REELSVILLE WATER PROJECT—A water project consisting of over thirty miles of pipe and capable of serving over 225 customers and costing approximately $327,980 is waiting on the drawing board for approval of a loan application from Farmer's Home Administration. When constructed the project, Reelsville Water Corporation's goal, will supply water to homes and businesses that are sometimes forced to haul water from miles away. The project was instigated by a group of interested Reelsville citizens in 1961 when the water situation became serious enough that the school was forced to close on occasions because of a water shortage. They employed the services of an attorney and then hired an engineer to evaluate the situation. Their idea was to construct a pipeline through the area that would enable people to have access to all the water they needed. The engineer told them it was impossible. Determined, the group hired another engineer and finally was able to obtain a set of preliminary plans from Midwestern Engineers of Logansport. The plans were presented to Farmers Home Administration along with an application for a loan for construction purposes. Since that time the number of customers needed to start the line have been acquired, including the Lone Star Cement Plant and Reelsville School. One hundred thirty-five customers, or members of the corporation since they have signed up for the water service, have donated easements for the pipe. A contract for a 75,000 gallon water tank, to be located at Pleasant Gardens, has been secured from W. E. Caldwell construction company of Louisville and Richard L. Hall Excavating Company has been awarded the construction contract. The line (diagramed above) will start at the corner of Sunset Drive and Manhattan Road; move southward to Manhattan making spur west at Lime-dale for approximately two miles; go from Manhattan east to the west boundary of the State Farm; then west to Reelsville and Pleasant Garden; then it will go one half mile south of Reelsville School; west approximately 1/2 mile on SR 40; north of Reelsville to the old King School house area, two lines looping northwest of Reelsville; and will cover an overall area of 30 miles. Loan approval from FHA is set for April 20.

Johnson to confer with Ike

By FRANK SWOBODA
En Route with the President (UPI)—President Johnson returns to the U.S. mainland from Hawaii today after pledging to President Park Chung Hee that South Korea would have a voice in any Vietnam peace negotiations.

Johnson also recommitted the United States to honoring its commitments to defend South Korea against Communist aggression.

The President planned to stop briefly at March AFB, near Riverside, Calif., for a breakfast briefing aboard Air Force One with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower before returning to his Texas ranch for the weekend.

Johnson issued a joint communique with Park, South Korea's president, shortly before leaving Honolulu after an all-day meeting Wednesday in which he pledged to give the Asian nation a voice in Vietnam negotiations and to continue to honor U.S. commitments in Korea.

The meeting was primarily held to reassure Park that the United States had no intention of abandoning South Korea in its search for an end to the war in Vietnam.

Johnson gave Park a four-point assurance that if there is any negotiation for settlement in Vietnam, South Korea will have a full voice in the proceedings. In the communique, the two presidents "expressed the policy of their governments to sustain their efforts to meet the requirements of the struggle (Vietnam) in all respects until peace is attained."

This indicated that for his part, Park assured Johnson of continued military aid in the war. South Korea, with 50,000 troops, is the largest U.S. military ally in Vietnam. Park had threatened to pull these troops out of Vietnam if the United States did not grant him

Refresher course in 8th week

Putnam County Hospital's Refresher Course for inactive nurses is now in its eighth week. Nineteen nurses are participating in the refresher program.

This program includes classroom instruction plus supervised clinical practice. Classes are taught by local physicians and registered nurses plus representatives from manufacturing companies of various equipment.

This is only one of the "teaching, learning" programs now underway in our local hospital. In-service programs are scheduled regularly for both nurses, aides and orderlies along with a workshop for supervisors.

Historical Society

The Putnam County Historical Society will meet Wednesday, April 24, at 6:30 p.m. at Torr's Restaurant.

Miss Edith Browning will read a paper prepared by the late Miss Elizabeth Heber, probably 60 years ago, for presentation before the Magazine Club in Indianapolis.

The paper deals with her interest in nature, the scene of the first portion being the woods at the end of West Franklin Street in Greencastle entitled "Wood Notes."

Everyone is invited to come and hear this interesting paper. Phone reservations to Mrs. William Boatright by noon Tuesday, April 23.

assurances it would again come to his country's defense in the face of aggression.

The two presidents, in the communique, said they had reviewed in detail the "serious threat to the security of the Republic of Korea and to peace in East Asia resulting from the increasingly belligerent actions of the North Korean Communists during the past 18 months, including the attack directed against the official residence of the president of the Republic of Korea and the seizure of the USS Pueblo in international waters in January."

6 in court Wednesday

Six defendants appeared in the Putnam Circuit Court on Wednesday before Judge Francis N. Hamilton.

Marvin Holt, 21, Elkhart, was charged with failure to provide for minor child.

He had been in court last May 1967 on a similar charge. Sentence was withheld and he was released on his own recognizance. He admitted that he had failed to provide and was sentenced to serve six months at the State Farm.

Junior Capps, 29; Robert Capps, 21, and Dale Capps, 17, charged with theft of a tractor battery, all entered pleas of not guilty.

Their trial was set for 9 a.m. on June 20.

Upon their promise not to drive their cars except to and from work and to get groceries, they were released on their own recognizance until the trial.

William Mike Burk, 20, now residing in Indianapolis, pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge filed by Charles Gregory. Judge Hamilton set Burk's sentencing for May 24.

Ronald D. Eggers, charged with the issuance of a deceptive check to the Monon Grill in the amount of $25 on April 11, asked time to consult with an attorney.

His request was granted and he was scheduled to return to court today.

Bell Telephone System faces nationwide strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Communications workers were prepared to strike the Bell Telephone system today in a walkout that could slow down phone service throughout the nation.

If prolonged, the strike could seriously disrupt all phone services, even regular dial telephoning.

The coast-to-coast strike, termed "inevitable" by government and union officials, was to begin at 3 p.m. EST. It would be the first nationwide walkout in 21 years against the Bell system, which operates 83.7

million telephones, about 85 per cent of all the phones in service in the United States.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said no bargaining was going on in the wage dispute between Bell and officials of the Communications Workers of America (CWA). The union's president, Joseph A. Beirne, said Wednesday it was "now too late to avoid a strike."

Partial Strike Inevitable
His statement was somewhat modified later in the day by a CWA spokesman who said that even if agreement were reached before the deadline, a short strike would be inevitable because it would take time to win union ratification of a settlement.

The strike initially would affect bell facilities in Washington, D.C., Maryland, Ohio, Iowa, Idaho, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Washington state. But union officials said picket lines would be organized in Illinois, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Michigan, Indiana, Nevada and northern California, hampering service in those places as well.

In addition, 24,000 installers for Western Electric Co., a Bell subsidiary, were to walk out at 3 p.m. and union leaders said CWA members could respect their picket lines or strike in sympathy.

Management Takes Over
Management and supervisory personnel prepared to man telephone switchboards in an attempt to keep service near normal. For many persons making dial telephone calls, there would be no immediate effects except for slowdowns during peak hours.

But the walkout was expected to delay person-to-person long distance telephone calls, credit card calls, information service and other services requiring an operator, repairman or installer.

If the strike is prolonged, CWA spokesmen said, automatic equipment could break down due to overloads and lack of maintenance, thus disrupting normal dial service.

About 200,000 CWA members seeking a 10 per cent pay hike and other financial gains were ready to walk out.

Although the government said no joint meetings between the union and Bell were underway, "informal talks" were continuing.

New pastor at Roachdale

The members of the Roachdale Presbyterian Church are gratified to announce the arrival of Stephen Kim to serve as their pastor. Mr. Kim, born in Korea and educated in the United States, is a graduate of Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana and Dubuque Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa.

Mr. Kim is married to the former Patricia Criswell who is at present a teacher in the Dubuque schools. She will join her husband in Roachdale in June.

Mr. Kim will be ordained into the Presbyterian ministry in Mc Allister, Oklahoma on April 28 and installed officially as minister of the Roachdale church in June.

Anyone interested in hearing and meeting Mr. Kim is invited to attend church services at the Roachdale Presbyterian Church at 10:30 A.M. each Sunday.

It's Brownie Play Day at Robe-Ann Saturday

The Putnam County Neighborhood Association of the Covered Bridge Girl Scout Council met at 112 Northwest Boulevard on April 15, with Mrs. Calvin Dyer presiding. Only seven leaders were present, in addition to Mrs. J.E. Lindeman, District Advisor from Terre Haute. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A report of the annual meeting of the Covered Bridge Council was given. All leaders were reminded that registration for the current year is past due, and that girls who are not registered are not Scouts. Completed troop inventory forms were collected.

The BROWNIE PLAY DAY to be held at Robe Ann Park Saturday, April 20, was discussed. All Brownies in the County are invited. Parents should contact the troop leaders if their girl plans to attend. Each girl should bring a sack lunch; each leader should bring material for Some-mores and Kool-Aid for her troop. In case of rain, the Play Day will be held Saturday, April 27. Leaders should call Mrs. Doane Priest, OL 3-9045, if their troops are coming.

The Festival of Girl Scouts Together was the main topic of the meeting. The Festival is to be held May 4, at the Vigo County Fair Grounds in Terre Haute. A detailed map of the grounds was shown to the leaders. Leaders were able to check on the location of parking lots, booths for exhibits, and their troop's position in the grandstands during the Opening and Closing Ceremonies. Mrs. Dyer has a copy of this map which any leader may view.

Special permission slips, which include an invitation to parents, were passed out to leaders for their troops. The sale of tickets to the Festival was discussed. Non-scouts (parents, friends, brothers, sisters, etc.) will need tickets costing 50¢. Children under six accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

Leaders of troops participating in the Festival are asked to check in and out of the Festival Headquarters when they are at the fair grounds in case of emergencies. Each troop going to the Festival is asked to bring 2 pies and 2 cakes (or 18 cupcakes as a substitute for a cake) to the Festival for a bake sale. Any troop which will NOT be able to supply these should contact Mrs. Dyer immediately. The pies and cakes should be delivered to the Dining Hall in the Main Building not later than 10 a.m. the day of the Festival. Putnam County has also been asked to supply 5 cashiers for the Bake Sale. Any parent of any Scout who would be willing to help in this way should contact Mrs. Dyer as soon as possible. The cashiers will work 2-hour shifts on May 4.

All Scouts are encouraged to go to the Festival with their parents whether their troop is displaying anything or not. Troops can get ideas for all kinds of activities from the exhibits of their sister Scouts.

The next Neighborhood Meeting will be held May 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church. Major plans for Day Camp will be discussed, and all leaders who are going to take their girls to Day Camp must attend. Registration for Day Camp must be in by May 8. Each leader is reminded that she should supply 1 adult for each 6-8 girls going to camp. All adult helpers for Day Camp who have not been there before should go to Camp Rotary in Harmony, Indiana on May 8, from 10-2 for training. Contact Mrs. Dyer if you are NOT able to go. Leaders are asked to save bleach bottles for Day Camp, and to bring them to the next Neighborhood Meeting.

The meeting was adjourned with the reminder that all Scouts should go camping as Scouts at least once a year, and that all Scouts should go to the FESTIVAL.

IN ACTION—The Putnam County United Fund Organization went into action yesterday by sending out checks to the various organizations that joined their initial drive held

Cloverdale church plans Bible School

The Church of Christ at Cloverdale, is planning the biggest Vacation Bible School ever this year.

The church has just completed a New Annex giving it 2,500 square feet more of floor space. This provides seven additional large class rooms and rest-room facilities, making a total of fourteen class rooms now available.

The minister, Clarence O. Barr, says that for the first time the church there will be able to accommodate any and all of the children in the entire community who wish to attend the Vacation Bible School.

The time of the school has been set for June 10-14, 9:00-11:00 a.m. each day. However, the church officials ask all children to come at 8:30 a.m., the first day, so as to facilitate assignment to their respective classes and teachers.

The theme for the school this year is, "My God Is Real". There will be classes for all from age three through high school.

Enrollment will begin soon for all children desiring to attend. If there are any not contacted for enrollment soon, who desire to attend, please 795-4696.

The Vacation Bible School will conclude Friday, June 14th, at noon when a luncheon will be served at the Community Building for all of the children attending and their parents.

North Korea accused of savage acts

By JAMES KIM
PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—An American admiral accused North Korea in an icy confrontation today of committing vicious and savage acts by staging ambushes that left seven allied soldiers dead during the past five days.

Stony-faced Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-kuk, a North Korean known as "frog face" to the Americans, absorbed the browbeating with his usual lack of emotion at a meeting at this Korean truce village.

Navy Rear Adm. John V. Smith made the accusations. He is senior United Nations command delegate to the Korean Military Armistice Commission.

Smith, son of the late Gen. Holland M. (Howling Mad) Smith, the World War II Marine Corps commander, charged the North Koreans with being "butchers." Facing Pak across a table, he protested an Easter Sunday ambush that took the lives of two American and two South Korean soldiers only 1,000 yards from Panmunjom, the village where the Korean war armistice was arranged 15 years ago.

Wednesday three more South Korean soldiers died when bushwhacked as they patrolled about 330 yards south of the demarcation line that separates the two Koreas. The attack occurred in the central sector.

The ambush incidents continued tension in Korea which intensified earlier this year with a North Korean terrorist raid on Seoul and the seizure of the intelligence ship USS Pueblo.

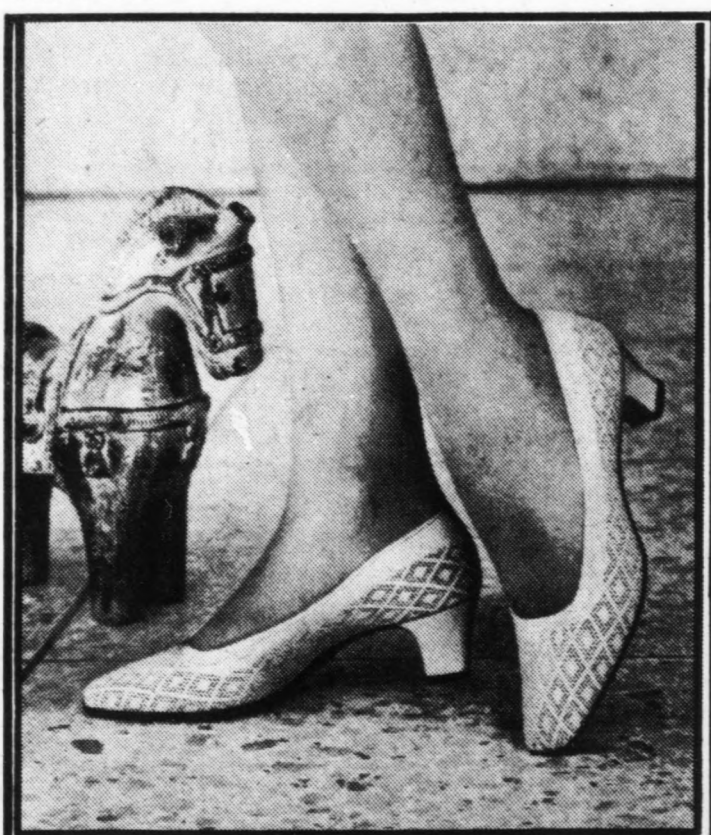

As President Johnson and Park Chung hee, South Korea's president, met in Honolulu to discuss the Korean situation Wednesday, North Korean radio branded the talks an extension of aggressive acts of the U.S. imperialism.

The commentary said the meeting was "aimed at spurring up the war preparations in Korea by dispatching new servants of aggression into South Korea and by materializing their war plans at the talks."

In the Wednesday ambush an estimated 20 infiltrators used light machineguns to attack an 11-man South Korean patrol. In addition to the three dead, South Korean casualties included three wounded. The patrol fired back but no Communist casualties were reported.

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson said it as simply and clearly as it might be said: "I shall not seek and will not accept the nomination..."

Then he said a little later his decision to forego another term in the White House was irrevocable.

But somehow there are still a few disbelievers. Strangely enough, they include an occasional politician.

They might be excused for thinking, "this has been an anything-can-happen year." But by every other yardstick, they should know better.

First, there is Ladybird. By every account, the First Lady did not and does not want Lyndon Baines Johnson to submit to the punishment of another four years as President.

Exceptional Marriage Team They have been an exceptional team in marriage, business and politics. On this decision, her feelings must have been a powerful factor.

Second, there is the weight of history. Scratch a President and you find a man who has undergone an awesome change with the oath-taking on inaugural day. (If there is charisma in any person or thing, it is in this office.)

No longer may he use the old blurred benchmarks for personal and official behavior. Conscience crowds harder and the historians look over his shoulder. Within the limits of his capabilities, a President of the United States may be assumed to be a man who is trying to do right.

Third, there is that matter of the credibility gap. Whether it ever was anything more than a clever phrase, the gap would become a chasm if President Johnson nullified his March 31 pledge not to accept renomination.

And finally, that kind of a reverse would hand the Republican party a ready-made issue. Could Aid GOP Even if the President suc-

Pope rested

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI looked rested and in high spirits at his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica Wednesday and Vatican sources said he appeared to have recovered from the fatigue he showed during Holy Week.

The Pope spoke to about 30,000 pilgrims in a firm voice, smiled and walked around briskly but somewhat stiffly. The sources said the 70-year-old pontiff also was having some difficulty in bending, apparently because of arthritic pains.

cumbed to a "draft" by acclamation at the Democratic convention, Republicans might charge that he used the March disunity crisis and his pledge as a device to promote Democratic unity and his own reelection. Unlike General Sherman, Lyndon Johnson looked millions of Americans in the eye via television when he made his pledge.

They included his old friend and Vietnam critic, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who was in Mexico City and close to tears when the President declared himself out.

They included Democratic presidential candidates Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy.

They also included Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who also was in Mexico city that night, a lonely heir apparent without a clear sign that he was being named in the will.

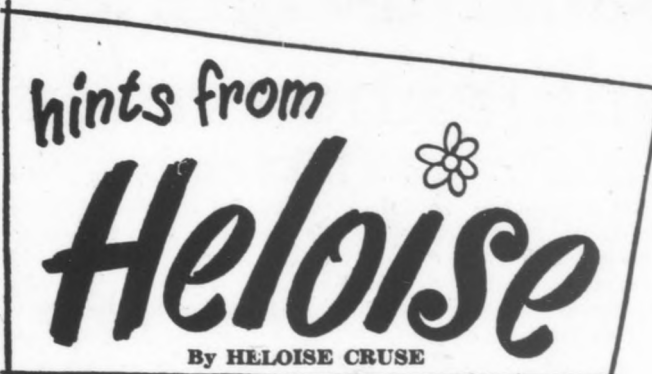

Now Humphrey is reading his own candidacy. That should convince the doubters.

Study living of Indians

PATCUARO, Mexico (UPI)—Living conditions of 30 million Indians in the Western Hemisphere were under study Wednesday by delegates to the sixth Inter-American Indian Congress.

Dr. Alfonso Caso, director of Mexico's National Indian Institute, called on delegates to regard the hemisphere's Indians as men of dignity who deserve the respect of all human beings. He said part of the solution to the multiple problems of Indians was not charity but opportunity.

The congress, which opened Tuesday, is being attended by experts on Indian affairs from 17 American countries, including the United States.

DEAR HELOISE:

You know those nests of round stainless steel mixing bowls with the flat bottoms? Well, let me tell you my latest brainstorm for using them...

I stir up a box of cake mix and pour my batter into the largest and the smallest of these bowls.

After the two cakes have baked and cooled, I remove them from the bowls, frost the larger, then set the smaller one on top of the big one and ice it.

Wheel! A tiered cake that would do justice to any pastry chef!

Fixed one for my daughter's birthday, another for a tea—and was everyone impressed!

The Reelsville P.T.A. will sponsor the Annual Achievement Banquet in the school gymnasium on Friday, April 19 at 6:30 p.m. This is a carry-in supper and everyone is invited to attend. Please bring a well filled basket and your own table service.

The featured speaker for the evening will be Thomas (Tommy) Mont, head football coach at DePauw University.

Revised tests

A revision of two books co-authored by DePauw's Dr. Laurel H. Turk has just been published by D.C. Heath and Company.

"El espanol al dia," Book 1 and 2, Third Edition, was written by Edith M. Allen, supervisor of foreign languages for the Indianapolis public schools and by Dr. Turk, head of DePauw's Romance Languages department. Fifteen pages of supplementary drills, which are also available on tapes, have been added to each text. Attractive new covers have been designed for both revised editions which appeared originally in 1963 and 1964. A new Book II in the widely used series for secondary schools will appear next month.

DEAR HELOISE:

Keeping color slides in trays and wheels is bulky and expensive and there's always a new slide that should be filed between two others. This means reshuffling the entire tray, to say nothing of the written list.

So I use those empty foil or wax paper boxes, adding little tabs for cataloging. The slides fit into them perfectly and each box holds about 250. The boxes have lids already there that keep off dust, they store conveniently in a drawer and they're sturdy enough to be mailed.

Sheila Orystick

And that's what I call "Just about the right price," too. Thanks, pal.

DEAR HELOISE:

Are a lot of women like me and keep toothpicks in a small measuring glass that keeps getting knocked over?

I solved this by putting some in an empty garlic salt jar complete with the small white plastic top that has big holes in it.

When I need a toothpick, all I do is turn the jar over and shake. The top allows two or three to come out at a time, but keeps them from all spilling or getting dirty.

Simple, yes?

Mrs. Shirley Walker

Yes. But you were a smartie pie to think of it. No one else did...

DEAR HELOISE:

This idea is for those who find their large cleansing tissue box empty at a crucial moment.

Carefully open the end of the empty box and insert a roll of toilet tissue, then tape or regule the flap shut. Pull the end of the new tissue through the opening on top.

This idea may also be used in the sick room, as it hides the roll, keeps it clean, and it doesn't go skidding across the floor out of reach when it's needed.

Williams named Philippine envoy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has nominated Ambassador to the Philippines G. Mennen Williams, a politician-diplomat who set new precedents for informality in six years as assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Williams has a gift for ripping placid waters, and in six terms as Michigan governor and in his later State Department hitch it got ample play.

As governor, he once fought off a knife-wielding convict while touring a state prison.

As assistant secretary of state, he once called a square dance for African diplomats in the Thomas Jefferson room of the State Department; toured Africa in shirt-sleeves; was socked in the jaw in Lusaka, Zambia, by a white man angered by his "Africa for the Africans" views; and put himself on a first-name basis with cabinet ministers throughout Africa.

Williams was governor of Michigan from 1948 to 1960, and held the State Department post from 1961 to 1966, when he quit and made an unsuccessful bid for the U.S. Senate.

It had long been speculated that Williams would return to diplomacy, but until Tuesday night's announcement by Johnson in Hawaii there was some uncertainty whether the President would give him another assignment.

Womans view

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Rudy Seno's sculptures talk to every kid from 5 to 75 who ever pressed nose and hands against the windows of the candy case to shop the goodies, ever cranked a gum machine and waited for its surprises, ever saved out a penny from the parental allotment for Sunday school to buy a couple of jawbreakers.

The Chicago-born Seno sculpts candies. But his are only for looking . . . and stirring memories. His tools, rather than the confectioner's, are the wider's—the acetylene torch, the hammers and chisels, the non-ferrous metals such as bronze, brass and aluminum.

You see, Rudy Seno reproduces in giant metallic form anything in the candy line from lollipops to Tootsie rolls. His candies sometimes measure nine feet in height, weigh 300 to 400 pounds, take as long as six months to mold and hammer and weld into desired shapes.

"Nobody gets tooth decay from mycandies," said Seno. "More likely a hernia."

Seno sculptures range in price from $50 to $3,500, but he laughed as he observed, "most of the profits go into ointments." The dark-haired artist held out muscular arms to show scars from the hot metals and the acetylene torch.

Seno, 38, and the father of two boys, brought 35 of his metal candies to New York for a two-week run in the Fifth Avenue windows of the F A O Schwartz toy and children's store, noted for its appeal to doting grandparents, parents, godmothers, aunts and the like.

Seno feels that the appeal of his sculptures is just as great for grownups as for children.

"They stir the memory of the adult . . . the magic and nostalgia of childhood," he said in an interview. "Kids don't ask about magic. They take it for granted. But adults often have to recreate it . . . against the daily pressure for survival in the business world."

Seno said he'd done painting and stone sculpting before turning to metal. He got the idea for the candy theme from a newspaper picture showing a policeman handing a lollipop to a lost kid.

"That cop," said Seno, "had a bigger smile on his face than the boy."

Branigin, wife will campaign

By HORTENSE MYERS
INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Governor and Mrs. Branigin will wage "person-to-person" campaigns in about 100 Indiana cities and towns in a bid to block Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy from winning the state's presidential primary.

Democratic state chairman Gordon St. Angelo told a news conference here today that the Branigins will campaign separately for the governor as a favorite son candidate "in a concentrated effort to win this election."

"The Branigins will appear in 85 of the 92 counties and in more than 100 towns and more if time permits," he said.

He said Branigin will begin his "drive to victory" Friday with appearances in Delphi, Lafayette, Greencastle and Terre Haute, and Mrs. Branigin "will begin her intensive efforts throughout Indiana on Thursday with meetings in Shelbyville, Greensburg, Batesville and Lawrenceburg."

Mrs. Branigin's schedule up to April 27 contained 28 cities and towns. The governor's schedule listed 14 cities and towns plus Lake County. St. Angelo said this was because Branigin wants to also meet his gubernatorial responsibilities. He criticized Kennedy and McCarthy for their absences from the Senate.

"Since March 15 there have been 35 roll calls in the Senate," the Indiana chairman said. "Senator McCarthy voted on one, Senator Kennedy voted on one."

When out-of-state news media pressed St. Angelo as to whether Branigin was a serious candidate for president, the chairman said "I see the possibility he might be president of the United States."

St. Angelo said that most of the appearances of the Branigins "will be person-to-person rather than lengthy meetings and long speeches."

"You know how Governor Branigin is. If he feels like making a speech, he will make a speech," St. Angelo said. "If he feels like shaking hands, he will shake hands."

St. Angelo was asked to comment on a statement which the newsman attributed to Gary Mayor Richard Hatcher, that he hoped people who supported him in his election as the state's first Negro mayor would support Kennedy.

"I don't think it will hurt the governor," St. Angelo replied. "It is very difficult to transfer one's own popularity to someone else."

St. Angelo said Branigin has the support of 9 of the 11 district chairmen. He said the lack of support for Branigin from 11th District chairman James Beatty and 6th District chairman William Wolf would not be a serious handicap.

He read an endorsement from Fountain County and Luke White, who was defeated for governor by Branigin four years ago, which said "of the three candidates in the Indiana primary, he is the one best qualified to sit in the White House. His election would give the nation a President of all the people—not of some splinter group."

Earlier, the Indiana AFL-CIO voted to remain neutral. St. Angelo said "I don't consider it a loss" to Branigin.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IT IS WORTHY of note that the first printed paper money in the world was made by the Chinese about 950 A.D. The first counterfeit in the world—also Chinese—was smoked out in 951 A.D.

No modest violet was golf wizard Walter Hagen in the days when he was monarch of every links he surveyed. One duffer remembers a one-hour lesson he took from the master. Hagen showed him the proper way to hold his club, demonstrated the correct stance and swing, then stood back to watch the duffer take a swipe at a ball. Self-conscious and muscle-bound, the duffer's shot was even worse than usual. A second try was just as bad. The ball dribbled no more than ten yards off the practice tee.

Hagen grabbed the club from the duffer's hand, commented bluntly, "You do absolutely everything wrong. Let me show you." He thereupon proceeded to drive out every ball in the bucket while his pupil looked on. That ended the lesson. The duffer estimated that his two practice shots cost him exactly ten dollars apiece.

"If a fellow wants a piece of apple pie," pondered Kin Hubbard one morning, "why isn't he man enough to say so, instead of making the waiter go through that whole routine of 'Pumpkin, mince, custard, peach, cherry, lemon, blackberry, cheese, apricot, rhubarb—or APPLE?'"

Court orders new trial

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—The Indiana Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that the right of an accused to counsel during interrogation extends behind prison walls.

The high court ordered a new trial for Thomas Beck, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for a murder committed while he was an inmate in the Indiana State Prison.

Beck was convicted Nov. 29, 1965, for the knife death of another inmate.

Evidence was that Beck was interrogated by prison officials without being told of his legal rights as a suspect.

The Supreme Court ordered the LaPorte Superior Court to hold a new trial for Beck. The high court said that even though the lower court eliminated the first confession obtained from Beck before he was told of his rights, the admission of a later statement and a photograph of an alleged reenactment constituted reversible error.

"The improper introduction of the confession obtained in violation of a constitutional right, compels reversal," the opinion said.

Judge Amos Jackson dissented from the majority opinion.

Beck was serving a 1-5 year term for escaping from the state farm at Putnamville when the stabbing occurred.

TRAVEL TOPICS

Many Sideshows Await A Visitor to HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Despite what you may have read, heard or seen, all Texans do not wear high-heeled boots, 10 gallon hats and six-shooters. All are not cattle barons or oil millionaires and there are more four-wheeled Mustangs on the range than the four-legged variety.

These are some of the surprises in store for visitors to HemisFair '68, the $156 million party San Antonio is throwing to celebrate its 250th birthday.

In fact, this birthplace of the Lone Star State is a fast-growing, sophisticated city with top-notch hotels, restaurants, shops and a swinging night life. And the fair has booked some of the world's top entertainers at the city's new Civic Center during its six-month run.

Other extras for fairgoers include the Alamo, preserved and restored Spanish missions and other historic sites in and near this beautiful city over which six flags have flown—French, Spanish, Mexican, Republic of Texas, Confederate States of America and the United States.

Each has left its mark but the Spanish-Mexican influence still predominates. San Antonio is a bilingual town. Much of its 670,000 population is Mexican-American, and Spanish is heard as frequently as English. Advertisements, menus, posters, etc. are printed in both English and Spanish.

The fair is located in the center of the city within easy walking distance of the elegant St. Anthony Hotel, where we stayed with other travel writers during the visit sponsored by Eastern Airlines. The non-stop flight from New York took about four hours.

Famous Alamo

The Alamo, where 188 Texans died in the bloody no-quarter battle with the 5,000-man Mexican Army under Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna in early 1836, lies only 200 yards from the fair grounds. Inside the weathered bare rock walls is an awe-inspiring shrine with flags and other mementoes of the gallant band of freedom fighters. Inscribed on brass plaques on walls are the names of those who fell, including Davy Crockett, Jim Bowie, Col. William Travis and one "John, Negro." The Alamo is open seven days a week and admission is free. No picture taking is permitted inside but you will want to snap ma, sis or junior outside so bring your cameras.

A few blocks away is the thick-walled Spanish Governors' Palace built in 1722 as residence and fort. The palace has been restored and furnished in old Spanish colonial style. Over the door is the Hapsburg coat of arms dated 1749. Moses Austin is believed to have won permission here in 1820 to establish the first American colony in Texas, then under Mexican rule.

It's only minutes by car to the San Jose Mission, built in 1720 with three-foot limestone walls. The cells inside the compound in which Indian converts lived, the granary and the mill have been preserved and services still are held in the restored chapel. Interesting also are the ruins of the old monastery. There are three other missions close by.

Americans buy London Bridge

By WILLIAM SUNDERLAND
LONDON (UPI)—First it was the Queen Mary. Then the Queen Elizabeth. Now, mates, the Yanks 'ave bought the bleedin' London Bridge itself.

The City of London said Tuesday the 136-year-old successor to the original "London Bridge is falling down" was sold to a group of unnamed Americans who will move it to an unannounced site in the United States.

Britons shook their heads in dismay.

"Why don't the Americans just make us the 51st state and that way they can have the whole lot without having to haul it across the Atlantic," said one Londoner.

In recent years they watched the "brain drain" of top scientists and saw pubs, Beatles, miniskirts and double decker buses shipped off to prosper in America.

Britain's proudest ocean liners, the Queens Mary and Elizabeth, went to U.S. entrepreneurs in Long Beach, Calif., and Philadelphia who will make them into hotels.

The announcement Tuesday did not mention a price or give any hint of who the purchasers were. Officials said details would be announced Thursday in London and New York.

The 130,000-ton bridge is, in truth, falling down.

More precisely it is sinking at the rate of eight inches a year into the muddy bottom of the River Thames and engineers could not stop it.

London's solution was to sell the span's 10,000 tons of outer blocks on the condition it be kept intact and not parceled out as souvenirs. Officials said they had 40 serious offers including the successful U.S. bid.

The bridge will be replaced in London with a wider structure to handle busy traffic.

The bridge stood at the same place for 136 years but records show a span has crossed the Thames at the same site for almost 1,000 years.

South Korea cautions U.S. on peace moves

By FRANK SWOBODA
HONOLULU (UPI) — President Park Chung Hee of South Korea, bearing tidings of Asian misgivings over current U.S. efforts to begin negotiating for peace in Vietnam, confers today with President Johnson.

Signs of conflicting views between the United States and its allies became apparent even before Park's arrival Tuesday night.

The South Korean leader, in a statement issued in Seoul Tuesday, warned "There is a limit to concessions and patience." U.S. officials in Hawaii immediately played down the remark.

They said there would be a "full exchange of views on the political and military situation in South Vietnam." At least one official admitted, however, that the United States was aware that "Park has his own views." South Korea's main worry, along with that of its neighbor allies, is that the United States is prepared to weaken, as a concession for peace in Vietnam, its firm stand against Communist aggression in Asia. Park has made it abundantly clear that South Korea, with 50,000 troops America's largest ally in Vietnam, would have to consider its own defenses first if Johnson diluted U.S. military commitments in Asia.

U.S. officials said the discussion would be divided into two main categories: the possibility of renewed North Korean aggression this spring and what the United States plans to do about it, and America's stance on a limit to concessions to bring about peace in Vietnam.

Guards fire shotgun volleys into 400 rioters

By RICHARD W. HATCH
RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Guards fired shotgun volleys from rooftops into 400 rioting inmates at North Carolina's Central Prison early today, killing five prisoners and wounding "a large number" of others.

Five officers were injured in the melee, which included hand-to-hand fighting in the prison courtyard.

Eight doctors were rushed to the prison before dawn to treat the wounded, some in serious condition.

The riot erupted from a sitdown strike by convicts Tuesday to back up demands for incentive pay for inmates in prison industries, hot lunches, more television privileges and extended visiting hours.

"I would call it an inmate uprising," said Corrections Commissioner Lee Bounds, who flew home from a hospital study tour in Maryland to take charge of the situation.

"The situation fully warranted opening fire and they fired completely in accord with instructions from me," said Bounds. He said the riot was put down within eight to 10 minutes after the gunfire.

Around half of the prison's 800 prisoners apparently took part in the riot, which raged in an interior courtyard roughly 100 yards on all sides. The rioters burned a building and then snatched up torches and hurled a "wall of fire" at guards.

Using makeshift weapons, the prisoners struggled with officers, armed with riot sticks and baseball bats, in a bloody battle in the courtyard. Some of the guards used police dogs.

Newsman were kept from the prison, but heard the burst of gunfire around 1:40 a.m. EST. Later, Bounds conducted newsmen on a tour of the prison battleground.

The courtyard was littered with garbage, debris, the ashes of bonfires and the hulk of a burned out shower building. Prison officials showed reporters sticks, pipes, rods, and other deadly-looking instruments they said the prisoners used to battle the guards.

Over 300 athletes to compete here

What has taken 27 years to build may be wiped out in three hours Saturday when DePauw University hosts its fourth annual invitational track meet.

Powerhouses from four state universities apparently are going to demolish at least nine of the records that Blackstock Stadium has accumulated since it was built in 1941.

Thirteen teams with 330 athletes are scheduled to compete in the 12:30 p.m. (CDT) meet. Among the favorites are defending champion Ball State (41 men), defending runnerup Indiana State (38), Eastern Illinois (23), and Illinois State (35).

Sending teams into events besides this quartet are Purdue University (15), the University of Louisville (15), Butler University (20), Millikin University (19), Oakland City College (14), Wabash College (25), Washington University (35), Vincennes University (26), and DePauw (23). Early season times and distances of the collegians indicate that 9 stadium marks are on the way out. Twelve meet records are likely to fall as seven defending individual champs return. It is a certainty that one new mark will be set. That will be in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, being run at DePauw for the first time.

Probably the most scintillating prospect for Saturday is the mile run. Ball State Coach Dick Clevenger is predicting that with the right combination of circumstances his ace miler David Kerr might turn in the elusive four minute mile.

Kerr already has stepped it off in 4:09. He'll get ample pushing from teammate Steve Lewark and Eastern's Phil Stirrett. Lewark has a 4:15.2 time and Stirrett a 4:16. The stadium record of 4:15.7 was set last year by Kerr.

There'll be plenty of excitement in the dashes too. Four men are under the meet record in the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Wauthier has :09.7, which ties the stadium mark. Wauthier also has a record-shattering :21.5 in the 220, but Al Surfus of Ball State has a :22.6.

Lewark appears certain to knock the two-mile mark into nearby Big Walnut Valley unless he breaks both legs. He's been timed in 8:57, some 33 seconds better than returning champion Chuck Koppen's 9:30.9.

All-American basketball star Wesley Unseld is back to work on his stadium and meet record of 162-10 1/2 in the discus. The University of Louisville athlete leads a 15-man UL entry. He appears to have little opposition unless it's Illinois State position unless it's Illinois State's Martin Bailey who has a 150-0 throw.

An odds-on choice to establish new stadium and meet records in the triple jump in Eastern's John Craft. Hewon All-American designation in the .A.I.A. nd as a puffy 50-11 3/4 leap to his credit, almost five feet beyond the existing mark. Butler's Gerry Woolfolk, Vincennes' Bob Churchwell and Washington's defending champ Adeyemi Wilson are above 45 feet.

Among the other stadium running marks likely to fall are the 440-yard dash, the 440-yard dash, the 440-yard relay, the 120-yard high hurdles, the 440-yard intermediate hurdles, and the 880-yard run.

Illinois State's Ron Zaeske poses a threat to the hurdle marks. He has a 14.8 in the highs, good for a tie, and a record-breaking :53.9 in the intermediate. Ball State's Kerr and DePauw's Scott Shafter are likely to duel for the 1:53 half mile mark. Both have been clocked in 1:54. On the basis of a :48.5 Indiana State's Errol White has to be the favorite in a certain-to-be-tight 440 dash.

Ed Henry of Vincennes returns to defend his meet broad jump mark of 22-8. He already has a 23-10 this year, but three other leapers have also reached 23-0. Leapers have also reached 23-0, including Craft, Arnold Giles of Illinois State and Bill Lightsey of Vincennes.

Indiana State apparently has a stranglehold on the high jump. Sycamore Ivory Giles has a 6-9 jump to his credit and teammate Elliott Williams of Greencastle is only an inch behind. The record is 6-8.

About the only things that are going to be safe from the assault are the pole vault of 15-6, the shot put (55-3), the javelin (201 feet), and the mile relay (3:18.9). All are stadium records.

A feature, as though the mass male assault on the records won't be enough, will be the exhibition run of 20-year-old codd Cherrie Bridges of Indiana State. She will run a competitive half-mile. She was a member of the US AAU women's cross country team that won the international championship in England last month.

According to DePauw's head track coach Bob Harvey, the following awards will be given

Card trackmen beaten by Monrovia speedsters

Fillmore met defeat at the hands of Monrovia's speedsters Tuesday evening as the Cards hosted the Bulldogs in a two-way meet, 35 1/2-81 1/2.

The Cards took only four firsts. Puckett clicked off the mile in 5:03.9 to capture a blue ribbon. Neumeister raced to a 11.7 first in the 100 yard dash. Pickett won the two mile in 11:51.1, Clark took first in the high jump event.

Lee May blasts Card hopes with single

Red Schoendienst played the percentages but failed to take account of the averages.

Thus the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, sound of mind and body, ordered pitcher Ron Willis to issue intentional passes to Vada Pinson and Tony Perez with a runner on third and one out in the 12th inning Wednesday night in Cincinnati.

The next batter, Lee May, carried a .500 average to the plate.

"Can you imagine," said an incredulous Bob Johnson in the Reds' dressing room after the game, "walking two batters to get to a .500 hitter?"

May took one swing and left the field with an average of .520, the tops among all National League regulars; the Reds left the field with a 4-3 victory and Schoendienst left the field second guessing himself.

May's bases-loaded single, his third hit and second run batted in of the game, marked the second time in two days he was the hero. The 25-year-old first baseman had four hits, including a run-producing single in the ninth inning, Tuesday as the

Windy Hill Lady golfers start season

"That wasn't a slice, the wind carried it," was a common excuse as the ladies of Windy Hill puffed their way around the first nine holes of the season.

The Windy Hill Women's Golf Association officially opened its playing season on Tuesday morning with a tournament and a luncheon.

Luncheon chairman, Jane Hughes, surprised the golfers with the added attraction of style show by Adler's Dress Shop. Flo Morrison, manager of Adler's, showed sixteen beautiful sports outfits appropriate to the golf course. The clothes were modeled by golfers Dorothy Ann Crawley, Margaret Corbin, and Betty Harmless. Door prizes from Adler's were won by Louise Collins, a sleepcoat; Wink Bryant, a shell; and Neil Crouch, a handbag.

Winners of the golf tournament were:

Class A Low net - Margaret Corbin 39, Vicki Terry 40.

Low Putts - Roberta Mc Cormick 13.

Class B Low net - Viva Schissler 39, Jane Coan 43.

Low Putts Tibby Eitel 16.

Class C Low net - Margy Anthony 46, Nancy Stevens 63, Barbara Douglas 63.

Low Putts Wilma Proctor 19.

Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-8.

Three Home Wins

The Pittsburgh Pirates, Philadelphia Phillies and New York Mets each won their home openers. The Pirates drubbed Houston 13-4, the Phils edged Los Angeles 3-2 and the Mets blanked San Francisco 3-0. In the other National League game, Atlanta blanked Chicago 2-0.

Baltimore ruined the Athletics' debut in Oakland with a 4-1 victory, Detroit topped Cleveland 4-3 in 10 innings, Minnesota mauled Washington 13-1, Boston handed Chicago its fifth straight defeat 2-0 and New York nipped California 3-2 in American League play.

Greencastle linksmen undefeated

Greencastle High School's golf team ran their record to an unblemished 4-0 mark at Terre Haute's Rea park yesterday. The Cubs defeated Wiley 6 1/2-3 1/2; Honey Creek 6 1/2-3 1/2; and Brazil 7-3. Brazil defeated Wiley 6-4 and Honey Creek 6-4. Honey Creek stopped Wiley 9-1.

Dan Mont of Greencastle remained undefeated as he shot a 39 in the nine hole match to tie for medalist honors for the day. Rob Lyon, Greencastle's number 2 man, also won as he fired a fine 40 over the cold and wet course.

The big story for Greencastle, however, was Rick Bundy, Bundy, playing in his first varsity match, wrapped up the victories with a fine 40. Clark Finkbinder, the fourth man shot a 42 to win 2 points. Kirk Hammond picked up one point with his 44.

Greencastle's next match is with Shulte and State at Terre Haute's Rea Park on Friday.

Clark critical of Mayor Daley

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The racial unrest smoldering in the nation's cities could be dangerously escalated if police are allowed to shoot to kill or maim arsonists and looters, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark warned Wednesday.

In an indirect clash with Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago over his controversial order to his police force to shoot looters and arsonists, Clark said that if police "overact" with excessive violence during civil disorders, it would force more blacks to adopt "terrorist and guerrilla tactics."

While Clark, speaking at a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) here, warned against use of deadly force except in extreme circumstances, Daley Wednesday was reiterating his order to shoot to kill arsonists and "shoot to maim or cripple" looters.

Although Daley did not retreat from his hard line, his statement to the city council was couched in milder terms than his bitter off-the-cuff criticism of his own police Monday for not using tougher tactics against rioters.

"There can be no possible justification of a deliberate criminal act which results in helpless and homeless victims of a holocaust," the mayor said.

"Men poised with Molotov cocktails, incendiaries or fire bombs of any kind are the same as the assassins who pulled the triggers on the guns that killed the Rev. Martin Luther King and the late President John F. Kennedy,"

Clark, asked directly about Daley's get-tough order, warned it could heighten tension in the ghettos. "I do not believe that the use of deadly force by law enforcement officers is permissible except in self defense or when it is necessary to protect the lives of others," he said.

Britons mourn RAF pioneer

LONDON (UPI)—Britons today mourned the death of Royal Air Force pioneer Sir John "Tails Up" Maitland Salmond, one of those responsible, in Winston Churchill's praise, for the few to whom so many owed so much in World War II's aerial battle of Britain.

The air marshal died Tuesday at the age of 86, his uniform covered with the kingdom's honors.

Salmond, one of Britain's first military pilots, led an RAF squadron in to the birth of aerial combat in the opening days of World War I. He pioneered air photography. He developed bombing.

By war's end he commanded all RAF squadrons battling Germany in France, besting such German pilots as the "Red Baron" von Richthoven and Hermann Goering. Salmond occupied postwar Iraq solely with warplanes, no troops. He battled meager budgets before World War II to develop the nucleus of the force that bested the Nazi Luftwaffe in the blitzkrieg year of 1940.

Benham said there was no evidence of foul play. The remains were found Monday.

On the Farm Front

UPI Farm Editor WASHINGTON (UPI) — Corn growers who enrolled in the government acreage control program this year may get a 19 to 20 per cent bonus in return for each bushel they produce.

An Agriculture Department report today indicates the bonus in recent years has ranged from 13 to 20 per cent. Last year it was 19 per cent, and this year it may increase if production drops as expected while government payment rates to farmers remain unchanged.

Under the government's feed grain program, farmers who comply with acreage controls are entitled to federal price support payments. In 1967, for example, producers received support payments averaging 20 cents for each bushel produced by participants in the program.

Farmers who ignored the control program in 1967 received, according to government estimates, an average market price of $1.07 for each bushel of corn they produced.

Farmers who complied with controls, however, received the $1.07 market price plus the 20-cent government payment for a total of $1.27, or 19 per cent above returns to growers who remained outside the control program.

In 1966, a government study shows producers who limited their output received $1.24 per bushel for corn from the open market plus an average of 25 cents in government support payments for a $1.49 total. This was 20 per cent more than the $1.24 return to growers who did not comply with controls.

For 1968, the gap between returns to farmers with or without the support payments was considered likely to be somewhere between the 1966 and 1967 figures. This is because planted acreage is down this year and may result in a smaller crop with market prices between the 1966 and 1967 levels.

The Agriculture Department said today dairy farmers in all federal milksheds regulated by federal milk marketing orders will be asked to vote soon on a government proposal to keep minimum fluid milk prices at current levels through April, 1969.

The proposal, initially announced March 20, would keep in effect a 20 cent increase in price differentials for bottling milk in all federal order milksheds except those in Florida. The Florida price situation is being considered separately.

Approval of the proposal was considered a virtual certainty since rejection would allow the 20 cent increase to expire and thus would lead to lower prices for farmers. The Agriculture Department had said the higher price levels were needed to help farmers meet rising costs.

In contact

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—U.N. Secretary General Thant is in contact with the Hanoi government, presumably to help select a site for preliminary peace talks, his spokesman said today.

Thant, widely suggested as a possible third party to seek agreement on a site, discussed the situation at length with U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg Tuesday, the spokesman said.

Thant told newsmen last Saturday he had mentioned Paris along with Geneva, New Delhi, Rangoon, Vientiane and Phnom Penh during his talks in Paris last week with Mai Van Bo, North Vietnam's ranking diplomat in the West.

The spokesman said Thant "is in touch" with Hanoi through "the usual channels" which the secretary general has never disclosed.

More than 42,000 operas are known to have been composed.

Offending mail can be curbed

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail. Postmaster C.T. Albin said today in announcing plans for administering a new law which gives each family the right to decide that an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mail is offensive on these grounds, a patron can now ask the post office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists he owns, controls or rents.

To assist patrons, the Post Office Department has published a brief pamphlet—"How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements" which is now available at the Greencastle post office. In addition to explaining how the law works, the pocket-size leaflet contains a form letter one can use when sending his complaint to the post office.

The pamphlet explains that when a patron receives an advertisement which is, in his opinion, pandering, he must send the ad, its envelope and the form letter, or one which includes its language, to his post office with the words, "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of the envelope.

Postmaster Albin said: "This new law should give some protection to American families offended by advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children."

"Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While in most cases the ads were not legally obscene and were therefore mailable, they are often offensive and are usually not the type of material one would want his children to read," Postmaster Albin said.

He added that "because the law gives a mail patron the sole right to decide what is offensive, and does not deny others the right to receive the same mail, the Congress felt it does not violate Constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech."

While the patron's complaint will only be directed to the sender, Postmaster Albin believes that one or two complaints will provide substantial protection because "the great bulk of this advertising comes from fewer than 20 so-called 'smut dealers' who are frequently swapping mailing lists."

If a mailer does not strike a complainant's name from his mailing list, and the patron receives a second mailing 30 days after the firm has received the prohibitory order, he may bring the matter to the attention of the postmaster issuing the initial order by writing him and enclosing the second pandering ad with its envelope. If the mailer still fails to respect the order, the Postmaster General may ask the Attorney General to apply for a Federal Court order directing compliance. Failure to respect the order may be punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

Sees no sign of U.S. de-escalation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford said today he has seen "no indications" of any Communist de-escalation of the war since the United States curtailed its bombing of North Vietnam.

Since President Johnson's March 31 speech placing most of North Vietnam—including Hanoi and Haiphong—off limits to U.S. warplanes, U.S. officials have watched for any sign of a reduction in Communist military activities.

"I know of no indications of any de-escalation on their part up to this time," Clifford told newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base before leaving for a NATO conference at The Hague.

Clifford said he believed Hanoi was forced to reduce the size of its force in the Khe Sanh area because the pressure of U.S. air and fire power was making the siege "wholly untenable."

Asked about reports that in the last few days Khe Sanh has again come under enemy fire, Clifford said: "Gen. (William) Westmoreland has the situation under control."

Clifford also said there are no plans to bring more U.S. troops home from Europe than the 34,000 scheduled to return this year.

"It is possible in the future that we will want to consider other changes but I believe that for the time being that's the only decision that has been made," he said.

Final contract—six spades.

Opening lead—king of hearts.

I was playing in a rubber bridge game many years ago with one of the best known players in the world as my partner, and we suffered the humilation of winning only one trump trick although we had the A-K-J-9 of trumps between us.

I know this sounds impossible,

but, actually, the trump setup was such that the same thing could have happened to anyone.

Declarer had six trumps to the eight and dummy had the

Q-10-x. When declarer led a low trump toward dummy, my illustrious partner, who had the K-J-9 and shall be nameless, played the king. I was forced to win the king with the ace, and that was the only trump trick

we got.

I am reminded of this by today's hand where declarer lost only one trump trick with the opponents having the A-Q-J-9-2 of trumps! I am much impressed by the hand because it seems to me that the declarer in this case scored an even more colorful victory than my opponent accomplished against me 10! these many years ago.

Be that as it may, South arrived at six spades, as the result of a bidding sequence too dreadful to publish. West led the king of hearts and South was faced with the impossible task of making six spades.

But declarer, not one to give up easily, concocted a clever scheme that brought home the bacon. He won the heart lead with the ace and cashed the ace of diamonds, acting very much like a man with the singleton ace. He then led a low trump towards dummy at trick three.

West could not bear the thought of South's getting rid of his (presumed) heart losers

on dummy's K-Q of diamonds, so he climbed up with the ace of trumps and tried to cash his queen of hearts. South ruffed, and that was the end of the party. A good time was had by all.

Four are murdered

DEL RIO, Tex. (UPI)—Four persons were found dead along a two-mile stretch of highway today in what the Texas Department of Public Safety called apparent mass murder. Two children, one shot and one stabbed, were found alive but in critical condition and officers said a seventh person was missing.

The Val Verde County sheriff's office at Del Rio said the bodies of a man, two women and a baby, beaten and stabbed, were discovered about 8 a.m. about 58 miles north of Del Rio and south of Sonora, Tex. The area is in southwest Texas near the Mexican border.

The two surviving children were found with the fourth body near U.S. Highway 277 at the entrance to the Lee Whitehead Ranch. Officers said another woman was believed to have been with the group but was still missing.

The Del Rio DPS office said a hitchhiker was picked up several hours later but was not considered a suspect. County and state officers including Texas Rangers, had roadblocks up throughout the area.

lighter side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As vices go, smoking is for most of the world a fairly modern fable, dating only back to the 16th Century.

Evidence recently uncovered in a prehistoric cave in Wyoming shows, however, that American Indians were smoking pipes 4,000 years ago.

According to the National Geographic Society, which helped finance the excavation, "experts are trying to determine whether tobacco or some other plant was burned in the pipes."

"Indians traditionally smoked red willow, slippery elm bark, and kinnikinnick—the bark and leaves of sumac or dogwood," the society says.

Who Was First

After I read this item, I lit up a cigar, which smelled a bit like burning sumac, and soon found myself musing over a question the answer to which is lost forever in the mists of antiquity—namely, how did those Indians happen to start smoking in the first place?

Smoking, as you know, is an acquired habit rather than a natural function. Someone had to be the first to try it, and all subsequent smokers have him to blame.

What could have caused him to take that fateful first puff?

The most logical supposition is that it came about accidentally.

A couple of Indians were sitting around a campfire and one of them picked up a slippery elm twig that was smoldering on one end.

He put the other end in his mouth to dislodge a piece of buffalo meat that was stuck between his teeth, and in doing so he chance to inhale some of the smoke.

"Say," he exclaimed, taking another drag, "That's what I call springtime fresh!"

Competition Arises

His curious behavior was observed by the second Indian,

who then pulled a sumac branch from the fire, stripped off a piece of bark and lighted it with a hot coal.

"Ummmmmm," he said, "Su-

mac tastes good like kinnikinnick should."

They puffed along in silence for seven minutes, then the first

Indian turned to his companion and asked: "Why don't you try some of that dogwood?"

"Us sumac smokers would rather fight than switch," the second Indian said.

"Well," the first Indian said,

"I find that I've been smoking more but enjoying it less. So I think I'll change to red willow.

It's a silly millimeter longer."

"The length doesn't matter," the second Indian said. "It's what's up front that counts."

When last seen, the first

Indian was walking a mile for a willow limb.

Five military men are charged with spying

MOSCOW (UPI)—Five U.S. military attaches have been caught spying to gather intelligence data near a Soviet army camp and shipyard, the government newspaper Izvestia said tonight. It said a tall Canadian who could peek over fences as a lookout was implicated.

Both the American and Canadian embassies disputed the charges. A U.S. statement said the Izvestia article was "replete with distortions and inaccuracies" and violated the accepted international norms for the treatment of diplomats.

Canada called the charge "unfounded."

The U.S. embassy disclosed it had formally protested Monday to the Soviet Foreign Ministry against the incident. The Canadian embassy said it received an official protest from the Foreign Ministry today complaining about the activities of one of its Royal Canadian Air Force officers.

There was no immediate report the six men would be expelled from Russia, the usual custom in such an incident. All were at large under diplomatic immunity.
