Ira McDowell is the bashful father of a second edition which arrived last week. He has the look common to all happy fathers, that of the Cheerful Idiot. But it will pass, Ira, it will pass.

A Mr. Gryce, a Diamond saw salesman from England favored us with a visit on Monday last. Contrary to our common belief he talked English without a bloomin' accent, and did not call the ladies "bloomin' skoits."

S. Greer was absent from the mill all last week on account of illness. Anticipation and realization of the Thanksgiving dinner is given as the prime cause.

John Forney is ill with an attack of ear-burn. We dosed him with essence of pepsin last night which helped some. He chews too much tobacco for a kid of his size.

Chas. Sylvester has purchased Dimpie, the Old Reliable, from W. McMillen & Son. If the Auto is as good and faithful as Old Dimpie, there will be no kicks or swear words coming.

Mrs. J. Sweeney and Mrs. D. Wright spent Wednesday with Mrs. A. Forney.

W. Sare has disposed of a valuable sorrel horse to Lou Fox. We think Fox got soaked for Wylie is a sharper.

It looks as if it might be possible to start something to prevent this fine little paper from making its weekly bow only three quarters dressed. Why not fill the empty page with an ad, or better still, start a homeliest girl contest among the Clear Creek maidens. Each one is sure to be a winner.

W. Johnson, M. Cardwell, R. Jones and Wes Duvall attended the shooting match near the latter's place on Thanksgiving day, after partaking of a rattling good dinner prepared by Mrs. Duvall, each one bagged a turkey at the shoot, which is going some.

We note that Wild-cats are surrounding the town of Smithville preparatory to eating all the inhabitants thereof alive and kicking. We flatly refuse to believe this, as a Wild-cat must be in desperate straits indeed, and nearing the close of her ninth life, before she would have the colossal nerve to tackle an inhabitant of Smithville. Having spent three months in Missoorah, as the saying goes, they have got to show us.

Further than the above deponent sayeth not. The spark plug is on the bum so that means "QUIT."

ELOPEMENT
OF JOHN D. BELL

A Druggist of Harrodsburg

Harrodsburg society is all excitement over the elopement of John Bell, the well known druggist, at that place, and the widow Louella (Givens) of Kirksville, who has been married three times, her last husband, Walter Morgan, was killed one night by a train as he was coming home in an intoxicated condition. Mr. Bell was considered one of the leading citizens of Harrodsburg, and his action is a great surprise. He has been conducting a well stocked drug store and was thought to have been doing a good business. He has a wife and five children. The last heard of them was a letter written by him in Chicago, telling his wife he was not coming back any more and to do whatever she pleased with the store.

Mrs. George Stipp, who has been visiting the family of her father, Silas Grimes, for the past month, will leave to-morrow for her home in Ensley, Alabama.

Chesley Burris received a letter from his mother, who is visiting relatives in Kentucky, stating that she has lost her pocket book containing spectacles and quite a sum of money.

After attending county institute last week and visiting home folks over Sunday, Miss Grace Hainey returned to her duties as mistress of the Linthicum schools Monday morning.

Miss Mary Thrasher has bought of Grant Hazel, a fine new piano, which was dedicated by a number of friends last night.

F. M. Holman and John Sylvester, have had their house repaired. George Gaither, Joe Stull, Geo. Davenport, Jas. Burkhardt, John Moore and Ollie Collins did the work.
