$1,100 damage in 2-car crash

A two-car accident just north of the SR 15 bypass north of Milford last Thursday resulted in damages totaling $1,100.

Shirley Lehman, 702 E. Marion St. Nappanee, driver of a 1976 Buick, attempted to pass another auto, a Pinto wagon driven by Gary Weaver, 419 E. Boston Syracuse. As Lehman began to pass the Weaver auto, Weaver attempted to make a left-hand turn into a driveway on the east side of SR 15. The Lehman auto sustained right, front fender damage as it creased the left side of the Pinto wagon, which is owned by Dan Stoffel. The Pinto was being test-driven by Weaver, a C.S. Myers Ford employee when the accident occurred.

No injuries were incurred and no citation issued to either driver. The accident was investigated by the Kosciusko County Police.

The federal office of Health, Education and Welfare has asked the Councils on Aging and the American Red Cross to co-sponsor a health fair the first week end in May.

Floie Heaton, president of the Kosciusko County Council of Aging and Aged and Inez M. Devenney, executive director of the Kosciusko County Chapter American Red Cross, are co-chairing the fair.

The 18-20 participating organizations are bringing together all available screening organizations so the public can take advantage of many sources of information at the free fair. They chose to honor 1978 Kosciusko County Senior Citizen Queen Mrs. Amos (Mary) Orn of Milford.

JULIE GARZA

MILFORD IS possessed of a bright young lady who is destined to make the most of her life, in the person of Julie A. Garza, 19-year-old daughter of Lydia and Arnold Garza.

Julie took a test in Indianapolis on April 23 to determine her qualifications for military service, either in the U.S. Army or Marines. Of 20 taking the test (five girls and 15 boys) she came out with the highest score. She remained over to speak with some military personnel to help her make up her mind.

Julie graduated from Wawasee High School as a seventh semester student with a 3.0 average (B). She is presently employed at the Schwartz Coffee Shop.

She was in Fort Wayne Friday to talk with an army colonel and a private, and will talk this week with a Warsaw woman who is returning from Paris Island, S.C., boot camp.

Julie wants all the input she can get before making a determination on the branch of service she will elect, but allows right now she is leaning toward the Marines. If she chooses the Marines, it will mean a course in electronics, and if she chooses the Army, it will be military.

"USE UP your small and undersized envelopes and cards before July 15," is the advice of Postmaster H. C. Colwell. That's the date when the postal service's new size standards become effective.

After July 15 envelopes and cards measuring less than 3½ inches high or five inches long will be returned to the sender if mailed.

Postmaster Colwell said that because the envelope and greeting card industries have had more than three years to prepare for the new standards, few retailers should still be selling undersized pieces.

"Many consumers, however, are likely to still have smaller envelopes and cards in their supply of stationery," Colwell said.

The regulations also prohibit flimsy cards. In the future they must be at least .007 of an inch thick. An official postal card, for instance, has thickness of .009 of an inch.

Undersized pieces and flimsy cards are being banned because they can become trapped in other mail, tear and jam mail processing machinery. As a result, the letters of others can also be damaged.

The standards also affect oversized and odd-shaped pieces of mail, Colwell said. For first-class mail weighing one ounce or less, there will be a surcharge of seven cents for pieces more than six and one-eighth inches high or 11½ inches long.

Persons wanting more information should check with someone at the post office.

NEARING COMPLETION — An addition for the purpose of processing farm kill beef nears completion at Campbell's Market, Milford.

The $25,000 structure will be open to business in mid-May.

Campbell's Market offers new service

Campbell's Market, Milford, will be offering an added service along with their regular retail business.

The cutting of farm kill beef will be available at Campbell's in approximately two weeks. According to Phil Campbell, market owner, "Since farm kill beef is not inspected, the state of Indiana requires that we have a separation between inspected and uninspected cuts of meat."

In order to comply with state regulations, Campbell's is enlarging. An addition, estimated at $25,000, is being erected behind the store. Completion is scheduled for mid-May. Included in the addition will be two coolers, a processing room and room for grocery storage. Contract for the addition was awarded to Doly Construction.

The Campbells have owned the market since 1951 when Phil's father, Merle, bought the store from E. F. Wolferman. The senior Campbell had worked there 15 years prior to purchasing the store. Phil then purchased the store from his father in 1974. Three generations of meat cutters are in this family with Merle, Phil and Phil's son Tim, 23.
