MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1872.

CONGRESS meets to-day.

The funeral of Horace Greeley will take place at 11 A. M., Wednesday, from Dr. Chapin's Church.

THE Senate of the Prussian Empire refused to pass a bill which the Emperor William desired to have them. William was mortally offended at this exercise of their prerogative, and has appointed enough new peers to secure the passage of the measure. In a previous article, referring to this possible action of his, the GAZETTE took occasion to say that if he did pursue this course, he ought at once to abolish the Senate as an utterly useless piece of machinery. That opinion is reiterated now. His action is just as revolutionary as was that of the people in 1848. It would be well for His Majesty not to arouse the spirit of Republicanism in German breasts by showing them that the restraints of custom and usage apply not to the rulers but only to the people. The case in question is complicated somewhat by the fact that the measure which he thus attempts in so unconstitutional a way to pass, is really a good one, and leveled against the nobility in the interests of the masses. Were this not true, it is more than likely that Kaiser Wilhelm would have to fight for his throne. As it is, they probably have a less exalted idea than before of the sanctity of constitutions.

An Imaginary Difficulty.

We present below an article from the Lafayette Courier, of this morning, in reference to the action of the Electoral College now that Mr. Greeley's death has removed one of the candidates. The GAZETTE fails to feel the fears of the Courier in the complication suggested. The electors cast their votes next Wednesday in the several State Capitals. The vote will be counted before both Houses of Congress in February. Should Grant die between next Wednesday and February, the votes would be counted for him all the same, and the instant that he (a dead person) was announced elected, that instant would Henry Wilson be President by virtue of the Constitution. There is, in this, no opportunity for suggestion or for doubt. We do not understand how the electors of Indiana can cast a vote for Morton when they have been instructed to vote for Grant, and where the people have expressed a desire to have Wilson for President if anything should happen to Grant. Below the lighted progeny of the Courier we present an article on the same subject from the Indianapolis Sentinel. It doesn't make any practical difference, of course, for whom the electors of the six States that gave majorities for Greeley and Brown do cast their votes, but again we can not see how they can transgress the instructions their constituents gave them. Missouri, for example, cast her vote for Greeley for President with the distinct understanding that his successor, in event of death, should be Brown, but the vote must first be cast for that dead person.

"A grave complication—Possible contingency of General Grant's death—What then?—The death of Horace Greeley and the possible contingency of General Grant's death in the uncertainty of human life, presents grave complications to the Presidential succession. Next Wednesday the electors meet at the several State Capitals to cast the vote. This vote is certified, sealed and transmitted to the President of the Senate, in accordance with the Twelfth Amendment to the Constitution; and when the votes shall be opened and counted, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, in February, the person having the greatest number of votes shall be President. We assume that since Mr. Greeley is deceased, the electors for the six States he carried will cast the vote of the States for Thomas A. Hendricks or some other Democrat. Now, suppose in the interval between next Wednesday and the joint convention in February General Grant should die. Hendricks would be the only candidate before the House, which by constitutional requirement, must proceed immediately to ballot. They may filibuster until the 4th of March, when the Vice President elect would succeed, but this is not likely. We suggest that on Wednesday Indiana cast her vote for Morton. This will not impair Grant's majority, and covering the contingency of his death, present two names to the House for election.

THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE.—A suggestion comes from the Nashville Banner, that in view of Mr. Greeley's death, the Liberal members of the Electoral College being left without a definite candidate, they join with the Radical Electors in making Grant the unanimous choice of the College. The Sentinel protests against such action. Let the Liberal Electors cast their votes for the man whom they deem most suitable for the position of President. Grant is certainly not that man. To propose a name, belongs of right, perhaps, to those States whose Electoral votes would have been cast for Mr. Greeley had he lived; but we venture to suggest that Mr. Hendricks should be the recipient of that honor. He is beyond question the choice to-day of the party which gave its votes to Mr. Greeley, and it is fit and proper that such recognition as is possible be given to the high service he has rendered the country and his party. The telegraph announces that Mr. Hendricks' name has already been mentioned in many quarters in this connection. We are sure that the Liberals of Indiana will unite in hearty approval of the suggestion.

San Francisco Dispatch, Nov. 28.
Gigantic Diamond Swindle.

A meeting of the Directors of the San Francisco and New York Commercial and Mining Company was held yesterday afternoon, to receive reports from the Geological Survey sent out under Clarence King, and consisting of Mr. King, D. D. Cotton, Surveyor Bost and Mr. Frey.

Voluminous reports from the survey were received denouncing the whole pretended discovery as a gigantic fraud. The trustees at once adopted a resolution to the effect that the fraud be once and fully exposed, in order that the public may be protected; also, that no more stock be issued or transferred, and that the corporation be dissolved as soon as practicable. The public are warned against any further transactions on the faith of the alleged discoveries. All the stock thus far sold is still held by W. C. Ralston, at the Bank of California, and the original incorporators will assume the entire loss from the operations of the company.

The report of Clarence King gives the operations of his surveys in detail. In the vicinity of the Table Rock, diamonds and rubies were found on the surface and in the crevices, but every instance of a "find" there was evidence that the soil had been tampered with. In crevices where there were no traces of the work of man, no evidence of the existence of precious stones was discovered. Some diamonds were found in what were evidently artificial holes. The conclusion arrived at by Mr. King is that the gems found were in positions where they would have been deposited by the hand of man, and that none exist where, if their occurrence had been genuine, the inevitable laws of Nature would have placed them. Finally, he asserts that the reputed diamond fields have been "salted," or scattered over with stones for the purpose of deceiving chance or unskilled searchers. The reports of the other explorers corroborate that of Mr. King.

The Bulletin some time since published a partial expose of the operations of Arnold, the man who sold the original "discovery" to the Harpington Company for $150,000. It is said that the Directors at the time of this publication became satisfied of the fraud, but obtained the reports mentioned to satisfy any doubts upon the subject, and to detect, if possible, the originators of the swindle. With this view the stock has been held back until the genuineness of the reports from all quarters could be tested.

A profound sensation has been caused by the exposure. Reports are current that efforts will be made to bring the guilty parties to justice. In the mean time Stanton and others just from the country insist upon the genuineness of the discovery and deposits of diamonds. Janin says that all tests proved that the diamonds and rubies were placed where found; elsewhere the ground is utterly barren.

Interview in the Boston Post.
General Butler on Civil Service.

Reporter—What do you think of civil service reform, as illustrated by President Grant's recent measures?
General Butler—I don't think anything of it, because I don't think civil service reform means anything. It was used by Lyman Trumbull, as it seems to me, at the beginning of the Greeley campaign, as a sort of "scare." Of course any one can send in his name, if he has a friend, for the approval of a department. The selections are always made from three applicants, who pass examinations in writing. Possibly the first on the list gets the place sought, and then again he doesn't. It depends greatly on the strength of political influence exercised in his behalf. It is manifest that a man who has filled all the positions in a department, from the lowest to the highest, has, as a general thing, a better insight into the duties of a chief officer than an outside person. Yet, on the other hand, there are some subordinates who would not make good officers. One must discriminate.

The examination in writing is no test, since if a man keep sober while passing his ordeal his red nose doesn't appear on the paper; while if he is lazy, he may show his quality to the fullest extent. He has obtained his appointment. The only effect of a written examination seems to be to give a chance to the people in Maryland and the district about Washington to obtain places. I knew a young lady in Massachusetts who went to Washington early this fall to apply for a clerkship. She felt satisfied that her ample qualifications would secure her the position she desired, on a fair competitive examination. After staying a fortnight she was told that she would be sent for when wanted. She has not heard from the Capital since; spent a hundred dollars and obtained nothing for it. Had she got the place she would have paid her hundred dollars for a place with but seven or nine hundred a year, and hard work. Before she went, I advised her not to go; but my advice was not heeded. In fact, the civil service is but a lottery, where you pay your money on greater uncertainty than you would in any other enterprise.

Personnel of the Indiana Legislature.

The "personal" statistics of the new Legislature of Indiana, just compiled, show that the Senate exhibits an average height and avoirdupois. Forty-five members have an average height of 5 feet 10 6/45 inches, and an average weight of 164 27/45 pounds. The average age is 42 43/45 years. The tallest man is President Friedley, who stands 6 feet 3 3/4 inches, and the shortest is Mr. Dwigins, who measures 5 feet 5 inches. Eleven members are 6 feet and upward. The heaviest man is Dr. Oliver, of Indianapolis, who turns the scale at 225; and the lightest man physically is Dr. Dwigins, of Jasper county, who balances a 130 pound weight. The oldest man is Mr. Carnahan, of Posey county, who has spent three-score years and ten, less one, in this vale of tears; and the youngest is Dr. Daugherty, of Wells county, over whose head twenty-eight brief summers have passed. There are 5 merchants, 14 lawyers, 5 manufacturers, 14 farmers, 1 banker, 2 physicians, 2 editors, 1 lumber dealer, and 1 farmer and lawyer among the forty-five.

A CHICAGO female novelist commenced her last work this "Sun." The sun had sunk into his western bed, but drawing his golden clouds up too high to hide his face, allowed his shining toes to protrude at the other end, thus casting a faint pinkish and crimsonish glow over nature's face.

THIS is an epizootic advertisement from Joliet. Wanted—A good family man, suitable for a butler, must be gentle and quiet, and easily managed by a lady driver. Any person having such an animal, will find a ready purchaser by addressing "Lady," box 5,001, Joliet post-office.

MARK TWAIN, called home by a cable telegram, expects to revisit England next year with his family and spend the greater part of it there, where he thinks it possible he shall lecture a month on such scientific topics as he knows least about, and therefore may feel less trammeled in dilating upon.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DON'T

Be deceived, but for coughs, colds, sore throat, hoarseness and bronchial difficulties, use only Well's Carbolic Tablets.

Without limitations are on the market, but the only scientific preparation of Carbolic acid for Lung diseases is when chemically combined with other well known remedies, as in these TABLETS, and all parties are cautioned against using any other.

In all cases of irritation of the mucous membrane these TABLETS should be freely used, their cleansing and healing properties are astonishing.

Be warned, never neglect a cold, it is easily cured in its incipient state, when it becomes chronic the cure is exceedingly difficult. Use Well's Carbolic Tablets as a specific.

DRY GOODS.
Eleven Millions Pounds of Wool!
Have been consumed in the great Boston fire.
5,000,000 Suits of Ready-Made Clothing Burned to Ashes!
These two items alone represent a loss of over

FIFTY MILLIONS POUNDS OF WOOL!
Add to this the immense loss of manufactured goods, and you can form some slight estimate of the terrible blow that has fallen upon the woolen interest.

WHAT DOES THIS GREAT LOSS MEAN?
It means a great advance in Woolen Goods. It means one, two, three or four dollars advance upon a Shawl or pair of Blankets. It means 20 per cent. more for Waterproofs, Cassimeres, Jeans, Dress Goods, &c. Already the advance has commenced in New York and other large cities.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE PEOPLE!
Before the fire goods had declined heavily. Fearing a reaction that should carry prices up, we had recently bought more than

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF DRY GOODS AND CARPETS!
This immense stock we shall throw upon the market without any advance in prices.

It will not last long; our Sales are Enormous, reaching nearly One Hundred Thousand Dollars per month!

WISDOM DICTATES PROMPT ACTION!
Our prices cannot long remain where they now are. "First come, first served." Within the next few days many of the choicest bargains we now have in stock will be picked out. Buy at once or else do not grumble if you have to pay much higher prices as the penalty of waiting. Our present prices are pretty generally known, so we give, as we have but little space, only a few quotations:

Another lot of Five Thousand Yards of a Yard Wide Fine and Heavy Unbleached Muslin at 10c a yard.

Three thousand yards of good fine Unbleached Muslin at 8c a yard.

Three thousand yards of the celebrated Sterling Mills yard wide Muslin White Shirting Muslins at 15c a yard.

Good yard wide White Muslin 12 1/2c.

We have just received some Extraordinary Bargains in medium and low priced Dress Goods, which we are selling at 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c and 40c.

We believe that we have three times as large an assortment of Dress Goods at these prices as any store in Terre Haute.

10 bales American Grain Bags, 33c. 10 bales two bushel Grain Bags, 25c.

Good Flannels, 25c, 30c, 35c and 40c. Double-fold Plaid Flannels, 25, 30, 35 and 40c.

SPLendid STOCK OF ALL KINDS OF CARPETS.
Best Dayton Carpet Chain, 35c. Buy no other.

Handsome Felt Skirts, 2.00 and 2.25.

10,000 yards of Factory Jeans, 60c. Beat them if you can. The factory price is 75c.

ENTIRE NEW STOCK OF FURS!
All of our customers ought to have at least a few yards of that fine and heavy yard-wide Unbleached Muslin which we are selling at 10c a yard. The price charged for it in country stores is not less than 15c.

MEDICAL.
THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBERA
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a phsyic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, and is a doctor's liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but it is a most powerful Tonic and alterative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with the most successful results.

Dr. Well's Extract of Jurubera, retains all the medical virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

In these want of action in your Liver and Spleen? Take Jurubera to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you a Dyspeptic Stomach? Unless digestion is promptly aided the system is debilitated with loss of vital force, poverty of the Blood, Dropsical Tendency, General Weakness or Lassitude.

Take it to assist digestion without reaction, it will impart youthful vigor to the weary sufferer.

Have you weakness of the Intestines? You are in danger of Chronic Diarrhoea or the dreadful Inflammation of the Bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammations.

Have you weakness of the Uterine or Urinary Organs? You must procure instant relief or you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.
