Former Grady House, City Potato Chip Outlet Toppled

A Greencastle showplace home from the last century became a pile of rubble yesterday as it succumbed to the demolition hammer. This latest DePauw University-owned structure to come down is the Grady House at the corner of Indiana and Larabee streets. It has served the university as a plumbing shop for a number of years.

At one time the Larabee home, occupied by a family prominent in the history of DePauw, the house was later occupied by the George Shephard family. It was also owned by a family by name of Grady when DePauw purchased it several years ago. Miss Helen Werneke and her sister, Mrs. Julia Deem, had a special fondness for the now-razed structure since it stood adjacent to their family home on S. Indiana St.

The sisters recall that Shephard used one room of the house to make potato chips which he sold commercially. After his customers were satisfied, the surplus could be sampled by the neighborhood children. And they were every bit as good as the chips widely advertised on TV today, according to the sisters.

Adding to the historical interest of the Grady House is the reported entrance from its basement into Sellers cave. Judge Francis Hamilton is among the Greencastle residents who was acquainted with this entrance as a boy. The main entrance to the cave is southwest of the city near the Monon railroad.

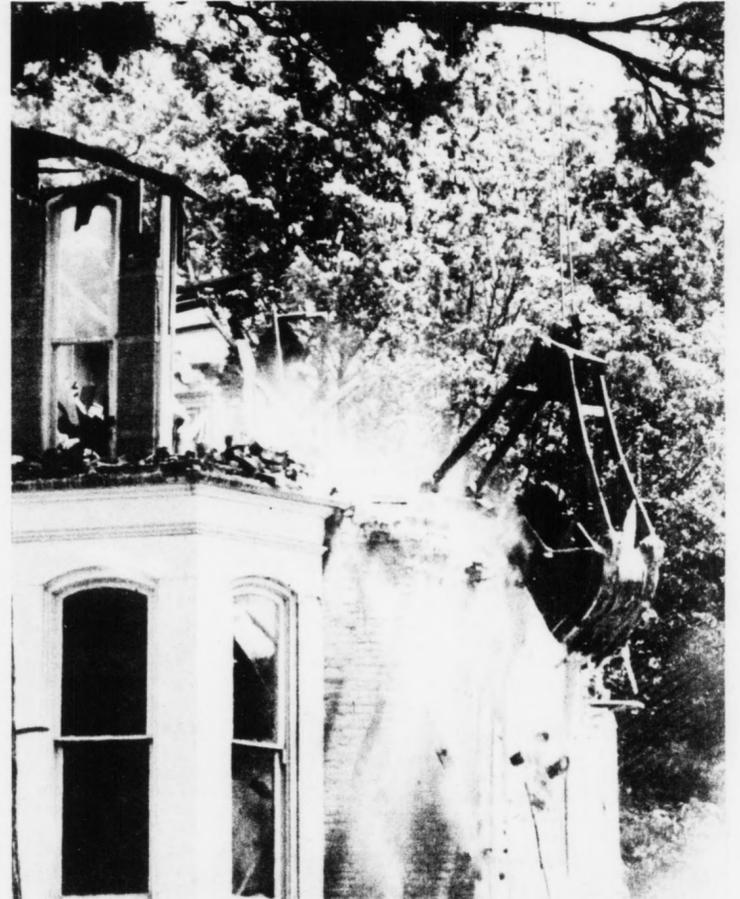

Evidence of the cavern leading from Sellers Cave is given by the sunken appearance of the rock retaining wall on the Indiana Street side of the now demolished building.

Greencastle Attorney Glenn Lyon is well acquainted with the fallen house since one of his relatives married into the Shephard family. He says that it was formerly occupied by the Larabees, for whom the adjoining street is named.

Miss Eleanor Cammack, former DePauw archivist, says records show that William C. Larabee did live in this house, however, it is indicated that someone else built it.

Coming to Greencastle from Maine, William C. Larabee, who joined the DePauw faculty in 1841 as professor of mathematics and natural sciences, sent back to his native state for pine, spruce, tamarack and larch trees and planted them in Rosabower to represent a Maine forest. Rosabower was the name given to the area west of Hogue Hall. The Larabee home was on the site now occupied by Longden Hall.

Trees of evergreen variety left standing on the lawn of the fallen Grady House are thought to have their origin in Maine and to have been planted there by Professor Larabee.

The latest DePauw University-owned structure to be toppled is the old Grady House, at the corner of Indiana and Larabee Streets. This structure, once a city showplace, has had a colorful background—once used as an outlet for homemade potato chips. The chips were made in the old home. The pines in the front yard are said to have been imported into the area from Maine.

Although Paralyzed McDaniell Plans Return

Although paralysis still cripples most of Jim McDaniell's body, he has stated that he "will be back in Greencastle someday," according to Putnam County Deputy Sheriff Jim Baugh, who has kept in touch with the South Bend youth's condition since McDaniell fell last Dec. 18.

Baugh said that McDaniell has regained his speech, talking in an audible whisper, and that the youth's mind is 100 per cent functioning. But the deputy sheriff noted that doctors have stated the paralysis will be permanent.

But, Baugh said, McDaniell's parents have hope that someday he will be able to live a normal life. "He thinks that way too," the deputy sheriff said.

PUTNAM fair preview

Queen Hopedefuls

(This is the fifth in a series of features on the 10 candidates for the Putnam County Fair Queen contest to be held July 30.)

Miss Andi Friend, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Friend of 111 West Walnut St., Greencastle, will be among the 1973 Putnam County Fair Queen hopefuls.

Miss Friend is a graduate of Greencastle High School and will enter Culver-Stockton College as a sophomore. While in high school, Miss Friend achieved the cumulative honor roll and a second place rating at the Regional Speech Contest in girls' extemporaneous speaking.

She was a member of GAA, Pep Club, IBLA, FHA, and Girl Scouts. She has had three years' experience in 4-H and was a prom queen candidate. She also participated in Y-Teens and was a prom queen candidate and a Putnam County Fair Queen candidate in 1971. Andi also collected honors when she received the Betty Crocker Homemaking of Tomorrow Award in 1972.

Her majors in high school included home economics, English and College preparatory courses.

At Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo., she is on the Religious Life Committee and is active in the concert choir and girls' intramurals.

Her college majors are psychology, sociology and speech. Andi plans to attend post-graduate school after college and hopes to earn her Ph.D. in psychology. From there, she hopes to have a career in clinical psychology.

Miss Friend's hobbies include sewing, swimming and singing. She has three sisters, Mrs. Nicki Underwood, Robin and Donetta, and one brother, Mike. Andi stands 5'7" and has blond hair and blue eyes.

Andi anticipates the enjoyment and busy schedule of a fair queen candidate. She describes the contest as a "good experience for any girl who has the opportunity to participate in a contest like this. You have to be compared with someone else no matter what you do. It is learning to cope with the outcome, whether you win or lose."

She also looks forward to the tips on poise and self-confidence, and to the meeting the public. She spoke also of the closeness which develops between the candidates and said that some of the girls who were in the contest with her before still keep in touch.

Andi Friend

Baugh, who worked with the former DePauw University student when the youth was a special deputy and assistant at the county jail, said that McDaniell is now at home and must have a nurse with him at all times.

The Deputy said that he can have visitors and that the former student would appreciate any letters or greetings. His address is 2101 Madison, South Bend, 46617.

While McDaniell was a student at DePauw he not only worked with the sheriff's department but also served as an assistant probation officer in the county probation office for Mrs. Mildred Hervey. He liked Greencastle and planned to live here, friends reported.

But then while practicing on exercise rings in Bowman gym at the university he fell to critical injury. He has been almost totally paralyzed since but has shown some improvement.

Special Bainbridge Meeting Slated

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Bainbridge has been called for 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall in the north county town July 10.

In the session the board is to discuss the transfer of $2,000 from motor vehicle highway funds to the account for payment of employes salaries.

In other news of county meetings, the Little Walnut Creek Conservancy District board of directors has announced that they will act on the expenditure of $136,000 from the recently closed $200,000 loan from the FHA July 9 at 2:30 at the Moore Building, Route 1, Greencastle.

The monies are to be used to defray the expenses of the district for the 1973 ending Dec. 31.

Among the uses earmarked for the funds, $112,000 is proposed for the purchase of land for the district.

Eastham Tells Kiwanis

With Corps Okay, 3,000 More Sheltered In County

"If the Corps of Army Engineers approve the 45 additional shelters proposed for Putnam County, we will be able to house 3,000 more persons than were registered here when the 1970 U.S. census was taken," Mel Eastham, area Civil Defense Director, told Greencastle Kiwanians yesterday.

Speaking at the club's noon luncheon in the DePauw Union, Eastham said that the county already maintains 27 shelters to be used in-time of disaster. Each is equipped to sustain life for a two weeks period. Shelters are maintained at no local expense.

While Putnam County is not considered a potential target for nuclear destruction, there are 36 natural disasters which could possibly occur here. Of these, Eastham said, tornado presently poses the greatest threat.

"Putnam County at this time doesn't have a tornado warning system," the civil defense director said. His unit, however, does have "sky watchers" who report sighted tornadoes to the Indiana State Police, who in turn call the National Weather Service.

Eastham said that some progress is being reported on electronic home warning systems which would operate through electric service outlets or through the telephone system.

The local civil defense organization has staff members assigned to county nursing homes and the county hospital ready to go into action if a tornado was approaching these areas. Emergency plans have been drawn up in all of these institutions. A siren to be used as a tornado alert at the Indiana State Farm, has been heard in Greencastle.

Eastham and his 80-man volunteer crew have been called into action several times recently to check on windstorm damage. They have patrolled the stricken areas and have reported damage to authorities. The unit also provides traffic control services during parades and other public gatherings.

The Putnam County Civil Defense organization works closely with the National Guard in emergency situations. Eastham pointed out that the civil defense unit can only be activated by police or other civil authority. It has no police powers.

While Putnam County is not listed as a nuclear target, there is a local set up available in event such an emergency would occur. The nearest target area is St. Louis, Eastham stated.

Local Church Announces

First Woman Eucharist Minister At St. Paul's

The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Indianapolis has honored the request of Father William F. Stineman, Pastor of St. Paul the Apostle Catholic Church in Greencastle, by commissioning a woman of the local parish to serve as an Extraordinary Minister of the Eucharist, the church announced.

Until now it has been unprecedented at the St. Paul parish to have a Catholic woman assist with the distribution of Holy Communion either at Mass or separate from Mass. In the past several months, two men of the parish have been functioning in this office.

The recipient of this commission is Mrs. Catherine Flynn, wife of Richard V. Flynn, local citizen who is retired from IBM and presently associated with Taylor Graphics here. Mrs. Flynn resides with her husband on Sherwood Drive.

She has been active in the parish religious education program for the past twenty years and has served as Church Sacristan during that same period. Mrs. Flynn will be formally commissioned in a special ceremony on Sunday, July 1st, at the 9 a.m. Mass and will begin her duties immediately.

The office of Lay Minister of the Eucharist dates back to the early Church when members of the faithful were assigned certain minor clerical tasks, the church said. As time passed, these offices came to be raised to the level of Minor Orders and were imposed only on those men preparing for the priesthood.

Now, a recent move within the Church is to suppress the Minor Orders and to replace them with Special Ministries, given to both men and women among the faithful as well as to those aspiring to the rank of Priest. This Ministry of the Eucharist is an example of the latest trend in the Church and will be executed in Greencastle for the first time in the person of a lay woman it was announced.

Southern Putnam Gets Power As REMC Returns To Work

Electrical power was restored Wednesday afternoon in an area south of Cloverdale after nearly 24 hours of absence of electricity following severe thunder and wind storms which struck the county Tuesday.

According to the Banner-Graphic Cloverdale correspondent Barbara Moore, power went off at about 3 p.m. Tuesday, and in most areas was restored by 1 p.m. Wednesday. However, in some areas of northern Owen County there was no electricity until 3 p.m. Wednesday, 24 hours after it was halted.

Moore stated that she had been told that anyone who had suffered spoiled or ruined foods as a result of the lack of electricity has been offered an opportunity to be reimbursed. She said that those losing food items should prepare itemized lists of foods lost because of the lack of power and send the lists to the Morgan County REMC.

Repairing of the lines which were downed in the Tuesday storm was delayed by the fact that linemen for the Martinsville REMC were on strike. Only three repairmen were available at the time the lines were downed. They began working, however, the job was too much for the three men to handle, according to sources in the affected area.

According to Woody Williamson, a member of the board of directors of the Morgan County co-op, negotiations were completed, and the linemen went back to work Wednesday. It is not known how much longer the power would have been off had the strike not been settled.

Williamson also reported that over a thousand homes were affected by the blackout.

Lt. Floyd Warns: Fireworks Can Be Dangerous Toys

Greencastle Fire Prevention Officer Lt. Gene Floyd has issued a reminder to Putnam County residents that fireworks have in the past been the cause of serious accidents, some resulting in the death of their users.

While he has no official report of the number of injuries sustained in Putnam County due to fireworks accidents, the fire prevention officer pointed out that one of the most recent fireworks-related accidents was caused by cherry bombs and resulted in the deaths of two young boys.

Lt. Floyd explained, "Each year, supposedly in celebration of Independence Day, the United States undergoes a holocaust." The celebration usually begins the latter part of June and runs through July, while a number of persons are killed and several thousand injured amidst "the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air," according to the lieutenant.

He pointed out what the fireworks and July 4th celebrations stand for when he said, "On July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was signed, stating the principles on which American Colonists would fight for their freedom. In that War, 4,335 Americans sacrificed their lives and 6,188 lost limbs." He continued, "Lives and bodies given willingly for our country and its freedom."

Statistics show that between 1900 and 1930 a total of 4,290 Americans died from fireworks injuries received during our annual Fourth of July celebrations. During the same period over 96,000 persons suffered loss of vision, fingers, hands, their lives and futures blotted out. Lt. Floyd explained that it is because of these tragic losses that most states have adopted fireworks laws.

The average number of fireworks injuries is now 6,000 each July 4th celebration, the fire prevention officer reported. "There is no such thing as a safe fireworks," he added.

He explained that cherry bombs and other explosive fireworks are both dangerous and deadly. There have been numerous deaths and maiming injuries attributed to cherry bombs and this type of fireworks, according to Lt. Floyd. Yet each year parents will travel to other states where they are legal and purchase them for their children, and they are asking for serious results, the lieutenant warned.

As the fire prevention officer, Lt. Floyd pointed out that sparklers are also dangerous, as they reach a temperature of 2,000 degrees. "There have been many hundreds of children burned to death when clothing caught fire from sparklers. Many more have suffered serious burns," he stated.

Smoke bombs create enough heat to cause serious fires and burns, according to the lieutenant. He said, "People do not fully understand the danger of fireworks until after the accident happens."

The local officer urged adults and children in the county to have a safe Fourth of July in suggesting a picnic or watching fireworks at a controlled display. He also suggested, "Keep fireworks away from children and protect them from injury. Fingers and hands cannot be replaced."

Treasurer Tells Of Overdue Taxes

Putnam County Treasurer Jewel Blue yesterday announced that his office will be sending out 51 delinquent notices during the first few days of July.

"These are personal tax judgments against taxpayers who are more than 18 months delinquent," said Blue. "Many of them have been delinquent longer than that."

The taxpayer has 15 days from the mailing date to pay the back taxes. After that, subpoenas will be issued and the taxpayer will appear in court and an additional $27.50 court costs will be added to the already overdue tax according to Blue.

Blue also said that there are 55 delinquent property tax notices that will soon be mailed out. There are also 18 months or more overdue.

In the case of the property tax, the taxpayer has until July 23 to pay. After that date, the property will be advertised for sale and sold at public auction August 13.

Taxes paid after July 23 will have an advertisement charge attached to cover the cost of advertising the sale of the property.

Cambodians Welcome

Nixon Decision

PHNOM PENH Cambodia (AP) — The government gave a predictable welcome today to President Nixon's decision to continue bombing in Cambodia. It said this could enable its forces to control the military situation and shorten the war.

Nixon's decision coincided with the Phnom Penh command announcing a series of offensive operations to recapture lost territory in several areas. The operations reportedly were on a relatively minor scale. Maj. Gen. Sosthene Fernandez, commander of the armed forces, said continuing American air bombardment will inflict heavy losses on Khmer Rouge insurgents and their North Vietnamese allies, "and the war will end very quickly."

The war has been going on for more than three years and U.S. bombing during that time has failed to prevent the loss of all but about 15 per cent of Cambodia's territory to the Communists.

Meanwhile, U.S. tactical air strikes were continuing only nine miles from the city, and the thud and rumble of exploding bombs rattled Phnom Penh's doors and windows.

Nine miles south of the capital, government troops were reported in action around the district towns of Kompong Kantuot and Day Kraham in an area which has been under increasing insurgent pressure during the last week.

County Log Cabin To Be Rebuilt At Richmond

A Putnam County log cabin about 130 years old has been dismantled log by log, like a Lincoln Log set, and moved to the Conner Prairie Pioneer Settlement at Richmond, Indiana, just north of Indianapolis.

The cabin, located on the Thomas Scobee property, County Road 325 West, two miles west of Brick Chapel, dates back to the Howlett family.

The Robert Lee Howlett, who once owned the cabin after moving from Kentucky, was Tom Scobee's grandfather on his mother's side of the family.

Records determining the exact age of the cabin or the earliest owners were not available, although the 1879 Putnam County atlas shows a J.L. Howlett as once living on the property where the cabin was located.

Gus Hardee, representative of Conner Prairie said the cabin could be estimated to be 130 to 140 years old.

"We will be doing research to discover the exact age of the cabin and its history of ownership," said Hardee earlier this week.

Crews from Conner Prairie discovered wooden shingles, assumed to be original, on an inside roof. They had been held in place by one nail per shingle, "a method practiced long time ago," said Hardee.

The crews dismantled the cabin a log at a time, marking each one in order that reconstruction at the Pioneer settlement would be made exactly as the cabin once stood in Putnam County.

The stone base of the fireplace was also dismantled stone by stone and each one numbered to facilitate reconstruction at the settlement.

Dismantling of the cabin took only three days. The crew stopped just long enough to let the storm pass Tuesday. They later found out that a tornado had touched down at Van Bibber's Mobile Home Park only a short distance away.

According to one of the crew members, reconstruction and restoration of the old cabin will take much longer than it took them to dismantle it.

4-H Competes In Demonstrations

The Putnam County 4-H community building at the Putnam County Fairgrounds will be the scene of the County Demonstration Public Speaking Contest, slated for 1 p.m. on July 2.

The contest is open to any Putnam County 4-H member, according to Darrel Thomas, area extension agent, youth.

Winners from this local contest will advance to the Area Five Demonstration Public Speaking Contest, to be held July 9 at South Putnam High School. This will include winners from contests held in the nine counties which make up Area Five.

Area Five winners will then advance to competition at the Indiana State Fair, and from there winners will participate in the 4-H Achievement Trip to Washington D.C.

Thomas pointed out, "All 4-H members who are striving for the best in the 4-H program are urged to give a demonstration."

Demonstrations may be in one of 17 categories offered and will be judged on introduction, demonstration, summary, the demonstrator, effect on the audience and practicability of material and equipment.

Timing will depend upon whether the speaker is a junior or senior 4-H member. Seniors, (those in high school as of the past school session), will be expected to speak five to ten minutes. Juniors, (those below the high school level as of the past school session), will speak five to seven minutes.

Categories in which the speakers may enter include meat products, fruits and vegetables, bread and pastry, dairy foods, clothing, home furnishings, electric and arts and crafts.

PLAYHOUSE SETS STAGE FOR "FLOWERS"

An adept cast and hilarious material should provide an evening of top-notch entertainment for theatre-goers next week, as the Putnam County Playhouse foregoes its second major production of the season, "Send Me No Flowers."

The Norman Barasch-Carroll Moore comedy, staged in three acts, will open Thursday evening, July 5, and run through July 7, at McAnally Center at 8 p.m. each evening. Tickets will be available at the door, and are $1.50 for adults, and $1 for students through age 18.

The comedy is based around George Kimball, a hypochondriac who has the notion that he is going to die.

Mrs. Joyce McKinney, Brazil, will direct the comedy, "Flowers" is Mrs. McKinney's first Playhouse effort. She is a member of the faculty at Cloverdale High School.

The character of George Kimball will be played by Dr. James Elrod, a veteran of the Playhouse. Elrod, who was among the founders of the county theatre, has carried roles in numerous productions, but has focused his talents in directing. The most outstanding samples of his direction are "The Miracle Worker" and "Inherit the Wind." He has also directed all five revues presented by the Playhouse, the most recent being "I Believe..." which was held on June 14-

16. Elrod has been on the Playhouse Board of Directors since its beginning and is a Professor of Speech at DePauw.

Mrs. Nancy Jo McFarland will also be capturing the spotlight in "Flowers" with her role as Judy Kimball, George Kimball's wife.

Mrs. McFarland, also a Playhouse vet, has had various roles in Playhouse presentations. She was in the Playhouse's first production, "Kiss and Tell," and also was active in "My Fair Lady."

She played Helen Keller's mother in "The Miracle Worker," and has participated in the organization of the Playhouse 11 years ago. Mrs. McFarland is a graduate of DePauw University, and has recently finished her Masters Degree in Speech at DePauw.

She has been in many of the revues and has written a number of skits for revues. She will act as vocal director for the upcoming production of "Oliver!"

The Playhouse will be welcoming a newcomer, Mike Mitchell, who will play the part of Arnold Nash in "Flowers." Arnold is a neighbor and close friend of the Kimballs, and spends most of his time on stage tilting a bottle and frolic in funny lines.

Other characterizations are: Tom Albin who will play

Judy Kimball (Nancy Jo McFarland) becomes concerned with George Kimball's (Dr. James Elrod) health in "the wheelchair scene" of "Send Me No Flowers," to be staged July 5, 6, and 7 at 8 p.m. in McAnally Center. The side-splitting comedy is under the direction of Mrs. Joyce McKinney.

Vito, Allan Feld as Bert Power, Ray Mizer as Doctor Morrissey, Fred Silander as the first passerby, Nancy Amers as the second passerby, Steve Shoup as Mr. Akins, Anne Coffin as a girl, and Marcia Broadstreet as Miss Mason.

Persons interested in the Playhouse are reminded that auditions for "Oliver" will be held July 3, at McAnally Center, at 7 p.m. Jim Poor will be directing the musical, and will also conduct the auditions Monday night. Anyone unable to attend tryouts as scheduled should contact Jim Poor, 653-5021.

Signs Of The Times Stirs Protest

ELYRIA Ohio (AP)—A Detroit abortion information center's billboards have stirred vandalism and citizen protests in Lorain County, including several community requests that the signs be taken down.

Elyria Mayor Leonard P. Reichlin, who asked that the signs in and around his city come down, said he objected to the huge block-lettered "ABORTION" on each sign which draws attention to the center's phone number.

But the director of Mitchell Family Planning in Detroit, Martin Mitchell, said the issue is one of freedom of speech.

"I didn't invent the word," he said. "It's not a swear word, and there's no reason it shouldn't be on a sign. But if you can come up with another word that says the same thing, I'm listening."

"We always have these problems," Mitchell said, although the Ohio protests occurred only recently. He said the signs have been up for four or five months.

"They have no right to deprive the public of this information," he said. He added that other communities in the past also have objected to the word "sterilization," which appears on the signs but in smaller type.

"It's just an attempt to raise Cain," he said.

Reichlin said his objections had nothing to do with his attitude toward abortion but arose "as a matter of taste."

"I think there are some things that need to be in good taste," he said. "For example, I'd also object to a sign that said: 'Do You Need a Heart Transplant?'"

"I also don't feel our citizens should have to phone Detroit to have an abortion," the mayor said. He said he thought the Michigan center "wants to make a buck on someone else's problem."

Mitchell said the center charges a $200 fee, which includes all costs of a visit to a Detroit abortion clinic and covers the center's expenses.

He said the center is a non-profit organization and that its share of the fees goes toward staff salaries, advertising, pro-abortion lobbies and advertising.

Judy Kimball (Nancy Jo McFarland) "falls" for Doctor Morrissey (Ray Mizer) in a scene from "Send Me No Flowers," a three-act comedy to be staged by the Putnam County Playhouse on July 5, 6, and 7, at McAnally Center at 8 p.m. each evening. The Barasch-Moore comedy is based on a hypochondria (played by Dr. James Elrod) who has the notion that he is going to die.

Aircraft Mechanics Association Removes Pickets From Ozark Lines

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Aircraft Mechanics Fraternal Association has removed its pickets from the premises of Ozark Air Lines as the 560-member union prepared to vote yesterday and today on a tentative settlement in the 71-day strike.

Samuel Smith, president of AMFA Local 24 here, said the picket lines were dropped Wednesday night "as a gesture of good will" pending the outcome of balloting on the proposed agreement.

Negotiators reached the tentative pact late Tuesday during talks in Washington with federal mediators. Details of the agreement will not be made public until the union has voted on it.

Smith said results of union balloting, to be held in St. Louis and Chicago, can be expected late today or early Saturday. But he refused to speculate on the outcome.

Tuesday's settlement was the second tentative pact to be reached in the strike that has halted Ozark operations in 62 cities of 15 states.

The previous offer was rejected by the mechanics on the recommendation of union leaders, but Smith said the union was not recommending rejection of this agreement.

The key issue in the final days of negotiations, according to the union, was the use of closed-circuit television cameras in the St. Louis hangar complex. AMFA officials have refused to comment on the resolution of that issue, but they said the agreement involved some compromise on both sides.

A spokesman for the airline said Ozark would begin operations within a few days of ratification of the contract.

The mechanics went on strike April 19th after working more than a year under an expired contract. The walkout has idled some 1,800 Ozark employees not directly involved in the strike.

6 Week Old Sought By Police

LONDON (AP) — Police searching for 6-week-old Kristen Bullen, an ailing prematurely born baby snatched from her carriage three days ago, said that they believe schoolgirls may be hiding the child and playing with her as "a living doll."

Detectives checked schools around Bromley, the southeast London suburb where Kristen disappeared Monday.

They said they wanted to question one girl, aged about 12, who was seen around the public lavatory where the baby was last seen by her mother.

"It's not beyond the bounds of possibility that the girl snatched the baby," said chief Supt. Alan Jones who is leading the hunt for Kristen. Scotland Yard, however, stressed the "living doll" theory was only a possibility.

The search, in which hundreds of police officers with dogs have combed southeast London, became increasingly tense yesterday. Kristen, sickly with a nervous disorder, needs doses of phenobarbitone drugs every eight hours.

If she does not get them, doctors have warned, she could suffer serious and permanent brain damage — or possibly even death.

Downturn Depths In Final Quarter

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Why are so many economists now forecasting a downturn in business that will perhaps reach its depths in the final quarter of this year and the first few months of 1974?

While you may look to the economists for an explanation, they are studying you for the same reason. They say it is you the consumer who is likely to bring about the downturn.

There is a good deal more of the psychological factor than usual in this outlook. In fact, you don't have to search long to realize that some economists are viewing the consumer as sort of a manic-depressive.

The manic state was exhibited in this fashion: — While the consensus of forecasters was that consumers would raise their savings rate in the first quarter to 8 per cent from 7.6 per cent, they dropped it instead to 6.6 per cent.

— Consumer credit soared during the same period. Installment debt rose from a late 1972 rate of $19.5 billion a year to $24 billion in the first three months of 1973.

— The lower savings and higher credit pushed retail sales to a rate that, if sustained for a year, would mean a 29 per cent increase over 1972.

— Consumers increased their spending for durable goods, especially for automobiles, by more than 30 per cent on an annual basis. Spending for cars alone jumped 35 per cent on an annual basis.

These are some of the highlights of a period described by university analysts who prepare a quarterly summary for Commercial Credit Co. as "one of the strongest periods of growth in consumer spending recorded in U.S. economic annals." Quite understandably, such enormous demand put upward pressure on prices, as demonstrated by an 8 per cent rise in the Consumer Price Index for January-March, and a leap of 20 per cent in wholesale prices.

Some of this increase resulted from anticipatory buying by consumers who correctly assumed that future prices would be higher and that savings of a sort could be realized in turning their cash and credit into goods.

In so doing, they "stole" business from later in the year. What might have been bought in October was purchased in March instead.

Many economists say such behavior is clearly unsustainable, financially or psychologically. The cash eventually runs out, but probably even before then the spirit is drained from spenders.

This appears to be confirmed by the recent consumer surveys, which shows that consumer confidence faded abruptly as summer approached. The University of Michigan analysts, who watch their words, called it a "precipitous decline."

The surveys now show that consumers are talking about bad times and recession and the possibility that inflation won't be controlled for a long time.

Whenever this type of gloom becomes prevalent, economists look for what they believe are predictable consequences. One of the most obvious of them is a tendency to save rather than spend.

Soybean Trade Delayed

CHICAGO (AP) — Trade in soybean, soybean meal and oil commodity futures was delayed on the Chicago Board of Trade on orders of its directors.

While directors did not issue a reason for the delay, the action appeared to be linked to the Nixon administration's embargo late Wednesday on exports of soybeans and cottonseed and their products.

The embargo was seen as an effort to increase the available supply of feed grains in this country and possibly bring down the cost of food.

Soybeans, meal and oil are used in food products throughout the world. Soybean meal is also used as an additive for livestock and poultry feed. It has a high protein content.

The short supply of soybeans and products in this country has produced heavy trading in these commodity futures on the Board of Trade. While the futures and cash markets are separate, they are interdependent.

Futures are contracts entered into for the delivery of a specified amount of a commodity at a specified time. With the cash product in very tight supply, some shorts have not been able to deliver their commodity at the expiration of a contract.

The board last week ordered trade in the three old crop soybean and meal options for liquidation only to give shorts an opportunity to get out of their positions.

Dollar Firms In Early European Money Market Trading; Hold Doubt

LONDON (AP) — The dollar firmed in early trading on European money markets yesterday but dealers doubted the improvement would hold through the day.

The strength of the West German mark in relation to the dollar, meanwhile, was placing severe strain on the joint currency float which Common Market countries initiated last February.

The dollar opened virtually unchanged in Frankfurt at 2.5155 marks. It was half a cen-time higher in Paris at 4.20875 and over a centime up in Zurich at 3.0385. In London the pound sagged slightly to $2.5785.

Dealers have placed the blame for the dollar's weak position on American inflation, the Watergate scandal and U.S. trade problems.

As the dollar strengthened in Europe, the price of gold eased in bullion markets. It opened at $120.50 an ounce in London and $120.25 in Zurich. The price closed at $122.75 an ounce in both centers Wednesday.

The mark, which reached record highs in dollar terms earlier in the week, was straining at its links to the currencies of five other Common Market countries — Belgium, Denmark, France, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

The Common Market partners decided last February to jointly float their currencies, agreeing to keep their exchange rates within 2.25 per cent of each other.

'Untouchable' attitude should be unearthed

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I've got this problem which is getting worse. I can't stand for a guy to touch me or kiss me. I am a decent 18-year-old Mormon girl, and I've always wanted guys to notice me, but I never like one to hold my hand or try to kiss me. [It makes me sick to my stomach.] I am going with a very respectable 21-year-old GI and I really like him a lot, but I don't want any physical contact with him because one thing always leads to another and I don't want to end up fighting him off.

This guy will probably drop me if I don't let him kiss me pretty soon, which I guess is why I'm writing to you. I don't want to lose him. Am I normal? Don't tell me to talk to a doctor. I just couldn't. He would think I am nuts. I would be very grateful for any advice you can give me.

TOUCH-ME-NOT

DEAR TOUCH: It is normal to want to touch, kiss and embrace someone you like. For some reason you have denied and suppressed these normal feelings to such a degree that you won't permit yourself to feel them.

Discuss this with a doctor. He won't think you're "nuts." He will guide you in finding a counselor. When the reason for your "touch-me-not" attitude is unearthed, you'll have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: My husband says I dress like a missionary and look like an old lady because I think short skirts, skintight clothes and bare-bosom dresses look cheap on a woman my age. [I am 45. So is he.]

Stanley also is crazy about miniskirts, Hotpants and boots, and that's what he would like to have me wear. I positively refuse. He says I have only a few good years left, so I should take advantage of them and dress like a "broad." I don't want to dress like a "broad." I want to dress like a lady.

The arguments we have over how I should dress have become so unpleasant I would rather stay home.

Abby, is there something wrong with my taste? Or is Stanley in the wrong? You always say a woman should try to please her husband, but I think he's unreasonable. Please help me.

NO BROAD

DEAR NO: I think your taste in clothes is far superior to your husband's, and he is unreasonable. Stick to your guns.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a professional artist who paints only from life. He considers it unethical to copy from pictures or photographs as some so-called artists do, and therefore if he wishes to paint a landscape he must be out-of-doors at the actual scene.

Far too often, passersby will stand around as he works, making comments to each other. It's almost as if they think he is putting on a public performance. I realize that many people don't mean to be rude or annoying. Some even imagine they are flattering the artist by watching him, when, in fact, they are distracting and inhibiting him.

These same people would never glance over a composer's musical score as he worked or look over an author's shoulder as he wrote. Why haven't they the same respect for an artist?

The problem is how to handle these people without being rude or insulting. Perhaps just publishing this letter will help.

ARTIST'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Perhaps, but artists who work out-of-doors should realize that the out-of-doors belongs to everyone, and passersby cannot be blamed for showing normal curiosity.

DEAR ABBY: I work for an eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist and we have a sign in our waiting room which says, "Feel Free to Smoke . . . and Make the Doctor Rich."

That is far more effective than a "No Smoking" sign.

NURSE

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Lucy's mother shows the change in sexual outlook that has occurred, due to the pioneering by hundreds of progressive newspapers that have been running this column. Discreetly, I used euphemisms, like "boudoir cheesecake" and not vulgar terminology.

CASE X-547: Lucy T., aged 30, was president of her Women's Club.

At 11 A.M. I had addressed its 900 ladies from the surrounding urban area.

Lucy had asked me to discuss "Sex Problems in Marriage." At the luncheon immediately following my lecture, probably 25 of the officers and other leaders were present.

Lucy's mother sat across the table from me.

She was very gracious and friendly, though somewhat quiet.

Later in the day, Lucy drove me out to the airport.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I purposely invited my mother to the meeting."

"For I figured she would be shocked and irate at you for your stress on more cheesecake in the boudoir, even if a wife must reduce her attention to roast beef in the dining room.

"But my mother surprised me, for she said she wished she could have heard your talk 25 years earlier."

"She said she got a divorce from my daddy when I was 5."

"And I never knew just why, but now she volunteered the information that she believed it was largely her own fault."

"For she admitted she felt he should have been content with her own rationed menu for what you call boudoir cheesecake."

"And she now said she realized that men require far more erotic calories, so she had driven my daddy to an outside affair."

"But she now admits she'd never have made it necessary for him to seek an outside paramour if she'd just heard your lecture at that time!"

NEWSPAPER COUNSELING

This is just one of tens of thousands of similar cases to show that "Newspaper Counseling" prevents school dropouts and many other vital problems of human beings.

When I launched this advisory column 38 years ago, you young adults can't imagine the prudery that existed.

Why, some papers wouldn't even print the phrase "opposite sex," for the little word "sex" was considered taboo!

In 1942, even the bold, brave Chicago Tribune censored my quiz column, called "Test Your Horse Sense," because I had used this 4-answer question:

"Which ailment is never inherited? Epilepsy - Syphilis - Deafness - Diabetes"

The Tribune editor insisted on my deleting "Syphilis" and inserting "Venereal."

Yet the Tribune had boasted on Page One of bringing the word "Syphilis" out into the open so physicians could curb that dangerous disease.

Despite the fact that many older readers claimed I was a "Sexologist" and threatened to cancel their newspaper subscriptions, I was using discreet medical terms and euphemisms, such as "boudoir cheesecake" and "erotic calories."

Never did I employ lewd 4-letter words or indulge in the vulgarity now appearing on magazine covers and the stage or TV screen!

But all through the past 38 years, I have been described as the "American Dr. Freud."

Yet I have shown that God Almighty endowed man with both a vastly greater gastric appetite as well as erotic hunger.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped return envelope, plus 25 cents, and see how the newspapers pioneered sane Marriage Counseling.

Two Carcass Contests At Nat. Barrow Show

There will be two Carcass Contests at the 1973 National Barrow Show—one for Production Tested Barrows and the other for truckloads entered in the Truckload Division. The 1973 Show dates are Monday through Wednesday, September 10-11-12. The "World Series of Swine Shows" will again be held at the Mower County Fairgrounds in Austin, Minn.

The committee in charge of both contests will be John Conger, East Tennessee Packing Co., Knoxville, Tenn., chairman; Richard Epley, Meat Science Division, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. and Lowell Gunderson, Geo. A. Hormel & Company, Austin, Minn.

There are no advanced entry fees or declarations. All truckloads, both purebred and crossbred, will participate and an entry fee of $15 will be deducted from the market proceeds. The St. Ansgar (Iowa) Test Station will pay an entry fee of $5 for each of the Production Tested Barrows which go into the Carcass Contest. These fees will also cover certification charges for those animals submitted for certification.

There is no maximum carcass weight disqualification for the Production Tested Barrows. However, carcasses which weigh less than 136 pounds will be eliminated from further competition. In the Truckload Division, carcasses which weigh less than 136 pounds or more than 185 pounds will cause the truckload to be disqualified.

The 40 prize winners will be ranked via Ham-Loin Index. C.F. Pyle & Son, Maysville, Okla., owned the barrow which won the individual Carcass Contest in 1972.

For additional information on the Carcass Contests, entry requirements, contest procedure, disqualifications, report procedure and market payment, write to the National Barrow Show, Austin, Minnesota 55912, requesting a copy of the 1973 Premium List.

All-American Rose Selections Told

A hybrid tea rose, called Perfume Delight, and two floribunda roses, Bahia and Bon Bon, are the All-American rose selections for 1974.

Announcement of the winners was made by All-America Rose Selections.

In line with AARS rules, the winners will not be offered for sale until fall 1973 and spring 1974. But rose lovers may view these in bloom in any one of 112 accredited AARS Public Rose Gardens throughout the nation.

Some or all three may also be seen in Indiana at Ft. Wayne's Lakeside Rose Garden, Wabash's Honeywell Garden, the Purdue University Horticulture Park and at some of the state's larger nurseries.

Perfume Delight, another origination from O.L. Weeks, California grower, is a richly fragrant, clear pink rose. A single bloom will fill a room with a spicy fragrance. From a classic, urn-shaped rose bud, thirty broad petals emerge into large, well-formed blooms which often measure five inches across.

Field Day Set

County cattle breeders are invited to a Santa Gertrudis Field Day Saturday, June 30 at 11 a.m. at the M Farms near Danville.

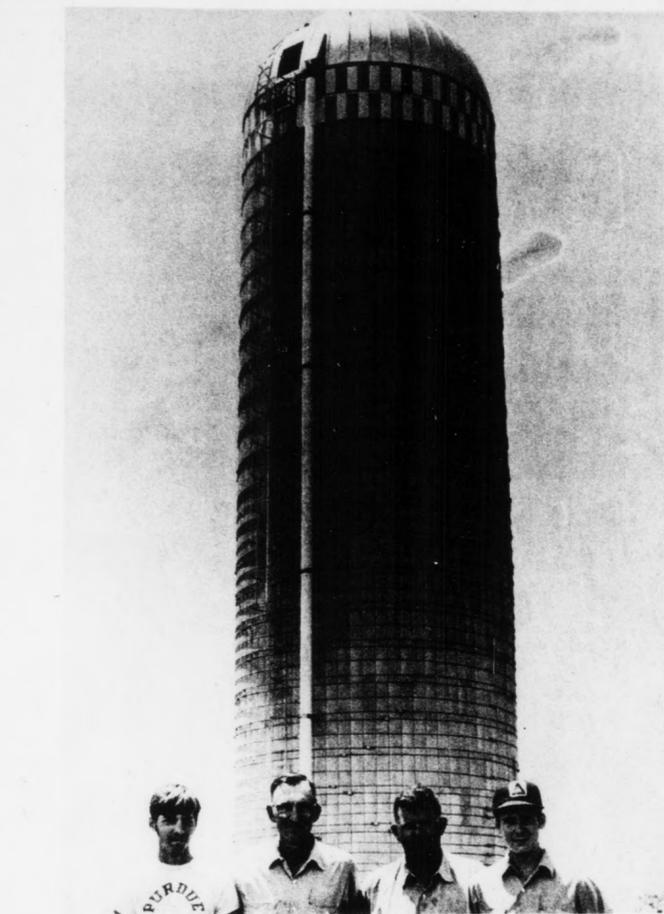

The farm is owned by William T. Myers and Son and is located three miles east of Danville and 2½ miles north. At the field day, cattle breeders will have a chance to learn about the "outstanding features of 'The Big Red,'" Myers noted.

Also available for viewing will be cross-bred cattle and Santa Gertrudis. A classifier from the Santa Gertrudis Breeders International, Kingsville, Texas, will explain the classification system of pure bred, Myers noted.

Setting the concrete staves in the wall of Freeman Goodpaster's new approximately 70 ft. silo at the farmer's Route 2 farm are these workmen for Madison Silo, division of Chromalloy. The men completed the silo in three days. The structure is part of the farmer's modernization program for feeding his livestock.

Changes At Goodpaster Farm

Freeman Goodpaster viewed the building of his new approximately 70 ft., 800 ton silo and said he has seen a lot of changes on his Route 2 Coatesville farm since his father came to the area 51 years ago.

He noted that he built his first silo 25 years ago, a 50 ft. structure, but now his live stock production has outgrown the old storage facility.

Goodpaster noted that with his larger herd of cattle he decided to put in the new silo plus the latest mechanized feeding equipment to increase his production.

He pointed out that by feeding corn silage to his dairy cows he can cut labor costs one-half to two-thirds with the new silo storage area and also up his profits 50 per cent per acre of corn.

He added that if the weather is right he will be able to fill his silo within four days.

Energy Crisis, Double Cropping Field Day Topics

The energy crisis, double cropping and computerized swine rations are among subjects to be reviewed at three early July field days at Purdue University's agricultural experiment station regional farms. They are sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and the AES.

The first of these will be held July 3 at the Davis-Purdue Agricultural Center, north of Farmland in Randolph County. In addition to tours beginning at 8:30 a.m., visitors will see a demonstration of computerized least cost swine rations. July 3 prices of protein sources will be used in computing the rations.

Second of the field days will be July 6 at the Feldun-Purdue Agricultural Center, west of Bedford. Ways to conserve grain drying fuel will be discussed, as will double cropping--soybeans after wheat and barley. Morning tours, beginning at 8:30 o'clock will visit grain plots. Afternoon tours will emphasize big package haymaking and beef crossbreeding program studies.

Third field day, July 10, will be at the Pinney-Purdue Agricultural Center, northwest of Wanatah. Of special interest to farmers in northwestern Indiana, tours of research plots will begin at 9 a.m. Stops will include new herbicide treatments on soybeans and results of nitrogen placement with no-plow corn tillage. A ladies program at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. will have as its theme, "Christmas in July," featuring craft ideas.

Nasturtiums Good To Eat

Although few people realize it, one beautiful annual flower is actually good to eat. It is the nasturtium.

In fact, the entire nasturtium plant--the stems, leaves, flowers and seeds--is delicious, says John A. Wott, Purdue University extension home environment horticulturist.

For sandwiches and salads, try the leaves. They impart a flavor similar to garden cress.

NBA Commissioner Says League Has No Drug Problem

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association says the league has no drug abuse problem and would intervene if a team tries to "whitewash" a violation.

Kennedy submitted a report on drugs to the NBA Board of Governors that opened a three-day meeting Wednesday at the Beverly Hills Hotel. The report carried no recommendation and, Kennedy said, brought no noteworthy response from club officials and owners.

"Actually," the commissioner said, "the drug abuse program we have now is an ongoing one. We will enlarge on it to some degree. In what direction, I don't know."

Should a problem with drugs develop, Kennedy said, "Our office would be involved from the start. I don't think there'll ever be a whitewash."

Based on two meetings with Rep. Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia, chairman of a special House subcommittee probing alleged use of drugs in professional sports, Kennedy told club owners that the league already had met "several" of Staggers' request, which were made to all pro sports. He said he pledged to Staggers the cooperation of the league and its players.

But he said neither the owners nor the players have stated a position on Staggers' proposed urinalysis program to detect drug usage during the season and periodically during the off-season.

"This matter will be discussed and further discussed," said Kennedy, declining to give his opinion. He said he did not ask for comment on his report "because drugs will be brought up again at our late summer meeting."

On other matters, Kennedy said he expected the owners to take no significant action regarding a merger with the American Basketball Association because necessary pre-merger legislation appears a long way off. Expansion also has been shelved pending Congress' merger action but Kennedy said the owners may alter their "wait-and-see" attitude because "We have a number of valid requests" for franchises. He would not identify any city involved.

The NBA also announced record attendance for 1972-73 of 6,833,521, an increase of 3 per cent over the previous season.

The league's 28th season will have 687 regular season games, starting Oct. 9 and ending March 26, with each team playing no more than eight pre-season games due to an agreement with the players association.

Two Area Athletes Attend Summer Cage Camp At DPU

The fundamentals of good basketball are being imparted to these Greencastle youngsters at DePauw University this week where they are students of some of the Midwest's most successful hardwood coaches. The young men are enrolled in DePauw's fifteenth annual Basketball and Sports Camp which began the second of two duplicate one-week sessions Sunday, June 24. When the sixth through ninth graders complete the week of activity with an honors picnic June 30, they will have been exposed to basketball's finer points offered by DePauw's varsity coach Elmer McCall, coach of two Indiana high school champions, plus Butler University's head coach and the head coach of Hammond Clark High School. In addition to acquiring basketball savvy during daily instructional sessions, the campers engage in supervised bowling, swimming, tennis, and ping pong as well as competitive intramural basketball in the evenings. Their camp home is a DePauw fraternity house. Their camp counselors are DePauw undergraduates. The DePauw camp is one of the oldest in the Midwest and is limited to 60 boys. Pictured here with Coach McCall prior to a camp session are: Left to right, Doug Scaggs, Route 2, and Jay Fogle, 624 E. Washington St., both of Greencastle.

Says Alignment Would Be Better With Stiffer Fines

Fengler Reacts To Criticism Of "500" Start

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Harlan Fengler, longtime chief steward of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, reacted Thursday to continuing criticism of his starting of last month's race saying the field might be better aligned if he had the power to levy stiffer fines.

Fengler, 71, when asked if he is planning to resign his job of 16 years, replied, "That's an unfair question."

The occasion for the interview was the one-month anniversary of the aborted start of the 57th Indy race in which driver David "Salt" Walther was severely burned in a multiple-car accident only about 100 yards from the start-finish line.

Talking to a reporter from the Indianapolis News via telephone from his home in New London, Ohio, Fengler said, "All the drivers have to do is go up where they belong and behave themselves." He added, "Obviously, people are going to criticize the chief steward no matter who he is."

Fengler is allowed to fine drivers who move out of position before they reach the starting line only $100. A.J. Foyt, Peter Revson and Steve Krisloff were handed such fines for being out of line on the aborted start.

Fengler asked Dick King, director of competition for the sanctioning U. S. Auto Club, to assess further penalties. But USAC has not acted.

Fengler said, "When I take a look at the field and at the time I say they are ready to go, they are ready to go, but then it changes. I tell Pat (starter Pat Vidan) to let them go just before the green light near the entrance to the pits."

"You have to let them know in advance. But when the flag drops, the situation changes."

Fengler added, "The start on the last day (May 30) was pretty good. There was all this talk, but nothing went wrong. This jumping the flag has been going on for years. This is a contest, but I'll never understand why they want to win it the first turn."

"The thing on Salt Walther came after the green flag convinced me anybody touched dropped. I haven't seen any- him. He just veered to the thing, in films or pictures, that right."

Borg Continues Brilliant Play In Wimbledon Tourney

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Bjorn Borg, Sweden's boy wonder staged another smash hit performance Thursday and reached the fourth round of the Wimbledon tennis championship.

His victim this time was Karl Meiler, West German Davis Cup star. Borg, playing here for the first time, finished in top form to win 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 2-6, 6-3 after a seesaw center court duel at the All-England Club.

As usual hundreds of teen-age girls cheered their blond idol.

Three American men won second-round singles matches. That meant six of the 21 Americans who set out in the men's singles were safely in the third round. Thirteen of the 27 American women starters also move into the last 32.

Alex Mayer of Wayne, N.J., came from behind to beat Roberto Chavez of Mexico 7-9, 6-1, 9-7, 6-2; Jeff Austin of Rolling Hills, Calif., downed Petr Kander of Switzerland 9-8, 6-3, 6-3 and Norman Holmes of Melbourne, Fla., outlasted Frantisek Pala of Czechoslovakia 8-6, 2-6, 6-0, 1-6, 7-5.

Already in the third round are Jimmy Connors of Belleville, N.J.; Pancho Walthall of San Antonio, Tex., and Bob McKinley of St. Ann, Mo.

No. 5 seed Rosemary Casals led the American women's fine showing with a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Jill Cooper of Britain.

For the second straight day, a crowd of 28,000 turned out. Fans were wedged shoulder to shoulder in the standing room around the center court, and latecomers could not get anywhere near the Borg-Meiler match.

Joining Borg in the last 16 were Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, the No. 2 seed who ousted John Yull of South Africa 6-1, 7-5, 6-2; Roger Taylor of Britain, seeded No. 3, who beat Jiri Hrebec of Czechoslovakia 6-1, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, and Vijay Amritraj of India, who overcame Britain's John Lloyd 7-5, 6-4, 3-6, 2-6, 7-5.

Ilie Nastase of Romania, the top seed, had no match Thursday but went to see a specialist about his back trouble. Nastase visited the doctor although he said he no longer was in pain and had no thoughts of quitting the tournament.

In addition to Miss Casals, Julie Heldman of New York was also victorious, scoring an easy 6-2, 6-1 decision over Marijka Schaar, the ambidextrous Dutch girl.

Other Americans among the day's winners were Kate Latham of Palo Alto, Calif.; Janet Newberry and Patti Hogan of La Jolla, Calif.; Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego; Kristy Kemmer and Pam Tegarden of Los Angeles; Margaret Michel of Pacific Palisades, Calif., and Mona Schallau of Iowa City, Iowa.

"Big George" Pays Penalty With Pen

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—George McGinnis of the Indiana Pacers of the American Basketball Association admitted Thursday he has "paid" a rather unusual fine levied by a Noblesville, Ind., judge.

McGinnis was stopped in Noblesville recently after a day of boating in nearby Morse Reservoir when a Noblesville policeman noticed his boat trailer didn't have a license.

McGinnis said the trailer, boat and car all had been registered and licensed but he had neglected to put the tag on the trailer.

He was issued a ticket and instructed to return at a later date after the license bureau verified his trailer registration and license, but the 6-foot-8 pro star failed to keep his court date.

When he did appear two days later, the judge sentenced him to two hours of autograph signing. McGinnis confirmed the story, saying, "Yeah, I did sign a few autographs."

Dancer's Image Loses Five-Year-Old Kentucky Derby Controversy Ends

LOUISVILLE Ky. (AP)—A stormy five-year-old controversy surrounding the winner of the 1968 Kentucky Derby has died quietly as the deadline passed for further appeal of a ruling that denied the gold winner's trophy to first-place finisher Dancer's Image.

"It's a settled issue," Bob Gorham, resident manager of Churchill Downs, said Thursday.

Half of 1973 will soon be history! As of now all signs point to continued inflation for the rest of 1973 and beyond. G.E. employees have just won a sizeable pay hike. Plans are underway to increase the salaries of government personnel. Land values, especially, have displayed an unbelievable rise. Really, no one knows for sure what's ahead, but the ownership of a home can mean a roof over one's head and a deed to a bit of good earth can bring both monetary and pleasurable returns.

Penn Central Into Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Penn Central Co. went into U.S. District Court in an attempt to extend its deadline for filing a plan for either reorganization or liquidation.
The court-appointed trustees of the nation's largest railroad had been ordered by U.S. District Judge John P. Fullam to come up with a plan to save the financially-ailing line, or a plan to liquidate its operations.
The trustees petitioned the court for more time and a hearing was scheduled for today.
The legislation would:
-Limit taxation of property which is being used in rail transportation to a uniform level consistent with its actual fair value for the purpose.
-Equate the subsidy level for all carriers with the railroads being treated no less favorably than the trucking industry.
-Improve Interstate Commerce Commission procedures in rate allocation so that interim adjustments could be made subject to final adjustments which would be retroactive and bear interest.
-Provide that railroads required to operate lines in the public interest at serious financial losses receive government subsidies to cover such losses.
The trustees said last week that if Congress doesn't act, the service would have to be put up for auction. Some optimism about Congress' willingness to help was voiced, however.
The railroad, which operates in 16 states and Canada, filed for reorganization under bankruptcy laws on June 21, 1970.

Medicare Premium Rolled Back

The monthly premium for Medicare medical insurance, scheduled to be increased in July, has been rolled back in keeping with President Nixon's 60-day price freeze policy, according to William J. Kelleher, social security branch manager in Crawfordsville.
"The higher amount will continue to be charged until the premium record for each beneficiary can be corrected," said Kelleher. "Refunds in full will be made at a later date. This also applies to railroad retirement beneficiaries and civil service annuitants who pay premiums for medical insurance under Medicare."
Medicare medical insurance helps pay for doctor bills and many other medical expenses of almost everyone 65 or over and disabled people under 65 who have been eligible for 2 years or more.

Bidding Quiz

Partner bids One Spade, next player passes, both sides vulnerable. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?
1. ♠ J843 ♥ KJ6 ♦ AJ9 ♣ KQ9
2. ♠ A65 ♥ 84 ♦ A9872 ♣ 643
3. ♠ 10 ♥ QJ762 ♦ AKJ93 ♣ Q5
4. ♠ 9852 ♥ 93 ♦ Q8 ♣ AK743
5. ♠ Q87543 ♥ 10 ♦ KJ94 ♣ 82
1. Two notrump. The choice lies between two notrump and three spades. Ordinarily, with four-card trump support, you'd jump to three spades (forcing) instead of two notrump (also forcing). But here the hand is so highly attractive for notrump - with probable double stoppers in all suits and 4-3-3-3 distribution as well - that it is better to aim for the nine-trick game.
This does not irrevocably commit you to notrump. If partner indicates a preference for suit play, you then show your spade support.
2. Two spades. This shows 6 to 9 points and trump support, which is precisely what you have. It is better to avoid a two diamond response, because partner might bid two spades and it would then be extremely difficult to choose between passing and bidding three spades. By raising spades directly, you place the decision on how far to go exactly where it belongs - in partner's lap.
3. Two hearts. This follows the principle of first bidding the higher-ranking of two five-card suits, regardless of the high-card strength in those suits. To bid diamonds first and hearts next would imply only four hearts and could result in missing a game or slam in hearts.
4. Two clubs. Here you're too good for two spades, showing 6 to 9 points, and not good enough for three spades, forcing, showing 13 to 15. Actually the hand is worth about 11 points, counting the trump fit and the two doubletons; in other words, it is worth two and a half spades.
These in-between hands are best described by bidding a side suit and then raising partner - even though he signs off by simply repeating his suit. This permits the bidding to die below game and simultaneously keeps the avenue to game open if partner wants to go on.
5. Four spades. This serves two purposes. First, there's a good chance for game, even though you have only 6 high-card points.
Second, and no less important, is the preemptive value of the leap to four. There is a substantial danger that the opponents can either make a game or discover a good sacrifice in hearts or diamonds, and the four spade bid might be just high enough to block them out.

OLD SHOES

Soles worn thin, uppers wrinkled, warped, polish dull and strings tied in knots. Are they roughed out or worn out? Shoe soles like human souls can be roughed out more than worn out. Neglect, mistreatment, improper care can break down your SOUL as well as your SOLES. Beware of the lusts which war against the soul (1 Pet. 2:11); and have that faith which saves the soul (Heb. 10:39). Some shoes are run down because the feet are twisted. Souls are run down because of crooked habits. An upright walk and an upright life is good for shoes and souls.

Restore your soul through daily Bible reading, prayer and faithful church attendance.
