Claims for Property lost, &c.
During the late War.

MILITARY AND GENERAL AGENCY,
Washington City, 10th March, 1817.

SIR—For the information of your readers, should you think proper to publish it, I take the liberty to apprise you that the act passed on the 9th day of April, 1816, entitled "an act to authorize the payment for property lost, captured or destroyed while in the military service of the United States and for other purposes," has been amended by an act of the late Congress, so as that he 1st Section limits the provisions of the 6th section of the former act, to buildings occupied by order, as a place of deposit for military and naval stores, or as barracks for the military forces. Claims under this, and the 9th section aforesaid, to be investigated by the Commissioner and reported to congress.

2d Section provides for the appointment of special Commissioners as formerly, who are requested to take an oath of office. Commissioners authorised to appoint an agent in behalf of the United States, to join with the special Commissioners, when he may deem it expedient.

3d Sec. provides for payment of any mrrse, mule, ox, waggon, cart, sleigh or harness, lost in service, except when the swk was to have been incurred by the owner.

4th Section extends the provisions of this and the former act, to cases of property lost, captured or destroyed in the wars with the the Indian tribes subsequent to the 18th February, and prior to the first day of September, 1815—and the 5th and last section, provides, that all claims of 200 dollars or upwards, shall be reviewed by the secretary of War, and may be confirmed or rejected by him.

JOSEPH WATSON.

BALTIMORE AUG. 11.

Awful Calamity!

We find it our painful duty to record the most awful and desolating occurrence which has ever befallen the city of Baltimore. The rain which commenced on Friday night increased on Saturday morning to a torrent, and continued with little omission until 12 o'clock on that day. Jones' Falls, which receives the water discharged from the northern part of the city, rose to a considerable height, in the morning, and by the continued accession of water was suddenly swelled to the appalling height of from 15 to 20 feet above the common level of the stream, thereby overflowing its banks, and entirely inundating the lower part of the city in the vicinity of the Falls. The consequences of this unexpected rise was truly awful, & at ended with the most destructive effects. The upper wooden bridge was swept entire from the abutments and lodged a short distance above the next lower bridge, which crosses at the intersection of Bath street. This bridge, also, (known by the name of Finn's Bridge) was completely carried off the abutments and driven against Gay street Bridge, where it was arrested. By this stoppage of a strong wooden bridge, nearly as wide as the stream itself, and by the accumulation of timber, wood, houses, &c which it arrested in their course, the channel of the falls was blocked up. This occasioned the water to seek a new passage—It formed one by forcing through the lots at the west end of Fish st down which street it rushed to Gay st. from thence across to Frederick & Harrison streets; down Harrison street to Market street; across Market street down Market Space on both sides, and into the docks. Through these streets, and through the lots and property between them and the Falls, the water rushed with an overwhelming force. The whole section of the city formerly called the "Meadow," was under water; as also S. Frederick, from Second st. to the wharf.

The damage and destruction of property is at present incalculable. In every direction desolation is visible.

Market street bridge is not injured.

The foot-bridges crossing from Ploughman street, and Fish market—& Peters' bridge, are entirely gone, leaving the Falls clear from Market to Pratt streets. Pratt street bridge is not seriously injured.

The water Water Company's Canal & Works are in such a state as will deprive the city of hydrant water for some time to come.

The situation of families during this period was dreadful. In many of the houses it rose to the second stories, and on every side a raging current, overpowering any endeavor to relieve them.

The waters were at their height at 3 o'clock, P. M. and between 6 and 7 had subsided.

The current carried with it trees fences, lumber, wood, parts of houses, furniture, horses, cows, hogs, and almost every moveable article within its reach.

[After enumerating a great deal of other mischief, the account proceeds.]

But the scene of ruin about Gay-street Bridge is indescribable! The heart sickens in beholding the distress of our fellow citizens in this part of the city. It is impossible to particularize where all have suffered so severely. The current destroyed part of the Fish street, part of N. Frederick street, and at the intersection of Gay and Harrison streets, was peculiarly destructive. The ground is here washed away to the depth of 6 to 10 feet, in a number of places, leaving the foundation walls of houses entirely bare. Some of the houses are much injured by the drifting of rafters, wood, &c. against them. The upper side of the Bridge was destroyed by the immense pressure on it.

Several lives are reported to be lost—the number of names we cannot ascertain to day. An apprentice to Mr. Geo. Miller, smith, is drowned—and a Mr. Peter O'Rourke, of Holliday street. We witnessed several hair breadth escapes of those who were striving to assist their friends.

On Gunpowder Falls, Mr. W. Patterson's Saw and Plaster Mills are entirely destroyed, together with 20 barrels of flour. The bridge at the Philadelphia road & 2 others above are also destroyed. The Mail from Baltimore to the eastward is at Mr. Cook's house, this side of the Gunpowder, and the Mail from the eastward is on the other side. The stream is impassable.

THE SEASON—If we judge from present appearances the season will be unusually productive in all the substantial of living. We have had fine warm weather for the maturing of wheat, and the harvest will be abundant. The husbandman, owing to the failure of the crops of corn last season and the fear of its again being cut off, did not pay that attention to the culture of this article as in former years. fields of indian corn in this section of the country, look extremely well, and warrant the conclusion that there will be a good crop.

DRUNKENNESS.

The following lecture on this detestable and common vice, is from an European Magazine, and would to God it might prove as useful as it is true. "Drunkenness expels reason, destroys the memory, distempers the body, causes internal, external and incurable wounds, is a clog to the senses, a devil to the soul, a thief to the purse, the beggar's companion, a wife's woe, children's sorrow, the picture of a beast, and a self-murderer, who drinks to others good health, and robs himself of his own."

THE SUBSCRIBER

EXPECTS in a few days in addition to his present Stock, a fresh assortment of

Dry Goods, Groceries,
Queens Ware, and Liquors.

Which he will dispose of low.—A young man wanted to attend the store, or an apprentice of respectable connections would be taken to learn the business.
