

Organization of the Legislature. The Democratic Senators met in caucus, last evening, in the Senate Chamber, and all were present, including Messrs. COOK, CONWELL and JONES, except Mr. FINE, not arrived, and Mr. GOODSON.

On the tenth ballot, JAMES H. WATTS, Esq., of Jennings county, was nominated for Federal Secretary; on the second, Mr. CATWORTH, of Knox, for Assistant Secretary; on the third, GEORGE McDOWELL, for Door-keeper, and on the first, B. F. CLARK, for Assistant Door-keeper.

The proceedings throughout were harmonious. We would not ascertain the nominations of the Republican Senators, or even that they have agreed upon any.

The Democratic Representatives met in their Chamber, and nominated Hon. DAVID TURPIN, of White, for Speaker; THOMAS A. McFARLAND, Esq., of Shelby, for Clerk; E. C. CAMPBELL, of Porter, for Assistant Clerk, and Captain MILBURN, of Carroll, for Door-keeper.

The Republicans nominated Hon. J. W. GORDON, of Marion, for Speaker; RICHARD J. RYAN, Esq., of Marion, for Clerk; GEORGE H. CHAPMAN, of Marion, for Assistant Clerk, and ROBERT O. JENNINGS, of Floyd, for Door-keeper.

As has been the custom heretofore, the members of each branch of the Legislature will assemble this morning, at nine o'clock, to organize.

The Question of Slavery in the Territories. The tendency of a large majority of the American people is to conservatism. The general approval of the tone and spirit of the recent speech of Senator HAMMOND, and of the liberal sentiments uttered by JEFFERSON DAVIS, in his several public efforts at the North during the past season, may be given as evidence confirmatory of the loyal spirit which animates our people.

It is a matter of surprise that they did during the four years which that controversy excited the attention of the country. That contest was aroused and kept alive by a partisan spirit and to accomplish political purposes. When these causes ceased to operate, the angry waters subsided, and the Kansas question became one of easy solution.

The speech of Governor Hammond, which we published a few days ago, is exercising a powerful influence over the public sentiment of the North. There is a very much of practical wisdom in it—a freedom from the strain of prejudice which is exceedingly refreshing to the public mind of the country.

All such agitators mistake the character of the American people. The people are sick and tired with slavery agitation. They have seen its baneful effects. The country has been more than once brought to the very verge of revolution by Congressional action on the subject.

It is a matter of great surprise that they did during the four years which that controversy excited the attention of the country. That contest was aroused and kept alive by a partisan spirit and to accomplish political purposes.

The Millionaire and the Danseuse. The following curious story is translated from a German paper: A very pretty danseuse has lately created great excitement at Berlin. Mlle. Lillenthal made so many promiscuous one evening on the terrace of the Theatre Royal, that she attracted the attention of the Emperor.

Popular Sovereignty in 1837. In 1837, more than twenty years ago, Henry Clay introduced into the United States Senate the following resolution, which was warmly supported and voted for by such Democrats as Benton, Calhoun and Wright:

Resolved, That any attempt of Congress to abolish slavery in a Territory of the United States in which it exists, would create serious alarm and just apprehension in the States sustaining that domestic institution—would be a violation of good faith toward the inhabitants of such Territory who have been permitted to enter with and hold slaves lawfully, and become a man for any party to nominate; for the time is past when doctrines such as he enunciates are to find a paying demand anywhere in the American Union.

Seward Reputed. The Cincinnati Commercial, the organ of Governor CHASE, of Ohio, closes a review of SEWARD's recent speech at Rochester, with the following very significant but very just remarks of the distinguished New Yorker:

Another Great Cure offered by Boerhaave's Holland Bitters. The wife of Peter de Witte, living in Holland town, Sheboygan county, Wisconsin, suffered much from Weakness of the Stomach and indigestion. She had been under a physician's care for some time, but the disease seemed to care for some time. She purchased some HOLLAND BITTERS at our office, which she gave to her stomach; her appetite and strength returned, and she is now perfectly well.

Weakness of the Stomach and indigestion. The following patients were granted during the week ending the 16th inst: Otobald Bayly, jr., of Dearborn county, Indiana; for improved safe lock.

These must be concision and conciliation on both sides, or a separation will be inevitable, and we can not see any good way out of this dilemma, except by the aid of the Honorable General Committee, in maintaining a connection so barren of good results to Republicanism as that of the heterogeneous mass of politicians called "the Opposition" to Mr. SEWARD's Administration.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

The price money to be paid to the military serving in India, says the Glasgow Herald, is enormous—Lord Clyde's share is said to exceed $20,000.

The Western Register chronicles say—Thirty-two years ago, the American banker, George Peabody, was sitting in a room in New Haven, Connecticut.

A letter from Paris, in alluding to the high rents exacted there, says—"I believe in the case of a revolution in Paris, the first impulse would be to bang landlords."

The New York Register gives an account of a farmer in Indiana, who plants four thousand acres of corn. He sends his hucks to London, and last year they brought fifteen thousand dollars. Who is he?

The Springfield (Ill.) Journal says that Dr. HARRIS, just re-elected to Congress from that District, lies in bed, and is so weakly that he will be unable to return to Washington on the assembling of Congress.

There are $7,000,000 worth of hogs in Ohio; $5,000,000 worth of sheep; $21,000,000 worth of cattle; $485,000 worth of mules and asses, and $50,000,000 worth of horses.

It is said that upwards of a thousand millions of steel and gold pens have been manufactured at Birmingham, England. One establishment there manufactures five hundred wholesale copies of a pen every day.

The New York Post publishes a list comprising the names of most of the lecturers who are in the field this season, and of the 86 individuals therein enumerated, 49, or more than half, being in New England, and of these 37 hail from Massachusetts.

It is stated that actual statistics show that during the last five years the number of members of the Evangelical Churches in the United States has increased from four hundred thousand to three millions and a half, being an increase of eight-fold, while our population has increased four-fold.

Protection to Slavery in the Territories. Strange as it may appear, there are men claiming to be leading Democrats who contend that there is one question in regard to slavery in the Territories yet unsettled; and that is the duty of Congress to interfere, by special legislation, to protect slavery in the Territories.

It has been generally understood—at least by Democrats—that the agitation of the slavery question was not to be revived in or out of Congress, "under whatever shape or color the attempt is made," and that the doctrine of "non-interference of Congress with slavery in the Territories or in the District of Columbia," as laid down in the Cincinnati Platform, was to be adhered to for all time.

All such agitators mistake the character of the American people. The people are sick and tired with slavery agitation. They have seen its baneful effects. The country has been more than once brought to the very verge of revolution by Congressional action on the subject.

It is a matter of great surprise that they did during the four years which that controversy excited the attention of the country. That contest was aroused and kept alive by a partisan spirit and to accomplish political purposes.

SPECIAL ELECTION.

Election Tuesday, November 30, 1888. For Treasurer of Marion county. SAMUEL BECK, of Center Township.

Death of General Hanna. It is with no ordinary feelings of sorrow that we are called upon to record the death of one of the oldest and most estimable citizens of Indiana—Robert Hanna.

Amusements.—There was a good house at the Metropolitan last night—not crowded, but above an average—see Conroy and Warwick. The pantomime of Don Juan was received with unbounded applause.

Bates House.—Among the arrivals at the Bates yesterday, we notice Hon. W. E. Niblack, M. C.; Hon. Will Cumbick; Hamilton Smith, of Perry; Lou Wallace, of Montgomery; O. Beeson, of Wayne; Smith Jones, of Bartholomew; James E. Blythe, of Vanderburgh; Ben. Vinton, of Vanderburgh; John P. Baird, of Vigo; B. B. Moffitt and John W. Foster.

Yesterday was a delightful day—by odds the most cheerful and elating we have had for a month past. All was life, bustle and activity on our streets.

General Hanna has filed many important offices in the State of Indiana, and is widely and favorably known. He was a member of the Convention of 1816, that gave the first constitution to the State of Indiana.

Little's Lotion.—We found among the arrivals at Little's yesterday, Hon. Harvey Craven, of Madison; M. T. Carnahan, of Posey; Nathaniel Beck, of Carroll; J. B. Neuten, of Clinton; James Odell, of Carroll and Clinton; M. G. Sherman, of Laporte; M. C. Culver, of Tippecanoe; John Hargrove, of Gibson; J. B. Milroy, of DePue; Miles Gookins, of Rockville, and W. W. Higgins, of Michigan City.

Correction.—We have a note from Judge Wick, stating that the report of his speech in yesterday's Sentinel, in one particular was incorrect. We stated: "The Judge was a party man; he had always voted the ticket until he was now life (ripe) and ready for disorganization."

Traverse Juries of the United States District Court now in session. Chancy Butler, William M. Res, Nathan Early, John H. Hall, Sherman & Burton, Henry M. Coleman, Henry Walker, Thomas M. Gorman, Lewis Van Welden, Joseph E. Lange, Albin Shaw, Elijah M. Spivey, John H. Smith, Samuel S. McBride, Henry Brown, John McManamy, George H. Kyle, Phineas M. Kent.

On next Monday night there will be presented a new and attractive feature at the Metropolitan Theater. Mr. George Wilcox, a young and promising actor, will make his appearance in the splendid play of the Golden Farmer.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

Speeches by Hon. G. J. Beebe, Gov. Willard and Others! The meeting of Democrats in the Masonic Hall last night, advertised for a speech by Mr. G. J. Beebe, editor of the Banner of Liberty, Middletown, New York, was called to order by John S. Williams, Mayor of the city of Lafayette, and upon his motion the Hon. LAZARUS DEVANEY was called to the Chair, who accepted in brief, appropriate remarks on the character and object of the meeting—hoping he might never be called on to preside over a meeting whose proceedings might betray symptoms of a desire to loosen and weaken the organization of the National Democratic party.

Mr. Beebe spoke of an hour, illustrating the excellence and eternity of the democratic principle of equal rights, in its application to States as well as individuals, and denouncing the sectional and centralizing dogmas of the Opposition. He referred to the fate of the Van Buren free soil defection in 1848, to show the absolute impregnability of the Democratic principles against the most formidable assaults of the most adroit and influential leaderships, and proceeded at length to represent the connection, it is not the identity of the National Democratic party with the perpetuity of our free institutions. He read and scouted Senator SEWARD'S Rochester declaration of the incompatibility of free States and Slave States in the National Union, and responded to the dangerous and insidious sentiments of the Black Republican hierarchy, by reading those warnings of the wisdom of WASHINGTON against the seductions of sectionalism.

He closed with appropriate acknowledgments of the distinction conferred upon him in the invitation of the Grand Jury of the United States District Court, to make this public address on current political topics to national men, in the capital of a State whose sons had fairly carried away a palm of oratory from the State of Kentucky, by which it had been so long and worthily borne, and though without pretensions that way, he added the most ardent and earnest sentiments of his individual devotion to the perpetuity of the American Union.

Governor WILLARD being called to the stand said: Fellow-citizens, I did not come here to-night to address you upon any political question. I came rather to listen to a gentleman who is a citizen of my own native State—one who came here in 1854 and 1855 and stood in the Democratic column, beating back the hosts that attempted to bring into subjection the glorious old Democratic party. I knew he was a man who would advocate principle, who came to make no war upon men, but who came to maintain the good doctrines of the Democratic party as they have been maintained by us Indiana.

I have no part with those men who seek to make war upon the representatives of the Democratic party. [Cheers.] I speak not of myself, although you have honored me with a position as Governor, elected by the votes of Democrats of my State—I don't think I got many from the other side. [Laughter.] I have no part or lot with those men who seek to make war upon James BUCHANAN, who was the idol and the chosen champion of the Democracy in 1856. [Cheers.] My line of policy has ever been, and I trust will be to live in peace with the Democracy and Democratic men. [Applause.]

Concede, if you desire it for the sake of argument, that I do not concede it—but concede if you desire it for argument, that Mr. BUCHANAN has done wrong; what is the consequence? Are we to desert him? I have done many a wrong in my life, and unless I get to be a better Christian, I expect to do a great many more. I have seen many a Democrat do wrong in my life.

The Democratic party is founded upon the great principles laid down in the Declaration of Independence, and I have seen no time when I was willing that our enemies should be in power, for upon the success of the Democratic party hangs every hope of liberty which belongs to the white man. [Cheers.]

Now, it is said we have had a little quarrel in the Democratic party. Oh! how those Republicans enjoy it! It is a sweet morsel to them! But I give them notice now—I serve the ticket on them, and if they want it for the battle of 1860—I have seen worse times in the history of the Democracy of the State of Indiana than I see in 1856; and I have seen that old iron-hearted party rally again and preserve their liberty. We can do it again. We can do it. I stand firm to principle, holding to the organization, but taking no part in the quarrels of men.

I understand that there was a meeting here last night. I understand gentlemen came here, claiming to be the representatives of the Democratic party, who made it part and parcel of their business to assail the men who have been elected to represent Indiana in the Senate of the United States. I understand they claim as the price of peace in the Democratic party, that the conduct of the last Legislature should all be repudiated by Democrats. I take no part in that. Those gentlemen were nominated by the united voice of men who represented Democrats in that Legislature. They were elected by the united votes of Democrats. [A voice.] They did not complain of it then either.

Governor WILLARD. No. They thought they were serving God. But Republicanism may have power in this Legislature, and I never saw it have power that it did not do more mischief than good. There is a single man who claims to be a Democrat here, who was a citizen of Indiana in 1857, who did not rejoice that we had carried the Legislature and chosen Democratic Senators? It is true, that Democrats have a right to differ as between men, but when the party has spoken, when in caucus we have decided, when in convention we have voted and agreed about men, there should be no end of differences. If we differ upon a question of principle we should either go and join the enemy, or stand firm by the old flag under which we have fought. If it is a mere question of personal preference, no man is an honest Democrat who will quarrel about a question of men. I like the opinion of old Dick JOHNSON, on that subject, or rather that of the man who talked to him. You know in Kentucky they vote vice versa. It was the custom for the candidates to be upon a stand at the polls, and the voter to approach him, and, as he gave his vote, it was the custom for the candidate voted for to bow and return his thanks to the voter. This old man came up and voted for JOHNSON. JOHNSON bowed and thanked him. "No, sir," said the old man, "I would not vote for you, yourself. I did not speak to you; I would whip you if you were to come down here; but you are a Democrat, and it was for Democracy I voted." [Cheers.]

I trust that the Democrats in Indiana may unite, and I don't care if the Republicans unite. I hope that those men who have stood together in the past, may stand together again. If the men now placed in office are not satisfactory, why, there is another thing coming. The God that reigns in the Heavens will give us many a miracle, and I trust the Democratic party will be tried. Don't go and teach your children to vote against men, but teach them to vote for principles in men.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Ointment.—The best of Europe and America, used for the cure of all kinds of skin diseases, such as eczema, psoriasis, and other eruptions. It is a powerful and reliable remedy, and is sold by all druggists.

Private and Confidential.—The special for that wonderful hair dye, known throughout America as Christadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye. Are not you tired of revealing to every party the name of any person purchasing it? No article can therefore be sold to those who use it for the dark and glossy shades or rather varieties of shades—which it is so famous for imparting, nor, by its possibility, be detected as artificial. The secret is in the application, without fear, to the "sensitive hair," which will be found the most sensitive.

Dr. Carter's Compound Sarsaparilla will cure all diseases arising from impurities of the blood, or a depraved condition of the fluids of the system, viz: Scalding of the Glands, Rheumatism, White Swellings, Chronic Sores, Piles, Bells, Erysipelas, Goitre, Pains in the Back and Joints, Ulcers in the Mouth and Throat, and all Chronic Constitutional Diseases. This medicine searches out the very roots of the disease by purifying the blood and changing the conditions in the system, thus removing the cause, which renders the cure certain and permanent.

Dr. Carter's Compound Sarsaparilla will cure the most mercurial disease, and drive out and destroy every particle of mercury which is in the system, and cure its bad effects. It will cure secondary Syphilis and Venereal Disease, and will drive the syphilitic virus and all hereditary taints and poisons matter out of the system through the pores of the skin, and restore the patient to a perfect state of health and purity. It is a positive cure for Liver Complaint and Dropsy, if used a proper length of time. I challenge the world to produce a cure in these complaints, which is so afflicted with fear in mind that Dr. Carter's Compound Sarsaparilla will cure all Nervous Diseases, Female Complaints, Dropsy, Gravel, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs, in a few days.

It will remove Pimples and Blisters from the Face, and make the Skin clear, white and beautiful as alabaster. It does this by purifying the blood, and by its prompt action on the liver, kidneys and secretory organs, producing vigorous health. Persons who have long been afflicted with Scrofula, Old Sores, Tetter, King's Evil, Scald Head, Blotches, Eruptions on the Skin, and all Chronic Diseases, are advised to procure Dr. Carter's Salt Sulfur and Tetter Ointment to apply on the sores or diseased parts when using Dr. Carter's Compound Sarsaparilla. The Iodine and Sarsaparilla purify the blood and cause the sores to discharge their matter, and the Ointment heals them. When both are used, (which I always recommend,) a permanent and radical cure is always effected. They are the best and most powerful curatives known to man. A fair trial is all I ask—do not fear the result.
