It is impossible at this writing to determine how the election in this State has gone. The tickets are very long and the returns come in very slowly. The news at the Committee headquarters of each party is only favorable to that party, which is a bad sign for both. There have been gains upon both sides, the Republicans having the most according to the dispatches, and the Democrats the heaviest. This district is very close, and the difference between General Coburn and Cottrell is scarcely perceptible yet. Voorhees is elected beyond a doubt. There is no definite news from the Fourth District, but Judge Wilson's success is considered certain. In the Third District Judge Holman is running ahead of his ticket. In Ohio there have been large Republican gains. Pennsylvania and Iowa both go Republican.

THE ELECTION. INDIANA. Spencer, October 12.—Owen county gives about 500 Democratic majority.

THE ELECTION. INDIANA. The Atlantic defeated the Haymakers, at Troy yesterday—12 to 5. There were four deaths from yellow fever in New Orleans on Monday.

THE ELECTION. INDIANA. Affairs in Portugal grow worse daily. The Republicans hope to precipitate a crisis and dethrone the King, whose unpopularity is very great.

THE ELECTION. INDIANA. The French government are anxious to raise the siege at Metz, because of the fact that it contains 800,000 chapeaux and vast stores of ammunition.

Three Men Killed by a Grizzly Bear. [From the San Jose (Cal.) Independent.] Three men, whose names are unknown, but who have been keeping a dairy on the San Benito ranch, came to their death in a most horrible manner. On Thursday one of their cows strayed away and was lost. On the next morning, before breakfast two of them started out to take a look for the missing animal. After traveling up the ravine for some distance, they discovered the cow lying among the brush. Thinking she was asleep they went up to start her home; but it appears the cow had been killed by a grizzly, who was at this time lying at her side. As the men approached, the bear leaped upon the foremost one, and throwing him to the ground, tore out his entrails, and then seizing the second caught his head in his mouth and bit it entirely off, mangling it fearfully. The bear then resumed his position by the body of the dead cow. The man who was first attacked did not die immediately, but had strength enough left to drag himself a short distance from the spot. In the meantime, the man left at the camp, having prepared breakfast, went out to call up the companions. Finding their trail, he followed it until he saw the cow lying in the bushes, and thinking he would drive her home, he approached the spot, when the bear springing upon him instantly killed him, mangling him in the most horrible manner. The surviving victim, who was lying in the bush a short distance from the scene, witnessed his approach and death, but was so terribly wounded that he was unable to give any warning. The bodies were found a short time afterward, and conveyed to the camp, where the survivor died during the ensuing night, after relating the affair as we have stated above. The bear is the same one which has been in that vicinity for the last ten years, it being known from its peculiar track, having lost three of the toes from one of its feet.

counted out. The Republicans gain 100 on this estimate. Seymour—Hoffman is 10 ahead and not half done counting. Estimated Republican gain in the county, 150. Republican gain in Brownstown township, 14. Bedford—A full vote was polled in Lawrence county. The probable majority is about 250, a gain of 20. Princeton—We learn that the Democrats lose about 75 votes clear. The adjournment at noon of the Election Board at Port Gibson precinct, Patoka township, where the vote stands three Democrats to one Republican. A majority of the Board is Democratic, and they adjourned against the remonstrance of the Republican members.

FOREIGN. FRANCE. TOURS, October 12.—The Minister of War publishes the following, contained in a telegram from Orleans, at a late hour last evening: The scene of battle to-day was so near this city that the balls and shells fell in the outskirts. The Prussians are near Gallat. The troops sent from Tours to reinforce the Fifteenth Corps, formed a junction with that body near Aternay. Severe fighting resumed before St. Genoul.

NEW YORK CITY. The Republicans—Labor Movement—Yachting. New York, October 12.—The World says that the returns from the elections, yesterday, held in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, come in very slowly, but those already received indicate a decided breaking up of the Radical party line. It is evident, however, that the vote was generally light, the only marked difference being in locations where the negro vote was brought out.

WASHINGTON. October 12.—In the Second District there is a slight discrepancy which a recount will only settle. The present figures show Stevenson's majority to be fifteen hundred, seventeen Republican majority. In Hamilton county the highest candidate has about 2,500. Special dispatches received here from Highland county gives Smith in the Sixth Ohio District 100 majority.

WASHINGTON. October 12.—The returns are meager but indicate a large Republican gain throughout the State. The Republicans gain one Congressman in the First District and one in the Ninth District. The contest in Schenck's district and in McClurg's is very close.

WASHINGTON. October 12.—The defaulting paymasters of the Navy, whose accounts have been found to be short more than $1,000,000, are at last to be brought to trial. The Secretary of the Navy will to-day issue an order convening a court martial in this city on the 20th inst., for the trial of the following named paymasters: Marcy, Washington; Parker, Lockwood, Girard and Wallace. The following named officers will compose the Court: President, Admiral Henry Walke; Commanders, Fabius, Stanley and Benj. F. Sands; Captain, H. K. Davenport; Paymasters, H. M. Hisswell and W. B. MISSOURI. Interesting Facts. St. Louis, October 12.—The Falls Co., registers, who were arrested a few days ago for refusing to register Thomas Dodge, were brought before the United States District Court yesterday, on a writ of Habeas corpus, and discharged by Judge Miller on account of informality in commitment.

Wonders of Easter Island. In the middle of the vast Pacific Ocean, three thousand miles distant from the nearest continent, rises the mysterious Easter Island, abounding with the remains of remote antiquity, which greatly interested and perplexed a party of savants who recently visited them. The island is about forty miles in circumference, barren, without trees, destitute of resources, inhabited by a few savages, who lead the most miserable existence imaginable.

BERLIN. October 12.—Official accounts of the surrender of Strasburg are just received here. Eleven hundred guns, twelve thousand chapeaux, three tons of ammunition and fifty locomotives, fell into the hands of the Prussians. Carpenters, masons and other laborers of the city have been impressed to repair the fortifications.

FRUIT AND MEDICINE. The worst case of dyspepsia can be cured without the least particle of medicine, simply by eating nothing in which lard is an ingredient, using butter sparingly, eating bread made of unbolted flour, and making free use of fruits, especially apples. In fact, most people would be much better off if they ate meat not more than once or twice a week, and of fruit and vegetables instead. Pork and lard are great promoters of dyspepsia, and fevers and bilious diseases are fed by keeping up bodily heat of mid-winter through June and July, August and September, but never changing out; diet from the heavy meats of January.

DIED. SMITH—On the 10th of October, 1870, Capt. Felix Smith, formerly of Philadelphia. The friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from the residence of his son, E. H. Smith, No. 17 South Alabama street, on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The Fenian prisoners are to be pardoned this week and the fines of part of them remitted. Of course the valiant O'Neill, who so bravely led to victory and who made such frightful resistance to capture, will be released with the rest. We are sorry that he could not be kept a little longer, but then you know, there are elections to be carried and the Irish must be pacified. They clamor, so the politicians say, for the pardon of the Fenians, and the administration must throw the little sop to Cerberus. When will the Republicans learn that sympathy with the Fenians won't secure the Irish vote?

The experiment of signalling storms on the lakes will be commenced in a few days, the men selected for the duty having gone to their stations. They will endeavor to watch the approach of storms and report them by telegraph and signals to all points to be reached on the lakes. This, it is expected, will give vessels sufficient warning and enable them to make efficient preparations or run into harbor. It is thought that the experiment will fully succeed and annually effect a large saving, both of life and property. In that case, it will undoubtedly be extended to the ocean, and it may not be many years before the system is so well developed that vessels upon one side of the Atlantic or Pacific will know hours in advance of the storm that is coming from the other.

The Stringency of the Money Market. "What makes money so tight?" is a question we hear daily. Within three or four weeks the money market here has been exceedingly close, and it is almost impossible to make collections, and the banks are unable to accommodate even their regular customers. For this sudden stringency there seems no apparent or at least immediate cause, but it is probably the commencement of a condition liable to continue several months. This part of the country is being drained of its currency. The crops this summer, although of average extent, have brought much lower prices than at any time for years, and probably large quantities of grain are being held for a rise in prices. The East has bought less of us and paid less for it than usual. We, however, have bought of the East as much if not more than ever, dry goods, shoes, hats, and hundreds of other articles, for all of which we have paid prices fully equal to those of last year, and largely disproportionate to the prices obtained for what we have had to sell. The East has had the balance of trade and of course holds the money. We have bought more than we have sold, and that is the reason why money is "tight" here. There is not much prospect of a "let up" for some months at least. The gathering of the pork crop always creates great temporary stringency, and packers will commence operations in a few weeks. The moving of the pork crop and the sale of grain on hand may make the market easier after the middle of January, but we do not believe any relief can be looked for before that time.

The Foreign Situation. Fighting is going on near Orleans, which place has been occupied by the Prussians after a sharp skirmish. What the result is not yet known, for even the French have not yet claimed the victory. The Clerical party is opposing Garibaldi on account of his enmity to Pope and Priesthood, and the Rouen papers are also denouncing him for something or other. He can probably stand it. It is reported that the Provisional government is very anxious to raise the siege of Metz, as there are eight hundred thousand Chassepot rifles there and immense stores of ammunition. The report is to be taken with a good deal of margin, for the supply of Chassepots at the beginning of the war did not exceed that number, according to the highest estimates. It is some satisfaction to hear that Gustave Flourens is beginning to be found out as a shallow, pretentious demagogue. He has had, it seems, command of ten thousand National Guards. They made a demand to be armed with the Chassepot, accompanying it with impudent remarks about the policy of being one Frenchman against three Prussians in battle, to which an unfavorable reply was made, and Flourens thereupon resigned. He is the same fellow implicated in the last assassination plot against Napoleon, and if he and Cluseret and a few of their friends could be hung, or otherwise summarily disposed of, France would be better off, while the humanity and civilization they talk of so much, would have lost nothing. Bismarck indicates considerable anxiety to have the elections held, and at his request General Burnsides carried a message to Havre that the Prussians will allow elections to be held freely, and will oppose no obstacles to the assembly of the Constituent assembly either at Paris or Tours.

It Must be Stopped. Our trouble is growing, and if care is not taken, we may have an Alabama case on our hands to settle. A case, too, in which we shall be the defendant instead of the plaintiff. A dispatch says that the Prussian government has directed a remonstrance to the government at Washington, concerning the shipment of arms from the United States to France. Prussia is evidently taking our little violations of neutrality in a serious way, and is following up the course she has adopted toward England. As we ourselves have constructed international law, she is right. We are giving aid and comfort to her enemy, just as England gave aid and comfort to our enemy, and for which we now demand indemnity.

We have established a precedent in demanding pay for the damages done by rebel privateers fitted out in England, armed with English guns and manned by English sailors, and if we furnish France with arms which enable her to prolong the war and cause greater losses to Prussia than would otherwise be inflicted, she will have, according to our principles, a right to demand indemnity from us. The same holds good in relation to Canada and the Fenians. It is to be hoped that the authorities will act rigorously in this matter and prevent all shipments of arms, war material and volunteers to France, when their destination is notorious. Proclamations and declarations of intentions are not sufficient; they don't stop the damages, and if the administration does its duty we shall have no more announcements that such and such a vessel will sail at a certain time with so many thousand rifles and cartridges for the French army. Nor will we afterwards be informed that the vessel sailed per announcement, without even a protest from a United States officer.

England. We take the following from the Pall Mall Gazette: It must be confessed that at the present time England presents to the civilized world a spectacle which is less sublime than ridiculous. She is fully prepared to "speak out her instincts," but finds that people are too busy sharpening their swords and cutting each other's throats to listen to her. She has therefore wisely left off scolding and advising, and is now engaged in rubbing her spectacles. She can hardly believe her eyes. She sees in the German army an engine of destruction such as the world has never seen before. A new first-class nation has arisen with a new first-class army, and she is beginning to realize the truth that if she herself intends to be a first-class nation, as of old, she must conform to the new standard, and adopt the latest fashion in armour. It is a sore trial to be thus rudely awakened by young Europe from dreams of efficiency, economy, competitive examinations and marriage with our deceased wife's sister.

Only a Word. (From All the Year Round.) A frivolous word, a sharp retort, A parting in angry haste, The sun that rose on a bow of bliss, The loving look and the tender kiss, Has set on a barren waste, Where pilgrims tread with weary feet, Paths never destined more to meet. A frivolous word, a sharp retort, A moment that blows out years, Two lives are wrecked on a stormy shore, Where billows of passion surge and roar To break in a spray of tears; Tears shed to blind the seared pair, Drifting seaward and drowing there.

The Sun. A frivolous word, a sharp retort, A flash from a passing cloud, Two hearts are scathed to their inmost core, Are ashes and dust for evermore. Two faces turn to the crowd, Marked by pride with a life-long lie, To hide the scars of that agony.

Giving a man a hard name—Calling him a brick. The chills and burglars are devastating America, Georgia. Middle Schneider's salary before the Paris theaters were closed by the war was $20,000 a year. Quilp, of the Boston Post, wants to know the average temperature of the heats at the races. A little two-year old girl was terribly bitten and lacerated by a sow, in the streets of Kansas City, on Friday. Mrs. McDonald drove her son through the streets of Jersey City, perfectly naked, because he played "hooky" from school.

A car-drivers' strike in New York turns on the question whether fourteen or seventeen hours shall constitute a day's work. Susan James, a negro doctor of St. Louis, gave a patient a prescription composed of a hundred and one ingredients. He died. John Allen maintained his wickedness to the last, and died cursing those who had "brought him out and then deserted him." The mother of General B. F. Butler died at her residence in Massachusetts, on Wednesday. She is reported as having been highly esteemed. It is said that Moses Summers, of the Syracuse Standard is still under bonds as one of the persons engaged in the rescue of the slave Jerry, in 1851.

Miss Isabella McCulloch denies the story of her marriage to Brignoli, and the birth of twins. They are the fabrications of some malicious scoundrel. A city missionary was asked the cause of his poverty. "Principally," said he, with a twinkle in his eye, "because I have preached so much without notes!" A medical student at Chicago is greatly incensed at a cadaver who came to life under the dissecting knife and awinded the student out of money and instruction. On the third day of the Springfield (Tenn.) fair there will be a foot race for a Berkshire about. None will be allowed to enter who weighs less than 200 pounds. The Troy Press says that an old lady sixty-five years of age, living on Third street, Troy, was delivered of a child on Sunday, the first fruits of her marriage of over forty years.

Brick Pomeroy said to a visitor recently, "Going out West, you'll see my brother; tell him to be virtuous and he'll be correspondingly happy—but he won't have half so much fun." Cheyenne is to have little streams of water carried through the streets exactly on the Salt Lake plan. The water is brought through an aqueduct from Crow creek, a river near at hand. An establishment in Memphis has commenced the manufacture of ladies' shoes for the Southern market. There are thirty hands employed, and they turn out three hundred pairs daily. The Rev. Wm. Morley Punshon, who came here to marry his dead wife's sister—which English laws would not permit him to do—having now lost her by death, has canceled his lecture engagements. The divorced wife of Hans von Beulow, and present spouse of the "composer of the future," Richard Wagner, is a daughter of Franz Liszt, and a sister-in-law of the former French Minister, Emile Ollivier.

The present census will show the United States has fifteen cities of more than one hundred thousand inhabitants. There are but three countries that exceed this—the East Indies with twenty-one cities, Great Britain with sixteen and China with fifteen. It is said that Miss Clara Louise Kellogg has restored the lands upon which she proposed to build a villa at New Hartford, Connecticut, to the original owners, an aged couple, who were beginning to suffer a good deal at the thought of leaving their old homestead.

The Tennessee Democrats have nominated John Brown for Governor. The Democracy of Kentucky are declaring in their county conventions for another John Brown for Governor in that State. Virginia is expected to follow suit, and keep John Brown's "soul marching on." There are little girls in Boston who realize $3 25 net a day of a bushel of pairs, which they dispose of at "two for five cents." One little girl, in addition to the pair business, perambulates the streets evenings with a violin, and realizes from $1 50 to $3, giving a girl twenty-five cents for collecting the pennies. There is an old negro in Mobile, 87 years of age, who is now living with his seventh wife, and is the father of 41 children, the youngest being five months old. He was born in New London, Connecticut, was stolen and brought to that place when a child, and has lived there seventy years. His name is Stephen Short.

The Reform Movement Defeated. The People Don't Seem to See It.

At Any Rate the Votes Are Not There. Alas! Alas! Woe! Woe! Woe!!! More Rich Office Holders and no Relief from Heavy Taxes.

From present appearances we are inclined to think that the Reform movement has "gone up Salt River." The average majority against it will probably be from four to six hundred.

THE ELECTION. The Returns in This County.

In this ward the returns show a Republican majority on the State ticket, of from 67 to 69; Coburn, 64; the Judges, 74; county ticket, from 40 to 125; township, from 40 to 124. Heizer's majority amounts to 124.

THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN THIS WARD. The majorities in this ward are about equally divided. The ticket here is badly split up, and it is difficult to state the result without giving all the figures. The Republican State officers have a majority of 3 to 39. Hoffman runs ahead of his ticket, and Truesler behind. "The Supreme Judges are about equally divided." Cottrell gets 19 over Coburn; Ray over Blair 6, and Mitchell over Giffin, 17. Murphy gets 39 over Martindale, and the Reform Representatives about 18 over the Republican. Fletcher has 14 over Wallace, and Ruckle 7 over Craig. Maas' majority for Recorder is 86, and the Reform Commissioners' majority ranges between 20 and 30. We did not succeed in getting the Reform returns on the township ticket, but they are probably mixed.

THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN THIS WARD. This ward gives a heavy Reform majority. The State has from 25 to 50; Supreme Judges, 29 to 49; Cottrell makes 109 here. The Circuit Judges have about 50 majority. Murphy over Martindale, 24. Edward King, Republican candidate for Representative, gets 11 majority, his being the only one in the ward. Maas gets 39 for Recorder over Johnson. The balance of Reform majorities range between 40 and 90. The township ticket has about 60, while Beck has 80 over Heizer.

Wilson, the Murderer. The trial of the murderer Wilson, in Connecticut, (who drove a knife attached to a cane, into the bowels of the keeper of the State Prison, while conversing kindly with him through the bars of the cell door, was as singular and startling as his crime. He chose to take his defense out of the hands of his counsel, but upon one of his questions to a witness being overruled by the Court, said he had no further defense, and turning his back on the Court sat moody and obstinate. The jury, without much delay, found him guilty of murder in the first degree. On being asked if he had anything to say by way of defense, he should not be pronounced, Wilson replied, "I have only to say that I do not feel that I have been tried. I am perfectly satisfied with the result. To be hanged will be an act of supreme mercy compared to being compelled to live in the Connecticut State Prison, as I have been." The prisoner was then sentenced to be hanged on Friday, October 13, 1871.

Meat Preserving a Failure. Professor Gange's process for preserving meat does not seem to work well in all cases. The Lancet states that a cask and an iron cylinder, to all appearances securely packed and thoroughly air-tight, were recently opened in the presence of several gentlemen interested in the meat preserving question. On opening the iron cylinder the gas rushed out with a hiss, and the mutton was discovered to be in an evil plight, while the pork and beef were even in a worse condition. Another batch of cases were tried, but with the same disastrous results. Evidently the Professor's idea is not perfect, and it is questionable if he pays another visit to Texas at an early day. Refrigerating ships, we honestly believe, would work successfully if a fair trial could be given them. But these ships are not calculated for an ocean voyage. Thrice blessed will be the man who brings cheap and wholesome fresh meat to markets like London and New York.

A Baring Sea. Herodotus mentions a tradition that once the Caspian sea became covered with a fluid which took fire, converting the whole into one vast sheet of flame. The truth of this tradition was verified by an extraordinary occurrence which took place in July of last year. The islands in this sea, as is well known, abound in wells of naphtha. For some cause, these wells overflowed, and the naphtha, running into the sea, became ignited, in spite of all precautions. For forty-eight hours, many thousands of square miles were one rolling, tossing billow of flame, which would only die out with the exhaustion of the inflammable matter on which it fed. No loss of human life has been reported; but when the fire had burned itself out, the sea was found to be thickly covered with dead fish.

Water-proof Packing Paper. This paper is prepared by coating it with a resinous liquid, and afterward painting it with a solution of glue and soot, to prevent the appearance of blotches. After it is dry, the true water-proof coating is applied, which consists of a solution prepared with two and a half ounces of powdered shellac to two pints of water; to this, while hot, is added gradually one-third of an ounce of pulverized borax; at the same time mineral coloring matter, like ochre or umbré, may be added. When cold, it is ready for use. The operation of coating is so quickly performed, that two persons may prepare 3,000 square feet of paper per day.

A Kansas City bricklayer made a successful tumble from the top of a four story house, the other day, and didn't hurt himself.

A Great Salt Well. The parties who have been boring for the last eighteen months at Lincoln, Neb., for salt water, have been proved successful. At the depth of 600 feet below the surface, in a stratum of sandstone, a load of the great subterranean sea of salt water was struck, and the briny torrent came struggling up around the augur and shot into the air some eight or ten feet. It has since flowed strong and steadily, and with great force and increasing strength, forming a briny rivulet. It is believed by the experts who have seen the fluid that when the augur is withdrawn and tubing inserted a stream of water will be projected from the well to the height of fifty feet, making it the most magnificent artesian well of salt water in the world.

Greek Fire. Modern Greek fire is a solution of phosphorus in bisulphide of carbon. When this solution is poured on paper, rags or shavings, the bisulphide evaporates rapidly and leaves the phosphorus in a state of very fine division—so fine that it takes fire spontaneously. Greek fire furnishes the means of performing a very pretty lecture room experiment, but as an incendiary agent, it is worthless, for the simple reason that it does not set fire to even the thickest and driest boards. The phosphorus in burning produces a fusible and non-volatile compound, and this glazes over all objects in its vicinity and protects them from the action of the flames.

The Potato Bug Crossing Lake Michigan. The St. Joseph (Mich.) Herald has the following: "The everlastingly on the shore of Lake Michigan has observed large numbers of the Colorado potato beetle crawling from the water. Many have doubted the source whence they came. It seems from the following that they fly and swim from the western shore of Lake Michigan: Captain John Boyne, of the Little Dock, reports finding his deck and stairs infested with potato bugs when half way from Chicago to St. Joseph at night. No bug was on deck when the schooner left Chicago."

Another great trunk railroad system to run north and south, parallel with the ocean, is now building on the Pacific coast. The road will eventually connect Puget Sound and the Columbia river with the Colorado and the Mexican boundary. It will have a length of about 1,200 miles, 323 of which are already built.

A willow tree was blown down at Paterson, N. J., on Friday which was planted 160 years ago.
