RADIATOR COMPANY PAYS DIVIDEND.

Common Stockholders Realize on Investment.

FUTURE OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

The Advance Radiator Co., by order of its Board of Directors, declared a dividend of 3 per cent to the holders of the common stock, last Saturday. This makes the second dividend that has been declared by the company within the last six weeks, the first being a 3 per cent dividend that was declared in favor of the holders of preferred stock.

That those who have invested in Radiator stock are pleased with their investment goes without saying and many are doubling their present holding which goes to show that they have the most infinite faith in the institution as a guilt edge investment.

Nearly all of the stock recently created by the increase in capitalization has been placed among the conservative investors of this vicinity. Many of whom were already holders of shares they had purchased when the company was organized.

When one considers that the Advance Radiator Company has been in actual operation in Syracuse for a little over six months and has overcome debts and other obstacles that confronted the management at the beginning and that it now shows undivided profits of more than 50 per cent on the money invested, make the showing a remarkable one.

The new acquisition of capital derived from the increased capitalization will release these profits and we understand the company feels certain it will be in a position from now on to declare regular dividends on both classes of stock.

We congratulate those who were in position to do so and had foresight to subscribe for Radiator stock.

Wants Mail Route Changed.

Editor Groves of the Milford Mail thinks Rural Route 5 out of Syracuse should be a Milford route claiming that the farmers east of that town could not get their mail until it had first gone east on the B. & O. and then back by the rural route from Syracuse. This may be true but should the route be changed and made a Milford route the same would apply to farmers living near Syracuse and served by the present route.

Political Notes.

The state legislature will meet Thursday, Jan. 7 and the inauguration of Mr. Marshall will take place on the following Monday, Jan. 11. Many candidates for speaker have been announced but Thomas Egan who was the democratic floor leader in the last session is the most favorably considered.

A special election will be held in Vanderburgh county for the purpose of electing a successor to Representative Walter Legeman who recently died.

Congressman Barnhart of this district has in mind at present only one bill which he wishes to present at the present session of Congress.

It is a bill providing for the reimbursement of the South Bend postmaster for the $18,653.50. Mr. Barnhart is occupying the same office room occupied by Ex-Representative Brick.

COUNTRY EDITORS TAKE OUTING.

Are Guests of Winona Railway Company.

The editor of the JOURNAL last week had the pleasure of joining the members of the Northern Indiana Associated Weeklies on a trip to Michigan City and the State Prison as guests of the Winona Interurban company.

Early Friday morning several of the members met in the parlor of the Winona Hotel for a preliminary meeting. A little business was transacted and the party then boarded the special car which was waiting just inside the grounds.

At 9:30 the car left Winona for the city by the lake. Stops were made at various towns and other editors were taken aboard. Just out of South Bend a delicious lunch was prepared and served on the car. Some difficulty was experienced in controlling our hot coffee while going over the new road between South Bend and LaPorte, however this part of the program of the day was thoroughly enjoyed.

We arrived in Michigan City at 1:30 where we were met by Mr. Henry Murdock of the Northern Indiana Company who placed a city car at the disposal of the crowd and transferred them to the prison.

Here we were shown every possible courtesy by Warden Reid, who, accompanied by Mr. Byrer of the Winona road and Mr. Murdock, led the pencil pushers, in a stroll through that institution, where we were shown the different departments and factories. Every room and cell is kept scrupulously clean.

The buildings are well lighted and heated, and everything

seems to have been done

for the welfare of prisoners.

Many of them are allowed to earn extra money which they are encouraged to send home to dependents but may have the warden place it on interest. One man last month earned $80 in the cooper shop.

Such cases are exceptional. The warden has at present about $12,000

belonging to prisoners.

During the tour of inspection the visitors were treated to a short but spendidly rendered concert given by the prison band, in the chapel.

A meeting of the association was held in the school room and resolutions adopted thanking Warden Reid and Messrs. Byrer and Murdock and their respective companies for the many courtesies shown.

Mr. Beyer, vice president of the Winona road, and Mr. Knapp of the Winona Review, were especially interested in making the outing a success. The following editors were present on the trip:

Small Blaze.

The fire department was hurried to the home of Ed Holloway, last Friday, to extinguish a fire that was fastly reducing his wood-house to ashes. Mr. Holloway was smoking sausage in his wood house and he had been in the building replenishing the smoke fire but a short time before it was discovered that it was on fire. The quick work of our fire laddies soon put an end to the flames and prevented what would have probably been a general conflagration among houses of that neighborhood.

SYRACUSE MERCHANTS DISPLAY HOLIDAY GOODS

Show Windows Artistically Decorated with Goods.

That there is no better place to do your Christmas shopping than in Syracuse is becoming more apparent to our people every year, and this particular year more so than ever before, because our merchants have become more acquainted with their respective trade and have purchased stock accordingly. A look into the display windows of our business houses will convince one that they can purchase just as good goods in popular designs and from as large and varied stocks as in any other town in northern Indiana.

We understand on reliable authority that Charles W. Miller has been retained to take personal charge of this work and already the leading papers of Northern Indiana are coming out with inspired articles expatiating on the damages which would result from the taking of marl from Lake Wawasee. Our citizens should at once arise as a unit and perfect plans to kill this iniquitous proposed legislation as its passage means the death knell to Syracuse.

While it is true that the Cement Company has sufficient marl to operate a few years yet, on Wabee and Dewart lakes yet, these deposits are flimsy things indeed upon which to rest the prosperity of this town and they are insignificant in comparison with the great deposits to be found in Lake Wawasee.

At the Star Store can be seen a pretty display of Gents' furnishings consisting of handkerchiefs, mufflers, neckties, shoes, suspenders, fancy hosiery and a line of ladies and gents' house slippers.

At Beckman's Furniture Store

will be seen a neat display of furniture and carpet sweepers, while

Hoffman, the Jeweler, has a beau tiful display of watches, clocks, jewel ry and cut glass in the same win dow.

The M. L. Russell store has their two large windows artistically dressed with a display of new Christmas and

Holiday goods consisting of ladies and gents' gloves, umbrellas, hand kerchiefs, fancy pillow tops, wool

and silk scarfs, suspenders, doilies,

and fancy hosiery.

At Strieby's hardware will be found an elaborate display of ice

skates for ladies and gents, coasters,

and sleds, also a nice line of cutlery.

The Fair Emporium—the Syra

cus toy shop—is showing a large line of toys, also an elegant line of fancy hand painted china dishes.

F. L. Hoch has a large display of dolls, books, toys, games, toilet sets and smokers' supplies.

Searfoss Bros. have a large line of Christmas candies, nuts and fruits.

F. W. Greene, a large line of Christmas books, dolls, and mani

cure sets, while Viers the Jeweler,

has a nice line of jewelery.

Brady, the news man has a large

line of post cards, fancy stationery,

books and smokers' supplies.

W. W. Stetler has a large line of candies, nuts, and fruits.

Milner Brothers have a complete line of silver cutlery, granit ware, skates, coasters and sleds.

E. W. Hise, a line of meats for your Christmas dinner.

Seider & Burgener have a large line of candies, nuts and fruits.

A. W. Strieby has an elegant line of coats and furs and is putting 'em up at a great reduction in price.

The line of candies is also very complete.

more real loss to our people than to the cement company. Therefore every man, woman and child should spare no effort to kill this proposed legislation and it means a bitter and prolonged fight because the opposition are determined. A mass meeting will be called in the near future for the purpose of mapping out some plan by means of which this legislation can be defeated.

Look Who Is Here

The Steiniger & Marr Dramatic Co. which will play a three nights engagement at the opera house commencing December 21, will present Lillian Marr in repertory. Miss Marr is recognized as the best dressed actress in repertory today and her cleverness and kind disposition leave an impression upon the audience. She will be supported by an excellent Co. This Co. has spared neither time nor expense to make it one of the best repertoires Co's on the road in which they have succeeded and at visit to the opera house on the opening night, will convince the most skeptical. Don't forget the prices 10, 20 and 30 cents.

An Explanation

One of the Syracuse papers has refused to publish an advertisement for a Leesburg merchant because he offered more for butter and eggs than was being paid by the Syracuse merchants—Leesburg Journal.

Bro. Gibbard no doubt refers to this paper in the above paragraph. However he is mistaken in the reason for refusing to publish the ad. It has been a principle of this paper to accept no out-of-town advertising which conflicts with local interests.

One of the largest and most complete line of Christmas and Holiday goods ever brought to Syracuse can be found at M. L. Russell's store.

HIGH SCHOOL GETS COMMISSION.
State Board Satisfied with Conditions Here.

PUPILS AND TEACHERS PLEASED

Superintendent C. C. Bachman has received from the State Department of Public Instruction a commission for the Syracuse High School. This makes it possible for him to certify pupils for entrance to Indiana University, Purdue University and Indiana State Normal school. It means that the instruction, length of term, equipment, building, course of study, etc., are of the proper standard to warrant the State Board of Education in granting this privilege to the graduates of the school.

The commissioned high schools of the state are apportioned for inspection among the different members of the State Board whose duty it is to see that the requirements do not fall below a certain standard. The commission, in this way, puts a school under state inspection. Sept. Study of the Ft. Wayne schools has this territory.

The members of the High School, and particularly the
