The Evening Gazette

FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1872.

City and Neighborhood.

REV. JAMES HILL and wife have returned from Chicago.

W. W. CURRY and John B. Stoll, have been discussing the issues of the day today.

FATHER GAVAZZI is at Indianapolis, and we understand will be here on the 23d inst.

DAN VOORHEES' name appears at the head of the GAZETTE columns to-day for the first time.

REV. R. S. TENNANT, of this city, will address the Farmersburg Soldiers' reunion and picnic.

DEMOCRATIC County Convention at the Court House, this city, 1 o'clock P.
M. to-morrow, Saturday.

OUR fellow-citizen, Col. Wm. E. Mc-Lean, was selected as Elector for this district, at Spencer, yesterday.

THE GAZETTE compositors "set up" the lengthy speech of Mr. Voorhees yesterday in less than four hours.

EVERYBODY eagerly perused the Spencer speech of Mr. Voorhees, in the columns of the Evening GAZETTE of yesterday.

TOM LANGFORD's friends are hard at work, and all think will be the winner in the nominating Convention to-morrow, for Sheriff.

THE Union Depot enlargement at Indianapolis will not be commenced before the sale of the Junction road, which will occur in September.

DR. MAHAN's wife and daughters, Mollie and Ida, are en route to California's sea girl shores, where lives the wild Pacific waves.

WE knew Mr. Voorhees would be nominated at Spencer yesterday; hence we published his speech in advance of all other papers in the country.

ENOCH RIGGS' variety store, at a small station on the Terre Haute and Danville division of the T. H. & C. R. R., was destroyed by fire the other evening. Loss, $2,500, no insurance.

JOHN GODFREY reposed his weary head on the iron steps of a city building, yesterday evening, was "treated" to the Station House by the muscular Chief of Police, where he now abides.

POLITICS, as says the Rev. W. W.
Curry in his political sermon, is the business of the American people; hence we make it our business to give pretty extended notices of all political movements and meetings.

HERR, of the Brazil Miner, mourns for a new title which he lost from his head while peering out of a Vandalia car window, near Indianapolis, Wednesday. He says he would give something to see that hat once more.

THE case of the State vs. Sullivan, wherein Sullivan, of Sugar Creek, is charged with provoking, called together the usual crowd at Squire Dennie's room. Dunnigan and Davis are the opposing counsel.

BILLY NEWCOMB, who recently appeared in this city as manager of the former Manning Minstrels, was arrested in Louisville the other day on a charge of gaming. The charge grew out of his having distributed prizes to his auditors.

JOHN LINK was up before the Mayor this noon, on a charge of disorderly conduct, which charge, on investigation, was dismissed. He is to have another hearing on the charge of malicious trespass, it being thought that he threw a stone through the residence of mail

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.
What Was Done at the Fair Grounds Yesterday.
As we announced to the readers of the GAZETTE in our issue of yesterday, a large crowd was righteously humbugged at the Fair Ground. To-day we learn the full particulars of the humbugging and attendant disgraceful and riotous proceedings, which we lay before our readers.
About 9 o'clock, Touts' Band were driven through the streets in a bandwagon, attended by several men arrayed, as they doubtless thought, in the garb of Comanche Chiefs. This novel turnout paraded awhile, then repaired to the Fair Grounds, followed and preceded by a crowd of bad boys, dead-beat men and fallen women. Arriving at the grounds, it was soon discovered that the aboriginals (?) were in a semi-state of bestial intoxication, and that those who attended would, without doubt, realize their expectation of being well humbugged.
To begin the day's doings, three small boys ran a "blind race," for a prize of $5. The winner, with a generosity worthy a better occasion, used the money to purchase whisky, on which all three of them got drunk.
Next on the programme, was expected a fierce encounter between Indians and a ferocious bovine. Three men, who were very thinly disguised as Indians, appeared to perform the part of the savages in the bovine battle; but no sooner had they done so than, a man present, snatched their arms from them, yelling as he did so, "Whoop, big Injin," and at the same time telling them that they were to be mobbed if they did not leave the grounds at once. Two of them here left quite rapidly, and the other would have done likewise had he not been too drunk. After sobering a little he did endeavor to do so, but was pounced upon by a mob of masculine youths, from the age of 7 to 12 years, and completely stripped of all his clothing.
The next game announced was a gander pulling, in which a gander was hung up, and a prize of $5 offered to the man who would pull the head off the bird while galloping past on a horse. The unfortunate and disgraced gander hanged there a short time, and was finally taken down and turned loose by some humanitarian disciple of Henry Bergh.
At this point, many of the men, boys and women present were exceedingly drunk, and commenced a miscellaneous fight among themselves, rushing pell mell on to the man who stood at the gate to sell tickets, demanding the refunding of their money. They were a little too late, however, as one of the managers was ahead of them, had secured the greater part of the ticket money, and had absconded. The ticket man refunded as long as the money held out, and then sought safety in precipitate flight. During all this time, the police were vainly endeavoring to restore order, in which laudable effort they were finally successful, expelling the crowd from the grounds which they disgraced.
The whole transaction, from beginning to end, was a fraud and a burning shame to the good name and fair fame of the fair grounds, the city, and all concerned, except the police, and we hope never will again occur. We understand that Jim Red and Clay Allen are of the fellow to whom the people of this county are indebted for this day of disgust and disgrace.
The boasted bovine advertisement, was a hoax, raised as a pet by some children in Maxville and trained by them to battle with his hornless head, having had his antlers severed from his head by his owner to prevent his hurting the children.
All our sympathies in this affair are for the unfortunate bovine juvenile, because we sincerely believe that it would have kept better company than the above-named, had it enjoyed the privilege of choosing.

WE learn that the Indiana & Illinois Central Railroad is completed so far as through the eastern limits of Douglas county, Illinois, from Decatur. There is every indication that this enterprise will yet be consummated under the present able management. While it will not prove beneficial to Terre Haute, only as a connection of Terre Haute roads, we hope those now managing the movement will be successful; for it is our sincere pleasure to see our vast and beautiful country developed, thus adding to our importance as a nation and our prominence as a great people.

If the Rev. Mr. Browne, the Cincinnati clergyman, who shot and killed a twelve-year-old boy, on Sunday, on suspicion of trespass, is acquitted on the charge of murder, the St. Louis Democrat hopes he will be severely dealt with for Sabbath breaking. It may have been no crime to shoot and kill the boy, but he killed him on Sunday, breaking the holy calm of the Sabbath with the hoarse bellowing of his ungodly shotgun. Mr. Brown is clearly guilty of un-ministerial conduct in killing the boy on Sunday, instead of putting it off till Monday.

ROUTE AGENT CHAS. SMITH, of the Evansville & Crawfordsville line, tells us that the southern part of Indiana, along the line of this road, was flooded nearly before last by one of the heaviest rain storms that has ever visited that section of the country. He also says that it has been raining, with but short intermissions, throughout Tennessee, for two weeks, and that the crops are almost destroyed, while bridges have been swept away and in some cases houses inundated.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel of this morning pays the following deserved compliment to one of our well-known citizens: Colonel McLean is a forcible speaker, and makes his points with a clearness that leaves no doubt upon them.

The Col. will take a prominent part in the politics of the State during the campaign, and we feel that he will make his power and influence felt throughout, and that he will add much to the general result in favor of reform.

BLACKBERRIES are selling at 12 1/2 cents per gallon at Bedford, this State.—Rockville Patriot.

They are selling on our streets to-day

We neglected to state in our issue of yesterday that John Smith and Samuel Brown disagreed about a game of euchre, and could only agree to settle the matter, as fools settle difficulties, by fighting it out. This they did, and we owe them an apology for not having so stated it yesterday.

A MAN alleged to have the smallpox was precipitately fled from, by an owl-eyed ex-Marshall, this morning, on Ohio street. It was suggested that some one follow the fellow, to see where he went.
The s. p. patient had no followers on all that great street.

M. C. Ryan will have a fine lot of fresh Fish on sale to-day and to-morrow. All kinds and quantities. 19d1

For a handsome and stylish Parasol, go Foster Brothers. They are closing out their entire stock of these goods at cost price. 19d1 your money's worth read W. S. Ryce & Co's advertisement of Hosiery, and then go and buy before all are sold. 19d1

Who is this Overholtz, Balding & Co.?— They are pretty much the same as the balance of mankind. The only noticeable difference is, they are doing more for the human family just now than any other firm—especially this hot weather—in selling them Linens, Lawns, Percales, White Goods, Fans, White Skirts, and all other summer goods, at much less prices than you can buy them anywhere this side of the Rocky Mountains. South side Main street, 89, 89, 89. 19d1

Wanted.—House of five or six rooms, not more than five squares from Main, and east of Sixth street. Address, box 2033, postoffice. 19d2

To Grocers.—Fifty kegs choice Sable Butter for sale. No. 4 Dowling Hall.
18d2 J. McMAHAN.

Auction of Marble and Alabaster Statuary.
Sig. S. Topi would inform the citizens of this city and vicinity that he will have on exhibition, at the room in Ross' Block, South Fifth street, lately occupied by Anton Shide's Musical Institute, on Friday, July 19, an elegant collection of Marble and Alabaster Statuary, embracing some of the finest gems of art ever placed on exhibition in this city. The public are cordially invited to inspect the collection.

On Friday evening, the sale of these goods will commence AT AUCTION, presents an opportunity seldom offered for the purchase of such choice works of art.
GEO. A. HAYWARD & CO., 17d3 Auctioneers.

D. H. Wright's New Grand Central Photographic Hall, 115 and 117 Main street, between Fourth and Fifth. To my patrons of Terre Haute, Western Indiana, and Eastern Illinois, I can confidently say that I now have in my New Rooms the Model Light of the West, constructed after the most approved plans, especially adapted for making Rembrandts, Large Groups and all other styles of Photographs. For Family Groups, Classes, etc., I have unequalled facilities. My operating room and light being very large, a group of two or three dozen will find plenty of space. Also the Latest Improved Camera, and other apparatus, accessories, etc., necessary for a First-class Photographic Establishment. Only first-class work will be permitted to leave the Gallery.

Thankful for a liberal patronage at my old stand, I solicit the same at my New Rooms, over 115 and 117 Main street, between Fourth and Fifth.

Respectfully, D. H. WRIGHT.
P. S.—The old gallery will be continued at No. 105 Main street. 15d1
