Springfield, Mo.—Plans were launched by A. J. McDowell, dairy specialist for the Frisco System, to send a carload of milk and cream daily to Florida markets. Several towns along the Frisco lines have pledged quotas and it is possible that the shipments may be increased to several cars daily, McDowell said.

TO BUILD K. OF P. HOME

Lafayette was awarded the new state Orphans Home of the Knights of Pythias at a meeting of the selection committee held at Indianapolis Friday.

Lafayette offered $50,000 in cash donations and the choice of purchasing several sites for the new home. Other cities had bid for the institution.

The Knights of Pythias will spend $300,000 on the new home, $200,000 of which must be raised by contributions before work will begin on the structure. The home will be ready eighteen months after work is started which Knights of Pythias officials say will be early next year.

SURVIVES FIRST CUT I. U. BASKETBALL SQUAD

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 14.—John Riddle, of Syracuse has survived the first cut of the Indiana University freshman basketball squad. Coach Max Lorber had exactly 126 yearlings to report and following nearly two weeks of scrimmages and drilling sessions where the freshmen had an equal chance to exhibit their best knowledge of the game, the Crimson mentor made his initial elimination.

Coach Lorber now has on the squad 56 candidates.

Additional cuts will be made but not until every man has been able to display his best basketball. Harlan Logan, all-conference forward at Indiana last year who is now assisting Coach Everett Dean, with the varsity, will aid Lorber in the remaining eliminations.

The cutting of the squad will last through a period of at least two weeks. Those eliminated will not be dropped permanently but will revert to the intramural squad, and as their playing improves, Coach Lorber will recall them for another chance to make the grade.

About 25 players will finally make up the freshman contingent.

Eliminating those who lacked the necessary quality of basketball has been a task for the Indiana freshman coach. Not a single player had played less than two years, according to their report cards. Some possessed pedigrees as long as the League of Nations covenant and they ranged from an "all-city" choice to a place on "all-state" selections.

Coach Lorber is highly pleased with his list of candidates.

The freshmen will see action several times each week against Coach Dean's varsity quintet, thereby increasing their knowledge of the college style of play. Work on the fundamentals will consume much time until after the Christmas holidays.
