Before departing from Wakefield it will be well to remember that the flag of the United States of America was born of the courage, wisdom and faith of George Washington. As it streams here in the winds at his birthplace today, one may, in fancy, catch from its fluttering the herald of a coming event—the celebration in 1932 of the 200th anniversary of his birth.

Indeed, things are astir at Wakefield. The hand of Time has been turned back to Colonial days and the maker of antique brick is doing his faithful best with a pair of lazy mules, alternating in their labors, to produce in texture and color the kind of brick used in the original home. Near the primitive kiln, workmen are engaged in excavating the old foundation upon which the house is to be rebuilt.

"BY SWITCHING TO TARGET MY HUSBAND SAVES 50 CENTS A WEEK!"

We had to cut down expenses, so my husband did his share by switching to Target and rolling his own cigarettes. I felt kind of sorry for him at first, but I notice he's more cheerful than ever.

"He tells me that Target rolls up into cigarettes that look and taste like ready-mades. Target is the same mixture of foreign and domestic tobaccos that the ready-mades use. You get 40 special gummed papers free. No wonder my husband tells me he's glad he changed. He's getting more cigarette pleasure than ever, and we're saving about enough to pay for the family's bread and butter each month."

HUSBANDS, PLEASE NOTE!
You pay less than one-sixth the government tax on ready-mades when you roll your own from Target. It's only a pack of TARGET Rolling Papers fifteen or twenty smokes. If you don't say they are the best cigarettes you have ever smoked, return the half empty package to your dealer's and you'll get your dime back.

Untouched by Modernism
Conscience is about the most old-fashioned thing, says the Osborne Farmer. It is still using the still, small voice instead of employing the modern loud speaker.

Yeh. And we notice that Opportunity still knocks; it doesn't sit out in a car and houk.—Boston Transcript.

Tree Surgery in Capital
Because some of the valuable trees in Washington, D. C., became undernourished following the drought, they have been artificially fed by drilling holes near the base of each tree and filling the holes with meal and pouring in water.

Scolds neighbor for using lifeless suds

I'M surprised at you—trying to get a I clean wash with such flat suds! Just try Rinsso and see the difference. It gives the richest, soapiest suds you ever saw! Clothes come so white, you'll be amazed! I never use any soap but Rinsso.
