

Torment

By Helfur Surton

THIS FROM MICHIGAN.

In Muncie, Indiana, the editor of a weekly paper exposed graft in connection with liquor enforcement in that city. For his criticism of a judge, the mayor and others, he was jailed. His charges of graft were later substantiated and he himself was elected mayor by an overwhelming majority. Soon after he took office some stool pigeons who were apparently friendly to the past administration, caused the arrest of the mayor on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. This is only one of the many similar cases we might cite in connection with enforcement of the dry law.—The Branch County News.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

Marriage, said the foundry office philosopher, is like a railroad sign: When you see a pretty girl you stop; then you look, and after you're married you listen.

YEP, EGGS IS EGGS.

The editor of a city poultry journal received a letter from a woman reader. It read: "How long should a hen remain on the eggs." The editor replied: "Three weeks for chickens and four weeks for ducks." Three weeks passed and the editor again received a letter from the reader: "Thank you very much for the kind advice," it read. "The hen set three weeks and there were no chickens hatched, and as I did not care for ducks, I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."—Highway Bulletin.

CHART YOUR TRIPS.

There is an average of 850 detours throughout the year on the highways East of the Mississippi, and highway authorities are urged to see that those in Indiana are adequately marked and satisfactory byroads provided. The spring touring season is just ahead and it is imperative that minimum annoyance be caused to those using the highways. Detailed information in advance, aside from avoiding delay and inconvenience, greatly reduces the cost of motor-ing. Through the use of bi-monthly detour maps, published by National Headquarters of the motorist A. A. A., it is possible for the motorist to plan a motor journey in advance with a minimum number of detours. There is nothing that causes more annoyance than to find a sign reading "Road Closed" in the most unexpected places, often necessitating a trip for many miles over an unimproved highway. The wise motorist avoids this trouble and possible danger by charting his journey in advance.

LESTER A GAME LOSER.

The Star in reporting the meeting of the Democratic committee at which a county chairman was elected, stated among other things, that when it was announced that Earl Everett had been made the choice, over Lester Holloway, the genial and popular city controller, who is likewise the Democratic candidate for county treasurer, that he was a "game" loser and was the first one to congratulate Everett on his success. For once the Star placed the right estimate on a member of the city administration. Not only is Lester a "game" loser, but his Republican opponent will find him not only a "game" fighter, but also a fair fighter, and Lester will win the fight and be elected on his splendid record as city controller, his integrity, his honesty and fairness and squareness to all. All taxpayers who want to see what "makes the wheels go round" in the treasurer's office, should and will vote for Holloway next November, and when he takes office they will find him on the job, ready to open the "works" and show them all the cogs of the machine that makes the dollars come and go, and the reason for it.

DALE FIGHTS ELEMENTS SEEKING HIS DOWNFALL

MAYOR'S CORNER

The overwhelming victory of City Controller Lester E. Holloway as Delaware County's nominee for county treasurer should be a convincing answer to the critics of the present city administration.

It was distinctly a vote of confidence, a vigorous rejoinder to those who have attempted to wreck the administration by crooked lawsuits, scandalous whisperings and editorial misrepresentations.

It is quite true that Mr. Holloway is personally liked by all the citizens of Muncie and those of the county outside of the city who know him, but that personal popularity would have availed him nothing if the affairs of the controller's office had not been properly conducted.

The office of city controller is a tremendously important one. It is not simply a clerical position. It is the very heart of a city administration.

It has well been said that a city controller can make or break any city administration. It is an office with duties that are clerical, administrative and, I was about to say, almost judicial.

Its importance is made manifest by the fact that the controller automatically becomes mayor in the event of the death, removal or resignation of the chief executive of the city.

It is hardly necessary at this time for me to rehash the accomplishments of the controller's office during the brief period of two years and four months Mr. Holloway has served in the present administration.

The people here know what has been done and Mr. Holloway's party responded by giving him the nomination for county treasurer, a position of great responsibility, the most important position, in fact, of any of the offices voted for at the primary.

To me, personally the nomination of Lester Holloway, is especially gratifying because it tells me that if the city controller of Muncie who is also my own son-in-law, can win by such a large majority, the people here have not deserted me, although I am scheduled to go on trial on a felony charge in the Federal court Monday.

If the people here had the slightest idea that the charges against the mayor were true, that suspicion would have engendered distrust in their minds against all departments of the city administration, and the city controller would have been repudiated in no uncertain manner at the polls.

If the mayor had been the head of a corrupt grafting machine, conspiring with such hoodlums as Plug Walburn and Corbett Johnson, as charged by indictments, he would rightly be known as a contemptible crook, and Mr. Holloway, holding the most important appointive position in the mayor's gift, would not have been able to go into the primary with clean hands.

If the chief of police, who was my appointee, is the crook these hoodlums pretend that he is, how could the public be expected to have the slightest degree of confidence in the worth and integrity of any of my appointees?

If a mayor is crooked in one department he is crooked in all. No honest man would care to hold an appointment in lawless city administration.

I think the people know that and I am pleased to believe that in voting their sentiments so overwhelmingly in favor of the city controller as custodian of the combined funds of the city and county, they voted their approbation of the city government as operated at present and their resentment against its detractors.

Next November Mr. Holloway will be easily elected county treasurer, on his record as city controller.

Committee of Boys and Girls Work, Makes Announcement.

4-H Livestock Club members throughout the nation are eligible to compete for more than $5,000 in county, state, sectional and national prizes to be awarded in the third annual national 4-H meat animal livestock project contest, it is announced by the national committee on boys and girls club work.

These awards for America's most outstanding junior animal husbandmen are offered by Thomas E. Wilson, livestock breeder, packer and chairman of the national committee on boys and girls club work.

Any 4-H club member regularly enrolled in one or more meat animal livestock projects, namely, baby beef, purebred beef animal, market pig, breeding hog, market sheep or breeding sheep during 1932 under the supervision of their state extension service is eligible to compete. The project records and the general club record of contestants will be the basis on which awards will be made.

A gold-filled medal of honor will be awarded to the highest scoring club member in each county of the United States. From the records of county winners, state club leaders will select their state winner. Each state winner must have completed three or more years work in meat animal livestock club projects. The state award is a $50 gold watch.

The winning 4-H livestock club member in each of the four extension divisions of the United States will receive an educational prize trip to the eleventh national boys and girls 4-H club congress, which is held annually in conjunction with the international livestock exposition at Chicago.

Three national scholarship winners will be selected from these four trip winners by a committee of state club leaders. During the week of the national 4-H club congress, Mr. Wilson will award a $300, $200 and $100 agricultural scholarship to the national winners in the order of their rank. These final awards will be made at his annual banquet in honor of the delegates to the National 4-H Club congress.

More than 90,000 farm boys and girls will compete for the attractive prizes being offered in this contest to encourage 4-H club activities in meat animal livestock club projects.

FLOUR FOR JOBLESS IS UNFIT FOR FOOD

Baltimore, Md., May 13.—Two carloads of flour milled from Federal Farm Board wheat for distribution to the jobless were declared unfit for human consumption by inspectors for the Chamber of Commerce and city health bureau last week. Other lots in a 20-car consignment were declared to be of such low grade that they could not be used for bread, although the flour might be used in other forms of food.—Labor.

SCORES GAIN AS SMASHING BLOW DEALT CHIEF FOE

Upset After Upset Registered as Frederick Forces Capture Votes

R. EARL PETERS LOST OWN COUNTY

Frederick Stock on Upward Trend—Opposition in Dumps

Indianapolis, Ind., May 12.—Heavy gains for John E. Frederick, of Kokomo, in his race for the Democratic nomination for governor and a smashing blow at the hopes of the Peters-McNutt faction were generally seen as the outstanding features of last Tuesday's primaries.

The most reliable political writer here sized up the results as having stripped and slashed the Peters-McNutt strength to much less than half their claims and far below the total necessary to nominate in the convention.

Upset after upset was registered as the Frederick forces captured large blocks of votes which had been confidently claimed by the opposition.

Allen, Lake, St. Joseph, Delaware, Marion, Wayne and county after county poured their influence into the scale in favor of the Kokomo civic and political leader.

Losses Own Precinct R. Earl Peters of Fort Wayne, Democratic state chairman and chief sponsor of the McNutt candidacy, was overwhelmingly repudiated in his own county and district. He lost 63 of the 87 precinct committees in Allen county. He saw his candidate for Congress go down to the tune more than 5,000. Even his own precinct voted against him.

In St. Joseph county Mayer W. Riley Hinkle and his Republican combine machine were routed to the tune of approximately 3-0-1. All but two of that county's large delegations are for Fredrick. Hinkle himself lost out as a McNutt candidate for delegate to the state convention.

Heading for Rocks Lake county gave Fredrick a much fancier block of votes than had been anticipated. Oscar Hamer of Hammond, grand president of the five McNutt-for-governor clubs in Lake county, was beaten as a candidate for delegate. George McClennon a Republican running on the McNutt-Peters delegate slate, was cleaned up by a 3-0-2 vote.

In Shelby county, former home of McNutt's campaign manager, the McNutt-Peters delegate and committee men slates were beaten by Frederick forces. On the Ohio river the story runs much the same. In Warrick county, Dr. Floyd Taylor, Peters-McNutt manager, was beaten as a candidate for delegate, and Earl Seales, president of the McNutt Club of Newburg was also defeated. And so it goes all over the state.

Congressional leaders today sought to win from both Republicans and Democrats solid, non-partisan support for a $1,500,000, 000 Federal relief program. The huge outlay would be distributed by the Reconstruction Corporation, the funds being raised as needed through sale of corporation debentures with no issue of government bonds.

Europe Will Have American Clubs

Berlin, May 12.—(UP)—A resolution providing for formation of a European Federation of American Women's clubs was voted at a conference attended by delegates from Antwerp, Berlin, The Hague, London, Paris, Vienna and Zurich. The delegates represented 4,000 members. The federation will be designed to foster closer cooperation and to stimulate American ideas in Europe.

Here, There Everywhere

What a wonderful change has come over this country of ours since the year 1918, when millions of our young men, the flower of our young manhood, were mustered into service and sent abroad as soldiers to fight their country's battles and to make the world safe for democracy. Then these same soldier boys were the idol of the nation and the pride of their countrymen, and they were hailed as the greatest heroes of all time, and there was nothing they could do to give them. It will be remembered how generous we were to those of them who were so fortunate as to return, and for weeks and months after their return we had but a single thought, and that was to repay them in a measure for the inestimable service rendered by them in helping to win the war and in upholding the honor of our flag, that flag so dear to the hearts of all true Americans. And now, in the year of 1932, fourteen years after the war, these same soldier boys, who fought so nobly and heroically for this so-called democracy, are asking for a just compensation for their services, so nobly and gallantly performed in the war and we find thousands of people, hundreds of whom were "slackers" during our time of need, uniting their efforts with the cheap politicians in an endeavor to defeat the Soldiers' Bonus bill, now before Congress and the Senate, and they are told that the country would be bankrupt by the passage of such a measure, and if additional money were printed, or coined, it would inflate the value of money and would cheapen its value to the extent, that the country would be ruined. To all this clamor is added the voices of a few petty ex-army officers, most of whom were known as "shave-tails" during the war, and a majority of whom drew down a nice, fat salary for what service they rendered, a salary equal to about seven times that paid to the real soldiers for their monthly stipend, and who in addition to this were supplied with an orderly, by which is meant a soldier boy out of the ranks, to polish their shoes and to wait on them generally, all in opposition to the passage of the bill favoring the soldiers' bonus. All this propaganda is mere gush and sounds like the backwash from a battalion of French latrines, and is born of a fear, that in some way it will be detrimental to the nomination and election of a candidate for president.

We are told the United States has unbounded wealth. That its unmined gold, silver, iron ore, copper and other precious metals are to be found in abundance. This being the case, why wouldn't it be wise to uncover a part of this wealth and pay our debts, instead of taxing the people to death in order to meet our financial obligations?

Randolph Johnson, colored porter at the Holdup Hotel, went to sleep on one of the express trucks at the depot yesterday and while he was asleep someone slipped a capsule in his mouth. The capsule melted and ran down his throat, which awakened him, and he jumped up and yelled like an Indian: "Fo' de Lawd sake, git a doctah, quick. Ah done gone an' busted mah gall!"

Once upon a time, so the story goes, Job's wife called him honey, and the next day he broke out with the hives.

If you want some easy money, visit the Country Club. Three men took down $500 in about three minutes last Monday night, which is at the rate of about $167.67 a minute. Lots of politicians work a whole month for less than those fellows who got the money, for the reason that he would have stayed until he got a chance to get more. On the square, fellows, can you make your wives believe some fellow stole your money? We never could.

History Replete with Instances Where Men in Public Places Were Stoned to Death for Refusal to Surrender to Unjust Demands—Must Seem a Ghastly Joke to Muncie Citizens.

IS HE TO BE IMPRISONED FOR DARING TO ACT FOR HUMANITY?

If It Was So Necessary to Investigate Democratic Mayors, Why Was Drunkfest of Republican Governors, at French Lick Springs, Sponsored by Governor Leslie Overlooked? It's a Great Life!

Monday, along with Chief Massey and seven others of my administration I must go to trial in the Federal court at Indianapolis.

It must seem to law-abiding citizens of Muncie to be a ghastly and gruesome joke. It is to me.

I have been mayor of Muncie over two years and during that period have desperately and with grim determination to win, fought the lawless elements that are now seeking my downfall.

History throughout the ages is replete with instance where earnest men in public places have been stoned to death for refusal to recant and surrender to the demands of thieves and oppressors.

When I took this office I did it with my eyes open, knowing the hazards, recognizing the perils of my undertaking, and fully realizing the dangers which lay in the path which I cheerfully choose to tread.

If the courts eventually consign me to degrading imprisonment for doing what I promised to do when the voters of Muncie sentenced me to the thankless job of restoring law and order in the most lawless spot in America, I will have the consoling knowledge that throughout all time better men and I have gone to dungeons and the grave for daring to speak and act for humanity.

If this unseemable taint is placed on my fair name, with over three score years of honorable citizenship behind it, I will be sustained by the thought that time will erase the temporary blot and that my children and grandchildren will live to witness my complete exoneration.

The saddest part of this transaction is the charges against police officers whose only fault is their loyalty to me and their devotion to duty.

It was necessary upon the part of your public enemies to include these faithful officers in their conspiracy of perjury in order to get me.

The criminals who infest Muncie, and who are all set to testify in Indianapolis, had nothing in particular against the officers, except that they followed my desires and are being crucified because they are good policemen, who took their jobs seriously.

If the defendants in this so-called conspiracy get a fair trial at Indianapolis next week, I have no fear of the result.

The admirable courage of my co-defendants in this rotten frameup encourages me greatly.

As the citizens of Muncie and the state of Indiana well know I have been compelled for many years to meet and resist just such attacks and the records of the courts and of the state legislature are evidence of my unvarying success in meeting situations of this sort.

But it is new business to the boys who will face the Federal judge and jury Monday for being caught in my company.

They have not been shot at as many times as I have, but they are behaving like veterans.

Last Tuesday, in company with Louis Ludlow, famous newspaper correspondent and Democratic congressman from Indianapolis, I visited the attorney general's office at Washington to talk over the case.

The investigation requested by myself seems to have been merely an exchange of correspondence between the attorney general and the United States attorney at Indianapolis and a conference at Washington in the attorney general's office.

Mr. Youngquist informed Louie and I that he sent for United States Attorney Jeffrey to come to Washington to talk over my case.

Their fares will be paid in part by the industries in northern Indiana which can no longer employ the families, the judge said. East Chicago shops have advanced $30,000, to be deducted from their next year's taxes, and half this amount will be used for the voluntary repatriation.

CHILDREN AT SCHOOL AGE

WHEN they reach this age, children may have meat in small quantities. By this time three meals a day are usually sufficient although some children need a little food in the middle of the morning or in the afternoon. Dinner for children is best served at noon as a heavy meal at night comes too near bedtime. In many cases this is not possible. When it is necessary to serve the main meal at night, it is especially advisable to include a variety of cooked vegetables with milk and bread.

Parents often wonder if a child should be allowed to eat freely of sweet things. Sugar, of course, is merely a form of carbohydrate and the important point is the total amount of carbohydrate taken in during the day.

QUESTIONS:
All wives and mothers should be able to answer these questions:
1. How often a day should children at school age eat?
2. When should principal meal of day be served?
3. When should children be permitted to eat sweets and how much should they be allowed?

DALE FIGHTS

 had a scotch highball firmly grasped in his right hand.

I remarked on the large amount of liquor in sight, and said it looked like old times, before prohibition ruined the country and Federal agents were employed to catch Democrats.

"You 'aint seen nothin' yet," remarked a newspaper correspondent, and he opened the door of a large closet, which was filled nearly to the ceiling with cases of booze.

When we get a new attorney general next year and a new district attorney for the state of Indiana, I am going to demand an investigation of Governor Leslie's French Lick bar.

I am also going to ask the new attorney-general to find out why the grand jury that turned its attention to me made no investigation whatever of the twelve hundred bottles of whisky taken from the federal building at Indianapolis, where I am to be tried, while the grand jury was in session.

Some of this liquor was used to lubricate the tonsils of Republican politicians and part of it was sold to Indianapolis bootleggers.

Overlooking this recent happening, the district attorney and the grand jury complain that I caused a gallon or two of liquor to be transported to the Democratic state convention two years ago.

The thing didn't happen, but what's the odds? I am a Democrat and a thorn in the side of political gangsters of both parties.

The government officials at Indianapolis know who got the liquor and where it went, but why embarrass Republican gangsters, when there are so many Democratic mayors in Indiana to work on?

I am waiting patiently for the "dry" Hoover regime to end next March, so I can get a job in a Democratic administration as a prohibition sleuth and send a lot of Republicans to jail, if there are any Republicans left by that time.

If Hoover is elected I will turn Republican and get myself elected mayor of Muncie again and thus render myself immune from federal prosecution.

It's a great life, but don't weaken, says I.

No "If" Here

There was a knock at the door of Aunt Fanny's pleasant kitchen one morning, and on the steps stood a little girl with a basket on her arm.

"Don't you want to buy something?" she asked as she came in. "Here are some nice homeknit stockings."

"Surely you did not knit these Fanny."

"No, ma'am; but grandmother did. She is lame, so I run about and sell them. She says we are partners."

Aunt Fanny laughed and then bought some stockings. As she counted out the money to pay for them, Maggie said, "This will buy bread and butter for supper."

"What if you had not sold any thing?" asked Aunt Fanny.

But Maggie shook her head. "You see, we prayed 'God give us this day our daily bread,' and so there is no 'if' about it."

STATISTICS AND FACTS ON LOSS OF LIFE, LIMB, IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Prepared by The Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn.

RISK 17 MILLION MINUTES TO ONE

That is the Ration People Take With Automobiles.

BUILT ON AVERAGE ADULT OF 35 YEARS

59,000 Victims of Auto Accidents in Age Group of 55.

Without thinking about the existence of such odds as the remainder of one's life versus a minute, which at age 35 would mean more than 17 million minutes to one minute, countless motorists and pedestrians time after time within a single day gamble with life with the stakes offering no more than a minute as the prize.

Little did it profit the chance-takers who in 1931 attempted to gain a minute and paid with their own lives or the lives of others. The difference in the value of time, illustrated above, is on the basis of an average adult of 35 years of age. The minute hand in the large clock below, the diameter of which extends across three miles of metropolitan New York City, requires 33 years to go around, moving at the same rate as the minute hand in the small clock, the diameter of which is two-thirds of an inch. At the younger ages, the stakes are even higher. No one would think of risking 17 million dollars to gain possession of one dollar more. How much more illogical it is to risk the remainder of one's life to gain possibly a minute. The wonder is who would even consider accepting such odds.

The analysis of persons injured non-fatally in automobile accidents, when compared with the analysis on death by the same age groups, clearly shows that the chance of an injury proving fatal is greater at the higher ages.

Out of a total of slightly more than 59,000 victims of automobile accidents in the age group of 55 and over, there was one fatality for every nine victims. In the age group of 15 to 54, there was one fatality for every 36. In the age group of 5 to 14, there was one fatality for every 34. In the age group under 5 years of age, there was one fatality for every 24 victims.

The chance of death in an automobile accident for a person of 55 years and over is four times that of a person from 15 to 54; nearly four times that of a person from 5 to 14, and more than twice as great as that of a child under 4 years of age.

Whale of a Time

The Oregon whale, which the law courts decided was not a fish— species destined to create legal history in the west. Latest reports to reach this magazine indicate that Sheriff George Shepherd has filed an action in the replevin to recover the carcass for the State of Oregon. The carcass, it would appear, is still more or less in status quo, having been pickled or taxidermied or something, and a deputy is reported to have "seized" the carcass, reposing in a garage, in the name of the Sheriff. Sheriff Shepherd demands that the carcass be returned to the state, and that in case no delivery can be made, the state be reimbursed in the sum of one thousand dollars.

The attorney for the men who killed the whale says it is "all poppy-cock," but as the law man unquestionably decide whether a whale is a fish or a whatnot it looks as though there may be still more surprises. It is also stated
