

And the earth taken from below what is useful as soil, we cart into the road, or wherever it may be wanted, and return to the holes an equal quantity of those small stones which are usually considered a nuisance; with these we intermix any kind of compost, or rich soil from the road. I have always found advantage from intermixing with the earth, while setting, a bushel or more of rotten manure to each tree.

In digging up the trees we were careful to rob them as little as possible of their roots—and aim to diminish the lateral branches by pruning as much as the roots have lost in taking up. We set the trees about as deep as they stood in the nursery; treading the ground as hard as we can around them; setting out, and keeping them erect; and let them stand without stakes; or being visited by any horned cattle.

It is surprising to see how rapidly these trees have grown. There are several now in fair view, which were set out in April last, on which may be seen a full grown apple. The conclusion will undoubtedly be drawn, the trees must have been thrifty, and of handsome size when removed. They were; and though sands equally good are now for sale by.

Sir, yours respectfully, J. KENRICK.

- I. A view of Rock's Shot Tower, on the Schuylkill, near Philadelphia, & adjacent scenery.
- II. A view of the Light House on Long Island Sound, with the adjacent scenery.
- III. A view of York, on Lake Ontario, with the fortifications.
- IV. Characteristic scenery on the Hudson River.
- V. Views of New London, Connecticut, with the adjacent scenery.
- VI. View of Lemon Hill, near Philadelphia, the seat of Henry Pratt, Esq.
- VII. The Tomb of Washington, at Mount Vernon.
- VIII. View of the Great Bend of the Susquehanna.
- IX. View of the Upper Falls of Solomon's Creek, Luzerne county, Pa.
- X. View of the Lower Falls of Solomon's Creek.
- XI. View of the Catskill Mountains, from the Hudson.
- XII. View of Fort Niagara on Ontario, from the Light House on the British side.

These Views are executed in the best style of Philadelphia engraving, from drawings made upon the spot. Each Plate will be accompanied by a full and accurate description thereof, so as to make it perfectly intelligible to every person.

The work will be printed & issued to subscribers in the first style, on superior paper, and with a handsomely printed cover, and delivered to subscribers at the very low price of

One Dollar per copy. Flexible covers will be used for country subscribers, so that they can be safely sent by mail.

Any gentleman, postmasters and others, who will interest themselves to procure ten subscribers, and remit ten dollars to the editor, shall receive twelve copies. From the very flattering patronage already received (twelve hundred subscribers having put down their names) this volume will probably be succeeded by another, as soon as other plates can be engraved. All orders from the country promptly attended to. Address,

T. K. GREENBANK,

No. 64, Spruce street, Philadelphia.

Any editor who will insert the above a few times, and forward a copy of his paper containing the advertisement, directed "Saturday Bulletin, Philadelphia," shall receive a copy of the Views immediately on publication.

CIRCULAR:

To the Masonic Fraternity, and the friends of Literature throughout the Union.

The proprietors of the "Masonic Souvenir and Pittsburgh Literary Gazette" would respectfully invite the attention of the public to the plan and design of their work, as exhibited in the subjoined prospectus, and in a copy of the paper herein enclosed. The "Souvenir" has been commenced under flattering auspices, and if exertions of an extraordinary kind, on the part of the proprietors, will entitle them to a permanent and liberal patronage, they are already sure of success proportioned to their most reasonable expectations. Those exertions which are necessary to make the work equal to any of the kind in the Union, the proprietors pledge themselves shall not be withheld. They have made arrangements, whereby they will have access to some of the best periodicals of literature and science of the United States & the age, from which the editor will carefully make such selections, as in his judgment will give a variety of interest to the paper. The promise, also, of the choice original matter, on literary and scientific subjects, from several talented individuals, will it is believed, give additional value to those departments. Appropriate embellishments may likewise be anticipated in due time—though an absolute promise of such addition is not given. To the masonic brother, the votary of science, and the friend of literature, every where, the appeal is now made, for that degree of assistance and encouragement, (in the way of patronage to the work and contributions to its pages,) which may deserve, and which they, in the plenitude of their feeling, have a disposition to bestow upon it.

THE MASONIC SOUVENIR.

AND PITTSBURGH LITERARY GAZETTE.

Devoted to Freemasonry, Literature, Science, the Arts, &c.

The design of this publication is to embrace within its reign all topics which may be useful or interesting to the brethren of the "mystic tie"—the votary of science and literature, and the man of taste—and will be conducted strictly in accordance with the following arrangement:

1st. A Masonic Department, in which will be contained a record of regular communications, accounts of elections, celebrations, tributes of respect, &c. with such choice orations, addresses, essays, odes and songs, as will be of use to the masonic reader.

2d. A Department of Belles Lettres, in which will appear original and selected matter, of the higher order of composition, such as may be derived from the best gazettes of literature of the age; and from the store-houses of native genius and learning of the west.

3d. A Department of Science, in which notice will be taken of discoveries and improvements in the several branches of science, the progress of the fine and mechanic arts, and whatever may appear of an useful nature, in regard to the manufacturing and agricultural interests of our country.

4th. A Department of News and Miscellany, wherein will be found an epitome of the current news of the day, exclusive of party politics, together with such a pleasing variety of poetical and prose matter, scraps of sentiment, wit and humour, as will be agreeable to a general reader.

CONDITIONS.

The Masonic Souvenir is issued weekly on a fine super-royal sheet, in quarto form, and in a style of extra neatness. Advertisements executed. The work will be delivered to subscribers in the city and sent to those by mail at a distance, at Three Dollars per annum, payable always in advance—No subscription received for a shorter period than one year.

Postmasters, secretaries of lodges, and others, who will procure eight subscribers, and forward the amount of their subscription to the editor, shall retain a ninth copy for their trouble, or they may retain one dollar for every three subscriptions for which the cash is forwarded. Address
