THE FIREPLACE

Those who are supplied with fireplaces in their homes feel no resentment as the chilly evenings and the winter not far away. The chill of fall can be welcomed because it provides good reason for a blaze in the fireplace with the joy and good cheer possible as the fire crackles and develops as the ashes drop and the fire burns itself out.

The family gathers about the fire, as the lure is strong and there is promise of a happy hour.
It is a proper place to visit, or read, or smoke, to relax and dream. The glow of the fireplace is cheerful, companionable and inviting. One may watch the curling smoke, the jets of flame, the ruddy glow and find ever a new picture always interesting.

Fireplaces are domestic, belong in the home where a family is found. The selfish man and the miser might refuse them, certainly could not hope to see their charm, glimpse the picture or feel the spell. The hour of peace, kindly contemplation and retrospection comes as the evening wears away and the fire burns low, the hour with its soothing and sweetening effect on life. Those hours come only in the home. They are for the generous, the kindly, the helpful to know and enjoy.

FOR 14 YEARS HE HAD RHEUMATISM; THEN IT VANISHED

It Was Konjola—The Modern Medicine—That Brought About This Amazing
Recovery

MR. COLUMBUS GLORE

"For fourteen years—not a day without suffering—that is what I went through before I was told of this new Konjola," says Mr. Columbus Glore, 121 North Grand Avenue, Connors-ville, Indiana. No wonder Mr.
Glore is enthusiastic about Kon-jola.

"It was difficult to imagine anyone suffering as I did," adds Mr. Glore. "I could not put on my coat without help; my body was full of aches and pains; I could not raise myself in bed without holding on to something.
Weak kidneys compelled me to rise frequently at night; I lost weight, strength and ambition.
I was indeed, without hope of being well again.

"Friends advised me to try Konjola, but I had been disappointed so often. Finally I decided to try this medicine—and what a happy decision that was!
With the first bottle I began to feel better. In a few weeks I was well again. It seemed magical—but true. I haven't an ache nor pain. I can eat anything. It is wonderful to be well again after all these terrible years. No one knows how I would like to tell everyone about this remarkable remedy."

Konjola is sold in Syracuse, Ind., at Thornburg drug store and by all the best druggists in every town in this section.

BACHMAN'S

(Dialogue between Mrs.
Brown and Mrs. Smith.)

MRS. BROWN—Christmas is not so far away and I am beginning to have an uneasiness about presents.

MRS. SMITH—I have a suggestion for you that will help you.

MRS. BROWN—What is it?

MRS. SMITH—I am saving the Green Stamps I get at Bachman's. The premiums cover such a wide range of merchandise that I find it easy to make a selection that will be a beautiful and useful gift.

There are linens, blankets, silver, toys, etc.—all of first quality. And best of all—I get these premiums without one cent of cost. They give them as discount for cash. Take my suggestion and try it. You will be surprised at the rapidity with which they accumulate.

Isaac J. Wagner, a carpenter, who resides north of New Paris,
