He lacks an eye, and there is something the matter with his jaw, he was arrested once and rather badly beaten by a policeman who mistook him for a burglar, though there was no basis for such a suspicion save in his appearance. He is somewhat pock-marked, moreover, and a streak of gray which extends from his forehead to his temples has given a singular and sinister expression to the left side of his face.

The Catholics still retain a strong feeling for the recovery of the temporal power of the papacy, but it is very doubtful if any considerable body of the thinking portion would assist or countenance a movement of violence against the Italian government to accomplish it.

The Duke of Salaparuta, who has been deprived of the company of visitors, and is devoting himself to the perusal of the Bible.

Ida Kent, who disappeared from Michigan City the other day, has returned and tells an improbable story about her disappearance.

Henry Holmes has been sent to jail in Daviess county charged with setting fire to the M. E. church in Paducah, Ky., on September 10, because the trustees refused to pay him more than the contract price for work upon the building.

Ed Barret, of Shelbyville, aged eighteen, has for several days been showing signs of mental aberration, and was closely watched.

Both the victims of the murderous assault at Clinton Falls, Putnam county, James Crawford and his wife, are likely to recover.

The trial of Adam Lighthart for the murder of Joe Sigels, at a picnic, a short distance from Evansville, Ind., on September 4, which has been in progress for the past ten days came to an end yesterday when the jury came into court with a verdict of guilty, and sentence of two years in the penitentiary.

It seems that John R. Murphy, who was murdered in a street at St. Louis, in a fountain county, Tuesday night, slept in a room adjoining, and was probably awakened by a burglar who had broken in with the intention of robbing him.

Indiana day at the Louisville exposition yesterday was a complete success. Hon. Joseph E. McDonald made a short speech.

The condition of Willard Carpenter, of Evansville, though somewhat improved is quite critical. His left side is almost completely paralyzed.

Ida May Moore, of Shelbyville, better known as Kitty Wells, the proprietor of the house in which two of her girls were burned to death, last night, has fled out for divorce from her husband, John Moore, who resides in Indian polis, alleging abandonment, failure to provide, etc.

FOUND IN A BOX. MR. JOHN KINSMAN, of Augusta, Me., writes May 10, 1883, as follows: "I have been afflicted for some years with a severe hiccough, and having read an article in one of our papers of the wonderful cures Hunt's Remedy had performed in many cases of dropsy, bladder and kidney troubles, and finding a bottle in a box of straw packing, I concluded I would try it, and succeeded in taking it when, to my surprise, I found that the first bottle benefited me so much that I decided that I would continue to use it, and I kept on taking it until I used in all six bottles, and my appetite is good, all pains in the back and side disappeared, and for one of my years (I am now 80 years old) I am able to attend to my business, and am strong and vigorous, as many of my friends and neighbors can testify that know me well. I beg to state also, that many of our neighbors have used Hunt's Remedy with equally as good results, and one of my friends who has just purchased a bottle of Guppy, Kinsman & Alden, of Portland, says he would not be without it at any price."

THE BAKER'S WAY. MR. ALFRED NIXON, No. 50 Lincoln street, Lewiston, Me., writes, May 14, 1883: "I have been severely afflicted for a long time with indigestion and liver complaint, and at times all that I ate so distressed me that I could not bear the sight of food. I had tried a good many different remedies for my complaint, and they all failed, until one day Mr. Martel, one of our druggists in Lewiston, recommended Hunt's Remedy, as he knew of so many who had used it with great success for kidney, liver and urinary troubles, as well as indigestion, and upon his recommendation I finally concluded to try a bottle, and commenced taking, with very little faith in it. The first bottle helped me so much that I purchased two more, and it has done me a wonderful amount of good, and cured me of indigestion. I can eat all kinds of food now, and can truly recommend Hunt's Remedy as a sure cure for indigestion, liver and kidney diseases."

CITY NEWS. Thermometer. Pleasant Sun is booming.

The aldermen will meet in special session to-night.

Squire Johnson and Cal Darnell have dissolved partnership.

St. Nicholas, for November, has been received by Calhoun, Cleland & Co.

The When excursion over the L. D. & S. brought in seven cars, packed full of people, this morning.

Sarah Chatham, Ida M. Macher and George French, of 171 East South street, have been committed for stealing sundry articles from 132, same street.

One can hardly make a sharp turn in the court-house at the corner of California street and Indiana avenue, without seeing the faces of the chronic jurymen. They seem to flourish best in the circuit court.

The Flower Mission is preparing to build a home for nurses on the hospital grounds. Three trained nurses from the Bellevue hospital are now in service at the hospital, besides several ladies who are in training.

Yesterday a colored boy found two dresses, the property of Mrs. Johnson, in the yard under her carriage seat, and pawned them at 172 Indiana avenue. The police recovered the goods, but failed to catch the thief.

R. R. Miles's store, 154 West Washington street, was entered by burglars last night, who carried off a quantity of silk handkerchiefs, cheap jewelry and general notions. Entrance was made by the second floor widow, which was reached by a ladder.

Judge Walker this morning granted Mary P. Scott a divorce from Frank N. Scott, but prohibited her from remarrying within two years. The chief grievance, as shown to the court, was his attempt to shield himself from prosecution for perjury in the proceedings held at Cincinnati.

William Well's Disappearance. William Well, aged twenty-eight, a butcher, whose shop is at the corner of California street and Indiana avenue, is missing. He had been suffering from typhoid fever, and was able to get out for the first time yesterday morning. His mind was affected, and he labored under the impression that some one intended to poison him. He has not been seen by any of his family since yesterday morning, though it has been ascertained that he took supper at the Spencer house restaurant last evening, when he told the waiter not to put any poison in his food. He had with him when he left home about $100 in money. He has a wife and family. Any one knowing of his whereabouts should address his uncle, Fred Simon, 158 North Noble street.

A Hint to the Ball Club. Some wealthy citizens of St. Louis are about to organize an independent ball club, made of the best material to be found in the American association and national leagues. The proprietors claim that the rules of the association and league do not forbid their respective players from negotiating with such outside clubs as the new one is. They will probably, however, antagonize both those organizations. Their determination is a hint to the management of the Indianapolis ball club, that if he feel disposed to engage players now employed by the league and association.

COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The Indispensable Usefulness of the Present County Attorney—The Leaks He Has Stopped.

The cloven foot of the court house conspirators manifested itself this morning in an apparently inoffensive paragraph to the effect that upon the recognition of the board of commissioners, at which time Mr. Clinton will succeed John H. Smith, an effort will be made to oust Attorney Woolen, and substitute some other lawyer at half his salary. Says the paragraph, "The change, if made, will be in the nature of another economical reform movement." Since Mr. Woolen has been de facto county attorney he has stopped a number of dangerous leaks upon the county treasury, and he has acted with wisdom upon the matter.

His rulings. There is not a department of the court house but what has felt the touch of his economical hand, and no question has arisen wherein he has been afraid to reduce the county's expenses. The board has backed him up measurably well, so far, and there is no doubt that the additional salary which Mr. Clinton will give the gang any greater license than they are now reaping. For every dollar paid Mr. Woolen in salary, under his present contract, the county has realized triple-fold, and the economical possibilities for the future are greater by long odds for a still larger profit for the new board will be met upon the threshold of its first meeting with a number of claims, the commissioners will need his services to stiffen the assent upon the matter.

Be that as it may, however, Mr. Woolen is under written contract as county attorney for the year which does not expire until July next, and the court house conspirators are the "old man" contract may well resign themselves to the inevitable for that length of time. The supreme court has the agreement under which Mr. Woolen is operating, as shown by the ruling in the case of the board of county commissioners of Tippecanoe county vs. Everett (61 Ind., 543), in that case the board, at the November term, entered into a written agreement with the attorney (Everett) by which the board employed him for one year at a fixed salary, payable quarterly, and the agreement was entered on the minutes of the board. On the 26th of December following the board rescinded the contract, but the attorney held himself in readiness for service, and at the proper time filed a claim for salary. The case went up, and the supreme court not only sustained the validity of the contract, and having, as we think, no substantial ground for appealing to this court, should be charged with the highest rate of damages that we are authorized to assess. No doubt the commissioners would be glad to furnish legal counsel free of charge to the county, but they could dispense with Mr. Woolen and name the attorney, but as will be seen by the above ruling, they must wait until next summer for a fact, and by that time the board will perhaps find that some such man as absolutely indispensable and either to select him or choose a counterpart.

Some time ago, with great pomp and circumstance, the board passed an order that all claims against the county must be filed at least ten days before the date of allowance, and it now appears that that order was only meant for the average claimant, while the privileged few would continue in the old rule. It is difficult to account for the allowance in that poor-farm title speculation, in which fourteen head were purchased from John H. Spahr, brother of John H. Lottin, a brother of commissioner Lottin, at $20 per head, payment for which was made the day of presentation. Mr. Hasselman, the Hasselman-Journal printing company, was also there with a bill of nearly $1,000, and this, too, was allowed without the formality of ten days' grace. The cattle were purchased, to be fattened on the poor farm, and to be used, it is presumed, for food by the county poor, but the county might have made more money if it had been sold to other brokers at an opportunity to bid, instead of confining the speculation purely to members of the family, as it were. There are to be several changes in the offices with the beginning of November, and a number of county pets will be rushing in with their little bills, and it is now wondered if they will set up the Hasselman and cattle claims as a precedent for ignoring the ten day rule.

If there should happen to be any job in these bills, ten days is a long time for them to be expected in the office of the skeptical public, and therefore, the more reason why they should be immediately passed upon.

Independent Sons of Honor.

The Independent Sons of Honor are meeting in seventh convocation, J. Gilbert, G. C. presiding. Twenty-three lodges are represented by delegates and six by papers. The business of the convocation has thus far been wholly devoted to consideration of the rules and regulations. The report of committees not having been reached up to the noon adjournment today, the convocation will continue in session tomorrow.
