

600 slain, an equal number of wounded, who were conveyed in five vessels to Cumana, a great number dispersed in the mountains, who were daily made prisoners, and some drowned in the confusion to regain their ships. Three whole days had been employed by the victors to secure the ammunition abandoned by the Royalists, and it is asserted that none of these would have escaped had their been time for the cavalry to co-operate to advantage.

Gen. Marino drawing a proper advantage from this victory, and from the unprotected state in which Gen. Oribe had abandoned Cumana; for the sake of the great expedition against Margarita, availed himself of the opportunity now offered to him to retake Cariaco and Carupano and advanced against Cumana, which place was reduced to a state of starvation.

A Spanish corvette has run aground on Point Aragua, and the inhabitants of Margarita were actively employed to get her afloat, as an acquisition to their navy.

News arrived at St. Thomas from Grenada, Trinidad, Barbadoes, Martinique and St. Bartholomews, confirmed uniformly the progress of the Republican army against Guyana and the final reduction of that place. Admiral Brion entered the Pronoco with the squadron under his command, and made some valuable prizes. Several fleechers from Margarita fell in with and completely destroyed twenty Spanish vessels in the mouths of the river.

The Spanish officer who had taken Barcelona, and put every one of its inhabitants to the sword, has been lately beaten by Gen. Laraza; who besides surprised a Spanish garrison of 250 men in the town of San Diego.

A barrel of corn is worth $20 in Cumana.

News from Amelia.

CHARLESTON, S. pt. 12.

An Hermaphrodite brig mounting 12 long 18 pounders, calling herself the Buenos Ayresan Government vessel. The Congress late the Calypso of Philadelphia, touched off our bar yesterday, with her prize, a panish ship, loaded with sugar and coffee, bound from Havana to Cadiz. Through the politeness of the pilot that brig with her prize proceeds immediately to Amelia; and that the Captain of the brig informed him that he had taken five other prizes during his cruise, and had ordered them all for that port.

Just as our paper was going to press, we were politely favoured with the following Extract of letter, received this morning from St. Mary's, dated the 5th of September:

I had some business which called me to Fernandina, this morning. On my arrival there I was sorry to find the place in the greatest possible state of confusion. Colonels Posey and Parker had resigned their commissions two days ago, and last evening Gen. M. Gregor resigned his command on that station and re-embarked on board his brig with his family and furniture. Col. Irvine has been appointed to the temporary command, and a council of officers was to take place, to determine whether to risk a battle, or to abandon the place peaceably. The Mongians men and guns have arrived. They have now 3 armed brigs & 3 schrs. besides about eighty men, besides officers making ninety-four in all; and military and nava. stores arrived at St. Mary's this morning in the ship Margaret from New York: so that if the Patriots consider the place worth holding, their force is certainly more than sufficient for that object.

The Spaniards are said to be in considerable force at Cedar Point about 20 miles to the southward of Fernandina, waiting for some transports with ordnance and military stores, from St. Augustine. A few Florida militia are encamped at the Orange Grove on the Main in view of Fernandina, waiting to join the Spanish forces. It is said, and generally believed, that Gov. Coppinger will command in person.

The United States brig Saranac came in yesterday, and I understand will remain on this station.

Extract of a letter from Millington to a gentleman in this place, dated Sept. 11, 1817.

"We have nothing new except that Gen. Gaines meditated an attack on the Seminole Indians the 30th of last month, and with this view made a requisition on an executive for 1000 militia to assist him; but owing to some fatality the letter containing the requisition did not come to hand till yesterday. Whether he has abandoned the enterprise in consequence of not receiving his auxiliary force, we have yet to learn."

MONTPELIER, Aug. 19.

Savage Barbarity.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Ashby Mass. to his friend in this village.

On Friday, Aug. 1, a most brutal outrage was committed in this place, by Stephen Corbal, toll-gatherer for the Ashby turnpike, under very enormous circumstances of aggravation, the principal of which I shall relate.

For some time there had been a misunderstanding and an enmity between Corbal and his near neighbor, Mr. Jonas Hogman—knowing the men to be absent from home, Corbal went, just at sunset, to the barn yard of Mr. Hogman where Mrs. H. and her daughter were milking, and with a stick which he brot struck the young woman across the head. She attempted to rise from the ground and make her escape but Corbal seized and threw her again, and pinning himself across her body, with one knee on each of her arms, began gouging and beating with great fury. Her screams with the cry of murder from her mother reached the ears of her brother a lad of about 12 or 13 years of age, who was at work in the field. He instantly flew to their relief and entering the yard with a large beech stick, he gave the monster one powerful blow on the face which tore the lip from the jaw, fractured the jaw in the middle and beat nearly half of his teeth into his mouth. This caused him to stay his work of vengeance, and to stagger off to his own house, leaving his unfortunate victim severely bruised with one eye gouged out and hanging only by a string and the other so nearly out as to render it doubtful whether she will ever see again.

He very soon retreated to the woods, and continued out until next morning, when he became so much exhausted with the loss of blood, and the anguish of the wound, that he was obliged to halt and ask for assistance. He stopped at a house in Leominster, and pretended he had been seized with a fit in the road, and said his name was Brown. A surgeon was called and his wound dressed: not however without some suspicion of his villainy.

In the course of the day the report of the outrage reached Leominster; and as there could be but little doubt that he was the perpetrator, he was arrested & carried to Townsend, where he was tried and bound over to the next term of court.

During the whole proceedings he manifested no compunction nor remorse but declared he was not sorry, and that he would whip Mr. H. and his wife if ever there was an opportunity.

From the Enquirer of Friday.

It is with much concern we learn from a passenger from the South, that the gallant THORNTON POSEY, late col. of the U. S. Army, and recently a Col. in the Patriot Army under Gen. M. Gregor, breathed his last at Wilmington N. C. on Wednesday week. He reached that harbour in a vessel from Amelia Island, in company with the gallant friend who shared the toils of the expedition. He had symptoms of the bilious fever when he embarked which proved too violent for his naturally strong constitution.

Much of the success which attended the expedition was owing to Posey's exertions; his generous and gallant soul would have been proud to have led the banners of liberty into an enslaved land; but when he found the means were insufficient for any great purpose; that a bold military expedition was about to degenerate into a privateering system, he and his Virginia friend threw up their commissions and bade adieu to Amelia Island. He has now sunk into the grave, where neither the voice of liberty nor glory can reach him; but over its silent sod is poured the sigh of every man who values a value upon gallantry, generosity and noble daring.

It is said that Gen. M. Gregor is about to re-visit South America.

Mode of preserving Potatoes and Fruit.

Put the potatoes in barrels, and fill up the numerous crevices with fine sand, which will exclude the air, and preserve them from injury. This method may likewise be applied to apples, pears, &c. if they should be penetrated by frost.

they will sustain no injury if the nitre or frosty particles are extracted by putting them in cold water and letting them remain until they are purged, by degrees, of all nitrous spicula. The water acts as a lacivium without injuring the solids of the fruits, &c.—W. C. Gaz.
