

In a letter from London, a correspondent writes for the Dispatch.—An intelligent traveler informs us (says the Alabama Republican) that, some time since, a Dr. B. of Alexandria, on Red River, challenged a Mr. M. an attorney, on some trivial account, who, at the time was laboring under an abdominal dropsy. They met in the province of Texas, and M. was shot through the stomach. The dropsical matter was discharged, and the bowels, from the inflammation excited by the wound, adhering to the peritoneum, a permanent cure was accomplished. The parties became friends, and the Attorney remains grateful to the Doctor for his gratuitous surgical operation. We know no law against shedding water though there is one against blood. If our medical colleges approve of the mode, it is to be hoped the candidate for Mr. D. will be carefully examined as to their skill in this novel mode of operation.

From the National Intelligencer.

Gentlemen.—Supposing that some of your readers might take a similar interest to that which I have felt in reading the following account of the extraordinary produce of a farm in Kentucky, during the last year, I transmit it to you for publication. Mr. J. S. Bate, a farmer residing near Louisville, in that state, died December, 1831, having made every preparation for the crop of the ensuing year. He left to his widow his farm, a part of his stock, and sixteen farm hands. And here is the result of Mrs. Bate's operations in the year 1833:

61 tons, of hemp, $200 per ton, $12,200
375 tons of hay, at $10 per ton, 3,750
2,000 barrels of corn, at $2 per barrel of five bushels, 4,008
22,000 lbs. of pork, at five cents per lb. 1,100
Wool $150, wheat $500, beef $160, 1,110
Oats $200, hemp seed (150 bushels, at $1 50) 25,
Apples and cider $300, marketing $200, 500
550 bushels of Irish potatoes, at 50 cents per bushel, 275
$23,360

This account has been verified, and forwarded to a member of congress from Kentucky. Is there any other lady in the United States whose agricultural labors have been equally productive with those of Mrs. Bate? I am quite sure that she has surpassed those of any man in that part of the Union.

A KENTUCKIAN.

Potatoes in Prussia.—The Prussians appear to excel even the Irish in their fondness for potatoes, as well as in the various modes of preparing them for use. A recent traveller states that he has frequently on one occasion seen them served in six different forms; the bread made from them; the soup thickened with them; fried potatoes, potatoe salad, and potatoe dumplings; and last, potatoe cheese, which besides being very palatable, will keep some years.

A letter from London states that Mr. Laudon has just concluded a bargain on behalf of the United States Bank, which may possibly have some effect on your exchanges. The conditions of the bargain are these, that the United States Bank issues bonds to the extent of one million and a half sterling, £100 sterling per bond, redeemable at three periods of 12, 18 and 21 months in equal proportions, with interest, payable in London, at 5 per cent—both the interest and principal to be paid without reference to the exchange between the two countries. It has not yet transpired how the transmission of this sum will be conducted, whether in specie or by the Bank drawing.

An attempt has been to indict six or seven of the ringleaders engaged in the late burning of McIntosh, at St. Louis. The effort, however, has failed. The Grand Jury have decided, that the murder was the act of several thousand persons, and that no half dozen individuals ought to be responsible for it.

State of Matrimony in Hindostan.—If the Hindoo wife transgresses what her husband chooses to call the bounds of propriety, or neglects to do whatever he may impose, she is forthwith discarded, and her place supplied with another, who, in her turn, is regarded as a servant, never as a companion, entitled to no attention and she receives none, not even in familiar intercourse. "To marry and to buy a wife, are synonymous terms in this country. Almost every parent makes his daughter an article of traffic, obstinately refusing to give her up to her lawful husband, until he has rigorously paid down the sum of money which he was bound for according to the custom of the caste. This practice of purchasing the young women whom they are to marry, is the inexhaustible source of disputes and litigation, particularly among the poorer classes."—Christian Brahman.

Cockroaches.—A gentleman has recently discovered that spirits of turpentine is an effectual remedy against the depredations of cockroaches. He recommends to put a little of it upon the shelves or sides of book-cases, bureaus, armories, or furniture in which they take shelter, and these troublesome insects will soon quit not only the furniture, but the room. The remedy is simple, and easily obtained by every person who wishes it. It is not unpleasant to the smell, soon evaporates, and does no injury to the furniture or clothing.

The following is a copy of an express brought to Hawkinsville, for which we are indebted to a gentleman who arrived in this city yesterday:

HEAD QUARTERS.

Fort Irwin, June 10.

To Gen. Wilcox:

Sir: Information of the most positive character has been received from fort Jones, near Roanoke, that a large party of Indians crossed the river yesterday afternoon, say about 2000, and are now on their march to Florida; they will doubtless make their way either on the east side of Flint river, or cross that stream above the border of Baker county, and go through Lee, Irwin, Lowndes and Ware, to the swamps of Florida. Many Georgians have been killed from Stewart county, among them David Dick. At the present crisis, action is eloquence.

By order of W. Irwin, Maj. General.
Geo. L. Barry, Adj't General.
