PRESIDENT HILL, of the Great Northern railway, offered five thousand acres in Minnesota to be divided among the homeless victims of the forest fires. The land is to be cut up into twenty-acre lots and cash contributions used to settle the people upon them.

CHIEF WADLIN, of the Massachusetts bureau of statistics and labor, has made a report on "Unemployment." This is an unusual word; whether it was coined by Mr. Wadlin we do not know, but it is a labor and space saver, and therefore will be accepted by the dictionary makers in time.

WHAT is claimed to have been the fastest long-distance freight runner made in this country was made from Memphis to Kansas City by a special train loaded with bananas, the speed averaging 40.4 miles an hour for 454 miles, and reaching a maximum of 54 miles an hour, which was kept up for 6 miles.

The commission appointed for the purpose has reported in favor of a suspension bridge for the Hudson river at New York instead of a cantilever. The suspension bridge is the handsomer design, but it is a labor and space saver, and therefore will be accepted by the dictionary makers in time.

JAMES MACKAY told Justice Foster in Chicago that he shared his wife's affections with a white rat, a pug dog and two cats, and that the menagerie had the best of it. He had been arrested on charges of abusing his wife, and in addition to the animal story set by the defense that the woman had had eight husbands and had failed to agree with one of them. Both were placed under peace bonds.

ENGLISH agricultural statistics show a continuation of the tendency of the last few years to extend the feeding of animals used for human food more than the cultivation of grain.

This year as compared with last they give an increase in acreage of 1.6 per cent, in wheat, 1 per cent in barley, 2.6 per cent in oats, 3.7 per cent in hay, clover and rotation crops, 3.4 per cent in hops and 13.6 per cent in hay and permanent pasture.

PEOPLE wonder sometimes why the Minneapolis theatre is in the line of calamities as the Hinckley fire are allowed to happen. Just judging by the generosity with which the relief fund is piling up, it may be by the menial human sympathy, kindness, mutual helpfulness, generosity, charity and all the graces that only such great occasions can develop in their most beautiful and richest fruitage.

The production of coal in the United States last year was 162,814,973 gross tons, against 164,337,795 tons in the United Kingdom. Our production of iron ore was 11,587,629 tons, while the British islands produced 11,393,470 and imported about 4,000,000 tons. We turned out 124,562 tons of pig iron, while they produced 9,576,993 tons. These figures show that in coal and iron the production of the two countries was nearly equal for last year.

The unfortunate man in a western town who committed suicide to get rid of the torture of a carbuncle must have been employing the ancient method for curing that affliction—namely, poulticing and cauterizing it in order to keep the carbuncle alive as long as possible. Had he known the scientific method instead of the grand method—namely, poulticing it with a tiny drop of carbolic acid—he might have been rid of the pest in a day and survived to render his life useful to others, if not tolerable to himself.

MR. VANDERBILT owns 2,000,000 acres of land in the United States. Mr. Davidson, of Pennsylvania, has 4,000,000 broad acres. The Schlesien estate owns 2,000 acres within the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The California millionaire, Murphy, owns an area of land bigger than the whole state of Massachusetts. Foreign noblemen, who owe no allegiance to this country, are permanent absentee landlords and spend all their money abroad, on 1,000,000 acres of land here, or more than the entire area of Ireland. Lord Scilly, of Ireland, owns 90,000 acres of farming land in Illinois.

The same kind of economy which would put two persons in the same bed to sleep would, if carried far enough, require them to sit in the same chair and eat from the same plate. In a general way, each person should have an entire bed. Two or three single beds in the same room, where that is a necessity, are much better than putting two into one bed. This is especially true where either person is restless, or in imperfect health from any cause. The slight movement of another person is frequently sufficient to dislumber and induce a long period of wakefulness.

MISS DAISY MAJOR, postmistress at Wampum, Pa., is short $1,400 in her accounts. Daisy is sweet 16, dresses in elegant apparel, and rides a high-grade cycle, and if Uncle Sam is so ungallant, says the Boston Herald, as to change the Major to the minor key, gallantry should go to the rescue. What's the good of being a Daisy if a little trifle like that has to be brought up against her? No postmistress has sold so many stamps, or made letter-writing such a necessity to that part of the state, as Miss Daisy Major, and it would be churlish to bounce such a government attraction.

OWENS WINS.

On the Face of the Returns Breckinridge Is Beaten.

The Colonel Refuses to Acknowledge His Defeat, and May Contest the Result of the Primary—A Memorial Contest.

THE VOTE.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 17.—In the primaries of the Seventh congressional district Saturday W. C. Owens is believed to have secured a safe majority of the delegates. The vote was about as follows so far as the returns already received indicate:

County.	Owens.	Breckinridge.	Settle.
Bourbon	1,030	1,151	68
Fayette	1,212	1,975	480
Franklin	1,132	1,088	28
Henry	1,088	988	33
Oldham	407	347	205
Owsen	1,132	1,141	1,200
Scott	1,234	635	188
Woodford	811	688	141
Totals	8,007	7,687	849

Breckinridge, leaders claim that in Scott county Owens received many fraudulent votes, as 600 more democrats voted in this county Saturday than at the last election. Desha Breckinridge said he was confident of his father's election.

Said he: "I cannot give out a statement by counties, but our latest statement shows a plurality to 141. I am sure that the count will be given us by the district committee when it meets. If it does not I am not prepared to say what will follow; may be a contest." There was a report Saturday afternoon that Owens, Settle and Breckinridge would each issue a card to the public. This was on the theory that Breckinridge was about to contest the election. Breckinridge absolutely refuses to talk. The most thorough investigation failed to find ground for the rumors. Every body is thoroughly tired of the fierce contest that terminated in the primaries.

A notable indication here is the doffing of Breckinridge badges and the donning of Owens badges by the most ardent young men who supported Breckinridge throughout the campaign with their money and their personal services. These men say that they went to the election Saturday, believing that every voter at the primaries was morally bound to support the nominee. Now that their favorite for whom they fought so valiantly seems to have suffered defeat they feel in honor bound to support his opponent.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 17.—Breckinridge men here are reluctant to acknowledge their defeat. Some of them are still claiming the nomination of Col. Breckinridge by a small majority. They base their hopes of contesting the election on the fact that the Owens county vote fell of 500 from last fall. Chairman Gains, of the Breckinridge committee here, went to Lexington to consult with party leaders there. Owens men claim the nomination by 241 votes.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 17.—News has been received here of a double killing in Lockport, 12 miles from Eminence, in Henry county. Jim Hoskins, an Owens man, and Wallace, a Breckinridge man, had a fight at the polls. Hoskins shot Wallace, after which Wallace drew a knife and stabbed his opponent repeatedly. Wallace is dead and Hoskins cannot recover.

PARIS, Ky., Sept. 17.—At Riddles Mills, this county, at 7 o'clock Sunday morning Ben Duval shot and fatally wounded Ed Faulkner, aged 22. The trouble, originated over the former challenging the latter's vote at the election Saturday.

The most eventful primary in the history of Kentucky if not the entire country, was one of Saturday when a democratic candidate for congress was chosen for the Ashland district. It has been a remarkable campaign, and has attracted attention by reason of the fact that the principal candidate had been a representative of this district for ten years, was considered one of the most polished orators of the land, and that he had fallen. When the sensational charges were brought against him by Madeline Pollard, a girl of his best friends believed he would not make the race; and when the trial was decided against him they were surprised and shocked when he announced his determination to ask the people to return him to congress. Then followed the uprising of the people in May and June, when they held indignation

The women took up the fight and pushed it until the last hour. They have made the fight their own, in their churches, in their homes, in the streets, in the stores and in their homes. They have allowed no opportunity to escape them and fought Breckinridge with that same determination and heroism that the pioneer women of Kentucky, when they helped their fathers and sons to fight the Indians.

The Breckinridges have talked of them in every way: called them brave female politicians, referred to them as short-haired women, have said they would better be at home attending to their children and praying for their souls, but nothing deterred these noble women. They braved all censure and even faced the tongue of slander to carry out the duty of returning from congress the present representative.

They have gone out among the people and have collected for him in his campaign. They regarded it as a fight for the honor of their homes, for the purity of their sons and daughters. It was a woman's war and nothing but a woman's war could have awakened such widespread and self-sacrificing opposition to the former idol of Kentucky.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the good women of Lexington held a prayer meeting in Morrison chapel at which Elders McGarvey, Jones and Dr. Bartlett presided. Rev. Mr. Ward, of the Episcopal church, read lessons from the Bible. It was one of the most solemn religious services ever seen in Lexington, and the earnestness of those engaged in it indicated the strong feeling against the return of Col. Breckinridge.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 17.—The three days' festivities in honor of the birthday of President Diaz and the declaration of Mexico's independence have opened throughout the republic. The military parade and sham battle on the plains of Perillo, was one of the grandest military pageants witnessed for many years. At night the plaza of the government palace was filled with thousands of people while the palace was thronged with the nation's elite attending the president's grand annual reception.

Killed by a Bursting Cannon. QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 17.—During a republican rally at Green City, Mo., Saturday afternoon a cannon exploded, killing Mr. Strickler and wounding several other persons. The cannon, heated from a shot just previously fired, was being reloaded by Mr. Strickler, when it suddenly exploded. A piece of the metal tore away his jaw bone and crushed his skull.

Robbed His Partner. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—E. A. Weil, a liveryman, has disappeared after embezzling $8,000 from his partner. He left a letter intimating suicide.
