In memoriam

In loving memory of Everett Kendall, who passed away five years ago, August 10. Deeply missed by Wife and Family.

In memoriam

In memory of John Hood, who passed away August 11, 1967. The blow was hard, the shock severe. We never realized death was so near. Only those who lost can tell. The pain of parting without farewell. The Family.

Band camp Sept. 4

LAFAYETTE - Approximately two-thirds of this year's freshman additions to the Purdue University bands will attend the annual Band Leadership Camp Sept. 4-7 on the Lafayette campus.

The camp will enable freshman musicians to become familiar with university band procedures and to meet band officers and staff. Bandsmen will prepare for their first marching performance Sept. 21 at the Purdue-Virginia football game.

Prospective majorettes have also been invited to take part in camp activities to prepare for Sept. 11 tryouts.

Dreams Do Come True!

How clever! For the tiny price of a cornice and enough inexpensive chintz for draperies and duster you can work sheer decorator magic! Repeat the floral color in full strength within the curtained area, hang her photo mounted in a decorative white frame to match furniture for contrast, add matching area rugs and presto, an ordinary room is transformed into a teen-age princess dream! Creating a home which expresses you is not easy. Although we're quick with suggestions to work decorating wonders everything calls for a plan. The total effect depends upon perfect coordination and we invite you to ask our assistance without obligation. We'll gladly provide a hazardless background to show you step-by-step the functional beautiful home of your dreams. It's good to know, too, that our complete selection of the finest in quality and fashion costs you no more.

Bible Thought

The Lord is far from the wicked, but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. --Proverbs 15:29.

God is as near as we invite Him to be. Some would be embarrassed to have Him too near.

Fincastle news

Friends and relatives from here called at the Whitaker Funeral Home in Greencastle and attended the funeral of Frank Bridges last week. Mr. Bridges was reared in the community and has two brothers, Earl Bridges and Perle Bridges, living near here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mandleco and daughter, Carolyn, attended their family reunion in Frankfort, Sunday.

People from this community turned our well last week for the county fair and many 4-H members brought home top ribbons.

Mrs. James Carroll and daughters, Vickie and Janice, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Mary Virginia Clodfelter, Mr. and Mrs. Damon Lawrence and sons, Stewart and Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bill Brothers and children, John, Bill, Jim, Ronnie and Rebecca Jo, and Mrs. Maude Brothers called on Mrs. Clodfelter in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lang are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bordon and Mrs. Nancy Rieke.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Frysbylskie visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grider over the weekend.

Mrs. Laura Fosker visited Mrs. Maude Brothers, Sunday afternoon.

Museum has first closing in years

NEW YORK (UPI) - A strike of guards and maintenance employees closed the Museum of Modern Art Thursday for the first time in its 40-year history. Vincent D. McDonnell, state mediation board chairman, reported a "complete impasse" in negotiations between the museum and the Service Employees International Union which has been working without a contract since June 30. He said no meetings are scheduled.

"They are simply too far apart," McDonnell said.

The union is seeking a $25 a week pay raise for 54 museum employees who currently earn $92 for a 37½ hour work week.

Joseph Chapman, museum administrator, said the men had been offered "a very fair wage, one that was within the standards and guidelines suggested by President Johnson."

Sunday proclaimed just for family

Special To The Banner President Lyndon B. Johnson recently proclaimed that Sunday, Aug. 11, should be designated as "Family Reunion Day."

The project was spearheaded by Kiwanis International.

The contents of the proclamation signed by the President of the United States follows:

Since the founding of the Republic, the American family has been a source of individual strength and national stability.

These are times, however, that test the unity of family life. Progress--social, economic, and technological--has brought with it new mobility that tends to separate the members of affluent families.

For millions of other Americans, poverty, discrimination and the spiritual deprivation of slum life have strained the cohesion of family units past the breaking point. Many a young appointment

WASHINGTON (UPI) - William F. Hausman, a native of Indianapolis, has been appointed deputy assistant to the secretary of national security affairs, acting Treasury Secretary Joseph Barr announced Wednesday.

Hausman, 54, will assist Raymond J. Albright, principal adviser to Secretary Henry H. Fowler, on national security matters.

Before his appointment, Hausman was an assistant director for the Commerce Department.

people are growing up without the shaping example of a firm, responsible, and caring male in the household. There are strength within almost all families, whether or not headed by a father; but history and instinct tell us that a society that does not encourage responsible fatherhood will pay for its failure in later generations. For that reason, action to extend job opportunities, to improve education and housing, and to end discrimination in all its forms is vital to stronger family life and ultimately to a more just and peaceful nation.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, LYNDON B. JOHNSON, President of the United States of America, pursuant to Seante Joint Resolution 165, do hereby designate Sunday, Aug. 11, 1968, as Family Reunion Day, and I urge all the people of the United States to support those actions that will strengthen the American family, and to celebrate this day with such ceremonies as will re-emphasize our continuing belief that family life is the highest and most enduring product of our civilization.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety-third.

Card of thanks

The family of Frank Woods wishes to acknowledge with deep appreciation the kindness, sympathy, food and beautiful floral tributes extended by our relatives, friends and neighbors in our time of bereavement. We especially wish to thank Dr. Elliott, the ministers and the Weaver Funeral Home for their kind services rendered and to all who assisted in any way. The Family of Frank Woods.

Card of thanks

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation for kindness, sympathy and many beautiful floral tributes extended by our relatives, friends and neighbors in the passing of our beloved sister, Mary Gilmore. We also wish to thank Dr. Ernst and the Donna Nursing Home, the Rev. Clarence Barr for his comforting message, the pallbearers, the organist, and the Whitaker Funeral Home for thoughtful and understanding service.

The Family of Mary Gilmore.

Card of thanks

We wish to thank friends, relatives and neighbors for expressions of sympathy, floral offerings and other courtesies received at the passing of our beloved husband and father, Roscoe Wells. Wife and Family.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety-third.

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE:

How do you clean the vent in the ceiling of a travel trailer? That's the little window on top with the screen and glass cover that opens to let the air out.

Henry

Henry, believe it or not—and my name is not Ripley—I do have the answer.

DON'T touch it with any liquid or solvent.

Take a dry, old terrycloth washrag and gently wipe in one direction ONLY. Be sure and hold a newspaper beneath it. All of the lint and dust that has adhered to the screen will roll off like bullets.

I just serve the sandwiches tucked halfway into a bag and all the "drippings" fall back into the bag.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Isn't it enjoyable to have company? But, oh, how wonderful it is when they leave!

Am I getting old and set in my routine?

S.

DEAR HELOISE: Eureka! I just discovered my electric deep-fat fryer can serve another purpose blanching my fresh garden vegetables and fruit!

The basket more than holds a pound of vegetables and the fryer holds a gallon of water. The water boils so rapidly after plunging the vegetables into the already boiling water and makes this procedure so much faster and easier.

Just remember when doing your blanching to start counting time after the water boils.

Try it and you'll agree it's great.

Mrs. Robert Maxfield

DEAR HELOISE: Can you tell me if it is wise to dump coffee grains in the sink? For years I've heard conflicting stories on this and would really like to know the right answer.

E. A. Shaffer

DEAR HELOISE: So would I! Come on. Some plumber's wife can surely get the answer from her husband and let us know. PLEASE!

Just write to me in care of this paper.

DEAR HELOISE: After I remove my sleeveless dresses that have cloth belts, I take the belt buckle and fasten it through the armhole.

Then I am not searching through the closet or belt rack for the belt to match that dress when I need it.

G. D.

Age 11

DEAR HELOISE: I liked the hint on making a toilet brush holder out of a coffee can, but I improved on it a little by using two one-pound coffee cans.

I removed the top and bottom from one can and taped it on top of another can with only the top cut off. Then I covered this two-deep can with a pretty yellow pattern of adhesive-backed plastic and cut a hole in a plastic lid for the brush handle to come through.

A piece of foil in the bottom of the can retards rusting.

Wabash Valley map available

A map of the Wabash Valley at a scale of 1 inch to 7.5 miles is now available through the Wabash Valley Interstate Commission.

The map focuses on the Wabash Basin and includes contiguous portions of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, and Ohio. Physical features, drainage, topography, and forest cover; and cultural features, federal, state, and local highways, railroads, cities and towns, etc., are depicted on the 3 by 4 foot multi-colored map. The map was produced by adaptation of a composite of individual maps covering the Basin published by the U.S. Army Map Service.

The nine-color map is available for sale from the Commission's office, 302 Rea Building, Terre Haute, Indiana, 47301.
