TO BRETZ FOR GLASSES

The Wearing Of Glasses Denotes Intelligence

Age has nothing to do with it but common sense has.

A child of five may need glasses just as badly as an adult of sixty. Perfect sight should be your first consideration and glasses worn if found necessary.

BUILDING POWERFUL ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE

Detroit, Mich.—Henry Ford is doing the unusual again.

This time, he is building the largest and most powerful locomotive in the world which, when completed, will be used on the Detroit & Ironton Railway, the latest addition to his railway interests and operating in conjunction with the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad.

This super engine, which is now under construction in the power house at the Highland Park Plant of the Ford Motor Company, presents a most important development in the electrification of steam railroads and at the same time a radical departure in locomotive construction.

The locomotive is not only novel in electrical design, but embodies many new and important ideas in mechanical design. In size it will be prodigious. It will weigh 340 tons, will be 117 feet long, fifteen feet high and ten feet wide. What is more interesting still, it will have sixteen 250 horse power motors connected to sixteen pairs of driving wheels and will be capable of hauling a train of 150 or more loaded box cars.

The engine will not be built for speed, the purpose being to use it for freight service exclusively. Its running speed will be 17 miles an hour and its maximum speed 35 miles an hour.

One of the unique features of this great electric motive-unit is that it carries its own converter station. This eliminates establishment of sub-stations along the route, a practice at present general in railroad electrification.

Through a regenerative braking system the Ford locomotive will have the ability to develop electric energy at any speed from the maximum to practically a standstill.

B. & O. REPORT

The operating revenues of the B. & O. for November amounted to $18,732,803, and the operating expenses for the same month to $15,839,439, leaving a net balance of $2,893,364.

During the year 1923 the states of Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, New York, Indiana, and Ohio, completed 27,803,107 square yards of concrete roads. During 1924 the same states completed 33,659,950 square yards. The constantly increasing volume of heavy fast-moving traffic demands a permanent type of road free from excessive maintenance tax and concrete seems to answer the purpose.
