LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

THURSDAY, OCT. 7, 1875

—Ague.

—Autumn.

—Autumnal breezes.

—Prepare for winter.

—All quiet on the Rhine.

—Fall work is now in order.

—We are having fine fall weather.

—Wakarusa wants a harness maker.

—The water in the lake is falling rapidly.

—Occasionally sail boats dot the lake at this place.

—The engine at the elevators is of ten horse power.

—The Exposition at Chicago will close on Saturday.

—Hats and caps, cheap for cash, at Stetler & Kindig's. 35tf

—Mr. John M. Banta, of Benton was in town on Friday.

—Many strangers have been in town this week and last.

—The wide awake business man is the man who advertises.

—That pile of stone has been moved from in front of our office.

—Quite a party from Goshon were on the lakes here on Friday.

—The weather prophets are predicting a long, pleasant autumn.

—We could not find time to attend the fair at Warsaw last week.

—The proceeds of the Elkhart county fair amounted to about $1,500.

—Dr. Ihig will occupy the corner room, up stairs, in the new brick.

—The LaGrange Standard issued a daily during the fair in that county.

—For bargains in dry goods, groceries, etc., go to Stetler & Kindig's. 35tf

—Some of our citizens have been attending court at Warsaw during the week.

—Fair notes "take up considerable of the space of the Goshon papers last week.

—The weather last week was not very favorable for the county fair at Warsaw.

—There was an excursion over the B. & O. and C. & W. M. roads to Chicago on Tuesday last.

—William Bowld returned on Saturday from Garrett after an absence of nearly two weeks.

—We understand that P. V. Bowyer intends building a house on his lot in Syracuse yet this fall.

—Stetler & Kindig are now offering good bargains in their line for cash or produce. Go and see. 35tf

—There seems to be quite a rivalry at South Bend between the three daily papers published in that city.

—Morg Snyder has been making some improvements in his carriage factory on North Harrison street.

—It now transpires that a Dr. Parker contemplates establishing a newspaper office at Garrett City, Ind.

—Samuel M. Hayes, treasurer of this county, will spend the coming winter in Florida for the benefit of his health.

—We hear it stated that four or five new dwellings will be commenced in Ketting's addition to Syracuse in a few days.

—Mr. J. P. Fraser, of Adamsville, Mich., nephew of J. W. Stetler, of this place, was in town on Saturday and gave us a call.

—The party of sportsmen from Fort Wayne returned to their homes on Monday last week after spending several days upon the lake.

—Mr. Bealy, of Ligonier, was paying our town a visit on Friday last and gave THE ENTERPRISE office a call before leaving.

—We have received a copy of the South Bend Daily Tribune. It is a lively daily paper and is receiving a liberal support, as it deserves.

—We said last week that Perry Wilden had sold his harness shop to Mr. John Snyder. We were misinformed. The sale was not effected.

—Joseph Bushong moved his building in which his grocery store is located, one lot west last week. It now stands on his own ground.

—The office of the Syracuse branch of the American Novelty Co. will be located in Weyer's building, in the room now occupied by Dr. Ihig.

—Judge Patten returned to his home at Hicksville, Ohio, on Saturday. He was out from daylight till dark on Friday and didn't get a "nibble."

—Craze was hung upon the door of the postoffice on Thursday morning of last week. It wasn't death, as Perry was only sleeping, we suppose.

—Since Bro. St. Clair, of the Wakarusa Sun was married, he has learned that it takes eighteen yards of good calico to make a woman a dress.

—After a long silence, the school bell again makes music in the schoolboy's ear. It no doubt sounds like a funeral knell to some of them, however.

—Judge Pettit was holding court for a few days only, this term, during the trial of some cases in which Judge Long had been interested as counsel.

—We understand that our old friend, William Strieby, contemplates retiring from the labors of the farm, and thinks some of taking up his residence in Syracuse.

—The counters and shelving in the new brick are about completed and the glass has been placed in the fronts. The building will soon be ready for occupancy.

—Many of the enterprising farmers in this vicinity are beautifying their homes by repainting their dwellings. Wm. Snyder and John Alexander are among the number.

—The Alphon Eves makes mention of a pumpkin which was on exhibition in that town that measured seven feet in diameter. That's a "whopper"—we mean the pumpkin.

—Goshon contemplates providing a Reading Room for the entertainment of the young and old, thus keeping them away from the haunts of vice in that city. The effort is a laudable one.

—From the Plymouth Democrat, we learn that "Yankee Thomas," of Elkhart Green, this county, has removed to Bourbon, Marshall county. Mr. Thomas was formerly a resident of this place, we believe.

—The Goshon Democrat says that the editor of the LaGrange Local is the person who was known in Goshon two or three years since as Guy C. Malcomb, and who was foreman of the Democrat office at that time.

—Joseph Kaufman has produced this year in his garden a potato vine seven feet in length. And he isn't a granger, either. The members of that order will have to look to their laurels as well as to their potato patches.

—Prof. Ainsworth wants to look to his laurels as a fisherman. Prof. McAlpine and J. P. Dolan, of the Syracuse school, were fishing one day last week and caught about 200 fish. Average weight, 1 1/2 oz. avoirdupois.

—During the last week or two, our readers have missed the weekly productions of Pumphandle, our Warsaw correspondent. It's like losing one of the household to have him drop out from our corps of "news-gatherers."

—There will be an excellent crop of corn in this vicinity, and had the frost not put in an appearance as soon as it did there would have been an unprecedented crop. Much of the late corn was damaged by the early frost.

—Mr. D. W. Green, secretary of the Noble county agricultural society, will accept our thanks for a complimentary ticket to their twentieth annual fair which commences at Ligonier on the 12th inst., and lasting four days.

—The festive urchin no longer roams the streets engaged in the innocent amusement of throwing stones at his playmates. A corps of teachers at the school building are now engaged in teaching the young idea how to "shoot."

—The engine for the elevators of the B. & O. road has been placed in the building erected expressly for it, and we believe was put in operation on Thursday last for the first time. Its workings are satisfactory, we believe.

—The normal school at Milford under the management of our friend, H. W. Graham, will close in a few days. He has been engaged to teach the winter term of four months, which will begin in a few weeks after the close of the normal.

—We are pleased to learn that the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grogan, who was scalded so severely a few weeks since, an account of which we published at the time, is gradually recovering, and that the prospects of her recovery are good.

—We acknowledge the receipt of a kind invitation from Dr. Thos. Cammack, of Milford, Secretary of Kosciusko Lodge, No. 418. A. F. & A. M., to attend the dedication of the new Masonic hall in that place on the evening of October 27, 1875.

—It's not an uncommon sight to see little boys of from eight to ten years of age upon our streets puffing away at a cheap cigar with the air of an inveterate smoker. It may be fun for the boys, but it is the first step in the downward road. Boys, be careful.

—Judge Patten, of Hicksville, Ohio, was passing a few days very pleasantly in fishing upon the lakes at this place last week. At that time there were sixteen persons camped upon the banks of the lake, including the parties from Ft. Wayne and Indianapolis.

—Hugh Callander, Justice of the Peace for this township, started on Monday on a trip to Minnesota. He will be gone for a week or more. We accompanied him as far as Chicago, and we are now fully convinced that he knows how to do the "subject" justice.

—Again are we under obligations to our kind friend, George Fick, of Goshon, who remembered himself and family with two large rolls of excellent butter for which he will please accept our thanks. Geo. is a whole-souled individual and one we are glad to number among our friends.

—We met on Saturday C. V. Smith, of Milford, who has recently purchased a farm near Ossian, Wells county, Ind., and will move upon it this week. Mr. Smith is an intelligent gentleman and we were glad to make his acquaintance. He subscribed and paid for THE ENTERPRISE for one year before leaving.

—This is the kind of a granger Dr. Kelley is. He recently showed us two pears taken from a tree on his farm, which weighed 1 1/2 pounds each, and measured twelve inches in circumference. There were four pears grew on the twig from which these were taken, of equal size with the ones we saw.

—The immoderate use of intoxicating liquor has made wrecks of some of the brightest intellects, making the quiet enjoyment of the pleasures of home a hell, and blotting out the higher and nobler aspirations of manhood. Young men, look well to the consequences following the course you are pursuing.

—From our nephew, J. M. Prickett, who is sojourning at the magnetic springs at Three Rivers, Mich., for the benefit of his health, we learn that Prof. Silliman, of the springs, is anxious to see Judge Long's account of A. C. Cory's experience as a butcher at the Cory's. We have sent him a copy of THE ENTERPRISE containing it.

—Born—On Oct. 3d, 1875, a daughter to the wife of Dr. William F. Holden. Weight, 10 pounds.

—On Tuesday, Oct. 5th, 1875, a son to the wife of W. H. Widner. Weight, 8 pounds.

—Next!

—And still they come. On Thursday, Oct. 7th, 1875, twin daughters to the wife of Joseph Bushong. Weight not known.

—In its notes on the wonderful productions exhibited at the Elkhart county fair, the Goshon Democrat says "the giants on exhibition, with their dismal hand-organ, was no doubt the product of severe and protracted labor. We hope the race of this breed of animals is about run out. Her weight was announced as 518 pounds. Mr. Thomas or single we did not stop to see."

—On Thursday evening of last week, William Gilbert, a farmer living a few miles from town, drove into town with his span of fine horses, and after doing some trading started for home, but had only reached the top of the hill, in front of Sharon Hall's residence, when one of the horses dropped dead in the road. We have not learned the cause of its death. The loss is a serious one, as the horse was a very valuable animal.

—The Kosciusko Sunday School Union goes to Ft. Wayne to have its printing done. There are but three printing establishments in the county.

—We frequently aid the Sunday school cause by giving it the benefit of gratuitous local notices, as, no doubt, the other papers in the county do. Now, what would those managing the Sunday schools think and say should we intimate that these notices, also, should be taken to Ft. Wayne?

—We neglected to mention last week the collision that took place on the B. & O. road between Cromwell and Albion on the previous Saturday. A peach train moving west at the rate of about 40 miles an hour collided with a freight going east. Luckily no one was killed, but the peaches with which one train was loaded, were scattered around promiscuously and were "gobbled" up by the inhabitants of the surrounding country who came to see the wreck.

—Dr. H. W. Shock has shown us a potato, grown in his garden, which is almost an exact representation of a human hand. The fore and middle fingers are closed, while the remaining two are off at the first joint. It is a curious freak of nature. We believe that a similar one is on exhibition at Goshon, and we suggest to Darwinians the possibility that, after all, man originated from the potato instead of from the monkey. Let them investigate.

—The following persons have remembered the needs of the printer, and during the week paid the sums given below, on subscription. Some are new subscribers, while the others are paying on subscription for the present year:

Geo. McAlpine, Dowagiac, Mich., $1.00; Milton Hagner, Syracuse Ind., $2.00; J. N. Mathews, Syracuse, Ind., $1.00; C. V. Smith, Ossian, Ind., $2.00; Samuel Bowman, Syracuse, Ind., $2.00; Dora Barr, Lowry's Crossing, Virginia, 50 cts.

—We received a card last week from Prof. G. A. Ainsworth, of Millersburg, asking us to say to the people of Syracuse and vicinity in that issue, that he would be pleased to teach a class here in vocal music if the proper inducements were held out. It was received too late for that issue, but we give it a place in this week's paper, hoping that those interested in vocal music will take the matter in hand and secure the services of Mr. Ainsworth, who is second to none as a teacher of vocal music.

—He now has a class in Ligonier and one in the city of Elkhart, we believe. Lovers of music, what say you as to this?

—We are in receipt of a copy of the Muncy (Pa.) Luminary, of Sept. 18th, from which we learn that our young friend, Thos. J. Juday, of Benton, is one of the Professors in the Muncy Borough Institute, located in that place. From the paper before us we learn that at an open session of the Institute, "Prof. Baldwin delivered the first of a series of lectures on Commercial Law; A. D. Hower, the second of a series of lectures on the Science of the Mind; and Prof. T. J. Juday, the first of a series of lectures on Education." Thomas was a pupil of ours when he was quite young, and we are gratified to see him taking the position he does. A bright future of usefulness is before him.

—We desire to add 200 names to our subscription list before the expiration of the present volume. This can be done if our friends everywhere will aid us by speaking a good word for the paper. We have a corps of correspondents that are unequalled, and in our local columns can be found mention of everything worthy of note transpiring in this and the adjoining counties. We aim to give our readers a synopsis of the principal events transpiring in this country and elsewhere, making THE ENTERPRISE a welcome visitor in every household where it enters. Its field of usefulness should be enlarged, and this can be done if our friends will lend their influence in increasing its circulation. We contemplate making some improvements in the office the coming year if proper inducements are extended, but of this, time alone will determine.

—Some of the largest manufacturing in the world started up on a very small scale and with little or no capital. They, however, received the encouragement of those by whom they were surrounded, and by perseverance, energy, and strict attention to business, have grown to such dimensions as to fill with wonder and astonishment those who look back seemingly to a few years ago, when they were in their infancy. When a new enterprise is established in our midst, the proprietors of which are not blessed with unlimited capital, our wisecracks knowingly shake their heads as they predict an early failure of the concern, thus unintentionally shaking the confidence of their hearers in the stability of the enterprise, whatever it may be, and hastening a downfall of that which, under other circumstances might become prosperous, and an honor to the town in which it is located. Gentlemen, the way to build up your town is by giving every branch of industry established in it your support, instead of taking every occasion to predict its failure and downfall.

—Stetler & Kindig have just received a full supply of school books, such as will be used in the schools of this township. Give them a call. 303

Fine Art in Goshon.

It is said that the intelligence and culture of a community may be judged by the attention it pays to the fine arts, and if this is the case Goshon certainly ranks high with larger and more pretentious cities. There was an oil painting on exhibition at our County Fair, the work of Mr. JOHN A. WUNDERLIN, of this city which deserves more than a passing notice. It represented a modern celebrity (female) in bust figure. The artist brought out many exquisite points, demonstrating a delicate touch and establishing the fact that he is possessed of a highly-mannered intellect. But to the picture: It was in half profile, and the lady's eye was half closed, giving on the Madonna-like face a sweet, drooping expression that older painters than Mr. Wunderlin have never attained in pictures of this class. The manner in which the hair was represented was something to make one get right down and howl with admiration, as it were. It was in the latest Tiburtino style, with a lovely row of beads around the first layer, the whole beautifully ornamented with ribbons artistically looped with wavy leather, cut bias, producing an effect that simply was fine. This point in the picture took the eyes of the ladies, who swarmed around the space allotted to it in large numbers, including many of our best judges in such matters. Our reporter took a long look at the painting and then gazed at the pictures of the snakes, the fat woman and the animals, hanging on the canvas of the side-show, and could plainly discern the difference. It is needless to say that Mr. Wunderlin's picture was the best. Hundreds of our people viewed the picture in rapt admiration, congratulating Goshon in the possession of an artist of such ability. Mr. W. informed us that it took about eight days' time to produce this painting, and that most of the work was done evenings. Arts honorabit!—Goshon Times.

—He entered the car, and twirling his gold-headed cane and softly stroking his downy mustache, leisurely took a survey of the occupants. They were a drowsy, sleepy looking lot, those dust-covered inmates, except one well-dressed and good looking young lady who occupied a seat near the middle of the car. He unconsciously took his seat beside her, making observations as to the state of the weather and to the loneliness of traveling alone, to the evident disgust of his companion. His familiarity had become almost unbearable, when there entered the coach from the smoking car a bronzed and sunburnt granger, who strode rapidly to the seat occupied by the pair, and in a tone which could not be mistaken, demanded: "Young man, is that lady your wife?"

The young man remembered the reply of the conductor, who, after showing the utmost kindness to an aged lady, was asked if she was his mother, made the manly reply of "O, no, but she is somebody's mother," and he thought he would imitate his example by replying: "O, no, but she is somebody's wife." "She is mine," hissed the irate granger as he took him by the collar and led him into the smoking car, where he administered to him a striking lesson in gentility and true manliness which the young gentleman will not forget to his dying day. The latter now considers the conductor who made the reply given above, a grand fraud, and his example not exactly the best one to imitate.

A PLAIN STATEMENT.—We have on our subscription books, perhaps the names of 300 or 400 subscribers who have not paid their subscription to THE ENTERPRISE for the present year. These men are perfectly good, but the sum due us from each, being small, many who could make payment now just as well as three months hence, neglect to do so, thinking that it is a matter of but little importance to us. Did they consider that our expenses, which have to be met every week are large, and that our receipts are made up of small amounts, we are satisfied that hundreds would pay immediately and with no inconvenience to themselves. In that event, we would be placed in a position where we could meet our obligations promptly, as we desire to do, and relieve us of much of the worry and vexations incident to publishing a country newspaper. With those who cannot pay just now, we can patiently wait, but those who are delaying from pure neglect, would confer a great favor upon us by handing in their $2. Who'll respond?

—Mrs. Oliver Cromwell has been quite sick for several days.—ENTERPRISE.

What next? First, we hear of Geo. Washington, suing for a divorce from his wife Mary, down in Kosciusko county. Then of Benjamin Franklin going to jail for stealing a saw-kub—next comes the venerable widow of the great Cromwell,—sick!

There must be some mistake about this item, Bro. Prickett, as the old lady died some two hundred years ago.—Wakarusa Sun.
