

VICTORIA, QUEEN OF ENGLAND, IS DEAD

Long Life of the Beloved Sovereign Ended at Osborne House To-Day.

LONDON, January 22, 6:55 p. m.—Queen Victoria is dead. A telegram from the Prince of Wales to Lord Mayor, timed at Osborne, 6:45 p. m., said: "My beloved mother has just passed away, surrounded by her children and grandchildren."

"ALBERT EDWARD." OSBORNE HOUSE, Isle of Wight, Jan. 22.—6:45 p. m. "Her Majesty, the Queen, breathed her last at 6:30 p. m., surrounded by her children and grandchildren."

"JAMES REID, "R. DOUGLAS POWELL, "THOMAS BARLOW."

The Queen is said to have bade farewell in a feeble monosyllable to her family assembled at her bedside at midday.

She first recognized the Prince of Wales, to whom she spoke a few words of great moment; then Emperor William and the others present filed past and heard a whispered good-bye. All those in the bedroom were in tears.

With the members of the royal family gathered at the Queen's bedside, the Bishop of Winchester, and Rector of Whippingham read prayers for her in extremis. Happily the Queen was able to recognize those around her. They came to her bedside, but the physicians had warned them against attempts to speak to her.

Naturally, the family, while recognizing the claim for public information, insisted that the details of the events around the death bed should be sacred for the moment and imposed the strictest secrecy on the whole household.

LONDON, January 22.—The following bulletin was posted at the Mansion House at 4:45 p. m.:

"OSBORNE, 4 p. m.—My painful duty obliges me to inform you that the life of our beloved Queen is in the greatest danger."

"ALBERT EDWARD."

In reply to the Prince of Wales's telegram, the Lord Mayor, Mr. Frank Green, dispatched the following:

"I have received Your Royal Highness' sad intimation with profound grief, which is shared by the citizens of London. I still pray that under Divine Providence, the irreparable loss to Her Majesty's devoted family and loyal subjects throughout the empire may be averted. Will Your Royal Highness be pleased to accept this heartfelt expression of my deep and sincere sympathy."

COLD AND RAINY.

Bad Weather Increases the Depression at Cowes.

COWES, Isle of Wight, January 22.—The weather is cold and rainy. Beyond the newspaper correspondents few persons were about the gates of the royal residence to-day.

EMPEROR FREDERICK III.

Emperor's Mother will Not Go to Osborne House.

LONDON, January 22.—The following statement as to the condition of Dowager Empress Frederick appears in the Daily Chronicle: "It is with sincere regret that we announce that the Empress Frederick's condition has become materially worse. There has been a serious development of the disease from which she is suffering and her physical pain is intense. All idea of any journey in pursuit of health has been definitely abandoned, and it is in the highest degree improbable that she will ever leave Coburg."

WATCHING THE BULLETINS.

Despair was Written in Faces of Queen's Subjects.

LONDON, January 22.—The gloomy faces of the crowds around the bulletin board at the Mansion House to-day indicated that the public had ceased to hope for better news from Osborne House. Men of all ages and conditions, women and even children, were content to spend a long time in waiting their turn to get within reading distance of the board. As the throng moved slowly past the board, those who were unable to get there personally sent messenger boys with note books and pencils to bring the text of everything posted.

The grief of all was evident and the relief announced at 8 o'clock was generally unappreciated. Never were there so many black ties in the city before the actual arrival of a time of general mourning, and nobody mingling with the crowds would doubt for a moment that everybody had a deep personal interest in the Queen's condition.

Parliament will Meet.

Queen Victoria died at 8:30 p. m. This, allowing for the difference in time between London and this city, would show death to have occurred at 12:45 p. m. Indianapolis time.

privy council and Parliament, the statutes providing that they shall assemble immediately on the death of a sovereign. The privy council will come together within a few hours. The ministers will attend give up their seals of office, be sworn, receive the proclamation of the new King, pass votes of condolence and congratulation and adjourn. After giving up their seals, the ministers will receive them back from the new ruler. The privy councilors will also be sworn afresh.

Parliament must assemble within twenty-four hours after the death of the Queen, in accordance with the precedent of the case of George III.

Emperor William's yacht Hohenzollern has been ordered to leave Kiel immediately on the receipt of the alarming reports something resembling a groan was uttered by the hundreds of people assembled and then some one started to sing the national anthem.

All heads were bared, and in a moment the crowds were singing "God Save the Queen" with a fervor, proving how earnestly they wished for her recovery. The passengers in passing carriages, cabs and omnibuses joined in the singing, the drivers reverently doffing their hats.

Victoria a Hard Worker.

The papers devote columns of space to historical and personal reminiscences and the business done by the Queen's life. Emphasis is laid on the fact that her Majesty paid the penalty for her devotion to affairs of state. It is generally recognized that until a few days ago there was no harder worker in the kingdom. Roughly estimated, she signed 50,000 documents yearly. No dispatch of any gravity was ever issued from the Foreign Office until seen by the Queen. The Foreign Office handles considerably over a thousand dispatches weekly.

After every sitting of the House of Commons, the government leader in the House of Commons was in the habit of forwarding to the Queen an abstract of the business done. She personally attended to these, and frequently returned them with marginal notes asking for explanation.

MANY SWEAR ALLEGIANCE TO THE UNITED STATES.

Gen. Frederick Grant is Busy Bringing the Filipinos Into Camp.

MANILA, January 22.—The disallowance by the Military Board of Claims of Holman & Co., merchants of Iloilo, for damage to and destruction of property during the period of assessment, which findings have been approved by Gen. MacArthur, establishes a precedent against recompensing for similar property in the territory in which the war operations were conducted. Some claims, notably those of the Manila & Dagupan railroad, which are now before the board will probably go to the Court of Claims at Washington, and, possibly, eventually to Congress.

The oath of allegiance has been administered in a church at Vigan to over one thousand persons who acknowledged they had contributed to the insurgent cause. Chaplain Fitzgerald addressed the natives in Spanish. The parish priest translated the remarks into Ilocano, and administered the oath.

About 400 persons in the vicinity of Malabon assembled in the church and on the plaza, having already taken the oath. General Grant has made many captures and arrests, including an insurgent scouting expedition of upward of fifty men.

Troops Coming Home.

Battery I of the Third Artillery has captured fifty armed men at Mun-Tin-Tupa. Various other minor captures and surrenders have been made in southern Luzon. The Eleventh Cavalry has arrived here on the transport Meade from Camarines. The troops will sail for home on the Saturday, February 1, as the Thirty-sixth Infantry. The men who are to sail Saturday were reviewed and addressed this evening by General MacArthur. He thanked the soldiers enthusiastically for the part they had ably borne in the history-making epoch in the Philippines. He said they had sustained the

GEN. HARRISON ON QUEEN VICTORIA'S DEATH.

"No other death could have excited so general a sorrow. There are persons in every nation—other than Great Britain—whose death would more profoundly move the people of that nation, but Queen Victoria's death will bring real sadness to the hearts of more men and women than any other. The drum beats for her dominions; the Union Jack was not the symbol of her larger empire. More hearts pained with love for her, and more knees bowed before her queenly personality than before the Queen of Great Britain, 'God Save the Queen' had become well-nigh a universal anthem. Heredity does not stay our quest for the real man or woman upon whose head a crown has fallen. Indeed, that has come to be the way of the world. The sovereign whose life is not clean, noble, sympathetic; whose personal character is below the best thought of his people, is not loved, and the powers of an unloved king or queen are shorn. I do not care to speculate as to the effect of the Queen's death upon European politics, further than to say that a mighty influence on the side of peace has been lost. The British people will find it hard to adjust their minds and hearts to a succession. There will be a disposition to make the pause unusually long after the first member of the proclamation, 'The Queen is dead.' But the other member will follow, and 'Long live the King!' will be spoken resolutely by Britons everywhere. Among other things, Secretary Root read the first report of the Tariff Philippines commission, which reported progress at many points. Secretary Root seemed to think that the conditions are very decidedly improved in the Philippines, and that the prospects for a speedy settlement of existing troubles are bright."

MARBLE OR GRANITE

Either Would be Better than Limestone.

WINNING ARCHITECT TALKS

THINKS BEDFORD STONE HAS A SPONGY APPEARANCE.

He Would Not Object to Increasing the Appropriation to Two Million Dollars.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.) WASHINGTON, D. C., January 22.—J. M. Rankin, architect, says he will consent to the people of Indianapolis with reference to the material of which to construct the new Federal building. "The plans," he said, "were made with the Bedford limestones in mind. At the same time, the building really ought to be made of marble or granite. These would make the style of architecture better. The limestone is very serviceable, but it looks rather spongy. The lime cement, too, would have to be used, as the other would stain. In any case, granite would be used for a distance of six or seven feet from the ground.

"It will take more money for marble or granite, unless there is some good granite in Indiana. Of course I am not adverse to increasing the appropriation and making a $2,000,000 building."

Mr. Rankin does not know what day he will start for Indianapolis.

PLANS OFFICIALLY ADOPTED.

Refusal to Reopen Federal Building Plans Competition.

A telegram from Washington this afternoon announces that Secretary Gage to-day notified Rankin & Kellogg of Philadelphia, that their plans for the Federal building have been officially adopted.

Yesterday afternoon an application was made to the Secretary of the Treasury to reopen the competition, but the application, advised from Washington, was promptly refused.

It is announced that either Mr. Rankin or Mr. Kellogg will come to Indianapolis at once to look over University square, so that the firm may be prepared to make its working plans.

WAR ON THE WHITE MAN

SERIOUS UPRISING IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

The President Notified that Creek Nation will Take Care of Its Own Affairs.

EUPAULIA, I. T., January 22.—Reports have been received from the country west of here of fresh outrages, perpetrated by the Creek Indians, known as the "Snake bands," who are arresting and whipping the more conservative Indians. They have revived the ancient Creek laws, and are taking filing papers from Indians who have filed on allotments. Indians who have filed papers are whipped, and told their ears will be cut off for the second offense. So far there have been no second offenses, for the victims are entirely without protection.

The United States authorities have been appealed to. The reports state that the Snake crowds are even whipping the other Indians for renting land to white people. The insurrectionary Creeks have "officially" notified President McKinley that they have taken the Creek national government into their own hands, and will run the government without reference to the United States in the future. The notice was in the nature of an ultimatum.

The country west of here is terrorized. The insurrectionists are arming to the teeth, and are collecting heavy fines in cattle and property from the conservatives. No whites are as yet menaced.

A detachment of the light horsemen of the Snake band rode into Eupaulia and posted unsigned notices to the following effect: "Creek Ground, Creek Capital. To whom it may concern: From now on all Indian citizens employing white labor shall be fined $100 and shall receive fifty lashes on the bare back; also, all persons renting land to white tenants. Any improvements made in the Creek nation by white men shall be confiscated and become the property of the Creek nation."

A CALL FOR TROOPS. White People in Territory are Arming Themselves. MFKOGEE, I. T., January 22.—United States Marshal Bennett has requested that Federal troops be sent to his assistance in an endeavor to suppress the warring Creeks. The white people are arming for self-protection. The Creeks are led by "Crazy Snake," from whom the band takes its name.

FIGHT IN THE HOUSE.

The Kelley Drainage Bill Causes the Trouble—Routine Work. A lively fight was expected in the House this morning when House Bill No. 28 (Mr. Kelley), repealing the Circuit

A pleased smile stole over the faces of Indiana's lawmakers in both Houses this morning, when the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant-Governor in the Senate announced that they had signed the bill appropriating $100,000 for the expenses of the General Assembly. The rule was caused by the general impression that now the Legislators might draw their salaries and pay the various bills that have been accumulating against them. But they were doomed to still another day of poverty, for though the Governor also signed the bill, the fact that he had signed it was not communicated officially to either House, and so the presiding officers, having no official knowledge that the bill had been signed, can not legally sign warrants for pay until to-morrow. There were many who complained bitterly of the red tape which kept the check from walking. The House met for only an hour this morning, adjourning at 10 o'clock, because there was no more business on the desk of the Speaker. The Speaker suggested that the committee get down to work and remove the necessity for adjournment. The House adjourned until 12:30, the day called through, for the introduction of bills, and a few new measures were offered. Various committees made reports on measures considered yesterday afternoon and last night, and the reports were all disposed of.

There was a small-sized fight in the House over the Kelley drainage bill, though at first the battle seemed likely to be fierce. The Kelley bill would repeal the Circuit Court drainage law, and Mr. Kelley was elected in a nominally Democratic district on his promise to bring about this legislation. Because of this fact the Democrats had caused against the bill, and were planning to kill it this morning, with the help of some Republican votes from the ranks of the Statesman men. The bill came up, but Mr. Kelley carried it in spite of the Democratic opposition and the votes of a few Republicans. The Senate was so industrious that it finished in session until 12:30, the desire to introduce new bills prolonging the session beyond the usual time of adjournment. Twenty-eight new bills were introduced. There were also numerous committee reports at the opening of the session.

A Long Senate Debate. The first discussion of any consequence on the floor of the Senate took place this morning on the bill of Senator Wood admitting persons convicted of a crime except murder, manslaughter and treason, to bail pending appeal until the Supreme Court has passed on the case. There was a divided report on the bill by the judiciary committee, the minority report being against the bill. Senators Binkley and Brooks spoke for the minority report, and Senator Wood, who is joined in the discussion, which at times was hot. Senator Brooks indulged in a flight of oratory, which came near carrying his motion to adjourn. The bill was won over from the majority report, which he signed, to a support of the minority report. The majority report, however, was adopted by a close vote. Later the same matter caused some what of a squabble, Senator Brooks stating that some of the Senators were in doubt as to how they had voted, and asking that the vote be verified. A dozen Senators jumped to their feet with points of order, and a motion to adjourn was made and lost. The Chairman declared Senator Brooks' request out of order because business had intervened since the vote was announced. The report by the judiciary committee on Senator Harrison's bill making electrocution the legal method of execution. The minority report in favor of the bill was adopted. Lieutenant-Governor Gilbert announced from the Chair that he was opposed to the policy of suspending the rules for the purpose of passing bills out of the regular order. He said it was his belief that if Senators would allow things to take their course and bills to come up in the ordinary way time could be saved and much more accomplished in the long run. Committees of both Houses held numerous meetings this afternoon and prospects were for a rush of business to-morrow.

SINKING FUND FOR THE CITY. The News has long urged the creation of a sinking fund for the payment of the city debt. We are glad to know that an effort is to be made again this year to secure the passage of a law by the Legislature under which such a fund can be created.

There are times of great public improvement when debt-making is wise, in order that the industry of future years may bear its share of the burden. But it is certainly unwise to run in debt for current expenses, and unwise to make no provision to pay debts. And yet for years we have been carrying the burden of debt without hope of relief.

THE MILITARY QUESTION. There can be no possible dispute as to the correctness of the position that a member of the Legislature who travels to and from his home on a pass is not entitled in fairness to any mileage from the State treasury.

THE MINERS CONVENTION. The miners are entitled to a hearty welcome. An Secretary Woolen, of the Commercial Club, said yesterday, the convention last year was so much appreciated that the Commercial Club promised the miners if they came back this year that the hall should be provided, rent free.

THE UNITED MINE WORKERS. The United Mine Workers last year illustrated admirably the great and conservative uses of a body of organized labor. They had to take the initiative in a trying situation. They did this with a maturity, a conservatism and a persistence worthy of all praise.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION LAW. It is intimated that there is a probability that the Legislature may refuse or fail to enact a primary election law. Of course, it is true that the subject is one of some difficulty, and it may not be easy for the Republicans in the Legislature to agree on a measure.

THE AMERICAN WINDOW-GLASS COMPANY. The American Window-Glass Company is to close its plants about two months earlier, this year, to "curtail production and maintain prices." The shut-down will affect about 30,000 men.

THE WOLF. The wolf came sniffling at the door. But the wolf had prowled on my track before. And I had seen his eyes always there. Only made me laugh at his devilish will.

THE WOLF. I strove my eye and read my book. And I found my soul at my little book. His eyes and his snarl were always there. But my heart was not the heart of a hare.

THE WOLF. I cursed the beast and drove him away. The cases with the fall of night each day. And his snarl, still and the night light through. I could not see the winds that blew.

THE WOLF. And the time came when I laughed no more. But I gazed with fear at my frail lodge door. For now I knew that the wolf was at my door. And I was alone with my little book.

THE WOLF. A crash, and my door flew open wide. My strength was not as the beast's at my side. That night on my hearthstone cold and bare. He looked his jaws and made his lair.

APPETITES

Created and Maintained by Vinol.

THAT THE FOOD IS DIGESTED IS ALSO EQUALLY NECESSARY.

We Recommend Vinol as an Appetite Creator

WE GUARANTEE THAT VINOL WILL AID DIGESTION.

Vinol is the greatest aid to digestion that we have ever known.

Vinol contains the active curative principles that are found in cod liver oil, without any oil or grease.

These medicinal elements act so favorably on the stomach that the organ obtains for itself the elements necessary for creating new flesh, muscle tissue and for making rich, red blood.

When the stomach acts easily and naturally, a desire is created for good, simple food, and a good appetite is the sure result.

With cod liver oil as formerly taken the medicinal elements which it contained were too often unable to counteract the harm that was done by the obnoxious grease that enveloped them.

Now that in Vinol we have those same elements separated from the vile-tasting fat, we have a tonic and restorer that is simply marvelous in its action.

The following is a letter that will explain itself:

"This is to certify that I have used six bottles of Vinol, and have found it of great value as an appetizer and tonic in general. I have received so much benefit from its use that I gladly furnish this testimonial in order that others may be induced to give it a trial and prove to themselves its restorative powers."—Mrs. Elizabeth Feeney, Waterbury, Conn.

We want every one in this place to know more about our Vinol, how it cures and what it cures. Certainly the greatest tonic and restorer we have ever sold.

We, therefore, cordially invite any one interested to call upon us; any we want all to bear in mind that we will gladly refund to any one who is not satisfied with the action of Vinol every cent they pay for it.

The Symphony Concert

The concert given last night by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra was, in some respects, the most brilliant in its history. The audience was uncommonly large; the orchestra did admirable work throughout, and at times surpassed all its former achievements, and the soloists, Harold Bauer, outranked any soloist heard at previous symphony concerts.

The Scotch symphony of Mendelssohn, which occupied the first part of the program, was an excellent choice. Every one likes the Scotch symphony. The "Pine lovers," as they call themselves, like it because it overflows with field, lovely melody that can be enjoyed the instant it is heard; and the musicians like it, not only for this superabundance of melody, but because, while classic in outline, it still displays romantic tendencies, and is an interesting example of the earlier effects of the romantic wave. Mr. Schneider read it last night as it is usually read, but the conventional pauses between the successive movements, Mendelssohn, we are told, intended in this point to make an innovation by omitting the pauses, but the conductors have steadily ignored his wish, probably for the very good reason that Mr. Schneider points out, he forget to bind the movements closely in content, so that there exists a real reason why they should not be separated by the customary pauses.

The curious incident might find in the playing of this symphony on last night's program a noteworthy coincidence, for somewhat less than sixty years ago it was dedicated by its composer to the Queen whose death is now hourly expected, but who was then young and happy in the companionship of the prince consort. Mendelssohn visited the Queen shortly after her performance of the second and it had received by the London Philharmonic Orchestra, at which the scherzo especially was rapturously received, and had to be repeated. The story is best told by Mendelssohn himself in his letters.

In its performance of the symphony, the orchestra showed that it was a musically body of players, with a leader who has a firm grasp of the work, and who will be heard in every note he plays. The most evenly excellent playing of the "Scotch" color in the symphony; it was strong, close knit, and the body of tone, excepting some imperfections in the wood-work, was pure and homogeneous. There was manifested a right good spirit, too, that did not stop at mere note-playing, but played the music that is, played it intelligently, melodically, and with a sense of the composition—there is really not a great deal—was realized. Mendelssohn himself gave the name "Scotch" to the symphony, and regarded it as a record of impressions made of a long-remembered trip to Scotland—the same trip that produced the "Hebrides" overture. But if it had not received this name, would it not be called "Scotch," except in its scherzo? There, plainly enough, the melody, sounded apparently by the bagpipes, for, like the music of that instrument, it has a strong, clear, ringing, and no end, but are just what Mendelssohn had supplied a program of tone-coloring. And after the flute, which has done its share in this touching adagio a "coronach" for a Highland chief.

The Judasohn serenade, for strings and flute, especially in the march, the music and the instrument was of fascinating beauty. Most artists of their principal, Mr. Dykema, have given a number of ambitious programs, will be given this evening at the school building at 7:30 o'clock.

PLENTY OF SPACE.

Officials Here Will Ask Architects for Liberal Allowment.

The architects of the new Government building are expected to be in Indianapolis before the week is ended, and the Government officers here, although they have no information as to the day the visitors will come, are preparing to give the designers of the building their ideas as to the amount of space that should be allotted to different departments. This information was written out some months ago and sent to Washington, but at that time it was thought the Government would draw its own plans for the building.

When the architects come to the city it is thought their object will be more to examine into the requirements of the postoffice, the United States Court and other Government branches, than to look at the ground the structure is to occupy. Every department of the Government will urge the architect to give it a much larger amount of floor space than it now has. This increase is not only desired for present needs, but the Government officers say, the architects should look ahead fifty years or more, and provide for the needs of the future.

This can be determined pretty definitely, they say, by ascertaining the growth of Government business here in the last fifty years.

The organization complete. When John T. Brush signed the agreement between the National League and American Association, the last step in the organization of the latter body was complete. The agreement had already been signed by Soden, Robinson, Freedman, Hart and Rogers, the other members of the league circuit committee.

It recognizes the importance of having a permanent organization to uphold the rights of clubs to reserve and dispose of players under certain conditions; and agrees to support the National League and accept the baseball laws as laid down by that organization. It petitions formally for the removal of the clubs' laws upon for its circuit.

Ban Johnson in Boston.

President Johnson left Philadelphia for Boston last night, accompanied by C. W. Somers, of Cleveland. An effort will be made to organize a local stock company in Boston to control the American League team in that city. If unsuccessful in this, Franklin, of Buffalo, and Somers will shoulder the burden. Johnson said that he would be in Boston for a few days, and that he would be in Philadelphia for a few days.

At the meeting of the Indianapolis Literary Club, last night, Lucius B. Swift, president, the evening was taken up with a consideration of the character of William F. Many things were said concerning his charming and interesting personality, and a number of illustrative anecdotes were given in remarks made by twelve or fourteen members, among whom were President Swift, Dr. Edison, Fred D. Brown, John L. Griffiths and W. A. Ketcham. A committee was appointed to prepare a formal portrait of Mr. Fishback for the club rooms.

Taken to Prison.

Burns Goes to Jeffersonville—No More Angel Demonstrations.

Arthur Burns, who has been seeing all sorts of angels since his arrest for stealing a diamond ring, and has been loudly proclaiming his visions both in the jail and court room was this morning taken to the Indiana Reformatory at Jeffersonville via the Lehigh Valley Railroad, with one to three years. He went quietly with Deputy Sheriff Comer, leaving the angel behind him. The insanity investigation was dropped, it being generally agreed that Burns was shamming. His "angel" record was against him, he having had similar attacks when in trouble in other cities.

Embezzlement Charge Dismissed.

Now Up to Club Owners

They Hope to Secure League Stars for Managers.

And Thus Push Association Right Along—Watkins Going to Detroit to Help Koch.

President Watkins said to-day that the organization of the American Association was now complete, and that it remained with the individual club owners to make the venture a success. The next important step will be the selection of managers for the different clubs, and it is likely that National League players will be offered the management of at least four of the teams in the association. It will be necessary to get the consent of the National League owners in this matter, but it is believed that the association promoters were promised help in this matter by the members of the National League circuit committee, who were in New York last week.

President Watkins said that he thought nine out of ten of the National League players would prefer to stay with the association clubs rather than go to the American League, provided the salaries were the same. He has already received letters from several players who now belong to the National League, stating that they would like to play with some one of the association clubs. While the National League clubs will not cut their playing force down to the sixteen limit until April 1, it is thought that many of their surplus players will be allowed to sign with the association clubs before that time, and it will not be long before the public can begin to get a line on the several teams in the organization.

A. H. Koch left last night for Detroit to look after the affairs of the club. He will probably be joined there in a day or two by President Watkins, who will assist him in the selection of a manager. Watkins has more friends in Detroit than any other manager in the association, and he will be able to give Koch the best of the club. Koch is a man of great ability, and he will be able to establish himself in that city.

The Baltimore Fight.

National League Will Try Hard to Crush McGraw and Robinson.

A dispatch from Baltimore says that city will be the scene of a fierce battle between the American League and the National Association, William Clarke, who has secured the American Association franchise, is said to be backed by Hanlon and Von der Horst, the former National League club owners, and they are prepared to make a vigorous fight on McGraw and Robinson, the American League magnates in that city. Several of the crack Brooklyn players will be turned over to Manager Clarke and he will also be assisted by the Philadelphia club. The National League clubs will not cut their playing force down to the sixteen limit until April 1, it is thought that many of their surplus players will be allowed to sign with the association clubs before that time, and it will not be long before the public can begin to get a line on the several teams in the organization.

The association has secured control of Union Park, the old National League field, and the American League magnates will have to go beyond that park to secure grounds. J. J. McGraw says he is aware that the National League will try to put him out of the business next season, but he is not worried. He has promised whatever assistance he may be able to give to the American League, and he expects to hold his end up in the hottest fighting of the season. It is not unlikely that the schedule will conflict to the greater part of the season and it will be a question of which club puts up the best team. McGraw says he has already signed six men for his American League team.

The Pittsburgh Trouble.

Messrs. Dreyfus and Pulliam have returned to Louisville. The former will be here to talk freely of his trouble with Kerr and Auten, of Pittsburgh. After referring to the Pittsburgh team's success last season, and claiming that he and Pulliam were responsible for much of it, he said:

"I have no desire to stay where I am not wanted, but I have $7,300 invested in that team. As president I demonstrated that I could protect my own and the interests of the other owners. This was more than the former president, and I propose to look after my own money, and, if possible, to compel the owners to give me a share in the profits. I am not going to let my own interests as long as I can. I am still president of the Pittsburgh club, and so far my opponents have not found a way to depose me. I am now going ahead with plans for next season and expect to have a winning team regardless of the efforts of Kerr and Auten."

Young Cotton Planter.

Interesting Result of His Back Yard Cultivation.

Out in East Tenth street there is a small boy who treasures above all his other youthful possessions, a few pods of fleecy white cotton—the proofs of his industry in the back yard. Last April Raymond Kiser, the thirteen-year-old son of Mrs. Simon Kiser, planted in his back yard, at 229 East Tenth street, a few seeds of cotton. He has now brought to him from Texas. The seeds sprouted, and the boy watched the plants grow well before the first frost, the pods which hung on the bushes burst, and the white cotton was ready for harvest.

THE WINE ROOM EVIL

A Sample of the City's Beer Gardens.

PRINCE GEORGE OF WALES, THE HEIR APPARENT.

It is doubtful if any evil in the city has become as widespread as that caused by the wine rooms, beer gardens and road houses, which are now more numerous in Indianapolis than ever before. Within a few blocks of Monument Place can be found not less than twenty of these places, and there are not a few young men and women that owe their downfall to the existence of these resorts.

In most of the gardens the law is observed in regard to the hour of closing, but many of the wine rooms are seldom, if ever, closed. There is much comment regarding the beer garden and wine-room evils as they exist in this city, and suggestions are often heard of means to suppress them, or at least keep them under such close police surveillance that their influence over innocent persons would be checked.

At the tables of these places men, women and girls congregate every night. Introductions to the women are not necessary, and in city they are seated alone, any one has the privilege of joining them and ordering the drinks. The revenue of the proprietor of the garden comes from the sale of intoxicants, and most of the women consider it their duty to help him along by drinking all that is offered them, for the privilege of "loafing" in the place. Once in a while a "well-guy" with money comes in, and he promptly receives the votes of all present as a popular fellow. With arms skinned or with their elbows on the tables supporting their chins, the women wait impatiently for some one to join them and order the drinks, and should a man in their company be dilatory in spending his money, he is promptly dubbed "short stick."

She Had Been Insulted. At one of the tables last night were seated three women, with four or five men, and beer was coming fast. Finally one of the women jumped up and said, pointing her finger at one of the men: "That's the seventh time that slab has insulted me, and I'm not goin' to drink with him any more."

The man in question did not seem to be least disconcerted, and replied: "Ah, sit down here and lap up your beer, and ye'll forget yer troubles."

The woman applied a few choice epithets to him and went away, but her first shout got the better of her determination, and her feet were soon under the table again.

This garden is no worse than the majority of similar places in the city, and is orderly, compared with some. The police walk through several times during the evening, and when they are seen, the patrons become quiet and the profanity ceases.

There are few, if any, fights in the place, as a rough house are strictly against the rules. In case of trouble, the proprietor, bartender and "beer-slingers" take matters in their own hands, and troublesome visitors are shown the exits. One of the rules posted in a conspicuous place and strictly observed is: "Ladies must not walk through the bar room."

DANVILLE ELECTRIC LINE

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS PETITIONED FOR A FRANCHISE.

Western Indiana Railway Company is the Petitioner—To Use Rockville and National Roads.

The Western Indiana Railway Company has petitioned the county commissioners for a franchise for the use of the National and Rockville roads, for an electric line to Danville which it proposes to construct.

The line, as proposed, will use the tracks of the West Washington street line of the Indianapolis Street Railway Company, to a point west of the Central Hospital for Insane, in Mt. Jackson. The route is then across country direct to the Rockville pike, and thence in a direct line to Danville. There are a few hamlets along the line of the proposed railway, but no cities of any importance have reached Danville, and thence in a direct line to Danville.

The petition does not bind the new road to complete work on the line within any definite period, neither does it obligate the company to perform any specific acts. It simply states that the commissioners shall name the term of years through which the life of the franchise shall extend, and fix other terms with which the company shall comply.

Senators Judiciary Committee Had a Lively Discussion. The Senate Judiciary committee engaged in an interesting discussion, yesterday afternoon, on the question, "Which is the more painful and more barbarous, hanging or electrocution?"

The question was brought up by the consideration of Senator Harrison's bill providing that electrocution be made the legal mode of execution in Indiana. The Senator was present and argued in favor of his measure, saying he had introduced the bill in the belief that hanging was brutal and barbarous, and that the Indiana jurists often refused to report in favor of the infliction of the death penalty, he said, simply because hanging was regarded as repulsive andavoring of barbarity. He believed that if the legal mode of execution were changed to electrocution jurors would not be so chary in bringing in verdicts favoring death.

The committee as a whole did not agree with the Senator from Johnson county, as shown by reports, members of the committee said, was not always successful nor painless in its working. The most barbarous and inhuman legal execution heard of, they said, had been in States where electrocution was the mode of punishment provided by law.

Senators Joss and Lambert, for the Republicans, and Senators Bullwell and Inman, for the Democrats, signed a minority report. The minority report was adopted by the Senate, preventing the summary killing of the bill, which will now come up for passage.

Insomnia Wrecks the Nerves.

Dr. Greene's NERVURA Makes Health.

INSOMNIA is a forerunner of nervous prostration; what organism is strong enough to stand up under the strain of sleepless nights? It is plain that nothing in the world can possibly take the place of restful sleep, yet many try to eke out an existence without this sustaining power. Their nerves are in such a state of tension that sleep is an impossibility, or at best is a series of hideous dreams. It is not strange that physical and mental weakness, amounting soon to complete prostration, follows inability to sleep. There is no let-up to the strain. Vital forces are drawn upon, confirmed invalidism results.

The recuperative power of natural sleep is wonderful. Complete physical and mental exhaustion gives place, after a few hours of quiet slumber, to a full renewal of energy. The fatigue of body and mind disappears entirely while all the muscles are strong and the nerves absolutely calm.

Sleep is the indication given by Nature as a guide to human plans to restore health. It shows that there are inherent in the wonderful human organism powers of recuperation which must have opportunity to assert themselves. Based on this clear demonstration, Dr. Greene's NERVURA blood and nerve remedy was constructed by Dr. Greene to help Nature combat the ills that attack men and women. What no amount of powerful drugs could possibly accomplish, can be successfully and promptly effected by healthy blood and nerves, the kind of blood which flows in strengthening flood to every portion of the body, the condition of nerves which permits awakened Nature to seize its opportunity to restore to perfect health.

Dr. Greene's NERVURA FOR THE BLOOD AND NERVES.

Mrs. FLORENCE TAYLOR, of 4 Courtland Place, Bridgeport, Conn., writes: "For four years I was troubled with nervous debility and hysteria. I was unable to sleep, and for months I was confined to my bed. My constitution wasted, and I totally lost my appetite. I had many doctors, but they failed to give me any relief. I was advised to take Dr. Greene's NERVURA blood and nerve remedy. I was in a wretched condition immediately after a wonderful change came over me. I regained my appetite, the dizziness in my head cleared, it renewed my interest in life and made me feel like another person. After taking six bottles I feel fully restored. I am self strong and well. Those six bottles did for me what hundreds of dollars and numerous physicians failed to do."

Dr. Greene's NERVURA is the Remedy that Cures. Full explanation of these matters given by Dr. Greene on request, without charge, to Dr. Greene, 38 West 14th Street, New York City. Consultation with him either by call or letter is absolutely free.

MRS. NATION LOCKED UP

KANSAS REFORMER SMASHES MORE SALOONS. W. C. T. U. Crusader Joined by Other Women, and All Come to Grief.

WICHITA, Kan., January 22.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, assisted by Mrs. Julia Evans, Lucy Wilhoit and Mrs. Lydia Muntz, of the local W. C. T. U., and armed with hatchets, entered the saloon of James Burns, last yesterday afternoon, smashed the plate-glass windows, wrecked the bar, reduced the rich furnishings to wreckage and then rushed to the saloon of John Herrig, where they had done much damage when the proprietor appeared, and placing a revolver close to Mrs. Nation's head, told her if she did not assist he would blow out her brains. This threat stopped them, but they hurried away to the Carey Hotel bar, and were about to wield their hatchets, when three policemen interfered. Mrs. Nation struck at detective Sutton, who pushed her aside, and a young man planted his fist on his face. One of the policemen knocked the youth senseless, and the women were taken to the city jail, followed by two thousand people. Chief of Police Cudbon released them after they had promised not to wreck any more saloons for twenty-four hours. As soon as she was released Mrs. Nation addressed the crowd that surrounded the city building. Shaking her fist, she said: "Men of Wichita, this is the right arm of God, and I am destined to wreck every saloon in your city."

Slapped the Sheriff's Face.

The women later procured a wagon and rode through the streets singing "Nearer My God to Thee" and other hymns. They stopped in front of each saloon they had wrecked and sang. Mrs. Nation, having finished her program, went to the station to take a train for a neighboring town. As she was waiting at the station, she was approached and told her that she was his prisoner. The woman wheeled about, slapped his face, and with her ears until he wined. The sheriff is a small man, while Mrs. Nation is heavy, and he had his trouble until policeman came to his assistance. Aided by others they put Mrs. Nation into a cab and drove her to the jail, where she was put in a cell and at once began singing and praying. Mrs. Wilhoit and Mrs. Evans were also arrested, but the latter was put in the jailer's comfortable room because of the fact that her arm and hand were badly cut by broken glass. Mrs. Muntz could not be found. An insanity charge will doubtless be lodged against the women were arrested reads as follows: "Any person wilfully breaking, destroying or injuring any door or window of any house, shop or store shall, upon conviction, be guilty of a misdemeanor, subject to a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisoned in the county jail for one year, or both such fine and imprisonment." NEWSBOYS AT THE GRAND

THEY CHEERED THEIR FRIEND, MISS PAULINE HALL. Guests of The News Filled the Roost and Were Appreciated by the Vaudeville Performers.

For The News newboys, last night, all roads seemed to lead toward the Grand Opera House. At half past eight the doors of the theater were thrown open a crowd of enthusiastic juveniles were gathered in front. They slipped into the foyer as if they had perfect right to possession of everything in view, and by 7:30 the street in front of the Grand was filled with boys of all descriptions. They were in high spirits, and when they were informed by the management that they would have to vacate the foyer and take to the alley entrance which led to the "roost," there was no protest, as they were most interested in the friendly scramble that ensued for positions of advantage. It happened as if a regiment of soldiers had entered the building as the boys mounted the flights of stairs leading to the "roost." And in reality it was the best known and one of the most popular regiments in the city—the regiment of newsboys employed by The Indianapolis News, whose guests they were for an evening at the Grand vaudeville.
