Knifing in Milford on Saturday

Milford town marshal Melvin Jordan continues investigation into the knifing of a Syracuse man in downtown Milford on Saturday night.

A total of 27 stitches were required to close the wounds suffered by Dennis Ringler of Syracuse.

Ringler reportedly came out of a Milford tavern and was headed for another when he was jumped and knifed.

His assailants fled. Jordan was called and took Ringler to the Murphy Medical Center where the wounds were closed.

A real success

Dear Editor:

The Theatre Guild's card party and style show was a real success last evening (March 25) and we wish to thank you for your great support. We feel your mention of this event in your "Crusin'" column, the front page picture and article were most helpful in bringing the ladies out!

Since organizing The Theatre Guild in 1972, we have had nothing but the best cooperation from The Mail-Journal and I know Bob Zehr shares my opinion that your support of The Enchanted Hills Playhouse has been outstanding every season as well.

More and more people are now aware of our excellent summer playhouse. We thank you.

Accident causes extensive damage, shears utility pole

A Syracuse driver, 34-year-old Gladys J. Rink, r 3 Syracuse, was cited by state police for failure to yield the right of way causing an accident at 8:50 a.m. Friday. The accident was at the intersection of CR 350E and Rookstool road about 2 1/4 miles southwest of Syracuse.

Trooper Mike Barnett reported the Rink woman was westbound on Rookstool road and skidded through the intersection hitting broadside a 1972 Volkswagen being driven by Elsie M. Nyikos, 38, r 3 Syracuse. Mrs. Nyikos was traveling north on road 350.

The Nyikos vehicle was damaged $1,200 and $500 damage was listed to the 1972 Buick driven by the Rink woman.

Shear Pole

Force of the collision caused a NIPSCO pole to be sheared off above the ground and hot wires from the pole started a grass fire.

The Syracuse fire department responded to the fire call.

The report filed by state police listed Mrs. Nyikos as receiving a laceration on the knee, bump to the head and back pain.

Congressman Floyd Fithian to conduct special forum

LAFAYETTE — Economic problems facing senior citizens today will be discussed in a special forum conducted Saturday evening in Warsaw by Congressman Floyd Fithian.

The forum will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Warsaw city hall council chambers, Market and High streets. It is the last in a three-part series of forums on major economic issues scheduled by Fithian for citizens of Kosciusko and Wabash counties.

"America's treatment of our senior citizens has been shameful," Fithian commented, in announcing the meeting. "We must address ourselves to correcting some of the problems faced by older Americans with the present state of the economy."

Among the items to be discussed will be property tax reform, high utility rates and health care costs. "We're not going to limit the discussion, though," Fithian said. "I hope we can deal with many of the economic matters which directly affect senior citizens."

The 2d district representative explained that this forum will conclude his series of three open meetings on the economy for constituents in Kosciusko and Wabash counties. Previous forums have accentuated energy prices and unemployment.

Almost 5,000 citizens have attended town meetings conducted by Fithian since he took office last year. He also has conducted special issue forums for businessmen, educators and farmers.

"It's important for me to hear what the people I represent think about the crucial issues we face today," Fithian said. "I think we all agree that the present state of the economy especially hurts our senior citizens, and we must examine these issues specifically."

He concluded, "I urge everyone who cares about the plight of older Americans to join me in Warsaw Saturday evening."

The week of April 4-April 10 is National Library Week.

This year's theme is "Free People — Free Libraries". Following the custom of the past, the library will have a fine-free week. All overdue books may be returned during this week and no overdue fines will be charged.

The library will certainly appreciate the return of all overdue books you may have been afraid of returning. I'm sure few people realize how costly it is READY FOR FASHION SHOW — Mrs. Ed Charlton of Leesburg and Mrs. Max Duncan of Milford are shown with items of clothing they will be modeling during the Spirit of Fashions '76 Style show next Tuesday night.

The show, a buffet dinner and style show, will begin at 6:30 p.m. It will be held in Camelot Hall in North Webster and is sponsored by the county Democrat Women's organization.

Committees for the event are Mrs. Wayne Bucher, models; Mrs. Virginia Lakness, food; Mrs. John Glon, decorating; Mrs. Jim Bell, publicity; and Mrs. Dale Wright, door prizes.

to replace lost books, magazines, and records; both in time involved and the increased cost of items.

In addition, some items are really irreplaceable. Your consideration will be greatly appreciated.

New Display

Members of the library board have undertaken as their Bicentennial project, a new display case.

The initial display is a collection of antique books loaned by Mrs. Richard Miller. We are looking forward to the future displays.

First aid responds

The emergency unit responded to several calls last week including one at 10:05 p.m. Wednesday for Rebecca Erb, 18, 107 1/2 East Benton street, Syracuse, for chest pains. She was taken to Goshen hospital.

Also taken to Goshen hospital was Tonda Clark, 25, 1605 South 13th street, Goshen, at 4:59 p.m. Thursday for possible further injuries sustained in a car accident.

The Clark woman sustained a two inch laceration on the right leg, and bruises and abrasions of the left forearm.

Two youths in her car also reportedly sustained slight injuries. The girl had abrasions of the left knee and a bruise to the cheek and forehead. The boy had a bruised cheek.

Vandalism reported at rural residence

Chester Frenger, Jr., r 4 Syracuse, reported to Syracuse police at 12:20 p.m. Tuesday of a double pane window being pierced with a small BB hole. The window is on the south side of the home on road 530E.

Grazing date for wheat and barley

March 31 has been established by the Indiana state ASC committee as the latest date for wheat and barley to be grazed and still expected to produce a normal crop, according to Phil Bramer of the Kosciusko county ASCS office. In the event of a low yield in 1976, such crops grazed after March 31 will be charged with full production at the established yield when determining eligibility for a disaster payment.

Bramer further stated that wheat and barley which is used for a cover crop during the regular growing season will also be charged with full production in event of a low yield claim unless such use is reported to the local ASCS office.

If a producer has wheat or barley which he plans to graze beyond March 31 or which he intends to use for cover, he should report such use to the ASCS office to prevent problems in case of a low yield claim.

Respond to grass fire

Ray Darr of rural Syracuse stopped at the fire station in Syracuse at 3:33 p.m. Sunday to report a grass fire on property owned by Charles Harris several miles south of Syracuse. There was no damage, as firemen extinguished the fire and returned to the fire house.
