MARSHAL STARR'S

Close Call—Everett Bourne, of Chisel-town, Pays Greencastle His Usual Pleasant Visit.

The DEMOCRAT has freely criticised some of Marshal Starr's official acts, but has never charged that he lacked courage. He gave an exhibition of his nerve Sunday afternoon when he closed in on a man who was firing at him with a revolver at a distance of a few paces. He had left his own gun at home in the bureau drawer with his tobacco, but had his rabbit's foot with him and came off lucky.

Everett Bourne, of Coatsville, a mild mannered and gentlemanly young fellow when sober, but a dangerous demon when drunk, again visited South Greencastle on Sunday. He paid his respects to the Four Hundred of Keightleytown, made things hum wherever he called and terrorized the elite by firing off his revolver. Marshal Starr happened along in the afternoon and attempted to arrest Bourne, whom he met on the common opposite Charley Lueteke's bakery.

Bourne backed off exclaiming "—you, if you try to arrest me I'll kill you!" Starr ran in on the desperado, trying to get within striking distance of him with his cane. Bourne fired three shots rapidly, one of the bullets striking Starr in the left hip. It passed through his heavy overcoat and clothing, glanced off and raised a black bruise over the groin larger than a man's hand. Although pursued by a posse of citizens and Officers Donnohue and Starr far into the country, Bourne got a good start and thus effected his escape. He is still at large. It will be remembered that only a short time ago it required the entire police force, part of the fire department, an omnibus and some of the colored troops to land Bourne in jail, who had raised a row at the Vandalia depot. He is a terror.

A Big Time at Otse Wickup.

The Jicarilla Apaches of Otse Tribe of Redmen are a soft-spoken set of warriors when they wash off their war paint and entertain their lady and gentlemen friends at their receptions. As usual, their annual celebration on Monday evening was a success both from a literary and social standpoint. The hall was crowded when Major W. H. H. Cullen called for order. He delivered an entertaining address which was well prepared and read in a most masterly and witty style. Misses Stella Grubb and Pearl Stoner, two of our sweetest singers, rendered vocal selections. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour at the rooms of the Hiawatha Club, and then the proud swashes escorted the squaws and maidens to their respective wigwams while they listened to many compliments on the pleasant manner in which Otse entertained.

Of Interest to Greencastle Merchants.

The Monon people are going to distribute a book giving a complete history of all the resources and industries of their vast system. The city of Greencastle will have a proper representation in the work. With its railroad facilities it should show its advantages to prospective investors, and the aim of the work will be to show just what advantages the city of Greencastle possesses. Messrs. S. J. Hamilton and J. S. Dunn are now in the city in the interest of the work.

SOUTH GREENCASTLE.

Pat Donnohue, of everywhere, is home on a visit.

Miss Ella King has been very ill with the measles.

The relatives of the late Patrick Martin desire to return thanks to the friends who attended the funeral ceremony at Indianapolis and for other kindnesses.

Wanted—A policeman in this end. We are getting tired of being annoyed by visiting delegations of toughs from the little towns of Putnam and Hendricks counties and the too frequent calls of tramp cracksmen.

The funeral of Patrick Martin occurred from St. John's church, Indianapolis, on the morning of March 30. Mike Curran, Dan O'Connell, Frank Riley, Mike Downs and John Cawley, Jr., of this city; Dennis Downs, of Terre Haute, and Tom Downs, of Brazil, were in attendance. The deceased was 38 years and a few days old. He was well liked by all his acquaintances and is remembered in Greencastle as a clever and upright man.

INTERROGATION POINTS

Of Local Interest to Greencastilians—They Would Like to Know

If the fruit is all killed?

If that North End tunnel isn't just the thing and now's the time to give work to the unemployed?

If it would not be a good thing for the city to own its own electric light plant?

If Councilman Blake has designs on the county now that his services have been dispensed with in the city council?

When the new Christian church will be built?

If the stock ordinance is enforced without fear, favor or affection, and if not why not?

Why Councilman Randal's reform ordinances were not adopted?

If "our Chawley," who wants to go to Congress, would need a chaperon or duenna when at Washington as badly as "Little Willie" of Kentucky?

What councilman will champion the demand for a city market house by the unemployed?

If a financial exhibit wouldn't be of interest to the city taxpayers at this time?

If it wouldn't be a good idea to change April 14 from "convention" to "all fools' day"?

If the school board will make some needed changes in the city schools?

Why Greencastle is without a telephone exchange?

If another building boom is in store for Greencastle this year?

If the college chapter houses are truly moral and only frequented by the truly good?

If the times do not demand a union of all parties in opposition to the city ring?

If Postmaster Neff's second administration will be distinguished by the inauguration of the free delivery system in Greencastle?

They Will Have Nice Shoes.

You will be surprised at the number of fine shoes I am getting in now. And you will be still more surprised at the way they are going out. Most people have come to the conclusion that they can't well go barefooted even in these hard times and are coming after their shoes just as though they expected to continue wearing them.

Well, as I said before, you will be surprised when you see how many different styles we have and how nice they are.

When I tell you that I have the largest stock of fine shoes in the city, and give you better shoes than you can buy elsewhere for the same price, I simply state a fact which you can't help but see when you come to examine. I intend to keep a larger stock this year than ever before.

Very respectfully,
P. R. CHRISTIE.
