STATE OF INDIANA, Knox County.

KNOX PROBATE COURT.

August Term, 1837.

John Ramsey, Adm'r. of Nehemiah Plew, deceased, vs. The creditors of said deceased.

On complaint of Insolvency.

AND now at this time came the said Administrator, and filed his memorial, shewing the condition of said estate, and complaining that the personal property (there being no real estate) is insufficient to pay the debts and demands outstanding against said estate; it is therefore ordered, that the filing and pendency of said complaint be made known to the creditors of the said Nehemiah Plew, deceased, by a publication of this order for six weeks successively in the Vincennes Gazette, a weekly newspaper printed in Vincennes, in the county of Knox and State of Indiana, and that they be informed that unless they notify the said Administrator of the existence and extent of their respective claims by filing the same, or a statement of the nature, date and description of the contract or assumption upon which the same may be founded in the office of the clerk of this Court previous to the final distribution of the assets of the estate of said deceased, such claims will be postponed in favor of the claims of more diligent creditors.

VINCENNES ACADEMY.

THE Trustees of this institution having procured, and at considerable expense fitted up the spacious building known as the Knox County Seminary, and having secured the services of able, experienced and respectable Teachers, will open the School the 1st Wednesday in October next, with the addition of a Primary Department, in which will be taught Reading, Writing, Spelling and first lessons in Arithmetic.

These duties contain, besides two large and commodious school rooms and a Library Room, several other apartments convenient for the recitation of classes in the higher branches of study, and for experiments in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, in which latter branches lectures will be delivered the ensuing winter.

One of the best Miscellaneous Libraries in the State, comprising upwards of fifteen hundred volumes of standard works, is attached to the Institution, to which the students will have access.

The academic year is divided into four terms or Sessions of eleven weeks each. The first commences the 1st Wednesday in October. The second, the 1st Wednesday in December. The third, the third Wednesday in March. The fourth, the second Wednesday in June.

STUDIES & TERMS OF TUITION PER QUARTER.

Reading, Writing, Spelling, and first lessons in Arithmetic, $3 per session.

Reading, Orthography, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography with the use of maps and Globes, Natural History, Rhetoric, Literary Criticism, History, Intellectual and moral Philosophy, Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, the various branches of Mathematics, Composition and Elocution, $5 per session.

The above with Latin, Greek, French or Hebrew Language $6 per session. Use of Library 50 cents per session.

Appropriate instructions will at all times be given without additional charge, to a class wishing to qualify themselves for teaching—and a vigilant, parental supervision will constantly be exercised over the manners and morals of all the pupils. All the studies and internal economy of the Institution will be subject to the daily supervision of the Principal, and to a stated monthly visitation of the Trustees and Board of Visitors.

The Institution will be open at all times to visits of parents and guardians, who are invited to read and satisfy themselves as to the instruction and discipline of the school, and the progress of the pupils. Besides this, there will be two public examinations a year.

To the citizens of Vincennes and its vicinity the Trustees would respectfully suggest, that an Institution of permanency and of the high character which it is their intention to give this academy, is not only demanded by the wants of this community, but is adapted in many respects to improve the character, increase the respectability and promote the prosperity of this growing Borough—and if so, has it not special claims on their patronage?

To those at a distance, who cannot be supposed to have any peculiar sympathy with the local interests of the place, they leave to say that it is the settled purpose of the Board to secure a liberal and enlarged policy—so far as appropriate and efficient means can go, to make Vincennes Academy, as a Seminary of sound and useful learning, ultimately and as speedily as possible, second to none in the United States.

The advantages of a public and permanent Institution must be obvious to all; there is greater power of motive to give it character, better opportunity to remedy inconveniences and to supply conveniences—there will be less change of books and consequently less expense to patrons; a uniform system of study can be maintained from the beginning to the end of a course of accomplished education; and what is surely a consideration of greater importance, Globes, Maps, Chemical and philosophical apparatus &c. can be furnished to a much greater extent than can be expected in private and temporary schools.

The University building is large and commodious.

The town is healthy and as situated as to mark it out as a point peculiarly adapted to the location of a medical school, being on the confines of two states and easy of access. There is a large and excellent Library attached to the Institution, to which students will have access gratis. The faculty can also inform students that they will in all cases be entitled to the benefits arising from observing clinical practice gratuitously, and that in rare or difficult cases, great care will be taken to impress on their minds important medical and surgical information. The faculty are entitled by their charter to confer the degree of Licentiate of Medicine, an extension of which will however be applied for at the ensuing session of the Legislature, and there can be no doubt but the power to confer the degree of Doctor of Medicine will be promptly granted. Those students who may wish to stand an examination for the degree of L. M. can do so at the expiration of one course. Those who attend the ensuing course are informed that it will be considered equivalent to a full course under the anticipated extension of the charter, and that they will be examined as candidates for the degree of M. D. by attending a second course.

Good boarding and lodging can be obtained at from $2.50 to $3.00 per week. Students upon their arriving in town, will please call upon the Dean at Col. Clark's Hotel.

P. TAYLOR, bookseller, Washington City, has just published and secured the copyright according to law) the above Maps, which will be found infinitely more complete and accurate than any heretofore published. They are published on separate sheets, each containing nearly six square feet, and will be found especially useful and valuable to those interested in the lands of either State, as they show every item of information which is in the possession of the Land Office relative to water courses, township lines, Indian lands and reservations, land districts, &c., and will be found perfectly accurate and precise in these points. They can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, subject only to single letter postage. Price, two dollars, or three copies of either will be sent by mail for five dollars. A liberal discount will be made on travelling agents, or to any who buy to sell again.

Editors of newspapers, any where, who will give the above advertisement (including this notice) one or two insertions, shall receive by return mail a copy of each map, if they will send a copy of the paper containing it to the advertiser.
