

POETICAL.

MY HEART AND LUTE.
I give thee all, I can no more,
Thou' poor the offering be;
My heart and lute are all the store
That I can bring to thee.

A lute whose gentle songs reveals,
The soul full well;
And, better far, a heart that feels
Much more than lute could tell;

I give thee all—I can no more,
Thou' poor the offering be,
My heart and lute are all the store
That I can bring to thee.

Thou' love and song may fail, alas!
To keep life's clouds away,
At least 'till make them lighter pass,
Or gold them if they stay.

If ever care his discord flings
O'er life's enchanted strain,
Let love but gently touch the strings,
'Twill all be well again!

I give thee all—I can no more—
Thou' poor the offering be,
My heart and lute are all the store
That I can bring to thee.

IS THERE A HEART THAT NEVER LOVED.
Is there a heart that never loved,
Nor felt soft woman's sigh?
Is there a man can mark unmoved
Dear woman's tearful eye?
Oh! bear him to some distant shore,
Or solitary cell,
Where nought but savage monsters roar,
Where love ne'er design'd to dwell.

For there's a charm in woman's eye
A language in her tear,
A spell in every sacred sigh,
To love—to virtue lead;
And he who can resist her smiles
With brutes alone should live,
Nor taste that joy which care beguiles—
That joy her virtues give.

VEGETABLE TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

THE only specific ever offered to the public from which a permanent and radical cure may be obtained of that disagreeable pain the Tooth-ache with all its attendant evils; such as fracturing the Jaw in extracting the Teeth which often proves more painful than the tooth-ache itself, and cold passing from the decayed Teeth to the jaw, thence to the head, producing a rheumatic affection, with many other unpleasant effects, such as a disagreeable breath, bad taste in the mouth, &c.; all of which are produced from foul or decayed Teeth.

I am happy to have it in my power to offer to the world a remedy that will not only remove the pain in nine times out of ten, if properly applied, but preserve the teeth from further decay, and arrest the disease in such as are decaying and have not commenced aching, restoring them to health and usefulness.

CERTIFICATES.

MR. THOMAS WHITE—I have the pleasure to inform you, that I have been using your Tooth-ache Drops in my practice for some time past, and I must acknowledge that I find them far superior to any thing I have ever yet known for that purpose.

I am well convinced that it will cure most cases of Tooth-ache, when it is timely and properly applied; and from a few weeks' experience, I am decidedly of the opinion that it will have a very beneficial effect in preserving the teeth; and recommend it, hoping it may prove a blessing to humanity, and advantageous to yourself.

WM. I. A. BERKELY, Surg. Dent. No. 99 South Fifth St., Philadelphia, Pa.
September 12, 1829.

BALTIMORE, July 7, 1829.—Some time in May, Dr. Thomas white left with me some of his Vegetable Tooth-ache Drops, and requested me to use them in my practice. I accordingly did recommend it to six of my friends, and some of them had been complaining of the tooth-ache for more than three months; and out of the six, it had perfectly cured five. I am now fully convinced of its salutary effect, not only curing the tooth-ache, but preventing the teeth from further decay.

J. H. WINCHESTER, M. D.

VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC DROPS.

MANY articles are before the public, as a cure for that most obstinate and for mending disease, the Rheumatism; and from close observation we are led to believe, that they have, to a very great extent, failed to produce that desirable result; and may it not be attributed to the fact, that articles said to cure this troublesome disorder, are also recommended to cure almost every disease with which our frail bodies are attacked, and in their preparation that object is kept in view, viz: to have the medicine a cure for all diseases.

The Vegetable Rheumatic Drops are offered to the public as a remedy for Rheumatism, and as no case is known where a perfect cure was not effected, we are justified in declaring it a valuable medicine for that painful disease, and for no other it is recommended.—Price, 50 cents. 203-6m

LA MOTT'S COUGH DROPS.

THIS Elixir, in its original form of prescription has stood the test of twenty years experience, in the general use of it, and is now offered, with the addition of some articles from the vegetable kingdom, the virtues of which, have been fully attested and highly appreciated which render this composition peculiarly adapted to the present prevailing disorders of the breast and lungs, leading to consumption.—Common colds and coughs, which are occasioned by obstructed perspiration, will readily yield to its influence, removing those troublesome irritations, which act as a constant stimulant to coughing. It cases pain and induces rest to an eminent degree. Persons afflicted with pulmonary complaints, breathing of the lungs, &c. spasmodic asthma, palpitation of the heart, and consumptive affections, even in the most advanced periods of life, will find immediate relief, from its remarkable power of diminishing irritability of the system, and the velocity of the circulation, and by cleansing and healing the disordered parts. It also affords immediate relief in the hooping cough.—203-1

Dr. Judkin's

SPECIFIC OINTMENT.

THIS valuable medicine is celebrated for curing the following diseases: White Swellings of every description—Sore Legs and Ulcers of long standing—Glandular Tumors—Felon's or Catarrhs—Rheumatic pains of the Joints; Sprains; Bruises; and Tetters; Chilblains; or parts affected by frost. It is also good for Scalds and Burns.

For glandular swellings, it is superior to any medicine yet known. It is much safer than mercurial applications, (as it does not contain the smallest atom of that mineral) because it does not lay the patient liable to injury from exposure of cold.

It cures the worst Felon's or Whitlows on the application forty-eight hours. Rheumatism which have stood as long as to become a systematic disorder, require medicine to be taken inward to remove them entirely. But in most cases, by applying this ointment externally as directed, it will give relief.

Certificates of important cures—also directions for accompany each bottle. 203-1y

The above articles are sold by D. McCullough Vevay and Jacksonville, and Lyman W. Mix, Mt. Sterling.

The Sketch Book of Character;

Or, Curious and Authentic Narratives and Anecdotes respecting Extraordinary Individuals.

IN preparing the following work from ample materials, care has been exercised to avoid, in the main, the beaten track of former compilers; to present to the reader what was inaccessible, than to copy well known biographies and events.

It will readily be admitted, that scarcely any but the professedly literary have ready access to original sources of knowledge, and what is more to the purpose, when cursory readers enjoy such access, they are commonly destitute of leisure and inclination to avail themselves of that advantage. It moreover happens in the perusal of weighty productions, the mind retains more of general impressions than of particular fact; and hence the great utility of presenting the latter, disengaged from the matter with which it is necessarily connected. Literary pride, indeed, may be averse to acknowledge obligations to the lightsome volumes of the parlor window or drawing-room, but to the great mass of the community the benefit of their multiplication is undeniable. If called upon to task their recollection, and to speak frankly, there are few well informed persons who would not acknowledge their obligations to collections resembling the present undertaking. Dr. Johnson justly observed, that a material part of every person's knowledge is acquired at the intervals of regular occupation; and rather by a promiscuous attention to subjects as they arise, than by a severe application to them in order. A similar remark occurs in the letters of Lord Chesterfield—and a little kindred discrimination will convince us, that we owe much of our information in matters of fact, to books which present them with ease and familiarity, and may be taken up and laid down again at pleasure, without any material injury to the connection of our ideas.

The principal object of the present collection, is to supply a pleasing variety of that kind of incident, which by exhibiting the marvellous in circumstance, and the extraordinary in character, displays the occasional waywardness of event and its frequent curious operation on the human mind. It would be easy to prove that, independent of mere entertainment, a knowledge of remarkable facts is necessary to correct the judgment, even upon every day transactions; and that in the science of life, as well as in every other, it is necessary to become acquainted with the exception of the general rule. To estimate properly what is, we must possess some knowledge of what may be—and the information is only to be acquired by an attention to the memorable and peculiar, which have been.

With respect to the heads under which our subject matter is arranged, little need be observed. The first of them, Extraordinary Individuals, allowed of amusing variety, which is essential to this order of compilation.

Under the head of Credulity and Fanaticism are arranged some details which exhibit the tendency of the human mind to create for itself chimeras, and of the contagious nature of the insanity which is the consequence. In the class of cases denominated Voluntary Human Suffering, are displayed a few examples of a species of misery arising out of the perversity of human nature. It would be difficult to invent greater torments than mankind inflict upon themselves when impelled by baneful and superstitious ideas of the benevolent Creator of all things.

On the succeeding division, Interesting Occurrences, the title is sufficiently indicative—it is distinguished from the first, by exhibiting singular and impressive incident, rather than character, although necessarily descriptive of both.

In conclusion, the present work is presented to the public, with a perfect conviction that it cannot offend, and, also, with a hope that it will be received with complacency.
