PAPER'S EDITORIAL APOLOGY HIT

Special

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—An editorial in The Jersey City Jewish News criticizing a anonymous anti-Semitic letter which it had printed was termed "illogical" and said to seem to "sum the letter writer" by The Jewish Standard in an editorial of its own last week.

The original letter, signed by "Rt. T. K.," declared the writer was a wounded Marine returning to service, said that his friends and he who didn't apply for a discharge "like your neighbors, Sammy and Julius." The letter went on to demand that one of those who are discharged be in the service, and should the writer, be investigated by the FBI and "the shirkers" completed to "wear a yellow star on his outer garment."

Defending its position the Jersey City Jewish News said that the letter writer and the "hurt has been inflicted and it will take much to undo it," said: "Because this was not the first instance of prejudicial features or hostilities unfair to the Jewish people appearing in the Jersey Journal, a representative committee consulted with the publisher and editor of the Jersey Journal who attempted to assure the Committee of its entire respect and friendship and of any plan or design to disparage or people.

The Post is Sent Free to Any Soldier In the U. S. on Bequest

Marvin Levin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Indiva Levin of Hammond has just been transferred to Seymour Johnson Field in North Carolina, from Jefferson Barracks, where he was a private. He is now an aviation cadet, and wishes training at his base. Pvt. James A. Leopold, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Leopold, Hammond, has just been transferred to Rhylse, California, from Hammond army air force. Last year he graduated as an aerial gunner. Jimmy has been sent to Rhylse to join combat bombers, for a couple of months, where he also is a radio operator and gunner on a B-24. Pvt. Norm Smith, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Smith's of Hammond, is now at Purdue University, where he achieved numerous marksmanship medals.

Cedet Leonard Fine, son of Mrs. William Fine of Hammond just received word that he's to be sent to radio school in Madison, Wis.

Cedet Fine's home was for a week at Raleigh, N. C., where he was raised, a private in the army. His Student D. T. P. the son of Hammond's Lester Ottenheimer is a student in C. U. S. A. S. G. I. Section A. P. O. 991, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, California.

Alas, Canadian's of East Chicago are stationed at Purdue University under the A. S. T. P. . . . Irving Schenker of East Chicago is training for the air corps at Keeler Field, Miss. . . . The Barney Charneyers of East Chicago are looking forward to being stationed in a furlough from the South Pacific. He has been stationed overseas for more than two years and letters from him indicate a family reunion soon.

Word has been received that Cpl. John Lowenthal, formerly of Lafayette, is now in Italy with Gen. Clark's Fifth Army. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Lowenthal, of Lafayette. 2nd Lt. Stephen Berger of Lafayette have received word that their son, Herman Berger has been promoted to a captaincy in the anti-aircraft artillery in Australia.

... Experience one gained as a restaurant owner has prepared the ground for the business to Cpl. Bismark M. Cohen, formerly of Lafayette, in his job as non-commissioned officer in charge of ration distribution for U. S. Army groups in England. The army defines a ration as a "C" or "D" ration for one day and looking after the "chow" requirements of more than 5,000 troops keeps Cpl. Cohen busy. . . . Cedet Stadler Berger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Berger, has completed a year's training in basic aerometeorology at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. He was given a few days' furlough before assigning somewhere.

Lena Levi has been raised to the rank of captain. He is with the Medical Corps. . . . Pvt. Alfred V. Dobrowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dobrowitz, is now in training at Carbide Field, N. M. . . . Lt. L. A. David Tavel, his parents, Feb. 18. The last letter was about five weeks ago when he made a forced landing in Brazil. Lt. Tavel, bomber pilot, in his letter from Italy, says: "I am digging fox-holes, getting ready for the W. P. A." . . . 2nd Lt. Abraham Goldstein, 22, has been reported "missing in action over New Britain," according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Goldstein, 2530 Barbell avenue. Lt. Goldstein attended Manual Training High School and has been in service two years. The last letter received by his family was on Jan. 19 from the Southwest Pacific. He had been overseas six months when he was reported missing. He was a bomber pilot.

Pvt. David Joel, of Camp Ritchie, Md., was home on a 4-day furlough with his brother, Jack Joel, of Terra Haute. Pvt. Joel's wants to know why he doesn't get the "Post" since he has been transferred and wishes to have it forwarded to his address. . . . Cedet Haskell Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schwartz, finished gunnery training at Ft. Myers, Fla., and was transferred Feb. 7 to the navigation school, Ft. Myers, Fla. . . . Pvt. Harry Goldstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Goldstein, 2530 Barbell avenue. Lt. Goldstein attended Manual Training High School and has been in service two years. The last letter received by his family was on Jan. 19 from the Southwest Pacific. He had been overseas six months when he was reported missing. He was a bomber pilot.

Cedet Herbert L. Maser is home on furlough after his graduation at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. He was graduated last May with a major in basic pro-meteorology training. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Maser attended commencement exercises in May. Pvt. Robert L. Carter attended the graduation. Night time, following the service. The Maser family are looking forward to seeing their son, Morry, home soon.

Cedet Robert M. Mercer is home on furlough after his graduation at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. He was graduated last May with a major in basic pro-meteorology training. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Maser attended commencement exercises in May. Night time, following the service. The Maser family are looking forward to seeing their son, Morry, home soon.

Cedet Robert F. Hemmer will return Monday to Camp Lee, Va., after a night training exercise with division.
REV. BAUMGARTEL TO REPRESENT CITY COUNCIL AT ZIONIST MEET

rather than charity. My Jewish acquaintances at home tell me what I have thought of the “White Paper” since its issuance in 1939.

My good friend, with whom I have talked often about this subject; Mr. Frank Roberts, Editor of the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, published an excellent and lengthy editorial February 9, 1944, on the subject “Appeal of the Oppressed.” He said in part:

... Where are the Jews of Europe who are being persecuted, tortured and slaughtered to turn for refuge, if not to Palestine?

No other country in the world has found itself able to open its doors to afford an asylum to any considerable number of them. Must they be left to the sadistic fury of Hitler and his goons? Why should they be deprived of the right to enter the land which was their home from time immemorial and to which they are anxious to return? ... All that the Jews of Europe are asking is what everyone human being desires, a chance to live in peace and in a homeland in the country which is rich with the traditions of their forefathers. They appeal to the heart of the world for that chance. It should be granted them.

I applaud Mr. Robert’s editorial. Yours truly,

SAMUEL D. JACKSON.

Dear Rabbi Chodos,

Your telegram of even date has just been received; and I note your interest in H. Res. 418 and 419.

These resolutions are now in the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, where Chairman Bloom is considering them; and the Senate resolution has been introduced in the Senate and is now in the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. When either of these resolutions comes before the Senate for final action, I shall give it a most sympathetic study.

Thanking you for wiring me, and with kind regards, I am,

Very Sincerely.

The Editor's Chair:

At Pittsburgh at the General Assembly of the Council of Jewish Welfare Funds and Federations I met L. H. Frisch, publisher of The American Jewish World, of Minneapolis. And did he raise me over the coals for printing Al Segal. With him there was no middle ground. He wouldn't concede that an Anti-Zionist had a right to take a deep breath. Last week his partner had this to say about the Jewish opposition at the House Hearings on the Palestine Resolution, and I'm sure you'll get the idea of the uncompromising Mr. Frisch in it: "Only two voices expressed opposition. Who were they? Naas, Silver Skirts, or members of the Ku Klux Klan? No! They were none other than Lewis Rosenwald and Rabbi Louis H. Wolsey. What a humiliating experience it must have been for the Jewish leaders present at the meeting, and how amusing it must have appeared to the non-Jews.

"But why am I asked? Why feel humiliated? What people in these unset timcs have not produced individuals ready to sell their people? The Norwegians, the Dutch, the Polish Jews, the French have their Lavais; American Jews have its Rosenwald and Wolsey! We can only say this in defense of these Jewish betrayers. They are not motivated by greed or ambition. They are overwhelmed by dark, primitive fear—fear for the position they attained in free America, the spirit of which freedom they do not understand. . . . Lewis Wolsey will take his rightful place among the forgiven apostates who challenged the Rabbi in the Dark Ages.

"They presented a pathological spectacle. They call this the solution of the American Council for Judaism. The soul of Israel is not in their council. Neither is the spirit of America."

There has been an interesting exchange of letters between Rabbi Elmer Berger, Executive Director of the American Council for Judaism and a Mrs. Lewis M. Alpern exchange of letters between Rabbi Elmer Berger, Executive Director of the American Council for Judaism and a Mrs. Lewis M. Alpern.

Recentlv a local business man who is M i d i npiumcnt distributor for a large mill, told me of his visit to the southern town where he lived during the war. He remembers the bitter anti-Jewish tirade of the mill-owned, said he could not bear. He makes no point in telling me that he was Jewish. This fellow is seriously concerned about the Jewish community and the fight against Anti-Semitism. I could scarcely believe he had run across a column in The Transcript of Seattle, Wash., by Alfred L. Goldblatt, of the local lodge of Bnai Brith, which does the job better than I could. I quote:

"We once received a letter from one of the Jews, and we had that started out, 'Every cockroach on your premises is there with your full permission.'

"That letter made a profound impression upon us. Let's transpose that sentence to 'Every Anti-Semite in your acquaintance is an anti-Semite with your full permission,' and you have a startling truism. Every time you hear somebody you know make a crack about the Jews, and do nothing about it, you are giving him tacit permission to continue making those remarks."

"Lincoln made ten make derogatory remarks about Jews from sheer ignorance. Jews and Jews, isn't our duty to help wipe out that ignorance, to create a better climate between Non-Jews and Jews?"

"Once, in our presence, a seminary student asked how I felt when he was Jewish. This fellow is an anti-Semite, so I explained his error to him set many a non-Jew right on similar misconceptions. Had we let him get by with his remark—had we not tried to disprove his statement—he could have developed into a full-fledged anti-Semite, with our permission."

I have told you more than once that in my estimation Samuel Grafion is without peer as a columnist. He writes for The New York Post, and some seventy thousand newspapers and no doubt draws down a yearly salary which is larger than the total gross income of The Post, for advertising, circulation and graft in its fifty-two issues during the year. What I am leading up to is a card to Mr. Grafion from Cpl. Harry Hirsch, who is stationed at Colorado Springs, Colo., in which he invites Mr. Grafion to Sinai Temple in Michigan City. I'm sure Cpl. Hirsch won't object to this little laugh at his expense.

"My home is in Michigan City, Ind., he wrote, 'and if you get up there some Friday night, be sure to lock it at Sinai Temple—you'll be more welcome.'

"I see where the Oakland Jewish World, Eastern Edition, has at least an annual list of givers, showing those paid in full, those with partial payments, and those who have not made payment. This is a step I have planned for a long time, and I hope it's a success."

Nuptials to Be Sunday

For Dorothy Braun, Larry Rudman

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Braun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Braun and Larry Rudman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Rudman, Rock Island, Ill., is scheduled for this Sunday at the home of the groom’s parents.

Granowskys to Spend Month in California

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Granowky left Tuesday for Los Angeles to visit their daughter, Mrs. Robert, and family. They expect to stay a month or two.

Articles of the Jewish Agency, which published the White Paper, this week, state that they would receive much greater attention especially in India and in the United States.

The British government has given the Jewish Agency, which is the only Jewish leader in Palestine, the right to make a public announcement of the White Paper in the United States and Canada.

Related Personnel

The White Paper was published in the Jewish Press, a daily newspaper published by the Jewish Agency, which is the only Jewish leader in Palestine.

For further information, contact the Jewish Agency, 1153 Georgia street, Los Angeles.

Bar MITZVAH

Robbie and Maximer Cohen

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Cohen announce the Bar Mitzvah of their son, Robbie, Bar Mitzvah and Max at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, March 4, at the Sephardic Shule, 1153 Georgia street. Friends are invited to the home, immediately after the services, at 212 West Ray Street.

At 8:30 a.m. Sunday, services will be held at the Shule when the Bar Mitzvah will be "Ley Tiflah." Every one is invited. No invitations have been issued.

A month ago in Tol Avir, Mrs. Max Cohen, mother of the Bar Mitzvah, visited her children and grandchildren in Los Angeles, and many friends in Indianapolis. She remained here for a year and then returned to Tol Avir, where she made her home with a son, Samuel Behar, who appeared thus far in their entire more than they were ever given a rich hope for. What then? And what to do about it? Continue to keep alert while men play with the lives and hopes of millions of uniformed people? Continue to follow this kind of leadership into a futile effort to abrogate the White Paper by rolling up greater strength behind such irresponsibility?

The Editors Chair (Continued from Page 4) but because of space limitations I can only give you a paragraph from each of the best of them.

Rabbi Berger: You speak of the British Colonial Office. I imagine you refer to the White Paper. Have you read it? What is it you expect from a foreign office of a great government? Immigrants, shrew, and unqualifed? Or do you expect simply a policy, declared, in view of all the real facts and adhered to? I expect the latter and I have read the records of the British government and its policies in Palestine. Suppose I were to tell you the truth about that policy; has led Jews to believe that they would receive much.

Palestine Resolution Attacked by Lazaron; Committee Wavering Under Opposition

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

WASHINGTON—A suggestion that the War and State Department be asked by the House Foreign Affairs Committee to give their views on the resolution demanding free immigration for Jews to Palestine and the ultimate establishment of a Jewish Commonwealth was made by Republican Congressman Robert B. Chiperfield of Illinois, during the debate on the new Palestine resolution. He urged that the Foreign Affairs Committee "be considerably guided thereby."

Rep. Chiperfield made his suggestion following the testimony given by R. S. Twitchell, consulting engineer of the Saudi-Arabia Mining Syndicate, who was the chief of the U. S. Agricultural Mission to Saudi Arabia. Mr. Twitchell warned of possible bloodshed if Palestine were "overwhelmed." He said that the interests of 200,000 Moslems are involved in the Arab areas and that the American people would want their sons to die to maintain order among the Arabs." He asked.

Questioned as to whether he thought that anti-Semitism might develop in the United States as a result of possible clashes between Arabs and American troops, Mr. Twitchell replied: "The troubles in Boston suggest this is a possibility." He urged that the Palestine question be deferred until after the war and suggested that refugee could be found for Jews in the Dominican Republic, in Portuguese West Africa, Cyrenaica, Ethiopia and Brazil. President of Arab Group Rebuked by Neumann

Facts and Features of the Federation in this country, also expressed opposition to the Palestine resolution. He described the Balfour Declaration as "weak, ambiguous, and dishonest." He charged that the declaration at no time in the long record of the Zionist movement, "has it ever been proposed to move the Arabs out of Palestine." He pointed out that Palestine's Arab population had increased, whereas that of Transjordan, where Palestinian Jews are barred, had not.

Neumann accused the Zionists among them came forward and desired Jews to immigrate into Transjordan was Ezer Abraham himself." He said he had accepted the Zionists' promise to allay Jewish fears over the plan fall through because of British disapproval. In rebuttal to suggestions that other refuges could be found for Jews, Neumann decried the Jewish Territorial Association headed by Israel Zangwill, which in indicated that failed to find such refugees. "There is no suggestion on the part of the Zionists that the United States is intended to send an expeditionary force to Palestine, he declared. "There is a mandatory government which has assumed certain responsibilities. The peace-loving people living in Palestine are perfectly capable of maintaining internal security."

Lazaron Opposes Jewish Commonwealth Clause

Rabbi Morris C. Lazaron of Baltimore, told the Foreign Affairs Committee that he opposed the part of the resolution dealing with the ultimate establishment of a Jewish Commonwealth, but indicated his support for the part of the resolution dealing with Jews in Palestine. " Passage of this resolution," he said, "will give a direction to Jewish life in the country. It will show the world that they are potential refugees. It will affect the status of Jews who live outside Palestine. Has Congress the right to take sides in an intra-Palestine matter?"

Rabbi Lazaron was questioned whether, as Dr. Wise said, 90 to 95 percent of American Jews favor a Jewish Commonwealth in Palestine. "The registered Zionists as listed in the American Jewish Yearbook for 1942-43 number 200,000," he added, that many members of Hassid joined for its philanthropic work.

Rep. Will Rogers, disagreeing with Rabbi Lazaron, said the resolution is a political and military matter of great importance to the world. "I don't agree that this is a purely intra-Jewish matter," he stated. "This is a matter for the entire country, for all people. It was made such by the Nazi persecutions. Congress should not be influenced by Zionist or non-Zionist positions among Jews."

Shulman, Lipsky Plead for Full Resolution; Hearing Adjourned

Herbert Shulman, testifying on behalf of the American Zionist Emergency Council, said: "The resolution must be adopted as a whole because whatever right the Jews have to free immigration and full colonialization in the future, they had those rights 35 years ago were given a special privilege, a right, in that small part of the world." Rep. John Vooris, Ohio Rep., asked Shulman whether the President and Secretary of State would not be in as good a position to bring Britain for action on Palestine if no action were taken by Congress at all. Rep. Vooris replied by asking Congress did not feel some responsibility, since it was White Paper's revocation of its own 1922 resolution. Rep. Will Rogers said it was necessary to pass the resolution if the United States were to be a responsible power in the world. Rabbi William H. Finsher, of Philadelphia, in testifying, said that he is opposed to the Jewish Commonwealth clause in the resolution, but favored its inter-pretation of its own 1922 resolution. Rep. Will Rogers said it was necessary to pass the resolution if the United States were to be a responsible power in the world. Does the resolution mean, that all Palestinian citizens have to be Jews, and Jewish outside Palestine cease to be Jews, or does it mean a mixed pattern?" he asked. "Why not constitute all of Palestine into a mixed pattern?" he asked. (Continued on Page 12)

Send Food to Europe Now, Senate Resolution Asks

WASHINGTHON—The United States Senate this week unanimously passed a resolution urging the State Department to cooperate with the governments of Britain, Sweden and Switzerland to send food now to the hungry people in occupied Europe. Following passage of the resolution, Acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Jr. told a press conference that sending immediate relief to Nazi-occupied countries is a military question. He indicated, however, that the entire relief situation was being re-examined in the light of existing circumstances.

Indiana's Laymen

This Week's Guest Columnist
L. L. GOODMAN

The Jewish Post has invited a group of laymen from throughout the state to write this week on any subjects they choose.

In these days with so many controversial Jewish issues, each of us should give special effort to keep an open mind. Too many of us have very decided views for or against: democracy or any other, and it is natural for a person to want to listen only to additional facts on the side of the issue in which he believes. Since there is a large enough group of our people interested in many sides of the issue he happens to be on, he can—if he wishes—spend his entire time thinking with and talking to just those people who hold the same view as he does.

How many of us stop to think about how many of us there are to sides to every question? Both sides can't be right—except to a degree. How many of us have an open mind to the extent that we try to familiarize ourselves unbiasedly with the facts underlying the points of view held by others with whom we do not agree?

Experience has shown that many intelligent people have been converted from one viewpoint to another—not because they found the original viewpoint wrong, but because they found the new viewpoint was more right.

While we may have our definite views, at the same time we owe it to ourselves to keep an open mind. Most of us have our definite viewpoint—whichever one we finally adopt—is right. We must remember that progress often calls for startling changes in our thinking.

On the other hand, if we have a closed mind, while we will not doubt have sufficient company to share our views so that we may be closed into a world of false security, we would be very much like the worm that lived in an onion and therefore thought it was sweet.

Mail Goes Through to Jews Of Hungary and Rumania

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
WASHINGTON—The American Red Cross this week announced that it is in a position to establish contact with Jews in Hungary, Rumania and Theresaistan, and is sending urgent appeals for Jews there from their relatives in the United States. At the same time, the announcement emphasized that communication with Jews in occupied Poland is impossible.

The population of the Arab village of Thurnell, which was recently incorporated within Tel Aviv, has been promised that it will have available all the health, education and transportation facilities of the all-Jewish metropolis.

Dr. Andre Dreyfus, dean of the Faculty of Philosophy, Science and Letters and professor of General Biology at the University of Sao Paulo, Brazil, has arrived in the United States as guest of the Department of State.

Among the religious objects exhibited in this display which attracted most interest recently at Kirshbaum Center, were Tallith and Tallin, a Menorah, a Shofar, the Tableau of the Law, a Torah and a Passover plate. Quite a few customers have kindly written in to say that they do not object to the hard word "obscurantism," and will I please go on using it. Naturally, I will go on using it; I love it. In fact here goes:

Obscurantism is where a Senator says that soldiers overseas are not nearly so much interested in getting the vote as they are in having more girl entertainers sent out to them. This takes us out of the distressing soldier vote issue into the pretty girl issue, which is, obviously, a more attractive issue. When you start by talking about votes, and end by talking about girls, that, friends, is obscurantism.

Double-Talk Is Different

Or, obscurantism is the over-use of the "anti-bureaucracy" argument to fight every government war-time activity. Thus, one does not object to gasoline rationing, heavens forbid, but one objects bitterly to the hiring of "bureaucrats" to administer it. One does not object to price control, but one throws irrelevant convulsions because "bureaucrats" must write the price-control orders. All of a sudden, the issue is "bureaucrats," instead of what the issue really is, namely the supply of gasoline and level of prices.

The abscurantist is forever talking about his grandmother, when you want to discuss his aunt.

Now, a few of the customers want me to use the expression "double-

What Other Communities Are Doing For Their Soldiers in Service Discussed

By G. M. COHEN

Knowing that several Jewish communities in Indiana were doing something for their servicemen, I wrote a letter to the Michigan City, Terre Haute, and the Indianapolis head of the Jewish Army and Navy Committees of the Jewish Welfare Board, asking for a detailed account of what is being done.

I had in mind the fact that the Indianapolis Jewish Welfare Board had a difficult job with the Jewish servicemen stationed near here, and that we had to do something for the Indiana men and women in the army.

Jack Gols answered for Michigan City, and here is his reply: "...wish to inform you that we do not have any Jewish servicemen in service from our Jewish community here. It is sent monthly direct to all in service and we have received letters from our boys saying it is just like being home for a while when reading P.X."

"We have been getting this out for over a year now. The editorial staff includes wives of boys in service.

"In addition to the above, our people send personal letters, gifts and other items to our boys and girls in service."

J. W. V. Doing Terre Haute Work

For Terre Haute, D. Ginsberg, who is adjutant of the Terre Haute Post of the Jewish War Veterans: "The local Post of the Jewish War Veterans has been doing whatever has been done for the local men and women. We have had been sending out the boys in the armed forces periodical, cigarettes, candy and playing cards also Reader's Digest subscriptions.

"In conjunction with the local Lodge of the B'nai B'rith we are issuing a monthly four sheet paper, called the "Newssheet," giving the boys the local news as well as information from other men in the service. This paper is mailed to the boys in service at first class mail, so they get it wherever they may be. We have had letters from our boys from New Guinea, China and the European theatre of operations."

Did You Ever Know who were in the first confirmation class of the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation when they moved to Delaware and Tenth streets? There were eleven in the class.

Each held a wired letter of the alphabet all made of flowers. When those letters were hung, each in turn, by a confirmant over the altar, the class motto was revealed: "In God We Trust." Members of the class were Leo Kaminsky, Manuel Hammerschlag, Celia Neuman, Lottie Levy, Florence Lehman, Fannie Yankuner, Fred and Ike Binzer, Fannie Traugott, Walter Brunswick and Harry Stern. Celia Neuman is Mrs. Meyer Wild; Lottie Levy, Mrs. Joe Goldstein of P. S. 150; Florence Lehman has in her own name and lives in Brookline, Mass.; Fannie YanKuner is Mrs. Maurice Nieman of Massillon, Ohio; Fannie Traugott, who were married in Indianapolis, one former Brunswick and Harry Stern are deceased. Celia Wild insists that I helped my Daddy coach the class. Makes me feel very ancient. But, of course, I was very young back in those days and can't remember!

Mr. Kiser called me locally. He said that Indianapolis was doing something as far as he knew, for the local servicemen, explaining the magnitude of the job with the boys stationed near here. He pointed out that communities not faced with the problem of hundreds of out-of-town Jewish servicemen, could devote their efforts to caring for their own sons and daughters. He quoted the example of Louisville which seems to be doing an excellent job for the boys from surrounding camps, but was doing practically nothing for its own.

Louisville Committee Doing Little

So I wrote to Louis Cohen who is chairman of the Louisville Army and Navy Committee, and here is his letter: "...the Louisville Army and Navy Committee of the Jewish Welfare Board, I am sorry to say, has not done very much for the local Jewish men and women because of the tremendous job we have had here in looking after the thousands of soldiers stationed in nearby camps.

"However, we have made it a point to send New Year's and Chanukah greetings to every man and woman in service, and the Legion Club, one of our constituent organizations, sends "Let Freedom Reign," a monthly bulletin giving information about the men and women wherever they are stationed. This newsy periodical is very much appreciated by the men and we consider it an important activity.

"As to other local organizations looking after the local men and women, the Jewish Boys' Home has sent New Year's greetings to all Jewish boys upon several occasions, and I understand that various Temples and Shuls have done likewise.

"As to the point about all out time and energy being focused on taking care of the soldiers stationed here, I didn't think it was particularly valid. I had in mind the greatful letters The Post gets from its soldiers receiving The Post. Then too, if soldiers from other cities get better organization should take over this particular task. This organization could be financed from doing any work locally, and could concentrate on this one job.

Ptl. Richard Kiser was home recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kiser. Ptl. Kiser is at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va., in the engineering department under A. S. F. T. I. Ptl. Sam Goldstein, Jr., spent a week from Illinois University, Champaign, Ill., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goldstein, in the electrical engineering department there under A. S. F. T.

The local Post of the Jewish War Veterans is just like being home for a while when reading P.X. It is sent monthly direct to all in service and we consider it much appreciated by the men and we consider it an important activity.

talks" to describe this kind of thing, instead of the melodious word "obscurantism." I admit that the word "obscurantism" is harsh, and maybe it doesn't go with the measured harmonies of your prose style. But double-talk is really a different kind of thing.

The King of the Obscurantists

Double-talk is merely a crude switch, as in the argument that we can't increase our sales because the people are broke, and that we do not need food subsidies because the people can easily afford to pay it little more.

Or, to give you another example of double-talk, Mr. Wilkie ought not to be nominated, because his foreign policy is too much like that of the President; and also, foreign policy is no longer an issue, because everybody now has a foreign policy.

Obscurantism is more delicate, more subtle. Your true obscurantists raise a false issue to hide a real one. In a word, he who is called the King of Obscurantists is Hitler, in his use of the Jews as an issue to be substituted for all other issues. See what I mean?

In fact, obscurantism is fascism's chief operating method. To a starving Italian people, whose real need was $5 more a week apiece, it whispered that their true task was the restoration of the glories of the old Roman Empire. The obscurantist is always willing to give his people an empire instead of a raise.

Those Bargain Offers

So I get a kind of uneasy chill, as if I were reliving history, when I find lots of anti-Semitic doggerel left in street-cars, or when I pick up a big, if not great, mid-western newspaper, and read that the main duty of our generation is to grab airports around the world. Airports and Jews, when of course, our real task is get along with the rest of the world and make sure we shall have jobs when the war is over.

The obscurantist is always offering these big bargains; he will ever give you a pretty girl instead of a vote, or let you bound a Jew instead of finding $2 more in your pay envelope. We have seen him lead the whole Continent to its feet to half his check.

That is why I am afraid I cannot give up my use of the word. It is an ugly word, that is because it comes out of an ugly generation in the history of the world.

Speaks On Introducing Mr. Hillel

_A Mr. Hillel—that's what he chooses to call himself—visits me to bring an appealing proposal. Mr. Hillel is conscious of the burden that is met by a columnist who every week must apply himself to some matter of Jewish life such with a certain spirit, but he is pleased at times._

He said that being Jewish gets to be something of an aggravation at times, what with hondium anti-Semites and what with the strife that goes on within Israel—and then to have to write about it week after week, he said.

Mr. Hillel had a humanitarian idea: He should like to relieve me from time to time, to be, in other words, the guest conductor of this column. In weeks when he was guest conductor I could go and seek the perfect beauty and ordeliness of nature where there is no politics, none of the miserable controversies of human affairs, none of the falsehood such as makes anti-Semitism so depraved. Mr. Hillel's proposal was quite attractive.

Yet his purpose was not entirely unselfish. Mr. Hillel had been bursting a long time with an eager desire to introduce himself. In the conversations of Israel he has scarcely been able to get in a word edgewise. There are always more agreeable people than he claiming the floor, even when a meeting is over Mr. Hillel hasn't been able to put himself in his best light.

There are many like him in Israel—frustrated people who should like to have a chance to talk. He would only be one of many others who share his feeling.
