 GREENCASTLE IND

Begin Now
 To get Ready for the CAMPAIGN of 1880,
 BY the CIRCULATION of SOUND REPUBLICAN LITERATURE!

For this purpose the GREENCASTLE BANNER will be sent the rest of 1879 for only 50 cents! either singly or in clubs. Republicans can circulate no better document. A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether will give us victory over the Confederates, and at the same time clean out the Court House Ring.

Greencastle Banner.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Fair Propositions.

The following communications were sent to the persons named, Dec. 7: BANNER OFFICE, Greencastle, Ind., December 7, 1878.
 To the Commissioners of Putnam County, Indiana:

I further ask that this petition be spread of record.
 Respectfully,
 GEO. J. LANGSDALE, Publisher.

To the Auditor of Putnam County, Indiana:
 SIR—Thereby propose to publish in the GREENCASTLE BANNER the delinquent list and such other advertising as is under your official control at one-half the rates heretofore paid the Press, and respectfully ask that the work be awarded to me at that price.
 Respectfully,
 GEO. J. LANGSDALE, Publisher.

To the Clerk of Putnam County, Indiana: SIR—I hereby propose to print the Bar-Docket of the Circuit Court at one-half the rates heretofore paid the Greencastle Press, and respectfully ask that the work be awarded to me at that price.
 Yours truly,
 GEO. J. LANGSDALE, Publisher.

BANNER OFFICE, Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 7, 1878.

To the Sheriff of Putnam County, Indiana: SIR—I hereby propose to publish in the GREENCASTLE BANNER all the advertising under your official control at one-half the rates heretofore paid the Greencastle Press, and respectfully ask that the work be awarded to me at that price.
 Yours truly,
 GEO. J. LANGSDALE, Publisher.

No response has been received. The Democratic officials of this county howl about "economy and reform," but they take good care not to practice it when they have a chance. Our proposition would save the people of Putnam county about $1,000 a year.

Frank Baker is at home from Kansas.

Miss Anna Hill visited Ladoga this week.

Every livery rig in town was out last Sunday.

Greencastle's colored population is increasing.

The five-cent counter mania has struck Greencastle.

Judge Turman is rusticating in the country this week.

Asa M. Black removes to Hendricks county this week.

Miss Emma Cluster, of Terre Haute, visited here Tuesday.

Mrs. Jesse Richardson is visiting her parents at San Pierre.

Black Bros. put a new flooring in their livery stable this week.

Miss Nellie Robinson has been visiting relatives at Crawfordsville.

M. A. Moore goes to Parke county, tomorrow, to attend to a law suit.

Wm. Eadon, of Cincinnati, is visiting here, the guest of Will Stevenson.

B. F. Barwick has received six mocking-birds from a brother in Arkansas.

William F. Goodwin and Elizabeth A. Finnel have been licensed to marry.

Prof. Marquis and Judge Turman intend going to Niagara Falls next week.

Charley McDaniels came near escaping from our $40,000 jail one day last week.

John A. Keller sends us the largest club for the BANNER. May his tribe increase!

Mrs. Shulemeyer and daughter Anna, of Indianapolis, are visiting the family of Chas. Kiefer.

Our $40,000 jail is a dangerous place for prisoners. Should a fire break out in the stairway it would be impossible for them to escape. It is as bad a death trap, if not worse, than the old poor-house.

Levi Woodrum has returned from Kansas. He found the bone of a mastodon while there.

At last accounts the coroner had made no effort to discover the cause of Jane Cusick's death.

Our local correspondents, with one exception, have failed to send in their usual favors this week. We miss you, brethren.

Dr. L. B. Morrow and family left for Arizona with a party of Hendricks county emigrants, last week. They go in wagons.

Henry and Christian Landes started this morning to visit their old home and their brother John, at Staunton, West Virginia. They will be absent three weeks.

Fred Catherwood went to Colorado with the "editorial" excursionists. They had to pay for transportation from Kansas City to Denver. Those of the party who hadn't the extra $15 had to come back. The Greencastle party all went ahead. They are bound to go through or break a hane-string.

There is one serious omission in the ordinance providing for the taxation of transient vendors of goods who visit Greencastle. It occurs to us that the home printers are as much entitled to protection against outside competition as are home merchants, and that the ordinance ought to be amended so as to provide for this.

Rev. J. H. Clay will preach his farewell sermon at Bethel Chapel, next Sunday night. He goes to Conference next Sunday, and a strong petition has been gotten up asking for his return. Mr. Clay has accomplished more good for his people than any colored minister who has ever been sent here, and the BANNER joins in the request for him to continue in this field.

On Saturday night $36 were stolen from the pocket of one Mrs. Pat. Manning's dresses, while she was absent from home. A young woman was accused of the theft. At first she denied the charge, but afterward confessed and returned the money. She then attempted to commit suicide by drinking a large quantity of quinine in solution. She must have a queer taste.

Sunday morning officer Burrow found the insane woman for whom Sheriff Lewman had been searching, on the New Albany road, and put her in the care of the Sheriff. She is over sixty years old, light complexioned, has good features, and is a German, speaking very broken English. She wore a sun-bonnet, calico dress, and an army blanket for a skirt. She couldn't give her name.

John A. Keller and Thomas O'Daniel have contracted to build a frame dwelling for Oliver Shaw, in Jefferson township. It will cost about $4,000, and will be the largest and finest residence in that township. They are just completing a barn for Samuel R. Allee, of the same neighborhood, and have in course of erection a dwelling for David Haines, of Jefferson, and another for Theodore Lane, of Cloverdale. Resumption is here.

Complaint has been made before the County Commissioners against Henry Helton, the Democratic trustee of Madison township, charging him with embezzlement. It is alleged that he collects $1 75 a day from the county to pay the teachers, and pays them as much less as he can employ them for, in one case only $1 50. It is further alleged that he fines teachers who fail to attend the institute, and fails to account for the money. The case will be investigated at the next session of the Board.

Saturday night Mrs. Robert Butler, living a few miles Southwest of town, was sitting in a buggy with her two children, in front of Barwick's grocery. One of the children managed to fall over the dashboard, but his mother caught him by the boot before he reached the ground. The commotion frightened the horse, and he started to run. In trying to stop the horse, and in looking after her other child, Mrs. Butler released her grasp on the child's foot and he fell to the ground, suffering a broken jaw by the fall. On the North side of the Square the buggy came in contact with a barber-pole and was upset, severely injuring both the remaining occupants, but breaking no bones.

John Weidle, a former citizen of Greencastle, has been acting as an "extra" on the Indianapolis police force for some time. Sunday night he arrested a burly fellow near the Spencer House, and started with him to the lock-up. Near the Grand Hotel the prisoner snatched Weidle's cane and approached him in a threatening manner. Weidle retreated, drawing his revolver, and warning the prisoner to stand back. The warning was unheeded, and Weidle fired. The man turned and ran a short distance, and fell dead. The name of the deceased was Martin Purcell. He was an employe in a pork house. It is thought that Weidle will have no difficulty in establishing a case of self-defense.

A woman is found dead in a field near this city. She is entirely nude, and there are numerous marks of violence on her person. It is learned that she had been followed from town by a gang of young hoodlums from the South End. Everything points a fearful tragedy; it was evidently a murder. But the body is buried without any thorough examination to discover beyond dispute the cause of her death, and the coroner returns a verdict of "death from effects of disease, exposure to intense heat, and want of proper care for a woman in her condition." Was ever such a senseless procedure heard of before? Was it because the woman was insane and without friends, that no attempt was made to develop the facts in the case, and to bring her murderers to justice, if murder there was? Or, are the county officials afraid to press the matter further, lest they might lose the votes of the hoodlums at the next election? Jane Cusick was an outcast, but the negligence or incompetence of officials that permits her violent death to go unpunished, or to be even properly investigated, will incite those who hounded her to death to pursue higher and more noble game next time.

Will it do no harm? This is the question often asked, and the answer is, "It can not." For Bull's Baby Syrup is an innocent remedy, warranted to contain neither Opium, Morphia, nor anything injurious. Price, 25 cents a bottle.

A great failure in business is sometimes less lamentable than a failure in health. Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills preserve the health. Price, 25 cents.

Alas and alack-a-day, our colored friends find that with them, as with other mortals, the course of true love does not run smooth. Some time last spring Lulu Jones had her teeth knocked down her throat with a stone in the hand of an irate rival named Nancy Roberts, because Nancy found Lulu walking with the object of her soul's adoration, John Jones, Esq. Friday afternoon the same parties again met, at the residence of a Mrs. Thomas in the Western part of town, to adjust a new difficulty. But, instead of an adjustment, they only made matters worse. Nancy called Lulu a liar; Lulu retorted, "you're another." Then Nancy "went for" Lulu, but was intercepted by John, who was anxious to protect his sweetheart from further harm. While he was holding the enraged Nancy, Mrs. Thomas appeared upon the scene with a butcher-knife, and ordered Mr. Jones to "let go" and leave, which, after a short parley, he did. They were all before the Mayor, Monday. It was such a tangled skein that the prosecutor did not succeed in unwinding it sufficiently to secure the conviction of any one, and all were discharged. It is claimed that a woman is at the bottom of every case of mischief or disturbance, but in this affair it is a man.

Colored Camp Meeting.

The colored camp-meeting, under the direction of Rev. Frank Hinton, of the M. E. Church, began at the Fair Grounds east of the city, last Thursday. Nightly meetings were held until Sunday, when the services were continued throughout the day. The attendance of both whites and blacks was very satisfactory on that day, $130 being taken in at the gate, the charge being ten cents for the admission of each person and vehicle. Services continue of nights during this week, and again next Sunday throughout the day, when excursion trains are expected to be run from Indianapolis and Bloomington, and, possibly, from other points. The ministers from abroad are—Rev. T. S. Johnson, Bloomington; Rev. W. C. Ecks, Springfield, Ohio; Rev. William Burk, Watson's Station, and Rev. S. G. Turner, of Indianapolis. These gentlemen are said to be preachers of no ordinary power. Good order is maintained on the grounds by the following special policemen: Arthur Monroe, Mack Collins, Theodore Brown, Joseph Brown, Robert Nathan and Reuben Homey.

Common Council Proceedings, Monday Night.

Assessor A. J. Hall's bond for $1,000, with John Osborn as surety, was presented and accepted.

The resignation of T. H. Boswell as Councilman from the First Ward, was presented, owing to his removal to Spencer, and accepted. An election for his successor was ordered for September 9.

An ordinance was adopted providing for the improvement of Market street between Washington and Liberty.

The appointment of James M. Torr, as deputy City Engineer was approved.

An ordinance was adopted providing for the taxation of shows, peddlers, and other itinerant vendors of goods.

R. L. Hathaway, living within the fire limits, was granted permission to re-shingle his dwelling with wooden shingles.

Riley, Meltzer and Allison were appointed a special committee to investigate the action of the Street Commissioner in receiving gravel.

The Mayor and City Attorney were directed to prepare an ordinance to prevent the obstruction of sidewalks by sign-boards.

Plans and specifications were adopted for the improvement of Arlington street.

SEYMOUR REPUBLICAN.
 The GREENCASTLE BANNER is one of the most staunch and purest Republican papers that comes to this office. Langsdale is a wheel-horse, and his paper is doing much good. Go in, brother, we are with you.

BLACK—in Greencastle Tp., Aug. 9, of consumption. Edith Black, aged 24 years.
 BURKE—in Bassett Tp., Aug. 11, 1878, of lung disease. Benton C. Burket, aged 30 years.
 SWENEY—in Madison Tp., Aug. 11, 1879, of some fever, daughter of John Sweeney, age 3 years.
 WRIGHT—in Madison Tp., Aug. 12, 1879, of flux. Maudie Wright, aged 3 years.

North End.
 We are sorry to see the crowd at Temperance Hall growing smaller, and urge every member to attend. Friday night there was not a sufficient number in attendance to appoint delegates to the Reform Convention at Indianapolis on the 12th. There was no choir at all, and consequently no music to speak of. A good choir is the life of a temperance meeting, and steps should be taken to organize one.

The watermelon mania still continues. Little boys can be seen "toting" watermelons home almost as big as themselves and big enough to give a whole family the chills.

Freight traffic on the I. & St. L. railroad is so large that the company cannot furnish enough cars.

The scales at Hazelett's grain market have been moved, so that the grain can now be weighed in the house.

An excursion train with several hundred colored people passed over the L. N. A. & C. railroad from Bloomington to Greencastle, Monday, and from here over the I. & St. L. to Terre Haute.

South End.
 The children are hunting up their school-books.

Miss Ella Morrison returned home Saturday. She has been teaching music during the summer.

There is great danger of some of the boys who fool around the depot getting killed. They act in a most reckless manner.

Tom Martin is called "the board of health."

There will be a party at Skelton's tomorrow night.

James Detrick was here again on Sunday. Greencastle has superior "attractions" to Terre Haute.

Charley Lueteke's bakery is the handsomest business-house in the South End.

The Brick Chapel portable saw mill passed through here last week, on its way to a new location.

George Piery, of Crawfordsville, visited friends here this week.

The boys are mourning over the melancholy aspect of a short melon crop in the near vicinity this year. They are accustomed to visiting the "patches" and helping themselves. A watermelon "patch" is the only kind of a "patch" they like.

Asbury University.

Stockwell Academy has become a part of this Institution. Last week a meeting was held at Lafayette to complete the plans for the union, at which President Martin and Dr. Joyce were present. The preparatory course of study as prescribed by the University was adopted. Professor John G. Laird was unanimously elected President of the Academy, and Rev. Frank Mikels was elected agent to secure the sum of $10,000 as an endowment fund for the Academy. In his remarks on the occasion, President Martin took a most hopeful view of the prospects of the University. He thinks they were never more encouraging than now.

The architect of the new building is preparing a surprise for the students when they arrive next month, by constructing a gymnasium where they had expected to find only a drill room. The horizontal bars are already in, and are of sufficient strength to bear all the weight that may be put upon them. They are placed at such a height from the floor as to call all the muscles into play to vault upon them, and at the same time they are far enough below the ceiling to enable the largest student to pass over them with ease, if he only has the agility. The arrangement is such that while one class is exercising on the bars, the cadets can drill on the floor beneath them without any interference. Similar bars have also been put in the second story. These, we presume, are for the use of the female students. That architect has an eye for the useful as well as the ornamental.

The Teachers' Institute.

The Putnam County Teachers' Institute convened its fifteenth annual session in the Third Ward school-building, Monday. The opening exercises consisted of music and prayer. The work of organization was soon accomplished, after which Superintendent Stockwell delivered an address, in which he urged upon the teachers present the necessity of earnest work.

The following gentlemen are serving as instructors: Prof. J. C. Ridpath, Prof. Gillist Ridpath, John Morrison, Milroy Gordon and A. J. Hall. The subjects discussed have all been the practical matters of the school-room. Professors Bell and Oleott, of Indianapolis, have been in attendance, and both have delivered valuable lectures. Prof. Kidd lectured yesterday afternoon, and at night in College Chapel. He will lecture again to-night.

Tuesday Dr. Henece delivered a highly appreciated lecture upon the eye. Yesterday he lectured upon the care and treatment of the eye.

The discussions following each recitation and have been productive of much good. The teachers of this county seem to be determined to make this one of the best institutes ever held in Putnam county. The attendance has been unusually good, and the interest commendable.

Tuesday evening a social was given in the chapel of the Third Ward school-building, and another is announced for tomorrow evening, to which all are invited.

The Superintendent and teachers invite the citizens of Greencastle to attend the remaining sessions, which will continue until Saturday. The room is large enough to accommodate all.

Manhattan.

The yield of wheat in this section is splendid. Corn is looking well, considering the dry weather.

The prospect for a large Republican gain in this township is as good as could be expected. We will make it Republican yet.

Elder P. S. Martin preaches at the Manhattan Christian Church next Sunday. Times are improving.

Call on L. M. Mercer and subscribe for the BANNER.

Protest and Answer. A writer signing himself Edward Waddell, but who is wholly unknown to us, sends the following protest dated in this city: "Your frequent clippings from the Okolona States, and comments thereon, indicate that you think that paper an exponent of Southern opinions. I protest against this, because I know it does not in any sense represent the best people of that section."

The writer is correct probably, in both assumptions. We have never believed that it was an exponent of the opinions or sentiments of the best people, but we have also believed that the best people do not constitute the ruling element. We also believe that the States is an exponent of the ruling sentiments, and in support of that opinion we cite what we believe to be a true, viz: It is almost impossible for a man to be elected in any position of honor and trust in the South, unless he has a Confederate war record. The evidence that this is true is found in a late notable instance—the election of Dr. Blackburn as Governor of Kentucky while that person was under the strong suspicion not attempted to be dispelled by him, that he was the same Dr. Blackburn who tried to introduce yellow fever and small-pox into the North as a Confederate war measure. When such things occur in Kentucky, and so long as Northern men are threatened, abused and even murdered in the South merely because they are Northern men, we shall continue to believe the Okolona States a fair exponent of Southern sentiments. Another thing that makes us accept it as such is the exultation by the Democratic Vicksburg Herald over the crushing out of opposition to the Democratic party in Yazoo county, Miss., even though the crushing out process was a violent one. We believe it to be true because within the circle of our acquaintance in Evansville there is a gentleman who went South a Democrat and lived in Mississippi several years. When he arrived there and it was learned that he was from the North, his declaration that he was a Democrat went for naught. He was treated rudely, regarded with suspicion and annoyed by various means till in pure self-defense he became a Republican, and voted, acted and associated with Republicans. We believe it because in places where self-defense is possessed and confidence felt the charge is not denied. In Yazoo county, Mississippi, the Independent party is composed of its best people, but they are so far from being the governing power that the Democrats have completely suppressed them. We believe it because this element is so strong in one place, at least in the South, that when an independent party appealed to Judge Morris, of Vicksburg, Miss., for protection, he was compelled to admit that his court was powerless, which he did in a letter of July 25th, in which he used this language: "The offenses of which you speak are well defined by our statutes, and well known by our Courts. But under existing circumstances, and in the midst of such political excitement, it is painful to have to admit that practically our laws upon this subject are a dead letter and our judiciary a dead system, because violence and fraud in elections, and fraud and perjury in covering them up, have in too many instances been the instruments by which our public officers got into power, and by which they expect to retain it. It is believed by many reputable citizens that the use of these instrumentalities was, to a great extent, excusable, in view of the evils which were in some of our former elections to be overcome, and the State redeemed from negro rule."

Now, although we have never seen anything from the States counselling or approving this kind of violence, we know that the opinions of that paper are shared by the members of the mob who committed the violence, and that the violence grows out of repugnance to the Union and the results of the war which keep them in it. We know, also, that Yazoo county, Mississippi, is not the only place where such sentiments are cherished and where they produce such results, and we therefore continue to think that the States represents the ruling element, which is not the best element, but which holds rule in spite of the best element which is powerless against it.

A Flourishing Partnership. Democrats and Nationalists used to insist that the hard times were the direct result of Republican administration, and that several years of successive failures in raising good crops had nothing whatever to do in bringing about depression of business. The Republicans always said the evils of an inflated currency, together with bad crops, had made hard times, and that their party was not responsible for either. Now, when good money and good crops are beginning to revive drooping industries and the dawn of better times is upon us, Democrats and Nationalists attribute it all to Divine Providence, and say the Republicans have nothing to do with it. This thing of being held responsible for the bad and allowed no credit for the good times is rather rough. The proper way is to split the difference and state the truth by saying that Providence and the Republican party are in partnership. The former has given us good crops and the latter good money and the two together good times. This partnership will do a sweeping business, and the probabilities are that it will close out the Democratic and National concern.

At the G. A. R. Encampment, held at Erie, Pa., last week, documents were laid before the Department Staff by the committee from McKeesport, Pa., having reference to the petition of Eli Lee to all the Grand Army Posts of the country. Lee is in the Moundsville Penitentiary, sentenced for life for shooting a rebel prisoner who was escaping in 1863, and for which he was honorably acquitted by General Court-martial, but was re-arrested after serving through the war, and tried and condemned in a few days by the civil authorities. It is alleged by the two lawyers who prosecuted him that one has Lee's wife and the other his property.

TIT FOR TAT.

The "Okolona States" Answered. When Jeff Davis sits in the American Senate, the editor of The Okolona States may go sleigh-riding in hell. Stalwarts believe in State sovereignty. A State without sovereignty is like a wasp without his stinging. This republic is, however, but one State—America, comprising what is formerly the United States—and it is sovereign. The North and South can never live together as equals, on account of incompatibility of temper and difference in social and intellectual rank. But while we cannot have the Southern virago in our political house as a wife, she may do well as a hired girl. Off to de kitchen, Dinah!

WHAT THE NIGGER NEEDS. We clip the following from the New Orleans Weekly Louisianian, edited, owned, and printed by niggers, who sent us a copy, asking an exchange with the Sentinel. We will grant the gentlemanly darkies the boon they crave, that they may study African ethnology from a stalwart standpoint.

What we need is encouragement, not curses, protection, not violence. That is nigger talk all over. Why, you great, woolly-headed boobies, what you need is to learn to "cuss" and practice "violence," and all these other things will be added to you. If you have not sand enough to stand up and curse the lantern-jawed brigadiers and their white-livered retainers, then the Republican party made a great mistake in giving you your freedom. If these unking traitors dare molest you when you go to vote, shoot them as you would so many dogs. If you have not the courage to do so, get on the auction block and let them sell you to the highest bidder.

A six-shooter is what you need, Mr. Nig.

"SOUTHLAND." Ho Southland! Ho Southland! Land of rattlesnakes, yellow fever, pestilence breeding swamps; Of swagging bullies, painted cut-throats, murderers in broadcloth; Of the pistol, the bowie-knife, the torch; Of formal putrescence, religious intolerance, political abominations, hideous mental deformations; Of braggadocio, bluster, swagger, effrontery, brass; Of cruelty, darkness, bloodthirstiness, ferocity, brutality; Cold-hearted, un pitying, ruthless, sanguinulent land; Land of half-breeds, cross-breeds, bastards, hybrids, Hottentots, brigands, savages; Of raw-boned he-traitors and scrawny red-devils; Lawless mob-land, Ku-Klux bedevil-land; Lecherous land, wallowing in debaucheries; Land of lynch law, club law, reputation, nullification; Drunken, sottish, bacchanalian land; Land of braggarts and cowards; Wearisome, Somnolent, Drowsy, Lazy Land; Vain, stupid, ignorant, sunny Southland!

Wake up! The stalwarts are after you. With a hip, hip, hooray! they will nominate Grant next year for President.

With a clang and clatter of swords, if need be, they will inaugurate him the year following.

And then, O bloviated, flabberghasted, sunny Southland! They will purify you with Northern brains.

Till then adieu, O land of glittering gab and brilliant blather! Uninventive, unprogressive land—Ta-ta!

A Sample of Southern "Civilization." Cincinnati Commercial. If the Governor-elect of Kentucky wishes to vindicate himself touching the charge that he attempted to infect Northern cities and the National army with the yellow fever, a few years ago, the Chicago Tribune opens for him an opportunity that he can embrace with alacrity. The Tribune says: "This man Blackburn was not a soldier. He has not the instincts of a soldier. He never faced a Northern soldier on Southern soil. From his safe refuge in Canada, where he lurked and skulked, the cowardly barbarian deliberately planned to spread the malignant pestilence of yellow fever and small-pox throughout the Northern army and among the principal Eastern cities, by disposing of several trunks of clothing which had been previously infected with these diseases in Bermuda. The clothing was sent in the care of his paid agents in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk, and disposed of to auctioneers, commission men and sutlers, but fortunately the contagion did not spread. This is the only claim he has upon the malignant Bourbons of Kentucky, and if they have elected him to the Governorship of that State for his services to the late Confederacy, they have done so because he made the dastardly attempt to spread these horrible diseases throughout the North. With the full knowledge of the fact, and has never been denied or even challenged—they have nominated and elected him as their Governor without protest on the part of a single Democrat or Democratic newspaper in Kentucky."

We were informed soon after Blackburn was nominated that he denied the yellow fever charges, and presently it was asserted in his behalf that they were too far-fetched and contemptible for his notice. If he has been falsely accused, the time has arrived when he should confront his accusers. As the story stands in the passage quoted from the Chicago Tribune, it is one of the most disgusting and horrible in the history of crime.

Hard Times in Canada. Montreal Journal of Commerce. Never in the history of Canada has there been a period of commercial disaster so severe and prolonged as that through which we are passing. All signs point to tempestuous days for banks and bankers. The storm is gathering, and it will be well for even our stronger institutions to make all "snug" low and aloft, and prepare to outride the gale.

Hard Money and States Rights Democracy.

The Democracy of Maryland, in State Convention at Baltimore last week, declared for hard money and State rights, by the adoption of the following resolutions: The obligations and credit of the United States and Maryland ought to be sacredly maintained; neither federal nor State debt ought to be increased, but provision ought to be made, as soon as practicable, for funding the debts of each at a lower rate of interest, and for the gradual payment of such debts while they continue to exist; every proper means of legislation should be adopted which may be necessary to give effect to these public obligations, and to confirm confidence in their complete security. When the Democratic-Conservative party regained power in the Congress of the United States, it enforced an economical administration of public affairs, and made the resumption of specie payments a possible event; it will be its duty to maintain the advantage thus gained by firmly establishing the credit of the country upon a basis of coin, exchangeable in all the markets of the world.

The Democratic Conservative party of this State, faithful to the Constitution of the United States, rests its construction of that instrument upon the express words of the 10th amendment, adopted in 1791: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the States, respectively; or to the people." The Republican party, in its conduct of National affairs, has violated this fundamental article. It has provided by law for Federal interference in State elections; it has assumed the right to confer on Federal courts, supervisors, marshals and special deputy marshals, the constitutional power of enforcing the State laws; it has deliberately sanctioned unconstitutional use of troops of the United States at the polls in the several States. These are measures of centralization which show a determined purpose to change the organic character of the Government bequeathed to us by our fathers, and such measures ought to be resisted by every constitutional means within our power.

We return our hearty thanks to the members of the Democratic-Conservative party in Congress, for their endeavors to secure impartial trials by jury in Federal courts, by the abolition of the test oaths, and for the manly steadfastness with which they resisted Republican encroachments upon the limitations imposed by the Constitution of the United States.

The Democratic-Conservative party of Maryland, having no other purpose to fulfill except to secure the good government of this State, and to aid in the reform of the administration of Federal affairs, expects all citizens of this State, who share its opinions, to unite cordially with it in the attainment of these great objects.

Another Swindle. It is a singular fact that about every other person you meet in the country is fully impressed with the fact that nature has endowed him with all the elements of character necessary to make a first-class detective, and only awaits a call to bring him out before the world as the bright particular star of this particular business. Old Byron Robb and a few other frauds who have been thoroughly ventilated in the papers, as swindlers, for the last fifteen years, know this peculiarity of the young ruralist and are busily engaged in harvesting a profitable crop from the gulls whenever and wherever found. This county has been flooded with circular letters asking parties, whose names he has obtained, to become detectives in the employ of the European and American Detective Association. Byron calls the particular attention of his proposed dupes to article 8 as being of great importance. It requires the dupe to forward two dollars for the "American Detective." He also says that he wants a few postage stamps enclosed, as it will require a few to carry on the correspondence between the dupe and headquarters. Well, when you comply with these two requests you have finished all of the business B.H. Robb & Co. have with you. Look out for this swindler, for several young fellows who have already taken the bait are now waiting to be placed on duty at $5 per day. They are still waiting, and will fully realize that "hope deferred maketh the heart sick" before they get to work on that "special case in their neighborhood."

A grand old rebel yell, ye gallant lads, for the repeal of the black amendments.

A rousing old rebel yell, ye Southern, for President Davis and the Confederate soldiers and civilians who have never deserted the cause.

Gambling and Whisky. Indianapolis News. A Greencastle newspaper thinks that the dreadful scourge of gambling has done more to impoverish the South than "the drought, caterpillar, freedman's bureau, spurious guano, radical reconstruction, and life insurance combined." If the Greencastle paper would add the amount squandered in whisky, all those other things would be but as a drop in the bucket.

The news comes from the South that the colored emigration this fall will be to the extent of the ability of the people to go white. The fact dawns upon the Southern whites that they have a very serious business before them in this stampede of labor. The colored men of the South are going on a strike against the tyranny of the Democratic party. This is not an affair of emigrants. It is the great movement of a race.

All Quiet in Yazoo. Cleveland Herald. At last accounts the Confederal-Democratic flag floated uncontaminated and unchallenged over Yazoo county, Mississippi, and the weary prominent citizen was at rest, the wicked independent candidate having ceased from troubling.

Points.

Brother De La Matyr had better go to England or some other country where the crops have failed and where there is real depression. His dolorous talk is as much out of place here as one of his most sepulchral sermons would be at a wedding. The paper money circulation in 1878 in Switzerland was $6.20 per capita; in Germany, $5 per capita; in Great Britain and Ireland, $7.20; in Belgium, $12.20; in France, $12.75. These figures are official. The paper money circulation in the United States is $14.30 per capita.

The New York Herald thinks the outcry about "rebel brigadiers" has aroused Union soldiers in the North to ask, "why not Union brigadiers, too?" The result may be a revival of the soldier feeling, and a larger infusion of that element in the Republican tickets to be nominated this year and next.

We have been told the reason why so many four-per-cent. bonds were purchased was that the prostration of business constrained persons with money to buy bonds. And yet the deposits in the New York banks increased eleven millions last week. Why was this? Because some of the holders of the bonds that have been called decline to take four-per-cent. The consequence is a vast sum of money is seeking investment. As we are paying off our European debts and stopping the outgo of interest, we begin to enjoy at home the benefit of abundant and cheap capital. The country is getting rich.

The Federal Government has nothing to do with the election of Sheriff in Mississippi, or any other State. He is a local officer, whose duties are defined by local law, and whose jurisdiction is limited to his own county. But the Federal Government have something to do with an election for Members of Congress in Mississippi, as well as in every other State. The power of a member of Congress is co-extensive with the limits of the Union, and he can make it be felt by his vote in every State in the Union. It is the business then of the Federal Government, as the representative of all the people in the Union, to see that elections for Members of Congress are free and fair, and that every legal voter has an opportunity of exercising the right of suffrage without molestation, no matter to what party he belongs, or whether he lives in Hamilton County, Ohio, or in Yazoo County, Mississippi.

A fine pearl was recently found in the Little Miami River, near Waynesville, by a eleven-year-old boy, which, upon the valuation of the Tiffany's, of New York, was sold for $350. The pearl is of the purest and most intense tints of opal, and weighs six carats. It is the most valuable gem ever taken from the pearl fisheries of the Little Miami, though many gems have been taken out of the stream. Of late years numerous men and boys have spent the greater part of their time searching for them.

One John Mullins, a native of Natal, has arrived in London, and gives a very different portraiture of King Cetwayo and of Zululand than has been derived from the correspondence of the English newspapers. On his first trip into Zululand the King took a fancy to him and granted him land near his palace, where he built a store and opened a profitable trade with the natives. Mullins knew the King intimately, and speaks of him as the tallest and finest of the Zulu tribe, intelligent, thoughtful and thoroughly noble in features, gesture and general bearing. He was impartial but severe in administering justice, hospitable to strangers, abstemious in living, fond of hunting, and a good shot. His houses were built in the European manner, but he preferred native furniture to that of foreign make which traders and others have presented to him. Mr. Mullins denies that the King is a bloodthirsty savage, and says while he distrusted the Boers and the missionaries, he was friendly to the English, and that a war with him could easily have been avoided had not the Cape Colony authorities, with a view to the conquest and partition of the country, refused negotiations and precipitated hostilities. Mullins' statement makes something of a sensation in England.

Will Boom Again.

The Grant movement seems to have entirely subsided, but when Congress is again in session it will revive. When a committee of Confederates prepares a programme for ruling this country, which a Democratic caucus takes oath to enforce, the people look for a strong man to lead them. Jerusalem is becoming daily more and more German, and that language is very generally spoken there. The German settlers are both Jew and Christian, and recently a magazine, to appear once in three months, has been started, giving an account of all that is interesting "down in Judee," and bearing especial reference to the archaeological researches made in the district. The conductors of this periodical will pay particular attention to the various moot points as to topography in and around the Holy City.

A year and a half ago August Rische was a poor shoemaker in Chicago. His sweetheart was Minna Jarghulu, who sewed furs for him. He went to Leadville and made a lucky strike in Little Pittsburg and other mines. Yesterday he married Minna, and among the bridal presents he gave her were a house and lot, a $1,000 diamond, $5,000 shawl, &c.

Druggists insist that the removal of the tariff from quinine was a mistake. In spite of the French, English and German quinine that is coming in the price rules 10 cents per ounce higher than before the reduction.

A Source of Much Bodily Evil. If the habit of body becomes irregular, much evil is inflicted on the system. The stomach becomes dyspeptic, bilious symptoms develop themselves, the circulation is contaminated, and the nerves share in the general disorder. It is of the utmost importance that the bowels should be thoroughly and speedily regulated when they grow derelict. The corrective agent best adapted for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a wholesome, non-gripping vegetable laxative, worth all the rasping cathartics invented since the time of Paracelsus. People who have been in the habit of using blue pills, calomel and other drugs and cheap nostrums for constipation, should abandon such hurtful and useless medicines, and substitute for them this pleasant and gentle aperient, which not only produces the purgative effect naturally, but also strengthens while it regulates the bowels, stomach and liver. It moreover cures and prevents intermittent and remittent fevers, gout, rheumatism, debility and urinary troubles.
