Wise Old Santa Says:

Only 11 more Shopping Days 'till Christmas—and that's not many.

On September 29, 1884 there was printed in the Herald Office (then the Star-Press office) a program for a piano forte recital given by James M. Howe, then dean of the DePauw School of Music. Today the same program—an exact duplicate of the one printed more than 45 years ago—was printed in the Herald Office, for a recital to be played this evening by Vernon Sheffield, pianist, of the DePauw School of Music. The recital tonight is in commemoration of the 3,000th recital given by the DePauw School of Music. The Herald is just a little proud of the fact that it printed both the original and the facsimile programs. Dean McCutchan is to be congratulated upon his unique manner of commemorating the event.

I'll take a chance on anything once, but I will admit that when the boys came around with admission tickets to the DePauw Football "banquet" and quoted me a price of 75c a plate, I had my doubts. Remembering other "75c banquets" I had attended, I carelessly dropped a couple of ham sandwiches in my coat pocket, before taking off for the Tuesday night event. But, as the old saying goes, "one never gets too old to learn that a fool is born every minute" and I will have to admit that my sandwich investment was a total loss. The big event was staged down at Longden Hall, and I want to compliment the cook on both the appetizing and satisfying character of the repast. And I will say that it was by far the best 75c meal I have eaten in a long time. And not only was there food to eat but food for thought. After dinner was eaten and we had all settled down in our easy chairs—if you ever sat on one of those banquet chairs you know just how "easy" they are—we were entertained by an oratorical barrage in which President G. Bromley Oxnam, Capt. B. B. McMahon, Prof. William Blanchard, Fred L. O'Hair, Athletic Director Hughes, Coach "Gommy" Neal, Capt. Blake, Guernsey VanRiper and Blythe Hendricks of Indianapolis, handled the English language in just the way it should be handled in University circles. There was some "sharp shooting" but no one was seriously damaged. It being a football banquet the subject of football, its "ifs and ands and whys and wherefores" were mentioned more or less but greatly to my surprise the speakers entirely forgot to mention my superior work during the Franklin-DePauw game when I carried the "ball and chain" up and down the side lines until my poor old fallen arches could fall no more. All in all the event was just "dandy" although I cannot yet realize just how such a good turkey banquet could be served for the nominal sum of 75c. At least I thought it was turkey—it was so nice and tender, but after the event I was discussing it with "Heavy" Cannon, "Rusty" Cook, Glenn H. Lyon and "Buchie" Bushheit, and they seemed to differ with me. "Heavy" said the meat served was liver; "Rusty" vowed it was veal loaf; Glenn was sure it was just plain chicken and "Buchie" just grinned.

I noticed that a dense smog enveloped Indianapolis one day this week. Perhaps it was Charley Jewett putting out one of his political smoke screens.

Make your Christmas a joyful one by buying Christmas Seals.

FARM INMATE DIES

LADOGA COMPANY SCENE OF ROBBERY

LADOGA, Dec. 9.—Sometime Sunday night thieves broke a lock on the back window at the Havens Bros. poultry house and helped themselves to one case of eggs and an electric Radiola No. 17. Nothing else was bothered. One safe which was not locked had been gone through, but since there was no money in it the thieves left with the above loot. The Radiola table was not taken. Owing to the necessity of getting market reports the firm had another Radiola installed Monday morning. It is thought to be local thievery.

OUST MILLER AS CAPITAL CITY SCHOOL HEAD

DEPAUW GRADUATE SUCCEEDED AS HEAD OF INDIANAPOLIS SCHOOLS BY DONALD DUSHANE OF COLUMBUS—APPOINTEES TO GO ALSO

Charles F. Miller, a DePauw graduate and $10,000 superintendent of Indianapolis schools, was discharged by the board of school commissioners last night. Donald DuShane of Columbus, superintendent of Bartholomew county schools, was appointed to take his place, effective today. It was believed Mr. DuShane would investigate the attitude of three incoming members of the Indianapolis board before accepting the offer. The incoming members have not indicated whether they would retain DuShane or not, if he accepts. Dissatisfaction over appointments by Miller was given as the reason for his discharge. It was believed Byron Williams, recent DePauw graduate, director of research and publicity in the Indianapolis schools, and C. C. Underwood, director of elementary education, also would be removed. They were appointed by Miller in June, 1928. Mr. DuShane is a graduate of Hanover College and has a son, Donald DuShane in DePauw University.

NEW COUNCIL AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

MAYOR-ELECT W. L. DENMAN COMPLIMENTS RETIRING EXECUTIVE AND COUNCIL MEMBERS ON ADMINISTRATION

ASSESSMENT ROLL APPROVED

Final Meeting of Present Council To Be Held at 11:30 O'clock On December 24

Mayor-elect W. L. Denman, clerk-elect Fred Snively and all the newly elected councilmen for the city, who take office January 6 met with the outgoing city administration in the council chambers in the Fire department last evening.

Following the close of the regular business of the council Mayor-elect Denman was called upon for a speech by retiring Mayor Charles McGaughey. Mr. Denman complimented the outgoing council for the good things it had done for the city and on the rapidly with which it had transacted its business of the evening and ended by expressing a hope that the new council could do as well. He intimated, however, that streets would be built only when citizens living on them wanted them built.

New councilmen and the clerk-elect were then introduced but each declined to make a speech, following the lead of Beemer Havens, who said he "had nothing to say." Several, however, expressed their thanks to the council for their help in starting them off "in the right direction."

Mayor McGaughey in his talk appealed to the new council to serve Greencastle and not the individual. He said his administration had made an effort to do what was best for the city in the way of street improvement and other matters regardless of what individuals had done to sway them from their purpose.

He said petitions had been presented for the improvement of every street the present council had paved and that likewise remonstrances had been filed against each, with the exception of Vine street, which street was built without a petition for it or a remonstrance being filed against it.

Mayor McGaughey characterized Greencastle as "the best little city in Indiana," and stated he and his council had been proud to serve it. He also told the incoming council that finances were in the best shape they had been in years, and that the new administration would start off with a surplus in funds.

Business of the evening included the approval of the primary assessment roll, showing individual costs to property owners on Vine street, for the improvement of this street, and the passing of an ordinance appropriating $500 from the general fund for street repair and $200 for the police department. The council also fixed December 24, at 11:30 o'clock for filing of objections by individual property owners against the amount assessed against them on Vine street. The appropriations were made necessary by the shortage in the street fund and by the addition of an extra policeman in the police department as a result of a recent crime wave.

The assessment roll on Bloomington street, already delayed for some time, probably will be presented to the council for approval at its next meeting or to the new council at its first meeting in January, it was said. Several other matters were discussed before the meeting by vote was continued until December 24 at 11:30 o'clock in the morning.

Those present were Mayor McGaughey, clerk Gwin Ensign, city attorney John Allee and Councilmen Ed Maddox, Watler Brown, O. F. Lakin, W. P. Sackett and Leslie Haymaker.

New city officers present were Mayor-elect Denman, clerk-elect Snively, and councilmen Beemer Havens, William Stewart, Otis Gardner, John Cherry and Lawrence Snider.

PUTNAM FARMER TRIES SUICIDE TO ESCAPE TERM

FRED ALLEN, LIVING ON NATIONAL ROAD, NEAR PUTNAM COUNTY LINE, FAILED TO TAKE ENOUGH POISON—LOCAL COURT RECORDS FAIL TO SHOW HE IS TO BE TRIED HERE

BRAZIL, Dec. 10.—Facing the prospect of serving a term on the state penal farm on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, Fred Allen, a young Putnam county farmer, residing on the National road just east of the Clay county line, made an alleged but unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide last night by swallowing carbolic acid.

When Allen's wife discovered that her husband had taken a dose of poison in a suicide attempt she called Miller & Sons ambulance and Allen was brought to the Clay county hospital and attended by Dr. Hirt. The attending physician said that Allen had not taken sufficient of the poison to do any damage other than burning the inside of his mouth and throat severely and the would be suicide, was able to return to his home this morning.

Mrs. Allen told Dr. Hirt that her husband had been in court both in Putnam and Clay county on account of trouble he had gotten into while drinking and that he was soon to be placed on trial in Putnam county on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Mrs. Allen said her husband had announced that he would commit suicide before he would serve a term on the penal farm but she did not take his threats seriously.

Dr. Hirt said the amount of carbolic acid taken by Allen was small and that it would not have killed him.

Local court records fail to show that Allen is to be tried here for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

ILL OF SMALLPOX
Morris Craver, living north of Greencastle, is confined to his home, suffering of smallpox.

OXNAM HITS AT ATHLETIC DOMINANCE

INSTITUTIONS THAT ALLOW ATHLETIC PROGRAMS TO BECOME RULING FORCE, IS "QUACK" INSTITUTION, DEPAUW HEAD SAYS—BACK WABASH HEAD

Characterizing colleges and universities that put athletic supremacy above intellectual attainment as being "quacks" in the field of education, Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, president of DePauw University, thoroughly backed in a chapel address before the student body here, statements made by President Louis B. Hopkins of Wabash College in a similar service at Crawfordsville recently.

"It is necessary for us to recognize," Dr. Oxnam said, "that insofar as an institution allows its athletic program to become the dominant force and thereby subordinate educational activities to athletic interest, that institution becomes a 'quack' educational institution and should be treated in educational circles with the same scorn that the medical profession treats a 'quack' doctor. 'Quack' colleges are a menace to the educational health of the state.

"If it be that we are to graduate athletes with no other attainments," Dr. Oxnam continued, "let us create a new degree, namely attainments in scientific sports, and let the three initial letters A. S. S. indicate the intellectual capacity of that individual."

"It should be stated further that there is no reason why a man may not become a good athlete and a good student, but the present tendency, with over emphasis upon commercialism, needs to be studied and corrected. DePauw is indeed proud to join with the other splendid schools of this state in attaining such an ideal."

President Hopkins of Wabash in his address on "The Place of Athletics on the Educational Program of a Liberal Arts College," insisted that the responsibility for the athletic program of an institution rested with the administration and faculty.

Each president referred to the recent Carnegie Foundation report as being a basis on which explicit discussion of the situation could be based. Each recognized the rightful place of athletics in the college program but that it must be considered from the standpoint of benefit to the undergraduate as a part of his education.

Both DePauw and Wabash in the last few years have been developing athletic programs as a part of their entire educational scheme. Both schools are insisting on a high entrance requirement and a high standard of scholarship. President Hopkins said in his address before Wabash college students:

"We want our team to win a fair proportion of their games, but primarily we want them to be a credit to themselves and to the institution they represent."

AUBURN PRISON SCENE OF NEW OUTBREAK TODAY

ACTING GOVERNOR LEHMANN OF NEW YORK ORDERS OUT NATIONAL GUARDSMEN TO QUELL RIOTS

PRINCIPAL KEEPER SLAIN

Fifteen Convicts Who Started Revolt Hold Warden as Hostage In Prison Cell—Subdued This Afternoon

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(INS)—After holding the warden of the New York state prison and several guards as hostages for several hours, under the threat that unless they were permitted to walk out of prison unaccompanied, they would kill the warden and guards, fifteen rioting convicts were subdued this afternoon, but not until two of the convicts had been killed.

State militia, aided by tear bombs finally managed to subdue the rioting convicts and restore order within the prison walls.

Taking prisoner the warden and several unarmed guards, the rioters took refuge in a building on the prison grounds and then sent out their ultimatum. Hurried calls by prison officials brought State Guard units armed with tear bombs and the troops finally managed to dislodge the rioters from their stronghold but not until after two of the rioters had been killed.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—(INS)—Acting Governor Herbert Lehman ordered national guard troops to the state prison at Auburn, N. Y., today following receipt of word that a riot had broken out, that the principal keeper had been slain and that the warden was being held hostage by fifteen convicts who had started a revolt.

Part of the stolen Hurst property was recovered by Mr. Hurst and sons. One of the stolen watches was recovered from a niece of Creech at Bloomington while another is said to be in an Indianapolis jeweler's shop for repairs. A pair of pants stolen by Creech also was recovered.

Creech who has served more than fifteen years in prison expressed his sorrow for robbing the local men after readily admitting the theft.

SOCIAL LEADERS DIE IN LOVE PACT

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—(INS)—Because they could neither dim the flame of their love nor shatter the fetters of marriage which kept them apart, it was believed today, Henry Grew Crosby, 32, and Mrs. Josephine Rotch Bigelow, 22, both of socially prominent Boston families, chose death to the unhappiness of separation.

Crosby, a son of Stephen Van Rensselaer Crosby of Boston, was a nephew of the late Mr. J. P. Morgan. He was listed in the Boston social directory, and was known as a poet and was a Harvard graduate of the class of 1922. Mrs. Bigelow was the wife of Albert S. Bigelow, a post-graduate student of Harvard, and the daughter of Mrs. Arthur G. Rotch of Boston.

Their bodies were found last night in a hotel. No clues were found to indicate why, as the police believe, Crosby shot Mrs. Bigelow and then turned his weapon upon himself.

PIANO RECITAL OF VERNON SHEFFIELD

Lovers of good piano playing filled Meharry Hall last evening to hear Professor Vernon Sheffield in his first piano recital at DePauw University this season. For those who heard him last year, this recital was a reconfirmation of the splendid impression he made in his many appearances last year.

On scanning the program it seemed evident that Mr. Sheffield had planned a program in which he had set a technical goal for himself as well as an inspiring ideal for his auditors. Fresh from a most recent and distinct success in Cincinnati he opened his program with the noble and majestic "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue" of Cesar Franck, playing it with dignity and authority.

The first number in the second group was the brilliant "Toccata" by Schumann. Here was displayed a dash, an impetuosity and a speed that startles the most sophisticated listener into a realization of Mr. Sheffield's ready technique. Perhaps the finest bit of pianistic beauty was attained in the playing of that lyrical, harp-like Etude Op. 25, No. 1 by Chopin, a delightful contrast to the more brilliant numbers on the program. Later this same number was gracefully and effectually repeated as an encore. Two modern numbers, "Poeme" by Scriabine and "LaDanse d'Olar" by Pich-Mangiagalli furnished sufficient contrast in this group.

Franz Liszt's "Reminiscences of Don Juan" brought the recital to a brilliant close. This characteristic composition of Liszt makes extraordinary demands of the pianist. Mr. Sheffield played this with a vigor and a tempo that brought a gratifying climax to a most satisfying program of piano music.

Rich Foods that are not Rich

IT IS perhaps news to some housewives that so old a friend as molasses—the same molasses that our grandmothers used in all their cooking—has tonic effects that put it in a class with other health foods. It is the presence in molasses of lime and iron in natural form that makes this luscious food so valuable.

There are many foods and dishes which contain lime and iron in the form of food lime and food iron. But our diet is such that very few of us eat enough of such foods. Nearly everyone of us, young or old, needs more of these builders of blood and bone. It is for this reason among others that we are urged to eat spinach and green foods, and to drink quantities of rich milk. But there is twice as much iron in real New Orleans molasses as in spinach or nearly twice as much lime as in milk.

It is most gratifying to women to know that here is a solution to the search for something that will provide tasty desserts yet avoid over-rich, heavy dishes that satisfy the palate at the dire expense of the digestion.

Here are a few suggestions for desserts that should prove a welcome addition to the family menus. Desserts that are simple but wholesome—yet so flavorful and good that the fustiest appetite in the world is sure to enjoy them. For molasses is what gives these dishes their great charm.

The first of these desserts is: GINGERBREAD UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

- 1 1/2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup New Orleans molasses
- 1 can sliced pineapple (or apricots)
- 1/4 cup broken walnut meats
- 1/4 cup raisins

Melt butter in a heavy iron skillet. Add molasses and heat to boiling point. Remove from fire. Strain juice from canned fruit and lay in as many slices as will fit in the bottom of the skillet. Fill in the spaces between the fruit with broken nut meats and raisins. Let skillet stand in a warm place while preparing the following batter in a mixing bowl:

- 1 1/4 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- baking powder
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup New Orleans molasses
- 1/2 cup boiling water

Sift together all dry ingredients. Cream the shortening and sugar. Stir in beaten egg and molasses. Add dry ingredients, mix thoroughly. Lastly add the boiling water. Beat well and pour into skillet over the slices of fruit. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in a moderate oven (350 F). Remove from oven and turn out cake on serving plate with fruit side up. Serve either warm or cold with whipped cream. Serves 8 to 12.

OLD FASHIONED APPLE PIE

- 4 cups sliced apples
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup New Orleans molasses
- 2 tablespoons butter

Line a pie plate with pastry and fill with sliced apples. Cover with the sugar and pour the molasses over. Dot with bits of butter and sprinkle with spices. Cover with top of crust and bake 45 minutes in moderate oven (350 to 375 F.).

BAKED HUCKLEBERRY PUD-DING

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup New Orleans molasses
- 3 cups huckleberries
- 1 teaspoon soda

Sift flour and salt. Add molasses then soda which has been dissolved in 2 tablespoons of warm water. Stir in berries last. Bake in buttered dish 30 to 45 minutes in moderate oven (350 F). Serve with hard sauce or cream. 10 to 12 servings. A wholesome pudding for children.

MARSHMALLOW GINGERBREAD

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup New Orleans molasses
- 1 egg
- 2 1/3 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup sour milk

Melt shortening, add molasses, egg, well beaten, dry ingredients mixed and sifted together and sour milk. Bake in a flat pan 25 to 30 minutes in a moderate oven (325 F). Roachdale Club Has Xmas Party

The Home Economics club of Roachdale held its Christmas meeting in the library Saturday afternoon with about seventy people present. The assembly room was cheerful in its Christmas decorations of pine and cedar trees, red and green festoons, Christmas bells, flowers and red tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Mary Edith Lockridge, president announced the program of a playlet in charge of Mrs. Mary Anderson, Mrs. Eva Crosby and Mrs. Pearl Brookshire and their helpers, as all star performers. There were about eighteen entertainers and they gave a program which was enjoyed very much. Delightful music was rendered by Miss Ruth Hutchins piano and Miss Ruby Perkins violin. Billy Call and Irwin Hostetter gave some very pleasing saxophone selections with Miss Marjorie Call accompanist on the piano. The audience sang Christmas carols with Mrs. Isabel Grider leader. Helen Ashby was delightful in her readings.

A large Christmas tree, beautifully decorated and surrounded by fifty gifts was a very interesting and amusing feature. The gifts were drawn by numbers.

The long table at which Mrs. Carrie Hutchins and Mrs. Cynthia Shepard poured tea was resplendent with Christmas cheer. Two miniature Christmas trees, one on either end of the table, a large bowl of red roses for a center piece and red candles in crystal holders along both sides of the table presented a beautiful scene.

Morris's body was riddled with bullets.

He was arrested here last summer for stealing and stripping an automobile of accessories. While going with a policeman to meet a purported accomplice, he tricked the officer and escaped.

BASKETBALL

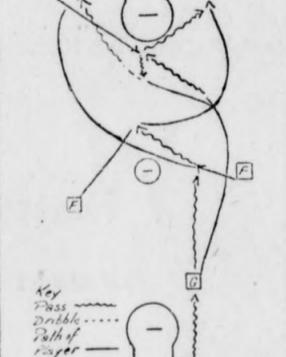

By Coach Everett S. Dean Indiana University

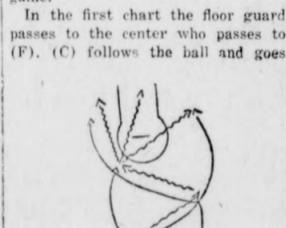

Article 13—The Criss Cross Offense The criss cross offense, familiarly known as the revolving triangle, is a rather complicated style and requires a mastery of fundamentals for good execution. The old criss cross offense proper is somewhat out of date but it will always be remembered as having left behind some good principles of offense.

The close formation criss cross offered maximum blocking, much deception and good scoring opportunities. The short passes meant possession of the ball but the crouched body position and the excessive amount of criss crossing offered a problem in endurance. It took more stamina and endurance to play this game.

In the first chart the floor guard passes to the center who passes to (F). (C) follows the ball and goes behind the receiver and this method is followed on each succeeding pass in the criss cross.

In the second chart we have the criss cross with a leader, that is, a man placed in the offensive end. This formation is spread to cover the full width of the floor. As the play progresses a pass can be made any time to (C) meeting the ball at the foul ring. He returns it to the open man. This style with a leader is strong fundamentally and has many opportunities.

TOMORROW — Percentage Basketball.

HARDWOOD HITS

GAMES THIS WEEK
Thursday Night
DePauw at State Normal.
Friday Night
Greencastle at Martinsville.
Gosport at Belle Union.
Switz City at Cloverdale (cancelled.)
Reelsville vs. Brazil "B" team at Brazil.
New Market at Russellville.
Ladoga at Roachdale.
Edinburg at Bainbridge.
Saturday Night
Fillmore at Monrovia.
Delphi at Greencastle.
Delphi Seconds at Greencastle.
Rockville Seconds at Greencastle.

That's the way schedules in our possession stack 'em up this week. Switz City's game at Cloverdale has been cancelled by an epidemic of scarlet fever and the shut down of the Cloverdale schools. So far as we know, however, the other games will be played.

Terre Haute Normal, with a bunch of former Wabash Valley high school stars to pick from, will furnish plenty of opposition for the DePauw Tigers tomorrow night. DePauw should not get over-confident about the outcome of this tilt.

Normal lost its back guard and center by graduation but plenty of material is available for these posts. Lester Reynolds, of Martinsville, will probably fill the floor guard post again this year.

LAST YEAR THE TEACHERS WON 17 OUT OF 21 GAMES. TWO OF THESE FOUR LOSSES WERE TO DEPAUW.

Eyes of Greencastle fans just won't focus on any game this week except the Tiger Cub tilt at Martinsville. Indications today were that a delegation would accompany the team to the Artesian City.

According to Supt. Yount of the city schools, a former resident of Mooresville, the best route for local fans to Martinsville, is to Plainfield, then south through Mooresville, to the state road leading to Martinsville. This route is slightly longer but better time can be made, he said.

Brazil fans will get an opportunity to see the fast Reelsville team here Friday night as the curtain raiser for the Brazil-Sullivan game. Reelsville has been going strong for a couple of years and was one of Putnam county's best last season. The Reels play the Brazil B team.—Brazil Times.

Here's hoping Friday, the 13th, spells bad luck, plenty of it, for Martinsville.

Coach Glenn M. Curtis of Martinsville announces that a section has been reserved in the Martinsville gym Friday night for Greencastle rooters. Local rooters who want to be in the Greencastle section should ask the ushers to direct them there. Admission to the gym will be fifty cents.

Staunton defeated Putnamville, 37 to 21, last Friday night instead of Reelsville, as was stated in "Hits" Monday night. The game was played on the Reelsville floor. We apologize Reelsville.

A streamer add clear across a page in the Martinsville Reporter announces the Greencastle-Martinsville game Friday night. The tilt is scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock. A tilt between the Martinsville Seconds and Shortridge Reserves will precede the main attraction.

Frank O. Good, sports writer for the Martinsville Reporter, gives Greencastle credit for its record this season, and predicts a good game Friday night. Mr. Good makes no predictions on the outcome but expresses the hope that the best team may win.

"The Love Doctor" Starring Richard Dix, Opens Today

In "The Love Doctor" Richard Dix gives another farce comedy performance, the type which has given him the greatest success. Being similar to "Nothing But the Truth," it will be readily accepted by the public.

"The Love Doctor" is an all-talking picture which opens today at the Granada for a run of two days.

Romance and comedy with plenty of honest humor that a child can understand, that is "The Love Doctor." Hilarious comedy scenes, when a patient calls and Dix, whose tailor has just left, finds himself sans trousers.

Dix has wanted to make "The Love Doctor" for several years, and with the advent of the talkies, his dream is at last realized. "The Love Doctor" is from the play "The Boomerang."

Melville Brown directed "The Love Doctor," his first picture for Paramount, after just having completed a five year contract with Universal during which he wielded the megaphone on many of the Reginald Denny and Laura LaPlante successes. Previously he worked with Charlie Chaplin, Mack Sennett and others.

There are three other important roles besides Dix's part as the young society doctor who has handsome offices and shiny instruments but no patients. Opposite Dix as his office nurse is June Collyer, seen with Buddy Rogers in "The River of Romance" and "Illusion." Her rival for the doctor's favor is Miriam Seegar, the little blonde who is "Fashions in Love" inspired Adolphe Menjou to such a passion for sandwich eating. Her lover in the picture is Morgan Farley, signed by Paramount after his work in "The Greene Murder Case" as Rex Greene.

Added subjects to this program will be a Sterling Roach all-talking comedy "Fatal Forceps" and the sound sportlights.
