A QUESTION OF BEER
OUTSTOOD GLADSTONE'S CABINET.

Wanted: A Definition of Cruelty—England's Dependence on Other Countries for Food—Social Paris.

After the Government had defeated and the conservative cheers had died away, a scene was enacted on the floor of the House which was of pathetic interest.

Mr. Gladstone has now served his Queen and country over fifty years, and no doubt it is a strange and melancholy sight to see the brightest ornament of the House of Commons, the greatest of our statesmen, the greatest of our political orators on a mere question of beer and spirits.

We sometimes hear, on the continent, amusing stories of the free-and-easy divorce laws of America. It is popularly supposed over here that Beatrice can divorce Benedict for persisting in wearing a pattern of coat that offends her eye, or that he can divorce her for not giving him a pair of shoes.

What would the English do but for the peasantry of France and other continental countries? If for one day or another the supply of staples sent by industry to our foreigners should suddenly stop, everyone would realize the great dependency of England upon her neighbors.

SALISBURY'S HOPE
ISA GERMAN-ENGLISH ALLIANCE

Which the Death of Emperor William Would Make Probable—The Government's Regrets to Wolsley.

LONDON, June 26.—Parliament has adjourned until July 6 for elections in the districts represented by the members of the new Cabinet.

The Queen has conferred the peerage upon Mr. Rowland Wilson, the Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasury in the new Ministry. His title is Baron St. Oswald of Nostell.

The health of the Emperor William of Germany is one of the most important matters that concern the Salisbury Ministry. It is confessed that his present illness may at any moment result fatally.

Baron Henry de Weims has been appointed Secretary of the Board of Trade, and not Mr. William Jackson, M. P., as was stated last evening.

Very sorry, But Must Come Home. LONDON, June 26.—The Marquis of Salisbury has telegraphed General Lord Wolsley in Egypt that he is in full sympathy with his views regarding the withdrawal of the British troops from the Sudan.

WARRLES OF THE WIRES. Bonner will send Maud S. to Cleveland to speed her. The Canadian fisheries treaty has been extended for ten years.

NEARING THE CLOSE.
LIGHT ON THE BANK CASE.

The Argument Will Begin Next Tuesday, Probably—Cashier McCutcheon on the Stand To-Day.

The afternoon session of Judge Walker's Court yesterday found Mr. Wright still on the stand and still under cross-fire. He stated with reference to the examination of the bank February 11, 1878, that it was done at the request of himself and President New.

Witness said that Morrison agreed to pay $165 for the stock and pay the taxes. The minute book was produced and attention of the court called to the record of a meeting of the First National directors February 2, 1878, wherein it was resolved that the bank pay the taxes on the stock for 1877.

THE EVIDENCE TO-DAY. John C. McCutcheon, cashier of the old and present First National Bank, will be on the witness stand this morning. It will be on the witness stand this morning.

TOUCHING THE MATTER OF STATEMENTS OF THE CONDITION OF A BANK, Mr. McCutcheon said the statement made by the bank on the morning of the 11th of February, 1878, was correct.

HARVARD AND YALE
IN THE ANNUAL BOAT RACE.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 26.—Never in the history of Yale and Harvard aquatics has the interest been brought to such a high state of excitement as it was before today's contest.

At 8 o'clock the water was in excellent condition, there being but a slight ripple and a very light southwest wind.

As the time for the start approached, the excitement became intense, especially among Yale men, over a report that Captain Flanders was ill and could not row.

At 9:45 the breeze freshened considerably and blew almost square across the course. This was considered an advantage for Yale.

At 11:02 the Harvard boat came out from the starting line. The second Yale, 20 minutes later, and both crews paddled leisurely to the starting point.

At 11:25 the word was given and Yale took the water very quickly, and obtained a lead of two feet.

At 11:50 the Harvard crew appeared fresh and in fine condition, while the Yale boat Peters and Parrott were blown and blown, and Storm pulled in rather listless style.

Judge Howe has taken the Chesly divorce suit under consideration. The County Board of Equalization met today to finish up its work.

George Kinsey has taken judgment against Wm. L. Stiltz and the Terre Cotta works for $266.25.

John Stevens was fined today for flourishing knives, and the "Star Front" and breaking one of the windows.

The water will be let out of the canal for several hours today, to enable the contractor for the new bridge to complete work upon the abutments.

LOCAL PICKUPS.

A very important case, legal and financially, was decided by the Supreme Court yesterday. In the summer of 1880 the large starch works of J. A. & J. H. Cunningham, in Vincennes, were burned, entailing a heavy loss.

The State Board of Equalization is in session today, making up the valuations to be placed on the various railroad properties, and certifying which they have heard arguments.

Judge Gresham will be here to-morrow, and he and Judge Woods will resume consideration of the Toledo, Cincinnati & St. Louis case, which will probably appoint a new receiver for the road.

Justice Norton's ruling in the liquor case is already showing fruit. To-day there were four changes of venue from Hendricks to this County on various cases.

Internal Revenue Collector Hunter says that the published report that Dr. McCullough, of Lawrenceburg, is to be "stampeded" here, is a mistake, as he is to be merely a deputy in the office of the collector.

The commencement exercises of St. John's Academy will take place to-night. The exhibition of the department of music and song to be the finest ever displayed in the city or State.

Yesterday afternoon, an unknown farmer called upon Kregelo & Whitsett with the remark that his boy Harold had been killed while hunting near Fort Dodge, Kas., and he wanted to know the probable cost of bringing the body home.

A man named Tschibben, of Chicago, has more complaint than the Smiths, a young girl, now a prisoner in the county jail, is attempting to blackmail him, and that she has written letters threatening trouble with his domestic relations if he does not come to her assistance.

A mortgage executed by William F. Stills to Anna M. Stills, his mother, to secure a $200 note drawn in June, 1882, was placed upon record to-day. The instrument covers certain real estate in the neighborhood of Sanders street, on part of which there are already two mortgages, one for $5,000 and the other for $3,000, held by G. W. Fairbanks, to secure promissory notes jointly executed by G. L. Dickenson, ex-auditor I. B. & W. Railway Company, and Mr. Stills.

The record was found to-day showing that the health officers received notice of the condition of the tenement 87, 89 and 91 Patterson street on the 13th inst., that it was not upon the following day, and that the cleaning crew, written by the 15th inst., the City Health Officer, was called upon to do the work. This relieves the officers considerably from the charge of neglect, made at the recent investigation. Hereafter a daily report book will be kept by the clerks of the board as well as a record of date of complaints and diseases reported.

The When Band will give an open-air concert in University Park this evening. Charles May, a Brookside dairyman, has been fined for committing a nuisance. Judge Woods, of the Federal Court, will hold a short term at New Albany, beginning July 6. Daniel Hill, who assaulted John King nearly six months ago, has been fined $1 and costs, with one day in jail. A. H. Harris, residing 654 North Alabama street, was stricken with paralysis yesterday, while walking near the Blind Asylum. The Governor has issued a requisition for Harry Hudson, under arrest at Minneapolis, Minn., for an alleged forgery at Lafayette. A compromise has been reached in the Ralston-Carson et al. complication, and the application for a receiver has been dismissed. Indianapolis Lodge, K. of P., has elected D. M. Purman C. C., E. E. Fletcher V. C., W. N. Robertson prelate, and John Lawler master at arms. The Light Artillery will give a promenade and exhibition drill at the College Avenue Armory this evening, prior to their departure for Philadelphia. Edwin A. Hallam and Victor K. Hendricks, of the junior class in the Classical School, have passed the entrance examination of the Rose Polytechnic at Terre Haute. The Attorney-general has received notice that 100 acres of land in Gibson county, formerly owned by James Oren, who died without heirs and leaving no will, has escheated to the State. The assessor reports a heavy decrease in returns of personal property from persons living outside the city, due in many cases to the bank failures. In several instances the decrease exceeds $10,000. The Art Association excursion to Old Fort Cornfort via Sulphur Springs, Larry Cave, Natural Bridge, etc., is in charge of J. H. Martin, 16 North Meridian street, who will answer all inquiries. It starts July 27. A baseball club of semi-professionals is being organized to play Sunday games. Dr. J. H. Riley, of the disbanded Montgomery team, will be the battery, and a game is set for Sunday with the Cincinnati Shamrocks. Fish Commissioner Reed recently sent an agent to Syracuse Lake, Kosciusko county, which has been the scene of continued violations of the fish laws, and as a result of his visit forty-two persons have been summoned to appear before the grand jury. The metropolitan and merchant police ball games played a three-inning game at Broad Ripple yesterday, and the former won, seven to seven. Early in the contest, Joe Wheeler, catcher for the merchants, had his right hand badly split by a foul tip. There was a very large attendance at the locomotive engineers' picnic at Broad Ripple yesterday, and everything passed off pleasantly, excepting a row which some hoodlums made on a returning train last night. Nobody was seriously hurt however. The wife of Frank Bennett, proprietor of the Painters' Hotel, No. 74 South Illinois street, took a number of morphine pills, which had a suicidal intent, and her life was saved with great difficulty. Dependence on account of continued ill health was the cause. The third annual commencement of the Indiana Kindergarten Training School (Mrs. E. A. Blaker principal), under the auspices of the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten, or Children's Aid Society, will take place next Tuesday night at Plymouth Church. The public are invited. The art excursion, in charge of Miss Ketchum, will leave for the Alleghenies July 2. The place selected for the stay is as quaint, picturesque and antique as Swiss land—Birmingham, three miles east of Tyrone. It is situated on hills 1,200 feet above the sea-level, and is an hundred years old.

SUPREME COURT JUDGES.

The Large Amount of Work They Are Called Upon to Do. Only those who are acquainted with the methods of procedure in the Supreme Court have an adequate idea of the immense amount of work the judges are called upon to do. In 1816, when the court was established, it had three judges, and this number remained unchanged until about 1852, when it was increased to four, and some years ago a fifth was added. With the growth of the State and the establishment of a large number of Circuit Courts, the business of the Supreme Court has, of course, become much greater, and especially in the last few years there has been an unusually large increase in litigation. The court fell far behind in its work and to relieve this a commission, one member to each judge, was established in 1881 and worked until a few weeks ago, and in that time the court "caught up" in about two years' work. It is still over one year behind and about seven hundred cases are on the docket and undisposed of. That is to say, that the cases that are being decided now are those which were brought up more than a year ago, unless there was some special reason to have others advanced. About seven hundred cases are appealed to the Supreme Court every year and with the present number of judges and the work they have to do, it is impossible to decide more than 500, so that at the present rate the court will fall an additional year behind in its work about once in three years. This year there will be four reports of decisions of about six hundred pages each published. In Indiana all the decisions in which opinions are written are published. Many other States do this also, while some only publish such as the judges may elect. The judges undoubtedly have more work to do than should be required of them. Every morning from one to three hours is devoted to consultation. Very frequently long and dreary oral arguments have to be heard, and in this way their time is generally lessened. The physical labor entailed upon them is by no means small. Their opinions are necessarily very long, citing, as they do, all the rulings in the points involved in a case and the arguments in support of the decision. They are seldom less than fifteen pages of closely written "foolscap" paper in length, and frequently thirty and forty, and the judge does all this writing. It is a common practice among them to work at night, and some of them work every night until 11 or 12 o'clock. Judge Hawk generally works an hour or two before breakfast in the morning, and he is almost always up by 5 o'clock. Judge Elliott is also extremely industrious and probably renders more decisions than any of the others. Judges Niblack and Mitchell scarcely take time enough for their meals, and Judge Zeller is equally industrious. They are entitled to a summer vacation of two and a half months, but during that time each of them decides from twenty-five to thirty-five cases, so that the time actually spent in the court by increasing the number of judges, for the court would then become somewhat unwieldy, and much more time would be necessarily consumed in consultation. The trouble is that you are called upon to decide so many little cases that a Supreme Court should not be bothered with. For instance, little provoke cases, insignificant liquor and dog cases, and such things as that comes to us and we have to write a decision upon them. There should be an Appellate Court to consider such matters, and until it is established the litigation in the State will always be delayed and confused.
