LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,
I was shocked several days ago when my young daughter asked me a simple question. She said, "Mother, is there anyone you really like?" I asked her why she said such a thing and she replied that everyone I mentioned was criticized and therefore she couldn't see how I could like them if I thought they were so bad, or so silly.

It made me think and I sat down and got a good look at myself. It was true that I had the habit of pointing out the unattractive habits of my friends as well.

Why had I been doing this? Everyone I had criticized was a very nice person with many admirable traits and few shortcomings. Why couldn't I have found something good to say about them?

Was it because I was envious or jealous of these people? I really had nothing to be jealous about.

Am such an egotist that I think I can build myself up by tearing other people down? Do I think I am smarter and more perfect than other people? What do you think is wrong with me?

W.R.—N.J.

Answer:
The people who look for the faults in others instead of praising their good traits do so as a usual thing because of an inferiority complex. They will be the last ones to admit this is so but they are actually trying to point out how much smarter they are than others and demanding homage from their associates.

Unfortunately these people defeat the very thing they are trying to accomplish. They become very unpopular as many of their criticisms get back to those who were talked about.

They get the name of being conceited and dangerous as well as unpleasant to have around.

You should make a New Years Resolution for 1986 to accept people as they are. Every person is an individual and some who are agreeable and delightful associates are neither intellectuals nor of the highest social strata.

Try to see the good things in people and keep silent about faults.

Visitor from Africa

Debra (Smoker) Ali is here from Sudan, Africa, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smoker.

Mr. and Mrs. Smoker entertained their family at a Christmas day dinner with 26 present. The afternoon was enjoyed and a gift exchange was held.

Christmas Was Truly A Time Of Giving

The Wawasee Kiwanians were flooded with offers of money and goods during their collection time for the club's Needy Family Project. The contributions received helped to provide a very special Christmas celebration for those families who would have had either very little or nothing. Syracuse area residents and businesses truly opened their hearts to those less fortunate and brought in cash, toys, clothing, and food items! THANK YOU!

The Wawasee Kiwanis would like to offer special thanks to the following donors of $100 or more, cash or merchandise:

Cynthia Myrick becomes bride of Dov Rosenberg on Dec. 21

Cynthia Myrick became the bride of Dov Rosenberg in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 p.m. The wedding ceremony was conducted in the Goshen Holiday Inn with 140 guests present. Kosciusko County Judge James Jarrett officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Myrick, 418 South Harrison Street, Syracuse, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Romer, Washington, D.C., and David Rosenberg, Kalamazoo, Mich.

The wedding room was decorated with an archway of doves woven through it. Green ferns were placed on either side of the archway. Candelabras with royal blue bows were also located in the room.

Annette Beer, pianist and Mary Hildinger, violinist, provided special musical selections. Sonya Shock, Syracuse, was the guest book attendant.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long white gown with off the shoulder puff sleeves. The fitted bodice contained lace and seed pearls. The gown also featured a cathedral-length train. Her headress was a white derby hat with seed pearls and a veil. The bride carried white roses and baby's breath bouquet.

Mrs. Ryan Matherly, Elkhart, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a royal blue taffeta tea-length gown with a jacket. Her headress was a royal blue cap edged in seed pearls with blue netting. She carried silk flowers in the colors of royal blue, white and pink.

Sarah Coy, Seneca, S.C., sister of the bride; Honna Rosenberg, and Janet Rosenberg, both of Lafayette and sisters of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their tea-length gowns were of royal blue taffeta with a jacket. Their headresses were royal blue caps edged in seed pearls with blue netting. They also carried silk flowers in the colors of royal blue, white and pink.

Kelly Matherly, Elkhart, niece of the bride was the flower girl and Benjamin Matherly, Elkhart, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Al Grewe, Memphis, Tenn., was the best man. Grant Grigorian, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Craig Romer, Dallas, Texas; and Rob Langley, Titusville, Fla., were bridegroomsmen and page boys.

The bride's mother wore a pink crepe de chine street-length dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray velvet street-length dress.

A wedding reception was given immediately following the ceremony in Camelot Hall, North Webster. Royal blue candles with white flowers on the tables and blue bows and white bells hung around the room decorated the hall. Portia Price, Syracuse, and Chris Humphrey, Kokomo, served the cake to guests. The buffet was of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bitner, Syracuse, assisted in the serving. Music for listening and dancing was provided by David Knispel, Syracuse.

Following a wedding trip to Disney World, Fla., the couple will reside in Middletown, N.Y.

The bride is a graduate of Wawasee High School and will graduate this spring from Purdue University where she is majoring in retail management. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Her husband is a graduate of Hobart High School and Purdue University. He is a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity.
