

Prompt Arrest.—The partner of a Scotch banking house, charged with the commission of several forgeries, took passage to the Wm. Byrnes, under a fictitious name, for this port, which vessel sailed on Nov. 17. The necessary documents proving the facts were transmitted by the George Washington, which sailed on the 24th, and arrived before the Wm. Byrnes. The consequence was that the delinquent, before landing, was arrested by a sheriff's officer, and carried to prison. This event should admonish persons who commit crimes in the old country that fleeing to the new world does not afford a secure refuge from justice.—N. Y. Courier.

A military convention held at Columbus Ohio, a short time since, passed a resolution approbatory of the President's proclamation, in which they promise to sustain him in the position he has assumed, with their personal services, if absolutely necessary.

OUTRAGE.—About Christmas, near Easton, Pa. a lad about ten years old, on his way to school, was met by two young men, who forced him into the woods and maimed and altered him in a most shocking manner.

On the 17th ult. gen. Tipton, of the U. Arnold Naudain has been re-elected to the United States' senate from the state of Delaware, for six years from the 4th day of March next.

Senator Bell, of New Hampshire, has been requested to resign his seat in the U. S. senate, by the house of representatives of said state—the vote stood ayes 113, the nays 59.

Gen. William H. Harrison, who was governor of the Indiana territory for several years, on a recent visit to Indianapolis, presented to the Indiana Historical society "the original correspondence of the territorial executive with the government of the U. S. and that of the individual states, together with other interesting and valuable papers," relative to the territorial history of Indiana.

The war with Black Hawk cost the U. States one million of dollars.

Deborah Richardson, of Augusta, Me. was convicted of beating her husband—she was fined and had to give security for her good behavior for two years.

U. S. FLAG.—That part of the American flag called the Union, is that quarter in the blue, in which the stars are set—this occupies the highest place on the staff.

The Doylestown, Pa. Intelligencer says they have in that town, "a bank and an academy, in which competent individuals are employed to "Teach the young idea how to shoot."

This (Bank) we believe, is the only one of the kind in the union, where banking is taught as a science. Query—was said institution in operation previous to the year 1812—if yea, did the officers of that great litter of forty banks in Pennsylvania, and the five hundred other swindling institutions in Ohio, Kentucky, &c. receive their instructions at it? And have they got a sufficient number of graduates in readiness to take charge of the one hundred banks about to go into operation.

Immoral Practices.—There is a bill before the legislature of Ohio, to amend the act entitled "an act for the PRESERVATION of certain immoral practices."

PUBLIC LAND.

At the end of the third quarter of 1831, there was in the hands of Israel T. Canby (late removed by the president) receiver of monies at the Crawfordsville land office, $24,967 40.

The quantity of land sold at the several land offices in the U. S. during the year 1831, was 2,777,856 88 acres—yielding $3,557,023 76. The quantity in Indiana, sold in the same year, was 554,437 acres, for $694,862 32.

During the first three quarters of 1832, there were sold in the several land offices, 1,509,801 73 acres of land—yielding the sum of $1,904,467 52. During the same period, 331,778 65 acres were sold in Indiana for $418,486 61.

By which it appears, that in one year and nine months, one million, one hundred and three thousand, three hundred and forty-nine dollars and ninety-six cents ($1,103,349 96) was paid for public lands in the state of Indiana alone.

ALABAMA.—The legislature of Alabama has passed a resolution calling for a GENERAL CONVENTION of the U. States, to be held at Washington city on the first of March 1834.

After several unsuccessful motions to amend, the question was taken and adopted.

YEAS.—Messrs. Chambers, Dumont, Ewing, Farrington, Feeny, Givens, Hallis, Hoover, Lemon, Liviston, Logan, Long, McCarty, Morgan, Pennington, Pollock, Robb, Wallace, and Whitcomb—19.

NAVS.—Messrs. Beard, Blair, Clark, Frisbie, Graham, Hanna, Hendricks, Herod, Jessup, and Ott—10.

Mr. Hillis, after giving his reasons for the motion he was about to make in a short speech, moved to reconsider the vote taken this morning relative to an adjournment on Saturday the 26th inst., which motion prevailed.

The question then recurred on the adoption of the resolution—ayes 10, nays 20. So the resolution was not adopted.

HOUSE OF REP.

STATE BANK.—The bill for the establishment of a state bank was read the third time. Mr. Proffit moved to recommit the bill to a select committee with instructions to make various amendments. After considerable debate, the question was taken on Mr. Proffit's motion to commit the bill, and was determined in the negative—yeas 26, nays 42.

The question was then taken on the passage of the bill, and was determined in the affirmative by the following vote: YEAS.—Messrs. Bell, Bradley, Bryant, Buell, Carter of C., Carter of O., Cox, Cravens, Cristler, Culley, Daniel, Davenport, Davis of S., Dunn, English, Ferguson, Huntington, Livingston, Mastin, McJannet, McNary, Moore, Osborn, Palmer, Pruett, Roop, Ruddick, Sands, Schoonover, Shortridge, Skeen, Slaughter, Stanford, Vawter, Wallace, Watt, Wooden, and Davis, Speaker—42.

IN SENATE.

Saturday, Jan. 19.

BANK BILL OF THE HOUSE.

The bill of the house for the establishment of a state bank, was received and twice read.

Mr. Lemon moved to refer said bill to the same committee of the whole to which had been referred the two bills of the Senate, and sundry petitions on the same subject.

Mr. Hillis moved that said bill lie on the table till Monday next; which, after some further discussion, was agreed to.

IN SENATE.

Monday, Jan. 21.

Special Sessions of the Circuit Courts.

Mr. Fletcher, from the judiciary committee, to which was referred a resolution instructing them to inquire into the expediency of providing by law for the holding called sessions of the circuit court, for the trial of persons charged with criminal offences, whenever such person or persons shall, by petition, satisfy the president judge of the proper circuit, that justice can be fully administered, have had the same under consideration, and the committee have directed me to report, that from the numerous applications to the legislature for the passage of special acts for the trial of persons confined in jail for offences, in the vacation of circuit courts, the committee have no doubt but that the subject under their examination deserves legislative enactment at this session. But to provide for the trial of those persons confined in jail, whilst the presiding judge is engaged in his regular circuit duties, or to direct which of two criminals should first receive a trial, who may be confined in different counties and make an application at the same time to the presiding judge, or to determine what peculiar circumstances must exist to entitle the person thus confined to the benefit of a special trial, are all questions of no little perplexity, and a majority of the committee believe, deserve more consideration than they can well receive at this late period of our session; and therefore they have directed me to ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the resolution; which was read and the committee discharged.

The president laid before the Senate a communication from the governor, covering two resolutions of the legislature of Georgia, one which recommends the call of a convention and proposes sundry amendments to the constitution; the other responds to the Tennessee resolutions in denying that the general government has the power, under the constitution, to enter into a system of internal improvements.

Which were read and laid on the table.

BANK.—The bill to establish a state bank was called up in the regular order, and, on motion of Mr. Pennington, made the order of the day for to-morrow.

INDIANAPOLIS, JAN. 23.

STATE BANK.

This subject was made the special order of the day in the senate yesterday, and the principal part of the day was occupied in its consideration. Three bills are now before the senate. One of them was introduced some time ago by Mr. Farrington, from the select committee to which was referred that part of the governor's message relating to the subject, which, in its prominent provisions, is similar to the bill which has received the sanction of the house of representatives. Another one was introduced some days ago by Mr. Ewing, and differs from the bill above named in several important particulars, but especially in that part which relates to the connexion between the state bank and the branches, the latter bill making the branches offices of discount for the mother bank, and making them all responsible for each other. And a third is the bill sent up from the house. Some parts of the bill first named underwent an able discussion yesterday; and from present appearance, it is quite probable that it will be several days before the final action of the senate on the subject will be known. It is believed that a majority of the members are in favor of a bank but whether a majority can agree upon the details is not altogether certain, though it is hoped such may be the case.

IN SENATE.

TUESDAY, JAN. 22.

The bill providing that all the elections by the General Assembly, not otherwise provided for in the constitution, shall be conducted on the viva voce mode, was read a second time. Mr. Cox moved to postpone indefinitely the further consideration of the bill, which motion prevailed by the following vote:

YEAS.—Messrs. Bell, Bonner, Bradbury, Buell, Claypool, Cox, Cristler, Daniel, Davenport, Davis, Edwards, Ferguson of C., Ferguson of U., Finch, Fowler, Goodbar, Hamilton, Hanna, Heustis, Lane, Lowe, Mastin, McNary, Osborn, Parker, Parks, Proffit, Ribble, Shortridge, Skeen, Slaughter, Stanford, Wallace and Woodruff—37.

A bill to declare the post road passing Allen'sville in Switzerland county a state road, was read a third time and passed.

IN SENATE.

THURSDAY, JAN. 24.

Pension Office.—The engrossed joint resolution of the house relative to the memorial of the Pension office, was taken from the table.

Mr. Pennington moved to indefinitely postpone the further consideration of the subject, which was decided in the affirmative—yeas 16, nays 13.

HOUSE OF REP.

Mr. Moore moved the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, it has heretofore frequently occurred that this house has been compelled to adjourn, sine die, with less than a majority of the members present, therefore,

Resolved, That the speaker of this house be requested not to deliver to any member thereof a certificate of his compensation as such member, until after the House shall have adjourned sine die.

Mr. Lane moved to lay the same on the table, which was determined in the negative—yeas 14, nays 45.

Mr. Vawter moved an amendment which did not prevail, and then the question was taken on the adoption of the preamble and resolution, and determined in the affirmative.

INDIANAPOLIS, JAN. 26.

BANK.—This has been the all absorbing subject for a few days past in the Senate. An able and elaborate discussion has been had on the constitutionality and expediency of that part of the bill, first introduced into the Senate, which relates to the connexion between the State Bank and Branches. It has been determined by a small majority to connect the bank and branches so as to make each responsible for the issues of the other. It is now committed to a select committee for the purpose of adapting the various parts of the bill to the main principle thus adopted. What will be the fate of the bill cannot now be predicted with certainty.—Journal.

GAZETTEER OF INDIANA.

The materials for this work are nearly completed, and it is intended to put it to press in a short time. It will be ready for delivery in the summer. We have been at considerable expense and trouble in collecting the materials, and we hope to present a work that shall be worthy of public patronage. As it may not be generally known, may be proper to gain to state, that we have a copy right for the work, and therefore any person undertaking to publish any work of the kind, no matter by what name it may be called, will be dealt with as the law provides in such cases.

DOUGLASS &amp; MAGUIRE.

WEST POINT.—We have heard recently, that a court martial has been detailed to sit for the trial of sundry delinquents at West Point. The following proceedings, however, from the south, afford the first intimation we have had of the nature of the offences that are supposed to have been committed. We should deeply regret to find that many of the young gentlemen at the academy have been so indiscreet as to compromise themselves, and at the same time to injure the institution of which they are enjoying the benefit. Should it prove true that the southern pupils have been encouraging a spirit of rebellion against the Union, we say at once, let them be expelled.

At a meeting of the State Rights Association of young men in Charleston, Mr. J. H. Prioleau rose, and after a few eloquent and appropriate remarks, submitted the following preamble and resolutions:—

Whereas, we have received the intelligence that at West Point a portion of our fellow-citizens of this state and of other states, whose interests are identified with ours, have expressed their determination to adhere to South Carolina in the struggle now pending, and whereas, as we have also understood that they have incurred the odium of the administration, and that they are likely to be expelled from their present situation:—

Resolved, That we have heard with feelings of proud satisfaction of the resolutions lately passed by some of the cadets at West Point, and that we fully reciprocate their sentiments.

Resolved, That should these true sons of the South be expelled from that institution, we will receive them with open arms, and pledge ourselves to do all in our power to make up to them the sacrifice which they have incurred.

Resolved, That no expulsion in such a cause can be considered a disgrace; but rather, that the conduct of the Southern Cadets entitles them to the respect and admiration of every true Carolinian, and every true friend of liberty.

It was then resolved—that a copy of the resolutions offered by Mr. Prioleau be transmitted to the Southern Cadets at West Point."

MILITARY ACADEMY.

West Point, Jan. 2, 1833.

Sir—I have the honor to enclose herewith a communication from one of the young gentlemen from South Carolina, with the concurrence and approbation of all the other cadets from that state. It has been forwarded by cadet —, under cover, to his brother at Charleston, with a request that it may be inserted in all such papers as shall have copied the proceedings referred to.

It is due to these high-minded and correct young gentlemen, to say, that this communication was entirely voluntary on their part, and written without any consultation with, or suggestion from me.

I am very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

S. THAYER,

Lt. Col. Sup. Military Academy.
Brig. Gen. CHAS. GRANT.
Inspector of the Mil. Acad.

WEST POINT, (N. Y.) Jan. 1, 1833.

To the Editor of the Charleston Mercury.

Sir: Having read in your paper of the 19th Dec. resolutions adopted by the young men's State Rights and Free Trade Association of South Carolina, approving certain resolutions said to have been entered into by the Southern Cadets at this institution, I, as one of the Cadets referred to, consider it an imperative duty to declare that no such resolutions have been adopted or proposed by the Cadets from the South. Whatever may be the sentiments in reference to the great contest pending between the United States and South Carolina—however deeply their sympathies may be enlisted—they feel bound, on account of their peculiar situation, by every principle of honor and duty, to withhold these sentiments, and to remain neutral, at least for the present, in this unhappy controversy.

Believing that the propriety of this course will be readily appreciated by our fellow-citizens of South Carolina, I have to request as an act of justice on your part, that you will give publicity to this communication.

Yours with much respect,

A CADET FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

VOLUNTEERS.—We understand that volunteers are pouring in with their proffers of service to the governor, not only from the adjoining States. So extensive has this spirit prevailed, since the adjournment of the Legislature, that we are informed it has hitherto been found impossible for the Executive even to acknowledge the receipt of the numerous communications received from volunteers. We hope shortly to be able to give more detailed information on this subject. In the mean time we congratulate the country upon the noble spirit displayed by the people of South Carolina at this interesting crisis. We hope and trust that no occasion will arise for requiring the services of volunteers in the defence of the State, but it is extremely gratifying to find that so far from the spirit of the people quailing beneath the threats of the President, and the denunciations of the manufacturers and their agents, they have risen with
