Starr passes and an eight-yard run by New York and Washington castoff Chuck Mercein put the ball on the Cowboy three.

Donny Anderson gained two yards to the one for a first down, but was held for no gain on the next two plays. Then Starr took it over.

UCLA takes skein to 42

NEW YORK UPI—Victories by Columbia and Oklahoma City in holiday tournament play have vaulted these previously unranked major college basketball teams into the nation's top 10 in the United Press International Board of Coaches ratings.

UCLA, meanwhile, which is unbeaten in 42 straight games—eight this season—continues in the No. 1 spot, the place it was voted in the pre-season ratings and has maintained for five weeks.

Houston 13-0, Vanderbilt 9-1 and North Carolina 7-1 remained in the second, third and fourth spots, respectively, while the rest of the top 10 underwent a shakeup.

Kentucky Advances
Kentucky 7-1, jumped from seventh to fifth; Tennessee 6-1 and Utah 10-1 tied for sixth; Oklahoma City 8-0, winner of the All-College Tournament, leaped to eighth; Columbia 7-3, on the strength of its three upset triumphs en route to the Holiday Festival title, took over the No. 9 spot and Davidson 8-2 advanced to 10th.

Not so fortunate in tourney action were Indiana No. 5 last week, previously eighth-ranked Boston College, St. John's No. 9 last week and previously 10th ranked Kansas. They all dropped out of the top 10.

St. John's which lost to Columbia in the Holiday Festival final, heads the second 10, followed by Duke, Wyoming, Indiana, Louisville, New Mexico, St. Bonaventure, Tulsa, Temple and Western Kentucky.

While UCLA keeps winning, John Wooden's Bruins failed to receive the unanimous balloting for the No. 1 spot for the first time in a month. Being named third on one ballot by the 35-member board of coaches gave UCLA a total of 348 votes. The other first place vote went to Oklahoma City.

Lose Points

Houston also dropped nine points from a week ago to 305 points.

UCLA easily defended its LA Classic title last week, Houston captured the Rainbow Classic, Vanderbilt won the Sugar Bowl tourney and North Carolina took the Far West Classic.

Kentucky played only one game last week and jumped two notches by defeating Notre Dame.

Tennessee and Utah both suffered their first losses of the season last week, the Volunteers losing in the LA Classic and Utah in the Far West Classic. Utah was rated 17th a week ago.

Bing still leading NBA in scoring

NEW YORK UPI—Dave Bing of Detroit, the first player to hurdle the 1,000-point mark this season, continues to enjoy a comfortable lead in the National Basketball Association race.

The Pistons' second-year man scored 70 points in three games last week to boost his total to 1,045 through games played Sunday night. This left him 101 points better than runnerup Walt Hazzard of Seattle, according to official league statistics released today.

The best average in the league belonged to Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, however who had appeared in 11 fewer games than Bing. Robertson had 766 points in 27 games for a 28.4 per game average to Bing's 27.5.

-Bing leads NBA

Hal Greer of Philadelphia was third in the scoring race with 912 points, closely followed by Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles with 896 and Nate Thurmond of San Francisco with 888.

Completing the top 10 were Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia 880, Bob Boozer of Chicago 871, Zelmo Beaty of St. Louis 835, Willis Reed of New York 834 and Rudy LaRusso of San Francisco 814.

Chamberlain retained his lead in field goal percentage with a .563 mark to .544 for New York's Walt Bellamy and in rebounding with 958 recoveries, 21 better than Thurmond.

Larry Seigfried of Boston, idle last week with an injury, continued to set the pace in free throw percentage with an .862 mark and Len Wilkens of St. Louis was the leading playmaker with 293 assists.

-Tigers win

points, cut it to 23-15, but Jackson, McCormick and Browning ignited the Tigers again for a 32-15 reading.

Denison was down at half-time, 43-31, and managed to get only as close as 15 (71-56) in the game's last 13 minutes. The Big Red shot nearly as well as DePauw (.414), but got 33 fewer shots (91-58) and 14 less (38-24) baskets. Denison stayed in the game by converting 23 of 33 fouls. DePauw lost Mike O'Connell and McGurk on personals.

Wabash, the only small college team to defeat DePauw this year, took a 9-8 lead against Denison Friday and kept it until the Big Red finally tied the game at 38-all with 17:03 to play. The Ohioans went ahead for good on one of Claggett's 13 baskets, 47-45. The smaller Cammen edged to within two, 73-71, with 1:51 left, but Denison iced it with a field goal and a pair of free shots when Wabash was forced to press.

It was this same press—under different circumstances—that hauled the Cammen off the deck Saturday night. Down 59-50 to Wesleyan which seemed to be sailing to its fifth win, the Cammen scored three baskets in 37 seconds off a full court press to narrow the deficit to 59-56.

The two clubs traded two baskets and a free throw before Wabash struck again and forced a Wesleyan error on the press. Dan Jordan, Wabash forward, converted this turnover into a three-point play that knotted the score 64-64 with 6:43 to go. Strangely that was Wabash's last basket until Terry Smith's tremendous 50-foot plus shot when the gun sounded.

In the meantime the Cammen converted 10 of 11 free throws when they put the ball into the deep freeze at the 3:22 mark with a three-point lead. Wesleyan got three free throws and a single basket over the same route. Reserve Dave McDaniel's bucket with 25 seconds left made the score, 72-69, Wabash.

Wesleyan had another change after Jordan missed a free throw, but missed the shot. Harry Staley then drew a pair of foul shots and hit for a 74-69 lead. Terry Smith, retrieving a Wesleyan pass, fired his two-handed set shot from the intersection of the midcourt line and the north sideline for the final count.

DEFENSIVE TACTICS

Police said an armed man threw a paper sack on the desk of office manager Marie A. Carlson and demanded money.

Mrs. Carlson went screaming out of the office. The bandit made a rapid exit, too, leaving his paper sack behind.

Fight on inflation can hurt housing

By JOHN PIERSON

WASHINGTON UPI—A member of the Federal Reserve Board, who's an expert on housing, has issued a strong warning against overuse of the "FED's" biggest weapon against inflation—tight money.

Tight money, which means higher interest rates and less credit supply, can stop inflation in its tracks all right, says Sherman J. Maisel. But look what it does to housing.

On a recent address to the American Bankers Association, Maisel estimated that up to three-quarters of last year's recession in homebuilding was the result of the FED's tight money policy.

Maisel wasn't just giving a history lesson. He was also laying it on the line to Congress, saying in effect: "Look, either you raise taxes (as President Johnson has requested) or we money managers are again going to be forced to tighten money, which would be sure to hurt housing."

Maisel sketched out the road from failure to raise taxes to another homebuilding slump:

(1) Congress refuses to go along with Johnson's request

Jim Houck, Putnam County's Prosecuting Attorney, made a prediction at the start of 1967 that he probably would file on the average at least one criminal affidavit a day. As of the end of the year, he informs us that criminal affidavits filed for the year totalled 367. How's that for hitting the nail on the head!

I stopped Norm Peabody (our new Mayor) the other day to ask him if he would please check on the reasons why The Daily Banner cannot seem to get cooperation from our local Fire Department. It seems that everytime the fire truck or emergency vehicle goes out on call, we cannot find out just where they are going. When we call them, their most common answer is, "I don't know where it's gone; you'll have to wait until it gets back." Now I'm sure that when the fire truck leaves, they know exactly where it's going. As a news media, we have a responsibility to our readers to report the news as it happens. As taxpayers they have a right to know where and when our fire trucks are going. If we do not get cooperation from our local fire department we cannot do this. By the time we do get the report from the fire department, the fire is out, the house is burned down, etc. A picture which contains nothing and a story about little of nothing does not make very good reading. So, the next time you pick up The Daily Banner and read a story about a fire that happened yesterday, and you say to yourself, "This is old news," just remember, it may not be The Banner's fault. If there is some legal reason for not giving the information to us we are certainly not aware of it.

Harold Mason and I were also talking to Norm Peabody about the parking problems we seem to have here in Greencastle. Both Harold and I offered Norm our "professional" opinions on the subject. I believe Norm has some real good ideas about how to solve these parking problems. Given a little bit of time to get his feet wet as mayor, I'm sure we'll see some action on this matter.

There are two things I really enjoy. One is playing golf and the other is watching football. Well, yesterday was truly a great day. Like a good "Hoosier" I hung an IU pennant up on my front porch early in the morning, so that everyone could see that I was pulling for IU all the way. As soon as the final gun sounded in the Rose Bowl, I rushed out and took my pennant down. Gee, I sure hope none of those hardened Purdue fans saw it. I'll keep my personal remarks about Indiana's first Rose Bowl appearance to myself and let our sports editor stick his neck out.

A Canadian town spawned the telephone

BRANTFORD, Ont. UPI—

White-bearded Alexander Graham Bell, in unveiling the impressive Bell Memorial here 50 years ago, stated for the occasion: "The telephone was conceived in Brantford in 1874 and born in Boston in 1876."

It is not widely known today that the first actual transmission of the human voice over live electrical wire took place in this Canadian city.

As Thomas B. Costain noted in his book "The Chord of Steel," "Brantford's share in the great achievement has been overshadowed if not overlooked."

But it has not been ignored here, since Bell's monument and home are the area's main tourist attractions.

Bell first got the idea for the telephone in the summer of 1874. That was also the year the word "telephone" was used by the young inventor for the first time, according to the diary kept by his father, Alexander Melville Bell.

By fall the bearded young man had completed working sketches of his device. The following year he went to Boston to have it patented.

In August, 1876, at age 29, Bell staged his first long-distance (five-mile) communication experiment. It was a success.

Bell went to the telegraph office at nearby Mount Pleasant to await a message from his uncle, David Bell, at a prearranged time. The uncle spoke into his instrument at Brantford and the young inventor heard the following at Mount Pleasant: "To be or not to be." That Shakespearean quote from "Hamlet" thus became the first telephone message.

The second phone test shortly after that carried a message from Brantford to Bell's home at Tutelo Heights, three miles distant. Since there was no telegraph line near his home, Bell "bought up all the stove-pipe wire in Brantford."

He said later: "We tacked it along the farmers' fences from the highway to my home and it worked."

The third test transmitted voices from Brantford to Paris, a town seven miles away. This time, however, the messages were actually carried 130 miles, since they were directed through Toronto, the power source.

In 1922, at age 75, Bell passed away at Nova Scotia.

PONDEROUS POOL

KNOXVILLE, Iowa UPI—The Red Rock Dam, now being constructed on the Des Moines River near here, will create a 9,000-acre permanent pool. The reservoir created by the dam will be the largest body of water in Iowa, and will be spanned by the longest bridge in the state.

Plans are being made to build access roads, picnic and parking areas, campgrounds, overlooks and boat launching ramps along the shore.

The island of Bermuda achieved full independence from Britain Nov. 30, 1966.

The argument that hometown fans should have the right to see their players in person in a championship contest is a weak one. Since when has pro football, which has been so completely dominated by television and its audience, suddenly become so concerned about anything but its own betterment? The fact is that National Football League games are blacked out in home towns anyway, and more residents of an area have a chance to see them—via television—if they are played away, ideally in a neutral city which generally has favorable weather.

The constant pounding of commercials during pro and college games is enough to sour one on the whole atmosphere of the contests themselves. I turned off several of the bowl games

Nine Hoosiers killed during holiday weekend

By United Press International
Nine persons were killed in New Year's holiday weekend traffic accidents in Indiana, including two on the first day of 1968.

The toll for 1967 through Dec. 31 stood at 1,557, which equalled the pace for 1966. However, after later deaths from 1966 accidents were added, the toll for that year reached a record 1,573.

Miss Linda Reeder, 19, Huntington, became the first victim of the new year Monday. She was killed in a two-car crash in Huntington County, about three miles east of Huntington. Police said a car driven by John Biehl, 43, Huntington, collided with an auto driven by George Bloyer, 65, Logansport, at a road intersection. Miss Reeder was in the Biehl auto. Ronald DeLong, 17, Fort

Branch, was killed Monday night in a two-car accident on U.S. 41 south of Princeton. State Police said a car driven by David Block, 24, Fort Branch, attempted to pass another car but struck it, then veered into a ditch. DeLong and Block were thrown out. Block was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and reckless homicide.

Donna Kneer, 16, Charles-town, died Monday from injuries suffered Saturday in a three-car accident on U.S. 31-W north of New Albany.

Lawrence E. Burke, 55, Vincennes, was killed Sunday morning when his car went out of control on Indiana 67 north of Vincennes and crashed into a creek.

Leidan T. Bartley, 21, Goshen, was killed Saturday night when his car struck a tree along Indiana 13 in Syracuse.

Joann Palumbo, 19, Kokomo, died Monday from injuries suffered in a crash Saturday night which also killed her sister, Patsy, 22, and Joyce Hainsworth, 16, both of Kokomo. Police said their car was struck from the rear by another auto on U.S. 31 south of Kokomo.

Arthur Sparks, 63, Knox, was struck and killed by a car Saturday afternoon as he walked along U.S. 35 near Knox.

Marie Keener, 69, Mishawaka, was killed Monday when a car rolled down a driveway and pinned her against a tree in South Bend. Her death occurred on private property and was not counted on the traffic toll.

Nine Hoosiers killed during holiday weekend

By United Press International
Nine persons were killed in New Year's holiday weekend traffic accidents in Indiana, including two on the first day of 1968.

The toll for 1967 through Dec. 31 stood at 1,557, which equalled the pace for 1966. However, after later deaths from 1966 accidents were added, the toll for that year reached a record 1,573.

Miss Linda Reeder, 19, Huntington, became the first victim of the new year Monday. She was killed in a two-car crash in Huntington County, about three miles east of Huntington. Police said a car driven by John Biehl, 43, Huntington, collided with an auto driven by George Bloyer, 65, Logansport, at a road intersection. Miss Reeder was in the Biehl auto. Ronald DeLong, 17, Fort

Branch, was killed Monday night in a two-car accident on U.S. 41 south of Princeton. State Police said a car driven by David Block, 24, Fort Branch, attempted to pass another car but struck it, then veered into a ditch. DeLong and Block were thrown out. Block was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and reckless homicide.

Donna Knear, 16, Charlestown, died Monday from injuries suffered Saturday in a three-car accident on U.S. 31-W north of New Albany.

Lawrence E. Burke, 55, Vincennes, was killed Sunday morning when his car went out of control on Indiana 67 north of Vincennes and crashed into a creek.

Leidan T. Bartley, 21, Goshen, was killed Saturday night when his car struck a tree along Indiana 13 in Syracuse.

Joann Palumbo, 19, Kokomo, died Monday from injuries suffered in a crash Saturday night which also killed her sister, Patsy, 22, and Joyce Hainsworth, 16, both of Kokomo. Police said their car was struck from the rear by another auto on U.S. 31 south of Kokomo. Arthur Sparks, 63, Knox, was struck and killed by a car Saturday afternoon as he walked along U.S. 35 near Knox.

Marie Keener, 69, Mishawaka, was killed Monday when a car rolled down a driveway and pinned her against a tree in South Bend. Her death occurred on private property and was not counted on the traffic toll.
