The lady, half choked with anger, stood mute a minute, and then left the room, whispering to her friend—The Yankees are too much for us in the cabinet, as well as in the field.

The question, "why printers do not succeed in business as well as brewers?" was thus answered—"because printers work for the head, and brewers for the stomach; and where twenty men have a stomach, but one has a head."

that, if he was not the devil, he was, at least, one of his principal agents.

The exploits of these men so frequently of a like nature, that the expression made use of by the disappointed pursuers towards this one, are by no means to be censured. Personal danger seemed to be no part of their character. Plunder, but only from the British seemed their sole aim, with an ambition, however futile of creating in the minds of their enemies this belief. At one time they were in Philadelphia, dressed in the British costume, and at another, they were relieving the distresses of their friends at valley Forge.

NOTES.

1. The postmaster general may expedite the mails and alter the times for arrival and departure, at any time during the continuance of the contract, by paying so adequate compensation for any extra expense that may be occasioned thereby.

2. Seven minutes shall be allowed for opening and closing the mail at all offices where no particular time is specified.

3. For every fifteen minutes delay, in arriving after the time prescribed in any contract, the contractor shall forfeit five dollars; and, if the delay continue until the departure of any pending mail, whereby a trip is lost, a forfeiture of double the amount allowed for carrying the mail one trip, shall be incurred, unless it shall be made to appear that the delay was occasioned by unavoidable accident; in which case the amount of pay for a trip will be forfeited. These forfeitures, it will be observed, are unconditional; except for the failure of a trip, by unavoidable accident, the penalty may be reduced to the pay for one trip. That on no condition is this sum, or the other penalties stated, to be remitted.

4. Persons making proposals are requested to state their prices by the year. Those who contract will receive their pay quarterly—in the months of May, August, November and February, one month after the expiration of each quarter.

5. No other than a free white person shall be employed to carry the mail.

6. Where the proposer intends to convey the mail in the body of a stage carriage, he is desired to state it in his proposals; and the stage must be of sufficient size, unless otherwise expressed, to accommodate seven passengers.

7. Every proposer may offer in his bid to make any improvement in the transportation of the mail, from the terms invited, either as to the mode of transporting it, the speed required, or the frequency of the trips per week—which shall receive due consideration.

The number of the post route shall be stated in every bid, and the proposal must be sealed and directed to the general post office, and endorsed "Proposals." Strict attention must be given to the endorsement, as it is not intended to break the seal of any proposal until the time for receiving bids shall have expired.

8. The postmaster general reserves to himself the right of declaring any contract at an end, whenever one failure happens which amounts to the loss of a trip.

9. The distances stated are such as have been communicated to this office, and some of them may be incorrect: on this subject the contractor must inform himself—the department will not be answerable for any mistake.

10. In every case where the mail is transported in stages, and the present contractor shall be underbid, and the underbidder shall not have such stage property as may be necessary for the performance of the contract, he shall be required to purchase from the present contractor, at a reasonable valuation, the whole or any part of the stage property, including horses, that may be suitable for the service, and make payment therefor, by reasonable instalments, as his pay becomes due, or as may be otherwise arranged.

This will be made a condition in the acceptance of any bid, under the bid of the present contractor; and should the underbidder fail to comply, his bid will be offered to the present contractor; but should he decline making the contract at that rate, the proposal of the underbidder will be accepted unconditionally.

It is distinctly understood that the mail will continue to be carried in stages on every route where it is now so conveyed.

11. No bid shall be withdrawn after the time for receiving bids shall have expired, and should any person refuse to take the contract at his bid, he shall be held responsible to the department, for the difference between his bid and that at which the contract shall be made. The assignment of any contract, without the consent of the postmaster general, shall forfeit it—and in all cases where application is made to the department to sanction a transfer, the terms must be fully stated.

Should a contractor or his agent engage in the transmission of commercial information by express on his route, more rapidly than the mail, he shall forfeit his contract.

12. If a route should be discontinued by congress, or become useless in whole or in part, in the opinion of the postmaster general, he may limit or discontinue the service of the contractor on making him an allowance of one month's extra pay.

13. The contracts will all begin January 1st, 1829, and the contracts for routes in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, will continue for one year only. Contracts for routes in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida territory, will continue two years, and the contracts for the other routes will continue three years.

14. Postmasters who receive an advertisement should give every person who applies, an opportunity to read it.

JOHN McLEAN, Postmaster General,
POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
July 23, 1828

*FORM OF PROPOSAL.

JOHN McLEAN, ——— 1828.

Postmaster General.

SIR—I will convey the Mail on Post Route No. ——— from ——— to ———, for the yearly compensation of ——— dollars.

The bidder will state such improvements as present themselves to him. If in a stage, it will be proper for him to say so. He should distinctly state the number of the route, and not only the number, but the beginning and end of it. He should also clearly state his residence, as to the state and town in which he lives; if he be not a contractor, he must accompany his bids by suitable recommendations.
