IS THERE A COMBINATION?

MATTHEWS AND GRAY SAID TO BE UNITED AGAINST VOORHEES
 Other Candidates Talked Of Opposition To Holman—The Income Tax and Revenue Bill—Washington News.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—There is no longer any doubt that the friends of Senator Voorhees look with distrust on the political ambitions of Governor Matthews and Minister Isaac Froy Gray. It is generally believed that Matthews has made up his mind to try to succeed Voorhees in the Senate. The senior Senator's friends do not understand what Minister Gray's game is, but they know that he is hobnobbing with Matthews, and they feel very suspicious about it.

Gray would have been dead long ago in Indiana if it had not been for Senator Voorhees, was the remark of one of the Senator's closest Indiana friends to-day. "For Gray now to join a movement to overthrow Voorhees and the Senate, is the basest sort of political ingratitude, but it looks very much as if he intended to do it." The same authority said that Senator Voorhees was not alarmed, and that he could carry the State of Indiana against any combination which might be patched up. The first time the Governor has shown his hostility to Senator Voorhees was in the convention to select members of the State committee. In a number of districts he had a candidate in the field, in open violation of the Senator's friends. The Fourth district convention was an instance. There Judge Ford appeared as a special candidate for Governor Matthews, and developed some of the Senator's friends were defeated by William O'Brien, of Lawrenceburg.

OTHER CANDIDATES TALKED OF.
 The senatorial question is getting to be a lively one in every part of the State, according to the reports received by the Indianapolis delegation. Over in the northern end of the State, ex-Congressman Shively is said to be in training. There has been some quiet talk of John G. Shanklin, but some of the Evansville editor's friends here say that if it comes to a conflict between Voorhees and the Senator, Matthews-Gray combine, that Shanklin can get more real fun out of the situation by joining hands with the latter. The friends of the "White" party are also stirring up a knock out his two political rivals of long standing. Shanklin and Voorhees have never been political enemies. While they were in the same faction in the State Democracy, they have always been on friendly terms personally. Shanklin was not happy when Voorhees used his influence to get Holman elected as a minister to Mexico, but even Voorhees seems to regret this step now, if reports be true, and there he and Shanklin have a case in common.

AGAINST HOLMAN.
 Congressman Holman's friends are very much excited over the election of O'Brien, of Lawrenceburg, as a member of the State committee. It is understood here that O'Brien's re-election was contested in every township by the Holman men. John S. Martin, of Franklin county, was the candidate agreed upon by Congressman Holman's followers, and the reports here are that he only carried one township—Franklin. It is also charged that Holman's friends were so much divided that they were unable to elect a candidate for Congress, and it is probable that there will be other candidates distributed among the eight counties in the congressional district. Mr. Holman's enemies claim that he is knocked out of re-election.

OPINIONS ON THE TARIFF.
 Protests Against the Wilson Bill—The Debate in the House.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—Chairman Wilson and his associates on the ways and means committee have received copies of the first answers sent to Senator Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee of the Senate, in response to his recent letters to manufacturers, requesting their views on the proposed tariff reduction. The answers are made by Martin Kalbfleisch & Sons Company, having chemical plants at Brooklyn, Buffalo and Bayonne, N. J., with a capital invested of $1,000,000. In a letter accompanying the reply they say they happen to be Democrats, and are in sympathy with the Democratic party, but that the reductions of the Wilson bill would mean disaster to their business.

THE DEBATE IN THE HOUSE.
 Save for a recess of two hours, there was an unintermitted flow of business in the House to-day, from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 last night. The principal speeches were those of Mr. Breckinridge of Kentucky, Mr. Springer of Illinois, Mr. Dingley of Maine, and Mr. Harter of Ohio. Mr. Springer commended the free list of the Wilson bill, but said that if he had been framing the bill he should have made some material modifications. He predicted that the free list would mean disaster to the country, and that the greatest manufacturing country of the world, as it was now the great agricultural country. He pictured the condition of affairs in 1884, when the low tariff was threatened, comparing it to-day, when 3,000,000 people are idle. The saddest sight he had ever witnessed, he said, was to see the men of the country, many young men in the ways and means committee-room, a few months ago, pleading, not for their employes, but their employes' employes.

They represented 200,000—one-fifth of the population of the greatest manufacturing country of the world. He spoke of the men of the country, in comparison with the pendulum which, in the work of a statesman. Mr. Harter, of Ohio, a large manufacturer of agricultural implements, and a well-known free-trade advocate, declared that if by law the prices of goods were reduced for the benefit of the many it mattered not how much it injured the few, but when the law put up prices the wrong was manifest because it benefited the few at the expense of the many. The law should give the greatest good to the greatest number. There was a meager gathering at the night session of the House, the Republican side being entirely deserted and the Democratic side only a few members. Representative Mathey, Democrat of California, and Cockrell, Democrat of Texas, spoke in support of the Wilson bill.

IN THE HOUSE TO-DAY.
 The Hawaiian Resolution Not Considered—Mr. Boutwell's Observations.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—After the reading of the journal in the House to-day, the Senate amendment to the House joint resolution for the appointment of a joint commission to examine into all questions relating to the personnel of the navy was agreed to, and then Mr. McCrary presented from the foreign affairs committee the joint resolution calling upon the President, if not inconsistent with the public interest, for all information relating to Hawaiian affairs received since the transmission of his recent message. Mr. McCrary asked unanimous consent for the consideration of the resolution. Mr. Richardson (Dem.) of Tennessee objected to unanimous consent. As he did so, Mr. Boutwell, who had just returned from the Hawaiian Islands, remarked that if Mr. Richardson had not objected he should have done so, since unanimous consent had been refused for the consideration of the naval resolution.

LYNCHED BY AN OHIO MOB.

ROSCOE PARKER, A YOUTHFUL MURDERER, HANGED.

He Killed Old Mr. Rhine and His Wife—The "Best Citizens" in the Mob—A Legal Hanging—Painter Again Rejoiced.

CINCINNATI, January 12.—Roscoe Parker, the colored boy, who four weeks ago last Sunday night brutally murdered the aged Mr. Rhine and his wife, was hanged by a mob of the best citizens of Winchester and adjacent points this morning, four miles from Winchester. The murder was for money and only $10 was obtained. Parker, the murderer, was only sixteen years old and had worked for the old couple, and had known of Mr. Rhine receiving money from the sale of some stock. At the boy confessed his crime, but insisted that he was innocent, who easily proved his innocence. Lyncing was threatened, and Parker was taken to Portsmouth for safe-keeping. Meantime the spirit of vengeance did not sleep. A secret organization was formed, and when it was learned yesterday that Sheriff Danks, on his way from Athens, would bring Parker to Adams county, a preliminary hearing and would keep him overnight in the West Union jail, messengers were sent out and a band of four hundred men met at the Pan-Handle crossing and rode to West Union. At the jail they tried the case of the murderer, and he was a prisoner, but Sheriff Danks, seeing a mob, shut the door and fastened it securely. The mob used force, and despite the sheriff's manly defense, soon had Parker and were on their way toward Winchester. The colored boy still maintained that the reason for his being taken to the place of execution was reached and the rope was around his neck he said he was not at the place of murder that night and could tell nothing whatever about it. He refused to pray and was hanged after one or two efforts by the mob after firing bullets into his body.

Sam Welsor Hanged.
 ST. LOUIS, January 12.—Sam Welsor, the murderer of Clementine Manning, spent his last night in the St. Louis prison, and talking with the two deputy sheriffs who formed the death watch. He was escorted to the scaffold at 8 o'clock. When asked if he had anything to say, he simply replied without a tremor "Go ahead." The drop fell at 8:30. His neck was broken. In twelve minutes the body was cut down and prepared for burial. After the execution of Welsor his body was taken to the morgue, where an autopsy was performed, five surgeons being in attendance. The condition of the body was found to be such as to lead two of the surgeons to state positively that the man must have been insane. The others took a neutral ground.

George Painter Rejoiced.
 CHICAGO, January 12.—George Painter, who was to be hanged to-day, has been relieved by Governor Altgeld for two weeks. This is the third time Painter has been reprieved several hours, and the reason for this time is that more alleged new evidence has been found. Painter's crime was the murder of his mistress, Alice Martin, at their rooms in South Green street, near Madison. During his confinement in the State Prison, he was allowed to see his wife, and he was a firm believer in hypnotism and pleaded for an opportunity to demonstrate his power. He would be compelled, he said, while under the influence of a hypnotist to repeat what he had done, and he would repeat his request for such a test was refused.

DROWNED IN THE HARBOR.
 Six Sailors Lose Their Lives By the Swamping of a Boat.
 BALTIMORE, Md., January 12.—This morning a boat was certainly six lives and gave the crew of the police boat Lannan a chance to make one of the bravest rescues in the history of the Baltimore harbor. While the white caps were running so high that the steamer could hardly breast them, a signal of distress was heard and the search light revealed three men struggling in the freezing water. They were all who were left of a party of seven who had been on a boat that was man, left the foot of Broadway to cross over to Locust Point. Their boat was swamped before they had gone five hundred yards, and the crew of the police boat, who were on duty, were taken to the city hospital, where the doctors spent several hours resuscitating them. The names of five of the lost men are: NEAL FINLAYSON, JOHN J. WILSON, ROBERT J. WILSON, JOHN HUGHES, and JOHN J. WILSON. A SAILOR, name unknown. The drowned men, except the ferryman, were from England and were the crew of the steamer "The City of New York," which was wrecked on the rocks of Locust Point. The rescued was the boat was a small one, and that the nine men loaded her down until the gunwales were almost even with the water.

NO MONEY IN THIS.
 Mr. Case's Loans Must Be Repaid Only in "Billion."
 COLUMBUS, O., January 12.—Willard A. Case, a New York capitalist, who loans money here through F. A. Davis, as shown by mortgages being filed and by oral evidence, testified in the contract as a commodity. He stipulates to give the borrower a certain quantity of bullion. Each six months the borrower is to deliver him a certain quantity of bullion. The borrower then waives his right to bullion and accepts the money of the country. If when the contract expires, legal tender or the money of the country has depreciated, Mr. Case will demand the bullion in payment. He does not appear to be "interested" in the money.

LOST IN PARIS.
 Young Webster Missing For Twelve Days—$5,000 Reward For Him.
 NEW YORK, January 12.—Edward Webster, an American schoolboy, disappeared from a railroad train near Paris twelve days ago under circumstances that are peculiarly mysterious. His mother, Mrs. Theodore Conkling, of No. 64 West Seventeenth street, was informed of his disappearance only yesterday afternoon, after the Parisian police detectives had searched the morgue, the hospitals and other institutions without finding trace of him. Mrs. Conkling was prostrated by the news. Her husband immediately called to Paris offering $5,000 reward, to be paid by John Munroe & Co., bankers in Paris, to any one who will furnish information of the lost boy's whereabouts. Young Webster is only seventeen years old, but he looks like a man of twenty-one or twenty-two years.

NO MESSAGE ON HAWAII.

IT WILL PROBABLY NOT REACH CONGRESS BEFORE TO-MORROW.

Additional Instructions Sent to Minister Willis—Blount Before the Committee—Senator Turpie's Unexpected Attitude.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—The Hawaiian dispatches are not likely to be sent to Congress to-day. Undoubtedly the steamer Mariposa, which leaves San Francisco to-night, will carry the final instructions to Minister Willis outlining to him his conduct in view of the refusal of the provisional government to comply with its demand. It is expected in Congress that these instructions would be included in what is to be transmitted to Congress. Secretary Gresham said to-day that all further instructions sent to Minister Willis will be sent to Congress immediately upon being dispatched. They must be dispatched to-day in order to catch the Mariposa. This would leave time for them to be included in the dispatch sent to Congress, and to bring the whole matter up to date and make it complete. The dispatches from Minister Willis are the subject of discussion by a full cabinet meeting to-day, and it is expected that the budget will be ready for Congress after the meeting, but this copying and comparison with the original will probably delay the transmittal to Congress till to-morrow.

Mr. Blount Examined.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12.—The examination of ex-Commissioner Blount before the Senate committee on Hawaiian affairs yesterday went into the various questions concerning the Hawaiian Islands. The American troops during the revolution and his reasons for concluding that there had been a conspiracy to dethrone the Queen and annex the islands to the United States. He was reminded of the charge that his investigation had been partial and that his report showed upon its face that he had been prejudiced against the Hawaiian cause from the beginning. This, Mr. Blount said, was untrue, and he contended that the report was impartial and that he had been selected to make this examination and had been given entire authority to conduct it in any manner he saw fit. He apparently, in the direction of obtaining information against the provisional government and in favor of the royalists. To this he replied that he took the testimony from his own way and acted on his own judgment. The Peking Not Yet In.
 SAN FRANCISCO, January 12.—The steamer City of Peking had not arrived from Honolulu up to this afternoon. It is not believed here that the Peking was in Honolulu at the time the Warrimo left. The Peking did not leave Honolulu until December 24. The steamer time from there to Honolulu is eleven days, which would make the date of the Peking's arrival in Honolulu January 4. On that calculation she is due here to-day or to-morrow. It is not believed here that the Peking was in Honolulu at the time the Warrimo left. The Peking did not leave Honolulu until December 24. Leavesness in Morgan County.
 (Special to The Indianapolis News.)
 MARTINSVILLE, January 12.—Word has been received that White Caps visited the residence of Charles Rodgers, threatening to lash his father-in-law, James Glover, who lives with him. Rodgers and family are separated. Glover is over eighty years old. Rodgers had previously been served on Rodgers that he would be severely dealt with if he failed to drive his father-in-law away. He has not obeyed the notice.

Suit For an Accounting.
 NEW YORK, January 12.—Emily A. Livingston and her son, Wm. B. Blackwell, have begun a suit in the Supreme Court against Charles E. Green, a brother of Mrs. Livingston, to compel him, as executor of the will of his father, Henry W. Green, and as surviving legatee and trustee under the will of his mother, John C. Green, to account for a three-million-dollar trust fund.

THE GOGEBIC MINES.

Probability of a Reversal—The Output Greatly Reduced.

CLEVELAND, January 12.—Mr. Frank Rockefeller, when seen this morning in reference to the receivership for the Gogebic mines, refused to talk of the matter, saying that all the information he had was what had appeared in the morning papers. He said that he understood that the business of the mines, the firm of Ogilby & Norton, who are the sales agents for the output of the Penokee and Gogebic mines, had been sold to the hands of a receiver, but could give no reason for the sale. He said that the receiver was a territory surrounding the mines, and that the receiver was turning out about 80,000 tons of ore annually, but that the receiver had a third of that amount was produced last week.

What a Madman Did.
 FREDERICK, Va., January 12.—The West Virginia Central railroad had a narrow escape from a serious wreck yesterday as the result of a collision with a train of the Chesapeake and Ohio. The train was John W. of Oakland, Md. He was put off the train near Shaw, and at once placed several large rocks on the track, causing the train to stop. The train was a freight, and tearing up the track badly. Rive, after his attempt to wreck the train, went to Shaw, where he ran from the station into his eleven rail barn into the red-hot stove, burning it. He was found lying on a shovel lying by the stove was a sandwich, and attempted to eat it.

E. A. Sanner's Disappearance.
 BOSTON, Tenn., January 12.—An apparently well-known man, E. A. Sanner, who was with E. A. Sanner, of Tremont, Pa., who has mysteriously disappeared. He was last seen five days ago on a Louisville & Nashville train near Clarksville, Ky. His disappearance was a mystery. He was carrying a trunk containing papers belonging to him, and was on his way to Clarksville, Ky. He was not financially embarrassed, and his disappearance is believed to be the result of an accident or foul play.

Run Down and Killed.
 ST. PAUL, January 12.—Nine laborers working on the new railroad bridge near Savannah, Ill., returning home last night on a hand-car were run down by a stock-yard switch engine. E. O. Anderson was instantly killed. John Anderson, son-in-law, and Neil Peterson and John Swanson, less seriously injured. The men were employed by a bridge contractor and had been on Savannah on a pleasure jaunt, not having been at work during the afternoon.

Frozen to Death.
 WINNIPEG, Man., January 12.—Two more fatalities are reported from the storm. Mrs. Robinson, a farmer some distance from Winnipeg, was lost with an eight-year-old girl, and when finally found had wandered six miles from home and the child was frozen stiff. Her arms, which were frozen to the body, were returned from the city to his home in Healdsburg. Two other men were frozen to death.

Identified as the Bobbers.
 OAKLAND, Cal., January 12.—The four brothers, John, Arthur and Larry, have been positively identified as the parties who, a few nights ago, so cruelly tortured and robbed the parish sisters of 558. The Bobbers waived a preliminary examination to-day and were bound over by Justice Wadsworth.

Retriever Gets Big News.

ABOUT TARIFF SHARKS.

In the tariff debate yesterday, which was a rather spirited affair, Mr. Breckinridge of Kentucky, took a certain amount of protection as "shark."

I refer to those who during the peril and distress of a great city took advantage of labor in the name of patriotism, and later, in the name of profound peace, increased those exactions until, in the Fifty-first Congress, they wrote a new law that enriched themselves.

Still Mr. Walker was not happy. "Be- lieve an American manufacturer," he asked, "and one of those who helped to make those laws, do you refer to me?"

The manufacturers of this country as such have not the slightest direct interest in a protective tariff. It is of no consequence to the manufacturers of this country, as manufac- turers, whether we have free trade or whether we have protection.

This is hardly the language of a "shark." Mr. Walker does not want or need any protection for himself. He has no sympathy with those manufacturers who are predicting the ruin of our industries if the Wilson bill shall pass.

GOVERNOR WAITE'S CIRCUIT. COLORADO is having a merry time with her Legislature. Yesterday the special committee appointed by the Senate to consider Waite's message, reported that there was no occasion for the extra session, and recommended an adjournment to-day.

It looks like the devil for the members of the sixth General Assembly to be sleeping at sumptuous hotels in Denver and drawing $7 per day from their impoverished constituencies under the pretense that they can better their condition by legislation.

This patriotic declaration was, we are told, received with great merri- ment—so great, indeed, was the merriment that it "shook the building." But the speaker objected to the language of the resolution and refused to entertain it.

Mr. Charles Hoyt is looking for a subject that is really worthy of his powers, he will at once begin a study of Colorado's state-manship. The field is a rich one, and is wholly virgin. There is, of course, no harm in poking fun at the militia, but after all that is rather small game for Mr. Hoyt.

On the other side were these words: "Colorado; 57 cents; Mexico." The show will probably last some time, as the gentlemen evince no disposition to adjourn. In the meantime the business interests of the State will suffer—but Waite has had his way. It is a dangerous thing to elect a freak Governor, as the people of Colorado now realize.

THE GARFIELD PARK LAKE.

The statements in THE NEWS last night by Mr. Kramer and Mr. Meyer, of the Board of Public Works, with reference to the condition of the Garfield Park lake are something that should attract public attention. The citizens' committee, on whose credit the public is making contributions to the Commercial Club committee for relief of the needy, ought to direct some of the funds to the digging of this lake.

We have not found any one disputing the proposition that the Garfield Park lake is a desirable thing, is something that will benefit the whole people, will particularly benefit the whole of the South Side, and, furthermore, is something that is morally certain to be done at some time. The surveys are made, the plans completed, but the city is crippled for lack of means.

While it is literally true that the woolen manufacturers in this city pay but 14 per cent. of the value of their product as wages to operatives, it is, at the same time, a most misleading statement, because it leaves the reader, who knows nothing of the value of the material that the wages are paid for, to infer that the receipts of the Indianapolis woolen manufacturers, exclusive of the materials purchased, are $320,000.

There was no secrecy about that $5,000. Colonel Lilly says so, and what he says goes. The public, to be sure, knew nothing of it till three months had elapsed, when, after much effort, discovery was made of the fact which there was no effort to create.

There is no reason why the public should not understand it in its true light; and people would talk. The money was given, you see, by the people for one single use; and the city appropriation was made on the understanding that only so much of it was to be used as was necessary to make up the popular fund should be used, and the public never supposed there were to be "earnings" or "allowance." So of course you could not expect the public to understand the bestial propriety of "allowing" the secretary of the club $5,000 for his "disinterested" services.

As our Methodist friends would say, Mr. Andrew Carnegie is showing "signs of conviction." The national Republican committee, now assembled at Washington, is said to be taking up "many matters that were left unfinished." The election of its last candidate would fall in this category.

GOVERNOR WAITE has assembled his Legislature, but he can't make it drink. It is in relation to the value added to the material that the wages are concerned, and the 45 per cent. of wages is 47 per cent. of the $50,000 added to the material by manufacture and sale.

It is in relation to the value added to the material that the wages are concerned, and the 45 per cent. of wages is 47 per cent. of the $50,000 added to the material by manufacture and sale.

That is an exhaustive analysis, and it shows that in the Indianapolis woolen mills the operatives get only 14 per cent. of the product. In Massachusetts they get, according to the census of 1880, 22 per cent., although their average annual wages are only $375, as against $485 in Indiana. While in 1880 the average wage factor in the product of all the manufacturers in the country was 22 per cent.—3 per cent. higher than the share which goes to labor in the Indianapolis woolen-mills.

product. Here in the Indianapolis woolen mills the average annual wages are $485. In Massachusetts woolen mills the average annual wages are $375. But wages here represent 14 per cent. of the value of the product; in Massachusetts 22 per cent. The only fair comparison, from the manufacturers' standpoint, is to compare labor cost in one mill or country with labor cost in another mill or country. Mr. J. Schoenfeld, who has made a careful study of the comparative cost of manufacturing various articles in this country and in Europe, gives as the result of his investigation of various branches of the woolen industry, that with free wool, in no branch of the industry is the cost of manufacturing in America more than 6 per cent. greater than in England, while in some branches it is considerably lower.

REPORT AGAINST HORNBLLOWER. [New York Evening Post (Int. Dem.).] It is unfortunate for Mr. Hornblower and for the country that his rejection by the Senate committee should have political importance, but such importance it has. The professional objections to him have never been serious. To say that he is young for the place is to disregard many precedents and to err grossly about human maturity. A man who at forty-two is not fit to be placed in office for judgment, knowledge and discretion is sure never to be fit at all. The cases, indeed, were in which any advancement, based on merit, comes to a man after that age. It is literally the meridian of life. He may subsequently have larger practice, but he can not do service more. We should be indeed fortunate if we could get all our Federal judges at that age, so that we should have a fair prospect of thirty years of service from them on the bench.

What, then, has led to his rejection? A combination of causes. It can not be forgotten that the law of two years ago, which gave the committee of the Bar Association which investigated the election friends of last year, Maynard especially, a right to appear before the committee, was thereupon, and his partisans, familiarly known as "the Hill crowd," when these two lawyers joined in the anti-Maynard reports. It is a curious rule, bound by the constitution of their ring not only to nominate Maynard for the Court of Appeals, but to slaughter any of his judges on whom they could lay hands. The law of two years ago, however, Mr. Hornblower's evil fate to be selected for a place which brought him within the range of Senator Hill's malice. The "courtney of the bench," which means the great set-back which gets into that body which would be the public good in passing on nominations made from his own State, doubtless powerfully aided in staving off confirmation or defeating it.

But there were other causes, perhaps just as powerful, which it would be foolish to ignore. One is the lack of public spirit in the Senate on both sides. The great men of other days are gone out of it. The men who fill it are all engaged in the small kind of partisan politics. Even Senator Sherman, who is the only one left of the great traditions of the body, is probably occupied just now far more with striving to strip the Democratic party of its interest in providing good judges for the Supreme Bench. In other words, the tariff being regarded by so many men as a question of property, protection of business and of the pockets of the Democrats, they are not interested in it, which destroys all regard for any function of the Government which does not propose to strip his pockets. There is nothing to be gained by a high-tariff man when brought to say, "I will be well if I have to mortgage the mill," said a Connecticut manufacturer, and doubtless many others would put a Maynard in the Supreme Court if he were sure it would embarrass the President or increase the number of his enemies. It is a notorious fact that a large number of the to-day occupy themselves in trying to find out what he wants, in order to prevent his getting it. He is not grown in the affections of political men since he has been in the contrary, the hatred which led them to scout the idea of his nomination and caused them to witness his election with dismay has been greatly aggravated by his reappearance in the presidential chair.

We should like to stop here, but it is due to the history of our time to say that the President has done nothing to do anything to disarm hostility or to increase the number of his friends. He is not "magnetic," and if he said he had winning manners, we should depart widely from the truth. Ever since he came into office, he has almost studiously ignored his chief supporters of 1884, 1888, and 1892. He has not sought their counsel, and he has not only failed to forget that they ever served him. His allusions to the civil-service reformers in his message to Congress and in his letter to Mr. Van Alen were very unfortunate. It is a curious thing to see a man who seems to have prescribed to himself, when he took the office, the propriety of fostering the devotion of those who compelled his nomination and secured his election. They were what is best in the Democratic party, as well as in this community, and the only men who can give the Democratic party any credit for its past success in this State, showed a surprising simplicity in a gentleman who had lived among them so long. Evidently he would have made a complete change of heart in order to live together in amity or work in concert. STANLEY BATTERED IN A FIGHT WITH KINGENSMITH AT STANLEY'S HOME.

About a month ago Charles Stanley, of River avenue, West-Indianapolis, went to a friend who has a knowledge of law, and he had received a letter from Alonzo Kingensmith, officer at the Vandallia yard, ordering Stanley to leave away from his (Stanley's) house, and asked his friend to write a legal paper to be served on Kingensmith. The friend declined, Tuesday afternoon, Stanley had a lawyer draw up a paper notifying Kingensmith not to trespass upon Stanley's property.

KingenSmith left the suburb. As soon as Stanley got the blow of blood stanching and his head bandaged, he hurried after his opponent and had him arrested by Constable Sorter, from whom Kingensmith had got his police powers.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELER'S VIEW.

If tariff reform, tariff for revenue only, or free trade would be such a good thing for the country as the Democratic party would have people believe, why has the remedy not been applied long ago?

As to the tricks of the politicians, that is just what is the matter now. The laboring men—the people—generally referred to as the plain people—have had tariff reform preached to them so long and so persistently by the Democratic politicians that they have a long time for them, and it might possibly be a good thing for them, and it might possibly be a good thing for the country.

How Were the Books Kept? To the Editor of the Indianapolis News: Through your valuable paper allow me to suggest an idea regarding the recent action of the Commercial Club in disposing of the "Encampment fund" entrusted to the officers of said club by the citizens.

The Commercial Club in disposing of the "Encampment fund" entrusted to the officers of said club by the citizens, has been liberal in their money, and the "old soldier" might have a hearty welcome, and enjoy the hospitality of this city, if I am a bookkeeper, or a professional man, and would like the public to know what entries were made showing the receipts of the money entrusted, and the disbursements of the same.

The Gas Ordinance. To the Editor of the Indianapolis News: For one, I am very glad to notice Mr. Pearson's statement in yesterday's News regarding the gas ordinance. I am willing to rest the case upon the reasonable and just construction of the provisions, regulations and requirements of the ordinance.

DANGER JUST AHEAD. A Prominent Professor Speaks About the Threatening Things Abroad at This Time of the Year.

"It is surprising how many people are suffering to-day from so-called coughs, colds and influenza."

The remark was made by a very prominent professor, connected with one of the leading New York hospitals. Continuing he said:

"Now, all such symptoms need to have prompt treatment. The attack must be met and repelled at once, or it is certain to run into something serious. I know of but one way to certainly avoid these troubles which are now so common, and that is, to immediately counteract them by using a good, pure, strong stimulant. Nothing of the ordinary kind, but something pure and scientific. For this purpose nothing has ever equalled Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which is acknowledged to-day by physicians and scientific people to be the only pure, medicinal malt whiskey upon the market."

AWAKE! AWAKE! AWAKE! FOUR O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING.

How often are tourists aroused before daybreak to start off on a tiresome climb of some mountain high, just to obtain one glimpse of some especial view.

TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP, CLIMB, CLIMB, CLIMB.

Hungry and weary and cold, but still enthusiastic, they trudge along and when the sight that has called out all this energy has been seen, there is nothing to do but go back to a cold dinner, which must take the place of both breakfast and the mid-day meal.

THAT IS THE PORTION OF THE TOURIST THAT IS ONE OF THE DISCOMFORTS WHICH THE AVERAGE TRAVELER MUST UNDERGO.

How much better to take such an opportunity as we are now offering our friends of seeing the world.

WE HAVE DONE ALL THE CLIMBING; WE HAVE SUFFERED ALL THE PANGS OF HUNGER AND ALL THE DISCOMFORT OF THE ALPINE HIGHTS.

The lovely lakes, the famous cities, the old ruins, all, in fact, that is grand, inspiring and interesting in the world directly before you.

OUR PORTFOLIO OF PHOTOGRAPHS DOES ALL THIS AND MORE.

The views are perfect, and faithfully represent all you could wish to see. Each view is entertainingly described by the well-known traveler and lecturer, John L. Stoddard, and the combination of description and photograph, affords far more pleasure and far more information than one could possibly secure by any amount of real travel.

MRS. THACKERAY'S DEATH. Her Terrible Affliction For Half a Century—Other Deaths.

LONDON, January 12.—The death of Mrs. William Makepeace Thackeray yesterday resulted from advanced age and a complication of affections.

With the birth of the third child Mrs. Thackeray was afflicted with a fever which left behind it a weakness of the brain, not violent in its character, but excessively unpleasant.

BALTIMORE, January 12.—Rear Admiral D. McNeill Fairfax, U. S. N., retired, died at his home in Hagerstown, Md., after a short illness of pneumonia.

Donald McNeill Fairfax was born in Virginia August 10, 1822. He was a grandson of Bryan, eighth Baron Fairfax, a Scotchman who was a lieutenant of George Washington.

SCOTT HARRISON'S DEFEAT. How the Opposition to His Nomination is Accounted For.

KANSAS CITY, January 12.—The Star, an independent newspaper, in discussing the refusal of the Senate committee to report favorably J. Scott Harrison's nomination as a surveyor of customs here, editorially says: "There is a robust and well-defined suspicion in Kansas City that the real reason for the opposition to Scott Harrison's confirmation is the President's appointing him turned down an Irishman."

MANY SENT TO JAIL. White Men in Alaska With Native Wives Are In Trouble.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., January 12.—United States Marshal Orville T. Potter, of the Alaska district, is causing trouble to several communities in that territory. The number of white men lawfully married to women of their own race in Alaska is confined principally to a handful of Government officials and naval men stationed there.

THE COLORADO LEGISLATURE. Deadlock Probable—A Leather Medal For Governor Waite.

DENVER, January 12.—The Senate was in session but a short time yesterday, and only to receive the majority report of the special committee appointed to consider the Governor's message.

the sovereign authority of the United States in the issuance of all coin, and that the Governor's suggestion was absolutely impracticable.

The House, from present indications, will not agree to an immediate adjournment, and as the Senate will refuse to transact any business there will be a deadlock until one gives up the fight.

Resolved, That the members of this Assembly and the employees of the same will stay here without pay "until hell freezes over," and do all we can for the good of the State.
