

cis county and carried back to the scene of his crime. Where, in the presence of about 50 persons, he confessed this guilt, said that he had nothing to urge in extenuation of it, and declared that he wished to be executed at once. The mob took him at his word, hung him upon the nearest tree, and after he was dead, cut down his body and cast it to rest behind the same log, where they had found the body of his victim. A place, where such lawless atrocities can be practised, with impunity, even upon the guilty, deserves to be sunk in the bottom of the ocean.—Louisville Journal.

SCRAPS.

"Love Laughs at Locksmiths"—except in the case of Henry J. Stevenson, who was married in Plymouth jail, on the 12th ult, to Miss Cynthia K. Shaw. Or rather, Miss Cynthia K. Shaw was married to Mr. Henry J. Stevenson; for it seems that madam held Henry as somewhat slippery, and had him deposited in jail for safe keeping until the ceremony of publishing, &c., was over, when the loving pair tied their nuptials, and Henry was once more restored to liberty and to love.—New Bedford Gazette.

In Marion county, Mississippi, on Thursday, 16th July, by the Rev. J. W. Pittman, Mr. H. Henninger, aged one hundred and four years, to Mrs. E. A. Peak, aged eighty-three years, all of that county.

Hickory.—The Van Buren men have ordered more hickory trees to be planted, to aid in the approaching election. Why not go the whole figure at once? Envelope the little magician at once? Envelope the old Chief, mount the cocked hat and feather, and swear that it was himself who gained the victory at New Orleans. Pass a resolution at Tammany to that effect, and who dares doubt it?—Long Island Farmer.

U. S. Bank.—The U. S. Bank has sold and transferred some of its branches to other banks, in order that the collections may be easy and gradual, and cause no distress in the community. It is making arrangements to dispose of other branches in a similar manner. Notwithstanding these arrangements, we hear some of the faithful banging away at the monster, attacking the bank at this time, reminds us of the boy that stamped the dead goose. What, what are you doing there? Killing the goose, daddy! It is dead you booby! I know it daddy! but I mean to kill it deader!—N. R. Times.

The editor of the Portland Argus an abusive abolition and Van Buren journal, has been mulcted in the sum of $1150 for a libel on Mr. Cilley of Thomaston, late Speaker of the House of Representatives of Maine.

U. S. Telegraph.—We learn from the last Telegraph that General Duff Green, its founder and proprietor, is about to remove from Washington city, with a view to engage in other pursuits; and that the Telegraph will henceforth be under the editorial charge of Dr. Edward R. Gibson—a gentleman who has been for several years past connected with that paper as an associate editor. The proprietary interest yet remains in Gen. Green, and will do so until the first of December, when it is expected a new arrangement will take place. Gen. Green, the veteran editor, announces it as his purpose, to present, at an early day, a brief review of his editorial course, in which he promises to "speak of the things which he has seen and knows." If the proposed work shall be fully accomplished, it will form a chapter full of interest and full of moral.

Texas.—We perceive by our last southern and western papers simultaneous suggestions at New Orleans and St. Louis, that Texas should be purchased and annexed to the U. States.

A letter writer from Texas says: "If Texas belonged to the United States, it would soon become the garden of America." To this remark, a correspondent of the Philadelphia Herald appends the following sound commentary: "The truth is, there are so many places within the U. S. that claim to be called the Garden of America, that we are in want of hands to cultivate these lovely spots. We would then advise Americans to stay at home and not place themselves under a foreign government where there is neither protection for person nor property. They ought to reflect, when they settle on the lands of Texas, that they lose all claim on our government as citizens.—Balt. Am.

What can the Van Buren men say to Judge White's unanimous re-election to the U. S. Senate? Gen. Jackson himself, if we are not mistaken, could never have obtained such a vote in the Tennessee Legislature. The election proves one thing—that the friends of General Jackson cannot be transferred to Van Buren. The hickory wreath fades in the grasp of the Magician, though it blossomed in the hands of the hero—the mantle of the lion will not fit the shoulders of the grimaldin of Kinderhook.—Louisville Jour.

The Administration determining to exert itself for its favorites, has established a press for the purpose of supporting Van and Dick, at Shawneetown, Illinois. We have received the first number of the paper called the Gallatin Democrat. The editor gives as an apology for the delay of the first number a month beyond the time, that the mechanics of the office have been troubled with such a terrible shaking and quaking they could not get it out sooner. They will shake and quake worse yet before they convert Illinois to Van and Dick. But the paper promises to do its best.

Free Press.

We perceive, that one John Sutton, of New London, Conn., recently undertook, for a wager, to drink a pint and a half of whiskey. As he was raising the last gill to his mouth, he fell and fractured his skull against an iron kettle and died in half an hour. No doubt he spilt the liquor.

"Jack fell down
And broke his crown.
And will come tumbling after."

Louisville Jour.

Beware of Counterfeits.—We learn that counterfeit five dollar notes on the York Bank, are in circulation. They are of the old plate, letter B, payable to W. Wagner, and dated Feb. 2, 1830.

The Columbus Ohio State Journal was the political friend of Jude McLean until the period of that gentleman's recent withdrawal from the Presidential canvass. Since that time, it has become an ardent and influential friend of Gen. Harrison. The last number says:

"Look to our own State, the signs of the times? for these few last weeks, plainly indicate that the Star of Gen. Harrison is rising to the ascendant. As wave follows wave, meetings for his nomination are following meetings, in various sections, in succession. Stark County has spoken—Franklin has held its meeting so has Miami, and Ross county follows next."

"What do you think of the agitation of Gen. Harrison?" says Gov. Marcy to Van Buren. "Very Harassing! very Harassing, I assure you," says the little Vice President, "we must change to keep his military fame and public service out of sight, or our party's hopes is ruined forever!"

"Bill Jones," said a bullying urchin to another lad, "the next time I catch you alone I'll flog you like any thing." "Well," replied Bill, "I am often much alone, I commonly have my legs and fists with me."

DIED.—In this place on the 22d inst. JONAS K. infant son of JONAS WISE.
