DIED FROM HER INJURIES.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 24.—Five roughs waylaid and assaulted Louise Winkle, a twelve year old girl, last Tuesday night on the outskirts of Granton, in Hudson county. They dragged her into a small grove of cedar woods and there accomplished their purpose. The approach of Miss Chasmer, a young woman employed as telegraph operator in the station, frightened them away, but not before she had recognized four of them.

She says they were James McGrogan, Albert Smith, Robert Montgomery, of West New York, and Andrew Hohner. The unfortunate girl was left unconscious. Miss Chasmer carried her home, where she related the story. Phillip Winkle, the father of the girl, who is a machinist employed in the railroad shops at New Durham, spread the report and immediately searching parties were organized. They combed the woods, but found no traces of the culprits. Threats are made of lynching if the soundrels are caught. The little girl has died of her injuries.

A TERRIBLE MISHAP.

A letter has been received from Texas which gives the particulars of an accidental killing of a young man there by Conductor Curt Paddock, of the Vandalia. A party were in attendance at a shooting match at Borne, Tex., when Mr. Paddock accidentally discharged a gun, the contents of which struck a young man named Battaglie, killing him instantly. Mr. Paddock was discharged by a coroner's jury on a verdict of accidental killing. Mr. Paddock lives in this city and his many friends will be pained to learn of his unfortunate mishap. Mr. Paddock went to Texas on a visit for his health and it was while on this visit that the mishap occurred.

Fatally Shot.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, March 25.—Chas. Williams, aged 15, last evening fatally shot Benjamin Ball, aged 76. Ball had gone into Williams' house to remonstrate against building a bonfire near his premises by young Williams, when the boy attacked him with a revolver.

C. H. J. TAYLOR.

Newly-Appointed Minister to Liberia.

The city of Monrovia, in the Republic of Liberia, will be the future residence of C. H. J. Taylor, now Assistant City Attorney, Kansas City, Mo. There, as Minister-Resident and Consul-General of the United States, he will receive the under normal circumstances, comfortable income of five thousand dollars a year. The cheerful expectation of this abundance of money in a productive country, where living is cheap, is liable to modification by the recollection that the late Minister to Liberia, a large and apparently healthy colored man, survived his arrival only a short time. Monrovia, moreover, is not as desirable a place of residence, as Mr. Taylor has been accustomed to. It contains a population of only about three thousand people, and is the capital of an impetuous state unable to pay the interest on its debt. The assumption is made with confidence, that there are happier places to live in than Monrovia. But Mr. Taylor will leave his native land to serve his country, and everybody hopes that he may be well and happy as its representative in Liberia.

He is a young man, born as recently as 1856, in the state of Alabama. Bright and ambitious he profited to an uncommon degree by such limited opportunities of education as were open to him during his boyhood and youth. He was not twenty years old when he "stumped" the state of South Carolina, for General Wade Hampton. In 1876 he went to Oberlin, Ohio, as a student, and, in due time, was graduated at the college of that place. He was admitted to the practice of the law in the state of Indiana, where he practiced his profession for a time, eking out a livelihood by teaching. Subsequently he removed to Kansas, which has been his residence ever since, his present home being just over the border from the state of Missouri. He had an office in Leavenworth for a time, after which he began practicing in Kansas City, where he has done well. Mr. Taylor is said to be the best speaker of his race engaged in the public service. He has taken part in many political contests, either as an Independent or as a Democrat. Senator Ingalls is indebted to him for a published reply to that statesman's severe remarks on colored men who refuse support to the Republican party, and attack themselves to the Democrats. Among Mr. Taylor's professional distinctions is his admission to practice before the United States Supreme Court, at an earlier age than any colored man previously.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French, or English with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 14 Power's Block Rochester N. Y.

A Lady's Perfect Companion. Painless Childbirth, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childbirth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: It will save you great pain, and possibly your life. Send two cent stamp for descriptive circulars, testimonials and confidential letter sent in sealed envelope. Address Frank Thomas & Co., Publishers, Baltimore, Maryland.

An Undoubted Blessing.

About thirty years ago a prominent physician by the name of Dr. William Hall discovered, or produced after long experimental research, a remedy for diseases of the throat, chest and lungs, which was of such wonderful efficacy that it soon gained a wide reputation in this country. The name of the medicine is Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the lungs, and may be safely relied on as a speedy and positive cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, etc.

The compounding house of the distillery has been running at full capacity. Several large orders were shipped out this week.

CATARRH CURED.

A clergyman, after years of suffering from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, and vainly trying every known remedy, at last found a prescription which completely cured and saved him from death. Any sufferer from this dreadful disease sending a self addressed stamped envelope to Dr. Lawrence, 212 East Ninth street, New York, will receive the recipe free of charge.

HARRISON WITHDRAWS.

He Concludes Not to Run for Mayor Again.

CHICAGO, March 25.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon Mayor Harrison will attend a specially called meeting of the Democratic campaign committee and it is stated that he will positively withdraw his name from the head of the ticket. This will be Mr. Harrison's second declaration of the nomination made last Wednesday and this time his action, it is claimed, will probably be final, as it is taken after two days deliberation. A friend of the Mayor said today when the news of the latest move became known that Harrison's final determination in the matter was the logical result of the careful survey of the situation. With President Kern, of the Cook County Democratic Club, fighting him; with Alderman Hildreth waging war against him, and with all of Mr. Cregier's friends ready to bolt the nomination he appreciated the gravity of the case and determined to get out of the race. Harrison said to a reporter at noon that his withdrawal was final. J. H. McAvoy, candidate for treasurer on the Democratic ticket, telegraphed the campaign committee that under no circumstances would he accept.

A NEW YORK MURDER.

He Split His Wife's Skull Open and Jumped From a High Window.

NEW YORK, March 25.—James Hogan tried to kill his wife, Elizabeth, at 6:30 this morning and then committed suicide. He made the attack on his wife with a hatchet, striking her on the head and fracturing her skull, after which he jumped out of the third story window of the house. The Coroner has been notified to take Mrs. Hogan's autemortem statement. James Hogan was the driver of a Knickerbocker ice wagon. When he threw himself out of the window his head was smashed and he died on the spot. The tenement, No. 352 west Twelfth street, was the scene of the tragedy. Hogan had been working for the ice company for twenty years or more.

He was sober, hard working and easy to get along with as a rule. He was married to his wife fourteen years ago and they had six children, who had all died. The loss of her last child preyed on Mrs. Hogan's mind. It was unstrung at times, the neighbors say. One of her fits of depression came on her yesterday. Hogan had been drinking, but not enough to affect him. He was, however, irritable and nervous at times. His wife's depression appeared to have affected him and he stayed at home all day yesterday. During the day the wife's incessant mourning for her dead took a praying turn. She made her husband and neighbors assist her in her praying. Hogan's married sister called last evening and found the pair still praying.

She said today that her brother was not drunk, but that he and his wife were very much excited. When the neighbors went to bed last night the couple were still muttering their prayers. This morning they heard a struggle in Hogan's room, a scream of the woman, the sound of a muffled blow, of chairs being upset, of a window sash being violently slammed open, and a crash in the yard. This was when Hogan jumped from the window. In the bedroom from which he had jumped, Mrs. Hogan was found with her skull split open.

THE ENGINEER KILLED.

He Was Under the Engine When the Train Was Run Into.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 25.—A railway accident occurred about 1 o'clock this morning near Leetonia, Ohio, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway, by which one person was killed and a number of passengers injured. The express train, which left Chicago in the morning, had reached Leetonia there is a heavy grade at this point and the engineer discovered that the air brake hose was leaking. He stopped the train, and while examining it a freight train came along and dashed in to the rear, completely telescoping the sleeper and the passenger car next. The engineer, William Beall, of Allegheny, who was under the engine at the time, firing the air brake, was horribly crushed and died almost instantly. The names of the injured are as follows: J. C. Hazlett, in sleeping car, fatally hurt; left at Leetonia. Lee Hinn, Chinaman, out on head, severely.

John T. Bingley, conductor of Pullman car, bruised about head and leg and hand crushed; lives in Chicago, but is in hospital at Pittsburg.

Mrs. Davis, Pittsburg, badly cut about her body and face bruised.

P. Pedow, New Orleans, slightly bruised.

Mrs. Louisa Elen's three year old child badly bruised.

Mrs. Gray, of Minnesota, slightly injured.

Delia Coyne, of Brooklyn, N. Y., out about face and head.

Disorders Which Affect the Kidneys Are among the most formidable known. Diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel, and other complaints of the urinary organs, are not ordinarily cured in severe cases, but they may be averted by timely medication. A useful stimulant of the urinary glands has ever been found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which not only affords the requisite stimulus when they become inactive, but increases their vigor and secures power. By increasing the activity of the kidneys and bladder, this medicine has the additional effect of expelling from the blood impurities which it is the peculiar office of those organs to eliminate and pass off. The Bitters is also a purifier and strengthener of the bowels, an invigorant of the stomach, and a matchless remedy for biliousness and fever and ague. It counteracts a tendency to premature decay, and sustains and comforts the aged and infirm.

Sherman's Speech.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 25.—Senator Sherman and party were driven about the city in carriages, calling at the capitol, and at the house of Mrs. James K. Polk, at the Vanderbilt and Fisk universities, and at several of the manufacturing institutions. Last night, in the state capitol, he spoke to an immense audience.

Murdered Her Daughter.

ST. PAUL, March 25.—The Globe's New York Mills, Minn., special says: Early yesterday morning Mrs. Joseph Matteson murdered her little girl, one year old, by severing the jugular vein with a pair of sharp shears. She then committed suicide in the same manner. Mr. Matteson lives about six miles south of this place. He was in town all day and on his return home found his wife and child dead.
