

REPUBLICANS ELECT MAYOR BY 243 VOTES

G. O. P. RETAINS CONTROL OF GREENCASTLE AT CITY ELECTION ON TUESDAY—DEMOCRATS HOLD FIRST WARD BY ELECTING ASA SMITH AS COUNCILMAN—TWO WOMEN ON COUNCIL

By electing the mayor, city clerk and five councilmen, the Republicans retained control of Greencastle affairs at the city election on Tuesday.

Charley Zeis, Republican candidate for Mayor, defeated Theodore Boes, his Democratic opponent by 243 votes while Gwinn Ensign, Republican Candidate for Clerk, defeated Ves Miller, ex-Democratic City clerk, by 432 votes.

Two women, Mrs. Caroline Davis O'Hair and Mrs. Julius Bryan, representing the second and fourth wards respectively were elected to the city council by the Republicans. The Republicans also elected Oscar Williams as councilman from the Third Ward and elected both of the councilmen at large, Ed. Hamilton and U. V. O'Daniels.

Asa Smith, Democratic candidate for Council in the first ward and present councilman from that ward, was the only Democrat elected. He defeated his Republican opponent, L. C. Alspaugh by a scant margin of 8 votes.

The election was a quiet affair, only a small vote being cast. The Democrats, content to leave the city in the control of the Republicans, made no special efforts, while the Republicans, fearful that the record of the present administration might result in their loss of control, made a desperate effort to get their vote out. The old "Student Vote" practice was resorted to in an effort to stave off the feared defeat.

Harry Allan Democratic candidate for councilman in the 4th Ward which is normally more than 100 Republican, was defeated by his Republican opponent by only 30 votes. Mr. Allan proved himself a strong candidate, getting much Republican support in his ward.

SHANK WINS BY 24,000 IN INDIANAPOLIS

NEW YORK GIVES DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR UNPRECEDENTED PLURALITY—DON ROBERTS DEFEATED—BRAZIL DEFEATS G. O. P. CANDIDATES

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—Lew Shank, Republican nominee for mayor, was elected by the largest plurality ever given a mayoralty candidate in Indianapolis in the city election yesterday. The entire Republican ticket participated in the Republican landslide. Delbert O. Wilmet, nominee for city judge and John W. Rhodehamel, nominee for city clerk, obtained even larger leads over their Democratic opponents than Shank.

Shank had a lead of 23,459 votes over Boyd M. Ralston, Democrat, in 163 precincts out of 166 in Indianapolis.

HYLAN 400,000 AHEAD IN N. Y.
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mayor John F. Hylan, Democrat, was re-elected today by the largest plurality ever given a mayoralty candidate in this city.

The vote with 189 districts out of 979 in the city missing was: Hylan, 693,527; Henry Curran, Republican, running on a coalition ticket, 308,559; Jacob Panken, Socialist, 78,989. If Hylan's ratio of gain is maintained in the missing districts, his plurality will be about 413,000.

QUICK NAMED MUNCIE MAYOR

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 8.—Dr. J. C. Quick, Republican candidate for mayor, swept through the election here today to election by a 2,100 majority over Dr. Rollin H. Bunch. The election was conceded to Dr. Quick an hour after the polls closed. Twenty three of the twenty-four precincts gave Quick 8,400. The entire Republican ticket with the exception of four ward councilmen was elected.

ELECT STROBEL IN BRAZIL

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 8.—William Strobel, Democrat, was elected mayor of Brazil by 23 majority in a surprise election. The successful candidates are: William Strobel, Democrat, mayor; Clifford Luther, clerk; treasurer, Democrat, John H. Riddell; James O. Lane and Michael Doyle, councilmen, Democrats; J. R. Hendricks, Everett Jenkins and George W. Labier, Republicans, councilmen.

DONN M. ROBERTS DEFEATED

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 8.—Indications on the incomplete unofficial reports were that the election of today would carry Ora Davis, Republican nominee for mayor into office by the largest plurality ever given a candidate for mayor of Terre Haute. His opponent was Donn M. Roberts for mayor. Thirty-eight precincts out of fifty-five gave Davis a plurality of more than 1,800. In his home precinct, Davis was given a plurality of 430. The adjoining precinct the home of Roberts, was carried by Davis by plurality of six. The Roberts precinct always has been counted a strong Democrat precinct.

Returns showed that more than 25,000 of the 32,000 registered voters reported at the polls. The heavy vote by Australian ballot made counting slow. Early indications were that the entire Republican ticket would be elected with the possible exception of two ward councilmen.

SAY THE BOOZE RUNNERS ARE USING GUARDS

BAINBRIDGE GARAGE MEN HAVE EXPERIENCE ON MONDAY NIGHT WHICH CONVINCED THEM THAT PUTNAM COUNTY SHERIFF WAS BEING SOUGHT BY AUTO LOAD OF COLORED MEN

Wilbur Priest and Durward Davis Bainbridge Garage men, are convinced that at least one Indiana booze runner is taking no chances of being apprehended by Sheriff Lawrence Sears if he can help it.

An experience last Monday night, in which Priest and Davis were stopped by an auto load of negroes, searched, evidently to ascertain whether or not they were officers and then allowed to proceed unmolested, is their grounds for their belief.

The two garage men had been called east of Bainbridge on the State road to repair a truck, which was hauling a load of stock to Indianapolis. It was about 1 o'clock when they completed their work and the truck started east.

Priest and Davis were just ready to start back to Bainbridge when a large touring car with probably six negroes, all heavily armed, approached from the west. Seeing the garage men's car, the negroes, with drawn weapons, ordered the two men to get out of their car and submit to a search.

After they had searched the men, the negroes turned their car and went back west a short distance. They then turned again when they passed the Bainbridge men, they were just in front of a second car, which the Bainbridge men believed was carrying liquor.

Both Bainbridge men believe that the negroes were guarding a car load of white mule and that they were looking for Sheriff Sears and his deputies. The negroes did not attempt to rob the Bainbridge men.

List of Candidates in the Herald's Grand Gift Campaign Will Soon be Shown in this Paper

Friends are Urged to Name their Choice for the Race Equal Opportunity for all Now in Campaign Office Open Nights

NOTICE

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that The Greencastle Herald, Chas. J. Arnold, Proprietor, has this day purchased a 5-Passenger, $1,075.00 Buick Touring car which is to be given away as one of the many prizes in the Herald "Everybody Wins" campaign. CHRISTIE-THOMAS AUTO SALES CO.

Persons contemplating entering the Herald's gigantic gift election should send or bring their nominations immediately. Those who are interested in seeing their friends become candidates should see that they are nominated without further delay. All nominations received will be given credit with 5,000 votes.

ONLY ONE WAY Remember, there is only one way to make nominations. Candidates must either nominate themselves or be the choice of some friend who will do it for them. If you want to be sure that your name is among those from which the owners of the automobile and other grand prizes are to be chosen, the surest way is to send or bring in your nomination blank yourself—DO THIS AT ONCE.

OFFICE OPEN EVENINGS During the big prize campaign, the election headquarters at the Herald office will be open every evening until 8 o'clock to answer inquiries, receive votes, etc. Bear in mind that it will not take long to win one of the big prizes. The campaign will be a very short one. And, at the close of the campaign, the votes will be counted by a committee of prominent business men. Those who have obtained the greatest number of votes will be formally presented with the automobile and other grand prizes—prizes that were won simply by collecting votes in their spare time.

NOW IS THE TIME NOW. Right now—TODAY is the time to begin.

If you want a $1,075.00 Buick Touring Car—if you want an automobile of your own so that you can ride when you wish and take your family driving, there is no reason why you cannot win this fine car. Think of having this fine automobile all your own to go where you wish and stay as long as you please. That's just what you can have if you are willing to put forth a little effort and a little hustle and energy during your spare time.

PEOPLE SAY "I CAN'T" Nearly every candidate will say: "Oh, I may try but I know I can't win that Buick car." All—or, rather most of the candidates will be of about the same opinion. But the man or woman, boy or girl who first decides that he or she is going to win and has confidence to do their very best is very likely to be proclaimed among the winners of the biggest prizes.

MORE VOTES GIVEN NOW Understand, too, that there will be more votes given for subscriptions secured now than at the end of the campaign. This is done in fairness to the ones who get out and hustle at the start and will not allow anyone to step in at the last minute and win.

GET STARTED TODAY—Of course you can accomplish nothing toward sharing in the grand gift distribution until you get started. So it is very important that you cut out the Nomination Blank, appearing on page 1 of this newspaper and send or bring in this very day. Once started, if you are the ambitious sort, you will become the possessor of the kind of enthusiasm that will lead you to greater things—enthusiasm that should make you the winner of this fine automobile.

GET IN THE ELECTION AND WIN Read the announcement of the campaign and start today. Bear in mind that every active participant who does not land one of the big prizes will be paid in cash for his or her efforts.

OFFICE OPEN DAY AND NIGHT Election headquarters at the Herald office will be open this evening and every day as usual and you are invited to call for any information you desire. If unable to call personally, use the telephone. The number is 65. Come in and have this generous proposition explained to you in detail and learn about the costly prizes that are awaiting those who are nominated in this grand prize distribution.

SAVING ARMENIAN BABIES

Some people may say they are tired of reading calls for relief for Armenians and other Near East peoples. They should be a good deal more tired if they were themselves in the starving and dreadful condition of these mistreated and suffering and forlorn people, who through persecution and assault and robbery have been made to suffer the loss of all things. At few times in the history of civilization has an entire race of people been found in such dire straits as are the Armenians at the present time. It is not enough that their homes have been destroyed, their crops trampled down and cattle confiscated, but to crown it all cholera is ravaging the country, killing off many whose resistance is low from lack of food. The fact that food and clothing are scarce renders the thousands of homeless refugees easy prey to the plague. It is certain that many thousand will die this winter from cold and hunger even though America does send 5,000,000 bushels of grain as pledged by farmers.

The Near East Relief commission was sent to Armenia by national headquarters of the organization in New York City to examine at first hand the existing conditions and discover if those conditions paralleled with what we have been told regarding them, member of the commission says: "What we observed during eight weeks' examination more than bears out the facts which have been told regarding that stricken land. In the face of existing conditions and with no crops in prospect, affairs in the Near East will reach a crisis by mid-winter. Food is growing scarcer every day. Fuel is hard to obtain and the only clothing available must come from outside sources of relief. Unless food rations are increased the death rate in our orphanages will advance rapidly. Just since the national grain campaign started conditions in the Near East have rapidly gone from bad to worse. The 5,000,000 bushels of grain pledged by American farmers, Indiana's share being 200 car loads of corn, will help. Lives in the Near East now are being measured by the bushel."

Section 4 of the Woman's Union of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. M. YrKellely at her home on South College Avenue Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

DR. AND MRS. SPENCE TO SPEAK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A few years after the purchase of Alaska in 1867, Dr. Sheldon Jackson, a man of courage and tremendous energy, a Presbyterian missionary, blazed the trail for civilization to Alaska. He preached the gospel, organized churches, established schools and located doctors throughout vast stretches of this new land.

In 1890 the work was begun in Point Barrow, the mission nearest the North Pole. In this dreary and desolate place, where the long Arctic day and night were each nearly three months long; where the outlook on the seaward side both summer and winter was a perpetual ice-field, stretching northward toward the Pole; where in the autumn and spring great whales sported before the front doors and in the winter polar bears prowled around the cabins, the children and older people were gathered together and given their first lessons in the English language and the elementary branches of human knowledge. Thirty years have passed. There is a school and two churches. The churches are twelve miles apart. In both of them services are held every Sunday of the year, even when the temperature is 30 degrees below zero. Prayer Meeting is held every Wednesday evening and Intermediate and Junior Christian Endeavor every Wednesday afternoon. All of these are attended by all the people in the village except the sick.

Don't fail to hear Dr. and Mrs. Spence Thursday evening. If you like thrills, come. If you like life stories by red-blooded Americans, come.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Count Ilyia Tolstoy, eminent Russian noble and lecturer, son of the late Leo Tolstoy, Russian writer and philosopher, was heard by one hundred fifty citizens of Greencastle and students of G. H. S. and DePauw university in the high school auditorium, Tuesday night. The speaker held his audience captivated at all times by his powerful mentality. Tolstoy spoke on "The History and Prophecy of the Future of Russia." The Salvation of the Russian nation is in the spirit of the peasantry," he said. The great personage gave his audience a short character sketch of his father, Leo Tolstoy and his philosophical search for the truth in religious matters. Count Ilyia Tolstoy is a man of tremendous intellectual depth. He has had much experience and is well learned in the affairs of his native country. His lecture was highly educational and instructive.

Other numbers of the lecture and concert course to be presented under the auspices of the Senior class which will be in the near future are of comparable quality to the Tolstoy lecture. It is trusted that the Greencastle people will take advantage of this course.

Improvements of the lighting system in the auditorium will be made, a new motor will be installed in the motion picture machine and new batteries for the clocks in the high school building will be placed in the near future.

The members of the Sophomore class will meet at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon in the assembly hall. Important business matters will be presented.

The Greencastle-Martinsville basketball game here Friday evening will begin at 6:45 o'clock. The purpose of the change in the time is to give the people who witness the game an opportunity to also attend the American Legion entertainment on the same night. Coach Rhea will drill his proteges in hard practice sessions this week to correct some of the faults in the scoring machine apparent in the West Lafayette game last Friday night. The defensive mistakes will also be "ironed out" and G. H. S. fans are sure to see an improvement in the local quintet in the game Friday. The squad will be handicapped by the absence of Capt. Black from the line-up. Black will probably not be able to play until the Technical game at Indianapolis Saturday night, November 19 on account of an infected knee injury.

The President having proclaimed, Friday November 11, 1921, a holiday, to be known as Armistice Day, a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the late World's War, as typified by the unknown and unidentified soldier who is to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery that day, this office will observe the day. Mails will be suspended and distributed as usual. The city will perform the usual services. The city will perform the usual services. The city will perform the usual services.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. A Greencastle case.

Louis Schachtel, prop. tinsmith shop 319 N. Jackson St., says: "I had been troubled more or less for a long time with kidney trouble and had taken different kinds of medicines with no benefit. I had severe pains in my back and there was a weakness that caused me a lot of annoyance. I found nothing to relieve me until a few days ago when I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am very glad to tell the public that Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am glad to recommend them highly."

You don't have to coax
big and little folks to eat
Kellogg's Corn Flakes
Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"
And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!
Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this:—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!
Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!
Here's a big one! Full box, Betty. Mother always has several packages of Kellogg's 'cause we eat 'em up—oh, awful fast.

This Big List of Gifts

GIVEN ABSOLUTELY FREE

To Those Nominated in the

Herald's $3,000.00 Prize Campaign

How to Enter and Win

The object of this big distribution of Christmas prizes is two-fold: Primarily it is to increase the already large circulation of the Herald and Herald Democrat and secondly, to afford our friends and readers an unparalleled opportunity to profit in a big way through their spare time in the next few weeks. So it is a plan that works both ways and for the good of all concerned.

Let it be understood at the very beginning that this is not a "beauty" or "popularity" contest, but it is strictly a competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, boys and girls. One big feature is that "Everybody Wins"—there are no losers. The plan of the campaign is the fairest and squarest imaginable and it is fully outlined in this announcement.

The first step, in order to share in this mammoth distribution of costly awards is to clip and mail the Nomination Blank on page 1 of this issue. Fill in your name and address and mail or deliver to the Campaign Department of The Greencastle Herald. The coupon entitles you or the person you nominate to 5,000 votes. These votes are given you as a starter and speed you on your way to win.

The next step is to call on, phone or write the Campaign Department for a free outfit, consisting of a special receipt book, sample copies of the paper and other information relative to the campaign.

Thus equipped, you have but to go to your friends and neighbors, relatives and acquaintances and have them clip the free coupons from their papers and pay up a subscription to The Herald or Herald-Democrat through you. THAT'S ALL THERE IS TO IT. However, you must make the start. Anything worth having is worth striving for. So plan your campaign—get busy at once and let no one discourage you. A few short weeks and you may be riding around in your own car.

It takes votes to win and votes are secured in two ways. First, by clipping the coupons in each issue of the Herald. Begin gathering them now. Very soon these coupons will be reduced to a lesser number of votes. The only restriction on the voting coupons is that they must be voted at Campaign headquarters before the expiration date printed thereon. Get your friends to save their coupons for you—they all count.

The other and fast way to get votes is by securing new and renewal subscriptions to The Herald and Herald-Democrat. On each subscription turned in a certain number of votes are issued the number depending on the amount paid and during which "period" the subscriptions are received. (See Schedule of Votes Below). So, you see, the more subscriptions you secure and the quicker you get them the more votes you will get and the better your chances are for capturing the Grand Capital Prize automobile.

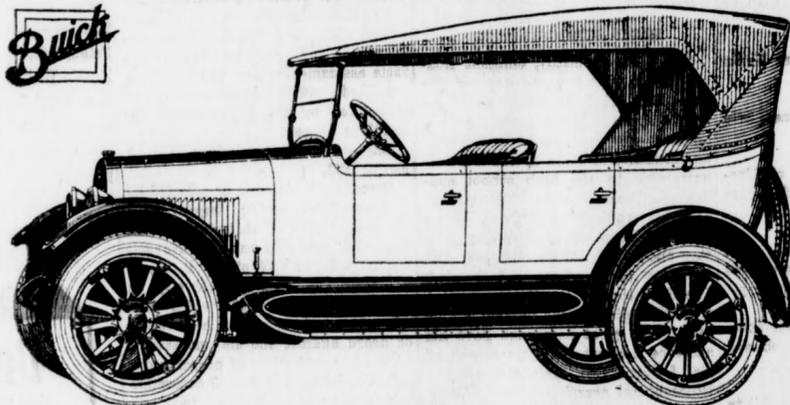

The advantages of an early start are apparent. Not only do you have the SIX FULL WEEKS in which to secure the winning votes, but from now up until December 3 you will receive the greatest number of votes for every subscription you secure. Then, too, the first in the field will get the "cream" of the votes and subscriptions, while those who put off entering will have to take what is left.

Don't lose valuable time waiting to see what the "other fellow" is going to do. Pitch right in NOW and show the "other fellow" how to do it. Be sure that your nomination is in RIGHT AWAY.

THE ADVISORY BOARD

It is the sincere aim of The Herald to conduct this campaign, from start to finish, in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interest of the participants and absolute honesty in all dealings is guaranteed. For that reason an Advisory Board has been decided upon whose functions shall be to decide any question of sufficient moment that might arise during the competition and from which a committee shall be selected to act as judges and count the votes the last night of the election. The personnel of the board is as follows:

He Was Really Great Detective

Mrs. Parmenter had telephoned to her husband at noon, to tell him that the diamonds had not been found. Parmenter left his office and went over to see Sweazey about it at once.

The stenographer, who had been very sympathetic, had recommended Sweazey's agency. She did not know Sweazey herself, but a young woman friend of hers was Sweazey's cousin, and she knew that he was just grand.

Parmenter expected to see a gentleman with a high, intellectual brow, a grave, inscrutable face—the face of a student and an eye that had a habit of suddenly leaping from sleepy lids into a penetrating luminosity, and he was a little disappointed when the great detective proved to be dumpy in figure, pop-eyed and fat faced. His heavy mustache, which was of a jetty blackness, except near the roots, where it had a rather rusty tinge, was also in the nature of a disillusionment to Parmenter; so was the flat, black, semi-circular curl that decorated Sweazey's forehead.

Still, if Sweazey was a disappointment in other respects, his inscrutability left nothing to be desired. A wooden Indian standing in front of a cigar store is not more inscrutable than Sweazey was.

He waved Parmenter to a rickety chair in his desk and invited him to state the case. Then he reit the stump of an evil-smelling cigar, and composed himself in a listening attitude, with his feet on his desk.

There was not much to tell. Mrs. Parmenter had worn the diamonds to the theatre. She remembered perfectly that she took them off when she retired that night, but the following afternoon she had been unable to find them.

It had happened that in the morning a young man applied for assistance at the front door. The poor fellow had just been discharged from the hospital and he asked for some extra garments. The maid had inadvertently left the door open while she went to tell the mistress, and had then returned to the kitchen, still leaving the door open, while Mrs. Parmenter rummaged for some old clothes in the garret.

There had been ample time for the young man to ransack the house, as Mrs. Parmenter recalled when she missed her jewels.

Sweazey chewed his cigar reflectively and frowned at the almanac on the wall.

Presently he turned suddenly on Parmenter and the pop eyes bored into that gentleman's inmost soul.

"Have you told me everything you know?" he asked.

"I think that is everything," replied Parmenter.

"You think. But are you sure?" demanded the great detective.

"Everything that is material," said Parmenter.

"See here, Cap," said Sweazey, "a guy that ain't in the business don't know what's material and what ain't. You tell me all there is to tell—See? Or, I tell you what I'll do. There ain't none of my men around just now, so I guess I'll take this case myself. We'll go to lunch and you can get busy giving me the rest of it while we chew."

They went to lunch. Sweazey was an expensive feeder. As he explained to Parmenter, the best was none too good for him and he liked lots of it—especially when another feller is footing the bill," he said, humorously.

Meanwhile he put a number of questions to Parmenter, eliciting the fact that Mrs. Parmenter occasionally played bridge whist.

"Not that I can see how Mrs. Parmenter's statements can be any concern of yours," said Parmenter, with considerable heat.

"Certainly not; certainly not," said Sweazey, soothingly. "I was just asking. There's nothing in that. My wife plays bridge herself. She can put it all over me at seven-up. Now, as to the hired girl of yours—"

"There's another thing I want to speak to you about," said Parmenter. "We haven't the slightest suspicion of the maid. We think everything of her and we wouldn't have her feelings hurt for the world. If you have to question her, I should like you to be very tactful."

"You leave that to me, Cap," said Sweazey, reassuringly. "I don't suppose your good lady noticed whether that guy that come to the door for a handout had a mole on the back of his neck—a brown mole?"

"She didn't mention it," replied Parmenter. "Why?"

"It looks to me like Rat-Tail Reilly's work," said Sweazey. "If he had that mole, it was Rat-Tail—and, you see that finger?"

He held up a stubby and rather dirty forefinger for Parmenter's distinguished inspection.

"I can put that finger—right on—Reilly," said the detective impressively. "Any time I want him, I can put that finger—right on—him."

They went down to Bibberley Heights together. Mr. Sweazey enjoyed the journey with anecdotes illustrative of his professional sagacity. At the station Mr. Sweazey interviewed the agent regarding "Rat-Tail" with great effect, so that the agent, the baggage man and two casual passengers stood on the platform to see his departure and three small boys followed him to the very door of the Parmenter residence, where they were driven away with difficulty.

After going all over the ground again accompanied by Mrs. Parmenter.
