

It also affords me pleasure to communicate to you, that the Colombian nation know how to value the merit of the honor you have conferred on him, who is considered as the father of the country, and the worthy imitator of Washington.

To the gratitude of genl. Bolivar, and the esteem of Colombia, permit to add the sentiments of the greatest consideration, and the cordial friendship, with which I remain your obedient servant,

JOSE MARIA SALAZAR.

Letter from the Liberator.

LIMA, 25th May, 1826.

Sir—Although I had learnt by the public papers, the gift with which the son of the great Washington has been pleased to honor me, I had not, till this day, received either the holy relic of this father of liberty, or the flattering letter of his worthy descendant. This day I have placed my hands upon this invaluable present the image of the first benefactor of the continent of Columbus, presented thro' the citizen hero, gen. Lafayette, and offered by the noble remnant of that immortal family. It is a recompense worthy of the first and most illustrious character of the universe. Shall I be worthy of such an honor? No—but I accept it with a pleasure and gratitude, which will be attached to the remains of the venerable father of America, to the most remote generations of my country; they ought to be last remembrances of the new world.—Accept, sir, the most sincere and respectful sentiments of my perfect consideration.

BOLIVAR.

From the Arkansas Gazette, of Sept. 5.

The Quahaw Indians.—This tribe of Indians (whose removal from the Arkansas to Red river, took place in the spring pursuant to the treaty concluded with them in Nov. 1824.) we are sorry to learn, have recently been reduced almost to the last extremity of wretchedness and want, bordering on a state of actual starvation, in consequence of the inundation and total destruction of their crops of corn, occasioned by the overflowing of Red river, during the latter part of last spring, and the early part of the summer. A deputation from the tribe was a short time since despatched to this place, for the purpose of laying their distressed situation before the governor, and soliciting him to afford them some relief. This relief, we feel much satisfaction in stating, was promptly afforded. The governor immediately gave an order for the purchase and delivery to them, of 500 bushels of corn; and to prevent the impositions which are too often practised on these untutored sons of the forest, he very prudently took the precaution to direct that the corn should be delivered to the chiefs, at the residence of the tribe, in the presence of two magistrates, who are to certify the fact of its delivery. This timely relief, has no doubt saved many of that unfortunate tribe from the horrors of actual starvation.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 26.

High Waters.—The Arkansas river, which was at an unusual high stage for the season when our last paper went to press, continued to rise until Friday evening, when it was at least ten feet higher than it has ever been known to be before, at this season of the year, by any of the present inhabitants of the country. It wanted, as nearly as we can ascertain, less than two feet of being as high as it was in the early part of May last, when it will be recollected, it was about a foot higher than it had been for many years. This unexpected rise, we are sorry to say, has been productive of much injury to many of the planters on the Arkansas. Several of them have had their fields partially inundated, and their crops seriously damaged or destroyed. Ib.

Jamaica.—Jamaica papers of the 30th August, have been received at Philadelphia. Considerable dissatisfaction existed throughout the island in relation to his majesty's Orders in council. A public meeting was called in one parish by the Custos, for the purpose of advising with their representatives in the house of assembly on the measures most expedient to be adopted in the present alarming crisis of the colony. This crisis is alleged to have arisen from the depression of trade, and the enormous burden of taxes to which the planters are subject. One of the papers even goes so far as to speak of a "heavy retribution of vengeance, owing from the islanders to the mother country."

Extract of a letter from an officer of the United States' ship Vincennes, dated "United States' ship Vincennes, at sea, September 8th, 1826.

"We have had a great run since we left Sandy Hook; the Vincennes proves herself a first rate sea boat, and though deep, finds no difficulty in keeping way with the Brandywine, either before or on the wind. We find ourselves by to day's observation, in lat. 36, 59, long. 57, 43.

"The officers and crew of this ship are in excellent health and spirits."

State of Indiana, ENOX CIRCUIT COURT,

August Term, 1826.

James Westfall, vs. His Creditors. } Insolvency.

HIS day came the applicant, James Westfall, by Genl. W. Johnston, his counsel, and having heretofore filed his petition, together with a list of debts due by him, to the defendants, his creditors, and also the debts and demands due to him, and a schedule of all his property, praying that the court would grant unto him the benefit of an act entitled, "An act for the relief of insolvent debtors," approved January 28, 1824. It is therefore on motion, considered by the court, that the Clerk give notice of the pendency of said petition, in the Western Sun, a paper printed in Vincennes, at least three weeks successively, sixty days previous to the first day for hearing—and on further motion, it is considered, that the court will act upon said petition on the first day of the next term of this court.
