

Fifth Saturday Courier.

THE COMING SPRING.

The coming Spring—the coming Spring!
O hasten, lagging hours!
That wave with snow—when'd wing,
On to the time of it was!
I long to see the verdant earth,
The violet—mild blue,
The peeping birds in early birth
Of evening shape and hue.

Aye these are fair—but not for these That yeaste along;

“Tis not the breath of vernal breeze,
Nor streamlets wake'd song,
Nor all the gurgling of fields,
Nor tender skies above—

The image that my heart would yield
I not to thee—but love.

As her snow-clad bosom hides
The earth—her lores and flowers,
As beauty there unseeables—

Sunshine and vernal showers?
So doth my outward coldness keep My dears nased within.

The secret hopes of love, so deep
I were more than blis to wane.

The coming Spring—the coming Spring—
My heart aye spes is you on.

For with your lores and flowers you bring The Beautiful—the One,

One whom to worship were not sin—

For to her form is given A grace that speaks a soul within Whose home and hope is Heaven.

OUR NAVY.

By F. R. WARWICK.
We have a gallant Navy,
The storied waves to ride,
Our bulwark and our glory,
On every sea and tide.

To guard Columbia's honor,
Our frigates plough the deep,
While our starry flag in beauty,
The winds of heaven sweep.

Then woe to every foeman,
Who dares our banners brave;
Our yankee has all triumph,
Or perish in the wave.

Who would not be a sailor—
A true-blue on the tide,
A son of Freedon's navy,
To wander far and wide—

To dare the roaring tempest;
To woo the tempests bold,
Until life's great Commander Shall call all hands aboard?

Then here's to those that wander—
Upon the stormy sea;
God guard our gallant navy, What'er their course may be!

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND.

A worthy young lover once sought for his bride,
A daie of the blue stocking school;
“Excuse me, good sir, but I've vowed,” she replied, “That I never would marry a fool!”

Then think not of wedlock, “he answered my fair,
Your vow was Diamond's suggestion,

Since none but a fool, it is easy to swear,
Would venture to ask you the question!

“No, as fast my fool lover,” she answer'd with glee, “Nor prate of chaste Di's intercession;

No wise one will take your opinion of me, Because you're a fool by confession!”

“Dear Miss, in this action alone I'm a fool,
And you're welcome to use the confession,
For your lovers, by every sensible rule,
Are evident fols by profession.”

CANAL TRAVELLING.

“We have not much more of this Cedar Swamp to get through I hope!” inquired I, Seeking for some consolatory information.

“About fifty miles more, I guess,” was the reply of my companion, accompanying each with a hard slap on the back of his head, or on his cheek or forehead.

“Thank Heaven!” I involuntarily exclaimed drawing my cloak closer about me, although the heat was killing; we shall after that escape in some sort, I hope from these legions of mosquitos!

“I guess not quite,” replied the man;
they are as thick, if not thicker in the Long Swamp.”

“The Long Swamp!” I repeated; “what a horrible name for a country! Does the canal run far through it?”

“No, not so very far, only about eighty miles.”

“We've then done with swamps, I hope my friend!” I inquired, as he kept puffing and slapping on with unweary constancy.

“Why yes, there's not a heap more swamp, that is to say close to the line, till we come within about forty miles of Utica.”

“And is that one as much infested with these infernal insects as the Cedar and Long Swamps?”

“I guess that is the place above all for mosquitos,” replied the man, grinning.— “Tham's the real goliathers, emigrating north for the summer all the way from the Balize and Red River. Let a man go to sleep with his head in a cast iron kettle a mong them chaps, and if their bills, don't make a watertight pot of it before morning, I'm d—m.

They're strong enough to lift the boat out of the canal, if they could only get underneath her.”

BOX CHAT—DON RAY.—In the Coburg theatre, London, a lady, who happened to have a red face, sat in the pit, and at intervals of the performance, applied to a restorative, generally called a pocket pistol, to allay the effects of the crowd and pressure. A coxcomb—one of those pests that belong to no regular order in society—on perceiving the application of the leatheren boulette to the lady's lips, said sneeringly, “That's right, madam; stick to it, and you'll never want a color.” “Never,” said the lady, in perfect good humor, “whilst I have your impertinence to blush for!”

A SAW-GUARD.—A soldier was stationed at a post with directions to let no one pass without giving the watchword, which was “Boston.” In the course of his patrol, some one approached, and the sentinel demanded, “Who's there?” “A friend,” was the answer. “Well, friend, advance and give the countersign.” No answer. “Blast you!” said the soldier, leveling his musket, “say Boston, or I'll shoot you!”

DR. T. WHITE'S

VEGETABLE TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

THE only specific ever offered to the public from which a permanent and radical cure may be obtained of that disagreeable pain—the Tooth-ache with all its attendant evils; such as fracturing the Jaw in extracting the Teeth, which often proves more pain than the tooth-ache itself, and cold passing from the decayed Teeth to the Jaw, thence to the head, producing a rheumatic affection, with many other unpleasant effects, such as a disagreeable breath, bad taste in the mouth, &c; all of which are produced from foul or decayed Teeth.

I am happy to have it in my power to offer to the public a remedy that will not only remove to pain nine times out of ten, if properly applied, but preserve the teeth from further decay, and arrest the disease in such as are decaying and have not commenced aching, restoring them to health and usefulness.

CERTIFICATES:

MR. THOMAS WHITE—I have the pleasure to inform you, that I have been using your Tooth-ache Drops in my practice for some time past, and I must acknowledge edge that I find them superior to any thing I have yet known for that purpose.

I am well convinced that it will cure most cases of Tooth-ache, when it is timely and properly applied, and from a few weeks' experience, I am decidedly of the opinion that it will have a very beneficial effect in preserving the teeth; and recommend it, hoping it may prove a blessing to humanity, and advantageous to yourself.

W. M. L. A. BERKELY, Surg. Dent. No. 99
South Fifth St., Philadelphia, Pa.
September 12, 1829.

PARRISONS, July 7, 1829.—Some time in May, DR.
White left with me some of his Vegetable Tooth-ache Drops, and requested me to use them in my practice. I accordingly did recommend it to six of my friends, and some of them had been complaining of the tooth-ache for more than three months; and out of the six, it had perfectly cured five. I am now fully convinced of its salutary effect, not only curing the tooth-ache, but preventing the teeth from further decay.

J. H. WINCHESTER, M. D.

VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC DROPS.

THEY articles are before the public, as a cure for that obstinate and tormenting disease, the Rheumatism; and from close observation we are led to believe, that they have to a very great extent, failed to produce that desirable result; and may not be attributed to the fact, that articles made to cure this troublesome disorder, are also recommended to cure almost every disease with which our frail bodies are a-tack'd, and in their preparation that object is kept in view, viz. to have the medicine a cure for all diseases.

The Vegetable Rheumatic Drops are offered to the public as a remedy for Rheumatism, and as no case is known where a perfect cure was not effected, we are justified in declaring it a valuable medicine for that painful disease, and for no other it is recommended.— Price, 50 cents.

LA MOTTE'S COUGH DROPS.

VALUABLE MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDNESS.

THIS Elixir, in its original form of prescription has stood the test of twenty years experience, in the general use of it, and is now offered, with the addition of some articles from the vegetable kingdom, the virtues of which, have been fully attested, and highly appreciated when render'd that composition peculiarly adapted to the present prevailing disorders of the breast and lungs, leading to consumption.
Common colds and coughs, which are occasioned by obstructed perspiration, will readily yield to its influence, removing those troublesome irritations, which act as a constant stimulant to coughing. It cures pain, and induces rest to an eminent degree. Persons affected with pulmonary complaints, bleeding of the lungs, spasmodic asthma, galipitation of the heart, and consumptive affections, even in the most advanced periods of life, will find immediate relief, from its remarkable power of diminishing irritability of the system, and the velocity of the circulation, and by cleansing and healing the disordered parts it affords immediate relief to the hooping cough.—203-1y

Dr. Juddin's

SPECIFIC OINTMENT.

THIS valuable medicine is celebrated for curing the following diseases: White Swellings of very description—Sore Legs and Ulcers of long standing—Glandular Tumors—Follicles or Catarrhs—rheumatic pains of the Joints; Sprains; Bruises; and Fleths; Chilblains; or parts affected by frost.

For glandular swellings, it is superior to any medicine yet known. It is much safer than mercurial applications, (as it does not contain the smallest atom of that mineral,) because it does not lay the patient liable to injury from exposure of cold.

It cures the worst Follicles or Whirls on the application four or five hours. Rheumatisms which have stood as long as to become a systematic disorder, require medicine to be taken inward to remove them entirely. But in most cases, by applying these ointments externally, discolored, it will give relief.

Certificates of important cures—also directions for accompany each bottle.

TIMELY WARNING.

The undersigned, respectfully requests all persons indebted to him to make immediate payment; the indulgence, in most cases, has been already extended to a longer period than was at first anticipated; therefore, he hopes that this call will be promptly attended to.
