Kara Isch, Ben Beer wed Saturday, Aug. 8, in Bluffton

Kara Lynn Isch, Bluffton, and Ben Beer, Milford, were united in marriage on Saturday, Aug. 8, in the Bluffton Apostolic Christian Fellowship Hall. Pastor Jim Rinkenberger performed the 3 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Perry (Becky) Isch, Bluffton, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip (Millie) Beer, Milford.

Ken Steffen, Bluffton, was the organist. The soloist was Mary Petzel, also of Bluffton.

MR. AND MRS. BEN BEER

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white matte taffeta. The gown featured a fitted basque waistline, a yoke of sheer English netting and a Victorian collar made up of schiffli lace. The Victorian pouff sleeves were tapered with venise lace over the wrists. Venise and Chantilly lace, seed pearls and sequins accented the bodice, and pearl buttons closed the back of the dress. The full bouffant ball gown skirt with alternating baby ruffles of chantilly lace and taffeta extended into a cathedral-length train. A tiered elbow-length bridal illusion veil was attached to the bride's headpiece of a chantilly lace bridal cap with seed pearls. She carried a stylized cascade of white roses, stephanotis and lily-of-the-valley, accented with pink and turquoise baby's breath and created in a silk keepsake bouquet.

Kami Isch, Bluffton, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lyn Moser, Decatur; Gwen Kipfer, Bluffton; and Heidi Beer, Milford, sister of the groom. The attendants wore identical dresses of a soft aqua border lace over aqua satin, which featured scalloped boat neckline and short, straight sleeves enhancing the bodice and a satin sash with a candy box bow complementing the waist. The softly gathered skirt fell to a tea-length scalloped hem line. Aqua satin shoes were also worn. The attendants carried pink roses, accented with aqua baby's breath and ferns, tied with aqua satin ribbons. They wore haloes of aqua and pink baby's breath interspersed with aqua satin ribbon and streamers in their hair.

John Beer, Milford, brother of the groom, was the best man. The groomsmen were Phil Beer, Indianapolis, brother of the groom; Brad Gutwein, Francesville; and Chris Cotton, Syracuse. Serving as ushers were Kent Doty, Milford, brother-in-law of the groom; Dan Gutwein, Indianapolis, brother-in-law of the groom; and Kip Gerber, Decatur, cousin of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Bluffton Apostolic Christian Fellowship Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Adams Central High School and is currently a student at IU-PU Fort Wayne School of Nursing.

The groom, a graduate of Wawasee High School, is enrolled as an engineering student at IU-PU, Fort Wayne.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple is now residing in Fort Wayne.

Wednesday club learns about Biloxi, Miss.

Members of the Wednesday Afternoon Club took a trip to Biloxi, Miss., at the September 23 meeting in St. Andrew's United Methodist Church Parlor, Syracuse. Joan Sharp presented the program. Mrs. Sharp and her husband have spent the winter months there for approximately the past five years.

Mrs. Sharp stated Biloxi, which means "first people," was originally named by the Indians. Located on a long narrow peninsula, it gives a "deep south" atmosphere and with 22 miles of "man made" white beach, it is sometimes referred to as "Riviera of the South." Tourist from around the world are attracted by its climate, scenery of live oak, tall pines, azaleas, wild iris, camellias, and southern hospitality.

Biloxi is the oldest settlement in the Mississippi Valley and the second oldest city in the United States, according to Mrs. Sharp. The town has served under eight flags, French, English, Spanish, West Florida Republic, Magnolia Confederate, State of Mississippi and United States of America.

The Mardi Gras started in Biloxi and an extensive display of Mardi Gras king and queen costumes is housed in the new contemporary designed library.

At one time, Biloxi was known as seafood capital of the world and is presently famous for the French cuisine and Cajun cooking. One of the most popular landmarks in Beauvoir, the last home of Jefferson Davis, first and last president of the Confederate States of America.

Lucile Searfoss presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president, Arlene Sloan. Following the program refreshments were served by Eleanor Bates and Thelma Brinkman.

MARRIED FOR 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Husband, 67546 CR 1, Wakarusa, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house on Sunday, Oct. 11 from 2-5 p.m. in the Wakarusa Library. Their daughters and spouses will host the event.

Earl Husband and the former Esther Schwalm were married on Oct. 10, 1937, in Milford by the late Rev. Howard Krider. Their attendants were the bride's sister, Marie (Schwalm) Hartman, and Warren Hartman.

Mr. Husband is retired from the Elkhart County Highway Department and Mrs. Husband is retired from the Wayne Feed Supply, Wakarusa. They are members of the Baugo Church of the Brethren, Wakarusa. The husbands have lived all 50 years together on the home farm southwest of Wakarusa.

The husbands' daughters are: Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Buss, Goshen; Mrs. Paul (Edith) Hockman, Perkaskie, Pa.; and Mrs. Robert (Ella) Stites, Chantilly, W.Va.

Friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend — the only gift the husbands desire.
