

BOERS STILL HERE

THEIR GUNS ARE ACTIVE AT COLESBERG.

Gen. French's Victory by No Means Complete.

BRITISH ARE MANEUVERING

AND WITH REINFORCEMENTS COULD DISLODGE BOERS.

Much is Being Made of Pilscher's Success at Sunnyside—Buller is Also Busy.

Sterkstroom, Cape Colony, Jan. 3.—Morning.—The Boers attacked Moltens this morning. A brisk action is now in progress.

London, January 3.—The latest advices from the Colesberg district tend to modify the estimate of General French's success. The predicted occupation of Colesberg had not been accomplished last evening, while the Boer guns, announced to have been silenced, were still active.

The War Office this afternoon issued a dispatch received from General French, under yesterday's date, saying his position was the same as on the previous day; that with small reinforcements he could dislodge the Boers from Colesberg, and in the meantime he continued maneuvering.

General Buller continues his night bombardments and patrol surprises, and the Tugela river is again fordable, and the stretcher bearers have again been requisitioned at Durban and Pietermaritzburg, there is a disposition to believe that the British advance will not be long delayed.

It is reported at Durban that the captured German steamer Bundesarth had on board five big guns, fifty tons of shells and 100 trained artillerymen.

The Sunnyside Victory.

The British public is making the most of Colonel Pilscher's miniature battle. Unbounded tribute is paid to the prowess of the Canadian and Australian, and graphic accounts are published of the enthusiasm in Douglas as the victorious troops entered that place.

The report of the Associated Press with the flying column says: "The immediate result of Colonel Pilscher's success is the entire dispersal of the rebels who have been governing the country for the past six weeks. After Sunnyside was captured, the Torontos occupied the laager for the night and joined the main body the following morning, bringing the whole of the Boer wagons and loot, and leaving the Cornwalls in garrison at Sunnyside. The British force then started for Douglas, the Torontos bringing up the rear in wagons.

In the afternoon the troops entered the town unopposed and amid extraordinary scenes. The inhabitants were overjoyed and crowded about the soldiers, shaking hands with them, and when they learned that their deliverers were Canadians and Australians, the enthusiasm became frenzied. There were deafening cheers as the troops traversed the main streets, and it was almost impossible for them to make progress, the crowds being so eager to shake hands with the soldiers.

It appears that the mounted rebels evacuated the place on the previous night. The unmounted rebels are reported to be entrenched in the vicinity. Quantities of ammunition were captured and destroyed.

A dispatch from Modder River intimates that the Sunnyside prisoners will not be treated as prisoners of war, but as British subjects, caught in open rebellion.

At the Modder River camp the conduct of the colonials is greatly admired, and all are delighted that they have struck the first blow on the Eastern frontier since the battle of Magersfontein. It is believed the relief of Kuruman will quickly follow.

Small Force at Moltens.

Nothing further has been heard from Moltens, which was reported from Pretorius to have been attacked by the British this morning. So far as is known here there is only a small force there.

A dispatch from Sterkstroom announces that Dr. Buller, the Boer commander at Stormberg, has died of his wounds.

A special dispatch from Bensburg dated Tuesday, January 2, says a supply train without a locomotive was set in motion within the British lines near Colesberg, and proceeded so near the Boer position that it was impossible to recover it, and the Boer guns, therefore destroyed the trucks. It is suspected that this was the act of a traitor.

The total British casualties about Colesberg in two days were six men killed and twelve wounded.

MANY SICK AT LADYSMITH.

Believed the Garrison Must Soon be Relieved.

A POLICY OF DELAY

ANTI-IMPERIALISM ACTIVE IN THE SENATE.

Pettigrew Introduces a Resolution Concerning Philippines.

FINANCIAL BILL MAY WAIT

HOAR WILL BE HEARD FROM SOON.

Beveridge Walks with the President—Sulzer and Allen Aim at Gage—Plea for Silver.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

Washington, D. C., January 3.—It is apparent the anti-imperialists seek the center of the stage in the Senate. An effort to get the right-of-way for the financial bill was blocked by Senator Hoar.

The flurry in the Senate to-day was provoked by a resolution of Senator Pettigrew, calling on the President for information concerning events that are said to have precipitated the Philippine war. The Pettigrew resolution inquired if certain things were not true. This form of resolution was objectionable to the administration Senators. The request by Pettigrew for immediate consideration of his resolution was objected to and the resolution went over.

Senator Aldrich asked that the financial bill, because of its importance, be taken up and made the order of business until to-morrow. This aroused Senator Hoar, who demanded to know if discussion in the Senate was to be suppressed. The Senator's speech was testy. The incident showed that the imperialists are "gamey" and mean to debate, to the exclusion of the financial bill for anything else.

To-morrow Senator Pettigrew's resolution will come up, and the fight will probably be renewed. Senator Hoar's resolution is also pending for debate. The Massachusetts Senator is expected to talk at any time.

Senator Beveridge will be heard. The Senator visited the White House to-day and had a talk with the President. Later they went walking together. The Senator would not be proper to discuss the matters about which the President talked to him. Senator Beveridge introduced a bill to-day to pay the law firm of Porter, Harrison & Fishback the sum of $250, approved by the judge advocate-general of the army, for legal services rendered to citizens of Indiana during the civil war.

Sulzer Seeks Information.

Washington, D. C., January 3.—Representative Sulzer, of New York, offered the following resolution in the House to-day:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he hereby is, directed to furnish the House of Representatives as soon as possible with the following information:

"1. All letters, agreements, papers or documents between the Treasury Department of the United States and any person connected therewith, and the National City Bank, and the Hanover National Bank of the city of New York, or any person acting for them, or either of them, in the city of New York, or elsewhere, relating to the deposit of public funds, bonds or revenues, or to the purchase, sale or any other returns or business transactions now existing or heretofore had between the Treasury Department and the said banks or either of them.

"2. The amount of public money, bonds or revenue deposited with said banks, or either of them, by the Government for what length of time and the reasons therefor, and the amount of public money, or either of them, has paid the Government any interest on said deposits, and also how much, and all other information concerning the same, or in any way relating thereto."

McRae's Resolution.

Representative McRae introduced the following resolution:

"Be it resolved, That the United States hereby declare that their purpose in acquiring jurisdiction and control over the Philippine Islands, was and is to secure to the inhabitants thereof, as soon as practicable, after the suppression of the existing rebellion therein, a free, independent stable government, republican in form, and that the United States guarantee to the said islands the protection against all foreign invasion."

BOLD SAFE BLOWING.

The Regulators Called to Ferret Out the Criminals.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

Goshen, Ind., January 3.—The Lucky Brothers' drug store, at Wolf Lake, in Noble county, was entered last night by burglars and the safe was blown. Six hundred and ten dollars was secured. There is no clew except the tracks in the snow. The bloodhounds owned by Charles Jackson, at Ligonier, were placed on the trail and are following it.

On Saturday night the safe in the office of Dr. Moore, at Merriam, Noble county, four miles from Wolf Lake, was forced, and $125 was secured. It is believed that the same burglars committed both crimes. A large body of regulators in Noble county has been called into service to ferret out the criminals.

LAST OF A MURDERER.

Edward Cressinger, Nineteen Years Old, Hanged at Sunbury.

Sunbury, Pa., January 3.—Edward Cressinger, age nineteen years, was hanged here to-day for the murder of sixteen-year-old Daisy Smith, daughter of a farmer at Boyle's Run. Cressinger met his fate calmly. He was the youngest murderer ever hanged in the State.

The crime was committed on August 10, 1892, and was the result of jealousy.

PHILIPPINES QUARANTINED

ROOT TAKES ACTION AGAINST SPREAD OF THE PLAGUE.

War Department will Act as It Did Toward Cuba—A Conference Held.

Washington, D. C., January 3.—The War Department is taking steps to prevent the introduction of the plague into the Philippines, and Secretary Root to-day called into consultation Surgeon General Wyman, of the Marine Hospital service, to discuss the establishment of a quarantine system for the islands. It was decided that the War Department should adopt toward the Philippines a policy like that it pursued toward Cuba in the matter of the protection of health, quarantine system to the Marine Hospital service. The report received by both the State Department and by Surgeon-General Wyman from Honolulu confirm the dispatches relative to the existence of the disease. It happens, fortunately, that the Marine Hospital service has already two quarantine plants in the Philippines, while two of its surgeons are now on their way to Manila, so that little delay will be encountered in beginning to draw a rigid quarantine line in the islands.

Surgeon-General Wyman does not feel apprehensive as to the possibility of the infection of San Francisco from Honolulu.

PHILIPPINES QUARANTINED

Volcanoes and Gas Wells Shaken Into Life.

San Diego, Cal., January 3.—Reports received from the back country show that the recent earthquake has caused a number of strange happenings. The mud volcanoes on the desert near the Colorado river have become active after a long rest, and are now spouting mud again. The natural gas wells near Yuma are also in working order since the heavy quake. They have been lighted and the flame at night can be seen for many miles.

A correspondent from Moosa writes that a number of diseases were made in the ground at that place, twenty or more feet in length.

W. H. CURTIS, OF THE BUTLER CANNING FACTORY, MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS AS HE GOES TO CHICAGO.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

Aurn, Ind., January 3.—There was an excited throng of farmers at the Butler canning factory yesterday afternoon when it was discovered that W. H. Curtis, secretary and treasurer, was missing together with the cash. Mr. Curtis went to Chicago last Wednesday to collect from wholesale houses the money due the company. His return was expected not later than Friday. Falling to appear, an investigation proved that he had collected $1,300 from the wholesale people. The amount was tendered him by check, which he refused and he was afterward given two cash.

It is generally believed that he was waylaid by footpads while in Chicago, as he told the wholesale people he was going to the hotel and hence "take a train for home." Curtis came to Butler from Indianapolis and during all of his business transactions he had proven himself capable and honest. A more rigid search is being made to trace his whereabouts after leaving the Chicago wholesale house.

ARRESTED AT MATTOON.

Prominent Physician Charged with Causing Death of a Woman.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

Mattoon, Ill., January 3.—Dr. D. Winton Dunn, a prominent physician, has been arrested on a charge of murder, preferred by State's Attorney Andrew Jones. The arrest is the result of the inquiry of the death of Mrs. Anna Lester, which occurred Sunday at the home of Thomas Lidster, a farmer residing about four miles west of Mattoon, where she was employed.

It was stated by the woman before the jury that Dr. Dunn had performed an operation on her December 15. The persons concerned have borne excellent reputations. Dr. Dunn came here from Dequinta, Ill., a young man, where he had served as mayor of that city. Dr. Dunn and Lidster both emphatically deny the charges against them.

CRUSHED BETWEEN BUMPER

Nicholas Munier Loses His Life at Columbus.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

Columbus, Ind., January 3.—While making a coupling in the Pennsylvania yards this morning, Nicholas Munier was caught between the cars and crushed to death. He had just recovered from a broken leg, caused by a railroad accident. He was thirty years old and leaves a wife. His home was in Madison.

THE OLD AGRICULTURAL BOARD MEMBERS RE-ELECTED.

In Every District the Board is Unchanged.

DOWNING VIRTUAL WINNER

HIS ELECTION WAS EXPECTED AS THE OUTCOME

Some Plans of Both Factions Were Upset by the Unexpected Election of All the Men.

The new-comers were all defeated in the election of members of the board at noon. In most instances their victories were won by good majorities, although Cott Barnett, of the sixteenth district, pulled through by a margin of 35 to 29 votes.

Although the new board did not meet for reorganization until this afternoon the outcome of the election of members of the board at noon seemed to indicate the election of Charles Downing, of Greencastle, as secretary of the board by a majority of seven votes.

Some of the supporters of W. W. Stevens, Downing's opponent, had given up hope of Stevens' election at noon, although the re-election of all the old members of the board upset some of the plans of both factions in the board. It was also said that John C. Haines, of Lake, would probably be chosen for president of the board and J. E. LaGrange, of Johnson county, as treasurer.

The superintendent of every one of the departments was a candidate for re-election, and it was felt that most of them would be re-chosen.

The delegates this forenoon were all anxious to get to the business of electing members and officers, and obstructing business was quickly cleared away. When President Stevens called for nominations or members of the board, delegates W. M. Akin, of Evansville, was first to rise. He placed in nomination John C. Haines, of Lake, as a candidate from the first district. The name of J. H. Gwaltney, of Poseyville, Posey county, was also put in nomination.

Nominations then followed fast. Secretary Kennedy reading off the districts and delegates rising in quick succession to propose candidates' names. From the second district the names of Mason J. Niblack, of Vincennes, and James F. McCoy, of Petersburg, were placed before the board.

For the third district the name of W. W. Stevens, of Salem, was the only one proposed. For the fourth district the names of C. R. Worsall, of Bloomington, and I. N. Brown and E. A. Robison, both of Johnson county, were put before the board.

For the fifth district the names of H. C. Howland, of Howland's Station, and J. H. Prior, of this city, were named.

For the sixth district, Cott Barnett, of Laporte, and the Cunningham, of South Bend, were the only nominees.

For the sixteenth district, James E. McCall, of Ellettsville, and John Jones, of South Bend, were the only nominees.

The nomination speeches were brief, most of them consisting of only a few words. Jesse Owens, of Centerville, however, made a number of great length in placing in nomination Aaron Jones, of Callensburg, and in stating there was no opposition. Mr. Stevens was followed by Sid Conger, of Shelby county, who also made a long speech, and others, whose voices were finally drowned out by applause of the delegates, who were all in a great hurry to get to the business of electing members.

The committee on credentials in its report announced that there were sixty-two delegates in attendance. From the second district the names of Mason J. Niblack, of Vincennes, and James F. McCoy, of Petersburg, were placed before the board.

PRACTICAL FARM NOTES

WINTER WORK THAT MAY BE DONE WITH PROFIT.

Economical Use of Surplus Straw—Work in the Orchard—Coloring Matter for Butter.

Were there a surplus of straw the main idea in mind should be to return this straw to the soil in the condition that will give it its greatest value. Plainly the way to do this is to use it freely as bedding for the stock so that it will absorb the liquid portions of the manure, which might otherwise be lost. Usually this plan is followed, but most farmers decline to make the hog pen a place for any portion of the straw and therein miss much fertility that could be had for a little trouble. Where swine are kept on earthen floors, straw freely used will have its greatest value. It will assist not only in keeping the hogs clean, but absorb the liquid manure. When straw is used in this way care must be taken to remove it often enough so that there will be no danger of disease to the animals by reason of an accumulation of filth under the straw.

A Corn Carrier. Although the device shown here was built for the purpose of handling corn fodder in the field, it will be found handy where more or less fodder of any kind is to be carted and the horse and wagon can not be used to advantage. The cart is made with little expense, particularly if one has a pair of old wagon wheels about the place that may be used. The two side pieces are each fifteen feet long. The cross pieces are of lengths to properly fit and are joined as shown in the illustration. Care should be used that the material be strong but not too heavy. As will be seen, the second-hand pair must be bought at the cart will pay for itself in two or three seasons.

Points on Sub-Solling. It should not be assumed that because sub-solling is profitable on some farms that it will do to practice it under all circumstances. On farms where the soil is clay and within a foot or eighteen inches of the surface, sub-solling will, in ninety cases out of a hundred, prove profitable provided the sub-soil is dry in the spring. The object of sub-solling such lands is to make the soil more retentive of moisture and make more available the plant foods placed there by the use of legumes, which are plowed under. White or pipe clay soil, which is not touched with sub-soil plow. Then there are sandy soils so deep that sub-solling is only a waste of money. It deepens the sand, when the plan should be to stiffen or make it more heavy by turning under vegetable matter. If the soil is of an average, it would seem, might be benefited by sub-solling, will be ample to experiment with, and a fair result will be obtained. The results will be a trustworthy guide.

Seasonable Poultry Notes. While the warm poultry-house is necessary, hens will stand considerable cold weather, especially the small comb breeds, if there be no draughts. Comparatively little ventilation is necessary in the poultry-house during winter, when no heat is needed during the night. Air the house thoroughly during the day, when the fowls are in the yard or in the kitchen shed, and that will keep them in mind, that fowls catch cold much more quickly than humans, and that the small hole for ventilation is really worse than a large open window. Keep the fowls in the house during winter, and cold and roup will not trouble the flock. If the fowls do not have abundance of green food during winter, they can not be expected to do their best. Unsuitable potatoes, carrots and other roots, the outer leaves of cabbages, steamed out clover hay, apple parings or anything in this line will answer. The importance of green food will be apparent to any one who has watched fowls pick up grass and other green things during summer, and in line with the use of green food during winter is the use of more or less animal food to take the place of bugs and insects that the fowls obtain on the range.

Providing Against Freezes. It was determined long ago that the value of the snow on the ground to a considerable extent can not be overestimated. It follows, however, if snow is acknowledged as a protection, other protections in the power of man to apply should be provided. Naturally, a cover crop is the best and easiest thing to obtain. In all sections where freezing weather is an actual occurrence, the orchardist should make it a yearly practice to provide a cover crop. Those who are to set new orchards the coming spring should be warned to make the selection of varieties from those known to be the hardiest. With heavy varieties and cover crops, one is in a position to be fairly independent of snow as a protection to tree roots.

Winter Orchard Pruning. Except with very large trees and trees that require pruning in order properly to form them, too much pruning is done and too little fertilizing and soil working. It is frequently necessary to cut the lower limbs of large trees in order properly to cultivate the soil, but this pruning can usually be done by cutting off some of the overhanging branches, rather than removing the larger limbs. Winter is the time to do this, and the use of this heavy pruning on old trees, and any open days before the sap starts should be devoted to this purpose. When the limb removed is over an inch in diameter the wound should be covered with grafting wax or what is quite as good with a heavy coat of white lead and oil.

Coloring Matter for Butter. This winter, as in former years, numerous deaths have occurred through the consumption of butter, colored with materials into which petroleum in some form enters. Admitting that coloring matter must be used by the dairymen, the only safe plan is to use only as are purely vegetable. The color is not so high, it is true, and frequently the price is lower in consequence, but no one cares to be a party to the death of some innocent person.

Water for Fowls. Any one who has any knowledge of the constituent parts of an egg, realizes how essential water is to the fowls, particularly if they are producing eggs. It is not a pleasant task in winter to keep water vessels clean and free from ice, but if care is taken to give the fowls water at regular intervals, and after they have had their fill to remove what is left there will be no frozen vessels. In a previous issue, water as hot as the fowls could drink was advised, at least once daily, usually the last supply of water for the day. This will help keep the fowls warm during the night and do them a world of good. A veteran poultryman, who has had considerable experience with drinking troughs and fountains in the poultry yard and house, has a rough made of boards that is well worth copying. The trough is cut out from two-inch planks, are six inches wide and eighteen inches long; the side pieces of inch boards are six inches wide and the feet long, while the bottom is made of two-inch plank. The joints are made as tight as possible and covered with pitch inside. A sort of table is constructed of a two-inch plank, ten inches wide and two feet, four inches long. Legs, made of small poles, are fastened in each corner and are eight and one-half inches long. Then temporary wire nails are thickly driven into one side of the trough, and the fowls are made to walk over it. This table is set in the center of the trough and leaves a space four inches wide around it, in which the fowls may drink without getting into the trough, and thus clean water is assured at all times.

A WOMAN AS A FARMER

THE SUCCESS OF MRS. VIRGINIA C. MEREDITH.

One of the Best Known Stock Raisers in the State—Her View of the Farming Business.

Probably no stock raiser in Indiana is better known than Mrs. Virginia Claypool Meredith, of Cambridge City, Ind. Her home, widely known as "Oakland Farm," was originally owned by her husband's father, Gen. Solomon Meredith, who achieved fame in the civil war during the celebrated Iron Brigade. In its charges on the first day of the battle of Gettysburg.

General Meredith's only surviving son, Mr. Henry C. Meredith, inherited along with the farm, his father's love for agriculture and live stock. At the time of his sudden and untimely death, which occurred in 1882, his wife was left to choose between returning to her father's home or carrying on the business of farming and stock breeding. She chose the latter, "not," as she frankly says, "with any hope of success, but because work was the only solace within my horizon at that time." When congratulated on her conspicuous prosperity she added with characteristic modesty: "Indeed, with my exceptional advantages, I ought to have done very much more than I have done."

Her "exceptional advantages" consisted chiefly of a theoretical knowledge of stock farming, broad to be sure, but still only theoretical. Mrs. Meredith, who was Miss Virginia Claypool, in the daughter of a progressive Indiana farmer, Auntie E. Claypool by name, who believed in educating his girls just as he educated his boys, and a practical acquaintance with the life of a farmer, which he had learned from his father. He made companions of his children, and little Virginia he took with him on countless drives to pastures and fields, talking with her meanwhile on farm subjects. If this happy early life did nothing more for her, it at least accomplished two results—it laid the foundation for that superb health which has been no inconsiderable factor in her career, and it localized an intense love for the country and for country life, that is probably the keynote of her success. At the proper time, Mr. Claypool sent his daughter to Glenale College, near Cincinnati, at that time one of the best educational institutions in the West, where she was graduated with honor.

Virginia Claypool's marriage with Mr. Meredith was an angularly happy one. Husband and wife were comrades in the deepest sense of the term. With her husband, Mrs. Meredith learned the intricacies of the business of stock raising, becoming familiar at the same time with the very extensive literature of pure bred stock. With him, too, she became a stock raiser. The importance of the stock of the State of Indiana, as well as her native State of Indiana, with the most influential and advanced agriculturists and live stock breeders.

First Exhibitions of Stock. It was not till she began to exhibit her stock at the county and State fairs that Mrs. Meredith came conspicuously before the public. In many places such a thing as a woman stock-breeder had never been heard of, and as might have been expected, she sometimes met with criticism and ridicule. But she was not dismayed. For business reasons, she needed a reputation for her stock, and that reputation she determined to earn to the sacrifice, if need be, of her personal feelings. Last year she sold and shipped stock to Wisconsin, Minnesota, Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois, as well as her native State of Indiana. So pronounced had become her success as a stock-breeder, that in 1892 she was asked by the board of World's Fair managers to prepare a monograph of the live stock of the State of Indiana. She was also a member of the board of lady managers. In 1897 she was called by the board of regents of the University of Minnesota to organize the new feature of admitting women to its schools of agriculture. In speaking of this last departure, Mrs. Meredith said: "This I thought far from being as pleasant as farming. There are now sixty young women enrolled, with 230 men. The course is unique—broad enough to embrace home science in all its phases, including the study of horticulture, gardening, elementary agriculture, poultry and breeds of live stock. In fact, this is the one school in the world where the two sexes where women are fitted for the life they will lead."

In recognition of her standing as a farmer, Mrs. Meredith has this winter been invited to address farmers and breeders' conventions in New York, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Mississippi. She is a regular contributor to the Breeders' Gazette, the leading live stock paper of the world. She has recently delivered a series of lectures upon live stock before the students of Purdue University. Although Mrs. Meredith's success has made her one of the best-known business women of the West, it must not be imagined that she is narrow or one-sided. She takes the deepest interest in all the questions of the day, particularly in those which pertain to the advancement of womanhood. She has for years been the president of a literary club in Cambridge City, the little town lying nearest Oakland farm; and in 1898 she was unanimously elected to the presidency of the Indiana State Federation of Literary Clubs.

In personal appearance, Mrs. Meredith is a woman who would attract attention anywhere. Though unassuming to a degree, and quiet in dress and manner, there is an individuality about her, an atmosphere of inexhaustible strength, of calm confidence in herself—arising, no doubt, from her long habit of self-reliance, but never merging into arrogance or egotism—that stamps her at once as somebody some one else would make a handsome woman, tall, erect, and splendidly proportioned. Her English descent, however, is not without doubt by her wholesome outdoor life, has added the one remaining touch, in her fresh, rosy cheeks and her abundance of light-brown hair.

Women as Farmers. Mrs. Meredith firmly believes that farming is a vocation peculiarly adapted to women, first, because their "work is not discount on account of sex. A bushel of wheat brings market price; a cow makes as many or more—pounds of butter when owned by a woman, as when owned by a man. As another woman, she gives the fact that the profession may be easily learned, since every farm lies open to inspection, and there can be nothing secret in the owner's methods. That women have the necessary capacity for farming, she strongly maintains is not for a moment debatable. "If," she says, "a woman can make bread and direct some one else how to make bread, she can do the infinitely simpler thing—make hay. If she can make butter or teach another the delicate process that involves painstaking care and sound judgment, she can certainly accomplish the comparatively simple process of growing corn. If she can take care of boys and girls, why is it in comparison to maintain the health and promote the growth of cattle, horses and sheep?"

Farming, she says, furnishes those conditions of life which the average woman craves, a home, a safe and sure income, independence. She admits that there is no prospect of amassing a fortune, but she says that a woman can earn less for wealth in itself than do men; and that therefore the vocation has become one of the few open to women which are not already over-crowded. "The labor question has not proved a difficulty with me. I have had many 'climbers,' Mrs. Meredith said. "I am always able to secure good service at reasonable wages. I never bother about hands, and I never expect them to work more than ten hours a day, unless in very special cases. My motto is to get the most out of the man, and to pay him as a man's dollar, and will render a large number of whom I could place the greatest confidence. I would most gladly undertake to find fifty competent men for the person of John Noble, the two men are rival merchants at Rolling Prairie, and Noble, in addition to securing the indictment of Adams, is plaintiff in an action against him for $20,000 damages. The trouble between the two men has divided the village into factions, and estrangements have rent the little town in twain."

VILLAGE STRIFE. The Enmity Between Rival Merchants is Widespread. [Special to The Indianapolis News.] Laporte, Ind., January 3.—The grand jury has returned an indictment against E. R. Adams, trustee of Kankakee township, charging him with assault and battery on the person of John Noble. The two men are rival merchants at Rolling Prairie, and Noble, in addition to securing the indictment of Adams, is plaintiff in an action against him for $20,000 damages. The trouble between the two men has divided the village into factions, and estrangements have rent the little town in twain.

SCHEME LOOKS FEASIBLE. SALAMONIE RIVER TO FURNISH MOTIVE POWER.

Decatur, Ind., January 2.—A number of cities in this part of the State are interested in a unique scheme which has been projected to give them power for electric lighting, heating, power, etc., at a minimum cost.

At Hetney's Bend, on the Salamonie river, between Lancaster and Mt. Etina, in the southern part of Huntington county, the stream makes a loop, giving several miles out of its direct course. The distance across the neck of this loop is very little over a quarter of a mile, and it has been thought that by cutting a canal across this strip, and diverting the stream from its old channel, sufficient water-power can be secured to run a power house on the fall of the new channel will be about thirty feet.

It is expected that some trouble may be required to make an accounting with the money he had on hand and that if his cash balanced with his own books it was a matter open for investigation regarding any discrepancy that might exist with those of the auditor.

The scheme is being seriously considered by a number of capitalists of this and surrounding cities, and it is possible that a company will shortly be incorporated which will take some decided action in the matter.

In the case of a successful carrying-out of the plan, cables would be cut from the power station to the towns and cities within a radius of forty or fifty miles, and these places would be furnished with electricity at a very low cost.

A GOLDEN WEDDING. The Anniversary Commemorated by a Second Marriage.

Dillsboro, Ind., January 2.—Fifty years ago to-day, in Cincinnati, O., Miss Henriette Schwenkmeier and Mr. Henry Niebrugge were united in marriage, and to-day they are celebrating their golden wedding at their home here.

Immediately after their marriage they came to Dillsboro, and have resided here continuously ever since. They have three children born in Germany, the former in 1827 and the latter in 1829. They came to America in 1847, and have since that time raised eight children, ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild, in present to-day.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Clodas, pastor of the M. E. church, who was assisted by Dr. W. White, of the Presbyterian church, and the Rev. August Schaefer, of the Lutheran church. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Episcopal church was used.

BOYCOTTING THE LAW. Merchants Flatly Refuse to Bid on County Supplies.

Kokomo, Ind., January 2.—For the second time Kokomo merchants have flatly refused to bid on county supplies under the provisions of the new county government reform law. There is no organized "strike," but there seems to be general dissatisfaction with the new order of things. The county infirmary is in need of supplies, and the county auditor has indicated that he will draw no warrant for bills presented if the supplies are not purchased in full.

The county commissioners are at a loss to know what to do. They have already rejected all bids on the stationary supplies and advertised for new ones. It now appears that the combination of the printing houses and book manufacturers of this county, which competition can not be secured from other States, and that the excessive price of the lowest bid must be paid.

The County Council has been called to meet in extraordinary session next week in the hope of devising some means by which the county jail, infirmary and orphanage may be supplied in their pressing needs. A way can be found to comply with the letter of the law. An appeal will be sent to Attorney-General Taylor for light on the vexed problem.

WELCOMED TO THE C., H. & O.

LAST YEAR THE BEST IN THE ROAD'S HISTORY.

The General Manager Tells Why Improvements Are Held Off In This State.

General Manager Waldo, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, is in the city. He came here to meet President Woodford and with him he is making an inspection of the proposed line, which will connect the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton with the Indiana, Decatur & Western shops, where a great deal of the work for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton is done. Mr. Waldo stated that the company will soon put on another train between Lima and Hamilton.

"Our Detroit agent, Mr. Waldo, has become so popular that we can not make the time with it, because of the local travel and the heavy amount of express and baggage matter. It is important that this train make good connection with the South at Cincinnati, and this we have not been doing. The new train will leave Lima at 6:45 p. m., and reach Hamilton at 8:40 p. m., thus connecting with the train from Indianapolis and train 36 for Indianapolis. This train will do the local work and relieve the Detroit special considerably.

Mr. Waldo said that the earnings of the road for 1899 were the greatest in its history of the company. The expense of maintaining the track, etc., for the year was about $10,000. In this amount he has charged any expense for construction, and the intention this year is to spend a large sum in betterments, as a very heavy business is expected.

"Will your company ever build a passenger station at Connersville?" he was asked.

"I can answer that question like this: If Indiana will make our taxes on the same basis they are made in Ohio, I promise that we will make a great many improvements in this State, and so far as Connersville is concerned, we will build a passenger station there that the city could be proud of. The taxes are so high in Indiana that we can not afford to make the improvements that we would like to make."

TO CONTINUE THE FIGHT. Eastern Shippers Determined to Down the Railroads.

New York, January 3.—Railroads belonging to the Eastern trunk line pool have put in active operation the new freight tariffs, involving an advance of 10 to 25 per cent. in rates. Merchants of this city, not discouraged by the refusal of Attorney-General Griggs to institute injunction proceedings to prevent the introduction of the new rates, are determined to continue their opposition. They will first apply to the railroad and try to get a hearing by the classification committee which drew up the higher rates. They propose to show that the rates will not only be a serious disadvantage to the business shippers, since the advance on less than car-load lots is greater than on car-load lots, but that the new tariffs will tend to drive away business from this port.

Some of the trunk lines have received complaints from business shippers in the interior to the effect that if the new rates stand they will be compelled to ship by Baltimore, Charleston, Newport News, New Orleans and other southern ports, since the narrow margin on which they do business will not admit of any profit whatever under the new tariff.

Concerning Railroad Men. Alexander Straus has been appointed auditor of the Findlay, Ft. Wayne & Western.

Warren J. Lynch, general passenger and ticket agent of the Big Four, is in New York.

James J. Harris has been appointed agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, at this point, now joining the same position with the Northern Pacific at Milwaukee, and later on for Portland, Me. His aged mother dropped dead from heart disease, yesterday.

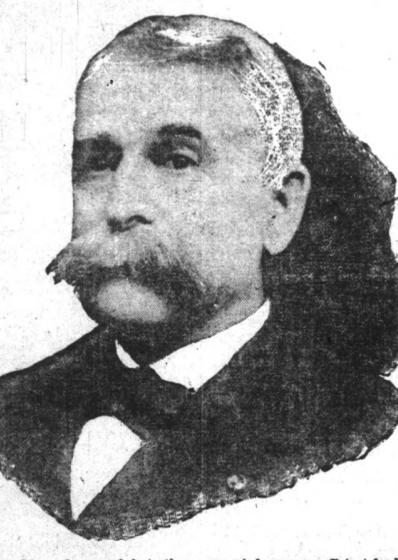

W. P. Deppa, assistant general passenger agent of the Big Four, is in the city. He is now on a tour of inspection to visit friends.

C. C. Mordough, formerly district passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, at this point, now joining the same position with the Northern Pacific at Milwaukee, and later on for Portland, Me. His aged mother dropped dead from heart disease, yesterday.

Work on the Southern Indiana. Minton, Ind., January 3.—The Southern Indiana has stopped all construction gangs on their extension from this city to Terre Haute until April 1. The road was completed through this city and extended beyond it for a distance of 1.5 miles north of here. The road, as constructed to this point, has the appearance of an old road being traveled and surfaced, and the extension will be running into this city by January 15, when the new station will be completed.

FOR LOST DIAMONDS. Hearing of Suit by Mr. and Mrs. James B. Carnahan. Evidence was heard by Judge McConaughy of the Superior Court, to-day, in the suit of James B. and Mrs. Carnahan against the Adams Express Company to recover $200, the value of a package of diamonds alleged to have been lost by the company in shipping. Mrs. Carnahan made a visit to her sister in Chicago, some time ago, and when she returned she forgot to bring her diamond earrings. Her sister shipped them to her through the express company, but they were never received.

WELCOME RICE DEAD.

Welcome Rice, who served forty-three years as a railroad conductor, and who was stricken with paralysis at his home, 103 North Alabama street, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

About a month ago Rice resigned on account of advancing age. He had been in the employment of the Lake Erie & Western forty-three years, except what time he was a union soldier in the civil war.

Before he became a conductor, Rice was a member of a surveying corps that visited the region in which he spent all his time as a conductor. He knew this country so well that a glance from the car windows was sufficient for him to tell the exact position of the train. During his service he had witnessed the development of middle Indiana, the birth and progress of many cities and the advancement of the territory by reason of the natural gas field.

Mr. Rice was personally known to nearly all who were familiar with the railroad, and was universally esteemed. His resignation was unpleasant news to many who had been associated with him, but his sudden death was not thought of. He left the service in apparently good health. When he retired he was offered other employment with the road, but declined.

WHOLEN BRIBERY CASE. JUDGE CANTRILL ORDERS WITNESSES TO FRANKFORT.

Frankfort, Ky., January 3.—The Louisville bribery case was before Judge Cantrill to-day. The officers of the Louisville Trust company had been charged with contempt for refusing to turn over to the court here the safety box said to contain $45,000 to be paid by Whallen to Senator Harrell if he voted against Goebel in the contest case. The response of President Loving to the rule admits that Whallen, Harrell and Ryan came together and rented a box and put something in it, but alleges that this is private property and not subject to court orders.

Judge Cantrill adjudged the response insufficient and that the box must be brought here. President Loving and other officers of the trust company were then ordered before the grand jury to give testimony in the case.

The governorship contest was re-accepted in the House to-day by a motion from Representative Haswell, of the Republican party, for the appointment of a committee of two Democrats and two Republicans to assist the clerk and witness the preparation of the returns from which the contest committee is to be drawn by lot to-morrow. The Democrats opposed the motion, on the ground that the law provides the manner of selecting the committee, and a partisan debate followed, and the motion was finally ruled out of order by Speaker Trimble. The notices of contests by Goebel and DeLoach were filed in each House and spread on the journals.

BLACKBURN THE NOMINEE. Kentucky Democrats Name Him as Senator Lindsay's Successor. Frankfort, Ky., January 3.—Former Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, in accepting a caucus nomination for United States Senator last night, declared his belief that the longest and bitterest fight ever fought for Senator in the State, which began four years ago (when DeLoach defeated Blackburn) was about to reach its termination.

Senator Farris made a short second to the caucus of the Democratic members of the legislature at the suggestion of Senator William Lindsay. He was placed in nomination by Senator Goebel, who he considered desirable. The material feature of it is said to be as to the marital relations existing between Roberts and Mrs. Maggie Shipp Roberts.

A telegram was received at the local recruiting office, this morning, ordering transportation to be furnished for William Shipp, a destitute soldier, who is on a furlough and wants to reach Ft. Apache, Ariz. Brigadier-General Anderson authorized the transportation furnished.

William O. Archer and John H. Barker, two alleged deserters, brought here yesterday by the sheriff of Hendricks county, were to-day ordered to Ft. Thomas, Ky., for trial. No recruits are now for the Philippines unless the men request it. All enlisted men are sent to Ft. Crook, Neb.

The notice of contest by Senator Goebel and J. C. W. Beckham against Governor Taylor and Lieutenant-Governor Marshall were served. Nine different public laws were introduced by the notice, the substance of which is as follows: 1. Alleged use of tissue ballots in forty counties.

2. Military interference with the election and intimidation of voters in Jefferson county. 3. Alleged unlawful issuance of martial law by Governor Taylor in Louisville on election day by which electors were compelled to sign false returns.

4. Intimidation of railroad employees by the Louisville & Nashville railroad in several counties. 5. That the leaders of the Republican party committed a conspiracy with the Louisville & Nashville railroad, the American book trust and other corporations to furnish large sums of money for the purpose of defeating the election of the Republican candidates.

6. Alleged unlawful issuance of mandatory injunctions in Knox and Lewis counties compelling county election boards to certify to false returns. 7. Alleged interference of United States marshals in the election, which was the result of a conspiracy between marshals and the Republican leaders to defeat the election.

8. That before the meeting of the State election commission on December 15, 1899, the Louisville & Nashville railroad, through its paid agent, John H. Whallen, entered into a conspiracy with the Republican leaders to bring to the State capital large bodies of desperadoes to intimidate and corrupt the electors and commissioners into giving the certificates of election to the Republican candidates.

9. That Governor Bradley had here for the purpose of intimidating the electors, etc. 10. That the Jefferson county election grounds were surrounded by armed threats of personal violence and incendiarism inspired by the Louisville & Nashville railroad, to begin returns which were not true.

The notice avers that any one of the grounds is sufficient to annul the election. John H. Whallen, who is accused by Senator Harrell of having attempted to bribe him by offering him $4,000 to vote against Goebel in the contest case, was taken before Judge Cantrill, by whom he was released on $10,000 bonds. The indictment will be filed by the grand jury within the next few days and the trial taken up as soon as it can be reached on this date.

A suit was filed in the Franklin Circuit Court against Charles B. Foynt, of the Goebel Democratic board of election commissioners and Commissioners Fulton and Yantis, and Commissioner Goetz and MacCoy, of the Taylor board. The suit alleges that the office of Foynt as election commissioner has been forfeited under the constitution, by reason of Foynt having accepted a pass.

To Extend Modus Vivendi. Paris, January 3.—The opinion has been expressed in official circles that the modus vivendi between Great Britain and France regarding Newfoundland would be extended for another year. There seems to be no disposition on the part of France to give up the territory. Britain's uncomfortable situation in the Transvaal to force an unfair settlement of a matter not regarded as vital.

Aristocracy. (Puck.) "Higgins never attends the primaries and moans." "The inauspicious parvenu! Why, less than ten years ago he was a day laborer!"

"I'm an old coffee drinker and the Empress Malobrey Java is the only coffee that reminds me of the grand coffee of thirty years ago."

QUADRUPLE AMPUTATION. THE ROBERTS CASE. A VOLUNTARY SURRENDER. Both Arms and Both Legs Cut Off at Once. (Special to The Indianapolis News.)

St. Wayne, Ind., January 3.—A quadruple amputation was performed this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital upon Monroe Walters, who was mangled yesterday by falling under a train. Twelve surgeons assisted, and both arms and both legs were taken off simultaneously. Walters recovered from the anesthetic, and avows a determination to live. He has remarkable vitality, and the physicians believe that he will withstand the awful shock. This is said to be the only known case where both arms and both legs were amputated at the same time.

Witness Sends Statement from Utah—Committee Meets To-Morrow. Washington, D. C., January 3.—A statement has been received from the remaining Utah witnesses who were to appear before the committee investigating the case of Mr. Roberts, of Utah, giving the substance of the evidence he would give if sworn by the committee. This statement will be presented to the committee when it meets to-morrow, and if Mr. Roberts concedes that the witness would so testify, it will be unnecessary to have him come from Utah.

THE SUIT DISMISSED. End of the Elliott Contest Election Case. The suit brought in the Circuit Court by Charles N. Elliott, Republican, to contest the election of John F. Decker to the office of city clerk, was to-day dismissed, at the plaintiff's cost. It was decided that it would be useless to go further with the case. The suit of John H. Wall against the election of W. C. Daly to the office of police judge will also be dropped, it is said.

THE WIFE MUST PAY. Judgment Against Her for Defrauding Her Husband. A jury in room 3 of the Superior Court to-day rendered a verdict for $100 in favor of Edenhart & Mull, who sued the wife of Henry T. Zwick for attorneys' fees for services rendered her husband.

INDIANA VETERINARIANS. Their Annual Session is Being Held at the State House. The Indiana State Veterinary Association began its twenty-second semi-annual convention at Room 12, State House, this afternoon. The convention continues until noon to-morrow, and a number of important papers will be read. The president, J. C. Klotz, of Noblesville, delivered an address reviewing the work of the association during the past six months, and making a number of suggestions for the betterment of the sanitary conditions and the treatment of contagious diseases. Officers will be elected this evening. Between twenty and thirty veterinarians are in attendance.

A Point in a Damage Case. A judgment for $3,000, recovered by the administrator of James L. Platt, against the Chicago & Erie Railroad Company, was affirmed to-day. Platt was killed at a crossing in the town of Markle, about eight days ago, by a passenger train. He was twenty-five birthday, and he was celebrating it by hauling logs to the sawmill. The noise of the sawmill, near the crossing, together with a blinding snow storm, prevented him from hearing or seeing the train which struck and killed him. In reaching the jury, the supreme court held that a person who approaches a crossing under such circumstances that he could not see nor hear an approaching train if he were to look and listen is not negligent in failing to do so.

Highest Courts' Record. The Supreme Court to-day handed down the following opinions: 1871. Lydia Brock vs. Jasper North, administrator. Delaware C. C. Appellee's motion to dismiss appeal postponed until final hearing.

1872. Lawrence Simpson vs. Pittsburg Plate Glass Company. Howard C. C. Appellee's motion to transfer to Appellate Court overruled.

1873. Albert Musser vs. State of Indiana. Elizabeth C. C. Motion to annul appellee's brief sustained.

1874. James T. Layman, et al. vs. Isaac Y. Brock, Greene C. C. Appellee's motion to dismiss appeal overruled.

1875. Chicago & Erie Railroad Com.

REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE FAVORS HIM.

Can Have the Secretaryship if He Will Accept—Chairman Herley is Surprised and Pleased.

If Warren Bigler, of Wabash, will accept the position of secretary to the Republican State committee he will be elected to the place. A quiet canvass of the members of the committee has been made, and Mr. Bigler is chosen the most likely man to be elected.

Chairman Herley was surprised to learn that a canvass of the committee had been made.

"Warren Bigler is one of the best and cleanest men in the State," said Mr. Herley, "and I would be perfectly satisfied to have him made secretary. He was a candidate for chairman, two years ago, and has served since as chairman, and a more loyal man never lived. We have been the warmest of friends for years, and he would give strength and dignity to the position. So the boys have about picked on Bigler? Well, I am very glad of it. They could select a better man."

The other active candidates for the position are Frank Jones and Acl Alexander, of Grant county; J. W. Egnew, of Lagro; O. M. Tichenor, of Terre Haute; Grant Mitchener, of Valparaiso; Will Converse, of Richmond; C. C. White, of Hamilton county; Charles R. Lane, of Ft. Wayne; N. U. Hill, of Bloomington; Dave Sherrick, of Sheridan; W. W. Huffman, of Anderson, and C. W. McGuire, of New Albany.

Chairman Herley is in receipt of a letter from Nick Filbeck, of Terre Haute, in which he says that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Landis and the Governorship. An intimate friend of Charles B. Landis said today that the Congressman had been asked to become a candidate for Governor.

Question of a Receipt. The persons who were considering the advisability of proceeding in the courts against the county commissioners because of the settlement made with Sterling R. Holt and W. H. Schmidt, ex-county treasurers, still have the matter under consideration with their attorneys.

Whist Club Election. The report of Superintendent W. O. Patterson, of the managing department of the Indianapolis postoffice, showed that during 1899 the department handled 67,724 pieces of mail.

Mike Kahoe Here. He is Now a Drummer—A Talk on Baseball Matters.

Mike Kahoe, crack batsman of the Indianapolis baseball team last season, now a cigar salesman, arrived in the city today from Cincinnati.

Year's Volume of Mail. The report of Superintendent W. O. Patterson, of the managing department of the Indianapolis postoffice, showed that during 1899 the department handled 67,724 pieces of mail.

Brief City News. A stereopticon entertainment will be given to-night at the Fourth Christian church, which commences at 7:30 o'clock.

Rich Variety of Trees. The hillsides of the farm are thickly set with pines of several varieties. There is probably not a place in Indiana that now has a greater variety in trees and shrubs than this farm.

TO CALL IT LAWTON PARK

SUGGESTION ABOUT MILITARY PARK'S NAME. An Act of the Legislature Would be Necessary—What is Thought of It.

Governor Mount was asked today what he thought of the propriety of naming the old Military Park after General Lawton. "I hardly approve of the change of name," he said.

Mayor Taggart—We have nothing too good for the memory of General Lawton. It would be as little as Indianapolis could do to use her efforts to have the grounds of Military Park changed to Lawton Park.

"I approve personally the proposed change of name," said Attorney-General Taylor, "but the authority of an act of the Legislature will be necessary. The constitution of Indiana, Section 3, Article 15, provides: 'The following grounds shall be the State Park: the grounds at Indianapolis, namely, the State House square, the Governor's Circle and so much of outlot 147 as lies north of the arm of the Central canal, shall not be sold or leased.'"

The name, "Governor's Circle," was changed by act of Legislature to Monument place, and the proposed name, "Lawton Park," must be fixed by the General Assembly, and not by the city of Indianapolis. Military Park can not be leased or sold without the consent of the Governor.

Assistant Secretary of Interior Now in South Africa.

New York, January 3.-A special to the Times from Washington says that it is reported that Webster Davis, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, will not resume the duties of his office and resignation is expected to be made in South Africa. It is understood that friction has existed in the Interior Department for some time, and that Mr. Davis' leave of absence was meant to mark the end of it.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The postoffice department has received a large number of formal Christmas and New Year's greetings from several European governments, including those of Denmark, Belgium, Switzerland and several British colonies.

The steamer Algon ran on to a reef in the Gulf of Mexico, and narrowly escaped destruction. She is believed to have been carrying four hours' worth of coal.

James H. Crafts has been elected president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to take place at the close of the year. He is a prominent engineer and his father, President Crafts, said his reason for taking the step was a desire to return to purely scientific occupation.

A landslide occurred on the west front of Mars Island, Vallejo, Cal., last night, and about 100 feet of the sea front slid into the bay, carrying with it tons of granite-work, cement and earth, and loosening 100 feet more of the wall. The break is believed to be due to landslides which have caused by the actual slide will be $75,000.

WARD HUNT DEAD

State Supreme Court. His grandfather, who located the town, which afterward received the name of Dearyville, was sent to that neighborhood by New England Quakers to take charge of the remnants of six tribes of New England Indians.

Ward H. Hunt removed when a child with the family to Rome, N. Y., where a foundry was established. In 1870 this family moved to Madison, Wis., where James H. Crafts has resided since the death of his father. He is now the largest vessel that ever visited Fond du Lac, Wis., carrying with it 100 tons of granite-work, cement and earth, and loosening 100 feet more of the wall. The break is believed to be due to landslides which have caused by the actual slide will be $75,000.

He is Burning Coal—Prompt Payment of Gas Bills.

Patrons of the gas companies have been so accustomed to the shortage in natural gas that they no longer carry their complaints to the city council.

It is related that not long ago a North Side citizen, who was not receiving sufficient gas, called on John H. Pearson, manager of the Indianapolis Gas Company, and remarked that he had about made up his mind to put on a meter.

It is said that between 150 and 200 men will be employed as soon as the company is ready to operate to the capacity of its present plant.

Government steam ships, the Boston, Detroit, and others, will be used for the purpose of carrying mail and passengers.

VISIT OF CHICAGO BOWLERS

A TEAM OF CRACKS CHOSEN FOR THE TRIP.

Blue Jay Interviews a Number of the Windy City Experts—Date is Suggested.

Chicago bowlers are ready to send a team here to meet a team representing this city. While the visiting team will be composed of the best bowlers of the Windy City, it is not probable that it would be generally admitted here that they are invincible. It was in Chicago last week and took occasion to get the sentiments of Chicago's leading bowlers, for the reason that there are many local bowlers who do not believe that a visiting team, coming in a spirit of friendly rivalry, should demand a price before agreeing to visit Indianapolis. If the Chicago team comes, it will be as a guest of the Indianapolis bowlers, who will pay all the expenses of the trip, and in return receive the same hospitality from the Chicago bowlers.

W. V. Thompson, Chicago's leading bowler, told me Saturday that he likes such an arrangement, although he is the manager of the All-Star team, made up of the champions of several cities. This team will make a six-weeks' tour, beginning February 1, and Indianapolis may receive it. However, Mr. Thompson should not, the visit of the Chicago team will be amply sufficient to "try out" the best bowlers of the world. Mr. Thompson thought an exchange of hospitalities desirable.

"I have many good bowlers in Indianapolis," said he. "It will not be difficult to provide a team that will give any Chicago team a run for its money."

A Team of Cracks.

Here is the team Thompson has in mind: Thompson, Worden, Brill, Banghart, Mayou. When I recovered my breath after hearing him name it, I found that Worden holds Chicago's best score, 99; that Thompson is its best bowler, bowling in four leagues, and having an average in all over 180; that Brill is an old-time Eastern bowler, who is a Chicago top-notch; that Banghart is another like Brill, and that Mayou is the former champion of Cincinnati. In addition to those, there are half a dozen others equally as good.

Mr. Worden told me he would gladly cooperate with Mr. Thompson to bring a team here. Mr. Brill also said that he would join in the plan. All treated a good deal of the afternoon with enthusiasm. It is suggested that the visitors play six games, three in the afternoon and three in the evening. It is also suggested that the local team be made up of the ten best players, and that each be given a chance. The ten would come from the three leading leagues, if selected by averages. The date suggested as most convenient to the Chicago team is two weeks from next Saturday. Next Saturday was first suggested, but it was impossible to arrange for it by that time.

Chicago is bowling crazy. There are 223 alleys in the city that are public, and those I visited were full to overflowing. At Mussey's, the largest (where there are seventeen alleys, and four more are to be put in) every alley was engaged, and they were thirty-five waiting checks out. At Anson's, the next largest, the condition was similar. Two other large places out from the downtown district were equally as busy. Chicago bowlers are peculiar. They are open to criticism. One safe criticism is that they are sliders. The alleys are marked with the heel prints of sliding bowlers, and the foul lines are marked with the passing heels. Chicago bowlers are wild-eyed men at the foul line. They are impetuous. This is because there has been an average of five bowlers in each league who have much to learn. There are twenty-five bowling leagues and fully 600 bowling clubs in the city.

Chicago leagues do not prescribe players in other leagues. A bowler in Chicago may bowl with one club in each league. The reason for this is that some bowlers want to bowl often than one night a week, and such a rule gives them the opportunity. Many doubt the wisdom of this. It is not practiced here, and the result at the end of the season will, no doubt, indicate the wisdom of the Indianapolis leagues. In Chicago the same group of men is to be found in the lead in several leagues. His bowling average is divided and admits of championship club contests, such as the Indianapolis News, which will include the best of the city, and three men were found in each of four champion teams.

All the bowling leagues resume play this week, after the holiday rest. No games have been played for two weeks. The Top Five League plays to-night, and the games scheduled are: Blue Labels and Nationals, at Marion alleys; Lenox and Meridians, at Washington alleys; Columbus and Stars, at Ontario alleys; Columbus and Stars, at Turner alleys; BLUE JAY.

DIXON-McGOVERN FIGHT.

Dixon Has a Strong Following—McGovern's Condition.

The next big fight will be the McGovern-Dixon contest, which takes place in New York January 8. McGovern, on account of his brilliant ring showing this fall, is now the favorite, but Dixon has a strong following, and as soon as his condition is known, the betting odds will be fixed. It has been a long time since he trained properly for a fight, as his championship apron looked alike to him. He is, however, a thoroughly alive fighter, and he can get into first-class fighting trim. McGovern is "right as a die" and will enter the ring confident and in superb fighting condition. Because of the fact that Dixon is the oldest champion pugilist in the country the fight is of much importance.

TRICKED INTO BETTING.

Fake Story Sprung by McCoy Men to Get Odds.

A wild story which found many believers among sporting men, and not a few papers, was sprung Friday in New York. It was to the effect that as McCoy had announced positively that he expected to retire after his fight with Maher, he cared more for the money than for the honor of the thing, and had agreed to let the Irishman win.

This accounted for the Maher money which went begging at tempting odds Saturday. Monday, however, the bunch of McCoy's friends who engineered the coup, so the story goes, found many victims at the ringside, and got odds without trouble. The game, however, did not hold, and the quick change in the odds were caused by the Maher men, who thought they were on the inside, weakening. McCoy men circulated the first story, as to the fight being "fixed." McCoy denied all knowledge of the report that he was to lay down, except what he read in the papers, and could not understand why Maher should risk favorite. The result cleared the Indianapolis fighters.

McCoy to Meet Fitzsimmons.

McCoy and Fitzsimmons met yesterday, and verbally decided that it was best to meet in New York. Fitzsimmons said that he would be willing to meet the Hoolier fighter in the ship. May preferred, and McCoy said he had been waiting some time for a chance at the former champion, and would gladly take him on. Fitzsimmons said that he would gradually get himself into condition, and begin training in earnest about six weeks. He will meet Jack McCormick next week in a six-round go. McCoy expects to arrange details in a few days.

Division of the Receipts.

It is said that the agreement was made between McCoy, Maher and the Coney Island club's representatives, when the fight was postponed until January 1, in regard to the purse. The club representatives were afraid that a $20,000 purse would be made good for the receipts, so soon after the holidays, and wanted to call the fight off. Neither McCoy nor Maher was willing and it was agreed that the purse should stand on paper and if it could not be made good the men were to fight for the receipts. The delay at the ringside was caused in part by the McCoy and Maher managers counting up the receipts. The entire receipts were turned over to the club, and the club officials paid the outside expenses. McCoy received $12,000 for his twenty minutes work, and Maher $4,000. It has been some time since the Irishman got $4,000 for an appearance in the ring, and as soon as he got his hands on the money he began to let go of some of it. McCoy told Maher yesterday that he would give him another chance within six months.

In the Roped Arena.

The fight between Frank Erna and Jack'Brien, for the lightweight championship of the world, has been postponed from January 26 to February 20.

Maher's claim that he had the best of McCoy in the four rounds, is believed on paper and if it could not be made good the men were to fight for the receipts. The delay at the ringside was caused in part by the McCoy and Maher managers counting up the receipts. Joe Bernstein has agreed to meet Terry McGovern, March 22, at the Coney Island club. Bernstein has strong hopes of being able to defeat the Brooklyn wonder, and says that if he does not do that he will surely give him a strong argument.

"Feller" Palmer's backers have plucked up courage and now say they are willing to back their man for $5,000 in a fight against McGovern, provided it takes place in England. McGovern will doubtless call their offer at once, as he has been trying to arrange a return fight with Palmer for some time.

Jimmy Blackwell and "Kid" Robinson have been matched for a ten-round contest, to take place at the Cleveland Club on January 22. Both men are local fighters of some reputation. Robinson has won a number of fights in the last few months, and after his contest with Blackwell will go East. He has been promised a match with Joe Gans, the crack Baltimore lightweight.

BASKETBALL CONTEST.

Y. M. C. A. Team is Ready for the Collegians.

The visit of the Yale basketball team to Indianapolis Friday will be of more than ordinary interest. The Yale team has been making a "two weeks' trip" through the West, and has lost but one game, that to the crack Fond du Lac team, which is considered the strongest in the West. Basketball is an old game in the East, particularly in the colleges, and the Yale five has held the intercollegiate championship for several years. The team will meet the Y. M. C. A. club of this city, which has not been defeated for two years. The Y. M. C. A. players have been practicing daily for over a month, and are in excellent condition. The game will be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and will attract large crowds, and those who have watched the local men at work think they stand a good chance of defeating the collegians. A victory over Yale would be a great triumph for the Y. M. C. A. team, and would give them a standing in basketball circles all over the country.

Baseball Gossip.

John I. Rogers, of Philadelphia, says that he is not opposed to a rival club in Indianapolis, provided it belongs to a national organization operating under the national agreement.

Walter Wilcox made an ineffectual effort yesterday to secure John Grim for the Indianapolis club. Grim still hopes to secure a berth in the big league, and told Wilcox there would be time enough to consider a minor league offer after the National League circuit had been reduced.

The receiver appointed by a Detroit court to take charge of the effects of the Detroit baseball club, to satisfy a judgment of $7,000 for alimony in favor of Mrs. Van Derbeck, will sell at auction the ground lease, contracts and claims says trophy pitcher, and baseball property he can find. Van Derbeck, who has expected to be the only bidder, will have lively competition.

Joe Beckley, the Cincinnati first baseman, will go to Hot Springs earlier than usual, to get into condition for the coming season. Beckley realizes that the circuit reduction will throw a number of young and promising first basemen on the market, and that unless he is up to date, even in the preliminary practice, he may find himself outside the breast-plate when the season opens.

The ownership of a baseball franchise has been a debatable question for years. Some claim that the owners of a club also own the franchise, and that the franchise is a tangible asset which can be turned into cash. Others claim that the franchise belongs to the league and is simply loaned to the club or that no sale can be made without the approval of the league managers, and that the league has the right to take away a franchise whenever it sees fit. This is the position taken by the Western League managers, and on two occasions this right has been exercised. The Louisville club, owned by the Louisville local capitalists, who are not members of the league, and the franchise was taken away from them. The same thing happened to the Louisville club, owned by the Louisville local capitalists, who are not members of the league, and the franchise was taken away from them.

Representatives of the National Cyclists' Association say that under no circumstances will they compromise with the L. A. W. on the racing question. The association now has the riders and leading tracks under its control.

There are twenty-seven American bicycle firms doing business in Paris, and they have monopolized the trade. Notwithstanding the high tariff, the French people demand the popular American wheels. The high tariff has shut out all of the cheap grades.

Buffalo has offered to take the 1900 L. A. W. meet if there are no other bidders, but the wheelmen of that city will make no elaborate promises in the way of entertainments. Milwaukee has offered to take the meet if Buffalo will take charge of the annual gathering.

L. A. W. officials say that the dissemination of the racing question has done more to the advantage of the league, and some of them are in favor of a complete reorganization along entirely different lines. It is with this end in view that President Keenan has arranged to have the good road movement taken up by congress.

General Sports.

Philadelphia and Terre Haute will probably be represented on the grand circuit next season. The Pittsburgh meeting will be sandwiched in between Cleveland and Buffalo and the Terre Haute meeting will come before the annual gathering at Lexington.

Casper W. Whitney, the Eastern football critic, both in the selection of an all-American eleven and the standing of the leading teams, again discriminates savagely against the clubs west of the Alleghenies. In neither his nor second team does he find a place for a Western player, and in classifying the different eleven he says the conditions governing football in the West are so different that they can hardly be considered. This implies that the Western players are not pure Americans, and hence can not class with the Eastern men.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS.

Ell F. Ritter Says Grocers and Clubs Are Included.

Capt. Ell F. Ritter said to-day that the result of the investigation of illegal liquor selling was not ready to be made public. When asked who the alleged violators were, he said they included saloon-keepers, druggists, grocers and social clubs. He said many grocers were selling liquors in large quantities without a county or city license. The Government license is the only one taken out, he said, and even if the grocers were to take out the other licenses they would still be violating the law by selling in rooms not facing on the street, or not in the name of a saloon-keeper. He also said many saloon-keepers were selling with licenses issued to other persons. Ritter said that he had seen many of these licenses in the hands of the clubs. Mr. Ritter said, is a great evil, as many men are led to the excessive use of liquor, and he would otherwise never think of drinking. The illegal selling by drug stores, he said, was increasing, and that many of them were selling with licenses issued to other persons. THE BLACK SPURGEON.

The Rev. J. L. Griffin Arranging for a Revival.

The Rev. J. L. Griffin, "the black Spurgeon of Texas," preached at Simpson's last night, and will be endeavoring to arrange for a ten days' revival for colored people of all denominations. He says he is known through the South, and that he has preached at numerous camp meetings, as "the sin-killer." "All over the country," he says, "there are still many colored people who are in their old-fashioned religious ideas, and they will sing and shout and pray until they are hoarse, and promise to give up the use of liquor, and I endeavor to reach with my sermons."

WESTERN ARTISTS' EXHIBIT.

The Society to Show One Hundred and Fifty Pictures Here.

The Society of Western Artists will have its annual exhibit of pictures in this city at Lehler's art gallery, under the auspices of the Indianapolis Art Association, beginning January 11 and continuing two weeks. There will be about 150 paintings of water color, oil and pencil, and about seventy-five artists whose homes are in twenty-five different cities. None of the pictures to be exhibited are left over from last year, all being work of the last twelve months. These will be carefully selected and promised to the exhibit will be the best the society has ever made. No price of admission will be charged.

Has Abstained for a Year.

Thomas Heston, a colored man, over seventy years old, has filed a petition with the probate commissioner, asking that the guardianship created for him about a year ago be vacated. The old man was found of liquor, and it was deemed wise to appoint some one to take care of his property. The probate commissioner told him if he would abstain from liquor for a year his guardian would be removed.

In order to stop drinking, Heston left his old haunts. He says he has been in Kentucky for a year, and has not tasted liquor in that time, having been in a part of the State where it is impossible to get liquor without a license. He says he is a member of the Methodist church, and that he would like to have some evidence of his reformation. To Be Declared of Sound Mind.

A petition has been filed by Benjamin F. Hayden, before Merie Walker, probate commissioner, to have Elizabeth D. Smith declared of sound mind, and her property restored to her. Mrs. Smith, it was alleged, was possessed of a religious mania, and her friends feared she would turn her property over to some religious institution, so they had the Indiana Trust Company appointed her guardian. Her estate is said to be about $2,500. Mrs. Smith is said to have a certificate from Dr. W. B. Fletcher, stating that she is of sound mind.

A Subject for Suspicion.

Persons living near Military Park are disappointed that the park commissioners have not taken advantage of the coming low temperature to flood the new toboggan slide and make it useful for the little ones, whose sleds are now idle. Complaints have been made to the park commissioners, and the toboggan will probably be flooded.

PENNSYLVANIA MINERS.

Reports to Mine Workers that 1,600 Men Are Out.

Reports received by the United Mine Workers from the central Pennsylvania region, where a strike involving 30,000 or more men is threatened, say that over 1,600 men are now idle. If the operators do not make certain concessions there will be one of the largest tie-ups known in several years, the mine workers say. There have been numerous meetings of the men at Clearfield and other points, but the operators have refused to concede anything to the strikers. The Pennsylvania coal field situation has changed materially since the joint conference of operators and miners was held in Pittsburgh last January. The Pittsburgh district sent 106 operators to that conference. Since then two large coal fields have been formed, one including the river interests and another which "took in all the rail shippers." AMUSEMENTS.

Sam T. Jack's Own Burlesque Company is underlined for all next week at the Empire Theater.

The Royal Box, which comes to English's to-morrow night. The company is well advertised in the Empire. Charles Harry Morris's Twentieth Century Maids, who have been entertaining crowds at the Empire Theatre since Monday last, will close their engagement to-night. Beginning to-morrow, Weber's "Parian Widows" will be at the Empire, the remainder of the week.

The act of Little Fred and his animals in the Fulgora show at the Park Theater will be a lone worth going out on a cold night to see. It is different from any other animal acts, and is certainly one of the novelties of the vaudeville season. Fulgora's stars will continue at the Park all week, and will be followed next Monday by the "Two Orphans," a new comedy, new to Indianapolis, in which the Blondells are starring this season.

If it were possible to first select the company, and then to write the play, taking into account the individuality of each member of the company, it would not be so frequent. Yet it would seem that this is what has been accomplished in "The Royal Box," which comes to English's to-morrow night. The company is well advertised in the Empire. COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Its Annual Meeting and Election of Officers.
