FAT FOLKS.

Fat folks! I hate 'em. It's a downright outrage upon the community to be lug-ging round a great fat paunch in their very face and eyes! It's a malignant libel on humanity to plead guilty to that enormous protuberance of belly, which may, not without propriety, be termed 'going the whole hog.' Let the cold-water fanatics rail as much as they please against the hard drinkers—they are not a tithe as offensive as your downright hard-eaters. Who can endure to see the wretches eat? I was at an ordinary to-day. There was a huge fellow opposite to me. While I was playing with the wing of a boiled chicken and tenderly dipping into the bowls of a roasted tomato—the fiend had bolted three huge platters of roasted pig smothered in onion sauce. 'Waiter! I'll trouble you for a bit more of your roasted pork!'—sung out my fat foe opposite. Ye Gods! I could sit no longer. Dashing down my knife and fork on the table, and casting a glance of unutterable and withering scorn at the brute—I fled. I couldn't eat again for a week. Faith! The bare reminiscence nauseated.

I'm a wee pawkey creature, Messrs Editors, and it gives my very soul to wit-ness the deferential respect paid by all classes of people to those huge belly gods. Look at them when they travel. Theirs is the landlord's most deferential bow and most commodious room. Theirs, the seat of honor at my host's table—where, (courses on their shiny faces) fish, flesh and fowls vanish under their obscenely rapacious jaws, like a wreath of mist before a hurricane. Theirs, is the most luxur-ious portion of the mail-coach—while 'poor I' am stuck a way in a corner. When in the name of Heaven, if these enormous monsters will intrude their ob-ject into a public conveyance—why will they not pay by the square yard for the space they really occupy. Yet proprie-tors of stage-coaches, hearken unto me, and I will teach you maxims of truth and justice—Tax these infernal conglomer-ates of intestines by the cubic mile, do ye! And if they don't consent to pay ten by bulk—let 'em hire an extra to transport their extra-ordinary carcasses, or, like good Mr. B, get a carriage expressly for them. Huge strong and broad!

It is very worthy to you, Messrs Ed-itors, whether fat folks are not exercising an undue weight in the administration of justice? Is it not a well attested fact that in all our principal cities the mayor and aldermen are selected from the great mass of citizens, almost solely with reference, not to their fitness, but to their fatness? Is not the word alderman synonymous with turtle-soup, and turtle-soup with alderman? How many of our Justices of the Peace and of the Quorum, ay and Custos Rotulorum too waste about. With fair round bellies, with fat capon lined, not putting on, as they should do, bowels of mercy, but putting forth unmerciful bowels. I put it to you, worthy Editors, do you believe that the decreasing influ-ence of ministers of the gospel can be justly attributed to any thing else than lack of portly paunches? Wasn't there something edifying in hearing a corpulent parson pour forth a rapturous effusion in praise of ethereal essences and spiritual sublimations!

Who of the ancient biblical heroes was it, Messrs Editors, that waxed fat and kick-ed, and is not an unfortunate propensity for kicking the distinguished attribute of all fat folks from his day to our? I never, in the whole course of my experience in society, knew a fat man to be truly meek and lowly-minded—did you? In-deed, how can we expect them to be so, trailing perpetually about them, as they do, the insignia of their personal conse-quence. Their very tread makes a great noise in the world. And gentlemen while my puny body hardly gets a wink from a cow—the whole world stand gazing open mouthed at my d—d big-bellied neigh-bor. Now, gentlemen, I have no wish to breed intestine broils in our happy re-public—but I can no longer stomach this state of things. I hate all fat people, from merry old Jack Falstaff down to the great Daniel Lambert, and they shall feel the weight of my indignation in your columns, Messrs Editors; that is, if you will give me fighting room, and I doubt not you will, when I declare that one great reason why I subscribe for the Galaxy is, that you are a couple of wiry, grizzly little chaps, not over burdened with bellies.

Yours,
FOUR FEET ELEVEN.

HOPE.

What is the bigot's touch, the tyrants chain? A smile on death, if Heavenward hope remain. However severely some may censure Hope as an arch-deluder, a parasite, a restless and insatiable annoyner of the mind, and shower epithets and abuse upon it, yet it nevertheless remains as in prime-val purity, the most precious bequest ever bestowed on man. I am far from sub-scribing to the singular doctrine of a certain reformer of the present day, who de-clared that "If Hope were struck from ex-istence, mankind would be supremely ben-edicted." On the contrary, I am firmly of the opinion, that were hope destroyed, man would be "supremely miserable." Hope is the star which cheers us on through the troubled voyage of life.—Hope is "The anchor of the soul, sure and steadfast."

"Cease every joy to glimmer on my mind,
But leave—oh! leave the light of Hope be-hind!"

When the Christian looks forward to his promised heaven of rest—when he con-templates the solemn joys which await him there, and feels that peace of mind "which nothing early gives or can de-stroy"—he has "on for a helmet the hope of salvation, and that hope will last when the silver cords of life are loosed, and the golden globe broken at the fountain.—Yes, when the funeral pile of Nature shall be lighted, and the omnipotent shall stretch forth his mighty arm and roll up the Heavens together as a scroll, and the elements shall melt with fervent heart, the hope of the christian will

"Look beyond the bounds of time,
When what we now deplore
Shall rise in full immortal prime,
And bloom to fade no more."

Singing conducive to Health.—Many parents in encouraging the development of musical talents in their children, have no other view than to add to the number of their fashionable accomplishments, and afford them a means of innocent solace and amusement. It was the opinion of Dr. Rush, however, that singing is to young ladies, who by the custom of society are debarrd from many other kinds of salutary exercise, not only to be culti-vated as an accomplishment, but as a means of preserving health. He particularly in-sists that vocal music should never be neglected in the education of a young lady; and states, that besides its salutary opera-tion in enabling her to soothe the cares of domestic life, and quiet sorrow by the u-nited assistance of the sound and senti-mental of a properly chosen song, it has a still more direct and important effect. "I here introduce a fact," remarks Dr. Rush, "which has been suggested to me by my profession and that is, that the exercise of the organs of the breast by singing, con-tributes very much to defend them from those diseases to which the climate & other causes expose them. The Germans are seldom afflicted with consumptions, nor have I ever known but one instance of spitting blood among them. This I be-lieve, is in part occasioned by the strength which their lungs acquire by exercising them frequently in vocal music; for this constitutes the essential branch of their education. The music master of our ac-ade-my has furnished me with an obser-vation still more in favor of his opinion. He informed me, that he known several instances of persons who were strongly disposed to consumption, who were re-stored to health by the exercise of their lungs in singing.

SPORTING AND DRAMATIC COMPANION,
INTERSPERSED WITH A

Multitude of Engravings,
INCLUDING

Portraits of Celebrated Winning

HORSES.

Philosophical and Natural Phenomena,

LEGERDEMAIN, &c.

It is now six months since this publication was commenced in Philadelphia—and al-though the publishers have used no extraneous means to circulate a knowledge of its merits, yet such is the satisfaction manifested by that portion of the public who have been made ac-quainted with its character and contents, that its lists of patrons continues constantly and rap-idly to increase. This paper is now distribut-ed regularly every week over a wide port-ion of the Union, and the most satisfactory as-surances that it will become one of the most pop-ular among the numerous excellent periodicals which issue from the American press. No ex-ertions will be spared to establish its perma-nent reputation more extensively, and if the liberal sanction of those for whom it is especially designed shall warrant, its future improve-ment—both as regards typographical neatness and embellishment—will be materially ad-vanced.

The different PLAYS and FARCES that will appear in the course of a year, of them-selves, will be worth more than FOUR times the amount of the subscription. The follow-ing is a list of those which have already ap-peared:—

Charles the First,
Is She a Brigand,
The Hunchback,
The Deep, Deep Sea,
Cheer Living,
Shakespeare's Early Days,
Henn Quatre,
Quite Correct,
Beggar of Bethnal Green, & S. Knowles.

Man of Ten Thousand,
The Ladies Man,
I'll Tell You What,
The Golden Farnet,
Speculation,
Olympic Devils,
Englishman in India,
Shakespeare's Festival,
The East Indian,
My Friend the Governor,
Victories,
The Omphib,

The Child of Nature,
The Rencontree,
The Duel,
The Sisters,
Villain,
Hermin,
The MSH. copy of the 1834 AMER-ICAN, the favorite and highly interesting Drama in which THORNE POWER is suc-cessfully engaged the public, as SHE PAYS OR NOT ENJOY, has been obtained by the pub-lishers, and will be published forthwith.

The SPORTING INTELLIGENCE (at home and abroad) occupies a considerable por-tion of our columns, and is collected from the most authentic sources. Among the Portraits of celebrated Winning Horses which have been given, are—
The American Trotting Horse EDWIN FOR-REST.
The Improved Racing Horse, MESSEN-GER.
The favorite Racing Mare, AERIEL, and her foal, by ECLIPSE.
Bond's celebrated Trotting Horse, NORFOLK PHENOMENON.
The well-known English Race Horse, TOUGHSTONE.
A correct PICTURE OF A RACE COURSE occupying the width of seven columns.

Among a variety of other Embellish-ments of interests which have been published are the following:—
A complete treatise on RIDING, with FOUR-TEEN ILLUSTRATIONS, for the improve-ment of Ladies in that most healthy of all ex-ercises.
Explanation of the AUTOMATION CHESS PLAYER, illustrated by ELEVEN ENGRAV-INGS.

The subjects which are particularly em-braced in the VADE MECUM will be more distinctly understood from the following sum-mary of them:—
The Turf and all matters connected there-with.
On the Structure and Character of the Horse.
On the improvement of Horned Cattle.
Rules for Novices in Shooting.
Methods for Feeding and Training Dogs.
Biographies of celebrated Horses, with their Portraits.
Hunting, Fishing, Fowling, &c.
Approved Games, from Hoyle and others, Criticisms on Plays and Actors.
The most popular Songs, set to music,
The Art of Legerdemain Illustrated.
A variety of Receipts adapted to Domestic Economy.
An Epitome of Important passing events.
Gentlemen's quarterly Review of the Fash-ions.

The Vade Mecum is printed on large imperial paper, of Beautiful white texture, and is published every Saturday, at Three Dollars per annum, in advance. Orders from abroad postage paid will be promptly attended to, and the paper carefully packed to prevent it from rubbing by mail.

The MODERN ACTING DRAMA—a volume of about 300 pages—containing the PLAYS, FARCES, &c. which appear in the Vade Mecum, neatly printed, and bound in elastic covers, for transportation—is published every six weeks. Eight volumes will constitute a set, or one year's subscription, the terms for which is three dollars, payable in advance.

Subscribers to the Vade Mecum are enti-tled to a deduction of one-third. An order for four sets will be thankfully received, and the work forwarded to any direction, by inclosing a ten dollar note—postage paid.

A Premium consisting of two volumes 300 pages each, of the Novelist's Magazine containing eight different Novels, by the most popular authors will be presented to the Agent who shall procure four names to the Modern Acting Drama or the Gentlemen's Vade Mecum, and remit the amount of one year's sub-scription to each.

Gentlemen wishing to subscribe to either of the above works will address CHARLES AL-EXANDER, No. 3 Athenian Buildings, Frank-lin Place, Philadelphia.
