

with her sufferings and trials. The same evening their vows were sealed for ever at the hymeneal altar, and the sunshine of the present abundantly compensates them for the darkness of the past.

The Naples Gazette of the 7th inst. says: "In addition to our former account of the eruption of Vesuvius, we have to state, that in the afternoon of the 22d of December and the following night, the shocks from the mountain became much more frequent and perceptible, and were felt in all the neighbouring country, and hollow roarings were heard every moment." On the 3rd instant the lava from the mouth of the crater had become 25 feet broad. It is a curious circumstance, that the first substances of which the lava consisted have in cooling, been formed into three arches like a bridge, under which the current which now issues from it runs. On the same day the lava had reached the base of the volcano, keeping in the direction of the hermitage of St. Saviour, running over the old beds formed in 1767, 1779, and 1822, and encumbering the plains called Ginestre. Its greatest extent is a quarter of a mile, and its depth about fifteen feet. The mountain throws up at intervals of about two minutes each, a large quantity of red hot stones, which fall back into the crater.

The Naples Journals state that the Spanish Ambassador on the 15th ultimo, made a formal application for the hand of the princess Maria Amelia, the king's sister, on behalf of Don Sebastian, in fante of Spain."

Congressional.

Thursday, April 12,

In the Senate, yesterday, the bill supplementary to the acts for the relief of the officers and soldiers of the Revolution was taken up, and some discussion took place upon the amendments, which extend its provisions to the officers and soldiers who served in the Indian wars, after the Revolution. The bill was laid on the table at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of taking up the unfinished business of Tuesday—the General Appropriation Bill. Mr. Holmes concluded his speech on this bill, and the amendments to the bill reported from the Committee on Finance, were then considered, and several of them disposed of.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Storrs resumed his remarks in opposition to the Report of the Committee on the Judiciary, asking to be discharged from the further consideration of the charges made against the Collector of the Customs for the port of Wiscasset. Before he concluded, the hour allotted to the discussion, expired. The several bills in relation to the District of Columbia, reported to the House from the Committee of the Whole, on Tuesday, were taken up and laid on the table. The House refused again to consider in Committee of the Whole, the bill to incorporate the trustees of the Methodist Protestant Church of Georgetown. Various bills relating to the District of Columbia, were considered in Committee of the Whole. Considerable discussion took place on the bill from the Senate to alter the draw in the bridge over the Potomac, between Washington and Alexandria. Mr. Donbridge, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, offered an amendment proposing to purchase the interest of the present Bridge Company, and to rebuild a bridge free of toll, which was eventually agreed to, yeas 65, nays 41. The Committee then rose—the bills were reported, and the House adjourned.

Friday, April 13,

In the Senate, yesterday, the Vice President presented the memorial of the Master Commandants of the Navy, praying an increase of pay. Mr. Dallas presented the memorial of the Philadelphia Board of Health, praying the establishment of Quarantine Jurisdiction, in Delaware Bay, for the purpose of preventing the introduction of Cholera and other infectious diseases; and it was referred to the Committee on Commerce. The appropriation bill was taken up, and many amendments were discussed and agreed to. Mr. Clay moved to amend the bill by striking out the sum appropriated for the outfit and salary of a Charge d'Affaires to Guatemala. On this motion a long discussion took place, and the question being taken by yeas and nays, it was decided in the negative, yeas 8, nays 30.

In the House of Representatives, the bill for the establishment of a Military Board for the administration and government of the Ordnance Department, was read a second time and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading. The bill for the relief of Jefferson College in Mississippi, and the bill to alter the time of holding the District Court of the United States, for the District of Indiana, were passed. Mr. Storrs concluded his remarks in opposition to the report of the Committee on the Judiciary, on the subject of the charges alleged against the Collector of the port of Wiscasset. Mr. Kennon of Ohio, spoke in favor of the report, until the expiration of the hour. A portion of the bills reported from the Committee of the Whole, relative to the District of Columbia, were ordered to be engrossed for a third reading, and the residue postponed until Wednesday, next, which day was set apart for the consideration of said bills and others relating to the District of Columbia. An ineffectual attempt was made to take up the bill making appropriations for certain internal improvements for the year 1832. The general Pension Bill was then considered in Committee of the Whole—Mr. Carson in the Chair. Mr. Johnson of Virginia, addressed the Committee at length in opposition to the general principles of the bill. Various amendments were afterwards proposed and discussed, and the Committee, at nearly 6 o'clock, rose, reported the bill to the House with sundry amendments, which were ordered to be printed, when the House adjourned.

LIVERPOOL, March 24.—We have at length the satisfaction of congratulating the country on the passage of the Reform bill once more through the Commons.—The majority on the third reading was 116—this event took place on yesterday.

LONDON, March 27.—The reception of the Reform bill by the Peers last night, was not very different from what any people had expected. A declaration was made by Lord Harrowby that there were new provisions in the present bill, which he considered improvements upon the last; that, however, "much of it was of such a democratical tendency," and, if enacted into a law, would prove, in his opinion, so dangerous to our institutions, that he did not conceive the possibility of his ever being able to support it. He added, what must have cost him a painful struggle, and the confession is therefore honorable to his lordship's candor, viz.—that after all the time allowed to the people of the United Kingdom for a sober consideration of the subject, owing to the rejection of the former bill, he felt himself bound to acknowledge that the public eagerness to see the principles of the measure brought into active operation, had in no degree subsided, and that a material change in our representative system was altogether unavoidable. His lordship announced his full intention to vote for a second reading.—Lord Wharcliffe spoke pretty much in the same sense. He admitted, that in their rejection of the former bill on the second reading, the house of lords had not been supported by any party in the country—that he therefore would not attempt to repeat the experiment, but vote for the bill going into committee. It was, however, sufficiently obvious, from the tone of both these noble lords, that the most resolute and uncompromising resistance will be made by them to those provisions of the bill to which the country generally has attached the highest value and importance; and that, if, in a ministerial quarter, a credulous hope of a majority for Reform in the Lords' committee, should be founded on what fell from either of the above noblemen, respecting their desire to modify the national irritation upon the second reading, such a delusion can lead to no other than the most disastrous consequences.

Emigration.—Thursday afternoon, 43 individuals, men, women, and children, natives of this town and neighborhood, embarked on board a barge Caversham bridge, for Liverpool, to take their passage for New York. Mr. Manford Nott informs us that such numbers are flocking to Liverpool to embark for America, that the ships are full for the voyage.

PROSPECTUS

OF A NEW VOLUME.

ATKINSON'S CASSET,

Or Gems of Literature, Wit and Sentiment.—(A Monthly Periodical.)

Each number containing 48 royal octavo pages of letter press, embellished with at least one copperplate, and several wood engravings, and one or more pieces of music.—The work forms at the end of the year a volume of about 600 pages, to which an elegant engraved title page and a general index are added.

THE number of volumes of the CASSET which have already been published, and the faithfulness and punctuality of the publisher in fulfilling his contracts with his patrons, in respect to their contents, are sufficient, with those at all acquainted with the work, to show its true character.

COMPETITORS for these Premiums, will address their communications, free of postage, to L. A. GODEY & CO. No. 112 Chesnut street, Philadelphia, before the first day of June, 1832, at which time, as many as shall have been received, will be submitted to a committee of Literary persons, whose judgment shall determine the distribution of prizes.

FRESH FLOUR

OF THE FIRST QUALITY, is now offered at the Vincennes Steam Mill, at $2 25 per hundred weight. Other rates in proportion.

MARRON & HUNTER.

April 1, 1832. 0-41

The constantly increasing patronage bestowed on the CASSET, has enabled the publisher to make considerable improvements in the work. Its typographical appearance is much changed for the better, and the contents are much enriched. He believes that the volume now proposed, will not be exceeded in respect to typographical execution, the quantity and quality of the engravings, and the value of the contents, by any other periodical; and he safely asserts it to be the cheapest publication of the kind in the country.

The facilities for obtaining suitable articles for this work have of late, much increased. Some of the best literary publications of Europe are regularly received at the office of the CASSET, as well as the prominent American periodicals. From both selections are made with much care. To secure a sufficient quantity of ORIGINAL MATTER, and to enable men of talent to prosecute their labours with success, & contribute to advance the literature and science of our own country the publisher gives a compensation to his correspondents, commensurate to the support he receives.

In respect to the Embellishments which appear in the work, the publisher believes that no other periodical has such a profusion of elegant and expensive engravings. Executed in general by the first artists in the city they will suffer nothing by comparison.—These form a considerable item in the expenses of the work, and in one year, exceed the whole cost of publishing some periodicals for the same length of time, the subscription price of which is no lower than the CASSET. The subjects of the engravings will continue to be as heretofore—PORTRAITS of distinguished characters; plates of the NEWEST FASHIONS, both of Europe and America; VIEWS OF AMERICAN SCENERY, particularly striking and interesting; NATURAL HISTORY; EMBROIDERING; FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC ARCHITECTURE; BOTANICAL PLANTS, and whatever other subjects may be deemed calculated to instruct, interest and amuse.

To inculcate sound virtuous precepts, and guard the thoughtless against the snares of vice; to lead the youthful mind to the contemplation of those sublime and all important subjects which deeply affect his prosperity; to give a taste for the rich, pleasing and beneficial enjoyments of literature and learning, and to hold out inducements for the young to cultivate their powers and enrich their understandings with substantial information, are matters which the published trusts he will ever keep in view. He is gratified in looking over his past labours, to find no language or sentiment recorded, calculated to detract from the beauty of virtue, or to show vice in a less hideous aspect than it really is.

Due attention is also paid to POETRY, ANECDOTE, LIGHT READING, AMUSEMENT, SKETCHES, and those occasional which relieve the mind from the labour of close study, which refresh the understanding, and give a zest to graver and more important compositions.

Each number of the CASSET contains at least one piece of MUSIC, which is selected and arranged expressly for the work. The popular and newest airs are always at command to afford a judicious selection.

Notwithstanding the many extra expenditures, and the heavy expense of the fine engravings given monthly, it is not the intention of the publisher to increase the price of the CASSET. When paid in advance, it will be furnished for twelve months for $2 50; or for three dollars if not paid until the end of the year. Agents at a distance remitting six subscriptions are entitled to a copy gratis, and 10 per cent. for collections. Complete sets for 1828, 1829, and 1830 supplied to order.

Orders, free of postage, will meet prompt attention. Persons at a distance will find the mail a safe conveyance for ordering the work and enclosing remittances.
